For serafina in every form Hood's Sassaaparilla is a radical, reliable remedy. It has an unequalled record of cures.

In acknowledgment.

The ladies of Grace church in congratulating themselves on the marked success which attended their recent bazaar and lunch, offer the most earnest and sincere thanks to all whose efforts and contributions made this success possible. To the generous patronage of many friends which enabled them to add several hundred dollars to their Treasury they are especially grateful.

Life is misery.

To thousands of people who have the taint of scrofula in their blood, the agonies caused by the dreadful, running sores and other manifestations of this disease are beyond description. There is no other remedy equal to Hood's Sassaaparilla for scrofula, scum, rashes and every form of blood disease. It is reasonably sure to benefit, and give it a fair trial. Be sure to get Hood's.

The children and young people of the Methodist church are to have what promises to be one of the most delightful entertainments of the holidays. It is to be a Christmas cantata, and will be given at the opera house to-night. In order to pay the bill rent ten cents admission will be charged.

The funeral of the late James A. Wallace took place yesterday at the residence of Mr. W. F. Gannett, on Eighth street. A large gathering of friends were present to pay the last tribute to his memory. At the conclusion of the services the remains were taken to the city cemetery for interment, followed by a long procession of friends.

It is understood from a reliable official that the L. & N. company will at an early date replace the locomotives now used to draw passenger trains on this division, with improved engines of eight driving wheels. This will be done to facilitate travel and increase the speed of trains. It is said that through passenger trains drawn by these engines will run at the rate of 30 miles per hour.

A highly connected young lady of this city, who for several years has had ague and fever, is now recovering. It has been entirely corrected by the use of Hood's Sassaaparilla. This is not only exceedingly gratifying to her, but also quite complimentary to the medicine. Dr. S. says that he has never known a case of ague and fever so completely cured by any other medicine as this.

There was a quiet wedding up on Liberty street Thursday, a wedding of the kind which is not often witnessed in this city. The bride and groom were Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Riddle. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. L. Nourse. An elegant supper was served at the conclusion of the ceremony and the guests enjoyed it very much. The bride and groom were both of the city and the wedding was a very quiet affair.

Several days ago Tolliver Chapell, an aged negro who is a familiar figure around the Court house and especially conspicuous during elections, was sent to the work house for 30 days being found guilty of assault. His offense was striking a colored man named Jim Gibson and his only motive was the fact that Gibson had voted the Democratic ticket at the late city election. Tolliver, the keeper of the work house, was ordered by the city council to release Tolliver Chapell. He asked to know by what authority he was ordered to do so. The city council was the reply. And Chapell was released and returned to the city to pursue his old vocation.

The City Council met Thursday and remitted all of the fines which the court had assessed against Tolliver. Their eyes were moved to sympathy for the poor fellow, who had been sent to the work house for 30 days because he had struck a colored man named Jim Gibson. The council was moved to sympathy for the poor fellow, who had been sent to the work house for 30 days because he had struck a colored man named Jim Gibson.

A telegram received Saturday evening announced the death of James A. Wallace, a former citizen of Hopkinsville. That sad event occurred in New Orleans Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mr. Wallace had been sick of influenza for several days but his relatives here, who were in constant communication with him, had no idea that the malady would terminate fatally. They were notified by wire that the remains would be forwarded to his city of residence. Many friends of the deceased were at the depot Monday when the train leaving his remains arrived. They were taken as far as the residence of Mr. Walter F. Gannett, on 18th street, where services were held at 10 a. m. Tuesday after which the interment took place at the city cemetery. Mr. Wallace was in the sixtieth year of his age.
