Bishop Patterson Elected To Top COGIC Post

Delta Airline Worker Slain In Cafe Fracas

A 33-year-old Delta Airline employee, who was promoted to a new job last Saturday, was shot to death early Sunday morning at the Delisa Night Spot on Bellevue after a brief argument with another patron.

The victim was Eddie B. Lewis of 2023 Warren ave., married and the father of two small children. Arrested was Fred L. Abston, 22, of 2594 Sparks.

Quinton Carter of 1858 Ferber, who was with Mr. Lewis at the time that he was killed, said, "Eddie had a little beer left in his can and was drinking from a glass when Abston came by and dropped some change on the floor.

"When he stood back up he picked up the can to use it for an ashtray, discovered that it was not empty and put it back down.

"Eddie told him that the beer belonged to him, and that he had no business bothering it," Mr. Carter explained.

After Abston replied that he can had no one's name on it, Mr. Carter explained, a man who had been with Abston earlier rejoined him and began arguing with them.

Abston then fired a small caliber pistol at Mr. Lewis, striking him in the right upper chest.

The shot was fired so quickly that it was at first believed that Abston pulled the trigger while the pistol was still in his pocket, but he told police later that he had pulled the gun before firing it.

Mr. Lewis had been a porter for Delta Air Lines until last Saturday when he was promoted to freight house agent for the same line. He served in the Army for six years and was discharged in 1959.

Relatives said that funeral arrangements would be made after other relatives arrived here from New York City and Washington, D. C.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Pearl Mae Lewis; a son, Leo Lewis, five; and a daughter, Electra Lewis, 21 months.

Victory Funeral Home is in charge of the funeral.

Mr. Lewis' death was the 73rd homicide for the year as compared to 65 for the same period in 1967. Some 74 persons were murdered last year.

Abston appeared in City Court on Monday morning and was ordered to be held without bond.

TOP COGIC BISHOPS—Bishop J. O. Patterson, Sr., presiding bishop of the three million member Church of God in Christ, is flanked here with the two vice presiding bishops of the denomination, Bishop J. S. Bailey left, first vice presiding bishop, and Bishop S.M. Crouch, second vice presiding bishop.

Memphian Will Serve As Presiding Bishop

Delegates to the General Assembly of the Church of God in Christ elected Bishop J. O. Patterson, Sr., to the office of Presiding Bishop at the close of the 61st General Assembly of the denomination. The convocation began Nov. 5 and closed out last Friday, Nov. 15.

Bishop Patterson was elected for a four year term, along with 11 other bishops from across the country to lead the three-million member denomination founded by his late father-in-law, the late Bishop Charles H. Mason.

Bishop J. S. Bailey of Detroit was elected first vice presiding bishop, and Bishop S. M. Crouch of Los Angeles was named to the second vice presiding bishop post.

Other nine bishops named to assist in the leadership of the Church of God in Christ were Bishops O. M. Kelly, New York; Wyoming Wells, North Carolina; Louis Ford, Chicago, Ill.; D. L. Williams, Virginia; J. W. White, Louisiana; C. E. Bennett, Louisiana; F. D. Washington, New York; J. D. Husband, Atlanta, Ga.; and J. A. Blake, California.

A native of Derma, Miss., Bishop Patterson, 56, received his theological training at the Howe School of Religion in Memphis, which was a forerunner of Owen College.

He was ordained to the ministry in 1935 by Bishop A. B. McEwen, and began pastoring a church of eight members at Gates, Tenn., in 1936.

The pastor of Pentecostal Temple Church of God in Christ, he was consecrated to the bishopric in 1955 and assigned to the Second Jurisdiction of Tennessee by the late Senior Bishop C. H. Mason.

During the years before his death in 1961, Bishop Mason created the Executive Committee to assist him in the administrative affairs of the church, and Bishop Patterson served as the member-secretary.

After the death of Bishop Mason, the Executive Committee became the Executive Board of the church and Bishop Patterson continued as its secretary. In addition to these duties, he served as general secretary of the church, member of the board of directors, pastor of the 1,600-member Pentecostal Temple and manager of the publishing house of the Church of God in Christ.

The new presiding bishop's wife, Mrs. Deborah Patterson, is the daughter of the late Senior Bishop Charles H. Mason, Sr.

They are the parents of State Senator J. O. Patterson, Jr., a member of the Memphis City Council and an attorney, and Miss Janet Patterson a junior at Fisk University in Nashville.

Bishop Patterson holds honorary doctor of divinity and doctor of laws degrees from Trinity Hall College and Seminary.

Precedent Established In Rent Strike Ruling

A new precedent was set in Memphis when Mrs. Elizabeth Hayes, of 1161 Texas St. withheld rent from her landlord Thomas B. Moore—to protest the "deplorable conditions" of her home.

"This was the first such rent strike held in Memphis," said W. Otis Higgs, attorney for Mrs. Hayes. The rent strike started by Attorney Higgs said, after Mr. Moore the landlord of 520 Cherry Road, refused to make the premises habitable, safe, and free from rodents and vermin and because Mr. Moore had refused many orders and directives from the Memphis Housing inspector to make necessary repairs and comply with the city ordinance.

In an effort to obtain the rent held by Mrs. Hayes, Mr. Moore took out an eviction notice. To counteract the eviction notice Attorney Higgs took out a warrant for Mr. Moore's arrest on the grounds that the landlord had violated certain sections of the Memphis housing code.

In order to get Mr. Moore to make the improvements on the property occupied by Mrs. Hayes and stop the eviction procedure, Attorney Higgs filed an original bill for permanent injunction. The bill asked the Chancery Court to enjoin the landlord from evicting Mrs. Hayes.

Mrs. Hayes through her attorney asked that the Chancery Court do three things, 1) To enjoin the defendant's prosecution of the detainer warrant. 2) That the landlord has no adequate remedy at law, or otherwise, for the harm and damage done or threatened to be done by the defendant as a result of the detainer warrant and 3) That irreparable harm and damage and injury will follow and be done to the complainant unless the acts and conduct of the defendant above complained of are enjoined.

At the Chancery Court hearing both parties, through their respective attorneys agreed on a four point solution. 1) That Mr. Moore dismiss the eviction order against Mrs. Hayes, and that she not be subjected to appear in city court. 2) That he dismiss the forcible entry and detainer warrant 3) That Mr. Moore fix and repair the house owned by him and occupied by Mrs. Hayes. and 4) That Mrs. Hayes pay all future rentals into the clerk and registry of the court until the defendant presents a certificate showing all improvements made.

The improvements asked for by Mrs. Hayes are replacement of all sills on the front porch, all bad flooring on the porch and painting of the house.

Mr. Moore will also be required to replace all falling walls and ceiling plaster, also provide a tub or shower and wash basin and facilities for hot water.

Bill Weathers Leads 1968 UNCF Campaign

W. C. (Bill) Weathers, manager of Oates Manor in North Memphis and well known in church and civic affairs, has accepted the chairmanship of the 1968 campaign for the United Negro College Fund.

The annual drive is already underway and will continue through December.

Mr. Weathers said the goal for the Fund in the Memphis area is $25,000. Assisting him as co-chairman is Edwin Dalstrom, chairman of the LeMoyné-Owen College board of trustees.

Working closely with Mr. Weathers and Mr. Dalstrom are George W. Cox, principal of Walker Avenue Elementary School; R. J. Roddy, superintendent of building and grounds at LeMoyné-Owen; Miss Naomi Gordon, retired staffer of Universal Life; Miss Frankie C. Rogers, president of the "Pre-Mummi Club" at LeMoyné-Owen; Miss Erma Laws, advisor to the Co-ettes, and Mrs. Ann L. Weathers, a member of the Kansas Street Elementary School faculty.

Mr. Cox is chairman of the City School Teachers Division and Mr. Roddy is supervising the County School Teachers Division. Miss Gordon is in charge of clubs and organizations and Miss Rogers is directing the Miss UNCF contest on the college campus. Mrs. Weathers is an effective general worker for the Fund, and Miss Laws is in charge of the Co-ettes who have made UNCF their annual project.

"We are very fortunate to have Mr. Weathers serve as chairman of the UNCF campaign," President Hollis F. Price of LeMoyné-Owen said. "He will make an excellent leader."

Mr. Weathers, who resides with his family at 666 Pontotoc, is a member of First Baptist Church (Chelsea) and on the Abe Scharff YMCA board of management. He is an Elk and a Mason and is the founder and a past president of The Memphians, Inc.

He is a graduate of Natchez Junior College.

Avery To Give Thanksgiving Baskets Sunday

Avery Chapel AME Church will hold its Harvest Homecoming celebration with pre-Thanksgiving Day activities on Sunday, Nov. 24.

Thanksgiving baskets will be prepared and delivered to poor families in the community, and the public is urged to support the effort. A ten-dollar donation will buy the items needed for one basket.

Baskets will be attractively prepared and labeled with the donor's name, or his church's name, and delivered to the one listed by the giver. Family Service will furnish the names of other needy families.

Mrs. Gussie P. Young is chairman of Harvest Homecoming and Mrs. Nellie Counts co-chairman.

Rev. Miller Peace is pastor of the church.

Marine Sgt. William J. Pipes, Jr., 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Pipes of 555 Carpenter st., Memphis, was awarded his second Purple Heart Medal recently in ceremonies at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot at Parris Island, S. C., for wounds sustained during combat in Vietnam. He entered the service in July 1962.

Questions Are Raised As Strike Is Settled

Will the present city administration be able to carry out its duties in a fair and humane manner? Are the Sanitation and Hospital strikes products of the past administration handed down to the present administration? What is the future of the city of Memphis? Will her image continue to deteriorate or will it grow?

One responsible source in city government said, "Because of the Mayor's one-sidedness and because he is unable to look into the future, it is going to be very difficult for city government to progress. City government could do great things but with the present Mayor it will be impossible to really grow as we should."

The source continued, "City government is big business; to be in big business, one must be able to look into the future. One must be able to act now for future progress, the Mayor is not capable of taking such forward steps—I see little hope for our new city government."

During the sanitation strike the city's main negotiation problem was dues check-off. The person who had a great hand in finding the solution to the problem was Councilman James Netters who broke the stalemate reached during the hospitals walk-out.

In a recent interview, Rev. Netters, who engineered the accepted method of dues check-off for city employees evaluated the city and union's reopening of negotiations, "I am pleased, because this has set a new precedent. It shows there can be sensible negotiation, if kept in proper perspective."

He continued, "I am very happy we can restore back to the community a health service which is so badly needed and one that renders service to 90 per cent of the community."

When asked what the most difficult phase of negotiations was, Rev. Netters said, "The night after the settlement . . . when Mayor Loeb threw the union off guard. Negotiations got hung up on the same point, how the workers would return to work."

According to Rev. Netters it would take some 15 days from the time of settlement for all the workers to be absorbed into the hospital complex. He also said the negotiation memorandum will serve as the agenda for meeting between the union and city.

Asked about the role of the negotiating team, which included Councilman Netters, Hollis Price, and Dr. Charles Dinkins, Rev. Netters said, "It would have been difficult for us to enter into the strike as officials, rather we entered as concerned citizens."

Two men are arrested in the site of a shootout between police and occupants of a truck marked "Black Panthers Community News Service." Three policemen were wounded in the fracas. This was another instance of violence between police and Black Panthers in the San Francisco Bay area.

'Frisco Police, Panthers Clash: 3 Cops Wounded

By WILEY MALONEY

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Three police were wounded yesterday in a shootout with eight Negroes accused of fleeing a holdup in a panel truck emblazoned "Black Panther Community News Service."

The officers were shot after they stopped the truck a block from police headquarters. Three of the Black Panthers jumped from the vehicle and opened fire, according to police.

The eight Negroes, including one who listed his occupation as "Black Panther," surrendered as scores of police rushed to the scene. None of the suspects was hit in the exchange of shots.

The officers halted the panel truck in front of a fire station and a block from police headquarters as the possible getaway vehicle in an $80 gas station holdup.

A barrage of bullets erupted. According to police, at least one of the Negroes fired, and the three wounded men apparently never fired back. None of the Negroes was wounded.

A police lieutenant, Dermott Creedon, was shot in the chest, and a sergeant, Robert Flynn, was shot in the groin.

Three men, identified as William Brent, 47, and Wilford H. Holiday, 35, both of Oakland, and Samuel Napier, 30, San Francisco, jumped from the truck.

Flynn was shot in the abdomen, the bullet piercing his liver. Creedon was struck in the lower abdomen and the left leg.

Another squad car carrying three officers arrived and inspector Michael O'Mahoney was shot in the hand. But officer William McCool managed to reach the back of the truck (See Page 2)

HOME WILL BE FIXED —As a result of a rent strike by Mrs. Elizabeth Hayes, standing on the porch at 1161 Texas Street, this residence will have to be repaired, painted and facilities for hot water be provided before the owner can collect rent paid on it. The Chancery Court ruling set a precedent for sub-standard housing in Memphis.

man James L. Netters, and Mrs. Gwen Awsumb and W. T. McAdams, members of the council's hospital committee, formed a receiving line to greet returning workers.

The hospital still faces a few problems, charity cases normally treated at John Gaston since the walkout began are now being handled by private hospitals. Two city hospitals were closed so medical services could be concentrated at Gaston. The hospitals closed were E. H. Crump and William F. Bowld.

The American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees issued a statement last week in which they expressed concern about the opening of city hospitals. "Since the original plan for re-opening was developed by the medical staff of the University of Tennessee, their actions at this point raise a number of questions as to their precise intent, with reference to the total hospital complex. Based upon our knowledge of the situation, there is no apparent reason why full capacity service cannot be restored, including immediate re-opening of the Emergency Room at the John Gaston Hospital."

Credit for re-opening of negotiations has been given to Jesse Epps, representative of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees Union; The Mediation Team, which included, Councilman James Netters, Dr. Hollis Price and Dr. Charles Dinkins and Charles Odell Horton.

During the strike Jesse Epps repeatedly called for a return to negotiations while the city took the "hard nosed stand," it took in the sanitation strike. The seven points the hospital employees asked for was A NIGHT SHIFT DIFFERENTIAL FOR ALL EMPLOYEES. The union said that all employees on the night shifts deserve a differential in their pay. The Union argument is, if it is right that some people get more money for working night shifts, then it is only right that all employees on night shifts receive it.

THE SECOND POINT WAS PAY BASED ON LONGEVITY. It has been reported that some workers have worked fifteen and 20 years and received no more money than the latest person hired. In one statement released the union said, "Dedication and experience over a long period of time, is worth a great deal, and some form of longevity pay or annual increment is no more than just."

The third point, and the one the union felt deserved little attention was A GENERAL INCREASE FOR ALL EMPLOYEES. Mr. Epps said in a recent interview, "We fail to understand why the City of Memphis has not and will not now, pay us at least as well as the employees of other hospitals in the City. Mr. Epps related the hospital strike to the Frayser Turnkey housing project when he said, "If the city can commit itself to the expenses involved in turning down the Frayser Turnkey housing project, it can also find money for its hospital employees."

Fourth on the list of grievances was a CHANGE IN THE PAY PERIODS, TO THE 7TH AND 22ND OF EACH MONTH, because the Police Department, Fire Department and the Public Works Department, all receive their wages twice a month.

Social Security was fifth on the list. Epps said in regard to Social Security, it means much more to low-paid persons to have a Social Security than to be involved in the City's Pension plan.

The sixth point was posting of promotions, with hospital employees being given first priority in applying for them. The seventh and last point, was a workable grievance procedure. The union has said that the Hospital has repeatedly broken faith with the Union.

Melrose Band Boosters Plan A Fashion Show

The Melrose High School Band Boosters Club will present its first annual Panorama of Fashions next Sunday, Nov. 24, at 5 p.m., in the school's auditorium, and the public is urged to support the project.

Tickets for the affair will be on sale for a dollar at the door, and proceeds from the fashion show will be used to buy uniforms for the 100-piece band.

Some of the city's leading fashion models will show their personal wardrobes, and originals from Unis of Memphis and Jean's Apparel will be displayed.

Also to be modeled are fashions for men as seen in the pages of Esquire Magazine. Of special interest to the younger set will be a scene entitled, "This Mad, Mod World of Fashions," featuring young campus queens and cuties.

Miss Eunice Carruthers will be narrator for the show. Members of the Fashion Show committee are Mrs. Molly Long, Mrs. Thelma Coleman, Mrs. Rose Jackson, Mrs. Thema Payton, Mrs. Rubye Rollins, Mrs. Corine Hull, Jacqueline Knight, and Mrs. Carrie Madlock, president of the Belrose High School Band Boosters Club.

R. J. McLemore is band director, and Floyd Campbell principal of the school.

Elderly Will Find Jobs At Neighborhood Store

A neighborhood store which sells used clothing and items such as odds and ends of furniture has opened at 912 Mississippi Blvd., near the corner of Williams st., and the owner, Mrs. Nellie Ballantine, says patronage will mean more jobs for the elderly.

This is a new business, and it will mean an added income for those with low income and those with no income who are not old enough to qualify for government assistance," she explained.

"We have the same kind of items one usually finds in such stores, clothing for children, shoes, and housewares, as well as odds and ends of furniture and appliances," Mr. Ballantine said.

At the present time she is being assisted in the store by Mrs. Roberta Clark and Henry Norton.

"But the more cooperation we receive, the more elderly citizens we will be able to give jobs," she stated.

Articles of clothing and other items of merchandise are accepted for resale and will be picked up. Mrs. Ballantine's phone number is 526-0176.

BISHOP AND FAMILY — Delegates to the 61st annual Convocation of the Church of God in Christ's General Assembly elected Bishop J. O. Patterson, Sr. to the office of president bishop for a four-year term, and here he is seen with his wife, Mrs. Deborah Patterson, daughter of the late Senior Bishop Charles H. Mason, founder of the church, and his son, State Senator J. O. Patterson, Jr., a Memphis City Councilman. Behind Bishop Patterson is Bishop Lewis Ford of Chicago.

Two A&T Grads Win N.C. Political Posts

GREENSBORO, N. C. — Two candidates, both graduates of A&T State University, score victories in hotly contested general elections in North Carolina.

Atty. Henry E. Frye, a former assistant United States Attorney and a former law professor at North Carolina College, placed third in a field of 12 candidates for the six seats in the N. C. House of Representatives.

A Democrat, Frye will be the first black man to serve in the House since Reconstruction. Mrs. Elreta Melton Alexander, a practicing attorney in Greensboro, won a judgeship in one of Guilford County's six new district courts. A Republican, Judge Alexander placed third in an 11-way contest.

Although both winners were the beneficiaries of the important Negro vote, both also got impressive support from the white communities.

"I received a much broader support than I expected and for this I am very grateful," said Frye, when notified of his victory. "This may be an indication that eventually persons can be elected to public office in North Carolina without regard to race."

In winning his seat, Frye polled more than 33,880 votes, a shade behind the top runner C. W. Phillips. Atty. Alexander drew 26,673 votes in gaining her judgeship. Highest vote-getter was Judge Byron Haworth with 29,046.

A native of Ellerbe, N. C., Frye earned an undergraduate degree at A&T in 1953, then served as an officer in the United States Air Force. He earned his law degree from the University of North Carolina.

In 1963 he was named assistant attorney for the U. S. Middle District Court, a position he held for nearly two years. Since leaving the post, he has had a private law practice in Greensboro.

Atty. Frye is married to the former Shirley Taylor of Fremont, N. C. They are the parents of sons, Henry, Jr., 9 and Harlan, 7.

Atty. Alexander, also a native of North Carolina, graduated from A&T and was the first Negro woman to earn a law degree from the Columbia University School of Law. She has taught school in North and South Carolina and is currently partner in a law firm in Greensboro.

and slam the door on five of the suspects.

Another officer, John Hanifan, fired several shots at the Negroes before massive reinforcements arrived and the suspects surrendered.

Flynn was listed in poor condition, while Creedon was satisfactory at a city hospital. O'Mahoney was treated and released.

The suspects, six adults and two juveniles, were charged with robbery and assault with intent to murder.

A fireman reported: "We were all inside the firehouse with the doors shut and didn't know anything had happened until policemen swooped down on the place. No one heard any shots and our first notice came from listening to the police radio."

Horace Wallace Joins Sales Staff At WDIA

A veteran Memphis sales executive, Horace W. Wallace, has been added to the staff of Radio Station WDIA. The announcement was made recently by A. C. Williams, public relations director for the station.

A native Memphian, Mr. Wallace has been engaged in sales work for more than 20 years. He attended Booker T. Washington High School and the American Telephone Institute of Technology in Chicago where he studied electronic engineering.

Mr. Wallace, who lives at 2363 Bridgeport rd., became involved in sales with the Fuller Products Company following a tour of duty with the U.S. Army and moved back to Memphis in 1950 as sales manager for the firm.

Before entering the field of advertising early this year, Mr. Wallace was assistant sales supervisor for Fuller in the South.

HORACE WALLACE

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace are the parents of three daughters, Sylvia Delores Wallace, a 15-year-old junior at Hamilton High School, and seven-year-old twins, Carmen Maria and Cheryl Anita Wallace, who attend the Alcy Road Seventh Day Adventist School.

He is a member of the Advertising Club of Memphis. Commenting on the appointment of Mr. Wallace, Bert Ferguson, executive vice president of the station said, "We are proud to have him with us at WDIA. An effective sales force is essential to our success, and Mr. Wallace will be a valuable member of the staff."

There they underwent a long struggle to win their freedom through the courts, and aided by the oratory of John Quincy Adams, finally succeeded. Cinque and his fellow Africans were declared free men in pre-Civil War America and were allowed to return to their homeland.

Douglass Students Win Culture Night Prizes

The first Afro-American Culture Night was presented last Thursday night at the Greater Middle Baptist Church at 621 Lane, and prizes were awarded in a number of categories.

The purpose of the program was to boost civic participation in cultural activities and to raise funds for scholarships for worthy students. It was sponsored by the Bluff City and Shelby County Council of Civic Clubs of which Frank L. Kilpatrick is president.

LADY CARRIER — Gail Marie Robinson, a sixth grade student at Riverview Elementary School, has been delivering the Tri-State Defender for the past three years. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Brown of 130 W. Norwood.

The first prize for individual vocal selection of classical or folk music was won by Edward Shelby of Douglass High School, with second prize in that category going to Miss Peggy Smith, also a student at Douglass.

First prize in instrumental music was presented to Miss Linda Herron of Douglass High School.

Winning first prize for individual selection of gospel music was Jackie Turner of Middle Baptist Church. First prize for group selections was won by the Douglass Troubadours of Douglass High School.

In the poetry division, first prize was won by Miss Regina Bennett of Friendship Baptist Church and second prize by Miss Helen Sellers of Ford Road Elementary School.

First prize for dramatic art was won by Leon Murphy of LeMoine-Owen College.

Judges for the contest included Larry Turner, O. T. Peoples, Mrs. Mattie Anderson, Mrs. Joyce Walton, George Boggs, Santee Gholston and Nesby Blanchard.

Serving as co-chairmen for Afro-American Talent Night were Noah Bond and Dr. John E. Jordan.

Church Names Welfare Worker To Field Post

NEW YORK, N. Y. — Woodrow W. Carter, veteran Negro child welfare administrator of New York City who has devoted much of his adult life to the problems of minority young people, has been appointed a senior associate for specialized field services on the staff of the Executive Council of the Episcopal Church.

WOODROW CARTER

Mr. Carter, on leave of absence from the New York City Department of Social Services, was appointed to his post by the Rt. Rev. John E. Hines, Presiding Bishop of the Episcopal Church.

He will serve, it was announced this week as an associate of Mrs. Robert Webb, director of the Church's newly created section for Experimental and Specialized Services, a program devoted primarily to the development of church programs of action in society and ministries to special groups.

"The appointment of Mr. Carter," Mrs. Webb said, "will strengthen the ability of Executive Council to offer mature professional consultant services in helping Dioceses and other Church agencies to carry out programs which they believe to be important for the future of the Church in the world."

She emphasized that these programs are "their" programs and not "ours," and stressed the importance of local development and administration of social welfare programs by the Church with the national Church limiting itself to providing professional and financial assistance.

Special attention, she said, will be given by Mr. Carter to problems of minority children, the protection of the rights of children and their parents and the development of community services for families.

Mr. Carter received a bachelor's degree from Howard University and a master's in social work from Hunter College, New York. He also attended the University of Michigan and American University.

For the past three years he has been an area administrator in the Bureau of Child Welfare, city of New York, and for nine years before that he was case worker and later a supervisor in the Bureau of Child Welfare.

He has been active in his own home Parish at the Chapel of the Intercession, New York City, a chapel of Trinity Parish, where he has been a leader of young adults.

He has organized and led many Church seminars and conferences on the problems of youth and in 1965 served as the U. S. representative at a youth conference in Canada sponsored by the Canadian government and the Anglican Church of Canada.

Centennial Services Will End At St. John

St. John Baptist Church will continue its Centennial Year services next Sunday, Nov. 24, and the guest speaker for the 11 o'clock service will be Dr. D. E. King, pastor of the Monumental Baptist Church in Chicago.

Well-known in the Memphis area, Dr. King's subject for the morning sermon will be "The Centennial in the House of Prayer."

He will address the congregation again at the 3 p.m. program. His subject will be "Centennial Doxology." The public is invited to all services of the day.

A native of LaGrange, Tenn., Dr. King was converted at an early age and baptized in the Pine Hill Baptist Church under the pastorate of Rev. Pety Brown.

Brought to Memphis as a youngster, he became a member of the Mt. Vernon Baptist Church and attended and was graduated from Booker T. Washington High School and LeMoine College.

Dr. King attended old Howe Institute and was later graduated from Howard University School of Religion with a bachelor of divinity degree and also received his master of arts degree from the Howard University Graduate School. He holds an honorary doctor of divinity degree from Simmons University in Louisville.

Before entering the gospel ministry, Dr. King was a teacher at Alabama A & M College. He has been pastor of the Washington Street Baptist Church in Paducah, Ky.; Zion Baptist Church in Louisville, and Friendship Baptist Church in New York City.

Dr. King has traveled through 33 countries including the Soviet Union and the Holy Land, and was a speaker at the Baptist World Alliance held in Rio de Janeiro in 1960. He has spoken to numerous audiences of college and university students across the nation.

Mrs. Scott Will Give Group Plans Program Recital Sunday Nite

A permanent committee of 50 members from every department of Greater Middle Baptist Church at 821 Lane ave. has been appointed and will present as its first project a recital by Mrs. Maude W. Scott on next Sunday night, Nov. 24, at 7:30 p.m.

The committee will sponsor education projects designed to enrich the cultural life of the church and city in presenting local and national talent. It will raise necessary funds for a church library and to defray all or part of the expenses of college students of Greater Middle Baptist Church.

The widow of the late Rev. W. P. Scott, who was pastor of the Tree of Life Baptist Church, McLeomere, Mrs. Scott is presently a member of Mt. Nebo Baptist church where she serves as choir director, a post she served in at Tree of Life Baptist Church under the pastorate of her late husband.

A graduate of Booker T. Washington High School, she was a student at LeMoine College for three years. While there she studied under Professor John Whitaker and sang with the choir. She received her bachelor of science degree from Rust College at Holly Springs, Miss., and has been a teacher at the Mildred Jackson Elementary School in Arkansas for several years.

She received extensive vocal training under Mrs. Grazia Barnes, a voice teacher in St. Louis, Mo., and was a pupil of the late Madame Florence McCleaves, who said, "Her voice has a rich dramatic contralto quality."

Mrs. Scott has been a featured concert singer throughout the Mid-South area, Detroit, St. Louis, Gary, Ind., and in cities in the Mid-west.

The permanent committee at Greater Middle Baptist includes seven sub-committees with Robert Hooks as chairman of the Educational Department.

Bank Robbery Suspect Among 'Most Wanted' Peace Corps Recruiters

LEVI WASHINGTON

Levi Washington, a Federal conditional release violator who escaped from confinement in Chicago and is also charged in three New Orleans bank robberies, is on the FBI's list of "Ten Most Wanted Fugitives."

Washington and an accomplice allegedly participated in robbing three New Orleans, Louisiana, banks of almost $37,000 between July 14 and November 29, 1967. FBI Agents and New Orleans police arrested both armed men on January 27, 1968.

While awaiting trial for the New Orleans bank robberies, Alligator, Bolivar County, Mississippi, on June 12, 1932, he is 5'11" tall, weighs 165 to 170 pounds, has brown eyes, black hair, a medium complexion, and a slender build. He has scars under his left eye, on his left cheek, behind his left ear and needle scars on both arms. Washington is considered a skilled artist, particularly good on oil paintings of landscapes.

Federal warrants charge Washington with bank robbery, violation of the Escape and Rescue Statute and violation of the terms of his conditional release from a federal institution. He has been convicted of selling, receiving and concealing narcotics and of larceny.

A Negro American, born at Washington was transported to Chicago to face prosecution for an armed robbery at a church there in May, 1967. He escaped from a Chicago jail on August 16, 1968, armed with a handgun.

He has been heavily armed in the past, has reportedly used disguises in holdups, harbors strong dislike for police officers and is con-

Black Leaders And Nixon

Mayor Richard G. Hatcher of Gary suggests that President-elect Richard M. Nixon meet with responsible Negro leaders presumably to chart the course the new Administration should follow with respect to the unmet crises of the black citizenry. The suggestion has merits. For, if re-unification of the country is Mr. Nixon's overriding objective the place to begin is with the Negro people whose disenchantment forms the core of the continuing domestic rebellions.

Such a meeting would not only clear the path for a new, constructive approach to the racial dilemma, but would allay present fear that the Nixon Administration may try to appease the South and its backlash by nibbling at some of the substantial gains made by Negroes under successive Democratic Administrations.

However, both from the point of view of psychological expediency and tactical maneuvering, the initiative for such a pow-wow should be left to the President-elect. For all we know Mr. Nixon might think it politically wise to listen with austere courtesy to the suggestions by black leaders without committing himself beyond a promise of consideration of the views and proposals presented to him.

Since the Negro vote by-passed him, Mr. Nixon may feel that he is under no moral compunction or political mandate to accommodate the wishes of Negro leaders, however timely or judicious demands might be. Since he won the election without the black vote, he may decide to sit hard and long on any request from the black community.

It would be wise for Mayor Hatcher to ponder carefully on the identity of the black men to whom the invitation for this "summit" meeting should go. Far too often old and ultra conservative civil rights leaders have trekked to the White House only to say "Yes, Sah boss" to the President. Time and again they have come away from the Big House smiling but empty handed. As a matter of fact, these battle-fatigue leaders have neither political nor moral influence with the black masses. Their conservatism is largely responsible for their ineffective leadership.

It is a conservatism not too far removed from the hat-in-hand, Uncle Tomism of the slave-master relations of the plantation days. This type of leadership is unrepresentative and has long ago outlived its usefulness, if indeed it was ever useful.

There are bright, young black men who wield political power, who are fearless and independent. Men like Mayor Hatcher himself, Mayor Stokes of Cleveland, James Farmer, Judge Parsons and some of the militant, outspoken Negro publishers should make up the composition of the leaders invited to the conference with President-elect Nixon.

This is a new day. And it calls for a new and more independent leadership. This leadership must be selfless, and completely dedicated to the cause of black people and not to the financial advancement of social organizations tied to the coattails of white philanthropists.

NAACP's Shocking Action

In a recent issue of the illustrious New York Times Magazine there appeared an incisive criticism of the U.S. Supreme Court by Lewis M. Steel, associate counsel of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. The writer took a sombre view of the court's orientation on the manifold cases in which the racial question was at issue.

An unwholesome, shockingly adverse reaction followed the publication of the article, which bore the impressively descriptive title, "Nine Men in Black Who Think White." The board of the NAACP directors promptly relieved Steel of his position as associate counsel.

Steel's barbs were penetrating and sharp, perhaps too caustic for the NAACP's antediluvian board of directors with a monolithic conception of their mission. Steel, however, as far as can be determined, violated no professional canons of ethics and certainly no established NAACP policy in which the court is held in a sacrosanct aura.

Some of Steel's strictures are not only brilliant and forthright, but represent legal insight of uncommon clarity and depth. And there is no cavity in his logic. He said that never has the court "indicated that it is committed to a society based upon principles of absolute equality." This assessment needs no defense, it is gospel truth.

He went on: "A re-evaluation of the role of the United Supreme Court discloses that it has struck down only the symbols of racism while condoning or overlooking the ingrained practices which have meant the survival of white supremacy...."

"The court has time and again taken the position that racial equality should be subordinated to — or at least balanced against — white America's fear of rapid change, which would threaten its time-honored prerogatives." There is no question but that the Supreme Court has always dreaded being transmuted into an instrument for social change. Many have been the polemics swirling about the court. At the heart of them is the recognition that the real meaning of the high tribunal is to be found in the political rather than the legal realm, and that its concern is more significantly with power politics than with judicial technology.

That was the basis of its action when, as the Steel article eminently underlined, the court opened the door for the passage of Jim Crow legislation by striking down the public accommodations sections of the 1865 civil rights act which forbade racial discrimination in inns, public conveyances, theatres, and other places of public amusement.

Again in the celebrated Plessy vs. Ferguson case of 1896 which established the separate but equal doctrine, the court endorsed what Steel correctly called a "quasi-slave caste system." We agree with him that such decisions had no effect on a totally segregated society.

"In 1954, the Court was in position to serve notice on the American people that equality was an absolute right of all citizens, that this right came before all other rights and that its further subversion could not be tolerated." The court didn't. There is an old legal phrase: "Res Ipsa Loquitur" — the thing speaks for itself.

The NAACP board considers Steel's critical observations as injurious to its objectives and commitments. Such reasoning evidences an irreversible sickness which the directors of the organization should recognize and as a result, promptly make way for younger men more in concert with the trends of the time.

"FOOTSIES" STARTING?

MY VIEW

It Is Up To Mr. Nixon

By BENJAMIN E. MAYS

He made compromises to satisfy the South. Though he lost the five Southern states, he took all the rest. Humphrey did not carry a single Southern state despite the fact that it was one of the closest elections in history. One fact is clear: Mr. Nixon does not have a clear mandate from the people to disregard the wishes of virtually half of the voters of the country who voted for Humphrey. I hope Mr. Nixon understands this. He says he will unite the country. I hope he will. But this country is divided on our war policy. It is divided on what is meant by law and order. It is divided on the question of the decisions of the Supreme Court in the field of Civil Rights; on what to do about urban crises, jobs for the unemployed, housing, and on whether the Department of Health, Education and Welfare will have the right to withhold money from Southern school boards that do not follow the guidelines in desegregating schools.

Will Mr. Nixon unite the country by spending more money to get to the moon, to keep ahead of Russia in the arms race, and less money to abolish hunger and malnutrition? Will he unite the country by appointing a new Attorney General who will put down with force any uprising in our cities without seeking to remove the causes? Will he unite the country by turning over federal money to the states without strings since he is an advocate of States Rights? Will he unite the country by appointing only conservative men to his cabinet and to other offices? Will he unite the country packing the Supreme Court with conservative judges who will attempt to undo some of the progressive decisions the Warren Court has made? Will he unite the country by naming as head of the Civil Rights Division one who does not believe in Civil Rights for Negroes?

I am surprised to hear people say it doesn't make any difference who is president: he can't do much anyway. The President has appointive powers and the men he appoints to office can determine the course of history in this country for a century. Don't say these things cannot happen. They happened in 1877. The decision made in the Hayes-Tilden Compromise set the course of events for almost a hundred years. Disfranchisement, segregation, brutality and lynchings, all followed in the wake of this compromise.

It is up to Nixon to unite the country. I hope he will try to unite it by being President of all the people and not of a special group. The concern I expressed about Mr. Nixon before he was elected I still have. He has shown little compassion for Negroes and for the poor generally. Let us hope he will fool us. Truman did more than many of us expected. Associate Justice Black fooled all of us. There are many people in this country who do not have faith in the man. Now that he is President, let us pray that he will turn out to be a truly great President.

Letters to the EDITOR

Dear Editor:

The black movement in America seems not to have learned any lessons at all from the history of the deimation of the Indian in America who vainly fought the same set of white American racists.

The Indian, too, used mainly fire and sticks and stones to fight with, except for when he was able to purchase a few guns or other ammunition from the opponent with whom he was engaged in fighting.

The Indians also got dizzy from firewater which whites filled them with, causing the Indians to make bad judgments, just like narcotics is driving black youth to destroy themselves, their own communities and generally act like the berserk, crazed people such top of one another as an infant, is that by a slight touch the structure they are building can be damaged, but to pile the blocks or implements on high enough to be statuesquely significant, this must be done with painstaking care.

It is much more the job of the black man to search out and identify the white man who can be proven as an individual to be throwing impediments or barriers in the path of black men to full dignity than it is to jealously charge with so little confidence that another black man slightly successful has done so because he is prone to betray his own race.

We've got to stop burning up our own communities and making ourselves vulnerable to the white man's urban renewal programs. We've got to respect ourselves and build up what we have. It's easy to tear down but hard to build up.

NATIONAL HOTLINE

By Diggs Daifrooth

WASHINGTON — Between periods and sessions of gloom and calendar watching, the current discussions here are who will replace whom and who will leave when. Look for Sam Jackson to emerge on the District scene here. Sam, once a commissioner with the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, become its new chairman replacing Democrat Cliff Alexander. Or Sam might conceivably remain in private industry where he is and operate from behind the scenes. Intimates say, however, that Sam wants the privilege of going back to the Commission in the top spot in order to do some of the things he wanted to do while there... If Ed Brooke wants to leave the Senate he can take over HEW as Secretary. One of the personalities behind the scenes will be Bill Walker, Cleveland publisher, who has been advising right down the line... Nixon is expected to deal forthrightly with a number of Brothers, and because GOP blacks are so few, he will be forced to reach for some black Democrats.

BACKDOOR STUFF: Just because Carl Stokes brother won an Ohio victory and is headed for the House doesn't mean that Carl's political bed is any easier in Cleveland. His enemies are putting out great rreams of hate literature which played an important part in Carl's decision to name a new white police chief and not the black he had planned... There may be a summit meeting of Democrat bigwigs before the end of the year and the new regime moves into town. Demo Committee staffers are looking forward to rebuilding the party with the Brother "inside" all the way. They are pointing to the vote to prove that "Vote power" is still the important factor in the rights struggle. In surveying the national picture, figures show that Negroes voted more strongly for HHH and against Dick Nixon than they did for LBJ over Barry Godwater... Look for another fight against Adam Clayton Powell. The House, despite its new faces, are dead set against giving him his seat. This could be another bloody one.

NOTES FROM WITHIN: Mrs. Shirley Chisholm comes down here next year as the first Negro woman member of Congress. A real firebrand, Mrs. Chisholm arrives with impressive credentials. She was an active member of the New York Assembly and is personally, a vibrant personality. In winning the seat, she defeated another firebrand, James Farmer, former executive of CORE, who left that organization to teach. Farmer ran on the Republican ticket and like a number of CORE persons around the country who followed the GOP line, he went down to defeat. There is already some talk in Republican circles that would enlist Farmer for some post under the Nixon-Agnew administration. This is not likely for James Meredith, although the Mississippian toured the country beating the drums for the GOP ticket and predicting, wrongfully however, that Negroes would vote light. Meredith will be shunted aside for personal reasons and even the closest Republican won't discuss them publicly.

TICKER TAPE, USA: Look for a diminishing of militant activity in the future. Reason: The money will start to dry up. A lot of the BP boys were being funded by reactionary whites who wanted to keep the civil pots boiling as candidates played the "law and order" theme. Now that the election is over, Whitley will cut off that dough and the militants will go back to other less flamboyant occupations... At the last minute, a group of BP boys bought radio spots on black stations around the country urging the Brother not to vote. The interesting part of this was that the boys went "south" with most of the dough and consequently the spots were few and far between... White persons who voted for the GOP to secure "law and order" will find the office of the President virtually powerless to do anything about this issue. An Aide of Nixon said as much on a CBS owned radio station one day last week... The big question here is where will Clarence Townes fit into the new setup?

RIBBON LEAVINGS: When Missouri's new Senator comes to town, George Draper now at EEOC could be joining him. George, we are told, was a longtime friend and associate of Tom Eagleton out in Missouri. Eagleton named him the first Negro trial lawyer when he was District Attorney in St. Louis and George also went to Jefferson City with him when Eagleton became Attorney-General. The two are close personal friends and there is a mutual respect... Roy Wilkins and Whitney Young issued timely statements after the election. Each knows that although they were both "tight" with the Democrats, the GOP can't ignore them.

The Veteran's Corner

EDITOR'S NOTE: Below are your advantage to switch to the VA pension program. While Veterans Administration to some of the many current questions from former servicemen and their families. Further information on veterans benefits may be obtained at any VA office.

Q — I receive 30 per cent disability compensation from the Veterans Administration. However, I will soon be 65 and retired. Can I waive my disability compensation and come under the VA pension program if it is to my financial advantage to do so?

A — In a word, yes. However, you should check with the VA regional office where your records are on file and ask for assistance in determining whether it will be to your advantage to switch to the VA pension program. While pension rates and income limits will change on Jan. 1, 1969, keep in mind that the monthly compensation rate for service-connected disabilities will also be raised on Jan. 1. Your 30 per cent compensation rate will go up from $60 to $65 a month.

Q — I am drawing Social Security. Am I also entitled to a pension from VA? My husband was a World War I veteran. I have no dependents.

A — You may be if your income is not more than $1,800 a year. Your VA pension eligibility is based upon all income, not just Social Security. Visit or write your nearest Veterans Administration office for information and assistance in applying for a pension.

Magicians Will Open Basketball Season Nov. 30 With Morehouse

When LeMoyn-Owen College Nov. 30, here in Bruce Hall, opens its basketball season head coach Jerry Johnson against Morehouse of Atlanta, will have the tough task of picking a starting five from seven standout performers.

Johnson, who is in his 11th year at the college, will find himself selecting the starters from Willie Taylor, 6-8 senior center and rebound artist from Byhalla, Miss.; William Meggett, 5-11 senior guard from New York City who was captain last year, play-maker and high scorer; Jackie Robinson, 6-3 junior forward who starred at Hamilton High; Edward Hoskins, a versatile 6-5 sophomore from Owen Junior College and a former standout at Melrose High; Herbert Carter, a sharp-shooting 6-2 sophomore guard from Montgomery, Ala.; Jerry Dover, a tricky 5-7 sophomore guard from Owen who cut his teeth at Melrose; and John Blair, 6-5 sophomore center from Montgomery who stands out as a marksman and rebounder.

The coach will be able to draw from seven other members of the squad, including two seniors. Samuel Bachelor, 6-3 forward from Cincinnati and Willie Parks, 5-10 guard from Woodstock, and a junior, LeRoy LeFlore, 6-2 guard from Carthage, Miss.

Four freshmen are on the squad, Larry Crawford, 6-4 center, and Melvin Tuggle, 6-foot guard, both from Capleville; T. W. Hayslett, 6-3 forward from Manassas High, and Zeb Thomas, 6-2 forward from Philadelphia, Pa.

LeMoyn-Owen, a merger of LeMoyn College and Owen Junior College last summer, is making its last stand in the 16-member Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference. A member of the SIAC since 1930, the Memphis college joined the Volunteer State Athletic Conference last month. The Magicians will play out their 1968-69 SIAC schedule, however.

Twelve of the Magicians' 21 games are with SIAC members, including the opener with Morehouse. LeMoyn-Owen will play one Volunteer State member, CBC, twice.

A Negro started the most important bank in the world.

Old Taylor Presents: Ingenious Americans Charles Richard Drew (1905-1950).

Emergency. Someone needs massive blood transfusions immediately. The doctor makes one simple phone call, and in minutes the proper type is delivered, enough of it to save a life. Every day, in virtually every country of the world, blood banks perform their life-saving service.

We take blood banks for granted today, but less than 30 years ago this one simple phone call was impossible. It was not until 1941 that Dr. Charles Drew, then director of the British Blood Plasma Project, introduced the revolutionary idea of a central depository for blood.

Drew's next step was to improve the methods of preserving blood. And as the first director of the American Red Cross Blood Bank, he supplied much-needed plasma to the United States Armed Forces.

But it was not only through the banking of blood that Dr. Drew made his mark. In the 1930s, as a professor and head of surgery at Howard University medical school,

Dr. Drew trained and encouraged hundreds of young doctors. Under his strong leadership, the enrollment at Howard swelled.

Shortly after the war, Dr. Drew was named surgical consultant for the United States Army. Then, a year later, his brilliant career was brought to an abrupt halt. He was killed in an auto crash.

Although he died young, Dr. Drew left an enduring mark in many fields. He had been an outstanding athlete and coach, a magnetic speaker, an inspired teacher, a dynamic administrator, a gifted scientist and a skilled surgeon.

But, most of all, Dr. Charles Drew will be remembered as the Ingenious American who started the most important bank in history.

Would you like to own this handsome sculptured bust of Dr. Charles Richard Drew? It's 8" tall, made of antique bronze cast stone, and carries the complete Drew story. It costs $5.00 (which is what it costs us). Send check or money order to: Old Taylor, Box 4865S, Grand Central Station, New York, N.Y. 10017.

Community Service In Sorority's Goal

Recently Alpha Kappa Alpha gave of his services, time, and service organization, was founded at Howard University in Washington, D. C. in 1908. "Our sorority," said Mrs. William Mardis, "operates on a seven-point program which emphasizes, in part, human rights, career development and economic opportunity dissemination of information about the contribution of black people to the life of this country and to the world." Mrs. Mardis is president of the Memphis chapter of the sorority's publicity director.

The projects of the alumnae chapter for the most part, coincide with this seven-point program," said Mrs. Samuel Chambers, vice-president and projects chairman. Miss Velma Lois Jones pointed out that "whether the project is the Magic World of Fashions or volunteer Services, our ultimate aim is service to the community. Miss Jones is a past president and presently the director of the sorority's southeastern region.

Mrs. Frank E. Delk Jr. is the sorority's publicity director.

Roy Wilkins Supported By Local NAACP Branch

Following the publication of newspaper articles criticizing Roy Wilkins, national executive director of the NAACP, the president of the Memphis branch of the NAACP, Jesse H. Turner, sent Mr. Wilkins the following telegram:

"The executive committee of the Memphis Branch voted unanimously to express its wholehearted support of you and your service as the executive director of the NAACP. Your wisdom, experience, courage and foresight have been of inestimable value during the past. The demands of the future will be greater,

Miss Karen Yvonne Allen of Capleville High School was chosen as Miss Capleville High School. She resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Allen Sr., at 471 Malone Road. She is 16 years of age and in the 11th grade. Her hobbies are dancing, sewing, cooking, and reading. Around campus she is a member of the senior band, science and math club, secretary of her homeroom class and vice-president of the student council. Her ambition is to become a laboratory technician or professional model.

Elks Will Present 30th Annual Blues Bowl Game
