CHIEF ASKED TO CONFER ON NYA AT WASHINGTON

Dr. Richmond's Report is Published in Congressional Record

RECOMMENDATIONS PRAISED BY OFFICIALS

Dr. James H. Richmond, Murray State's president, has been asked to come to Washington, May 1, to consult with NYA authorities in making plans for the future of that organization.

This invitation is the result of a report on the NYA which was given by Dr. Richmond on April 9 at a meeting of the Southern Association in Atlanta. Data from 172 colleges and universities went into the making of this report, and a detailed study of recommendations for continuation and improvement of the NYA was made.

The response to Dr. Richmond's message was immediate. Aubrey Williams, national director of the NYA, stated that it was the best study that had been made up to that time in evaluating the work of the National Youth Administration. Senator Russell of Georgia had the report published in the Congressional Record. Mimeographed copies are to be sent to NYA centers all over the United States.

President Richmond plans to leave for Washington the night of April 28.

Crass Says Farm Making Progress

James L. Crass, supervisor of the Murray Resident Project of the NYA, says the college farm is increasing in the size and quality of its products. Mr. Crass has been connected with the project for the last 20 months.

Although hampered by heavy rains, the workers have set out 1,000 cabbage plants, and have sowed radishes and mustard. Four acres will be devoted to tobacco and 1 1/2 acres to strawberries. Sixty acres of corn and 1700 pounds of Irish potatoes will be planted. Most of the products will be used in the college dining halls.

In the poultry department there are 800 baby chicks and 75 laying hens. The farm has 27 milk cows and several calves.

Twenty-seven NYA youths carry out the duties of the farm.

Brown-Murray Wedding Is Announced

Miss Mary Ellen Brown, Murray State graduate of 1939 and now music instructor at Mayslick, and Walter Murray, All-SIAA basketball player from Horse Cave, were married April 18, at 8 o'clock in the Horse Cave Baptist Church, with the Rev. John E. Huss officiating.

Their only attendants were Bill Carneal, Barlow, and Mrs. Bob Fox, the bride's sister.

While at Murray, Mrs. Murray was a major in music. She was attendant to the 1938 Junior Prom Queen and was on the annual staff.

Murray, who will receive his BS degree with a major in health and physical education, is an officer of the Student Organization. He was a letterman on the basketball team for the past three seasons and he was one of the 13 Murray students selected for "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities".

Hardin Places Third in State

Hardin High School, winner of the recent First District debate tournament held here, placed third in the state high school debate tournament in Lexington during the first week in April.

The team, coached by Alton Ross, Murray grad, defeated Henry Lay High, of Lexington, last year's champion; Ashland, Highlands, and ddyville, before bowing to the recent champion, Winchester.

War Discussed

MISS DIXIE DEXTER

Miss Dixie Darlene Dexter, sophomore, St. Louis, Mo., was selected by the Student Organization of Murray State College to represent the Murray student body in the annual beauty contest held at the Mountain Laurel Festival held annually at Pineville, Ky. The festival will be held May 23-25 this year.

Miss Dexter is a transfer from McKendree College, Lebanon, Ill., and is a dramatics and journalism student here. She had a leading role in the Sock and Buskin production, "The Women".

She is a member of the Kipsa Pi journalism fraternity, Sock and Buskin dramatics club, the YWCA, and was a featured dancer in "Campus Lights of 1940". She also has a role in "The Vagabond King", operetta now in production.

HAVENS SPEAKS ON INTOLERANCE

Pastor of Christian Church Is Speaker in Chapel
at Murray

The increasing prevalence of intolerance, prejudice, and hatred in the world today was stressed in a talk given in chapel April 24, by the Rev. A. V. Havens of the First Christian Church.

"Individual nature and races have become obsessed by the idea that they can succeed by making stepping stones of the backs of others," Mr. Havens stated. "Prejudice, intolerance, and hatred are impossible in the solution of worldly problems. No people can be eternally subdued and the world remain at peace."

"Democracy ceases to be when tolerance ceases to exist. There can be no freedom for ourselves unless we have it for others. Happiness will come from the results of cooperative efforts of people who live in this world."

Congratulations to members of the College News and the debate team were extended by Dr. Carr.

Miss Philippa Hughes, Paducah, Ky., a recent graduate of Murray College, was a visitor on the campus the past week.

Abell-Lewis Win Title in Campus Bridge Tourney

Defeat Pogue and Woodall Team
in Final

Roommates Bill Lewis, Mayfield, and Paul Abell, Paducah, are the newly-crowned bridge champions of Murray State College, as they emerged from the Kipsa Pi bridge meet unbeaten with a total score of 20,620.

Defeating Dr. Forrest Pogue, last of the faculty survivors, and his partner, James Woodall, 3940-2290 in a three-out-of-four rubber final, the Cardinal-Tornado combine finished tournament that went with only one upset.

Abell and Lewis proved too much for Prof. Price Doyle and Carroll Jones in the semi-finals after having won a five-rubber match in the third round from Roger Fuller and Willard Jefferson. Abell and Lewis drew byes through the first two rounds.

To Be Portrayed
in Vagabond
King

IN AUDITORIUM MAY 3 AT 8:14

Out of the excitement of rehearsal and preparation for "The Vagabond King" comes the third in a series of sketches on the life of Francois Villon, hero of our drama, as written by Miss Beth Fooshee, member of Sigma Alpha Iota, women's music fraternity.

In the last installment we left Francois hiding behind a woman's petticoat. Only figuratively, of course, tho—Huguet had a chasiss built for shorts—anyway, they were so much more comfortable.

But Frank found that petticoats weren't good armor—at least they didn't help much at lynchings. However, we're getting the cart before the horse. Frank saw some high life before he got the sack.

First he got a new outfit. After all, the power behind the throne even for one day couldn't be expected to wear just any old rag! So he shucked his Woolworth tie and socks, and the suit he got at a fire sale, and when he came out!—Well, that's when they got the idea for Esquire.

His old pal, Tabari, got in the outer rim of the lime light (did we say outer ring? We beg your pardon; move over, Frank) and he did very well for himself, too.

The acquired (now don't ask how) a title, a suit of armor, and a debutante for a girl friend—as well as a Burgundian arrow for a souvenir. After that he found his digestion was better if he ate his meals off the mantle!

But Frank is still the hero; so let's go back to our little glamour boy's private affairs.

Louie, the sly old fox, forgot to mention all the conditions to being made king. After the one day of being high man, Frank's chances were pretty poor. It was all tied up any way you looked at it. Apron strings or necktie party. Frank, the sap, wanted the gal—instead of the gallows. But how did he get her?

(To be concluded in the college auditorium May 3, at 8:14 p. m.)

Over $300 has been spent for music, scripts, costumes, and scenery for the production. Research work on the 15th century provides the authenticity of characters, costumes, and scenery. Tireless rehearsal for six weeks promises polish and perfection in the Vagabond King.

Young Democrats Suspend Meetings

President Johnson said that the Young Democrats would suspend the rest of their meetings this semester. Only in case of emergency business will another meeting be held.

"We will take an active part in supporting the presidential nominee next fall," President Johnson said.

Delegations of young democrats will participate in the district meet to be held in Mayfield next month. Johnson urges all those who wish to make the trip to see him.

ENGLISH CLUB TO SPONSOR CONTEST

Mr. Derryberry Announces Rules for Creative Writing
Competition

"The students on this campus are interested in creative writing. Last year there were more than 25 entries in the English Club sponsored creative writing contest," said Prof. W. E. Derryberry Thursday.

This contest is open to any student in school. Mr. Derryberry said, and it includes any type of writing that is the sole work of the student. These writings may be in the form of essays, poems, short stories, biographies, novels—anything the student may consider good enough to enter.

The winner of the contest, which closes May 20, will be announced and a suitable award made as a part of commencement honors. The judges will be a committee from the English department.

Miss Mary Marrs, Mayfield, was last year's winner. Her entry was a short story and a group of poems. Miss Dorothy Vernon Crowder, Central City, was runner-up.

Murray Debaters Have Good Record in Tourney

Whipple, Bryant
Are Undefeated
in Meet

The Murray State debate squad, debating on the three questions, "Government Ownership of Railroads," "Conscription of Wealth in the Event of War," and "Isolation," made a good showing in the Voluntary Tournament held at Union University, Jackson, Tenn., April 12 and 13.

Aron Whipple, LaCenter, Ky., and Floyd Bryant, Lebanon Junction, debated a perfect record on the question of "Government Ownership of Railroads." Ralph Crouch, Lynn Grove, Ky., and J. W. Wilkinson, Graves, Ky., reached the finals in the division of "Conscription in the Event of War," but were defeated by Union University. On the question of "Isolation," one-half of the debates were won in that division.

Murray was given distinction of having the largest number of representatives of any school in the tournament. The members of the squad included Floyd Bryant; Aron Whipple; James Rogers, Clinton, Ky.; William Allen, Marion; Robert Carlton, Murray; Frank Hoffman, Hopkinsville; J. W. Wilkinson; Rutherford Morgan, Murray; Billy Lipford, and Ralph Crouch.

Aron Whipple was given the honor of being the best individual speaker in the tournament.

Other colleges that entered the tournament were: Shuttuff College, Alton, Ill.; David Lipscomb, Nashville, Tenn.; Freed-Hardeman, Henderson, Tenn.; Bethel College, McKenzie, Tenn.; Mississippi State College, Starkville, Miss.

300 To Participate In Scholarship Program

Approximately 300 invitations have been issued by President Richmond to Murray College and Training School honor students who are eligible to participate in the third annual Scholarship Day program, which will be held in the college auditorium Wednesday, May 1.

Walter Jetton, principal of Tighman High School, will be the guest speaker for the occasion.

Pledges Must Stay on Walks, Say Frat Rules

The editorial writers will, no doubt, be extremely gratified to know that a few students will be limited strictly to side-walks as pathways for progress in the next few weeks.

This is just one of the few rules by which the Alpha Psi Omega pledges must abide during the initiation period.

These 10 students were pledged at the formal ceremony Monday, April 22: Mary Anna Jenkins, Odine Swann, Charles Henson, Tom Blazer, Bradford Smith, Emma Sue Gibson, Margaret Muse, Ruth Nall, Charlotte Taylor, and Margery Price.

This pledge meeting the pledges were presented to president Wayne Moore, who gave them their pledge cards, ribbons, and the rules by which they will be governed.

The formal initiation and banquet will be held May 7 in the National Hotel.

Founded in May, 1937, the Murray chapter is rapidly widening its scope of activity, according to the frat leaders. The members of the fraternity present one play a year. "Susan and God" and "Abie's Irish Rose" have been enacted by the members of Alpha Psi Omega.

One of the club's aims is the raising of a fund to aid needy dramatic students.

Young Republicans To Meet Monday

The Young Republicans Club will convene Monday, April 29, in room 312 of the liberal arts building at 10 o'clock.

In this meeting candidates for club officers will be chosen and the personal qualifications of each nominee for president of the United States will be discussed.

"Whole hearted support will be given by the club to the candidate put forth by the National Republican Organization," President Bryant stated.

Drill for Twirling

When you see about 42 students out on the campus swinging sticks around and throwing them into the air at the 11 o'clock period on Tuesdays and Thursdays, you need not get excited about their mentality.

This is only the drum class learning to "twirl". Prof. F. P. Ingalls is the instructor of the drummers.

CHIEF CONDEMNS STUDENT CONDUCT ON CITY STREETS

Dr. Richmond Reprimands
Group for Hugging and Kissing

SPECIAL ASSEMBLY IS CALLED BY EXECUTIVE

Dr. James H. Richmond, president of Murray State College, in a special chapel session Friday morning severely reprimanded a few of the college students for their "careless conduct on the streets of Murray".

Admitting that the "conduct of students of this college is as good as in any college of the state and better than most of them," President Richmond declared that the "careless acts of a few students has cast a shadow across the whole student body".

Murray's chief executive referred to a "stinging editorial" in one of the local papers—"stinging," he said, "because it was true."

The conduct criticized by the editorial and by President Richmond was "hugging and kissing on the streets of Murray".

"For those who stooped so low, I'm heartily ashamed," he remarked. "For those who are not guilty, I apologize for these statements."

Describing the practice as "common, vulgar, and disgraceful," President Richmond declared, "That's got to stop."

"If I see or have reported to me a single instance like that, I'll immediately expel the individual guilty of it," he emphasized.

In a standing vote, the student body expressed its unanimous approval and endorsement of the president's opinions.

Shelton Promoted to Colorado Job

Robert E. "Nub" Shelton, Murray State graduate, has accepted a position as trainer and assistant professor at the University of Colorado, Boulder.

The former Murray athlete received his master's degree from Louisiana State University and has been employed in the Oklahoma City school system as physical education instructor. He has been trainer for the Oklahoma City 89ers, Missouri Valley AAU basketball team.

While in Murray, Shelton was editor of the Shield, staff member of the College News, a varsity letterman, and major in physical education.

Geographic Club Postpones Meet for Special Assembly

The Geography Club's meeting that was to be held Friday, April 26, at 10 a. m. was called off because of special chapel called by Dr. Richmond.

Lyle Noel, vice-president, intended to talk about the interesting points of the Mammoth cave, and member G. T. Tays planned to speak on the subject of "Why Study Geography?"

The club is planning a trip to Mammoth Cave for the benefit of the geology and geography students, but anyone else wishing to go may see Dr. Robbins for reservations.

OVER 300 ATTEND K.E.A. BREAKFAST

Dr. Richmond, Seay, and McVey Are on Program

Over 300 Murray alumni and friends of the college attended the annual "get-together" breakfast held at 8 o'clock Friday morning, April 19, in the ballroom of the Kentucky Hotel, Louisville, Ky., making it the best K.E.A. breakfast ever given, according to Miss Alice Keys, executive secretary.

Highlights of the "get-together" included the address of the guest speaker, Dr. Maurice Seay, president-elect of the Kentucky Educational Association, and short talks by Dr. James H. Richmond, and Dr. Frank L. McVey, president of the University of Kentucky.

The Sigma Alpha Iota string quartet composed of Anna Lou Roberts, Deane Bottom, Helen Hire, and Jane Sexton, furnished music for the occasion. Others who appeared on the program were: Prof. Price Doyle, vocal solo; and Miss Hire, violin solo.

Let's Give Gordon Courage to Carry On!

Courage and love are two of the greatest blessings bestowed on mankind. Man needs courage to help him past temporary handicaps in his battles of life; and he needs love—love for God, for his country, and for his dear ones—in order to stimulate that courage which he possesses. To be able to love he must have sympathy for others and must have their sympathy in return. For, after all, man is nothing but a member of a group in a universe of animals and unlimited space. He must be aided by others in this group and must pay compensation in the form of helping others when they are in need.

The need for this phase of love has now arrived! The time has come for this display of courage. We now have an opportunity to stimulate our sympathies by immediate action—a movement which can only be accelerated by materially aiding one of our kind. This person is not just an American, a Kentuckian, or a Murray resident, but is one who is a part of our very own campus. Now he needs our help.

Space need not be devoted to relate how Wallace Gordon was injured, because most of us already know. It is not now a question of how he became incapacitated—it is a fact that he requires our help. He needs help in addition to mere expression of sympathy.

An unhandicapped boy of 16 can look ahead into life with clear, determined eyes which brush away obstacles in his path of progress. But a youth of 16 who must change his whole life habits because of sudden blindness has not those eyes to help him pick the easier paths. His whole body becomes his eyes, and his battle is intensified so greatly that one without courage or love would be tempted to give up. A person can lose a finger, an arm, or a leg and yet carry on a reconstructed program. But to look forward depending on fingertips for reading, ears for sensing immediate danger, and toes for feeling out the rough spots in walking—this takes courage.

Wallace Gordon has that courage and determination to be a useful citizen. He has character and possesses the love of his parents, relatives, friends, and schoolmates to sustain him. Yes, he also has the love of God. Now it is up to us to stimulate his courage by showing our love for him by giving him material aid.

Let us show our admiration for courage by subscribing unselfishly to the Training School's purpose—to enable Gordon to prepare himself for an occupation—by heading the list of those who subscribe.

We have failed in minor crises, perhaps. Now let's show our true colors. Let's lead in raising the fund for Gordon's revamped educational purposes. Remember, it could be and still can be one of us. Let us not forget the words of Him who was courage and love: "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

Students, you will come through just as did this friend who sent $10 to Dr. Carr: "I am not acquainted with Mr. Gordon but in my estimation this is the worst misfortune that could befall anyone, and as a token of my profound sympathy for Mr. Gordon I am enclosing this small gift."

A Philosopher on the Campus

He was the perfect incarnation of the body beautiful. The smooth play of rippling muscles was a wonder to behold. He rushed across the campus at top speed. No one could hope to outstrip him in a race. Clearly he was agile and active.

Unbounded energy kept him always on the go. Never stopping to chat with the students, he would always hurry about his work as if it were his religion. When he did stop to rest, he would sit calmly and thoughtfully peering about him, making sure there was nothing demanding his immediate attention.

He needed no mechanical things to provide his amusement. He derived his pleasure from the great outdoors. Nature was of his very essence.

Thrift was a quality of his character. He set up his stores for a rainy day while the sun was shining.

Not one ounce of ego was in his being. Shyly he always retired from the public gaze when it was distasteful.

From a vantage point he liked to observe the "madding crowd" as some sage philosopher. The little gray squirrel's vantage point was the top of a swaying tree.

Growth

We read in the paper not long ago of a girl who increased her stature a few inches in a few days by stretching exercises in order to qualify for a course in aviation. Another way to increase stature is to grow physically. Standing upon a box will give an illusion of increased stature.

Now we would like to indicate a most effective way to increase stature actually and permanently. INTEGRITY AND INTELLIGENCE are the key words to this method. The stature of any person in his community is increased by his honesty and common sense.

If a man would stand out above his neighbors, he should be honest. This honesty must not be merely surface honesty—honesty in evident matters, but deep honesty—honesty which is practiced even when the dishonest thing is not frowned upon. Such integrity can not be hidden and eventually everyone will come to know. Honesty is not its own reward; it is much more pleasant and easy to do the thing one can "get away with." Honesty may never receive material reward even. But honesty is the right thing.

Ding-A-Ling-A-Ling

The bookstore and postoffice still need a telephone. The College News is not advocating a telephone for them merely because it likes them.

Journalism classes are disturbed frequently as often as three or four times per hour by persons telephoning for Mr. Clark or Mr. Jeffrey. If the bookstore and postoffice had one (and it could be used jointly by both), about 50 per cent of this disturbance could be eliminated.

Practically every other office on the campus has at least one telephone. Please, please install ONE for these TWO places.

What Are Vacations For?

"The loneliest place in the world is a college campus when everyone is gone," remarked a student when asked if he had a pleasant vacation. "Didn't you have anything to do?" the inquiring student asked.

"No," he said, "I couldn't sleep because it was too quiet; I couldn't study because I had forgotten my assignments; I couldn't walk because it was raining; I couldn't go to the movie because I was broke. So, what was I to do?"

"Maybe you don't know what vacations are for," he was told. "Don't you like to read? Don't you enjoy the radio? Don't you even have a hobby?"

ONE WAY

One way of winning the war was described by a young negro who told his superior on a morning in 1918: "No orders from headquarters today, boss," he said. "We's gwine out and lay dis crop by".

Miss Smith Honored at Rochester, N. Y.

Miss Martha Tandy Smith was recently elected president of the Sigma Alpha Iota sorority at Eastern School of Music, Rochester, N. Y.

She is a major in public school music and voice. Miss Smith attended Murray State for two years. She was a member of the Sigma Alpha Iota here and also a member of the Girl Scouts.

The Sights of a College

When the spring time of the year rolls around most everyone becomes lazy and tired and tries to follow the line of least resistance. If you should happen to pass the John W. Carr Health Building and look on the opposite side of the road at the debris you would think everyone around here is lazy all the time. This rubbish and another junk pile which also borders the campus should be destroyed.

As this is national clean-up week it would make a good and worthy project to have these junk piles removed or cleaned up so that the northeast side of the campus would be as beautiful as the rest of our campus.

If the college addition had been incorporated into the city it would have been necessary for the debris to be removed. Why should we wait for the city?

Bells

Why aren't a few more good bells installed in the buildings of Murray State College? Many times classes are held over time because the professors fail to hear the bell ring (if it does!).

If the students are not dismissed from their classes on time, it is almost impossible for them to reach their classes on time. Some students have successive classes on different parts of the campus and it is necessary for them to leave immediately when the bell rings in order to reach their next class on time. If the bells cannot be heard, it is unlikely that the classes will be dismissed on time.

Dorm Doings

We scooped Woodall's column on this one: Cut co-ed to ambitious Fresh! You may be a tonic to mother but you're a pill to me.

Personification Personified: "Ted" Weems, the guy who spends three-fourths of the time that he skates getting up off the sidewalks.

Pretty dewy over KEA. Imagine Dewey in the land of the Democrats.

"Babe" Foster and a few of the boys have been sorta' rushin' the baseball season.

TRAINING SCHOOL

Professor Graham, principal of the Training School, stated the Wallace Gordon drive would be brought to a close soon.

"Sis Perkins", the Training School play given for the benefit of Wallace Gordon was presented at Cadiz in the Trigg County High School, Friday, April 26.

Four boys who have been issued letters in debating are Wells Lovett, Gene Graham, Oliver Hood, and Richard Gholson. Oliver and Wells are seniors this year but both Richard and Gene will be back on the debating squad next year.

Miss Codell, home economics teacher, who has been ill, is expected to resume her work next Monday. Miss Ruth Sexton and Mrs. Hugh Houston have assisted in teaching the classes during her illness.

Prof. Clifton Thurman, manager and treasurer of the Wallace Gordon fund, and some of the students visited in Cadiz on Wednesday, April 24. Mr. Thurman remarked that they were well received by Cadiz and Trigg County friends of the Gordon's.

Stephen Foster's life will be depicted by the sixth grade in a chapel program on April 29. The children will sing behind a mural, painted by the class, showing scenes of "My Old Kentucky Home," "Swanee River", and a cotton field. Miss Ruby Smith, critic teacher of the class, will be in charge of the program.

Delegates to the AAUW convention this week-end are Miss Bertie Manor, Mrs. A. M. Wolfson, Mrs. F. P. Inglis, Miss Mabelle Johnson, and Miss Ruth Hepburn.

Halls Beautified

In order to make the dormitory halls more attractive, two chairs and a bookcase have been placed at each window at the ends of the main hall on the three floors of Wells Hall.

Miss Ruth Ashmore said today that bright colored material had been ordered for curtains to be hung at the windows and the bookcases will be supplied with current magazines.

Miss Thornton Likes Working With Students

"Sure, it's been a lot of work, but I've had a swell time working with the students" reminisced Miss Helen Thornton, dramatic instructor, in reference to work done by the Sock and Buskin Club during the past year.

Since the advent of Miss Thornton, two years ago, Buskinites have given 15 plays, 11 three acts, and 4 one acts.

The club has tackled some dramas that are definitely professional, and has given a good account of itself. To mention a few, "Winterset", "You Can't Take It With You", "Mary of Scotland", and the forthcoming "Vagabond King".

These last two plays will have cost more than all the others combined.

Having spent five years directing plays in a stock company, smiling, energetic Miss Thornton is well equipped to supervise college dramatics.

Campus Lights

The number of campus lights that are broken by students or outsiders is appalling. On numerous occasions the lights are smashed into a thousand pieces by someone who hurls a brick at one.

Every time that one is broken, it costs the college money, for it is absolutely necessary that it be replaced. College students should have more respect for the school's property and should refrain from being so destructive. Surely the students do not realize that they are destroying something that does not belong to them or they would not do it.

Joe Little, freshman from Calvert City was elected president of the Young Democrats of Marshall County at their recent meeting.

"TEX" BEALE ASKS FANS TO PICK ALL-TIME GRID TEAM

Many have argued about who were the best football players Murray has ever had. Some of the "old timers," who have seen them all, will tell you that the best football players were those of the earlier days, while others vow that the modern players are the better. Of course there is no way of telling for sure who was the best, but we are going to take a vote on the question and pick an all-time all-Murray team. The arguments have already started around "Daddy" Trail's barber shop and the Collegiate Inn. Now we want all you Murray football fans to get in on this argument by sending in the names and the positions of the players you think should be on the All-Time all-Murray College team.

the position he played, or the position you think he should have played. Murray has had a lot of great players and it would not be fair to honor only 11 of them in this type of contest; so we are going to pick an all-time all-Murray second team along with the first team. Everyone who has seen a Murray game is entitled to vote for both teams.

Send your selections to G. C. "Tex" Beale in care of Murray State College. All entries must be in the mail on or before May 20, 1940. The official All-Time All-Murray College first and second teams, selected by the fans, will be published in the College News edition of May 27, 1940.

Colts Favored to Keep Purchase Track Honors

13 High Schools Included In Conference

Favored to retain the conference title won in track last year, the Murray Training School plays host this afternoon to track teams representing the 13 high schools of the Purchase Athletic conference.

All member schools have not sent in their registration to date, but it is anticipated by Prof. Clifton Thurman, manager of the meet, that many more schools will send cinder representatives at the last moment.

Aiding Coach Boy Stewart, who will be in charge of all officials in charge of the actual running off of the meet, are the members of the Murray State college athletic department.

The Murray Training School placed first in the meet last year, and the Colts are favored to repeat today. Heading the list of Training School stars who are being counted upon for wins in the meet are Robinson, W. Graham, and Paul Alexander. Joe Robinson placed first in both the 220-yard dash and the 440-yard run in last year's meet, and since then added a victory in the regionals in the quarter mile.

Paul Alexander copped the mile run in the regional meet and placed first in the high jump in the Purchase meet of 1939. The third member of the trio, Wade Graham, is the present champion in the 200-yard low hurdles in both the Purchase conference and the regional divisions. Individual medals for first and second place winners will be awarded. A team trophy, donated by Colonel Harry Dubia of Hickman, will be the property of the team garnering the greatest number of points during the afternoon's competition.

'BREDS LOSE OPENING MATCH AT CARBONDALE

In the first game of the new season, the Southern Illinois State Normal University tennis team defeated the Murray State tennis squad with the score of 7-0 at Carbondale, Ill., April 23.

Unsatisfactory weather conditions have hampered practice on Murray's courts, Coach Walter Blackburn said.

The results of the individual matches:

 3. V. Cox defeated Noel 6-0, 8-6.
 4. Holiday defeated Lewis 6-0, 6-4.
 5. Legion defeated Boaz 6-1, 6-3.
1. J. Cox-Church defeated Pickard-Wilson 6-4, 6-2.
2. Ziegler-Schnoede defeated Noel-Lewis 3-6, 6-0, 6-3.

BROWN ELECTED HEAD OF M CLUB

Joe Brown, junior, Danville, Ky., was elected president of the M Club at its last meeting.

Others elected were as follows: Joe Baker, junior, Greenfield, Tenn., vice-president, and Jackie Inman, junior, Danville, secretary.

Missouri Slated for Murray in Tennis

Still smarting from a 7-0 licking by Southern Illinois Normal University, in Carbondale, Ill., Tuesday afternoon, April 23, Murray State's tennis team, winner of only one varsity match in history, will attempt to break the spell again, Saturday afternoon, April 27, when the racquet-swingers of Southeast Missouri State, Cape Girardeau, will invade the Purchase, the match starting at 2 o'clock.

Murray's card: April 27—Southeast Missouri at Murray. April 30—Lambuth at Jackson, Tenn. May 4—West Tennessee at Memphis. May 7—Western at Bowling Green. May 9—Southern Illinois at Murray. May 14—Western at Murray. May 17—Lambuth at Murray.

AROUND THE TRACK WITH EDDIE MACK

There's no halfway about Murray State's bangtail fans! They either take the long shot or favorite!

With only a week until post time at the Kentucky Derby, we carried our portable typewriter around to get a campus consensus. The Bimelech bandwagon grew heavy with supporters, and a doubtful starter, Robert E. Lee, received support as a possible long shot.

Miss Jane Haselden, who loves pari-mutuels almost as much as she loves the Bluegrass, will play "Bradley across the board", while Miss Mayrele Johnson plans to usher Bimelech home first, Bashful Duck, second; and Roman, third.

The Danville lads who receive tips from such railbirds as Johnny Fetterman and Jitterbug Mills apparently all prefer Bimelech with Andy K placing, and either Bashful Duck or Black Brummel in the show money. Even Arkansas with its hot springs and Billy Silverblatt clings on the Bradley bandwagon.

The terms "old south" or "solid south" can still be applied to many Yankee-conscious southerners still in school at Murray State, as Robert E. Lee, a 30-1 long shot gets the play of such racing experts as Willard Jefferson, Wimpy Harlan, and Eugene McCowan.

Jesse Hahn, fugitive from the Wabash chain gang, strings along with Pictor to win; Flight Command to place; and Bimelech to show.

But here's the way we pick them, so get ready to run to the nearest pari-mutuel window, and bid on those not chosen.

Roman will take the lead at the start and will hold it at the first turn despite the bids of Flight Command and Carrier Pigeon. Bimelech bunched well in the rear. Mioland comes up from a bad start to run fourth on the inside at the next turn, as Andy K runs wide, Flight Command taking over first place as Roman falls back. Bimelech turns on the steam as Bashful Duck makes his bid, and they're bunched at the third turn. On the straightway,

Training School Seniors Present "Sis Perkins" as Benefit Play for Wallace Gordon April 25

The senior class of the Training School presented "Sis Perkins" in the little chapel, Thursday, April 25. The proceeds will go to the Wallace Gordon fund.

This 3-act comedy concerned the story of a wealthy New York family who lost their money. Many plots were planned to regain the lost fortune, such as marrying the son and daughter off to wealthy partners, but without success. At this point a country cousin, Sis Perkins, came to the rescue and solved the family's problems.

Dorothy Broach played the part of Mrs. Elizabeth Chandler, a haughty, aristocratic society matron.

Marcia Chandler, a statuesque type of girl, inclined to be haughty and snobbish, was portrayed by Martha Robertson.

Wells Lovett portrayed the part of Baldwin Chandler, a short, stout boy who was entirely without enthusiasm and whose eyes were constantly encircled with a pair of horn rimmed glasses.

Ben Miller played the part of Carter, a dignified grey haired man in his late forties.

Lydia LaSalle, forever anxious to annex a husband but constantly trying to conceal the fact, was played by Dortha Kelly.

Hugh Perdue played the part of Count Gaston DeLong, a dapper appearing Frenchman, with a decided accent.

Jay Schuyler, a direct contrast to the Chandler family, of a refined manner and obviously a gentleman, was played by Oliver Hood.

"Sis" Perkins, always full of pep but never obnoxious, and who was forever loyal, human, and sincere, was portrayed by Onida Ahart.

Elvira Sniffkins, even more countrified than Sis, was characterized by Dorothy Jones.

Louise Putnam played the part of Violet Astor, a pretty girl who was of high breeding and very refined in her manners.

Commerce Students Debate Question of College Textbooks

The Commerce Club, in its regular meeting Monday, April 15, in the library, heard a debate on the question "Resolved that Teacher Training Institutions are Justified in Using Texts Identical with Those Used in High School With the Exception of Shorthand."

The affirmative side was upheld by James Berry, junior, Paducah, Ky., and Miss Marjorie Meunier, sophomore, Paducah. The negative was argued by J. T. Cooper, senior, Paducah, and Miss Mary Virginia Henry, sophomore, Sturgis.

Curtis Thompson, president, presided over the meeting. The roll was called by Miss Marguerite Taylor, secretary, who read the minutes of the last meeting. The members briefly discussed the Constitution.

There were 29 present including Professors Gingles and Fowler.

The next meeting of the club will be held Monday, April 29.

KEA vacation caused a disturbance in the club meetings on the campus. Both the Kappa Delta Pi and Beta Pi Theta failed to have their regular meetings because of the few days leave last week.

RELATIONS CLUB SURVEYS LEAGUE
Streit's "For Union Now" To Be Reviewed by Group in Near Future
Miss Maurelle Clendenon and Mrs. Lola Rye led discussions on the League of Nations at a meeting of the International Relations Club, Monday, April 15, at the chapel hour.
Attributing the breakdown of the League to its lack of "teeth," the International Clubbers agreed that it, like the World Court, Compulsory Arbitration, and Optional Clauses, was certainly a right step toward permanent peace, but was not the answer. These other plans have been discussed at previous meetings.
Clarence Streit's book, "For Union Now," will probably be discussed at the next meeting, May 6.
Bimelech takes third place, Mioland the lead, and Bashful Duck pulls into second.
At the turn into the stretch, Bimelech comes roaring by on the outside, as Mioland falters slightly. Incolad, bunched for most the race pushes into the home stretch, but it's Bimelech's race. Mioland second, and Incolad third. Bashful Duck finishes a strong fourth, with Flight Command running just out of the money.

I have not yet received any definite threats, but I sense them in the atmosphere. Let me here forewarn. Anyone seeking to stop this column by eliminating drastically its writer will suffer for at least two more issues if copy runs low, for it is written as far ahead as two issues.

I had a clipping of a quote from the NEW RIVER COLLEGIAN all ready to start this column with but the excellent speaker, Mr. Chester Swor, got ahead of me and quoted it in chapel. Therefore I won't quote:

Now I lay me down to sleep, The lecture's dry, the subject's deep; If he should quit before I wake, Give me a poke, for heaven's sake! but instead will quote the lovely little poem from the UNIVERSITY ECHO:

There's the beautiful love of a wonderful maid, And the love of a staunch, true man; And the love of a baby that's unafraid, And all have existed since time began. But the most beautiful love and love of loves, Even greater than that of a mother Is the passionate, tender, infinite love, Of one dead drunk for another.
