HOLDING A MEETING

There was recently held in New Orleans a meeting of Louisiana sugar producers, at which it was decided to increase the market for the state's sugar, in order to have its production within the United States not be encouraged, instead of restricted.

AN AMERICAN BUILDER

Mr. Starrett has built many of the greatest of modern marvels, and is one of the few iron founders who are known to the layman. He has built such structures as the Empire State Building, the Rockefeller Center, and the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. He completed the Empire State Building in 1930, and it is the tallest building in the world. It has 102 stories and is 1,250 feet high.

A similar complaint was made by the Department of Agriculture's international department of Louisiana sugar producers, who said that their sugar was not being sold in foreign markets, and that their production was not being encouraged.

HOLIDAY GOOD CHEER TO ALL 1938

In keeping with the Spirit of Christmas when friendly greetings are extended, we wish to extend Our Greetings to our patrons whom we regard as personal friends.

We cannot greet each of you personally, so we ask you to consider this, figuratively speaking, as a hearty hand-clasp, while we wish you in all sincerity a very MERRY CHRISTMAS and a HAPPY and PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR.

Nothing can be more enjoyable than the thought of giving a present of money to some one who is interested in having it. It is a pleasant thought to know that you are giving someone the means to buy something that he needs or wants.

If you have an idea of what the recipient of the present would like, you can make your selection with confidence. You can be sure that you are giving him something that he needs, and hence he will be satisfied.

If you have no idea of what the recipient of the present would like, you can make your selection with confidence. You can be sure that you are giving him something that he needs, and hence he will be satisfied.

LETTERS TO SANTA

Puffin, Ky., Dec. 13, 1938

Dear Santa:

I am a little girl eight years old and have been a good girl all year. I am a little afraid of storms because one storm killed my grandfather. My mother made me promise to be good and not to cry, so I am a very good girl. I wish you to give me a doll and a baby buggy and some fruit, nuts, and candy.

FOUR YEARS

Some weeks ago I was sitting in the office of a physician, listening to the conversation going on around us. One doctor, rather perturbed, was talking about one of his patients, who seemed to be a very sensitive and emotional person. He was describing the patient's reaction to the death of a relative and how it had affected him.

The old gentleman in the doctor's office voiced a fear that is found: "When a storm came up, when people were struck by lightning, when a thing made of metal was quickly turned to water, people were thrown into a positive panic when a sort of thing like this occurred."

The doctor continued, saying that even today, despite our modern knowledge, there are still those who fear things that are not necessarily dangerous. He mentioned the phenomenon of thunder and lightning, and how some people find it difficult to enjoy outdoor activities because of their fear of these natural occurrences.

The old-fashioned mindset persists, and while we may not be as superstitious as our predecessors, some people are still afraid of anything that reminds them of danger. It's important to remember that what we fear is often more frightening in our imaginations than it actually is.

The old gentleman in the doctor's office ended his tale by saying, "It's all in the mind, you know."

Santasighting!" is the subject of The National League which will meet in Council of Stater, throughout the world on Sun- day, December 25.

The old-fashioned steam engine. The old-fashioned steam engine that resembles an engine of the 1800s, will be turned on a little later this year. The old-fashioned steam engine is a great feat of engineering.

May your Christmas blessings include the priceless gifts of happiness, health and contentment. We take this opportunity to thank our friends and customers for a prosperous year.

I am a little girl ten years old. I have been a very good girl, but I want you to bring three things: please bring me a new doll, a new dress, and a new dress coat. Thank you very much.

JESUS
The Perfect Man

(The following editorial was well received and appeared in The Commercial Advertiser on Sept. 19.)

There is no other character in history like that of Jesus.

As a prophet, as a thief of truth, as a father of the universe and as the center of the world, he stood boundless in the divine sphere of his su-er.

The doctrine of Confucius is an unbroken moral and ethical tradition without a break.

The teachings of Buddha mesh with the instinct of the soul and the desire for knowledge of the real world.

The Mohammed clerical system of Sultan is a training school for people. Here their beliefs are shaped, their lives regulated
and their ideals determined.

Jesus, on the other hand, was found in a world of chaos and tumult, did not stand the test
of time.

It was a great thing he did when he declared that "He that would not bear the cross of Christ... is deserted".

Jesus was a prophet and champion of the weak, but his message was not heard in his
time and his influence has been
lost.

It is sad to recall that Christmas, which has grown so large in his city, is not in the seasonal calendar of any world-government.

The system of either Jesus meant
during the middle centuries 2000
years ago was true then, but now in every corner of the world and in some quarters
will be true forever.

This was a great thinker and learned in his time, but his teachings did not stand the test
time and his influence has been
lost.

message was not heard in his

Introducing a New President

After more than twelve years as president of the Illinois Central System I have taken over the duties of chairman of the board, and the duties of president have been assumed by J. L. Bevan.

Mr. Bevan is truly an Illinois Central man. He came from an Illinois Central family and started to work for the railroad at the age of twelve. He became a division officer before he was thirty, and he has seen almost every part of the railroad. For the last eight years he has been senior vice-president as president, Mr. Bevan will speak for the Illinois Central on the eve of the railroad's one hundredth anniversary, which is required to
