Mr. Irby was for many years prominent in the business, church and social activities of this community. He came to Fulton some 35 years ago, and for many years operated a drug store here until poor health forced his retirement. He was born in 1868 at Whiteville, Tenn., on September 27, 1894 he married Miss Vaira Stuart. He is survived by his widow; two sons, Floyd Irby of Shawnee, Okla., and Rochelle of Los Angeles; one sister, Mrs. N. J. Early in life Mr. Irby joined the Baptist church, and was a faithful member of the First Baptist church of this city during his many years of residence here. He was a man highly respected by his fellow man, and was esteemed by all who knew him. He served as a member of the Fulton city council, and was active in numerous community activities. He will be missed by the community, and the host of friends who will extend sympathy to the bereaved relatives.

Many improvements are to be inaugurated at the Baldrige 5c - 10c Store, of this city, according to A. G. Baldrige, proprietor. The front of the store is to be refinished in a new beige shade, and the windows redecorated. Inside improvements will include refinishing the ceilings, walls and fixtures, and the addition of several new counters and display cases. A new queensware counter will be installed at the rear of the store, after some remodeling has been done, and a beautiful ivory finished candy case will be innovated to take the place of the present one.

Mr. Baldrige who believes in keeping abreast of the times, states that these improvements will be the most extensive made in recent years, and should add to the convenience and service of his store.

Many readers of The News participated in the Silhouette Contest sponsored by the following Fulton firms last week: Baldrige's, Bob White Motor Co., Stephenson's Grocery, Louise Killebrew, Florist, Evans Drug Co., Jones Auto Parts Co., M. A few weeks ago in this column I suggested that horns be eliminated from all motor vehicles. Some of my friends, in commenting on this, said the idea was too radical—that such a change would immediately cause a tremendous increase in accidents.

Would it? Whenever weather conditions are extremely bad for driving, such as fog, sleet, ice and snow, communities pride themselves that no motor vehicle fatalities have been reported during such a period. The reason is this: all drivers become more careful when driving conditions are bad. If the elimination of the horn would control some of the thoughtless driving habits by slowing us down, then the idea cannot be too radical.

If you care to write, I shall be glad to receive your criticisms or suggestions. Please write me in care of this newspaper.

Mr. and Mrs. Noble Butterworth of Paducah, Ky., spent the week end with friends and relatives here.

Mrs. W. A. Malone from Jackson, Tenn., is the house guest of her sister, Mrs. W. C. Valentine on Pearl street.

CHAMBER COMMERCE NAMES NEW OFFICERS

The annual election of officers and directors was held Monday night by the Fulton Chamber of Commerce, when a good crowd of local business men and citizens gathered at the Rainbow Room to enjoy a dinner meeting. Leon Browder, retiring president, presided over the meeting.

The following members were chosen as officers and a board of directors for the ensuing year: Hoyt Moore, president; Paul Hornbeak, vice president; Joe Davis, secretary; Mrs. Wilmon Boyd, assistant secretary; L. Kasnow, treasurer; Abe Thompson, Leon Browder, Frank Beadles, John Earle, Clyde Williams and R. E. Sanford composing the other members of the board.

It was decided that during the coming year the usual luncheon meetings will be held. Among several pertinent subjects discussed was the completion of the Third-st bridge project, and promiscuous solicitation of donations and so-called advertising by outsiders and local organizations as money-making schemes to the detriment of local business firms and legitimate advertising mediums such as the local newspapers.

It was proposed that a secret committee be named by the Chamber of Commerce, whose approval must be obtained before these promiscuous solicitations may be made among local merchants. This plan was adopted several years ago and worked for a while, it was pointed out, and it is believed that it would be of material help in protecting the best interests of local firms from illegitimate, so-called advertising.

Better Conditions In School Attendance

The city schools report many cases of influenza and a few cases of pneumonia, but according to the superintendents of both schools, conditions are growing better daily. On Wednesday 10 were absent from Terry Norman, 32 from Fulton High and 86 from Carr Institute. The absence of pupils from the colored school is about normal with 6 or 8 absent each day.

Mr. Cox, superintendent of South Fulton Schools, reports 71 absent from grade school and 17 from high school, a total of 88. This is a decrease of 34 since Tuesday, when 122 were absent.

Mr. Choate was driving toward Hickman when he apparently lost control of the car and crashed through the guard rail. The car landed upside down and the door had to be forced open before the bodies could be removed.

Ben Tucker, 50, negro, only other occupant of the car was seriously injured. Nearby residents summoned a doctor and a local undertaker.

Williams Hardware Co. To Bring Hollywood Feature To Fulton

"The Tuttle Tugger" To Be Shown Here As Part of John Deere Day Program

"The Tuttle Tugger" an all-Hollywood talking picture, will be the main feature of Williams Hardware Co. John Deere Day program which will be held at Williams Hardware Co., 207 Fourth Street on Wednesday, March 1 at 1:30 p. m.

According to advance reports, you won't want to see this picture if it hurts you to laugh, because it is one hearty laugh after another, with just room enough between to catch your breath.

In the cast of Hollywood entertainers are: Arthur Lake, Victor Potel, Greta Meyers, Judith Allen, Agnes Ayres, Jack Rice, Allen Caven, and many others.

"The Tuttle Tugger," is the story of a salesman and a saleslady who get their sample cases mixed up, and—what a mix-up it causes! Leroy Bagley, the new milking machine salesman for the Tuttle Tugger company, thinks he knows all about farming and tries to help the hired man. At the same time, he is trying to sell a milking machine. Every time he tries to help, he causes trouble and plenty of it. It's a picture everyone will enjoy.

Four other brand-new, all-talking pictures will be shown in addition to the feature presentation. They include: "Around the Farm Clock,"—an interesting, educational picture showing up-to-date power farming methods and equipment; "The Mark of the Genuine"—an instructive picture that shows how to keep farm equipment working like new down through the years; "Mr. Sheppard Looks Inside"—an inside story of the precision manufacturing of modern farm tractors and a short newsreel showing new developments in agricultural equipment.

In addition to the five talking pictures, the John Deere program will include several talks and demonstrations that you'll be interested in, and Williams Hardware Co. cordially invites every farmer in this area to attend.

"Our John Deere Day program is a part of the national program sponsored by John Deere dealers," says Mr. Williams. "For several years John Deere dealers throughout the country have been putting on these shows and because of the high quality of the program, more and more farmers and their families have been attracted each year. I want to take this opportunity to extend a special invitation to all farm boys and farm wives. They, too, will enjoy our John Deere Day as our program has been designed to interest them as well as farm men. I promise everyone who comes a good time."

Plans are being made to make this open house one of the big events of the year in this community. Farm families who have attended these John Deere Day programs may expect an even better show this year than those of the past.

According to Mr. Williams admission will be made by ticket only and any farmer who has not received tickets can get them by inquiring at his store before the show.

Nothing provokes thought like friendly discussion.

Both men and money lose interest if they are not kept busy.

It's a wise nature that gives us winter in which to make plans and preparation for another spring.

Protection from dampness and from drafts are the two requirements that most poultry houses fail to meet.

A recent survey shows 48 different farm uses and 28 different household uses for electricity on the farm.

Milk is the best food children can have. It builds their bones and teeth, makes them grow and gives them energy.

Fuel wood sawed and split this winter, while other farm work is not pressing, will be nicely dried out for use by next fall and winter.

A dirt floor is desirable in an egg storage room because it is more moist than a concrete floor. If the humidity needs to be increased throw sand or gravel on the floor and keep it dampened.

A farm inventory shows net worth above all debts; provides information for preparing a credit statement; provides a valuable list of property in case of fire or theft; shows how the investment is distributed; and provides a starting point for any system of farm accounting.

How well you feed the livestock largely determines how well they feed you.

Buying livestock feed that can be produced is just as extravagant as buying canned foods that can be grown.

Feeding spring lambs grain increases their finish and gets them ready for market earlier when prices are usually highest.

It is advisable to utilize small grains for winter and early spring pasture when fields are dry enough to prevent damage.

It is now time to: Test seed corn for ermination, build a creep for early lambs, prune the orchard, clean, scrub and disinfect brooder houses and farrowing houses.

An hour in the farm shop may save ten hours during the busy spring season. Repair all tools needed in preparation and seeding, repair and oil harness, and get ready to go when the time comes.

Tests to date show that no out-of-state hybrid corns have out yielded standard Neal's Paymaster in Tennessee, but Tennessee developed hybrid from Paymaster inbred lines have out yielded the often fertilized Paymaster from ten to twenty-five percent.

Late winter and early spring is a good time to check up on pastures. For helpful suggestions on how to make the grass grow greener, ask your county agent for a copy of Publication 217, "A Pasture Program for Tennessee Farms," recently issued by the U.-E. Agricultural Extension Service.

COUNTY AGENT

Poultry

The following suggestions will be found helpful to those desiring a successful poultry year.

1. Get the brooder house and equipment ready for the chicks by removing all cobwebs, litter and dust and scrub the floor of the brooder house with a solution made by dissolving one can of lye to 13 gallons of boiling water. Spray the walls and equipment with a 5 per cent solution of any good coal tar dip or cresote. (One pint to 2 1-2 gallons water is a 5 per cent solution.)

2. Plan to raise a higher percentage of chicks by brooding chicks from pullover tested flocks in a clean brooder house with clean equipment and clean well balanced ration.

3. General purpose chicks (rocks, reds, wyandottes, etc.) should be placed in the brooder house this month.

4. Keep a record of your brooding costs and receipts. Start your record the day chicks are put into the brooder. Record forms may be obtained from the county agent's office.

5. Keep feed before chicks from the time they are put into the brooder house.

6. Profitable fall production depends on pullets hatched in March.

Sheep

Considerable complaint throughout the county has been made on ewes dying just before lambing. The symptoms are refusing to eat or drink, grinding the teeth, trembling and drawing the head.

This is caused by poor feeding, care and management. Lack of common salt and possibly not enough water.

Treat by gently drenching with two ounces of molasses, pinch of combing salt and 4 ounces of water four times each day.

Prevent by feeding a balanced feed.

Further information on the subject may be had by calling at the office.

DEATH OF POPE PIUS

The death of Pope Pius XI removed from the earthly scene one of the greatest figures of our time, whose passing is mourned by the whole civilized world. He was 81 years old at the time of his death, and for 17 years had been the spiritual ruler of nearly 350 million Roman Catholics.

Born Achilles Ratti at Desio, Italy, May 31, 1857, he was ordained priest in 1879, and after holding various important positions in the church was made a cardinal in 1921. Less than a year later, on February 6, 1922, he was elected pope to succeed Benedict XV, and was crowned as Pius XI on February 12.

An important event of his reign was the signing of a treaty with Italy in 1929, ending the 59-year-old Italian law which had made the popes virtually prisoners in the Vatican. By this treaty the state of Vatican City was created, with the pope as temporal sovereign, and normal relations with the Italian government were resumed.

Pius XI labored unceasingly in the cause of peace, and the latter years of his life were saddened by the civil war in Spain, and by religious and racial persecutions elsewhere, which he vigorously condemned. He was widely referred to as "the pope of peace," and as such his memory is revered throughout the world.

The following recommendations are made for reducing blue mold injury to tobacco in 1939.

1. Use a new plant bed site. The blue mold fungus lives over in old sites. The new site need be only a few feet from the old one. Do not walk from old bed site across new one.

2. The bed should be so located that no part of it will receive any shade whatever in the morning. It is in the shaded spots that the disease gets an early start.

3. Use bluestone-lime on the bed when the plants are very small and again ten days later. This is recommended for the control of wildfire and angular leafspot, but growers in many parts of the state report that it delays the appearance of blue mold.

4. Diseased beds usually recover

Relieve Their DISTRESS
This Easy, Quick Way!

To bring speedy relief from the discomfort of chest colds, muscular rheumatic aches and pains due to colds—you need more than "just a salve"—use a stimulating "counter-irritant" like good old Musterole. It penetrates the surface skin breaking up local congestion and pain resulting from colds. Even better than a mustard plaster—Musterole has been used by millions for over 30 years. Recommended by many doctors and nurses. In three strengths: Regular, Children's (mild) and Extra Strong. 40¢. Approved by Good House-keeping Bureau. All druggists.

in a week or ten days. Recovery is speeded up by an application of nitrate of soda. (10 pounds nitrate soda in 50 gallons water applied at the rate of 5 gallons per 100 square feet of bed followed by an equal amount of clear water to prevent burning.) A bulletin describing blue mold in detail will soon be off the press.

Italian Rye Grass

Italian rye grass is an annual grass that can be seeded either in the fall or spring. In either case it matures in Kentucky the first of July following the time of seeding. The plant grows as rapidly as small grains which results in it being productive as a pasture or hay plant in a shorter period of time than any of the perennial grasses customarily sowed in this state. It reaches a height about the same as timothy on the same land. It is much more certain to make a stand than any of the other grasses with which we are familiar. It can be sowed alone for the purpose of a cover crop any time from August to November, but only the earlier seeding will have enough to grow and provide fall grazing. If seed are allowed to mature and fall to the ground it will reseed for the following year.

The rate of seeding which is recommended is 5 pounds per acre, when mixed with other grasses for either fall or spring sowing, not less than 10 pounds per acre when sowed on old lespedeza and grass fields, twenty pounds or more per acre when sowed alone as a cover crop.

Italian rye grass will yield from 300 to 500 pounds of seed per acre. The harvest time for the seed appears to be 3 to 4 weeks later than wheat harvest.

Swine

Now is the time of year for a large number of pigs to be farrowed and a heavy loss of money to farmers. Before a sow is due to farrow, an individual house or quarters should be provided. If no hog house is available, a clean stall may be used. Use only a small amount of clean straw or hay for bedding. Provide a strong guard rail eight inches high and 8 inches from the wall to prevent the sow from mashing her pigs. This rail will give the pigs a chance to escape, when the sow starts to lie down, and they are not mashed between the sow and the wall. Records show that the greatest mortality among young pigs is due to mashing by the sow. Soft bedding material and a guard rail greatly decreases this loss. Three or four days before farrowing time substitute wheat bran for one half of the grain allowance. For example, if the sow has been receiving three pounds of corn, feed 1½ pounds wheat bran and 1½ pounds of corn. The wheat bran tends to prevent milk fever.

Fruit Meeting.

Mr. Maguill, fruit specialist from the University of Kentucky, was in the county Wednesday. A meeting was held at Cayce at 10 o'clock at which time a discussion was held on insects, spray materials, pruning and general care of the orchard. Mr. Maguill answered a number of questions for farmers on orchards.

Evangelist Esquilla Begins Gospel Meetings

V. W. ESQUILLA, Bible Lecturer

Evangelist V. W. Esquilla will begin a series of gospel meetings in the newly built Seventh-Day Adventist Church, 111 Jefferson-st. between Walnut and East State Line-st., Sunday night, February 26, at 7:30 p. m., when he will discuss the subject, "The Crash of Civilization."

The lectures throughout the week will be illustrated by pictures on the screen. Someone has said "Pictures are windows to let the light in." While hundreds of the pictures are very beautiful, they are shown primarily to make clear the subject under discussion.

As this is primarily a series of lectures on the Bible, every subject will be discussed from that standpoint, and the program for the week promises much of interest to everyone in Fulton and vicinity. "The Crash of Civilization," a study of the Bible prophecies concerning the immediate future of our world, is the theme for the opening lecture Sunday night.

Monday night, "Who Made the Devil?" Is he a person or an influence? Did God create Him or did he make himself?

Tuesday night, "The Most Stupendous Announcement in Human History."

Wednesday night, "A Bible Tour to Heaven." What will we see? What will we be? Will we know each other there?

Thursday night, "Do the Scriptures Teach That Christ Will Come in Our Day?"

Friday night, "The Wisest Man that ever lived and His Secret of Happiness."

Saturday night, "When Christ Captures the Devil and Binds Him for One Thousand Years." How? When? Where?

Sunday night, "The Christian Sabbath, Which Day Is It?"

Literature on any of the above subjects will be sent upon request for 2c a copy. V. W. Esquilla, Fulton, Ky., Phone 876-J.

Mayfield Civic Clubs Will Seek Mule Day Programs

MAYFIELD, Ky.—A dinner for Mayfield Civic Club members, other merchants and visiting newspapermen at the Hall Hotel Monday night was the climax of "Mule Day."

H. C. Dinwiddie, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, was in charge of the program, which included talks and musical numbers.

Rabbi Alexander Finesilver, Paducah, was the principal speaker using the subject "World War." Rabbi Finesilver outlined some of the fallacies of war, then followed with the results of war in loss of life and bringing of human misery and economic unbalance.

A concert was given by a musical troupe from radio station, WHAS, Louisville and specialties were presented by dancing pupils of Miss Dorothy Ann Pearce of Fulton. Included in the numbers was a waltz by Miss Pearce.

Among the visiting newspapermen was Paul Bushart, editor of the Fulton County News of Fulton.

The formation of "mule clubs" throughout this section to interest farmers in stock raising and operating much in the same manner as calf clubs for 4-H members has been suggested by Mayfield Club.

The Movement was started Monday at Mayfield's eighteenth annual "Mule Day" and has for its purpose the raising of more work animals, especially mules in Graves and surrounding counties. Buyers here stressed the need for a revival of mule raising and one source said federal aid might be provided to assist in financing the clubs.

Mayfield civic organizations throughout their farm extension committees are expected to consider the "mule clubs" as a future project.

Four youths were fined a total of $248 in Manistee, Mich., for singing "Sweet Adeline" on a street corner in the early morning.

In the final home game of the Bulldogs, Tilghman High of Paducah defeated them 41-16. The Bulldogs were unable to click under the careful guarding of the larger team from Paducah. The Tilghman Tornado chalked up eight points before Dalton made the first goal for the Bulldogs ending the quarter. Thomas and Batts added two goals while their opponents, Tunstall, Grimmer, and Clements brought the score up to 18 to 6 at the half.

In the second half the Bulldogs were held from shooting positions by the tall Tilghman players for the Bulldogs succeeded in making only ten points to Tilghman's 23.

South Fulton girls play their first game of the Girls' District Tournament against Gleason girls at Union City Friday morning, March 3, at 11 o'clock.

This week ends our articles on our main team basketball players:

KATHOLEEN HARWOOD

Number 44
Katholeen Harwood, a senior, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Harwood of Fulton, Route 5. Katholeen is the lightning center on the first team this year, a position she has held since entering South Fulton in 1937. Harwood formerly attended Chestnut Glade school where she started playing basketball in the seventh grade, but she has never played any position but center. Naturally, to Harwood, basketball is "one of the best of sports." She would like to continue her basketball career in college. "Most of the boys are all right," said Katholeen.

PAT KANIFF NANNEY

Number 77
Pat Nanney is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Nanney of Fulton, route 5. Pat is a senior this year and has served as substitute forward to the main team and captain of the second team. He came to South Fulton in 1937 as a Junior from Chestnut Glade. He has played basketball three years, always at forward position. Pat says "as a sport, basketball is the best." His ambition is to continue his education at college. And as for the girls, Pat said, "Just put a question mark after girls."

TOMMY EDWARDS

Number 66
Tommy Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. (Shorty) Edwards of Fulton, route 3, came to South Fulton as a Junior this year from Fulton High. This is Tommy's second year in basketball. Last year, he played at forward position for Fulton High and is now substitute center for South Fulton's main team. Tommy has been substituted in every position at sometime during the year. He thinks that "basketball is the next best sport to football." Since Tommy's ambition is to be a "farmer," we suppose that it is only natural that he should think that "girls, along with other insects, are pests."

John O'Brien, 25, of London, explained his marriage to four women by testifying he was "searching for happiness."

Adequate and Dependable

Last year the Illinois Central System met the needs of business and individuals by carrying 9,412,956,488 tons of freight one mile and 604,649,960 passengers one mile.

That's adequate and dependable transportation.

To serve so completely and successfully is the ideal of a common carrier. It means we must be prepared to carry anything, any time, anywhere we go.

Nor may we discriminate. We must take care of all.

Adequate transportation requires track, power and cars in volume ample for the business. Dependable transportation requires loyal, willing, intelligent operation.

The proper combination of these factors is a large order, but we filled that order last year, and we will fill it again.

Alice Faye Can Do Many Things Well

Everybody can do something well. Row a boat, or wash a dish, or write a letter, or catch a fish, or even fly a plane. But not many people can do many things well. Sing a song, and dance a dance, and win a fight and fly a plane. But Alice Faye can—and does. She does it in "Tail Spin," 20th Century-Fox's romantic melodrama of adventure coming

Sunday to the Fulton Theatre.

You can see from this brief evidence that Miss Alice Faye is really an exceptional person. She is, and a brief glance at what she has done during the course of her twenty-three years brings forth conclusive proof.

When she was just a youngster in New York her whole ambition centered around the stage. To prepare herself for this career, she studied dancing for two years and then, at the age of fifteen, got a job in the chorus line of a Chester Hale unit. Shortly after she landed a job as specialty dancer in the world-famous Hollywood Restaurant. A month later she signed to appear in the same capacity in George White's "Scandals."

It was this show that started her on the road to stardom. Rudy Vallee and his Connecticut Yankees were appearing in the same show and Vallee signed her to appear with his band as vocalist. When the company headed for the Coast to make a film of "Scandals," Alice was cast in a starring role.

Well, Alice found herself a star in movies, but as musical succeeded musical she wished she had never learned a tap routine or sung a note. Then bit by bit she began to get away from musical comedy and into more dramatic roles. "Stowaway," with Shirley Temple, started it and "Alexander's Ragtime Band" showed her as one of the top-notch dramatic actresses of the screen. In "Tail Spin" Alice is given a chance to display every phase of her talent. In a night club sequence she sings a new Gordon and Revel tune and taps a few steps to the same melody. In the flying race and crash sequences she is given an opportunity to display ability which has been acclaimed by critics the country over.

It is reported by enthusiastic followers of Miss Faye, who have seen the film, that nowhere in her career has her versatile talent been so perfectly brought out.

It seems that she is even in the role of Trislee Lee, racing pilot who flies to support her mother and brother. Also starred in similar roles are Constance Bennett and Nancy Kelly. The latter two fly because flying means so much to the men they love.

When the critics applauded her work so vigorously in "Alexander's Ragtime Band," Alice refused to accept any share of the credit. "If there is one man who has made possible my success upon the screen," said Alice, "that man is Darryl F. Zanuck." It is interesting to note that the same Mr. Zanuck was in charge of production during the filming of "Tail Spin."

The cast of "Tail Spin" features, in addition to those mentioned, Joan Davis, Charles Farrell, Jane Wyman and Kane Richmond. Roy Del Roth directed from a screen play by Frank Wead. Harry Joe Brown was associate producer.

THINGS ONE REMEMBERS

Items in the daily news which often fail to make the headlines, have the most vital bearing on the daily lives of most of us.

For instance, a six-line dispatch from Berlin states that to relieve the shortage of physicians caused by Nazi ban on Jewish doctors, a drastic reduction in time required for medical education has been granted.

The assessor of Josephine County, Oregon, announces that public utilities will pay 36.4 per cent of the tax monies collected by that county in 1939. Under public ownership, such utilities would be tax exempt and Josephine County citizens could add 36 per cent to their tax bill, plus the additional expense of financing such utilities. What a blessing that would be!

Answering questions before the Senate Judiciary Committee, which later favored his nomination to the United States Supreme Court by a unanimous vote, Felix Frankfurter said: "It doesn't matter whether the Constitution is invoked for ends I like or ends I don't like, so long as those who invoke it keep within the framework of the constitution. There must be freedom of speech, freedom of the press, freedom of assembly and freedom of worship as your conscience dictates. Civil liberties mean liberties for those those we like and those we don't like, or even detest." And that is stating the fundamentals of American democracy in just about its shortest form.

There is now much agitation for taxation of salaries of state and federal officials and employees on the same basis as the income of the private citizens who earn the money to pay their salaries. It's difficult to understand how a member of Congress, or a state legislator, or a public employee can ask for or justify such an exemption.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Christ Jesus" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, February 26.

The Golden Text is "Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom; . . . And whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God and the Father by him" (Colossians 3: 16, 17.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "I am come a light into the world, that whosoever believeth on me should not abide in darkness." (John 12: 46.)

MORE TIRE MILEAGE—GREATER SAFETY NEON EYE SOLVES PROBLEM THAT HAS VEXED ALL MOTORISTS!

From 50 miles an hour up, does your car handle as easily as at lower speeds? Or, do you unconsciously tighten your grip on the steering wheel and your nerves become more tense? At those higher speeds does your car tramp, shimmy or jiggle?

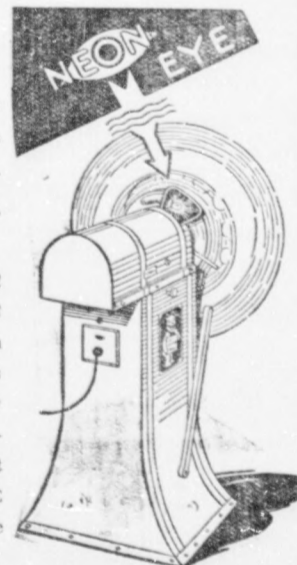

Unbalanced wheels are the cause! Now the new BEAR DY-NAM-IC Wheel Balancer solves the problem by not only balancing the wheels statically, but also dynamically with the NEON EYE. On this machine each wheel is revolved at high speed and the NEON EYE positively detects every spot on the wheel which is out of balance!

Unbalanced wheels are dangerous to safety—cause tires to wear out 20-50% quicker. That's why we now offer car owners this latest service, Bear Dy-nam-ic Wheel Balancing—it's MORE PROOF that—

PARTIES AND SOCIABLES

Dancing has again become so common that it is nearly the most recognized form of social amusement. But a generation ago dancing, harmless old square dancing at that, was very naughty. A few representatives of the world and the flesh and the devil still knew how to trip the light fantastic, and did it, too in defiance of church and parental authority. Those of us who were afraid of our parents and the wrath to come still had our social life, a bit drab as viewed by our descendants. We had youth, and that was something we courted and got married, and thus it goes always, regardless of the form of social amusement.

Our old-fashioned parties, after the square dance went out and before the "round" dance came in, had certain definite features that must have been rather common every-outlawing ETETET ET ET E.T.E. where. Some communities, though outlawing square dances, allowed play-party games: "Susie in the Ring," "Roxie Ann," "Rosie Betsy Lina," "Old Dan Tucker," "Chase the Buffalo," and so on. As I have already spoken of these games, it would be unnecessary repetition to write something more. But the rigid people of some parts of the state looked upon these games as wicked and equal to the square dance.

When we went to parties, then, we had to devise other means of entertainment. Our liveliest game was snap, a game that used to seem very exciting but now somewhat resembles drop the handkerchief. A couple stood up in the floor holding hands (that was a part of the game.) A boy would then snap his finger in front of a girl, who forthwith had to chase him around the couple until she caught him. Then he took the place of the boy holding hands.

and the girl snapped another boy. This continued indefinitely, often with rather disastrous results to the garments of the two holding hands, as the players would swing around roughly and take all sorts of chances to keep from being caught.

Then there were kissing games galore. Just why dancing was so wrong and kissing so right it might take a philosopher to discover. I suppose that postoffice was the best known kissing game; since I have not played it in many years, please do not expect me to remember the rules of the game. There may have been no rules; anyway, somebody got kissed and appeared innocent.

Playing social was a standard game, if one could call it that. The girls were seated at intervals all around the room on chairs or on seats made by laying planks from chair to chair and spreading a folded quilt over them to make the sitting more comfortable. Some boy acted as introducer or passer-on or whatever you could call it. He took a boy around and introduced him to a girl, leaving him to talk to her until someone else was brought around. That was lots of fun until a fellow got stuck with some dull girl whom nobody wanted to talk to. Sometimes the boys agreed in advance to talk to such for a certain length of time, provided they would be relieved by other fellows who would make martyrs of themselves in the interest of causing every one to have a good time. I could add, parenthetically, that there were dull boys, too, but they had the advantage of being able to get away better.

Refreshments at any kind of party were likely to be pickles and cake, especially if the party were during Christmas week. Indigestible, yes, but always suggestive of sociables and parties.

CAPITOL COMMENTS

By DAVID M. PORTER

The results of the Governor's poll were unexpected from the standpoint of the interest shown in a political race which will not be run until August.

We listed, some weeks ago, eight potential candidates for Governor. After the poll was started, three of these candidates, Charles D. Arnett, John Y. Brown, and Ralph Gilbert, officially announced their intention to run and one candidate, Senator M. M. Logan, announced he would not run.

The total number of votes cast was 26,113. 1,418 of these were write in votes for candidates who were not on the original ballot, but were sent in on the original ballot slip with the name of their candidate written on the ballot.

The most surprising thing about the poll, aside from the unusually large number of votes cast, was the fact that two candidates not listed on the original ballot received 1,415 votes. State Senator J. E. Wise, received three votes; J. Lyter Donaldson, of Carrollton, former highway commissioner in the Laffoon administration, received 521 votes; and Frederick A. Wallis, of Paris, former welfare commissioner, had 894 votes cast for him.

The total number of votes cast for each candidate was as follows: Keen Johnson, 7,523; John Young Brown, 6,941; Senator M. M. Logan, 3,312; Charles D. Arnett, 3,146; Ralph Gilbert, 1,608; Thomas M. Rhea, 1,361; John Buckingham, 612; Lee McClain, 192.

Write in ballots: Frederick A. Wallis, 894; J. Lyter Donaldson, 521; J. E. Wise, 3.

To you, the reader of this column, we wish to extend our gratitude for your interest shown in this poll. We have, for the past year and a half, endeavored to give you an accurate and unbiased account of the political happenings here in the state. You showed your appreciation by your cooperation in this poll.

The editors of the Kentucky Press

News Alliance and I appreciate this interest and wish to assure you that "Capitol Comments" will never contain any propaganda and shall always remain unbiased.

Plan Farm Program Now For Better Income

Each year farmers are faced with the problem, of planning crops and livestock to be grown on their farms, to support their families, feed their livestock, meet their obligations and conserve their soil. In the development of such a program a number of factors should be considered, says H. C. Holmes of the U-T Extension Farm Management Department.

The first step in the development of a successful farm program is production of food and feed; the smaller the farm business the more important this is.

The farm must produce something to sell. In general the yearly farm receipts should amount to at least 20 percent of the total farm investment. The farm must produce a minimum of $1000 worth of saleable products in order to stand a fair chance of earning as much as $500 above expenses. Most types of farming require 50 percent or more of the total sales for expenses, Mr. Holmes states.

Other steps in planning a profitable farm program include the use of every acre to advantage, production of several sources of income, at least four or five, with crop yields and livestock returns above average, and efficient use of labor and machinery.

Extension Publication No. 210, "Increasing Farm Returns" outlines in detail some principals of farm organization and management that will be helpful to every Tennessee farmer interested in improving his farm income. Copies can be secured from your county agent or by writing the U-T Agricultural Extension Service, Knoxville.
