One Killed; Four Injured

While returning from Tiptonville, Sunday afternoon, the Noffel family, of Fulton, were victims of a disastrous automobile accident in which Christine Noffel, eight, suffered a fractured skull, dying shortly afterwards. Her mother, Mrs. George Noffel, 49, is suffering from internal injuries, and her sister, Alice, 18, is seriously injured. Both are in a critical condition. Her father suffered cuts and bruises, and her brother, Alex, was also painfully, but not seriously injured.

Friends of the injured, assisted by passing motorists, got them out of the wreckage and took them to Tiptonville, where first aid was given and then removed to the Baird-Brewer General Hospital at Dyersburg in a Curry ambulance.

The car, which was driven by Alex Noffel, left the highway one mile this side of Tiptonville and turned over several times down an embankment.

H. M. Khourie and family, and Kemlin Homra and family, and the Noffel family had all been to Tiptonville during the day, visiting friends and happened to start back home about the same time. It is said the Noffel car passed the Khourie car and that a tire probably blew out as it passed and went over the embankment.

Funeral services for little Christine Noffel were held Tuesday afternoon from Trinity Episcopal church, conducted by Dr. Johnston. Interment followed in Fairview cemetery.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Everything is being made ready for the big tournament, which is to be held here March 6, 7 and 8. 29 visiting teams are expected to be present. It is estimated that 2,000 persons will attend the big games.

Mr. Aubrey Nugent delivered an interesting address to the high school, Monday.

The work of the health unit is going along nicely under the able direction of Dr. Graff, Miss Housewald, Mrs. Douglass and Dr. Prather. One of the interesting and worthwhile features of this work is the examination of children of pre-school age, and the campaign of education among the mothers.

Miss Phillips of New York, an educational director of note, from Near East, gave an interesting address before the high school recently.

The P. T. A. of West Fulton at their last meeting voted to equip the rest room of Carr Institute with new furniture and draperies.

The faculty play, to be given under the auspices of the P. T. A., will be given Friday evening, March 21. "Intimate Strangers," by Booth Tarkington, will be given. The play will be directed by Miss Eva McKendree of the music department.

The Minute Men and the Basketball squad of Bethel College, met in the local gymnasium Monday night. A most interesting game followed in which the local were defeated after putting up a hard fight.

Miss Ata Lee, state supervisor of home economics, visited the high school last week.

TO OUR CUSTOMERS AND FRIENDS

Having received your patronage for which we are grateful, and having rendered you insurance service for 35 years, our agencies feel that we are now better prepared than ever to meet your needs, as we have completed installation of new Art Metal office equipment, and extend to you a cordial invitation to call and inspect same so you may realize how well we are prepared to meet your requirements with insurance service of all kinds.

The firm of Fall & Colley, Farm Insurance Agents, also extends to their former customers and friends a like invitation.

As you are aware, the undersigned is secretary and manager of the Fulton Building and Loan Association, a $2,000,000 corporation with 1,700 stockholders and $700,000 in assets, of which we are very proud. We take pleasure in inviting you to inspect their splendid equipment also.

Thanking you for past and future patronage and extending to you our entire office facilities in matters of insurance service and loans, we beg to remain,

Respectfully,
Fall & Fall,
By J. E. Fall.

MEETING OF AUXILIARY UNITED SPANISH WAR VETERANS

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the United Spanish War Veterans was held at the home of Mrs. Jessie Harris, February 20, at 7:30 p. m., with the president, Mrs. Harris, presiding. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved and other correspondence was read by the secretary. Next was roll call and payment of dues. Reports of the Patriotic Instructor and Historian were read and approved and ordered sent to State headquarters. Mrs. Alice Pierce was elected delegate to the State Convention to be held at Corbin, Ky., and Mrs. Jessie Harris was elected alternate, with Mrs. Stella Ellis, alternate, to the National Convention, which is held at Philadelphia. The secretary was instructed to send cards to the members who were absent on account of illness. The auxiliary adjourned to meet the third Thursday evening in March.

At the conclusion of the business session, the hostess served Eskimo pies, delicious home made candy and fruit.

THERE'S A MORAL HERE

Did you ever stop to think that hard times mean nothing to a hen? She just keeps on digging worms and laying eggs regardless of what is said about conditions. If the ground is hard, she scratches harder. If it's dry, she digs deeper. She strikes a rock, she works around it. But always she digs up worms and turns them into hard-shelled profits as well as tender broilers. Did you ever see a pessimistic hen? Did you ever know of one starving to death waiting for worms to dig themselves to the surface? Did you ever hear of one cackle because times were hard? Not on your life. She saves her breath for digging and her cackles for eggs.

We're not mentioning any names—but we wonder how many of our readers can find the moral in this.

HANDSOME OFFICE FIXTURES AND EQUIPMENT

Fall & Fall, insurance agents 214 Main Street, are justly proud of their new office equipment. They have recently installed the latest and most modern all steel art metal office counters, fixtures and filing cabinets. They invite their friends and patrons to call and see the new outfit.

Fall & Fall is one of the oldest insurance agencies in this section of country. The organization dates back for more than thirty-five years, and the agency started in Fulton when the town was in the village class and has developed into a gigantic institution, with J. E. Fall in charge. Progress and service have been the keystones of their success and the installation of new Art Metal office equipment is in keeping with the firm's method of doing business.

The firm of Fall & Colley, Farm Insurance Agents, also enjoy an extensive business, and occupy the same offices. Mr. Amos Colley has been in charge of this department for the past sixteen years and no man in the community stands higher in social and business circles.

Besides J. E. Fall and J. A. Colley, Clarence Reed, Miss Elizabeth King and Mrs. Caroline Dumas are the efficient personnel of the office staff.

It will be remembered that Clarence Reed is an old Fulton citizen who held a responsible position in the City National Bank some years ago and will be glad to welcome his friends at Fall & Fall's office now.

Home of B. & L. Association
You know J. E. Fall is secretary and manager of Fulton's $2,000,000 Building and Loan Association and this gigantic institution occupies prominent quarters in the Fall & Fall office.

T. M. Franklin, president of the association, also the directors composed of Arch Huddleston, P. P. Pickering, J. D. Davis, I. H. Read, W. P. Murrell and Joe Browder were among the first visitors to call and congratulate the secretary on the handsome office equipment and the efficient management of the business.

RICEVILLE HAS SPLENDID CHILD HEALTH CONFERENCE

Seventeen lovely children were guided along the joyous road of health, Friday, at Riceville. Conference was held in the Methodist church, and examinations were conducted by Dr. Elsie Graff, Director of Mother and Child Demonstration Unit. More children were in splendid physical condition and mothers were eager to keep them so. Many are in line for blue ribbons, which means that the child must be up to weight, have good posture, good teeth, good tonsils, good vision, good habits of health, protected against diphtheria and smallpox and is an attendant at child health conferences.

Serving as nurses' aids were: Mrs. Ernest Wiley, Mrs. C. L. Holland, Mrs. V. H. Adams, Mrs. J. L. Beard, Mrs. R. L. Crabtree, Mrs. V. E. Windsor and Mrs. J. J. Owen.

Mrs. Florence L. Douglas, county public nurse, and Miss Florence L. Housewald, of the demonstration unit, advised mothers as to health habits and gave out health bulletins.

The children in attendance were: Billy Joe Cheatham, Elma Pauline English, Irma Lee English, James L. Harper, Wallace Howard, Mary Lue Merriam, Marilyn Jean Oliver, Mary Frances Ruddle, Virginia Ann Taylor, Thelma C. Taylor, Doris Tyson, Mary Joe Willey, Marie Dene Willey, Richard Willey, Jr., Joyce Willey.

It is planned to conduct these conferences regularly the third Friday of each month.

Other activities of the week include a child health conference at Hickman and Fulton High school.

On Tuesday, March 4, Dr. Graff will lecture on Child Care at Hickman High, and Wednesday, March 5, will be regular Child Health Conference in Hickman Health Office.

BAILEY HUDDLESTON IMPROVING

Friends of Chief of Police Bailey Huddleston will be glad to learn that reports coming from the Illinois Central hospital, Paducah, say his chances for recovery is more hopeful now than ever.

The Appreciation Fund now being raised is indeed commendable. The large number of contributors show conclusively the love and esteem in which the wounded chief is held by his home people.

I. C. Boosters Meeting

Tuesday night's meeting of the Illinois Central Service Club, with a membership of 325, was said to have been one of the most enjoyable during the history of its organization and largely attended regardless of the inclement weather. The activities of the club deserve the wholehearted support and cooperation of every loyal citizen. Their aim is to promote good fellowship among the employees and to secure new business for the railroad company by rendering better service to the public.

Secretary J. D. Davis, of the Chamber of Commerce, made a timely talk at the meeting, congratulating the club on the work they were doing and assuring the cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce with heart and soul.

Traveling Freight and Passenger Agent H. M. McWhorter, Memphis, made an interesting talk relating to some of his experiences in connection with his line of work.

Supt. H. W. Williams made an inspiring talk in which he complimented the efforts being put forth by the members.

The musical program was a delightful feature as well as the refreshments served by the ladies of the program committee.

W. O. Shankle Wanted on State Highway Commission

A movement was started throughout the First District this week to obtain a place on the reorganized highway commission for W. O. Shankle, former mayor of Fulton.

The bill reorganizing the highway commission has passed both the House and Senate, and it is believed it will pass over a possible veto of Governor Sampson. The boom for Shankle has been started in order to have this section of West Kentucky adequately represented on the new commission.

Considerable support for Shankle has already been pledged from many parts of West Kentucky. He is one of the original good road advocates in this section and has had considerable experience in road building as he served on the Fulton County court for some years.

Beelerton News

Beelerton played two games with Fulton, on their court last Friday night. In the girls game, at first, Beelerton was in the lead, and near the third quarter the score was 23-7 in our favor, but most of our players fouled out, so when the last whistle blew, the score was 27-25 in Fulton's favor. The boys' game was a snappy one and Beelerton won by the score of 22-15.

The line-ups were:
Fulton Girls Beelerton
Huddleston rf Fite
Moore lf Pharis
Hill c Bostick
Douglas rg Cook
Williamson lg Hodge

Beelerton Boys

OUR MESSAGE OF SERVICE

There is going to be a lot of activity in the building line this year. Architects and contractors, carpenters and masons all, are busily sharpening up their pencils and their tools, and getting set for business. It is not the young married folks alone who are going to build homes—who dream dreams of happiness in homes of their own—but many others who have long, too long, been renting the roofs over their heads are going to try this year to realize their desire to have a home of their own.

Whatever you plan to do by way of
BUILDING — REMODELING

You're Safe on I. C. Trains

The saying that one is never safer than when traveling on a railway train is borne out by passenger train statistics for the Illinois Central system in 1929.

Out of a total of 43,000,000 passengers carried by this railroad last year, there were only five fatalities. On this basis, the danger of being fatally injured while traveling on the passenger trains of the I. C. System is so remote that if one were to take an average journey of 22 miles each day, his expectancy of life—if it rested solely upon passenger train accidents—would be 23,502 years or 457 times the normal life span.

1,200 Package Cars Daily

More than 1,200 package-cars are dispatched daily over the Illinois Central System to accommodate shipments of less-than-carload lots. With a definite time of arrival at destination and a record of on-time arrivals of around 95 percent, merchants and other business men are assured of speedy, dependable delivery. From Chicago cars go to approximately 180 cities and from St. Louis there are cars to approximately 70 cities, both on and off this railroad, some of them to points as far distant as San Francisco, Seattle and Havana, Cuba. Package car service is also provided from many other business centers, including Omaha, Louisville, Memphis, Birmingham and New Orleans.

THE COW

The dairy cow's a thing of charm; she lifts the mortgage from the farm, and makes the farmer's life more sweet, and sets him down on easy street. Where'er the dairy cow is queen, a country prosperous is seen, and dairymen, in joyful ranks, are packing billions in the banks. Why plug along the old sad way, producing cotton, corn and hay, and putting up a bankrupt wall if one year's crops should chance to fail? There is a better method now—the method of the dairy cow, this critter always earns her keep and piles up riches while you sleep and pays the taxes and the rent; and here in Dixie, gents, we have the climate and the feed, and all conditions dairies need. So let us boost the Holstein cow, which beats the old breech-loading plow; the Guernsey and the Jersey, too, as smooth as any cow in view. Let's talk up dairies, milk and cream, the safest money-making scheme.—With Apologies to Walt Mason

Turk Claims Judge Warren Biased, Asks His Removal.

Files Affidavit and Motion to Rule Judge From Bench In Divorce Action

Claiming that Judge J. E. Warren, circuit judge of the First Judicial District, will not give him a fair and unprejudiced trial in the divorce suit brought against him by his wife, Mrs. Zanaida Turk, Lucian C. Turk, prominent Bardwell citizen, filed an affidavit and motion in Carlisle county circuit court late Wednesday to require him to vacate the bench.

Turk is under indictment for slaying in Carlisle county in connection with the shooting of his father-in-law, W. S. McCloy. Bardwell hardware merchant, in a pistol duel last summer.

Turk's wife asks divorce, custody of their two children, and alimony in the sum of $36,000.

Turk's affidavit, which was filed at Bardwell by Attorney Miller Hughes of Paducah, representing Turk, alleges that Judge Warren is prejudiced against him and will not give him an impartial trial and recites alleged instances which he charges are evidence of prejudice. He alleges in the affidavit that Judge Warren has acted in such a way in both the criminal prosecution and the action brought by Mrs. Turk for divorce and alimony as would "indicate prejudice and a disposition not to afford him a fair and impartial trial."

Turk is defendant in a criminal prosecution on a charge of murder for the fatal shooting of McCloy August 23, 1929. Turk was seriously wounded in the pistol duel, which took place in front of McCloy's hardware store on the principal business street of Bardwell and is now a patient in Riverside hospital here. He underwent an operation last month.

When his trial was called at Clinton at the opening of the Hickman county circuit court February 3, the case was continued until next term because he was unable to appear in the court room. C. C. Grassham and M. C. Anderson represented Mr. Turk in the criminal action but not in the divorce or bankruptcy action.

The affidavit alleges that the judge over ruled a motion that the defendant be allowed a copy of the transcript of testimony introduced before the grand jury in the death case and that mandamus proceedings against the commonwealth attorney and the grand jury stenographer were taken in order to obtain the copy. The Court of Appeals held that the copy should be furnished Turk.

In entering the motion Turk alleges that "Judge Warren has become so embittered against this defendant that in fairness to himself he ought not to preside in this case and can not do so in such an impartial manner as to afford the defendant a fair and impartial trial of this cause."—Paducah News-Democrat.

WORKING IN TOWN

We've often wondered how many people around Fulton who still consider the auto a luxury have taken into consideration the fact that it has produced an entirely new class of workers in the United States. This is the combination farmer-industrial worker, men and youths who are essentially farmers but who can now work in nearby towns and cities and still look after the farm.

Back in horse-and-buggy days this was impossible. The farm boy, or man, could not get his chores done and get to the canning factory, cotton gin, packing plant, sugar mill or other industry in time to start with the regular force. And it has taken too long of get home after the day's work was done. But it's different now, for by using an auto, and with good roads constantly getting better, they can live on a farm and still work in a town or city five, ten or even 25 miles away.

There is no doubt but this development is doing much to keep the present rural population on the farms. In time it ought to increase it. It also is bringing the factories from the big cities to the smaller towns, since the labor question—the thing that has kept so many factories away from the smaller towns—can now be solved satisfactorily. The process is not complete, but each year sees more and more rural residents using the auto to hold down industrial jobs in town. And more roads and better roads will add to the number, as well as to the general prosperity of the country.

PROTECTING CHILDREN

When figures covering deaths by auto accidents in the U. S. were recently given out by the National Safety Council it revealed that more than 300 children had been killed in rural school buses in 1929. And the states in which the accidents occurred got busy doing what should have been long ago. They began taking steps to safeguard the lives of rural children.

In Ohio alone 20 children have been killed this year as the result of school busses being struck by trains. In every instance the accidents could have been avoided. Now the state is going to compel all school bus drivers to pass a rigid test as to ability to drive. And other states are preparing to enact laws that will safeguard childish lives.

It certainly is high time. Children in our larger cities are protected by traffic officers, junior patrols, signal lights and other devices—why are not the children of our rural communities entitled to equal consideration? We believe everyone around Fulton will agree with us when we say that in the past state legislatures have devoted too much time to enacting laws to regulate traffic in the more congested centers and not enough time to the passage of laws that will afford protection to rural communities and the smaller towns where life is just as precious. The staggering death toll of innocent children recorded in 1929 is all the argument needed to prove the truthfulness of this.

DANGEROUS DAYS

The season of shifting temperatures is with us again, and for the next several weeks to come you'll probably encounter more "sniffing and sneezing" around Fulton than you'll notice at any other time of year. Doctors call it the most dangerous season of the year, and they never cease to warn us to be careful of sudden atmospheric changes, that bring colds and lung ailments. And these often develop into an illness that results fatally. Get plenty of fresh air—but avoid drafts. Drink plenty of fresh water and sleep with an open window. Avoid overheated rooms. Keep your feet dry, and if you should get wet, don't wear the garments while they are drying out but change clothing immediately. Simple hints, every one of them, yet sufficient to save a life. Fresh air never yet killed anyone, and neither did anyone ever get too much of it at this season of the year. Keep that in mind. See that the children get their share, too, and we'll have both a happier and a healthier community, with little to fear from this season of sudden changes.

NOTICE

From City Treasurer

WHEREAS, the Board of Council, of the city of Fulton, Kentucky, has by ordinance adopted on February 11, 1930, and published in the issue of the Fulton Advertiser of said city of date February 21, 1930, assessed and levied local taxes against the property abutting on certain streets and parts of streets in said city, known as Improvement District Number Five, improved under an ordinance of said city adopted July 1, 1929, entitled, "An ordinance providing for the improvement, construction and reconstruction of certain streets and parts of streets, including curbing and guttering, in the City of Fulton, Kentucky, to be known as Improvement District Number Five."

THEREFORE, NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT all persons upon whose property said local taxes have been assessed and levied shall pay same in cash without interest within thirty days from February 21, 1930, or at their option, they may pay same in ten annual installments as follows: One-tenth of the tax, with interest on the entire tax, at the time fixed by law for the payment of general city taxes occurring next after the expiration of the thirty days allowed for payment in cash, and annually thereafter one-tenth of the entire tax, until the whole is paid; at the end of each six months from the time the first installment of the tax becomes due, interest shall be due and payable for such six months on all unpaid installments of the tax, provided that any person may, at any interest-paying period after the fifth annual installment of his tax becomes due, pay the entire assessment of tax against his property with accrued interest.

HOWEVER, any property owner who desires to exercise such privilege of payment by installments shall before the expiration of the said thirty days allowed for payment in cash enter into an agreement in writing with said city, and filed with the City Treasurer, that in consideration of such privilege he will make no objection to any illegality or irregularity with regard to the taxes against his property, and that he will pay the same in the manner herein set forth with specified interest. Forms for such agreement may be obtained from the city treasurer or city clerk of said city.

In all cases where such agreements have not been filed with the City Treasurer within the time limit of thirty days allowed for payment in cash, the entire tax shall be payable in cash without interest before the expiration of said thirty days; and such tax not paid within said thirty days shall bear interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum from February 21, 1930.

This February 15, 1930.
A. M. NUGENT,
City Treasurer.

Lesson for March 2JESUS TEACHING ABOUT HIMSELF

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 11:2-12:50.
GOLDEN TEXT—"Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest."
PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus the Friend of All.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus the Great Helper.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Who Jesus Was.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Our Lord's Testimony Concerning Himself.

1. How the Kingdom Was Received (ch. 11).

In showing the attitude of heart of the people, four classes of hearers are described.

1. The perplexed hearers, like John the Baptist (vv. 2-11).

John believed that Jesus was the Christ (v. 2), but was somewhat perplexed as to the manner of the establishment of the kingdom. The Baptist had in his preaching mainly emphasized the line of prophecy which made the King to be a mighty conqueror (Matt. 3:10-12). He said that the ax is laid unto the root of the tree and that there was to be a separation of the chaff from the wheat and a burning of the chaff. John saw Christ as the one who would remove the sins of the people by the shedding of His blood (John 1:29), but he failed to see the interval between the time of His suffering and the time of His triumph.

2. Violent hearers (vv. 12-19).

These were willing to receive the kingdom according to their own way, but were unwilling to conform to its laws. They seized it with violent hands. They would not repent when called upon to do so by John, nor rejoice to do so when called upon by Christ (vv. 17-19).

3. The stout-hearted unbelievers (vv. 20-24).

In Chorazin, Bethsaida and Capernaum, Christ had done most of His mighty works, but the people deliberately set their hearts against Him and His message. Tyre and Sidon were filled with immoral profligates and idolaters, but they will be more tolerably dealt with in the Day of Judgment than will those who willfully reject Jesus Christ.

4. Hearers who are babes in spirit (vv. 25-30).

There were some among the people who heard Jesus with childlike faith. They believed that Jesus was the Messiah and opened their hearts to receive Him.

11. The Antagonism to Jesus (ch. 12).

In chapter eleven we saw the shameful indifference of the Jews to their King. In this chapter we see the positive and bitter antagonism manifesting itself against Him. The immediate occasion of their wicked determination was Christ's relation to the Sabbath.

1. The Son of Man is Lord of the Sabbath (vv. 1-8).

The hungry disciples were plucking corn on the Sabbath. With this the Pharisees found fault. To their cavils Christ replied, and showed that God's purpose in instituting the Sabbath was to serve man's highest interests and to contribute to his happiness.

(1) He is greater than their great King, David (vv. 3, 4). (2) He is greater than their sacrifice and priesthood (v. 5). (3) He is greater than the temple (v. 6). The temple, with its gorgeous rites and ceremonies, was but typical of Himself. (4) He is greater than the Sabbath (v. 9), for He is the very Lord of the Sabbath.

2. Healing the withered hand (vv. 9-14).

In order that they might accuse Him, they asked, "Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath days?" Jesus' reply was both a question and a declaration.

3. The unpardonable sin (vv. 22-32).

The occasion of their blasphemy against the Holy Ghost was the casting out of the demon. In this act, Christ displayed His power to cast out demons. The effect of this miracle was twofold: (1) Upon the multitude. They were amazed, and cried out, "Is not this the son of David?" (2) Upon the Pharisees. When they heard what the people were saying, their anger and satanic malice were aroused. They said He was casting out demons by the prince of the demons. With unanswerable logic, He met their accusations and demanded decision. He charged home upon them their awful guilt. They had attributed the work of the Holy Spirit to the devil. This Christ calls the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost, for which there is no pardon.

The Last Step Wins

It is the last step that wins, and there is no place in the pilgrim's progress where so many dangers lurk as the region that lies hard by the portals of the celestial city. It is when heaven's heights are full in view that hell's gate is most persistent and full of deadly peril.—A. B. Simpson.

Little Rachel Webb, who has meningitis, seems to be some better at this writing.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Coleman, a boy, also a boy arrived at the home of Bubber Foster and wife.

Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Rodgers Tibbs, wife of John Wesley Tibbs, died February 19, 1930 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Emma Cavender. She had been afflicted about 13 years, but her death was unexpected. She was born March 11, 1856, making her stay on earth 73 years, 11 months and 8 days. She united with the Methodist church at Bethlehem some 30 years ago and lived a faithful member until death. She leaves two daughters, Mrs. Emma Cavender, of Duke-dom and Mrs. Dona Grissom of Water Valley, ten grandchildren and ten great grandchildren. Three sisters, Mrs. Johnnie Rhodes, Mrs. Susan Owens and Mrs. Fuller and one brother, besides a host of relatives and friends. Ma, as she was called, will be greatly missed by her loved ones as she was ever ready to lend a helping hand, but she said "she was willing and ready to go when the Lord called her." Funeral services were held at Old Bethel by Bro. Dunn, after which she was laid to rest in that cemetery beneath a flower covered grave.

Doyle Fields suffered an attack of tonsillitis last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose McClain and son, Ambrose, Jr., of Detroit, are visiting relatives near here.

Miss Mildred Vincent entertained a few young people last Saturday night. All report a nice time.

Tobacco is moving out as rapidly as can be handled. Some was sold to buyers and some over loose leaf floors. Prices not so favorable.

Messrs. Chap Johnson and Dave Mathis sold two hogs last week. Hog prices are advancing and hogs are scarce around here.

Mr. L. B. Lassiter has suffered intensely for several days with his leg. The doctor advises him to stay off his feet as much as possible.

JUST LIKE HOME FOOD

Smith's Cafe is in reality a home-like restaurant because it has been trying to overcome the prevalent idea that restaurants can't serve food like you get at home.

Scores of patrons will testify that there is no difference between our meals and the meals they get at home. That's the reason they eat here so regularly.

Years spent in catering to the appetites of particular people make it possible for us to serve wholesome, tasty meals.

The next time you feel like eating away from home, bring your family here.

FARM NOTES

By H. C. Brown,
County Agent

Pasture Mixtures Spell Better Pastures

The real value of good pastures is very seldom realized by the farmer and stockman. Pastures furnish the best and cheapest and best possible feed for all classes of livestock, and at the same time improve the soil so that larger and better crops can be grown. Care should be used in selecting the pasture grasses in order that grazing will be furnished over a longer period of time. Many pastures are good early and late in the season but fail to furnish grazing during the summer season when green feed is so much needed.

A mixture gives a longer period of grazing, furnishes a greater variety, yields a crop richer in protein, and makes a better balanced ration, than grasses sown separately. But it does not pay to sow in a mixture any grass that will not do well alone.

In choosing the grasses to go into the mixture such varieties should be selected that the good qualities of one will balance points in which the other is deficient. For example, the grass that forms roots on the surface is not desirable from the standpoint of fertility; another may send its roots fairly deep, but not be as suitable for pasture grass as the other.

The two make a combination well adapted to grazing and maintaining soil fertility. Pasture mixture grasses should be selected with respect to their periods of growth so that grazing may be done through the longest possible period.

A small amount of various clovers should be included in all pasture mixtures, as legumes not only feed the grasses by pumping plant foods from great depths to the surface, but also supply them with nitrogen taken from the air and no doubt greatly increase the protein content of the grasses. A small amount of alfalfa will do much towards getting the soil inoculated. White clover will grow where nothing else will and alsike does well in wet places. It must be remembered that the kind of grasses to use depends upon the locality. Even in a single field, parts will be adapted to one grass and parts to another.

Suggested grass and clover mixtures:

2 lbs. red clover, 2 lbs. alsike, 1 lb. sapling, 2 lbs. sweet clover, 1 lb. alfalfa, 2 lbs. lespedeza, to replace the ordinary 8 lbs. of red clover seed per acre.

Add to the above mixture 3 to 5 lbs. each of two grasses such as timothy, reedtop, orchard-grass, Kentucky blue-grass.

This mixture can be sown broadcast in wheat, rye, barley or oats, from February 15 to the middle of May. If this seeding is on land last year in corn and now going into oats or possibly no nurse crop, the ground should not be plowed but only disked in.

For further information see your county agent.

ALFALFA PRODUCTION

Spring Sowing

Seventy-five per cent of all alfalfa in the United States is sown in the spring. Use ten pounds of seed per acre. Common western grown seed is as good as any winter hardy sorts in Kentucky and costs less. Sow any time from February to late May. The earlier sown is most apt to withstand summer drought. If early seedings are frozen, there is still time to re-sow before it is too late.

The seed bed for early sowing is generally too wet to be stirred by any implement of cultivation; consequently most of the early seeding in on wheat, rye or barley, all of which are good nurse crops. If the nurse crop is to be grazed this will benefit rather than harm the alfalfa until the alfalfa plants are several inches high and the small grain all eaten off. Later sowings are usually made in oats. When sown with oats the amount of oat should be very much less to prevent choking out the young alfalfa plants.

The alfalfa seed must be inoculated either with commercial culture according to directions on the container or with soil from an alfalfa or sweet clover field. If soil is used, the alfalfa seed may be moistened with a pint of water to the bushel of seed, then stir in a pint of pulverized soil to the bushel of seed and spread to dry in a layer not over an inch deep, stirring at intervals. Do not expose the inoculated seed to sunshine. Sow after well dry. The seed should be sown as soon as well dry, as the culture may become ineffective on long drying of the seed.

Broadcast sowing is the rule during the early wet season. Later, when some soil cover is advisable, drills may be used and thus save preparation of the ground, especially in wheat, rye or barley fields.

Where oats is the nurse crop, the field nearly always was in corn last year and should be disked for oats seeding—not broken with a plow. Never plow land in the spring to sow alfalfa, except when it is necessary to break it for the oats, nor should alfalfa be sown after breaking a sod until one year of cultivated crops.

Fall Sowing

The cheapest and best seed bed is secured by harrowing a soybean or cowpea stubble, an early harvested tobacco patch or potato field. However, land may be broken in July or early August and immediately worked down well. The best time for fall seeding is between August 10 and 20.

Soils of this section should have at least 300 to 400 pounds of phosphate per acre—to grow alfalfa successfully.

Trade among Friends

No matter what some folks say to the contrary, there certainly is a lot of sentiment in business. Friendship, for instance, makes more satisfactory sales than all the cleverness and argument in the world.

You like to trade at a certain store—not because its counters are arranged in a scientific way, but because the folks who serve you are always friendly and helpful.

Just that very thing—FRIENDLY SERVICE—is the power that draws people together into communities like this, where everybody can enjoy the many benefits of neighborly cooperation.

And FRIENDLY SERVICE is the sentimental reason why you find it very much to your advantage to trade with our advertisers—to buy where you feel at home, where your friends will see that you are well satisfied.

Modern Meat Pies

IN mediaeval days, before the invention of forks, meat pies used to be made in huge sizes and eaten with the fingers. This custom is referred to in Robert Browning's rousing poem "Marching Along" in the lines:

"Cavaliers up! Lips from the cup,
Hands from the pasty, nor bile take nor sup
Till you're
Marching along, fifty score strong,
Great hearted gentlemen, singing
this song."

Today we are more individualistic, and not only eat our meat pies with forks, but frequently have a small one all to ourselves. A meat pie that might tempt you to eat with your fingers even nowadays, if no-one were looking, is the following one:

Beef and Vegetable Shepherd Pie: Cook one-half cup chopped onion and one-half cup chopped parsley in three tablespoons butter for about three minutes. Combine the leopards from an 8-ounce can of dried carrots and a 10 1/2-ounce can of stringless beans, and add sufficient water to make one cup. Smooth two tablespoons flour with this mixture, and add slowly to the first mixture, stirring until thick and smooth. Add one and one-half cups evaporated milk slowly, and cook again till thick. Season to taste, add the contents of one 12-ounce can of roast beef cut in cubes, and pour into a baking dish. Top with fluffy seasoned mashed potatoes, and bake in a hot oven—375°—for fifteen to twenty minutes. This serves 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12.

Fulton Will Be Host to First District Tournament

Fulton's high school basketball teams will, on March 6, 7 and 8, act as host to the First District tournament. Fulton's beautiful gym is the pride of west Kentucky and a wonderful place to hold the meet.

Those boys and girls who make up Fulton's teams are in every respect true sportsmen, showing that sportsmanlike spirit in every game they play. No doubt but that all of the 29 teams entered will feel that spirit of sportsmanship and good-fellow-likeliness in the very atmosphere when all gather to open what surely will be the greatest First District tournament ever held.

Fulton girls are snappy and fight from start to finish and will make someone sit up and take notice in the Tri-County at Bardwell on February 28 and March 1 as well as the First District fight.

Miss Huddleston, the captain and field general of the team, works like an army officer and with Misses Williamson and Douglass forms a defense of the best type. Miss Douglass, who has been back on the team only a short time, due to the fact that she had her finger broken, is making fast steps to capture a place on the all-star guarding list.

Miss Hill, a center worthy of the place, plays all pivot positions well and renders great service to her team. Misses Homra, McWheater and Moore are the goal makers, as they should be.

Fulton boys are not left out for they, too, have the spirit of fight and are good sports with it.

Any team that plays them will have their hands full. While the boys are not outstanding in any one position, they form a team where players are built around positions and not positions around players. Hummel, Buckingham, Beadles, Shuck, Williamson, Dunn, Johnson and Fall form Fulton's key players to all positions and they play those positions with great form. Coach Killebrew's boys need only last minute work outs to fit themselves for both the Tri-County and the First District meets.

When the whistle blows you will find Fulton, both player and fan, ready to go and cast their lot.

Crippled Veteran Is Cut by Man on Motor Coach

Mayfield, Ky., Feb. 22—Sergeant L. McCloskey, veteran of the World War, a cripple, is in the Mayfield hospital in a serious condition, the result of knife wounds said to have been inflicted by Hugh Eddings, resident of Fulton, at present a tobacco worker here.

McCloskey was stabbed in the neck when Eddings is alleged to have demanded that he remove a large oil painting which he had placed beside him in the seat on a motor bus. The cutting occurred inside a bus which had just left the station at Mayfield, southbound. McCloskey's wound is serious but doctors said he has a chance to recover.

According to witnesses of the affray, McCloskey occupied a seat in the bus when it reached Mayfield. Eddings starting for his home in Fulton to spend the week end, got on the bus at Mayfield. As he was about to be seated, he is said to have quarrelled with McCloskey about the space he was occupying in the bus. Passengers said that McCloskey had an oil portrait on the seat beside him, and Eddings asked him to move it. When McCloskey refused, Eddings is alleged to have attached the cripple. McCloskey struck Eddings, passengers in the bus said; and then Eddings drew a knife and slashed at his adversary.

Passengers and the bus driver separated the men and they were taken off the bus. McCloskey was attended by surgeons at the Mayfield hospital. The knife entered his cheek at the corner of his mouth and caused a cut extending around the side of his head.

Eddings was placed in the Graves county jail on a charge of malicious cutting.

McCloskey has been a patient in a veterans' hospital in the west. He was en route from Los Angeles to the south. He is a cripple, using crutches to walk, and also a paralytic.

Brieflets

When a homely woman marries a good-looking man there isn't a woman in Fulton who doesn't believe but that he'll eventually be coaxed away from her by a good-looking girl.

It's a funny world. A crook loses his freedom for bad behavior but that's the way a married man gains his.

Just from the glimpse at the footwear worn on feminine feet we'd say the corn plaster makers are not complaining of poor business.

Whenever you find a model husband around Fulton the chances are he's an 1890 model.

Russia says she has "pronounced ideas of freedom." But the trouble is the other nations can't pronounce them.

It isn't the styles that are so ridiculous. It's the stuffing that's in them.

Our idea of an ideal husband is the Fulton man who acts married even if his wife doesn't happen to be around.

Maybe the reason that Georgia beetlelegger set up his still in the cemetery was so his customers could see their finish.

Edison says we will soon be making tires out of weeds. Well, that will beat makings cigars out of them.

Fulton homes have it over city restaurants in one respect. You can always trust the hash at home.

It won't be long now until the tin-can tourist will again be changing tires oftener than he changes shirts.

They're making a motor car that runs by itself, without a driver. But they've never yet made one that will pay the repair bills.

Maybe if the Fulton girl of today used the same old haircloth sofa her mother used she'd wear six petticoats, too.

Our idea of a nice, soft easy job would be that of secretary of an Anti-Horsethief Association in Detroit.

And come to think of it, many a man has a kick coming that never reaches him.

When a Fulton girl celebrates her birthday she doesn't take a day off. She takes off about two years.

You can always know it was a bad collision if neither of the drivers are able to get up and argue about it.

Yes the Coleman IS Different

You'll quickly see that the Coleman Cooker is different from other stoves the minute you see the Gas Prohibitor demonstrated. This exclusive Coleman device is years ahead—the result of more than a quarter century of Coleman engineering skill. It lights instantly and in a minute or less the burners are ready with a clear, clean, hot blue flame.

Coleman Cookers Make Their Own Gas

Besides this miracle of speedy cooking convenience, you'll find many other features that make the Coleman different—features that make a big difference in your daily preparation of meals.

Just think what a difference it would make in each day's household duties to have gas service for cooking... with its speed, its comfort and its economy. The Coleman gives you that wonderful convenience... no matter where you live. It makes and burns its own gas from regular clear-white gasoline. No piping, wiring or installation expense whatever.

And what a difference to have your kitchen free from soot, dirt... blackened pots and pans. The Coleman Range brings you that freedom. Ceilings, curtains and walls stay clean longer when you have this modern range.

You'll find the Coleman makes a difference in the cost of preparing each meal, too. Cooks a meal for the average family on less than 2 cents' worth of fuel.

There are other features about the Coleman Range that make cooking entirely different. Come in and see them. Pick yours. There's a style and size for every cook and kitchen.

POULTRY

(By J. T. Watkins)

Mr. Kilpatrick, who has charge of this section of Kentucky in the farm work was here last week and besides outlining enough work for the County Agent to keep him busy all year also attended a meeting of the Farm Board Directors. While we are always given a lot of work to do we are always glad to have Kil come and visit us.

We were called out to the farm of Tom Jolly last week to inspect the new brooder house Mrs. Jolly has had built (I can't give Tom the credit for this as he is a cow man.) The house is built according to her own plans and we will say with a few exceptions it is all O. K. It will last for several years and will turn out many a fine broiler. While at the farm she called up her flock of Reds. Say, she has got a dandy bunch of Reds, beautiful color, some type class birds, and as a whole they are above the average flock of farm Reds.

A couple of weeks ago I asked a series of questions of the breeders about what they thought about our efforts along the line of better poultry, but as yet I haven't received a single answer to my inquiries. It looks to me like they don't care if we go on or not.

Well, I will try another tack. I'll ask the merchants, who always foot the bills, about four questions and see what they think.

1. Are you satisfied with the way I conduct the poultry plan each year?
2. Are you willing to have better shows each year, or do you think we have gone far enough along with the project?
3. Are you still willing to make your donations as heretofore to insure a good live show?
4. Do you think this is well spent money and a good form of advertising?

You know it is getting close to time for us to begin making our drive for the show to be held in connection with the County Fair, and while we enjoy doing this kind of work, we still want to know if it is appreciated. While as a majority the merchants of this city have always dealt nobly with us in the way of funds, still there are some who have never in the five years I have run the show donated one penny towards putting the show over big. The Fair Association have done everything within their power to make the poultry show a success and will continue to do so, for they can see far enough ahead to realize the possibilities of the poultry industry, and know this is one of the feature attraction of the fair.

We have organized about 75 4-H poultry club members in this county, and I am going to try to get each one to enter some of their stock in the show. If the other four counties in the fair association will do 1-3 as well can't you see we will have the largest county fair show in the United States? We should have, at least 1,000 birds here this year, if we do I defy any county fair in the whole country to do as well. Of course, State shows and the larger winter shows will have more entries but no county fair, and if we have that large an entry they will know it from Maine to California. SELAH!

This spring-like weather sounds like young chickens to me. Small flocks are beginning to appear in the farm yards, while the hatcheries are turning baby chicks out by the thousands.

There should be one million baby chicks hatched and bought for Fulton county this season. Don't be afraid, there will be a market for all you can produce. Of course the market will fluctuate but as a whole you should get a good price for your stock.

When the gentle warm spring days come and everything is so pleasant it makes me wish I was a millionaire. I wouldn't go in for golf, fine yachts, nor such little things as that, but believe me, I would have one chicken farm and it would be a dandy. I'd have every kind of chicken that is in the STANDARD, except frizzles and rumples, none of them for me. But I'd have enough different birds so I could put me on a show every few days of my own, and then maybe I'd get my fill of a chicken show for once in my life. But as Shakespeare, Bill Nye, or maybe the Commentator said: "Of all sad words of tongue or pen, the saddest are these that might have been."

IT WENT THROUGH

We're more than glad to announce that the Senate has passed the Dowell-Phipps bill which increases federal aid for highways from $75,000,000 to $125,000,000 a year for the next three years. Every good road enthusiast around Fulton should throw his hat in the air, for it took a long, hard fight to get it. It may not mean a mile of new road in our immediate vicinity this year or next, but every mile of road built anywhere in the United States helps this and every other community in an indirect way. Later on we will benefit directly because our own state will now have a greater opportunity to get its share of federal road aid when it is prepared to meet the requirements necessary to securing it. It's a big victory for the good roads advocates of the nation, this increased appropriation. It means, too, that still more of our federal taxes and revenues are going to be put where it will bring real benefits.

GOOD NEWS

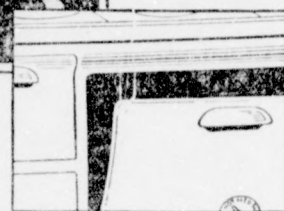

Here it is! The new Charter Oak Stream Line Range

Here is the greatest improvement in ranges ever announced! A real Stream Line range—no corners, cracks or bolts to catch dirt—you can wipe the smooth enameled surfaces of the Charter Oak 80 in an instant. Always looks new. Even the door hinges are entirely concealed. Every square corner on the old style range is made a round corner on the Charter Oak Stream Line. Door handles are actually part of the door. Legs are filled in solid where they rest on floor—no chance for dust even there. Shaker is waist high, conveniently reaches to the range yet always out of the way. Ash chute guides all ashes into pan. Flues are very easy to clean out.

A Perfect Baker

These are just a few of the new features which you can get only in the Charter Oak Stream Line. You must see this range with its remarkable even in order to appreciate it. Extra large flues around oven assure quick and uniform baking. Automatic Oven Heat Control keeps oven heat steady and uniform. Just set the dial for high, medium or low. If you are going to buy a range

COMMUNITY COOKING

COMMUNITY cooking, a modern development foretold by Henry Ford, is actually here. It has come about without our realizing it. This development is due to the canning industry. In addition to the plain foods in cans which can be served cold, just as they are, or heated and served, there are now many made dishes all ready to heat and serve.

These made dishes include Beef à la Mode, Hungarian Style Goulash, Chicken Curry, Chicken à la King, Chop Suey, Lobster Newburg, baked beans, alone, with tomato sauce and with pork, fruits for salad (which should be chilled, not heated), succotash, cod fish balls, cod fish cakes, deviled crabs, Boston Brown Bread, Chili Con Carne, plum puddings, spaghetti with tomato sauce, roast beef, beef stew, beef steak with onions, chicken tamales, Irish stew, stewed kidney, liver with bacon or onions, roast mutton, sausage with sauerkraut, boiled tripe, roast veal, fruit cake, Fiskeville, creamed white potatoes, more than two dozen soups, whole chickens roasted in cans, and even an entire Mexican dinner sent to you all in one package.

There Are Others, Too. With this wide variety of canned made dishes from which to select, it is possible to devise nearly any kind of dinner with a minimum of cooking and preparation, or even with no preparation at all. And the above list is not all-inclusive. There are other made dishes, canned in small quantities, from which to choose.

One of the latest made dishes to be put on the market are the whole cooked chickens in a tin can. Before being cooked, the birds are inspected for wholesomeness by representatives of the Bureau of Agriculture, Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture, operating under a nation-wide inspection service for the condition and quality of dairy and poultry products.

A Complete Mexican Meal

Here's how the whole Mexican meal in one package, which we mentioned above, can be made into either a luncheon or a dinner. This package contains a can of tamales, a can of chili con carne, a can of Mexican style beans, two cans of deviled sandwich spread and a bottle of chili powder. The menu for the luncheon to be made from these materials plus one or two staple foods is:

Bean Salad on Lettuce Leaf
Deviled Sandwich Spread
Sambuchies
Hot Shoe-String Potatoes
Tamales with Chili Con Carne
Rolls
Coffee

For the salad, you use the can of Mexican style beans, a cup of sliced celery, one-half cup chopped nuts (preferably vacuum-packed), two tablespoons chopped onions, four tablespoons heavy salad dressing, one tablespoon salt, and the lettuce leaves.

The sandwich filling consists of one can of Deviled Sandwich Spread, one dill pickle, chopped fine, four tablespoons mustard salad dressing, two hard boiled eggs and salt.

For the Shoe-String potatoes, cut one-half pound potatoes in strings and cook them in hot, deep fat. Drain and then sprinkle with salt and some of the chili powder.

Serve on each plate two tamales with the chili con carne poured over as a sauce. All the products in the package are ready to serve and require only heating. The beans and chili con carne should be heated fully twenty minutes in the can before opening, and the tamales thirty minutes.

A Red Hot Dinner

Here's the red hot dinner that can be made with the contents of this package and a few staple articles of food such as are found in every kitchen. The menu is:

Tamales covered with Chili Con Carne
Deviled Sandwich Spread Croquettes
Escalloped Corn and Oysters
Mexican Style Beans
Bread Mexican Salad Coffee

Serve the first course as an appetizer just as it comes from the cans. For the Deviled Sandwich Spread Croquettes you need the two cans of Spread, one cup of mashed potatoes, two hard boiled eggs, two tablespoons minced parsley, Mix, mould, roll in crumbs, in raw beaten eggs, then in crumbs again, and cook in deep fat.*
