THE LISTENING POST

Plans that have been contemplated thus far in the new building program of the local school system call for an athletic field to be constructed on the school campus. Under these plans the new building will face into the present Carr Park, and the rear of the building will be about flush with the present Science Hall. The removal of the old Carr Institute building will provide sufficient acreage for the athletic field to be built alongside Pearl Street, with stands on either side of the playing field and with enough room left to provide a playing area for the smaller children of the school. It is hoped that construction of the athletic field can be included in the WPA project, although this remains to be decided upon. What type of construction can be used for the stadium also remains to be seen, although it is hoped that permanent stands can be built, either of wood or concrete.

If the stadium can be built it will be the realization of a dream of many years. For years school officials have been trying to find a way of providing a stadium for football and track competition, and through all these years it seemed possible only to purchase land away from the school and erect the stadium there. This was not the best arrangement, and a suitable site was always difficult to secure. Under the plan as now contemplated, all school activities will be based on the campus, and this is as it should be. This will make it possible to use the showers and lockers of the gymnasium by football players, and this will mean a great improvement. In past years, with the game played at Fairfield, the team usually spent the halftime intermission lying on the ground at one end of the field, and there was little opportunity for real rest. A football team needs the conveniences of a locker room, and this applies not only to the home team, but also to the visiting players. A stadium right on the campus, adjacent to the gymnasium, will be the greatest forward step for athletics at Fulton High School ever made.

An opponent of the building program talked to me the other day and expressed great dissatisfaction over the matter. "The schools have gone crazy over games," he exploded. "They are spending a lot of money on athletics that could be well used for other purposes."

Well, in a sense, the man is right. We are having a lot of emphasis on athletics in high schools these days. However, this is merely one of the things which have come in during the past few decades, and while there are many who do not care for this athletic program, I am convinced that there are far more who favor it. When a basketball game attracts a crowd of three or four hundred persons, when possibly one hundred persons will drive from 25 to 75 miles at night to see the team in action, one must conclude that there is much public interest in such contests. As a matter of fact, these contests largely pay their way, and while some capital expenditures are necessary from time to time, it seems certain that a majority of people favor such things. Also, if a school is to continue in athletics, steps should be taken to see that the boys who compete are adequately cared for.

Plans for a stadium on the school campus mark a long forward step for athletics at Fulton High. I hope that these plans may be fully realized, for I have known for a long time that such an arrangement was urgently needed.

British Ships May Be Fixed In U. S. Ports

"Mosquito" Vessels Probably Will Be Transferred Soon

Washington, —Secretary Knox reported today that the Navy was considering helping Great Britain fight the battle of the Atlantic by repairing in American Navy yards some of the ships damaged by Nazi U-boats and bombers.

The first naval aid to Britain, however, probably will be the transfer of a number of "mosquito" craft, such as motor torpedo boats, submarine chasers and converted yachts, Knox said.

"Pretty fast production" is in immediate prospect, he added, for torpedo boats and other small vessels designed to combat undersea and surface marauders at close quarters.

Knox told a press conference that in the last three or four days Britain has asked the use of Navy yards to repair damaged vessels, as permitted under the lend-lease act. Though reporting that "some facilities were available immediately for the purpose, despite the expanding Navy's own demands, Knox said no action had yet been taken on the request.

Warships On Business? These indications of the form of aid to Britain were coupled with a hint that the voyage of four American cruisers and nine destroyers to the South Pacific involved more than the mere training which the Navy has said was the purpose.

The plain spoken secretary said smilingly that the United States was "very closely in touch with Australia, and greatly in sympathy with her aspirations."

However, the detachments whose arrival this week at Sydney and Auckland was linked in speculation with Far Eastern tension will return shortly to the Pacific fleet's Honolulu base, Knox added.

1,582 Rifles Arrive For Use Of State Militia

Frankfort, Ky. —Three trucks loaded down with 1,582 Army rifles, bayonets, slings, scabbards and ammunition for use by Kentucky's new active militia arrived today from the Fifth Corps Army headquarters at Columbus, Ohio.

Maj. Leland Barnes, Assistant State Highway Patrol director and State Property Officer for the new Guard, said the rifles were loaned by the Federal Government and would remain its property. He said Kentucky was the first State in the Fifth Corps area to arm its new Guard.

Governor Johnson transferred $137 from his emergency fund to the State military department for purchase of 4,000 rounds of rifle ammunition for the militia.

The rifles and complementary equipment are to be distributed soon to units throughout the State.

Reeves Defends Kentucky's Tax System—Industries Not Kept Away

Frankfort, Ky. —State Revenue Commissioner H. Clyde Reeves defended the State's tax system today against a charge that it was causing Kentucky to "lose" national defense industries.

Replying to a letter from H. W. Jenisch, executive director of the Covington-Kenton County Industrial Association, Reeves said the latest comparisons available showed Kentucky collected $34.58 in taxes per capita in 1938, compared with $33.59 for Ohio.

He said further that Kentucky's per capita debt in 1937, the latest year in which comparisons were available, was 36 cents, compared with Ohio's 63, but observed that "the population of Kentucky is

"Gone With The Wind" Returns At Popular Prices

Gone With The Wind opens today at the Malco Fulton at popular prices, with performances Thursday and Friday at 10 a. m. 2:30 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. Saturday the show will be continuous from 12 to 12, with shows at 12, 4 and 8 o'clock.

Every motion picture critic has a vision of some day encountering a screen epic which is a picture so perfect that it beggars all superlatives, so outstanding that it defies description. Such a picture is "Gone With The Wind," currently showing at the Malco Theatre for a limited engagement. The current showing presents the picture in its complete, full-length version—nothing cut but the price.

Most films have highlights on which to concentrate. "Gone with the Wind" has so many that a reviewer is mentally handicuffed. It is one supreme composite highlight—the entire picture, from the impressive presentation of the title, to the last pictorially inspiring fade-out. It is truly the greatest picture ever made and, since it follows so faithfully Margaret Mitchell's story of the Old South that one is left wondering how it was ever achieved, it must follow that Miss Mitchell's story must be the Great American Novel.

Former Fulton Ball Players Doing Fine

Mark Quackenbush, outfielder for the Fulton Tigers last season, is doing well with the Beaumont, Tex. club where he is in spring training at present. A clipping from a Beaumont paper stated, "The fans got quite a kick out of the performance of Mark Quackenbush in left when he robbed Wood of an extra base hit, also the pitching of 'Rube' Gentry." In this game Quackenbush got two for four, three put outs and one assist.

Gentry also played with the local club last year and Quackenbush writes, "Gentry is doing fine and looks good. I think he is the toughest pitcher I have faced in camp."

Novice Wins Congress Job In Oklahoma

Oklahoma City. —Victor Wickersham—a political tyro whose hand-shaking campaign resembled perpetual motion—apparently has grabbed a Congress job from under the noses of veterans.

Wickersham, a Mangum, Okla. insurance salesman, won the Democratic nomination yesterday, in a special election for the late Representative Sam Massingale's Seventh District job.

Among the casualties were Congressman-At-Large Will Rogers—who is glad he didn't resign his present post to run—and Jim V. McClintic, for twenty years the district's representative until Massingale beat him in 1934. Wickersham finished 500 votes ahead of his nearest rival, McClintic, Rogers was a weak eighth.

much smaller than Ohio." Answering particularly Jenisch's criticism of Kentucky's income tax, the revenue commissioner said that figures produced by several industrial tax surveys "tend to discredit the assumption that income taxes in general, or in the Southern States had impeded manufacturing development."

"Among Southern States," he added, "it is interesting to note that North Carolina leads in manufacturing although its income tax is one of the highest in the country, the maximum rates being - per cent on personal and 6 per cent on corporate incomes as compared to 5 per cent and 4 per cent, respectively, in Kentucky."

United States Needs To Borrow Ten Billion Dollars Shortly

New York. —With mid-March income tax returns in and defense expenditures soaring, the United States Treasury is expected in financial circles to open the throttle for speed in the raising of at least $10,000,000,000 in the open-market over the next year and half.

The immediately scheduled $10,000,000,000 flotation, including $500,000,000 additional cash to supplement receipts from income taxes to some bankers are only one of the early milestones in perhaps the greatest borrowing program in Government history.

Grown accustomed to large-scale Treasury operations in the past decade, the financial district eyes the immense sum called for under the $30,000,000,000 defense spending budgets with a rather complacent attitude.

Nobody familiar with workings of the Nation's money machinery questions the ability of the Treasury to raise the money implied in the defense program.

First of all, banking authorities note, the commercial banking system holds mostly intact the huge supply of surplus credit piled up during the inflow of gold and capital in recent years.

This reservoir bankers call "excess reserves," the basis for expansion of loans and investments, including United States Government securities.

However, many in the downtown fiscal citadels advocate a shift of Treasury financing away from the credit reservoirs toward direct public savings as a means of siphoning purchasing power out of consumer goods markets into the hands of Uncle Sam for arms spending.

The aim of such a shift, it was explained, would be primarily to provide a check on demand for goods which would tend to drive up prices.

Highway Signs Will Be Changed

The Leader is in receipt of the following letter from T. H. Cutler, State Highway Engineer, Frankfort.

"My attention has been called to your 'Listening Post' item of recent date regarding the population signs leading into Fulton.

"I quite agree with you that these signs should show the total population of both South Fulton, Tenn., and Fulton, Ky. We have the last census of Kentucky, but do not have the population of South Fulton, and will ask you to furnish us with this information, and we shall be glad to re-paint the old signs and have them read the total population of both South Fulton and Fulton."

SCOUT NEWS

The meeting of Troop 43 of the Boy Scouts of America was held last night at the scout cabin on Vine street. There were three boys absent. They were Edward Crutchfield, Jack Adams and Sam Trevathan. Thirty were present. Twenty-three boys attended church and the total miles hiked were 118.

At the vote of the Scouts the meeting night has been changed to Friday nights instead of Wednesday nights, with this change to start on Friday, March 28. The change was made so that the Scouts will be in better condition to attend to their scholastic duties.

Sunday afternoon at one o'clock the Scouts are to meet at the Methodist church and will take a hike under the leadership of Paul Gholson and Robert Whitesel. Scout Barnes passed the following tests on his second class tests: knife and hatchet, safety, and compass. He passed them under Billy Hagan.

There were two games of Steel the Bacon and the Wolf and Eagle patrols were winners. At the next meeting the Wolf Patrol and the Eagle Patrol will play again to decide the championship.

The Troop hopes for the speedy recovery of Edward Crutchfield, who has been absent for several meetings. He is recovering from a recent appendectomy.

After the games, the meeting was dismissed with the Scoutmaster's benediction.

Negro To Be Brought Here For Trial

Jesse Meek, colored, was arrested in Cairo, Ill., Tuesday night and charged with robbing the Franklin Dry Goods Co., and the Leader store of this city. Meek denied the charges and refused to return here to stand trial with Chief of Police Danton and Officer Kendall who went after him last night. The local officers will get requisition papers to bring him back to Kentucky to be tried on a grand larceny charge.

Meek had in his possession when arrested a suit of clothes, which Mr. Franklin identified as having been stolen from his store. He also had two shirts, identified by Willie Homra, as taken from the Leader store.

Bill Passed On 337 To 55 Roll Call Vote

Senate Likely To Ok Measure By Next Tuesday

Washington, —By a vote of 337 to 55, the House approved the $7,000,000,000 appropriation for help to England tonight and sent it on to the Senate where the leadership has hopefully arranged for its passage by next Tuesday.

While the House was knocking down opposition amendments, leading Senate Democrats had drawn up plans for showing the measure through the Senate committee stage this week, and bringing it to the floor Monday.

So far as could be seen, opposition of the type which would delay action on the bill by extensive Senate speeches, had all but vanished. But, as always in the Senate, there was still a possibility of such speechmaking. And Senator Nye (R.-N. D.), and Senator Taft (R.-Ohio) each had several amendments to offer.

Sinews For Lend Bill

The appropriation bill would provide the financial sinews for the lend-lease law. It would make $7,000,000,000 available for the purchase of war equipment to be sent to England, Greece, China or other countries which may decide to resist attacks from Germany, Italy or Japan.

It would provide, among other items, $1,343,000,000 for big guns and their ammunition; $2,054,000,000 for that most indispensable modern weapon, the airplane, $362,000,000 for tanks and armored automobiles; $520,000,000 for ships and water craft in general; $752,000,000 for building factories to produce such equipment; and $200,000,000 for repairing and equipping the vessels of belligerents in American ports.

After the long battle over the lend-lease bill itself, all the arguments were an old story when the appropriations bill came to the House. In addition, the administration was in easy command of the situation.

British Orders In United States Now Set At Almost Three Billion

Washington, —Congress received this statistical summary of Great Britain's wartime financiers, such as sale of British holdings of United States securities, acquisition of gold and proceeds of British exports to this country.

The British Government does not have funds adequate to meet additional commitments.

None of the proposed $7,000,000,000 British aid appropriation, however, is to be used to pay for orders placed by Britain in this country prior to the lend-lease bill.

On January 1, 1941, British holdings included $616,000,000 of marketable securities and $20,000,000 of less readily market

LET AIR TRANSPORT SPEAK UP

Another major tragedy on a scheduled air transport line, involving the death of seven persons and serious injury to a number of others, again focuses attention on a pending Senate resolution for investigation of the Government's Civil Aeronautics setup.

More than usual national interest is centered in this latest tragedy because one of the victims is a member of the Congress, and another, Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, the involved line's president, is one of America's most distinguished aviators. Captain Rickenbacker, a passenger on the wrecked plane, was seriously hurt.

The plane was about to land at Atlanta at a time when adverse weather conditions compelled instrument flying. Just what caused the tragedy is not known, and, as is so often the case, may never be known. The crew was killed.

Whether or not there is any relation between the tragedy and the change which has occurred in the governmental aeronautical setup is something no one is qualified to say at the moment. However, Senator McCarran, father of the original CAA Act, does go so far as to say this:

"Air crashes will continue until Congress takes the CAA back out of politics and restores it to its original independent status. This new crash again illustrates the need for nonpolitical control of aviation."

It is a fact that for 17 months prior to the elimination of CAA as an independent authority and its transfer to the Department of Commerce there had not been a single fatal crash on the scheduled air transport line of the United States. Since the transfer there have been five.

One of the most serious objections to the transfer was the fact that it resulted in elimination of the Air Safety Board. Those who voiced greatest opposition to the change were the pilots of the air lines, and they are the men, we believe, most qualified to speak.

The position of the air lines is fully appreciated. Mail contracts are much of their lifeblood. Political pressure could make things tough for them, but if it can be proved, as Senator McCarran charges, that the Civil Aeronautics Authority is politically controlled, there will be the weight of outraged public opinion to help set matters straight.

This is a matter involving human lives, and the future of air passenger traffic and one with which the Congress cannot afford dilly-dallying delay in correcting.

McCALLS CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. (Ab) McCall celebrated their golden wedding anniversary by open house all day at their home in Dukedom, Tuesday, March 18th.

Refreshments were served buffet style to the guests from tables attractively decorated with jonquills and a tiered wedding cake adorned with cupid figures.

A poem written by Mrs. Pearl Binkley in honor of Mr. and Mrs. McCall and their 50th wedding anniversary was read in the afternoon to the guests by Mrs. Sue Ellen Pritchett of Dresden, Tenn.

In addition to the 150 friends and relatives who called during the day, congratulatory telegrams, cards, gifts and flowers from many states made this day a festive occasion for this young old couple. Mrs. McCall is 72 years old and Mr. McCall is 74.

With the exception of one year spent in California, they have lived all their life in the Dukedom community.

GARDEN DEPARTMENT WILL MEET TOMORROW

The retiring president, Mrs. Tuttle Lockwood of Paducah, presided over the meeting.

The program of the day was opened with the welcome by the principal of Lynn Grove High school, Prof. Euren Jeffrey, and response was given by Mrs. L. D. Chips of Marion, Kentucky. Good reports were given, showing favorable progress throughout the district. Mrs. J. N. Bailey urged that each Association elect their delegates now for the state P-T. A. conference which will be held in Paducah on April 29-30 and May 1. An invitation for the fall conference was given by Trigg County High school at Cadiz, Ky., and this invitation was accepted. ## COTTON GROWERS CAN EARN

GARDEN BENEFIT PAYMENT

Fulton County cotton growers who are participating in the supplementary acreage reduction program and earning surplus cotton stamps this year can also earn an additional $3.00 payment for increasing home gardens and other foods for home consumption. H. M. Pewitt, Chairman of the County Agricultural Conservation Association, announces.

Approximately 900 cotton growers in Fulton County will be eligible to earn these payments if they voluntarily reduce their cotton acreage in exchange for cotton stamps, Mr. Pewitt states.

The $3,000,000 which is being made available in the South for stimulation of growing and storing foods is in addition to the cotton stamps which each farmer can earn by reducing his cotton acreage below his 1941 allotment or his 1940 measured acreage, whichever is smaller. The cotton stamps can be used to purchase cotton goods and the added food will mean much toward reducing food bills this year.

The home gardens used to earn this additional $3.00 payment must be in addition to those normally grown on the farm.

"The supplementary cotton acreage reduction program is being undertaken primarily because many export markets for cotton have been shut off by the war and because of the need for increased food production in the South, and it will be administered by the AAA with the Surplus Administration furnishing and redeeming the cotton stamps," Mr. Pewitt explains.

Each farm operator, sharecropper, or tenant can earn up to $25 on a farm for reducing his cotton acreage under the supplementary program, while farm operators with two or more tenants can earn up to $50 in cotton stamps. The stamp payments will be divided in the same way that the agricultural conservation payment on cotton is divided.

Farmers will receive stamps at the rate of 10 cents a pound times the farm's normal yield on the acreage reduction. If his yield is, for instance, 250 pounds per acre, he can earn $25 in stamps by reducing his acreage by 1 acre.

Each farm operator on behalf of all interested producers on the farm will advise the AAA before June 15 of his intention to participate in the new program. As soon as possible after his cotton acreage is checked and approved, he will receive the cotton stamps with which he can purchase cotton clothing and cotton goods.

Mr. Pewitt pointed out that the new voluntary program does not change, in any way, the basic conservation and parity provisions of the present AAA program. Farmers can earn all other payments for soil building practice and for participating in the acreage adjustment provisions of the program. The new program is a supplement or addition to the existing program.

FULGHAM NEWS

By Miss Docie Jones

Rah, Rah, Rah, Rah, Rah! Central! Central!

Congratulations to Coach Phillips and his team—Bimford, Weatherford, Creed, Montgomery and Morris, for putting Clinton and Hickman County on the athletic map in Lexington this week. From all accounts you played a great game at Murray Saturday night. May you enter the state tournament with the same spirit and speed and surpass your opponents with those all-important tallies.

Former Pastor
Rev. J. C. Gilbert of Dyer, Tenn., has accepted an invitation to preach at Salem the fifth Sunday of this month.

Honored in Conference
The East Clinton charge, composed of Friendship, Mt. Vernon, Salem and Mt. Pleasant, and pastored by the Rev. H. F. Clayton, takes first honors among the 200 charges in the entire Memphis Conference, by paying out in full its quota on benevolences. The announcement was made by District Superintendent F. B. Jones of Paducah at the Second Quarterly meeting which was held at Mt. Pleasant last Wednesday, March 12. Rev. Clayton was not only first but so far the only pastor who has been given a "receipt in full" from the conference treasurer, H. J. Wright, of Mayfield. Three years ago on Easter Sunday (in April) we attained the same honor, but later in the year. At that time Rev. J. C. Gilbert was the pastor.

Among the visitors attending the meeting last Wednesday were Mrs. F. B. Jones of Paducah, who accompanied her husband. Splendid reports were made and a bountiful dinner was served to those present and the following were remembered with well-filled boxes: P. R. Humphreys, Mrs. J. H. Vanpool, Mrs. Willie Elliott, Mrs. A. B. Floyd, J. B. Inman, Mrs. Belle Vanpool, Mrs. Emma Bone and Mrs. Pete Howell.

Our District Conference will be held at Lone Oak June 7.

Successful Institute
Pleasant Valley reported a very successful Bible Institute last week with fine interest, good crowds and some professions. The meeting began Thursday night and closed Saturday night with six sermons daily, Friday and Saturday, including a generous dinner.

Ministers participating were Rev. Huey Burgess of Berkeley, Rev. Talmage McGary of Milburn, Rev. Lee Stephens of Columbus, Rev. Al Morgan of Detroit, Rev. Thurman Thorpe and Rev. James Thorpe of Cunningham, Rev. Dave Davis of Arlington, Rev. S. L. Price of Clinton, Rev. H. M. Southard of Wingo, Rev. Lyold Novel of Water Valley, Rev. Prince, Rev. Sweet Davis of Arlington and Rev. Connie Garland, local preacher.

Fulgham Homemakers
Mrs. Will Pharis entertained the Fulgham Homemakers' Club, Friday, March 14, with twenty members and three visitors attending. The members were Mrs. E. E. Armbruster, president; Mrs. Clint Hopkins, vice-president; Mrs. Joe Grubbs, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Len Barclay and Mrs. Edward Kimbell, major project leaders; Mesdames W. A. Seay, H. D. Henderson, Emerson Henderson, W. B. Watts, Cap Watts, Tom Montgomery, W. S. Jackson, H. V. Bugg, J. E. Foster, Renick Armbruster, Vernon Humphreys, John Inman and Mrs. Pharis, Misses Ella Bell Spicer and Docie Jones. The visitors were Mrs. Claude Locke, Mrs. Charles Hunt and Mrs. Morris Jones of Clinton, and the home agent, Miss Jessie Wilson.

Miss Eyle Jackson will entertain this club next month at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Howell are announcing the arrival of a seven pound daughter, Sanra Lynn, born March 17, at the Mayfield hospital.

Pleasant and keeps in touch with Hickman Countians through the home paper. He has been in Cairo for twenty-four years.

Mrs. Ruby Jackson has gone to Tupelo, Miss., for an extended visit with her parents.

Mrs. Lois Clark carried her baby son to a hospital in St. Louis last week for treatment. While there she visited Mr. and Mrs. Luther Clark.

This and That

A ten-day sore throat will probably cancel a planned trip to Detroit for this correspondent next week, or at least postpone it for a while. In the meantime, I'll be sorry for myself. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gore of Detroit celebrated their 23rd wedding anniversary March 17. Monday was a big day for Billy Parrott, Belva McNeely, Douglas Henderson and Evelyn Humphreys when they won in their debating contest over Murray High at Murray. We have had good reports from Albert Seay, sophomore in the University of Kentucky, whose six subjects are graded with 5 A's and one B. Six years ago Mrs. W. C. Summers fell and broke her leg. Salem meeting has been scheduled to begin the second Sunday in July and Mt. Pleasant is planned for the Second Sunday in August. In Sunday School last Sunday, Bethel reported 19, Mt. Moriah had 30, Salem had 41, Jackson's Chapel had 59 and Mt. Pleasant 71. Fulgham's champion speller in Junior High is Peggy Watt, 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cap Watts. A tongue-slip in spelling New York "N-E-Y" in the county contest Monday night, cost her a trip to Louisville. It was spelled correctly by the winning Oakton student. The Fulgham grades are closing here today, March 19.
