THE LISTENING POST

I believe that the national organization of Elks, and the local lodge, are to be commended and congratulated upon a most happy idea. As announced in this newspaper yesterday the national organization is offering three handsome prizes to essay winners from the high schools of the nation. The first prize is $1,000, the second $500 and the third is $250. The local lodge is going right along with the national organization by offering prizes of $10, $5 and $2.50 for the prize winning essays submitted by high school boys and girls from the two local high schools.

The Elks, long known for their patriotic service to the nation, saw a need for interesting the youngsters in patriotic matters, and so the school children were invited to write essays on the subject, "What Uncle Sam Means to Me." That is a provocative title. It causes even an adult to think. In these days, when the fate of the American Republic is at stake, when our own way of life is seriously menaced by overwhelming and sinister forces it will pay all of us to sit down at times and seriously consider what the United States means to us. For many generations we have been going along, taking our nation and the glorious freedom it enjoys, pretty well without thinking. Generations have come and gone and have enjoyed this freedom, and there have been few times when it seemed challenged. Most of us, until a couple of years ago, felt that the future of the American Republic was as firmly rooted as the Rocky Mountains. It did not seem possible that anything could change this, and we were satisfied with everything and confident that the years stretched ahead of the nation, peaceful and undisturbed.

When Hitler led his Panzer troops into Poland, when France and England girded themselves for war, we still did not see the danger. Most of us believed that this war could be a complete triumph for democracy, but in the bitter days which followed all of us have realized that democracy is really facing its greatest challenge. In Europe it has been blasted out of existence and across the narrow Channel burns the only flame of freedom which is left there. A hideous face, which recognizes no law save that of might, faces that single burning light of freedom, and few of us fail to realize that if England falls this nation is also faced with bitter days ahead. And no matter how encouraging the news is today, there is yet a good chance of England falling. Germany has not been beaten by a long shot.

To me there is something hopeful and heartening in the thought and the picture of thousands of school boys and girls writing down their own sentiments on What Uncle Sam means to them. Perhaps many of the essays will not be well written, for children of high school age are not presumed to know a great deal about writing. They do have one characteristic, however, which many adults do not have. They have the ability to really put their soul and heart into their thoughts at times, and I imagine that the person who reads these varied essays will be in for many thrills as he reads through the essays. Naturally some will be similar, not many will be good, but all over the United States, as thousands of children concentrate on this task, there may be some thoughts developed which will bear rich fruit in days to come.

Yes, I think the Elks are to be congratulated on a splendid idea. It cannot fail to do good in the long run. Action always comes from concentrated and united thought, and thousands of youngsters have given their best thought to this subject.

U. S. Steel Walkout Is Threatened

Union Leaders Prepare For Strike Wednesday; Two Sides Far Apart

Washington. —Negotiations for a new wage contract between the U. S. Steel Corporation and the C. I. O. employees have reached "an absolute deadlock," it was learned from an informed source tonight, and the union leaders are preparing for a strike next Tuesday midnight.

A strike in "big steel," if effective enough to halt operations in the corporation's subsidiaries, would involve approximately 250,000 steel workers.

Two Sides Far Apart
Negotiations which have been underway since March 12 between CIO's Steel Workers Organizing Committee and company representatives have failed, it was said, to produce an agreement on wages, paid vacations, dues collections, an exclusive bargaining recognition for the union. The two sides, it was said, were far apart on all four points.

The old contract between the SWOC and big steel expired April 1 after Philip Murray, head of both CIO and SWOC, "had served a formal 30-day notice of the union's desire to negotiate changes in the agreement."

18 Cents Asked; 2 1-2 Offered
The CIO organization was reported to have asked the company for a 10-cent an hour wage increase, and big steel is reported to have made a counter proposal to increase the wage 2 1-2 cents an hour.

Since April 1 the negotiators have been continuing their conferences under an agreement extending the life of the old contract to midnight April 8, with changes to be retroactive to April 1.

If CIO calls a strike at U. S. Steel, it will mark the first disruption in relations between the two organizations since 1936 when big steel entered into a contract with John L. Lewis.

Employment Week For U. S. Is Set To Begin Week Of May 4th

Washington. —President Roosevelt today proclaimed the week beginning May 4 as National Employment Week "to the end that interests in the welfare of all those not now working, and especially the worker over 40, may be stimulated and employment be extended to them."

"Despite great expansion in employment resulting directly and indirectly from our vast national defense program," the President said, "the State and Federal Governments continue to be concerned with the problems of older workers, many of whom still lack a place in industry."

"Among these are a considerable number of World War veterans, men who now average 48 years of age, and who, I feel, have a special appeal to our national sense of responsibility, particularly during this time of national defense preparation."

"The United States Employment Service—a nation-wide network of 1,500 offices operated jointly by the State and Federal Governments—has made special efforts in behalf of workers past 40 years of age, including veterans."

"In the interest of utilizing all possible skills in our defense pro-

"Perfect Shipping Month" To Be Observed By I. C.

The Illinois Central railroad is one of many railroads which will observe the month of April as "Perfect Shipping Month." During this month, the railroad and shippers try to improve on their shipping methods, ways of packing and other things which go into improving shipping generally.

Each year the month of April is observed nationally by the railroads as well as the shippers. The Illinois Central is asking the cooperation of shippers in making this a "Perfect Shipping Month."

The Illinois Central has 25 impact registers on which the shocks to the freight are recorded by the machines. These records are then gone over and an effort is made to eliminate the cause of these shocks. These registers are in use constantly on this railroad, and are very important in improving the ways of handling freight.

KENTUCKY UTILITIES WILL INSTALL HUGE NEW GENERATOR

L. P. Hite, Western Division Manager of Kentucky Utilities Company, today announced that the capacity of the division electrical transmission system would be increased by the immediate installation of a 12,500 kilowatt generator to cost $450,000 and be ready for operation by September 15.

To save time in power house construction and to avoid the necessity of securing priority in manufacture of auxiliary equipment from national defense agencies, the generator will be installed in the Illinois Central Railroad Shops, Mr. Hite explained. The shops now have available suitable housing and surplus boiler capacity to supply steam for the generator turbine.

With the increase in generating capacity, Mr. Hite said, the Western Division system will be able to take care of any industrial demands likely to arise in the immediate future. It will also provide cheap power for whatever rural electrification expansion takes place in the region in the next ten years, according to Mr. Hite. The company's Western Division extends from Beayer Dam westward to the Mississippi River.

"This installation is an outstanding example of cooperation between an electric power company and a railroad in the interest of the public as well as themselves," Mr. Hite said. "The people of this section can depend on our company to anticipate the requirements and promptly meet the needs for low-cost electricity for domestic, agricultural, commercial and industrial purposes."

Bridges Plan For Year Of 1937 Is Related By Chase, Party Member

San Francisco. —A one-time Communist from Los Angeles furnished the first direct testimony purporting to link Harry Bridges with the Communist Party at the C. I. O. longshoremen leader's second deportation trial.

Erza Chase, who said he joined the party in 1931 when he was "unemployed and confused," but later dropped out, testified yesterday that at the party's orders he attended a labor meeting in September, 1937, at which Bridges was the speaker.

Sought Union Shift
Bridges at that time Chase continued, advocated a program endorsed by the party, calling for a drive to convert the American Federation of Labor from a craft to industrial type of union and push it "further to the left" in an effort to use the workers to advance a revolutionary movement.

Foreign Agent Aid Sentenced

New York. —Paul Fehse, 31, was arrested, arraigned and sentenced within a few hours Tuesday on an indictment that mentioned little beyond the charge that he had conspired with a "John Doe" to violate the Federal law requiring foreign agents to register with the United States Secretary of State.

Fehse pleaded guilty to the charge before Federal Judge Edward A. Conger and was sentenced at once to a year and a day in prison.

The conspirator was not identified in the proceedings.

Fehse declined the services of counsel, despite the court's warning that "this is a serious charge."

He said he was a ship's cook.

Carrier Says He'll Obey Law

Frankfort, Ky. —A. M. Whitney, Bowling Green, declared Wednesday his motor transfer company now is complying with Kentucky's 18,000-pound gross load law and asked dismissal of a petition to cancel his Kentucky common carrier certificates.

He pledged "everything in his power to co-operate" with State officials in the future.

Answer Admits Violations
In his answer filed with the State Motor Transportation Division to a complaint made by Attorney General Hubert Meredith, Whitney admitted violations in the past, but said his company has "not violated the law nearly so many times as other comparable truck lines."

The answer admitted Whitney truck drivers had been arrested 137 times and convicted 116 times in 1940, said that many of those times the excess weight did not exceed the limit by more than 700 to 1,500 pounds and that on occasions his agents, due to a desire to make a "good showing, had disregarded his instructions and overloaded."

WILL ASK $2,000,000 FOR STATE HOSPITALS

Hopkinsville, Ky. — Dr. A. M. Lyon, director of state hospitals and mental hygiene, said today he plans to ask the general assembly for $2,000,000 for the improvement of Kentucky's mental institutions. Speaking before a luncheon club here, Dr. Lyon reported that approximately 1,700 persons annually enter state hospitals for the insane and that about 500 paroled from the hospitals return for treatment. These 2,200 patients, he said, in addition to those already confined, overcrowd many of the institutions.

New Homes Being Built In Fulton

This spring is no exception in Fulton's building program and at present there are three beautiful new homes under construction in West Fulton.

Work was begun this week on the new Homer Wilson residence on Second street. This new home, which will be located at 511 Second street, the site of the Aubrey Nugent house which burned several years ago, is to be of English style and will be a one and one half story brick veneer. F. M. Samons is the contractor for the house and it is hoped to have the structure ready for occupancy by July 1st. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson recently sold their home on Green street to Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Miller.

Maxwell McDade's new Southern Colonial home, which is now under construction, at the corner of Third and college, will add much to the appearance of that section of the city. This house is to be a two story red brick with white trim and will have Bruce streamline hardwood floors throughout. A large porch will be built across the entire front of the house and will have tall white columns. Clifton Linton is contractor for the house and it should be complete in July. Mr. and Mrs. McDade and family, who recently sold their home in East Fulton to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Andrews, are now living at the Leslie Weeks house on Third street.

Another pretty new home is that of Mr. and Mrs. Jean Moon, which is being built on the site of their house which burned several months ago on Eddings street. This house, which is being built by Frank Merriam, contractor, will be completed in about a month. It is a one story English style frame house, with a brick entrance and has five rooms and a bath. The house will have a large basement, but the upstairs will not be finished at present. The Moons will furnish their home throughout with eighteenth century colonial furniture. The house will have a great deal of built-in equipment.

RETIRED SHEPHERDER VOLLEYBALL PLAYER

Great Falls, Mont. — L. H. Hamilton of Great Falls, approaching 90, probably is the nation's oldest active volleyball player.

Three times a week Hamilton plays the game at the Y. M. C. A. here. His fellow players say that despite his 90 years he still plays a good game.

Hamilton probably also is the oldest shepherd in Montana. Although he once headed a company that owned 10,000 acres of patented land and ran 30,000 sheep, he's proud of the fact that he got his start as a woolgrower herding sheep. In 1879 he and two other men trailed two bands from Nevada to Grasshopper creek, near Dillon.

Plane Production In U. S. Soars To 1,216 In March

Washington. —The Office of Production Management said Friday airplane production in the United States set a new monthly record during March with the delivery of 1,216 airplanes.

The Army, Navy and the British received 1,074 of the planes, the O. P. M. said.

In January 1,036 planes were delivered and in February the figure was 972.

Spitfire Pilot Dives Three Miles To Wreck Nazi

London. —A spectacular three-mile "drive to victory" by the pilot of an R. A. F. Spitfire, attacked by four German Messerschmitt 109's 20,000 feet above the sea, was reported by the Air Ministry today.

The ministry said the British pilot eluded the Germans' concentrated assault, put his nose down and went into a dive of such velocity that the transparent cover of the cockpit was torn off and the goggles whipped off his face."

PADUCAH AREA STUDIED AS POSSIBLE SITE ARMY CANTONMENT

Washington. — Kentucky congressional sources said today that the War Department has made surveys in the Somerset and Paducah, Kentucky, regions to determine the feasibility of constructing cantonments in the event Congress authorizes a further increase in the Army.

Spokesman for the War Department, verifying the surveys, said there is no plan for any construction now and that similar surveys have been made in many states to determine the best available sites for additional cantonments. They made no comment on the Somerset or Paducah locations.

American Pastor In Berlin Is Questioned By German Gestapo

Berlin. —Many American residents of Berlin made arrangements Thursday night to telephone Herman, of Harrisburg, Penn., by a Nazi workman who thought the pastor showed a lack of reverence for the Nazi flag. Herman failed to salute the flag during the minute of silence ordered throughout Germany that day. The worker disappeared when he learned Herman was an American. Propaganda Ministry spokesmen expressed regret for the incident.

212 New Ships, 50-60 Shipways Are Provided

U. S. May Send Own Vessels To Red Sea With War Supplies

Washington, President Roosevelt assigned another $1,000,000,000 chunk out of the lend-lease appropriation today, half to go for 212 new merchant ships and from 50 to 60 new shipways and the other half for helping Britain and her allies with war supplies now on hand.

At the same time he indicated that if the Red Sea and Gulf of Aden waters off East Africa remained free of fighting he might remove them from combat zone restrictions, thus permitting American cargo vessels to carry supplies around the southern tip of Africa to Egypt or points nearby. Thence, the British and their allies could transfer the supplies to the Balkans.

A crowded White House press conference heard this progress report on the $7,000,000,000 aid program from the chief executive who also disclosed the United States was studying ways to meet a request from Yugoslavia for certain defense materials.

Allotment $2,000,000,000
The $500,000,000 for new ships and ways, plus another $500,000,000 for transfer of existing military supplies and food, and a small indefinite sum for repair of foreign and American merchant ships in United States ports, boosted the total allocations from the $7,000,000,000 fund to more than $2,800,000,000.

Mr. Roosevelt said that in addition, he was studying the allocation of between $1,500,000,000 and $2,000,000,000 more for Army, Navy and agricultural items.

Last Tuesday the President disclosed that $1,000,000,000 had been allocated for procurement of new equipment, including guns and ammunition, planes, tanks and trucks, agricultural supplies, and miscellaneous military items.

The 212 new merchant vessels, to be built at new and existing seaboard yards, are in addition to 200 simple, standard design cargo ships which the maritime commission is building under a separate appropriation to relieve the world shortage of tonnage.

PUBLIC TEMPER MOUNTING

Day after day, as strike news continues to fill the newspapers, it is apparent that the temper of the public is steadily mounting. The man in the street, the business man, the ordinary man who is concerned with making a living at the trade or business, is getting most completely fed up with the news of walkouts, stoppages of work, riots and other disturbances, while orders for sorely needed war munitions go unfilled. There is quite a general feeling among the men and women of such towns as Fulton that the leadership of American labor is at fault and that terrible blunders are being made. There is a growing belief, too, that more direct action is needed on the part of the federal government. The great mass of people, such as live in Fulton—and there are millions just like them—are sick and tired and discouraged of futile efforts being made to manufacture planes and ships and guns and tanks, while labor leaders pull the strings which make honest and decent American working men dance to a tune they do not like. There is a universal belief, among these people that such men as John L. Lewis and his kind are doing a vast amount of work in helping Hitler win his war against England.

Nor is such a belief far wrong. Every working day lost in American factories is a blow to England and help to Hitler. That is an undisputed fact. It can be interpreted no other way. If this nation fails to manufacture the things which are required England will be beaten. If we fail to manufacture what we need we may face the same thing within two or three years which England faces today. War victories cannot be won without proper support from industry—and we in this country are not giving this support. We are building an army of men, but we are not building the machines which must go with this army. We have the finest type of boys now in army camps, and they were required to go to those camps, but we do not seem to be able to make men do their duty to the nation at forge and lathe and assembly line.

It is not the majority of workmen affected. That is the tragic part of the story. It is a small minority in most cases which causes these strikes. Ten per cent in many cases can tie up a vast factory by the use of methods of terror and disorder, and this ten per cent is dominated by leaders of the Lewis type. Nor do we mean to say that the demands of the striking workmen are not justified. In many cases, in fact, in all of them, all demands may be fully justified and would probably be granted by a board of arbitration. Wanting what is justified is not a crime—but stopping work and taking part in destructive riots is a crime, and only when we recognize this will be able to put a stop to this situation. Rest assured that in Berlin and in the nations which are occupied by German armies the stories of strikes in America are getting banner headlines. Also be assured that the evil heart of Hitler is warmed by such news from America. Hitler and his

WHY ACT SHAME-FACED ABOUT AMERICA'S WAR?

Senator Tobey, of New Hampshire, is trying to get the Senate to pass a resolution forbidding convoys. The argument which he uses is one more illustration of the trouble our Government has made for itself by refusing to tell the whole harsh truth from the beginning.

If we convoy supply vessels across the Atlantic, says Senator Tobey, "war will follow as sure as death," and a great many Americans shudder and feel that the convoy would be a mistake for no American would choose war if war is unnecessary.

Unhappily, there is no choice of war or peace. Short of the sudden collapse of Germany (which nobody in the world expects), the only choice for Americans is to wage an unsuccessful war, in which we do everything too late, or to wage a successful war in which we act on time.

So far, we are waging the kind of war where everything we do is a little too late. After months of discussion in Washington as to ways and means of seizing the Axis ships in our harbors, we finally seize them when most of them have been made unable. We are now hesitating—for Heaven knows how long—before using the ships which are still in condition for the purpose of which we seized them; i. e., to get goods to England.

Even after we begin using the ships we shall probably hesitate still longer before using our Navy in whatever way will best insure the ships reaching their destination.

These fears would vanish, and men like Senator Tobey would cease their sabotage the minute we admitted to ourselves that we are at war, that we are to save our lives and our civilization, and that we therefore intend to win the war.

If we are at war it becomes ridiculous for Senators to decide whether we should use convoys. That becomes a question for the Navy and for the Commander in Chief.

If we are not at war, what in Heaven's name are we doing? Why are we making a gigantic effort to drag down Germany? And since we are making that effort, why not tell ourselves what we are doing?—Courier-Journal.

generals know too well that the full force of this nation can and will break Germany, and when they hear of such things as open strikes in great factories they take comfort, great comfort, in the intelligence. Perhaps they do not know as we know that such things do not represent the real sentiment of America.

If we wish Hitler to win the war, if we wish to see England fall, if we wish to face the challenge unprepared, we can go on our way, doing nothing about these strikes. If we wish to put an end to this challenge for all time we must first put our own house in order. There can be not half-way measures. We must do the job completely or we will fail.

practice game. The main idea in playing the game was to get a line on the boys and see how they reacted under actual playing conditions. No plays had been practiced and Coach Giles said that better results might have been secured had the boys done a little more blocking. Big Sug Willingham tore off a couple of good runs during the game and showed distinct promise of being a tremendous help in the backfield next year. He will probably be called on for a lot of ground gaining next fall, and indications now are that he will respond to the call. He runs with great power and in the Greenfield game showed a lot of ability in spinning. He needs development in shifting and cutting, but once he develops these attributes he may develop into a real backfield star. There is another lad who is also causing some palpitation on the part of observers, this one being curly headed Johnny Sharpe. Johnny is a sort of newcomer to football, but he is showing a lot of promise and ability. He is one of the fastest boys on the squad and can really shuffle down the field when he gets an opening. Coach Giles spoke of his speed the other day and expressed the opinion that he may be a lot of help in the fall activities. He still has a lot to learn, but he is soaking up the instructions like a sponge and seldom makes the same mistake twice.

The local coach spoke of something the other day which, if corrected, might go a long way in giving the Bulldogs a real season. "It seems that several of the boys have a sort of inferiority complex," he said thoughtfully. "They seem to think that certain teams can beat them even before the game is played, and this keeps them from playing the game they are really capable of playing. I know that we have boys here who can win against any opposition, and I'm trying to instill that feeling into them." Now that is a matter that should be eradicated without doubt. It is a feeling that will do a lot of harm if it keeps on, and if it can be removed, and if the boys can be sent into every game with the feeling that they are just as good as anybody and just as likely to win as the other team, there is no doubt that it would win some more games. Perhaps this inferiority complex feeling comes because of the fact that previous local teams have been beaten by so many teams. In any event, if the coach can succeed in removing it, he will have done something that will pay rich dividends.

Coach Cutchin of Murray, who has retired from basketball duties, is coaching the baseball team at Murray at present and has sixteen games carded for the season. He stated while here the other day that he had little material for a baseball team, but added that a lot of other schools would be in the same situation and he was hopeful of winning some of his games this season. Baseball has not been on the schedule for several years at the Murray school, but it is hoped to attract some baseball players to school there by next year and develop some good teams in the future. As a matter of fact, baseball has been dropped by almost all high schools and quite a few colleges and it will be a happy day if it can again take its place in the schools of this territory.
