Citizenship Day is Planned on Feb. 22

Dr. Hicks Announces Plans for Program in Chapel

L. K. BISHOP WILL SPEAK

Dr. G. T. Hicks, head of the education department of Murray State College, announced today the college would again sponsor "Citizenship Day" on February 22, at which time all students of the college who have reached the age of 21 will be officially inducted into citizenship.

Inaugurated a year ago under Dr. Hicks' sponsorship, "Citizenship Day" will become an annual event at Murray State. The Rev. L. K. Bishop, pastor of the First Christian Church of Paducah, will deliver the principal address this year. The Rev. Howell M. Forgy, pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Murray, will give the invocation and benediction.

President James H. Richmond will welcome the honor guests, introduce the speaker, and preside over the induction ceremony. The pledge of citizenship, written last year by Miss Geraldine Hammack, Sturgis, Ky., senior, will be taken by the 200 or more students who have reached the age of 21 since August, 1939, or who will reach that age prior to August, 1940.

The college band, directed by Prof. W. H. Fox, will provide music for the occasion. The Murray Scout troops will give the salute and oath as a part of the program. The audience will sing "America."

Guests of honor will include the American Legion posts of Murray and surrounding towns, the Scouts, the School Boy Patrol, present and former regents, city and county officers, city bank presidents, the postmaster, editors of the local papers, and members of the men's and women's clubs of the city and county.

The program will take place Thursday, February 22, at 10 a. m. in the college auditorium during the chapel period. The exercise will supplant the regular chapel usually held on Wednesday of that week.

Student From Cuba Likes Murray

"I like the young folks here at Murray!" This was Virginia Gardner's reply when asked in an interview how she liked Murray College. "I didn't like it so well when I first came, but as time goes on and I make new acquaintances, I am liking it much better."

When asked what caused her to come all the way from Cuba to go to school at Murray, she replied, "Last year when my dad got his vacation, our family came back to Dawson Springs, where we lived before going to Cristo, Cuba. During my visit I met Miss Ruth Ashmore, house director at Wells Hall, and she encouraged me to come here to school."

"My greatest desire is life is to be a beautician, however, I find that home economics interest me more than any other subject I am taking and I do think we have an excellent home economics department."

Miss Gardner stated, "I have lived in Cuba three years, as the Americans were allowed to bring their families into Cuba only three years ago."

"I like it very much in Cuba. It was much like being in Miami, Fla."

YWCA Hears Talk by President

The Young Woman's Christian Association in a meeting February 5 at 10 a. m. in the little chapel, heard its president, Miss May Boaz Cooke, discuss the aims and future of the YWCA.

Miss Cooke stated that the YWCA served as an organization to unify girls where problems can be discussed, and to fill the spiritual need of every girl on the campus throughout the week.

Friendliness toward the recently enrolled freshmen girls was stressed by Miss Jane Haselden, dean of women. The group is sponsoring a drive to get new members for the YWCA to make it one of the outstanding organizations of Murray State College.

The Girls Glee Club and the Sigma Alpha Iota String Quartet entertained members of the Paducah Rotary Club at a banquet given at the Irvin Cobb Hotel in Paducah, Ky., on Tuesday evening, February 13.

Nashville Group To Hear Chief

Dr. James H. Richmond will be one of the principal speakers at the annual meeting of the Sons of the American Revolution in the Hermitage Hotel, Nashville, Tenn., Wednesday evening, February 21.

Dr. A. L. Crabb, Peabody College, Nashville, a member of the committee in charge of arrangements, wrote President Richmond last week that the chapter was highly pleased at being able to secure his services as speaker for the occasion.

M-CLUB FOLLIES TO BE PRESENTED HIGH SCHOOL DAY

Members of Varsity Group Will Take Part in Program

SMITH WILL DIRECT PRODUCTION AGAIN

A function that bids well to become traditionally annual at Murray State, the M-Club Follies, will be presented March 29, High School Senior Day, this year.

Last year's director, Robert Smith, senior, Atlantic Highlands, N. J., will direct the follies again this year, and Jackie Inman, junior, Danville, Ky., will be business manager.

Only members and all members of the M-Club participate in the burlesque with husky athletes gambling in female garb in entertaining choruses and skits.

The Follies will be shown on the auditorium stage this year instead of at the health building as was last year's show, and two shows, one in the afternoon for the high school students and one in the evening for adults, are planned. The show will be from 1 1/2 to 2 hours in length. Reserved seats are to be sold.

An extensive publicity campaign has been planned. At a meeting Tuesday, February 13, plans were made to make a success of the show. Coaches Moore, Stewart, and Miller are faculty advisers.

Miss Dunn Gives Report on 'Horace' at Club Meeting

A program based on the life of Horace was presented by Miss Reba Dunn, president, at a meeting of the Classical Club Friday afternoon, February 8, in room 207 of the liberal arts building.

Miss Dunn reviewed the life of Horace and also read three poems in the original Latin from Horace, giving the paraphrases on each poem as written by Eugene Field. Miss Beatrice Frye, sponsor of the club, discussed Horace's philosophy of life.

Following the program was a short business meeting. "Cattulus" will be the subject of the next meeting, March 22.

Carr announced today.

The first meeting will be held in a regular chapel session, Tuesday, February 27. The other meetings will be held at the same hour—10 to 11 o'clock—but the attendance will be optional, Dr. Carr announced.

The decision to have "Dad" El-

Formal Dinner Is Given for Co-Eds on Valentine Day

The girls of Wells Hall and the dormitory men were entertained with a formal dinner party at Wells Hall, February 14, celebrating St. Valentine's Day and the February birthdays.

The dining room, appropriately decorated in the Valentine color scheme, was a charming sight. Place cards and favors consisted of tiny red hearts and cupid. Small red candles placed on miniature log holders provided the lighting effects. Dinner music was furnished by victrola.

A delicious 3-course meal was served to the guests. Misses Ruth Ashmore, matron, and Jane Haselden, dean of women, were in charge of arrangements and decorations.

GEOG CLUB HEARS BRANDON ON INDIA

Murray Student Discusses Country in Relation to Present World Conflict

The Geography Club on Friday, February 9, heard a discussion by Ross Brandon on "The Strategic Position of India in the Present World War Conflict."

In his talk, Brandon brought out India's location in relation to Russia, Persia, and Arabia, and also its location in relation to Britain's transportation life line along the Mediterranean, to the east, and Russia, to the north, as to the possibility of its coming down through the passes and capturing parts of India.

The last part of the meeting was devoted to the presentation of slides to illustrate the topography, products, industries, life and customs of people of India.

The next meeting will be Friday, February 23.

Kentucky's Biggest Musical Revue To Be Staged by Phi Mu Alpha

Comedy Skit

Campus Lights of 1940 Is Described As "Stupendous" With Grecian Temple in Jackson's Purchase

"Kentucky's biggest musical revue" is a name which is not misused when applied to Campus Lights of 1940, scheduled for presentation Friday night, February 23, in the college auditorium at 8:20 o'clock. In three years the brain child of the Gamma Delta Chapter of Phi Mu Alpha has grown from a small-scale miniature of Broadway shows to one that would equal any college musical anywhere in the nation.

The usual press-agent ballyhoo about the size of the show and the stupendous set to be used is worn-out, but one will really have to search from cover to cover of any dictionary in any language to express the surprise one gets when a view of the Grecian-designed set catches the eye. Johnny Singleton, Jimmy Davis, Art Colaianni and those who had anything to do with constructing a Greek temple in the heart of Jackson's Purchase really had to have an imagination. But they used it, and came out with a model set before starting to work on the full size stage.

Suggested improvements by various architects were used, and a fine, stately looking scene will grace the present edition of the revue.

But don't get us wrong as the revue has more than scenery. Seven accomplished jazz writers haven't been arranging the 20-odd tunes for nothing. The show will feature an original Paul Bryant number, "Deep In Your Eyes," written especially for the show. Other popular arrangements made by Prof. William Fox, Bud Ruhl, Morris Carter, Bryant, Gil Colaianni, Bill Parrish, and Josiah Darnell include "The Man I Love," "This Changing World," "Ave Maria," "The Star-Lit Hour," and many other novel tunes.

Prof. Franklin P. Ingels has kept his bag books and fertile brain working overtime, and as a result the skits and gag features are above par. Such talented dramatists as Joe Fitch, Tommy Blazier, Marianna Newman, Bob Smith, Jim Davis, Art Colaianni, and others are featured in the snicker-sketches.

Vocalizing of the music numbers will be done by a 40-piece chorus background, featured soloists being Inez Phillips, Mary Anne Brandon, Kathleen Winters, Fred Johnson, Thelma Marcum, and Wayne Burdick.

Special lighting will be in charge of Bill Swyers, who is being assisted by the Sock and Buskin electrician, Jimmy Stevens.

The annual Kentucky Intercollegiate League Debating tournament will be held here on March 15 and 16. Twenty teams are expected to participate. The oratorical contest will consist of interpretative reading, poetry reading, and radio speaking.

The committee in charge is K. R. Patterson and W. C. Jetton, and Mr. Wrather, chairman.

Mrs. Jackson gave a pleasing performance which was controlled and deliberate. She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. C. R. McGavern, Murray, Ky.

BREDS FEED DUST TO BLUE RAIDERS 60-42 AT MURRAY

Cutchinmen Trounce Middle Tennessee in Easy Victory

FROSH WIN 47-31 IN PRELIMINARY CONTEST

Every Thoroughbred was a Pegasus here last night (February 16) as Murray fed dust 60-42 to Middle Tennessee's Blue Raiders. The Yearlings won over the Baby Raiders 47-31 in the preliminary.

Cutchin's Racehorses left the post fast and were ahead 15-1 after 8 minutes of play. At the halfway mark, the Murfreesboro quint trailed 32-11.

Murray's veteran mentor threw everything in uniform (except policemen) onto the court, and still they galloped home scarcely perspiring under blankets.

Brewington, Tennessee center, took high scoring honors with 17 chalkups, including 7 bonus points. The victory was Murray's 12th against 7 losses this year, the seventh in 12 SIAA games, and the second over Middle Tennessee this season. It was the last home game for the 'Breds in 1940.

The lineups:
Murray (60) Pos. Mid-Tenn. (42)
Carnel 1 F D. Branson 6
Steffins 11 F C. Branson

Edentide Favored To Win Tourney; NYA to Compete

The Edentide Club of Louisville, defending state amateur basketball champion, rules as odds-on favorite to repeat in the state independent tournament, to be held in Murray February 19-20-21. The winner will represent the state in the national tournament, to be played in Chattanooga, later this spring.

Edentide, which features a face well-known to Murray basketballers, "Red" McCrackin, has a well-balanced ball club with Harry Blanford, Phil Reverman, "Red" Hagan, and other former stars of St. Xavier, Male, and Manual High Schools. It holds top-heavy victories over college fives from Georgetown and Union College, and gave the Denver Nuggets, national AAU champions, a tussle before succumbing. It has won 15 out of 17 games this season. Other Louisville teams expected in the tourney are the YMHA and Stansco teams.

Western Kentucky will be relying on the NYA team of the Murray State College Resident Project for a title bid. The Nationals, who have been under the tutelage of Captain Bill Carneal and Emerson Crowley, have won nine and lost one game in top-flight independent competition. The game lost to Murray's Frosh 37-34 was the second game played by the Nationals. Their attack is built around two giant pivot men, Charles Clark and Lon Wright. Feeding the ball to these boys are Charles Liles, former Corydon High star and all-regional last season; Jimmy Beckham, Russellville ace; and Phil Davenport, a star at Boaz a few years back.

Other boys who will see plenty of service for the Nationals are "Beet" Wyatt, Barlow; Orville Owens; and James Waldrop.

The meet is under the supervision of Acree Austin, National Basketball Commissioner of Kentucky.

... And The Grass Began To Grow

The plains which were plains no more were empty save for a solitary soul. To the left were crosses—while in the dull gray of the evening. All around were holes and looming hulks. The denuded earth was black and barren. In one grand survey the solitary soul took in the scene and shuddered. Then he muttered reflectively to himself:

The night is solemn and still;
The rant and rage is o'er.
I start and shudder and thrill;
I stand, I gaze,
I see it still,
The land, ablaze,
That drips with gore,
All shed to fate
The great men four,
Who bled their state,
But will no more,
For each long night is solemn and still—
The dead can neither laugh nor kill.

He shook himself, knocked the dead ashes from his pipe, and walked toward the distant horizon, stopping on his way to stoop and admire a bit of green grass which had finally found a place of peace.

Through These Portals . . .

When one enters the library building through the beautiful bronze doors and reads the inscription on the building, one must imagine what an interesting and educational place it must be. The building itself stands for a definite phase of education.

In the library you see many students; some of them come there because they want to enrich their minds; a few come to greet their friends, and others come to have a discussion with anyone who happens by. In the reading room most of the students are busy reading the newspapers and magazines.

In the basement are various divisions, such as the Journalism office, the college book store, branch post office, and a WPA workshop.

The second floor is composed largely of class rooms and a Prayer Room in which the Baptist students meet in various times during the day to hold worship. This room should be of vital importance to students who are a distance from their homes and relatives.

The WPA has a project on the third floor in the form of a museum, containing many articles of interest obtained from the state of Kentucky and near by states.

Through the use of this library we can increase the scope of our education, and become better equipped for our position in life.

A Great Invention

Students, now tell the old professor, "What are some of the greatest inventions of all times?"

"Yes, that's right—the wheel, the steam engine, the electric light, the radio, the internal combustion machine, paper. There's still another."

"That's it!—the printing press."

The diffusion of knowledge that we have today—indeed all our modern educational system, is made possible by the printing press. Vast changes in social, economic, political, and mental orders came after the invention, and to no small extent because of the invention of the printing press.

The newspapers of today have become great disseminators of news and information. They constitute a vast industry.

Murray State's COLLEGE NEWS is a part of that industry. But Murray State has no printing press.

We of the COLLEGE NEWS believe we have a fine paper because of many factors not entirely attributable to us of the staff, but how much finer it would be if we had our own press and equipment.

A broad field lies ahead in journalism. Why should Murray State not give students interested in that field actual training in all its phases? Textbook learning is fine, but often, as is the case in phases of this field, experience is more valuable.

We hope that as soon as possible a press be obtained for exclusive use of the journalism department of Murray State.

Nation Grieves Over Death of Col. Callahan

Col. Patrick Henry Callahan, industrialist, churchman, and one of the outstanding citizens of the United States, died at 5 p.m., February 4, at his home, 2800 Lexington Road, Louisville.

The 74-year-old man who was loved by all his employees in his nationally known plant, the Louisville Varnish Company, had been in failing health for a year or more. He suffered a heart collapse on January 21 and never regained his strength.

Colonel Callahan will long be remembered for his leadership in important matters. He was one of the national leaders in the temperance movement of two decades or more ago, and was one of the staunchest defenders of the principles of prohibition. He was a zealous worker in the field of industrial-partnership—the so-called profit-sharing plan between business and employees—and was famous as the co-ordinator of the Ryan-Callahan plan of suit co-operation, which he installed first in his own plant.

He lectured on industrial economics at Fordham University, Notre Dame University, the Catholic University of America and many other schools, and in 1931 was awarded the Newman Medal of the University of Illinois for work in the social field.

Although he has never held a political office, Colonel Callahan was an important figure in national political affairs for some time. He knew President Woodrow Wilson personally and gave him a lot of advice. He was a friend of Dr. J. H. Richmond of Murray, and spoke to the students of Murray State College last year.

During the 1937 flood, he rode about Louisville in his company's trucks helping rescue people from the advancing water. He worked like anyone of his company's laborers.

His personal funds were ever at the disposal of any worthy cause. During his lifetime he bought and paid personally for more dinners, for large numbers of people whom he called together in the various matters he thought needed attention, than perhaps any man in the United States.

Colonel Callahan, who had many friends, will be greatly missed. He respected the rights of all men and treated his employees in such a manner that they all felt at ease around him. In spite of all his important friends he was a "regular guy" and will long be remembered by all.

Miss Monroe Is Charming

By Mary Anna Jenkins

Lucy Monroe, soprano, who sang at the college auditorium on Monday evening, February 12, gave Murray one of the best concerts that has been presented by the Community Concert Association this season.

A native New Yorker, Miss Monroe began her career on the concert stage immediately after completing her high school education. Her parents were on the stage before her and this seemed the best way in which to begin her singing career, for which she had been working. Her training was in New York and she studied under such masters as Lawrence Easton.

Miss Monroe has never done straight dramatic work but has appeared in vaudeville and in plays which required singing roles. Her success in these varied fields has led to many important radio engagements on coast-to-coast networks, over which she has been heard nearly five hundred times. She has starred for over two years on the famous American Album of Familiar Music program, heard from Maine to California every Sunday night. Other starring programs were Lavender and Old Lace, the Hammerstein Music Hall of the Air, Broadway Varieties, the Goodrich Show and the Palmolive Beauty Box Theatre. She has also been a guest star on the Lucky Strike Hit Parade, the American Bankers Program with the Philadelphia Orchestra, the Chevrolet and Ben Bernie programs and while in California on her present tour she visited with Bing Crosby on his first program of 1940.

On December 11, 1939, she made her debut with the Chicago City Opera Company singing the role of "Micaela" in Carmen with Martinelli as "Don Jose." Her performance was given highest critical acclaim both in its singing and acting aspects.

Miss Monroe has appeared in every conceivable singing role except the movies.

When asked if she felt differently when singing before a microphone, after singing on the concert stage, Miss Monroe said, "singing before the microphone, later singing on the concert stage, is more like an anticlimax, and rather creates a nervous tension."

One would think an artist would be irritable after traveling twenty-four hours from New York to Murray, with but few stops, but Miss Monroe was modest, gracious and had one of the most pleasing personalities of any artist, both on stage and off, to say nothing of her beautiful voice. Her unaffected manner and the delightful way which she greeted her audience will long be remembered by all who heard her.

She has the enviable record of having made 16 appearances in two years with the Philadelphia Orchestra and last summer she made her debut with the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra at the Lewisohn Stadium.

Murray was the only stop Miss Monroe made in the state of Kentucky. After her appearance here, she left for Florida, from there to Louisiana, Mississippi and Georgia, after which she will return to New York for a vacation.

Wanting a Press

For years we have dreamed of having our own printing press—in fact, a complete newspaper plant. Journalism students as well as professors have hoped and waited and asked for this benefit to come to pass. Will it ever?

You, as well as I and all the rest, can see the results that would, and could be obtained from a department that would be able to print its own newspaper. Time would be saved, money might be saved, and materials might be saved. Those values are not to be overlooked in themselves. But do you think that is all? Oh, no!

There are many, many students that would grab the opportunity to study at Murray if a more extensive journalism program were in effect. And more students would be enabled to remain in school and many more would be enabled to enter because of the extra jobs created. Maybe it won't be long before something will be done about this. At least, that is what we are all hoping.

PRESS? YES

In order to obtain the best results from our journalism department, a college press, owned and operated by this college, is a vital necessity to the journalism department and also to the college as a whole. If this dream should become a reality, the college would be able to offer to an advantage, not only a college owned, printed, and operated College News, but also a journalism major which would increase enrollment and at the same time accommodate more working students who would be employed in operating the press.

The cost, of course, would have to be considered, but to a large extent this item would take care of itself by doing campus print jobs that would otherwise cost the college money.

Also, the journalism department would be able to turn out graduates with more practical experience on a newspaper. Students could, by seeing a press in action, learn

WITHOUT A MARKER

Can it not be said that there was born and there lives a beautiful school along a highway where hundreds pass each day—some knowing, but many wondering what the institution is?

Such is the case of this college—a progressive and prospective institution without even a marker, sign, or archway bearing its name; a great college living in obscurity.

Miss Robbie Nell Myers, a graduate of Murray State College, has been appointed district representative of the Department of Business Education of the National Education Association.

Named for Who's Who

Art Colaianni, senior, Lorain, O.; and J. W. Wilkinson, senior, Union City, Tenn., also named for "Who's Who," are not included in the picture.

Stuff in the Ruff

MONROE MENTIONS MOVIES:

Lucy Monroe, you all know her now, spoke of the movies when we interviewed her the other day. In fact, she talked about everything but herself and how to plant potatoes in the show. She has appeared in every kind of production imaginable except movies and when told she was being slighted she simply said, "Well, Hollywood prefers slim girls in pictures." You'd get the impression she was inclined to believe she was plump—but that's where both you and she are wrong. Myrna Loy isn't exactly slim and yet she lures the little round quarters to roll into the various box offices about the country.

Monroe later declared that female singers don't bring in quarters as rapidly as the producers would like to have them. She intimated that perhaps the rolling isn't so smooth because the Prima Donnas seem to get the same role—where the poor girl with a beautiful voice endures hardships, escapes the clutches of wicked men, and behold, the girl is rewarded by singing for the Metropolitan Opera just as the picture ends! If she had been 20 minutes late she'd still be fighting hunger and—stuff.

Miss Monroe stated that Deanna Durbin gets along so well because she is in her adolescence and it is therefore easier to find parts for her. But role or no role—plot or no plot—slim or no slim, Monroe does not photograph beautifully and with all her varied talents, she should have a singing role in "reel life."

She told Mary Anna Jenkins that she (Mary Anna looked much like Gladys Swarthout, soprano singer, and that she should photograph beautifully. When she looked at me, she didn't say anything but I could read her thoughts, "No, but then Ben Turpin was in the movies."

She apologized for not having any cokes for us but as we stumbled clumsily from the room we managed to blurt out that we just had one last right then. After that we closed the door and beat it down to the drinking fountain.

CONFUSION CON CONFUCIUS:

Who's been taking a beating lately? You're right, Confucius. He ask, "He Hoo Hee Haws, Hoo's He?"

DON'T SAY WE DIDN'T TELL YOU:

Neither Eastern nor Georgetown will win the K.I.A.C. tournament this year. Look out for the "Dark Horses!"

AN ADIOS, AMIGOS:

The Feather Merchants will soon be here.

SMYTHE'S Slants

Very trite but true is the Murray argument concerning the S.I.A.A. finals to be held at Bowling Green again this year.

For those who do not know the history of the case let us state some of the factors. This tournament is an invitational affair and Murray has not even been invited yet, but may be. Basketball is not a very lucrative sport to the S.I.A.A., but a tournament with Western and Murray in opposite brackets always is assured of financial success.

However here is the rub. Frequently Murray and Western are finalists, which should draw a large crowd at either the John W. Carr Health Building or at Bowling Green, but the affair has been held at Bowling Green three straight times and will be held there again this year. Western has won the playoff contest the last three times in a row. Aren't they on their

The Life of a Waiter

Ah, the life of a waiter! The alarm jars him out of bed while the dawn is still cracking, and he stumbles wearily off to work. Sleepily he tosses plates and silver on the table and staggers to the kitchen to down a bowl of cereal before the poor unfortunates who have 8 o'clock classes swoop down upon him.

For a while he listens to their grumblings: "The eggs aren't done. Why don't you put on a little speed? May I have another cup of coffee? Put another grapefruit on me. Leave a plate on for Martha—she'll be down in a few minutes." Then he begins to clear the tables. As he takes off the last plate, lo! here comes Martha. Sadly he serves her, takes her dishes to the kitchen, and staggers home to brush his teeth before class time.

At 11:15 the ordeal begins again. The waiter comes out of his 10 o'clock class, not sleepy now but still tired, and wanders over to the dorm to snatch a few sweet moments of rest before duty calls. When it whispers, he answers. This time is like the first, except that there is more to do. There are more tables to set, and more things to set them with. At noon when the crowds come in they aren't fooling—they mean business. They want something to eat and they want it right now. The poor waiter is kept just one jump behind, and he never catches up. Someone wants catsup on the very day they didn't serve catsup; someone else wants the extra dessert, and someone else is mad because there isn't an extra dessert. About 15 of the little darlings want buttermilk which they never taste, and 15 more want whole wheat bread when there isn't any whole wheat bread.

The action is repeated at night. This time there happen to be milk, tea, and hot rolls. Of course everyone wants tea if he can have milk too, regardless of whether he likes the stuff. The unfortunate waiter, always striving to please, neglects the milk and rushes to the kitchen to get a second plate of rolls while there are some left (the first plate having been emptied while Mrs. Young was offering thanks—an unfair advantage on the waiter, because naturally he can't go running off to the kitchen during the prayer) and you should hear the squawks of contempt when he returns with only some cold bread. Imagine having to wait for milk while this kitchen scum wanders around looking for bread! And the tea is probably cold, too. Another tragic thing is that some of the diners base their friendship with the waiter on the extra glass of milk when no one is looking. Who, except the fellow who wanted the milk, would call that friendship?

Kitchen jobs pay low. They are about the only jobs on the campus that require work on Sunday. Breakfast is the only meal at which the waiter doesn't have to work overtime. He gets the same amount that others get for working, in some instances, half as long. But then as long as humans eat three times a day someone will have to do it.

Murray Debaters Will Go to Forensic Tourney

Wealth Conscription To Be Topic Discussed

The Murray varsity debate team will enter the tournament sponsored by the Southern Association of Teachers of Speech, to be held April 2, 3, 4, at Chattanooga, Tenn. The question for this debate which is: Resolved, that legislation should be enacted providing for the conscription of capital in the event the United States becomes engaged in war.

The topic for extemporaneous speaking is: "Men and Issues in the 1940 Presidential Election."

In order to add interest and variety, it is the policy of this tournament to select a subject other than the national Pi Kappa Delta subject. Inasmuch as the debate team is changing to a new subject, other students, as well as members of the debate club, are invited to get in touch with Prof. A. C. LaFollette and try out for the squad, which will begin studying the new subject in order to make the trip to Chattanooga the first of April.

Up to the present time, the Murray debate squad has been studying the question of isolation as a foreign policy for the United States. This question will be used in the coming tournament at Manchester College, Manchester, Ind., February 23-24.

Adrian Whipple, La Center; Robert Carlton, Murray; Dewey Jones, Benton; J. W. Wilkinson, Union City, Tenn.; Billy Lipford, Murray; and Ralph Crouch, Lynn Grove, will make the trip with Mr. LaFollette to Manchester College. On the trip to Manchester, the team will debate with Terre Haute State College, Butler University in Indianapolis, Franklin College at Franklin, Ind., and Anderson College at Anderson, Ind.

MISS MONROE GIVES RECITAL

Talented Soprano Pleases Large Audience of Music Lovers at Murray State

Lucy Monroe, talented American soprano, gave Murray citizens a musical treat when she presented a recital at the college auditorium, February 12.

A native New Yorker, Miss Monroe made her Metropolitan Opera debut in the Spring Season of 1937 and her debut with the Chicago City Opera Company with which she is now associated.

The Murray audience was very appreciative, said Frederick Bristol, who assisted her at the piano. When asked if American audiences were demanding better or lower types of music, Mr. Bristol replied that American audiences were capable of appreciating better music than was being given them. He said it was the managers of the performers who continually wrote lighter music into the programs. Mr. Bristol played "Suite in c major, Parts 1 and 3" by Poulenc, "Gold Fish" by Debussy, and "Viennese Waltz, No. 2" by Friedmann-Gartner as piano solos.

Miss Monroe's program included selections by Handel, Haydn, Ardit, Martini, Debussy, Faure, Bernberg, Gounod, Rimsky-Korsakoff, Gretcheninoff, Sibella, Puccini, Scott, Hughes and Strauss-Lieblich. For her encores, Miss Monroe sang "Comin' Thru the Rye," "Mary and the Kittens," "The Rats," "Song of the Open," "Italian Street Song," and "Will You Remember?"

RELATIONS CLUB TO NAME STAFF

International Topics Are Discussed by Members in Recent Meeting

The International Relations Club will elect officers for the spring semester on February 26, it was announced today.

In its last meeting, new members of the organization, R. C. Stewart, Murray, junior; J. W. Wilkinson, Loves, Ky., senior; and Dewey Jones, Benton, Ky., junior, discussed topics of international significance.

Jones presented the topic, "Isolation as a means of Permanent Peace" with Wilkinson opposing him. As both were of a constructive element it was not classed as a debate, but as a general discussion.

Stewart disclosed information on the general situation which confronts Soviet Russia today in a talk on the northern port city, Murmansk.

Physics Group Broadcasts at Club Meeting

W9ZTM - 9ZTM - 9ZTM - 9ZTM - W-9Zed-T-M. Portable 9 W4FDK calling W9ZTM. Do you hear me W9ZTM? This is W-4-F (Florida)-D (Delaware) -K (Kansas) calling W9ZTM. Come in W9ZTM.

W9ZTM "came in" and the program for the Physics Club meeting last Thursday evening became a success. W9ZTM, a portable short wave transmission set licensed by Layton Williams, was set up in the physics lecture room of the administration building. W4FDK is a set licensed by Frank Shires, Obion, Tenn., and set up by William Finney, Williams, and Shires in the basement of the Training School.

In spite of some "QRM" (station interference) and "QRN" or static interference, the reception was pretty good at each location. Various members of the club tried their hand at broadcasting. One fellow was asked, via short wave, if he was halting in speech because of "mike fright." The reply was, "It's not mike fright that's bothering me; it's my vocabulary."

The set in the Training School is really quite efficient. Before the program for the evening satisfactory contact was made by the operator with a station near Mt. Vernon, Ill. In the wee small hours of the same date several stations in New York had been contacted. One was worked in California.

I. M. A. GINIT SEZ...

By Willie Jeff There have been many stars picked for the Western game last Saturday night and this writer's opinion is that Walter Murray played the best floor game of his career and was the outstanding player on the floor. Walter is playing his third year with the Breds and has been considered a regular each year. On Christmas he announced his engagement to Miss Mary Ellen Brown, a Murray graduate who is at the present teaching school at Mayslick, Ky.

Murray football players are going dramatic. George Speth, Bill MacMurray, Jess Hahn, and Lawrence Thompson have parts in the play "Mary of Scotland" to be given by the Sock and Buskin club in the near future.

Thanks to the efforts of Coach Stewart, Murray will have intercollegiate baseball this season. A 10-game schedule will be arranged and Mr. Cutchin will be the coach. From the AP feature service I picked up the following sayings of Confucius, the sixth century Chinese sage:

"The cautious seldom err."
"It is better to be mean than in subordinate."
"In style all that is required is that it convey the meaning."
"A poor man does not flatter."
"What the superior man thinks is in himself."
"Learning, undigested by thought is labor lost."
"Thought, unassisted by learning, is dangerous."
"The superior man is dignified, but does not wrangle."
"If you do not know life, what can you know about death."
"The wise men must wither away like the plant."
"What you do not like when done to yourself do not do to others."

STUDENT ORG. ACTIVITIES

Picture-taking, dancing, discipline, and a carnival have been the subjects considered by the Student Organization of Murray State during the past two weeks. Pictures of the Student Council were taken for the 1940 annual Friday night, February 9, at the library.

Plans for the high school dance to be given in honor of the high school students on the evening following senior day, March 29, have been started. The dance is being sponsored by the Student Organization.

A discipline committee was formed at the last meeting of the Student Council. The constitution provides for a discipline committee but none was formed last semester. The committee is composed of the Student Council and two representatives of the faculty, Miss Evelyn Linn and Dr. F. C. Pogue.

Through the permission of President Richmond and on the approval of the Student Council, a decision was made to charge 10 cents admission to the physical education carnival to be held sometime in May. The purpose of the charge, according to Hal Saunders, president of the Student Organization, is to cover expenses and make possible a better carnival.

Paul Bryant, graduate of Murray College, announced that he planned to remain on the Benton High School faculty because of the fact that the orchestra with which he has to work had disbanded for the time.

Donkey Basketball March 4

When you see several donkeys on the floor of the health building on March 4, don't think that it has been converted into a stock yard.

The explanation would be the Donkey basketball game that is being sponsored by the Young Democrats of Murray State College. Ralph Godfrey's famous panhandle donkeys are being used in these games in which all players will be mounted on donkeys.

The first game of the evening, which will begin at 7:30 will bring together the faculty of Murray State College and the downtown Democrats. The second game will be a duel between the Young Republicans and the Young Democrats. An advance sale of tickets will be held and students may purchase tickets for 15c. Prices at the door will be slightly higher.

DERRYBERRYS GIVE LECTURE, RECITAL

Murrayans Present Program for Paducah Branch of AAUW

The Paducah branch of the American Association of University Women presented Prof. and Mrs. Everett Derryberry, Murray, in a lecture-recital at an open meeting Monday evening, February 5, at the First Presbyterian church. They used as their subject "Music-A Universal Language: the Song in England."

Mr. and Mrs. Derryberry possess a wide background of educational and musical training. Mrs. Derryberry, a native of England, has had extensive training in that country as a pianist. Mr. Derryberry, head of the English department at Murray State College, received his education in this country at the University of Tennessee and later went to England as a Rhodes scholar. While in England he studied voice and subsequently chose singing as his avocation.

Mrs. Derryberry assumed the role of lecturer for the evening and presented the history of the song in England from the time of Chaucer to the present art and song of that country. To illustrate, Mr. Derryberry sang representative songs of the different periods. To bring the lecture-recital to a close, the soloist sang Shakespeare's sonnet, "When in Disgrace in Fortune and Men's Eyes," set to music by Mrs. Derryberry.

New Jersey Frosh Tells Why He Enrolled

Art Belson, a freshman football player from Asbury Park, N. J., is so fond of Murray State that he has induced his younger brother and a friend to attend Murray next fall.

When asked how he liked Murray College, he said, "I think it's pretty nice; it's new and different to me. In fact, I like the whole set-up."

"What do you think about the South and the Southern people?" was the next question asked him. He answered quickly, "The South is all right. I like the country and the climate."

Concerning the people, he grinned and in his northern brogue said, "I think the rebels are pretty nice. They are courteous, friendly, and always willing to help the other fellow."

He was enthusiastic when asked what interested him most in college life. He smiled and answered, "Football and track are my favorite sports."

Art states that his ambition is to become a great football coach and to teach history.

The last question asked him and one which puzzled many people was: "Why do you think the North is so well represented here at Murray?"

"I think the main reason for this is that the students of Murray come home each vacation with bright stories of Murray's wonderful college, and this inspires us to attend Murray College. I guess this is why I am here now," he replied.

Much Work Is Being Done by Sock and Buskin in Preparing for Next Play, "Mary of Scotland"

The Sock and Buskin will present on March 22 in the college auditorium the biggest production ever attempted by the dramatic club, namely, Maxwell Anderson's "Mary of Scotland."

If, within the next month, you see bearded men to the right of you and bearded men to the left of you, don't be alarmed and fear the House of David has declared a holiday; the men in the cast of "Mary of Scotland" are letting their beards and hair grow. This is only one step toward making each character completely authentic.

"Don't Give Up The Ship" BY PERRY

Fall Semester 1939! It lived! What more can be said? It died! And all we know it's dead!

When a new semester begins, everyone must realize that the desire to do some real hard work can nearly always be overcome by a strong mind.

"I'll tell the world" ought to be the motto of every factory, corporation, merchant, city town, and community that hopes to make progress and keep up with the rest of the world.

Advertising is the life blood of business and industry. Pardon the illustration, but the reason a hen is the most popular fowl is because she advertises, with a cackle, every time she turns out a new product. Advertising is not an expense—it's an investment. The best proof is a good look at good business men who advertise regularly. Of course there are different ways of advertising. If you told a girl that time stands still while you gaze into her wonderful eyes, you would be sitting pretty, but if you told her that her face would stop a clock—try it, and see what happens. This thing of advertising is what gives a "pull" to business and after all the concern that has a "pull" is the one that has the "push."

Seems like the better "oiled" some fellows get the more noise they make.

Do right and fear no man. Do not write and fear no woman.

Isn't it funny that when your credit runs down your creditors wind you up?

Don't hammer on things when they are calm—just remember that a bomb is the stillest thing there is until it explodes.

After you read reports from both sides of the war zone you are sure that the pen is still mightier than the sword.

VARSITY BASEBALL RETURNS TO MURRAY STATE

Murray Boxers Defeat Cumberland University 6-2

Moore's Pugilists Remain Unbeaten

A strong and determined Murray College boxing team defeated the visiting Cumberland University scrappers to the tune of 6-2 February 14, with Cumberland taking but one bout within the confines of the ropes. The fights took place in the Carr Health Building with Monk Beasley of Paducah as the third man in the ring.

The Cumberland team was conceded one of the heavyweight bouts and Murray was given two points in the 120 and 127-pound classes via the concession route. The win kept Murray's 2-year boxing record unblemished.

Two exhibition bouts between Murray fighters started the series of fights. In the first, each of the three rounds being of one minute duration, Glenn Hook and George Whitecotton went the limit in an exhibition of boxing skill rather than hitting ability.

In the second, Vern Wilson and Kermit Holland, both of Murray State, tangled at 145 pounds, and gave the cash customers the first thrills of the night. Both boys entered the ring with the apparent intentions of making a scrap of it, and subsequent events proved them to be earnest in their intentions. Holland, holding a slight advantage in height and reach, peppered his opponent with left hooks that found their mark with surprising rapidity. In his efforts to avoid the looping left, Wilson left himself open time and again for a straight left to the face or body, but Holland was slow in taking advantage of the opportunity.

Bill Lloyd of Cumberland took a split decision from Murray's Denver Erwin in the lightweight division, evening the running score.

In the 145 pound group Joe Paschall of Murray caught up with Bobby Freeman after 1 1/2 minutes of the second round, and was awarded the referee's decision on a technical knockout.

Nanney Pressed

Captain "Pee Wee" Nanney of Murray met the star of the Cumberland outfit, at 155 pounds, in what turned out to be the best fight of the evening. Nanney and Sutton, both heavy hitters and clever boxers, peppered each other for three rounds, inflicting damage to each other's faces. Nanney ended the fight with a bleeding nose acquired in the closing seconds of the second round, while Sutton's face was cut during the opening few seconds of the final round. Nanney stayed out of Sutton's dangerous mitts, coming in only often enough to hit at definite openings in Sutton's guard. Nanney was given a unanimous decision by the two judges and the third man in the ring.

Bob Fiser of Murray, at 165, outpointed pudgy Carl Baker in a fight that went the scheduled distance. Baker, attempting to dodge below Fiser's blows, was hampered severely about the head but managed to last out the fight.

Leo Huff, one of Murray's most dangerous hitters, gained a technical decision over Kenneth Kenney of Cumberland in two rounds of the scheduled three-frame tilt at 155. Kenney entered the ring with the apparent intention of landing one of his haymakers, but failed to find his target very often. One of Kenney's blows inflicted more damage on himself than on Huff, and Kenney was forced to leave the ring in the second round with a broken hand.

A heavyweight exhibition between Charles Feeney and Hector Ouellette set the stage for the first scheduled heavyweight fight of the program. Pete Lusk from Cumberland, a tall rangy fighter, mixed with short Sam Tataro of Murray, in a bout that terminated in a draw. In the final bout of the night, Steve Levandoski, the only southpaw to appear on the card, earned a unanimous decision over Cumberland's R. W. Copeland. The Murray boy chased Copeland around the ring in an effort to land a Sunday punch but his efforts came to naught.

COACH CUTCHIN TO HAVE CHARGE

10-Game Schedule Planned for Thoroughbreds on Diamond

"After considering it from various angles and viewpoints, we have at last decided to return intercollegiate baseball to the college sports program at Murray," Coach Roy Stewart, head of the physical education department, announced in an interview, Thursday afternoon, February 8.

The move, taken after Murray had already six intercollegiate sports, has been approved by Dr. James H. Richmond.

Coach Carlisle Cutchin, athletic director and basketball coach, will coach the team, and a schedule of at least 10 games is being planned.

Murray, long a power in baseball, abandoned the sport in 1932 because of lack of support.

Games will probably be played with Western, Middle Tennessee, Lambuth, Austin Peay, Tennessee Tech, and Kitty League teams. The schedule is now being arranged. Material is plentiful as this is definitely a baseball territory. Armstrong, Colt forward who has been an outstanding defensive player throughout the season, turned into an offensive threat by chalking up 10 points. Wheatcroft led at the end of the first quarter by the score of 9-6. Murray was out in front at the half 16-11.

Stewart Announces Change in Policy Of Making Awards to Lettermen

"On account of the fact that five minor sports and two major sports are now offered at Murray, the department of health and physical education has adopted a new policy of awards," Coach Roy Stewart announced today.

This change was made necessary because of the broadening of the program and the corresponding expense that would have been involved under the previous plan. Under the new plan minor sports will carry awards. This would not have been possible without the following changes:

1. Elimination of awards of any type to freshman teams. (For the year 1939-40 awards already earned in football and basketball will be awarded to freshmen).
2. Seniors in football and basketball will have a choice of a coat sweater, a gold ball, or a blanket.
3. Minor sports men will be awarded a jersey type sweater with a 6-inch chenille letter "M". An emblem of the sport will be woven into the letter-crossed rackets for tennis, the word SWIM for swimming, a track shoe for track, a boxing glove for boxing, and a baseball for baseball.
4. Anyone making his letter in football or basketball will be eligible to earn later a letter in minor sports but will not receive a minor sports sweater awarded by the college. (He has earned his right to wear one or purchase one).
5. Varsity football and basketball men who make their letter for the first time will be awarded a v-neck slipover sweater with an 8-inch chenille letter M.
6. Anyone making a letter in

MURRAY AVENGES DEFEAT BY TECH

Cutehmen Conquer Cookeville Quintet by 57-21 Wednesday February 7

A fast-breaking, short passing Murray team took ample revenge for a previous 37-35 setback by swamping a good Tennessee Tech team 57-21 here Wednesday night, February 7.

This was Murray's sixth SIAA win, as compared to four losses, and it kept the Racers in the running for an invitation to the SIAA meet in Bowling Green February 20, March 1-2.

The Thoroughbreds led 11-0 at the end of seven minutes of playing time, and steadily increased their lead throughout the game. Murray was on top at the half 25-7. Coach Cutchin, in an effort to keep down the score, used reserves freely throughout the ball game.

It was Murray's sixteenth win out of 18 starts against the Eagles. Bob Salmons, who has taken over starting duties at center for the 'Breds, again paced the scorers with 18 points, 13 in the first half. Carneal and Culp added 8 apiece, while Steffins counted 7. Draper and Wilkinson each scored five points for the Cookeville, Tenn., team.

He expects to receive his bachelor of science degree in June, majoring in physical education and history and political science. While in Murray, the Wilsons will reside at the home of Gus Robertson, Miller Avenue, College Addition.

Murray Outclasses Western Quintet 36-30

Victory Averages Defeat of 39-30

BREDS LEAD 14-13 AT HALF

On the wings of a fast break and a deliberate passing attack, Murray State's Thoroughbreds commanded an early lead and finished strong to demolish Western Kentucky's Hilltoppers 36-30, here, Saturday night, February 10, before 2000 fans in the Carr Health Building.

This was Murray's eleventh win of the season, its sixth in SIAA competition, and avenged a previous 30-30 Western win. The Toppers, defending KIAC and SIAA champions, were charged with their sixth defeat of the season, and their second at the hands of a KIAC foe.

Throughout the first half, Murray clung tenaciously to a small lead that varied from one to four points, and held a 14-13 lead at halftime. Western was ahead but once during the half, getting on top 8-6 midway in the period.

During this time, it was the fast moving and ball-hawking of Murray's aggressive captain, Bill Carneal, and the nimble and sure fingers of Bob Salmons that kept the Racers ahead, while Walter Murray and Leslie McKeel aided in setting up an impregnable defense. Only long range shots found the Western basket as the Blue-blood defense hounded the Toppers over the court. Carlyle Towery, giant Western center heralded as the "cream of the South" was completely and effectively bottled by a defense cleverly constructed around him by the Cutchmen netters.

Murray Spurts

Early in the second half, Carl Steffins sent the Racers zooming into the lead with two beautifully executed left hand shots, but Herb Ball retaliated for the Toppers as he swished the net three times from the sidelines. Ned Washer, veteran Racers center, replaced Carneal, the game's high scorer at that time, and a fast break sent the "Breds into a 29-22 lead, as the Diddlers failed to cope with the combined height of Washer and Salmons.

Both scored steadily during this period, until a valiant defensive by Howard Downing and Towery managed to stop the Murray spurt. A hook shot by McKeel placed the Cutchmen in a more secure position, but Fulks and Downing cut into the lead with goals from the field.

With seven minutes remaining, the Thoroughbreds began to freeze the ball, and a desperate Western attempt to gain possession of the ball resulted only in the disqualifying of Herb Ball, "Topper captain, on personals.

Western scored only three baskets within the free throw line during the ball game, as Murray's shifting zone failed to yield. Coach Edd Diddle attempted to break men loose under the baskets, but the Cutchmen-coached cohorts baffled any scoring threat with a net-like defense.

Freshmen To Have Leap Year Party

The freshman class of Murray State College voted to have a combination Valentine and leap year party Tuesday, February 27, at 7:30 in the liberal arts building.

Dr. G. T. Hicks, who is in charge of arrangements, said that if no conflict arises the party will be given on February 27. The freshman class officers were appointed as a committee to collect 10 cents from each freshman to pay for the refreshments.

Murray is birthplace of Radio.

BREDS, AS USUAL DRAW TOUGHEST FOES IN TOURNEY

Murray, To Win, Has to Lick Three Teachers Colleges

KIAC TO BE STAGED AT RICHMOND, KY.

If they are to win the KIAC tournament in Richmond, February 22, 23, 24, the Racers will probably have to show a superiority to all three teachers colleges. Murray's first game will be against Morehead's Eagles, Friday afternoon, at 4 o'clock.

In the same bracket with the Cutchmen are Berea, Louisville, Transylvania, Eastern, and Morehead. As usual, Western's KIAC opposition consists of teams from Union, Centre, Wesleyan, and Georgetown.

Only three first round games are scheduled, as five byes were drawn. The Union-Centre go, Transy-Eastern, and Berea-Louisville melee are all scheduled for Thursday.

Friday afternoon's hostilities will begin at 3 o'clock with Georgetown opposing Kentucky Wesleyan. An hour later the Thoroughbreds tangle with Morehead. Friday night, Western meets the winner of the Union-Centre go, while the winners of the Transy-Eastern and Berea-Louisville games will meet in the final quarter-final contest.

At 2 o'clock, again as usual, the winner of the Western game Friday night will play either Georgetown or Wesleyan, while two hours later Murray or Morehead will probably meet one of the favorites, Eastern. The finals are carded for 8:30 Saturday night.

Ralph Mills, former Georgetown College athlete now coaching in Hopkinsville, and Monte Ferrell, former Xavier athlete, now at Fort Thomas, will officiate.

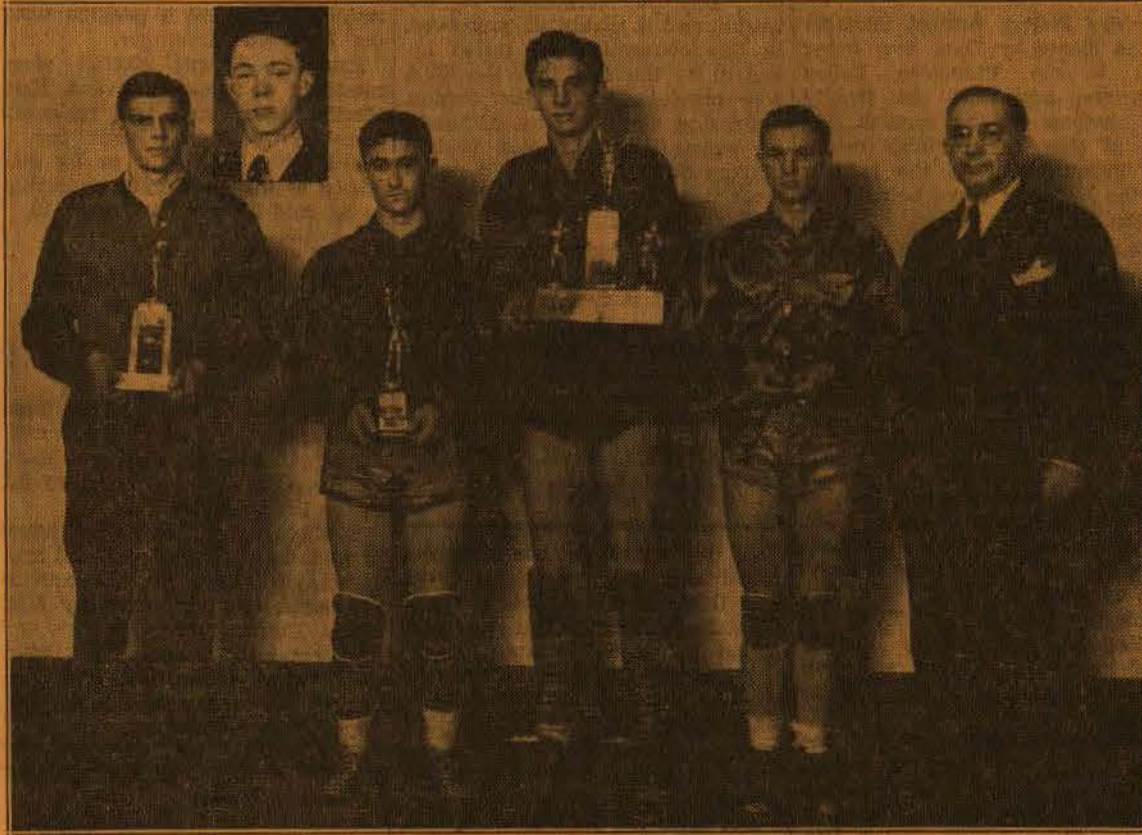

T. E. McDonough, tournament manager announced the following prices: season tickets $1.75 and $3.00. Single sessions 40c and 75c.

Washer Returns to Cage Lineup

Ned Washer, star center of the Murray Thoroughbreds' basketball team, returned to school Friday, February 9, after a week's absence. The former Kirksey athlete enrolled in time to participate in the Murray-Western cage battle Saturday night.

The six foot four inch goal shot artist played only half the game, but had a big hand in Murray's first hardwired victory over Western since 1938, scoring seven points to gain second place in scoring honors for the night.

Winners in Purchase-Pennyrile Meet

They are left to right: Ralph Cathey, captain of the 1939 Heath team which won the trophy; Captain Joe Richardson, of the Hughes-Irpatrick team which handed Hardin a 32-29 licking; Captain Joe Fulks, Kuttawa, who scored 20 points in leading his team to a 32-23 win over Pilot Oak in the feature game; Captain Wade Graham, Murray Training School, whose team took Wheatcroft 31-27; and Dr. Richmond.

The games, played in the Carr Health Building, Thursday night, February 8, were attended by over 1000 Western Kentucky high school basketball fans.

Previous winners include: 1946—Nebro and New Concord; 1937—Kirksey, Sedalia, and Hughes; 1936—Kirkpatrick; 1935—Sharpe and Pilot Oak; 1934—Heath and Calvert City; 1940—Kuttawa, Hughes-Kirkpatrick and Murray Training School.

BRANDON TALKS ON BRAZIL LIFE

Murray Freshman Is Speaker At Meeting of Baptist Students

Joe Brandon, Benton, Ky., a freshman at Murray State College, gave an interesting report Friday night, February 9, at the Baptist Student Open House, on his experiences while in Brazil.

Mr. Brandon's parents are missionaries to Brazil and he went there with them at the age of three. His father is now on furlough, at his home in Benton, but his mother, two brothers and two sisters are still in Brazil.

Mr. Brandon lived in the Akra Territory, about 3200 miles from the mouth of the Amazon—a place of very crude civilization.

On Sundays the natives all wear white suits, straw hats, and go barefooted.

"The missionaries are about the only ones to wear shoes," added Mr. Brandon.

There is not much worry about food supplies in Brazil, since most of the food consists of fish, turtle meat, sugar and fruit. The living standards are very low, according to Joe.

Many of the turtles are so big that children ride on their backs. Mr. Brandon explained, "Of course there was no way to guide them, so we just went where they carried us."

The only subjects taught are reading, writing and arithmetic.

The marriage customs are much different from those here. The girls marry at the age of 13 to 16 and are considered as "Old Maids" at the age of about 19 to 20.

After a slow start the Nationals took the lead and remained in front all the way leading 15-3 the first quarter, 25-18 at the half, and 52-33 as the third quarter closed.

Clark National, towering forward, led the scoring of the night with 31 points.

Murray Whips Mississippi State to Remain Unbeaten

Moore's Pugilists Win 4½ to 3½ February 3

Murray State's boxers continued to slug their way to mauling fame, as the Mooremen outpointed a game and effective Mississippi State team 4½-3½, here, Saturday night, February 3. Mississippi State entered the fight unbeaten and boasting of a 7½-½ win over the University of Alabama. Murray conceded two fights—one in the 127-pound class and one in the heavyweight.

This continued Murray's rise as a boxing power in the South—the War Horses having a two-year unbeaten campaign. Boxing was started as an intercollegiate sport here last season.

George Whitecotton, Murray 118-pounder, was awarded a 3-round decision over James Turnage, State counter-puncher, as he piled up a lead in the first two rounds on a steady withering attack. Turnage opened a cut on Whitecotton's nose in the second canto but the Murray youth was clever enough to withstand any last round stand the Mississippian might have made.

After he could not make the 127-pound class in weight, Glen "Pee Wee" Hook, weighing 118 pounds, gave a good account of himself in a bout with Hilton Crosby, Mississippi State 127-pounder. There was no decision.

Davis Efficient

H. P. Davis, Southeastern Conference champion and runner-up in the National Intercollegiate Boxing Tourney last year, found his hands full in his match with Murray's 135-pounder, Denver Erwin, but managed to build up a big final round advantage to get the decision. The first round was about even, and in the second frame, the Murray youth kept the Mississippi State champ continually on the move with sharp left jabs, and hooks. Davis however had the Murray youth on the verge of a last round kayo.

Joe "Dynamite" Paschall, Murray 145 pounder, piled up a big point advantage in all three rounds to whip decisively Bob Ford, the Maroon's welterweight. In the second round, Paschall sent the State youth to the canvas with a resounding thud on a sharp right to the body. Ford remained for the count of nine, but was holding on at the end of the round.

"Pee Wee" Nanney, Murray's kayo champ, scored another knock-out in the second round over Billy Swilley after he had the State youth wallowing on the canvas in the first round. Nanney did not even break into a sweat as he carried the fight to the Maroon and piled up a big advantage before his kayo.

Hutt Impresses

Leo Hutt and Roger Truesdale, State 155 pounder, fought a brilliant 3-round exhibition go. Both boys mixed it plenty and more leather was probably thrown in this fight than any other.

Collins Warner, State's clever 165-pounder, achieved a draw with Bob Fiser, the Kentuckians representative in this weight, after Fiser had finished strong. It was a nip-and-tuck go from start to finish, and both boys were willing though ineffective punchers.

In a heavyweight exhibition, Sam Totaro, Murray freshman, slammed Charles Saunders, Maroon heavy, all over the ring in a non-decision go.

Miss Smith Says Helen Hayes Is Tops

"Helen Hayes is tops," is the opinion of Miss Bradford Smith, Murray College freshman, Ocean Grove, N. J. Miss Smith is a prominent member of Sock and Buskin and has had an outstanding role in the production of "The Women."

Previous to her college experience, Miss Smith spent three seasons with the Monmouth Players, a stock company in Deal, N. J. While appearing in a high school senior play, Miss Smith was spotted by one of the members of the company and was asked to try out for membership with the players. Three of the plays in which she appeared were "Lady of Letters," "The Roundabout," and "Black-Beard."

Last season Miss Smith joined "The Strollers," a professional cooperative organization, at the suggestion of Herbert Waldire, who has played opposite Charles Laughton in London. While with the "Strollers," Miss Smith played the lead in "The Cat and the Canary," and appeared in Noel Coward's "French Oak," "The Last Proposal," and "Land's End."

She gained much experience with the mechanical division of the theatre lights, scenery and carpentry.

Inglis Article Is Published in Magazine

Prof. Franklin P. Inglis, associate music professor at Murray State, had an article featured in the current issue of the American Music Lover on general music appreciation.

Inglis reasoned, in the article, that American music was becoming a steadfast favorite more and more, as the trend is toward creating an American style.

He is instructor in wind instruments, appreciation instructor, and at present is handling the skits for "Campus Lights of 1940."

"It was a lot of fun," said Miss Smith, "and I should like to make the stage my life's work."

Reading, writing poetry, and keeping a scrapbook of the theatre and her own dramatic accomplishments are her favorite pastimes. She also likes to swim and play tennis.

Miss Smith was born in New York City and has spent most of her life there where she has seen many Broadway stage plays. Her favorite actor and actress are Leslie Howard and Helen Hayes.

She plans to work with the Berkshire Playhouse Company in Great Bearington, Mass., next summer.

DELTA WINS 39-33 FOR SECOND TIME OVER BLUEBLOODS

Mississippi Quint Comes Back in Second Half

SPEIGHTS IS STAR FOR VISITORS FEBRUARY 15

Delta State's SIAA leaders became the first quint to defeat Murray State's Thoroughbreds twice this season, as the Dickson-coached team turned on steam in the second half to pull out a 39-33 decision, after trailing throughout the first half of the contest, played in the Carr Health Building, Thursday night, February 15. The Mississippians took care of the Racers earlier in the season 39-28.

Led by "Spider" Speights, who counted 21 points, the Statesmen took command of the situation after the first minute of the second half, and increased their lead as the game shortened. Only a last-minute spurt led by Culp brought the "Breds within six points of the fast-travelling Mississippi team.

Delta boasts of the best SIAA record, with 13 wins and one loss in the conference. Before the holidays, the Statesmen dropped a close contest to Louisiana Normal.

The Racers grabbed an early lead, and at the end of the first period were on top 11-6. Going into a double pivot for the second quarter, the Bluebloods held a 19-15 half-time advantage. Shortly after the second half opened, the "Triangles" went into a lead which the Racers failed to overcome.

The ability of the Dickson team to hit long shots, and the way in which the Statesmen came back in the last half to rule both backboards kept them out in front.

Under his subject of "Pulmonary Tuberculosis" Dr. Fisher discussed the bacterial germ, its shape and size, how contacted, incubation period, location of attack, diagnosis by stethoscope, sputum observation, fluoroscope, and x-ray, methods and places of isolation of those stricken, cures by fresh air, light, rest, and lung collapsing. He said this section has extremely poor facilities for treatment.

Jessup Outlines TVA Program in Chapel Talk

Gives Illustrated Lecture At Murray

George Jessup, project manager of the Kentucky Dam now being built by the Tennessee Valley Authority, addressed the faculty and students at the regular session of chapel Wednesday morning, February 7, on the reasons for the series of dams being built on the Tennessee River.

"The greatest problem of the Tennessee Valley Authority is the control of the water as it falls on the land and finds its way into the rivers," Mr. Jessup said.

The speaker supplemented his talk with lantern slides showing some of the dams already finished and some examples of eroded land in the valley. TVA, he said, is attempting to halt erosion and the waste of natural resources. Mr. Jessup stressed two important facts, the care of the body and the care of the soil.

The purposes of the TVA, according to Mr. Jessup, include flood-control, navigation, soil conservation, and incidental electric power.

Mr. Jessup also explained the TVA construction program including the amount of work done on the various dams—Norris, Wheeler, Wilson, Chickamauga, Hale's Bar, Pickwick, Guntersville, Hiwassee, Kentucky, and Coulter Shoals (proposed). The construction program, he said, would be completed in 1945 when the Kentucky Dam has been finished.

Although flood control, navigation, and soil improvement are the main objectives of the TVA, the government also installs power facilities so that every resident, particularly the farmer, may have the advantages of cheap electrical energy, the speaker explained.

Drawing the parallel that the Starting the second quarter, the NYA team took a lead and was never headed, leading 26-14 at half time and 38-19 as the third quarter closed.

The New Jersey team is composed of players from western New Jersey, and most of them have played with eastern colleges and universities.

Musicians Pledged To Phi Mu Alpha

The ceremony was followed by a regular chapter meeting in which plans and committees were definitely selected for "Campus Lights of 1940".

TVA attempts to repair and conserve the resources of the soil. Mr. Jessup urged that "you youngsters should likewise take care of your physical health". He said the human body was the "greatest mechanism in the world" and it should be preserved. In this connection, he called attention to the fact that the TVA was providing lakes for fishing, swimming, and all forms of healthful recreation. He also praised Murray State College for the progress it is making in the field of health education.

AROUND THE TRACK WITH EDDIE MACK

At last, Murray has re-established baseball as a varsity sport, and this action has caused more favorable comment than any other action in sports, except possibly a Murray-Western battle. Baseball was discarded in 1932, because of financial reasons, but at that time baseball appeared to be on the wane in general, softball becoming popular.

But after the softball flurry had gradually died a natural death, baseball as a collegiate sport began to make a remarkable comeback. Now with the SIAA approving professional baseball players taking part in other collegiate activities, demand for baseball players has increased. With the Kitty League going strong, baseball in West Kentucky and the surrounding territory is really "back in style." With the addition of baseball, Murray now is one of the nation's few small colleges that can boast of SEVEN VARSITY SPORTS... Football, basketball, baseball, track, tennis, boxing, and swimming.

Smatterings from A Glorious Day: Jimmy Woodall, our prognosticating bridge-playing copy-reader, very politely informed Western's Bob Pay, who is also president of the KIPA, that he would see him (Pay) after Murray's varsity won... All well, but Pay wanted to see Jim anyway... But when Jim showed up Saturday night... No Pay... Western paid 36-30...

This season is one of the few years that Murray's Frosh, game after game, have shown that they are not in shape. Blame it on anything you choose from colds to bad legs, but if the Yearlings were ever in shape to drive one full ball game, the score might be one of Jess Hahn's "picked at random from a telephone directory."

All kidding aside, the Yearlings really have material and good varsity timber should develop from those saplings. (No offense intended).

The officiating of Acree Austin and Jimmy DeWeese was probably the best this corner has seen all season. There was little laxity and all clarity. Those who thought the game might be an "official's nightmare" after Chinn Johnson cancelled his date to referee because of illness, but it was efficiently and effectively handled... Both these officials have been prominently mentioned for the SIAA tourney, and as Senator Barkley says: "You could go a lot further and do worse, and they probably will."

Chalk one up for Coach Cutchin. Everyone has been wondering just when Washer and Salmon would get a chance together. In the overtime periods over at Cape, the Racers restored to the opposition-dreaded double pivot, and it pulled a tight ball game out of the fire. Just as a test, the same thing was tried against Morehead, and the score quickly increased for Murray. Western said Washer was no good. When he entered the game in the second half Saturday night, and Jumpin' Jack Bob remained in, well Westerners figured it was a desperate effort to relieve pressure, but it was pre-meditated. Towery is a very good man, but he can't cover two sixfooters at once. Downing is a good guard, but both Washer and Salmon are a little large for him. Strategy? Yes. Good basketball? Yes. What steps will Western take to stop it in tournaments? Your guess is as good as ours.
