Fulton In Holiday Attire

Fulton has on its holiday attire and never presented a more lovely appearance than today with its streets lined with miniature Christmas trees and vari-colored lights.

We may add too, that the window displays of the leading business firms never presented a more lovely appearance. Everyone has exerted unusual, artistic taste in decorating their windows, reflecting the holiday spirit prevailing within. The merchandise displayed is suggestive that Santa Claus will have no trouble in making gift selections. The happy throngs that fill the stores and parade streets laden with bundles, alert in their efforts to gladden the hearts of loved ones on Christmas day, will not fail in their efforts.

Few towns on the great Illinois Central System will receive more attention from travelers, because of its brilliant decorations, than Fulton. Passenger trains run through the heart of the business section of town, affording a close-up view of everything in sight.

It is indeed generous for the Kentucky Utilities Company to install the hundreds of lights and furnish the lighting without cost, the business firms paying only for the material used. The installation was a big job, but when Manager Hardesty and his crew of efficient assistants set their heads to do a thing, it is a brilliant success. Old Santa Claus should wear a big smile of satisfaction on parading Fulton's downtown streets.

Placing small evergreen trees along the edge of the walks throughout the business section of the city was a happy thought sponsored by the Garden Department of the Woman's Club.

PEACE ON EARTH AND GOOD WILL

In the fevered life of a mighty empire, old already and proud, scornful of lesser peoples, arrogant in power and assured in wealth, the first Christmas message was unheard, and its import to the world could have found few believers. Rome ruled with a strong hand. Her civilization followed the standards of war. Power was for the strong and peace endured only in the shadow of fear and battle.

Yet, in the quiet hills of Judea, a word of hope and prophecy was spoken, ending an old era and giving birth to a new. "Peace on earth, good will to men." A simple message, now written imperishably into the records of the race; a strange message to a world whose ear had been tuned for ages to the song of war.

More wonderful than all is its enduring triumph over the jealousy of time, the hatred of its enemies and the doubt of its friends. Kingdoms and empires pass and the pride of men and nations is humbled, yet this promise of peace on earth endures and its hope is perennially proclaimed. The message lives on in the heart of the world. Long centuries have paid it increasing tribute, and it gathers in wide observance and affections of mankind. For the message speaks to that which endures though nations rise and fall, to the heart of the world, which through the ages has sought peace and followed a star of hope and a promise of deliverance.

The things we honor most and on which we most rely for hopeful progress are the fruits of long effort to translate this message into daily life. The world strives increasingly to outlaw the injustice of war. The law declares the dominion of right and preserves the privilege of peace to those who seek it.

Increasingly we serve the uses of peace and determine that they shall continue by their own right rather than by grace of arbitrary power. Wars must recur, and strife and quarrel will scar the record again and again; but this determination to peace on earth continues to endure.

The dominion of peace is not to be established by law nor insured by its proclamation. Its origin is good will—good will among men, among nations, among creeds and sects. Yet there is no good will save that of a man to his brother, whoever and wherever he may be. Greater knowledge and increased understanding have made of the brotherhood of man no mere phrase, but a fact of faith and practice with plain people, honest people, right-thinking people throughout the world. This is the sign to which rulers and lawmakers must lend an ear; this is the new promise of peace.

Out of the stress of daily life we turn aside to Christmas day. It is a day still touched with radiance from afar, and in its light we see with new perspective the things that matter most. We learn anew to cherish happiness and safeguard faith. We learn again that wars and quarrels are shamed by the message of good will. We turn again with hope to the promise brought by Christmas of the final victory of peace.

The day has become a festival of children, kept in memory of a child, and in the unmeasured happiness and simple faith of children our own trust is renewed. Through young eyes we look back to our own confident childhood. Old and faithful pleasures attend on the day—pleasures of friends and family, of greetings and gifts and good will. In its light we bridge the great gulf of years and the Christmas song is heard again; by its alchemy the brotherhood of man is made real and barriers of nation and creed are for a space dissolved; by its universal observance the heart of mankind is unlocked.

"Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace, good will to men." Once again comes the promise of joy to the world and once more the message to sustain our hope for a peace that endures. For this Christmas every home should be a shrine of peace and every hearth a haven of human happiness.

LEGION'S BAND GETS EQUIPPED

The drums and bugles for the Marshall Alexander Post No. 72, American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps, arrived Friday and were assigned to the members.

The instruments were made by the Leedy Manufacturing Co., and are the best that could be procured. The bugles are the "American Legion Model" and are 28 inches long. The drums are finished with Cardinal red shell and natural wood finish hoops, and are certainly beautiful to look upon.

The members of the corps expect to begin real practice immediately after the Christmas holidays and the winter months before them expect to make real progress between now and spring.

"Make It A Majestic Radio Christmas"

"This Christmas can be a happy, joyous one without the usual sting of extravagance," says Mr. Graham, of the Graham Furniture Company, Fulton's largest furniture store.

"Make it a Majestic Radio Christmas," says Warren Graham. "The wealth of tone and quality of the Majestic Radio makes it an outstanding gift for the holidays. Every home should have its music and its gaiety for the Yuletide, therefore, we advise that the Majestic Radio, the Mighty Monarch of the air, is the ideal gift for Christmas. It is the real gift for the home. For 365 days in the year you will enjoy the world's best artists. It brings all the latest news, sports and musical scores. Your favorite stars can be brought to you without leaving the comforts of your home. Draw up an easy chair, flick the switch and the performance begins. The greatest source of entertainment the world has ever conceived—a herald of good cheer.

Special easy terms make it possible for every home to have a radio, the ideal gift for all the family."

LAWSON ROPER HEAD OF THE LIONS CLUB

The Lions' Club met Friday in their final meeting of the year. At this meeting an election of officers for next year was held which resulted as follows:

President—Lawson Roper.
First Vice-President—Dudley Smith.
2nd Vice-President—Warren Graham.

3rd Vice-President—Claude Freeman.
Secretary—F. H. Riddle.
Treasurer—Glenn Lane.

The Lions Club has enjoyed a most successful year under the leadership of President Louis Weeks and is in fine shape with prospects of a busy year under the leadership of Lawson Roper, who is known as a fellow who gets things done.

FULTON COUNTY TO HAVE ATERNAL AND CHILD HEALTH WORK

Hugh E. Prather, Health Officer for Fulton County, reports that the State Board of Health called him to Louisville, Dember 16, to advise him in recognition of the fine work done in Fulton county and the splendid cooperation of the Fiscal Court, the pleicians of the county, the school and city officials and the people of the county, the St Board through the Bureau of Maternal and Child Health, and with the cooperation of the United States Public Health Service, has offered to Fulton County Health Department a cooperative service Maternal and Child Health conservation.

A new Maternal and Child Health Unit, which comes from Bureau of Maternal and Child Health, will consist of a physician and nurse especially trained in health of mothers and children. Health centers for mothers as well as infants and children will be a part of the program. This educational program will begin with prenatal care. It will also include promotion of the Blue Ribbon Campaign in the schools, for the school children are potential parents. This plan of work will be used as a demonstration center for health officers and nurses of Kentucky counties of Louisville. It therefore involves the cooperation of all the people in Fulton County.

Florence Hauswald will be nurse in the Unit. Dr. J. S. Veech, Director of Bureau of Maternal and Child Health, will be in Fulton County 13, to consummate the plan.

KENTUCKY UTILITIES SPONSORS NOVEL CONTEST

Realizing the opportunity afforded by Outdoor Christmas Lighting Contest in creating to a greater extent the spirit of Christmas, we have decided this year to conduct such a contest in all our properties, the following rules applying:

1. Contest begins December 20 and ends January 1. All entries to said contest must be filed by opening date.
2. Judging date, Monday, December 30. In connection with same, three local judges consisting of prominent business men or women will be selected.
3. Prizes—Three state prizes will be given in which all successful contestants from K. U. towns will participate, same being as follows:
First Prize—$50.00 cash.
Second Prize—$30.00 cash.
Third Prize—$20.00 cash.
4. In addition to the above general prizes which will be awarded only to the first, second and third winners selected from K. U. properties as a whole, the following prize will apply to the successful contestant in each town:
An electrical appliance not to exceed a retail value of $12.50. Selection to be made by winner.
5. Displays must be judged by the following points in order named:
a. Beauty.
b. Simplicity.
c. Effectiveness.

We hope to have a great number of entries to compete for above three state prizes, which are being given by the Kentucky Utilities Company this year due to the fact that there will be no national prizes offered by the National Electric Light Association.

We are requested, however, to advise National Headquarters as to all details in connection with activity in our properties. Due to the fact that practically all prominent companies will cooperate in this matter, we want our Company to likewise show a number of entries in our final report to New York Headquarters of N. E. L. A.

Entry blanks may be secured at the local Kentucky Utilities office.

Popular Young Couple Married

Miss Martha Craig Rucker Married in Little Rock, Ark.

A pre-Yuletide wedding of much interest in Fulton and vicinity was that of Miss Martha Craig Rucker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee B. Rucker of this city, to Mr. James Edward Koon of Little Rock, Ark., which occurred December 14 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Brittain, an uncle and aunt of Miss Rucker's who resides in Little Rock.

Although the wedding came as quite a surprise to Miss Rucker's friends here, Mr. and Mrs. Rucker knew of the young couple and had approved and consented to the marriage. Dr. James Warren Workman, pastor of the Methodist church in Little Rock, using the impressive double Ring ceremony, officiated.

Miss Rucker was a graduate in the Fulton High School in the class of 1928. She is a young woman of striking personality and unusual talent, with a charm that has endeared her to a large circle of friends. Having completed her Freshman year in Lindenwood College, St. Charles, Mo., where she majored in voice and Dramatics, in September, she entered the Hannerger School of Voice and Dramatics in Little Rock where she will continue to study.

Mr. Koon was the valedictorian graduate of his class in Little Rock High School in 1923, and completed his course of study in the University of Arkansas and U. T. School of law. He is a member of the Sigma Nu fraternity and is auditor for the Magnolia Petroleum Co. with general offices in Little Rock.

After a few days motor trip through Texas and Oklahoma, they will reside in their new home, 725 West Fifteenth St., Little Rock, Ark.

FULTON AUTO TAGS ARRIVE

Hickman, Ky., Dec. 15. — The 1930 automobile license tags for Fulton county have arrived and have been placed on sale, according to an announcement by Miss Effie Bruer, Fulton County Clerk. Although the tags cannot be placed on cars for several days yet, the advance sale of licenses has been unusually heavy, Miss Bruer said.

ENTERTAINED AT TEA

Circle No. 2 of the First Baptist church, entertained with a tea Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. O. H. McFarlin, in honor of Mrs. Carl Hastings, who is leaving for Portland, Oregon, to make her home.

The home was beautifully decorated with the Christmas colors and during the afternoon a lovely musical program was rendered, consisting of piano solos, duets, readings and two clever contests. Late in the afternoon delicious refreshments were served to forty friends.

We are sorry, indeed, to give Mrs. Hastings up, but wish her health and happiness in her new home.

Attorneys for Alleged Murderer Denied Grand Jury Report

Mayfield, Ky., Dec. 14. — Judge J. E. Warren in Graves circuit court today denied the motion of attorneys for Lucian Turk of Bardwell that they be furnished with a copy of the grand jury evidence in the W. S. McCloy murder case.

After hearing submitted statements of facts, Judge Warren ruled against a mandamus writ, which Turk filed against Commonwealth's Attorney F. B. Martin, Mayfield, and Miss Emily Scott, Wickliffe, grand jury stenographer, asking that the court direct them to furnish Turk's attorneys with a copy of the grand jury proceedings in the case.

Turk is charged with wilful murder for the shooting of his father-in-law, W. S. McCloy, Bardwell merchant, in front of McCloy's store last August. His case is set for trial at Clinton in February, having been moved out of Carlisle county where the shooting occurred.

HEALTH REPORT

Dr. P. E. Blackerby, Director, Bureau County Health Work, State Board of Health, Louisville, Kentucky.

My dear Dr. Blackerby: I submit the following brief report of some of the activities of the Fulton County Health Department for the months of July, August and September, 1929.

During this period 569 visits have been made in the interest of public health. In addition to these, 431 visits were made in attendance of public welfare meetings, five to medical societies, 31 quarantine visits and 83 school visits.

206 school children were examined with special attention to weight, vision, teeth, throats, glands, hearts, herniae (in boys) joints, spine and skin.

143 persons were vaccinated against small pox and 1,201 doses of typhoid vaccine were given.

Six child health conferences were held in which 103 children were examined and their mothers instructed.

In venereal clinics (24 in all) held each week in both Fulton and Hickman, 142 specimens of blood, etc., were sent to laboratories for examination. 49 inspections of food establishments, 3 of canning factories and 3 of laundries were made. 53 nuisances were abated, 7 sewer connections required and 13 sanitary toilets installed.

Our health department jointly with the Lake County, Tennessee Health Department arranged a meeting July 8, at Reelfoot Lake which was attended by a large number of public health workers of Western Kentucky and Western Tennessee. Mr. J. A. LePrince, Senior Sanitary Engineer, U. S. Public Health Service, was a distinguished visitor at this meeting. As a result of Mr. LePrince's interest in malaria in Fulton county, Dr. C. P. Coole, of Greenwood, Mississippi, and his technician, came to Fulton county and instituted a malaria survey. 456 specimens blood were examined for malaria, 188 of which were from children in rural schools. 89 (47.13%) of these children being positive for malaria. Lectures upon malaria were delivered in the schools. Small malaria exhibits were arranged in Fulton and Hickman. The importance of screening emphasized and this being encouraged by our merchants, resulted in the screen of many homes.

28 specimens of water from schools and other sources were sent to the State Laboratories for examination.

We are especially indebted to many friends of the health work who have given us valuable assistance.

Trusting this report will receive your approval, I am very sincerely yours,

HUGH E. PRATHER,
Director Fulton County Health Department.

For a short time we will accept subscriptions for this paper and the Memphis Weekly Commercial Appeal—both papers one year for only $1.25.

FATHER OF 5 KILLS SELF

Hickman Man Shoots Self Between the Eyes

Hickman, Ky., Dec. 15. — Clarence Hicks, 35, for 15 years an employee of the Mengel Company here, and the father of five small children, walked out of his home on Magnolia Street here early this morning, and going down the bluff toward the river, shot himself between the eyes with his revolver.

When he did not come back for breakfast, Mrs. Hicks started a search and neighbors found the body, which was taken to a local undertaking parlor.

Hicks was in good health and had a good position, according to friends, who believe that family troubles had preyed on his mind.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday.

TIME LIMIT FOR FILING CLAIMS FOR WORLD WAR ADJUSTED COMPENSATION

The last chance to file application for the World War Adjusted Compensation Certificate—Uncle Sam's World War "Bonus"—expires at midnight, December 31, 1929.

The Adjusted Service Compensation is available for every ex-service man, or the dependents of deceased ex-service men, who served in the military forces of the United States between April 6, 1917, and November 11, 1918, for a period of over sixty days. More than a million World War Veterans have thus far failed to claim their "Bonus." This is money that legitimately belongs to World War veterans or their dependents. It is in the form of a twenty-year paid-up insurance policy, and is a nest egg for a rainy day or the nucleus of an estate for the protection of the dependents of World War veterans. Each certificate has a cash loan value, in proportion to its face value, two years after date of issuance, which makes it an available fund for emergency purposes. It has already proven to be invaluable in the thousands of cases in which veterans have died, leaving their dependents nothing else.

Where a veteran has disappeared, the claims of dependents for the World War Adjusted Compensation must be filed within seven years after the disappearance of a veteran if the seven years expires before January 3, 1930. The law provides in effect that where a veteran has been absent from his home and family continually and unexplained for the period of seven years, during which time no information of his existence has been received, he will be considered as dead for the purpose of the Adjusted Compensation Act, and, if he did not make application for the Adjusted Compensation, his dependents shall have the right to file application within the seven year period, but before January 3, 1930. Dependents of missing veterans should file application before December 31, 1929, without waiting until the expiration of the seven year period or until the veteran has been declared dead by the Veterans' Bureau.

Every Post official is urged to canvass the membership of his post in search of those veterans and the dependents of deceased or missing Veterans, who have failed to file application thus far. It is suggested that wide publicity be given this matter through the press and by word of mouth so that all veterans and their dependents may receive a final warning to file their claims without further delay.

Applications should be forwarded direct to the Adjusted Compensation Branch of the Adjutant General's Office, Bureau of Navigation, or U. S. Marine Corps, Washington, D. C. Additional application forms and more detailed information may be obtained for the asking by writing to this office or to any office of the United States Veterans' Bureau.

CHRISTMAS IS WHAT YOU MAKE IT

'Twas the night before Christmas, the air was crisp and cold, all over the city appeared that hustle and hurry up of the belated buyers, those who can't do their Christmas shopping early. They generally have to wait until noon the day before Christmas to secure a little advance money on their wages before they can think about the little ones. But all through the crowd is that joyous Christmas spirit, thoughts of how little Mary will open her eyes when she sees the wonderful doll purchased at a discount on account of its being handled so much both of its hands are broken, and other disfigurements that next week would have relegated it to the trash wagon, but now this proud father has spent a little of his meager pile to make Mary happy. Here goes a poor mother wrapping her thin shawl close about her shoulders, looking for bargains whereby she can make two or three dollars buy toys and presents for the six little ones that have crowded their way into the home of this poor couple, and oh, yes, she must not forget to go to Kress' and get a nice new pipe for Jim, the one he has now is about worn out and then you can't expect a ten cent pipe to last over one year. Santa Claus brought it last year. So all through the crowd of late buyers is that hurry up, joyous Christmas feeling, with the exception of one man. He alone of this great crowd is not happy. One could look at him and see that it is not the lack of wealth that causes his unhappiness. He pauses by a large window looking at the eager eyes of the purchasers looking for bargains, again he stops and watches the kids as they clamor in front of the windows each one claiming something in there for their own. Shaking his head, he slowly passes on and finally enters his rooms for he maintains a bachelor apartments in a large building right down in the heart of the business district. Wearily he drops down in a large chair by the window looking out on the milling crowds. Sad, despondent, no Christmas spirit here. He hasn't bought a single present, he does not expect to receive any, he is just a floating chip on the sea of humanity. What good is Christmas anyhow? Nothing to it. But wait, he hears a shrill cry of the newsboy calling "Extra, Extra! All about the big fire downtown." He goes to the door and calls the next newspaper seller that comes along. It happens to be a little girl of about six years of age, not enough clothes to keep her little body warm. "Here, bring me a paper, kid. Won't you come in and get warm?" "I can't, I have to sell all these papers or get a whipping." "How many have you?" "Ten." "Here, I will take them all. Sit down now and get warm and tell me all about yourself, where do you live, who are your parents?" "Why, I have no parents, I was taken out of a home by these people who have me and I have to sell papers to help them pay for my clothes and keep, and they whip me when I don't sell all my papers." "Well, what is Santa Claus going to bring you?" "Santa Claus only goes to see rich kids and kids that have got papas and mamas. He never did come to see me. Sometimes I think there ain't no Santa Claus."

The warmth of the room makes the little tot drowsy, she nods and finally drops off to sleep. Poor little tyke, no Santa Claus, well, we will see. He places her on his luxurious bed, and goes out into the crowd again. He hurries to a large department store. He is all excitement and bustle. He buys a large tree with all the decorations, he buys toys, clothing for the little girl, good warm clothes, mittens, stockings and shoes. He is bubbling over with the excitement of making Christmas a happy time for someone. The clerks in the store wake up to his thrill. Girls who were just about worn out with the day's business, ready to drop any place to rest, but his enthusiasm, rouses them up, revives their weary steps, until finally he is satisfied with his purchases and departs. The clerks who know him for a grouch wonder what has come over him, to spend several dollars for Christmas when he always said "Nothing to it."

He hurries home, bubbling over with excitement, arranges the tree and the presents around on the floor, not forgetting to hang up a little stocking on the bed and filling it with toys and candy. He then lays down on the lounge to wait until morning. Early the next morning he is awakened by a glad cry, "Oh, Santa has been here! Oh, where am I?" He lays perfectly still there in a darkened corner of the room to watch the result of his experiment. Oh, what joy, childish glee, such as he had not seen for years. He realizes there is something to Christmas; he realizes that Christmas is what you make it and that to get the joy out of Christmas you must help make it pleasant for someone else.

PUH HELD TO GRAND JURY WITHOUT BOND

Chfleur-Attendant of Gun
ictim, Waives Hearing

Union City, Tenn., Dec. 12. —ck Pugh, 24, chauffeur, attendant of Lexie S. Parks, 63, invd and retired banker, who died last week from bullet wounds received mysteriously, was preliminary hearing this morning on a first degree murder charge and was ordered by Magistrate J. F. Gregory for the grand jury without bond.

A first degree murder charge is preferred earlier in the day by Sheriff Jack Hibbs who swore out a warrant against the youth.

He, who has not yet retained an attorney, appeared with counsel at the arraignment and merely stated: "I have nothing more to say." Magistrate Gregory entered a warrant for him.

A first degree murder charge replaces the first one of assault with felonious intent that was entered against Pugh when he was first arrested, which was prior to the bankers' death. The chauffeur has been in jail since then, unable to post the $5,000 bond set at that time.

Confessed, after several days of questioning, that he had accidentally shot his invalid employer while playing with a rifle after drinking too heavily. He said he reached into his pocket with his left hand while he was driving the bar from Rives to Union City one of his employers' automobile rides.

The weapon was accidentally discharged, Pugh said, as he took it out of his pocket. Others were convinced that he had no motive for killing Parks and believed his story of accidental shooting. This act of the bankers' death, however, was told after Pugh had previously declared he did not know how Parks was shot, that had discovered the weapon removing the invalid from the house after their ride.

Accept this as a personal invitation to visit our store and see how splendidly prepared we are to take care of your Gift wants. Here you will find just the gift she or he would appreciate. Make selections early.

RUNS AMUCK; SHOT DOWN

Hickman Planter Menaces
Night Watchman and May Die of Injuries

Hickman, Ky., Dec. 15. —Dink Evans, widely known planter, was shot and probably fatally wounded early this morning at the Woodland Mills cotton gin by Carl Smith, night watchman. The gin has been running nights and Evans was said to have come around midnight after having been drinking heavily and quarreled with Smith.

Evans went to his home some two miles from Woodland on the Kentucky side of the line, got his shotgun and started back to Woodland with the announced intention of shooting Smith. When Evans approached the gin office, Smith warned him to keep away but he came on and as he opened the door Smith shot him in the neck with a shotgun.

Evans dropped and was carried to a car and rushed to the Nailing Hospital at Union City, where his condition is said to be critical. Evans has been in constant trouble with the authorities of Obion and Fulton counties and was supposed to start serving a 30-day sentence in the Obion County jail at Union City, starting Jan. 1.

Smith is well known here, having work for the Mengel Company at Hickman for some years. He is a native of Martin and has worked for the Woodland Mills gin only a few months.

Evans is the son of the late George Evans who had large holdings in both Fulton and Obion counties and in Mississippi.

COUNTY AGENT RESIGNS

H. A. McPherson of Hickman Will Go to Louisiana

Hickman, Ky., Dec. 12. — County Agent H. A. McPherson handed in his resignation at a meeting of the board of directors of the Fulton County Farm Improvement Association at the Cayce School last night, which was attended by E. J. Kilpatrick, assistant state agent in charge of extension work in Western Kentucky. McPherson stated that he had accepted a position as county agent in Louisiana.

He has been in Fulton county two years and has done outstanding work while here. He came to Fulton County from Heywood County, Tennessee.

The directors instructed Kilpatrick to procure another agent for the county and made plans for increased work next year. The county was divided into sections and committees were appointed to work with C. G. McMurry, vice president of the association, who has been in charge of the membership drive in each section. President Ed Thompson, Second Vice President Joe Browder and Directors Ed Williamson and Enoch Browder will assist him in Fulton and the east end of the county; J. P. Maddox and A. G. Campbell will assist in Sylvan Shade, Cayce and the center part of the county, while W. A. Johnston, J. P. Thomas, Henry Helm and A. Robbins will assist in Hickman and the western part of the county.

JOHNSON-BIZZLE

Miss Irene Johnson was united in marriage Saturday evening, December 14, to Mr. Ellis Bizzle at the home of Rev. L. E. McCoy, of Fulton, who officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Johnson of near Beclerton. She is an attractive and lovable young lady, and during her residence here won the love and esteem of a wide circle of friends who wish her a long and happy life of wedded bliss.

The bride chose for her wedding dress a frock of blue chiffon georgette.

The groom is a highly respected young farmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Bizzle, of Fulton.

They were accompanied by Miss Tommie Wiley, Mr. J. C. Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Otis Bizzle.

The newlyweds were entertained with a sumptuous six o'clock dinner at the home of the bride's parents.

If there were no tightwads, where would the good spenders borrow money to tide them over until pay day?

It's a pretty safe guess when a business man doesn't advertise, he has something he's ashamed to advertise.

ALLEN MOTT DEAD

Union City, Tenn., Dec. 14. — Allen Mott, 62, native of Obion county and former groceryman of this city, died at the family residence in San Antonio, Texas, Thursday morning. Besides his wife, Mrs. Fannie Mott, he is survived by two sisters and two brothers, Mrs. Fannie Driskill and Him Mott, both of this city, Mrs. Willie Morris of Fulton and Jeff Mott, of Brickley's, Ark.

Mr. Mott was born near Union City. He moved to Texas 17 years ago.

JUST LIKE HOME FOOD

Smith's Cafe is in reality a home-like restaurant because it has been trying to overcome the prevalent idea that restaurants can't serve food like you get at home.

Scores of patrons will testify that there is no difference between our meals and the meals they get at home. That's the reason they eat here so regularly.

Years spent in catering to the appetites of particular people make it possible for us to serve wholesome, tasty meals.

The next time you feel like eating away from home, bring your family here.

Broadcasting Will Aid World Harmony

A future in which races throughout the world will use English as a secondary language is envisaged by General James G. Harbord, who was Chief of Staff of the A. E. F. and now is President of the Radio Corporation of America, writing on radio as an instrument for promoting international understanding and peace.

Since the greater and most appealing part of the world's broadcast entertainment is offered in English from America and the British Isles, radio has provided the strongest incentive in history for many races to master a common tongue. General Harbord points out:

"We must not forget," he says, "that the nations' confusion of tongues has in itself been one of the most fruitful sources of international division and misunderstanding. People distrust what they do not understand; let them develop a common medium of communication and still another cause of distrust will fall by the wayside of human progress."

Radio and its allied science, television, will prove as valuable and perhaps more valuable than all diplomatic conferences in assuring universal peace for the future, General Harbord believes.

You can beat some of the trains to all of the crossings; all of the trains to some of the crossings, but you can't beat all of the trains to all of the crossings.

GIFT
With Lasting
Qualities.

What Shall I Give For Christmas?

This very pertinent question is answered—exhaustively, thoroughly, comprehensively, suggestively. We mention gifts appropriate for every member of the family—father, mother, brother, sister, relatives, friends or sweethearts. And with the selection as varied and attractive as it is this year at this store, Christmas shopping and gift selecting is more of a pleasure than a drudgery. You come into this store and see so many beautiful things that are suitable gifts for the loved ones in mind that you are happily perplexed in not knowing which ones of the hundreds to buy. We offer you the result of months of buying and looking around for Christmas goods. While we are always desirous of selling just as low as we possibly can, yet quality is our foundation, and you can rest assured that any article bought for a present will give satisfaction and pleasure to the recipient every time he or she has occasion to use it.

We are mentioning a few of the appropriate articles suitable for Christmas and purposely omitting prices in order that you may forget all about the cost in anticipation of the pleasure of giving.

Fostoria

Is the name of fine crystal and decorated glassware. It is distinctly a quality product. There is clear colored glass, the new blue, amber, canary and green; mother-of-pearl and Spanish lustre iridescent; coin gold band ware; encrusted gold ware; needle etchings and deep plate etchings. Something to suit every taste—every purpose, and every pocketbook! And whatever is marked with the Fostoria label is without qualification the finest glassware you can buy. All sorts of designs, patterns and pieces. This week we are featuring Fostoria goblets and Fostoria perfume bottles.

And here come, too, the father, son or friend who wishes to pick out a sure-to-be-valued gift.

Here you will also find the newest patterns in glassware and PYREX Ovenware.

Silverware

Indeed we're selling silverware. The well known Rogers line. More of it is going out this month than ever went out before. Rogers silverware will stand the test of time and wear, because it is the best quality plate made. The maker says so and we back it up.

The beauty and character of the silverware which we are displaying, make gift selections easy.

GUNS, RIFLES AND AMMUNITION

Perhaps you hadn't thought about it, but any sportsman will tell you that the Remington make is reliable and we carry a select line of guns, rifles and ammunition, just the nicest kind of gift.

Beelerton News

Beelerton ball teams played two games with Bardwell on Clinton court Saturday night. These were good games and although our girls lost by the score of 20-8, we know it was a nice game. The boys' game was one of the kind we all like, and Beelerton won, 23-12.

Be sure to see the rapid action and every outburst of laughter in "A Henpecked Hero," to be given at Beelerton Saturday night, December 21, at 7:30 o'clock.

The school is busy this week taking mid term examinations, and planning for the Christmas program and the tree, on Tuesday afternoon.

Beelerton will play Pilot Oak on Fulton court, Friday night, December 20. Be sure and see these games.

Our P. T. A. was postponed last Friday night on account of unfavorable weather. We will meet the second Friday night in January.

Mr. E. J. Bennett and family have moved to Clinton where he will take up business. We were sorry to see them leave because they have been with us so long, but we can still see them real often. We were glad to have them out at our ball games Saturday night.

Be sure and see Macon Shelton as a "Henpecked Hero" at Beelerton, Saturday night. Admission 15 and 25 cents.

CARD A TRULY PERSONAL GREETING

It's only a very short time until the busy Holiday season is here again. Before we realize it, all of us—old and young—will be counting the days until Christmas.

We want to suggest right now, while there is time to decide without haste, that you make your Christmas greeting decidedly personal this year.

Select from our display of beautiful designs and charming sentiments the card that exactly expresses your good wishes. Then permit us to print your name below the verse or seasonal greeting, and the message will be doubly personal.

No extra charge for printing your name on Christmas cards purchased from us.

STARNES-PORTER

Mr. James Houston Starnes and Mrs. W. C. Porter were united in marriage Monday at noon at the Presbyterian parsonage in Sharon, Tenn., the Presbyterian pastor officiating. The groom is a traveling salesman out of St. Louis. The bride has made her home in Fulton for several years and has a large circle of friends who will wish her a happy life with the man she has chosen.

Immediately after the ceremony they left for Memphis on a short bridal trip and will be at home to their friends after their return at the home of the bride on Glenn Avenue in this city.

LEWIS-REAMS

Miss Marie Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Lewis, of Mayfield, Ky., became the bride of Mr. George Herschel Reams Tuesday afternoon at 4:30. The ceremony was performed at Trinity Episcopal Church in this city by Dr. D. E. Johnstone.

The bride is a charming young lady with many accomplishments and a lovely companion for the man of her choice.

A large circle of admiring friends join us in wishing the happy couple a long and happy life of wedded bliss.

Billie McGeehee, a Fulton county 4-H club boy, grew 2,600 pounds of cotton on one acre, with a net profit of $100.

The application of 500 pounds of superphosphate to the acre materially increased corn yields on Kentucky river bottom land in Carroll county.

Yeggs Have Hard Luck

Accidentally Burn Money at Bank of Lowes, Kentucky.

Mayfield, Ky., Dec. 16—Mayfield's second robbery in less than six weeks was reported early today after robbers had used an acetylene torch to open the money vault in the Bank of Lowes, 16 miles northwest of here. Approximately $1,000 and several hundred dollars worth of Liberty bonds were stolen.

The robbers used the torch to burn through two doors of the vault and when they came to the money compartment the flames burned several packages of paper money and bonds. The robbery was staged in the early hours of the morning and the doors of the vault were warm when officers arrived at the scene.

Cashier B. E. Wyman said the exact amount of money and bonds missing could not be determined until a check up, but added that fear of a visit by robbers caused him to keep only a small supply of cash on hand for the daily transaction of business.

The Bank of Fancyfarm, located six miles south of Lowes, was robbed of $574 by three unmasked bandits, who entered the bank and tied Cashier Sol Ross and an assistant with wire Nov. 6. The banks are located in small outlying communities of Graves County.

Among the County Agents

Graves county farmers have purchased 125 head of dairy cows this year, and three modern dairy barns have been built in the county.

Wolfe county farmers who raised chickens and turkeys are reporting satisfactory returns. Dairying is growing rapidly in the county.

Five new herds of purebred Herefords have been established in Meade county. A breeder who has been in the business several years has sold $2,500 worth of breeding stock this year.

Many Trigg county farmers saved lespedeza seed in anticipation of a large acreage next year.

576 of the 680 junior 4-H club members in Pike county completed their year's work. Twenty local leaders assisted in the work.

Nineteen Lee county farmers who fertilized their corn land at the suggestion of the county agent report an average increased yield of 11 bushels to the acre and a profit of $1,345 from 169 acres.

B. A. Lawless, a Russell county farmer, produced between $4,000 and $5,000 worth of apples and peaches this year. Most of his fruit was sold locally.

Forty Gallatin county farmers have organized a stallion ring and purchased a Percheron stallion.

Host—Yes, died of shock.
Visitor—Really, how did it happen?
Host—He escaped from his cage and wandered on to the golf links.

Candid
Waggish Diner (with menu)—Chicken croquettes, eh? I say, waiter, what part of a chicken is the croquette?
Waiter—The part that's left over from the day before, sir.

Simple Explanation
She—Why do these men tap a cigarette on their other hand, that way, before they light it?
He—Just want to prove men can do silly things as well as women, that's all.

DOES THE THINKING

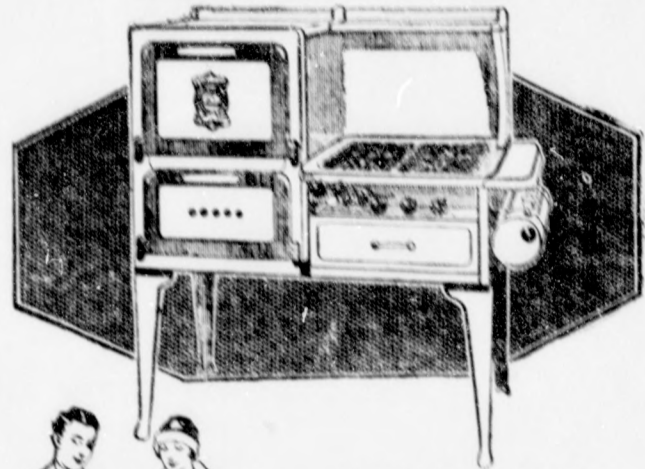

"I find you every job you've had and now your out of work again."

You'll quickly see that the Coleman Cooker is different from other stoves the minute you see the Gas Preheater demonstrated. This exclusive Coleman device is years ahead—the result of more than a quarter century of Coleman engineering skill. It lights instantly and in a minute or less the burners are ready with a clear, clean, hot blue flame.

Coleman Cookers Make Their Own Gas

Besides this miracle of speedy cooking convenience, you'll find many other features that make the Coleman different—features that make a big difference in your daily preparation of meals.

Just think what a difference it would make in each day's household duties to have gas service for cooking... with its speed, its comfort and its economy. The Coleman gives you that wonderful convenience... no matter where you live. It makes and burns its own gas from regular clear-white gasoline. No piping, wiring or installation expense whatever.

And what a difference to have your kitchen free from soot, dirt... blackened pots and pans. The Coleman Range brings you that freedom. Ceilings, curtains and walls stay clean longer when you have this modern range.

You'll find the Coleman makes a difference in the cost of preparing each meal, too. Cooks a meal for the average family on less than 2 cents' worth of fuel.

There are other features about the Coleman Range that make cooking entirely different. Come in and see them. Pick yours. There's a style and size for every cook and kitchen.

It actually pays for itself

Ever since we have been married Jack and I have said that we'd have a telephone of our own just as soon as we built our new home.

True to our promise we had the most adorable little cabinet built in the new house and when we moved in the telephone was all ready for us. My dear, I've actually found that it pays for itself!

Our home is pretty far out, you know, but I can take advantage of dozens of sales that I'd never be able to attend in person. I just choose what I want from the advertisements and place my order by telephone. Lots of times the things that I order are actually delivered before I'd have time to go up town... My only regret is that I could have had a telephone so much sooner.

Why not give a telephone a chance to show you that it can pay for itself? Just call the business office—or see any telephone employee—and a telephone will be installed immediately.

OUR MESSAGE OF SERVICE

There is going to be a lot of activity in the building line this year. Architects and contractors, carpenters and masons all, are busily sharpening up their pencils and their tools, and getting set for business. It is not the young married folk alone who are going to build homes—who dream dreams of happiness in homes of their own—but many others who have long, too long, been renting the roofs over their heads are going to try this year to realize their desire to have a home of their own.

Whatever you plan to do by way of
BUILDING — REMODELING
REPAIRING

we want you to feel perfectly free to come in and consult our service department without the slightest obligation. Whether it's a big house or a bungalow, a new garage, new roof or new floor, a sun porch or a sleeping porch, an alley fence, or built-in fixtures—we are prepared to give you unequalled service and low prices on Quality Material.

LET US HELP YOU MAKE YOUR DREAMS COME TRUE.

POULTRY

(By J. T. Watkins)

Well, it is just five days until Christmas, if you haven't done all your shopping, you had better hurry. If you haven't bought that boy his present yet, it is not too late to get him a good pen of standard bred poultry and get him started on the road to prosperity.

Speaking about Christmas, don't our streets look fine and dandy, with all the trees decorated and lit up. We have a tree in front of the Chamber of Commerce rooms and feel real proud of it. We wish to say that if anyone has a present for the "chicken man," don't hang it on the tree, but leave it inside. The stenographer and librarian says this also applies to them.

We regret very much that Mr. McPherson has resigned as county agent. During the past two years, we have worked with Mac and always found him a prince to work with, always ready to do his part in all things, also aside from his work. Mac is a perfect gentleman and a darn good scout.

Now is the time to begin fighting lice and mites. Give the roosts a good painting every ten days with a strong oil. Take the oil you drain from your auto, or get some at any of the garages and dilute it one half with common coal oil and you have just as good a lice exterminator as anything.

I painted my roosts with black leaf forty and the next day I found several dead lice on the dropping boards. They claim black leaf forty will kill all the lice, but it will take several paintings to get rid of all of them for the nits are continually hatching out and unless you kill the louse as soon as he is hatched out they will soon lay more eggs and you are back where you started. So keep after them.

Another thing, if your chickens are bothered with scaly legs, dip the legs in a can of oil up to the weather. If the leg is bad, repeat the dose every ten days for three or four dippings, then wash the legs with a good strong suds and rub them well with carbolized vaseline, and you will get rid of one of the worst pests that infest poultry.

Now is a good time for you to start toward making Fulton county the best poultry county in the state. To do this, we have got to have at least 100 standard bred hens on every farm, with several flocks of from twelve to twenty-five located in the towns. We can do it.

The "Chicken Man" wishes everybody a Merry Christmas and a Happy and Prosperous New Year, with good hatches, good luck and big prices for your stock and eggs.

STATES TAKE OVER ROAD

Union City, Tenn., Dec. 15.—A. L. Burrus, county road supervisor, is in receipt of a letter from W. N. Rees, division engineer of the state highway department at Jackson, enclosing a telegram recently sent highway officials of Kentucky by R. H. Baker, state highway commissioner, in which it is stated that the state is ready to take over the Union City and Hickman road by way of Woodland Mills.

It is understood that the Kentucky officials have promised Mr. Burrus and Judge J. W. Buchanan that they would place the Kentucky part of this road on the state list at any time the Tennessee officials would do likewise and it is presumed that both states will now assume the maintenance and construction of this road at an early date.

Lesson for December 22
THE CHILD IN A CHRISTIAN WORLD

(Christmas Lesson)

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 18:1-6; MARK 10:13-16; Luke 9:47-48; GOLDEN TEXT—Suffer little children and forbid them not to come unto Me for of such is the kingdom of heaven.

PRIMARY TOPIC—The story of the First Christmas.
JUNIOR TOPIC—The story of the First Christmas.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Finding and Following Right Leaders.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Christian Obligations to Childhood.

I. The Greatest in the Kingdom of Heaven (Matt. 18:1-6).

Jesus answered concretely the disciples' question as to who is greatest in the kingdom of heaven by placing a child in their midst and declaring:

1. The condition of entrance into the kingdom (v. 3).

In order to enter the kingdom one must become childlike. He thus showed to these ambitious disciples that a change of heart was necessary in order to even enter the kingdom, let alone having an honorable position therein. Birth from above is essential, even to see the kingdom (John 3:3, 5).

2. Those who possess childlike humility are the greatest (v. 4). The child is dependent, lowly and modest. Such characteristics are only possible to those who have been regenerated.

II. Little Children Brought to Jesus—(Mk. 10:13-16).

1. The mothers desire that Jesus might touch their children (v. 13). Doubtless they had witnessed the healing power of His touch and coveted it for their children. All Christians parents want their children to come into contact with Jesus Christ.

2. The disciples rebuke (v. 13). They thought the children were too insignificant to be allowed to interfere with Jesus' work, therefore they rebuked the mothers for bringing them to Him.

3. Jesus' reply (v. 14). He declared that the kingdom belongs to the children, therefore the children have a right in the presence of the king.

4. Jesus blesses the little children (v. 16).

He took them up in His arms and blessed them. Christianity is peculiarly favorable toward children. Only where Christ is known is the child fully recognized.

III. The Child Jesus (Luke 2:1-20).

1. His birth (vv. 1-7). It took place at Bethlehem according to prediction (Micah 5:2). The Lord moved upon the emperor to enforce the decree of taxation just in time to bring Mary to Bethlehem. His surroundings were of the most humble sort. The eternal God condescended to be thus incorporated with humanity, to be born in a manger, becoming the poorest of the poor that none might be hindered in coming unto him.

2. Jesus' birth announced (vv. 8-14).

(1) By whom. An angel of the Lord was the first to give the gospel message.

(2) To whom. His birth was announced to the shepherds who were keeping watch over their flocks by night.

(3). The nature of the message. It was good tidings of great joy. It was good tidings because the darkness of heathendom which had so long covered the earth was beginning to vanish; the casting out of Satan, the prince of the world, was about to take place. Liberty was soon to be proclaimed to those who were in bondage. The way of salvation was to be open to all. So glorious was this message that a multitude of the heavenly host accompanied it with their song of praise.

3. The shepherds investigating (vv. 15, 16).

They did not stop to argue or raise questions, though these things were no doubt passing strange to them. They went immediately to Bethlehem where they made investigation and found everything just as represented. They had the privilege of first gazing upon the world's Savior, the Lord of glory.

4. The shepherds witnessing (vv. 17-20).

They found things as announced. When they beheld the Lord of glory they could not remain silent, therefore they went back praising God and making known what their eyes had beheld. Those who really hear the gospel can not be silent—they must tell it out to others.

Earth a Rebuke to Atheism
God never would miracles to convince atheists, because His ordinary works convince it. It is true, that a little philosophy inclineth man's mind to atheism; but depth in philosophy bringeth men's minds about to religion.—Francis Bacon.

Good Breeding Shows
There are few defects in our nature so glaring as not to be veiled from observation by politeness and good breeding.—Stanislaus.
