UP FROM THE RANKS

Rising from the ranks in accordance with the best American tradition, J. L. Beven recently became president of the Illinois Central System, with which he began as a messenger in its New Orleans freight office at the age of 12 years. He succeeded L. A. Downs, who also rose from the ranks, beginning as a rodman with an engineering crew, and who is now chairman of the board.

Mr. Beven was born at McComb, Miss., in a house rented from the railroad by his father, William Beven, a locomotive engineer, who worked for the Illinois Central for 52 years. The future president of the road attended grammar school and business college, and after being promoted through various clerical positions he was appointed trainmaster on the Louisiana division in 1915.

The following year he became a division superintendent at the age of 29. He was assigned temporarily to the Federal railroad administration during the time the government operated the roads on account of the war.

Mr. Beven's further advancement was rapid, and after filling several increasingly important positions he became senior vice-president in 1931, which office he held until his recent elevation to the presidency.

That two successive presidents of the Illinois Central should have risen from the lowest ranks is quite remarkable, and speaks most highly for the able men concerned, as well as for the democracy of the great railroad system which they serve.

NEWSPAPER ADS BEST

Some of the largest users of radio advertising—including a full-sized automobile manufacturing company—have gone off the air.

It is significant, however, that not a single large advertiser ever discontinued use of newspaper advertising. Some of them have, in fact, increased their newspaper line since the first of this year.

All forms of advertising have their uses, but many have flourished for a time and died in the years that newspaper advertising has been the mainstay of commercial publicity. People may glance at salebills and toss them away; they may pass a billboard a dozen times and each time forget in a minute what they saw there; they may hear an announcement over the radio that appeals to them and forget all about it a moment later. But a newspaper advertisement that appeals to the reader is seldom ignored, and if the details are forgotten it is available for an additional perusal.

Read the ads in this issue of The News. They, too, are news—important news.

EARLY MILITARY BANDS

It is a far cry from the first American military bands to the splendid organizations such as the Marine, Army and Navy bands stationed in Washington and heard over the radio several times each week.

According to a recent writer, the Marine band originally numbered only eight men, and instrumentation being two oboes, two clarinets, two French horns, one bassoon and one drum.

The band of the Military Academy at West Point began with a larger number, having five clarinets, two flutes, two French horns, one bassoon, one trombone, one trumpet, one bugle and one drum, 14 in all.

The preponderance of wood-wind instruments in these first small bands seems strange in view of their employment in military ceremonies, but that was before the saxhorn family of cornets, allos, enors, baritones and basses had been invented.

In 1835, bands of 10 men were authorized for the various regiments, and in 1845 the strength of regimental band was increased to 16. At present there are about 75 regimental bands of some 30 musicians each.

The music of these organizations adds greatly to the life of the military posts at which they are stationed, as well as to the entertainment of the civilian population.

Donald Bradshaw, 15-year-old newspaper carrier, rode his bicycle abreast of a runaway horse at Syracuse, N. Y., leaped aboard a swaying wagon, and pulled the frightened horse to a stop in the midst of downtown automotive traffic.

Cayce High School Had Good Season

Coach Kenneth Oliver's Cayce Tigers closed their regular season last week with a 29-21 victory over Central of Clinton and a 25-20 victory over Arlington. Those games brought their win column to 10 straight and 11 out of 13 games since Christmas.

They got off to a slow start the first of the season because of injuries but have defeated every team to whom they lost early in the season except Pilot Oak, whom they played only once, and Fulton. For the entire season against all opposition they have won 12 and lost 8.

In the Jackson Purchase Conference they have won 8 and lost 6. They have scored 564 points to their opponent's 444. Since they have defeated the favorite teams in the first district, they should be strong contenders for the championship in the district tournament.

Their record for the season is as follows:

Cayce	Op.
24 Beelerton	20
17 Sylvan Shade	18
9 Pilot Oak	11
10 Water Valley	21
19 Clinton	28

Frozen Food Locker System Suceps Nation

Rapid strides are being made in food preservation. Since the beginning of time not only necessity, but natural animal instinct has caused man to safeguard his food and to store away his various rations when they were in season. Man has always endeavored to provide himself with a means of existence during the seasons when foodstuffs were unobtainable, or scarce and prohibitive in price.

Plans are now being made to bring to Fulton a Frozen Food Locker Plant, comprised of 300 individual lockers, according to J. Ray Graham, who is behind the movement. Construction cost of this plant will approximate $10,000, and an individual locker will rent for $10 a year. There will be sufficient space in each locker to hold a couple of hogs, a hog and a quarter of beef, 75 to 100 spring chickens, or many dozen containers of such delicious items as strawberries, peaches, corn on cob, asparagus, and various green vegetables.

"In making our investigation of these refrigerated plants, which save users money and provide fresh meats, poultry, fish, game, vegetables, all the year 'round, we find both farmers and town patrons reporting actual savings from $50 to $100 per year," Mr. Graham states. "Now you, too, can enjoy these fresh products any day of the year at this remarkable savings. From our experience in talking with others we are sure that 200 lockers here will save our community at least $15,000 on its yearly food bill."

In these master locker banks, at 15 degrees temperature, meats, fish, fowl and many fruits and vegetables may be stored for long periods for use when desired, and the cost of this service equals only the cost of a postage stamp per day, Mr. Graham points out.

As soon as two hundred lockers have been rented, actual construction work will be started on the locker system.

Tobacco Prices Unchanged For Previous Week

Compared with the previous week, average prices for tobacco sold last week on the Western District Fire-Cured markets were generally unchanged for leaf grades and slightly lower for lugs, it was reported by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. The best demand was indicated for the heavy leaf grades. The highest price for an individual lot was $20.00 for good quality dark heavy leaf (B3D 45). A slightly larger percentage of the tobacco was delivered to the Association than for the previous week.

The quality of the tobacco was generally better than that sold the previous week. The sales were composed of a larger percentage of leaf grades and a smaller percentage of nondescript.

Total sales of Type 23 tobacco for last week were 1,475,740 pounds (including Association receipts) at an average of $6.63. For the season through February 24, 7,378,678 pounds have been sold for an average of $6.78.

Business Indices Remain On Level

For the fourth consecutive week, no significant changes were apparent in the general business picture, according to reports to the Department of Commerce from 35 key cities, just received by its Louisville District Office. Some indices indicated a slight improvement, others a slackening, but no pronounced trend is currently in evidence. Industrial activity held steady at a level substantially above the early part of last year, steel ingot production increased moderately, although the expansion in February output was not up to full seasonal expectations; automobile assemblies declined, but new passenger car sales continued about one-third higher than at this time last year. Retail trade generally showed a small gain over last year's volumes. Better business in most sections of the country brought increased number of buyers to New York markets, though cautious buying continued to be the by-word.

Louisville reported that due to decreased furniture and men's clothing sales, retail trade as a whole was slightly under last year. Wholesale volume was about even with last year in dry goods and notions. Collections in all lines of business were about 5 to 10 per cent below last year.

Kentucky employment services reported placements 324, decrease of 4.1 per cent from preceding week. Louisville bank clearings decreased 5.8 per cent from year ago. All Burley tobacco markets in Kentucky now closed, with more than 75,000,000 pounds of Burley sold at Lexington during the season. Dark tobacco markets expected to operate several weeks longer, although on a curtailed basis; values and quantities of tobacco on these markets reported fluctuating.

THE FORUM

By J. PAUL BUSHART, Editor

A column conducted for news, views and comments, in which readers of The News are invited to participate. Mail contributions care of THE FORUM, this newspaper.

Dear Mr. Editor:

In view of the fact that I have been grossly misrepresented in some quarters in connection with THE VINDICATORS movement which I started, I respectfully request that, in all fairness to me, you publish the contents of this letter.

I wish to briefly state the aims of this program:

1. Keep America Out of War by enacting strict neutrality laws, staying clear of foreign political entanglements and embroilments; and stop meddling in the internal affairs of other nations.

2. Banish All Foreign "isms," (Nazism, Fascism, and Communism.)

3. Stop All Immigration for the Next Ten Years, or until such time as all of our idle are re-employed.

Register and Fingerprint All Aliens in order that we may ascertain the number of aliens in the United States and where located.

5. Deport All Criminals and Undesirable Aliens and expel those here illegally or those who arrived legally and have remained illegally.

The word "Vindicators" merely designates those who are participating in this nation-wide patriotic movement to bring about the enactment of legislation to carry out the objectives stated above. Any American citizen, regardless of race, political affiliation or religious creed, may become a member of the Vindicators. There is no initiation fee, nor are there any dues.

I am of the opinion that those who have bitterly condemned this movement have done so without having learned the facts. If there are any opponents to the above program I would appreciate their advising me of their objections, and I would likewise appreciate those in sympathy with the program writing me so that I may have the benefit of their cooperation and encouragement.

Those endorsing this movement are striving to glorify Americanism and patriotism. We are endeavoring to arouse the American people to the realization of the dangers of these foreign "isms," Communism, Nazism and Fascism, that now infect our country and threaten to undermine the foundation of our Republic. The time has arrived when we must rekindle the flame of true American democracy—when we must rally and unite to preserve and strengthen the ideals, the doctrines and the institutions that have made our nation the world's greatest citadel of freedom and liberty. I do not conceive how any real American would object to these principles and objectives.

With the interest of all Americans in mind we have adopted the slogan, "Our Citizens, Our Country, First."

Respectfully yours,
ROBERT R. REYNOLDS,
U. S. Senator

THAT DEFICIT AGAIN

With the usual regularity of the coming and going of calendar and fiscal years the Postmaster General has again announced a huge postal deficit.

Wonderful, indeed, to be able to do a business of multiplied millions annually and have another pocket to dip into to make up the deficit.

We are wondering if any of our business associates have another pocket into which to dip for funds with which to meet deficits?

We do not, and doubt if any of our printer friends have, but Uncle Sam is still in the printing business, selling printed matter at less than the small-town printer can purchase the stock at wholesale, which brings to mind that deficit again. If the Postoffice Department is losing money, why not increase the price on commodities sold to meet the deficit.

There is no private business man who could continue in business long if he failed to make a profit . . . and few of them would be patronizing a Government print shop if they didn't buy at reduced prices. The individual printer could sell his merchandise at much lower prices if Uncle Sam would make up the deficit but Uncle Sam doesn't do business that way. The individual printer must pay rent on his business place, or numerous taxes, if he postoffice department at a loss. Seems Congress could stop the operation of printing establishments in opposition to private business.—Springfield Sun.

Playing School and Meeting

In addition to playing house we used to play school or church. The playing of children, at least when I was a child, was both consciously and unconsciously a satire on the elders. Since we were not gifted with rare vision, we did pretty much the things that we had seen, making them more ridiculous, if that were possible.

The old-fashioned school put up a good bluff. Viewed from the vantage ground of a third of a century, it does not look so fierce as it appeared and wanted to be. Rules, innumerable ones, sometimes, were made, apparently to be broken. When we played school, we even improved on what the teachers did. It was almost wicked just to be. The slightest encroachment on the teacher's dictatorship brought dire punishment. The children in the play school, usually unlike the ones in the one-room district school, cried loud and long when they were punished. The teaching methods were excellent travesties of what we had suffered in school. Sometimes, though, I have seen some genuine teaching and even some learning in play schools, for hungry little children often forget to be actors and enjoyed the play. Of course, the bad boys preferred to break up the school or to accept their punishment like men, to make the smaller ones envious. That times have changed since then was brought to my attention not long ago when a woman with several children told me that her family when playing school did not use the switch but threatened the youngsters with low grades in deportment. The children of old Fidelity knew only the rod, fresh from the endless woods around the schoolhouse.

It was not always easy to play meeting, for some of the children were likely to have conscientious scruples about making fun of sacred things. Then, too, parents and teachers often took a hand when our satire was a bit too broad. Regardless of the religious preference of our children, our baptisms were always by immersion, preferably in a pile of leaves. Large boys resisted the preacher until the baptizing often became a riot, with some deputies to help out those who were in charge. The preaching, the singing, the call to the mourners' bench were standardized, varying only a little from what we observed. The shouting was a bit overdone, sounding more like the ravings of crazy people.

And this reminds me, even it should not, of playing jail. The weakest boys were chosen as sheriffs, to give the gangsters a chance to work their tricks with little punishment. The little sheriff, got even, occasionally, with the gang by deputizing a large, rough boy to help him quell the mob. The jail was commonly a cleared place fenced in with huckleberry bushes; breaking jail was up to true gangster ideals. In one neighborhood near where I lived the boys dug a pit some three feet deep and built a rail pen over this for their jail. One boy was almost smothered in the jail, and the less closed-in type was used afterward.

Whatever we did, we nearly always had a fight. Young villians are very little different from older ones. But the game went on, from generation to generation, whether we played school or church or jail or any of the numerous games of the country school.

GAME AND WILDLIFE WEEK TO BE OBSERVED MARCH 19 TO 25

County farm and home agents and 4-H club members throughout the State will participate in National Wildlife Restoration and Conservation Week, which will be observed March 19-25, according to Director C. E. Brehm of the U. S. Agricultural Extension Service.

The purpose of the movement which is sponsored by the National Wildlife Federation is to stimulate interest in restoration and conservation of game animals, birds, and fish. Once Tennessee was blessed with an abundant supply of these and every public minded citizen of both town and country should be interested in the restoration of these natural resources to our forests and streams. Director Brehm, who was recently appointed a member of the State Wildlife Week committee, states:

H. E. Bagginstoss, Nashville, is State Director of the movement. County chairman will be appointed by him in all counties and every one interested in the movement is urged to cooperate in making it a success.

During the month of March, 4-H club meetings, under the leadership of county farm and home agents, will be devoted to a study of game restoration and protection, according to G. L. Herrington, State Leader of boys' club work.

J. E. Griefel, rancher of Salinas, Calif., sued a western railroad company for $14,000 damages, charging that one of its trains, after jumping the track, started down the highway after him, causing him to crash into a tree with his truck.

Paris tailors have agreed to charge men with more than 43-inch waist measurements a ten per cent advance for their suits in the future.

TAKE NOTICE OF CHANGES IN LEASING AND CROPPING AGREEMENTS AND REDUCTION IN NUMBER OF TENANTS

If on any farm in 1939 any change of the arrangements which existed on the farm in 1938 is made between the landlord or operator and the tenants or sharecroppers that would cause a greater portion of the payments to be made to the landlord or operator under the 1939 program

THE AWFUL PRICE YOU PAY FOR BEING NERVOUS

Quivering nerves can make you old and haggard looking, cranky and hard to live with—can keep you awake nights and rob you of good health, good times and jobs.

What you may need is a particularly good woman's tonic—and could you ask for anything whose benefits are better proved than famous Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? Let its wholesome herbs and roots help Nature build up more physical resistance and thus help calm your skittish nerves, give more energy and make life worth living again.

More than a million women have reported benefit—why not let Pinkham's Compound help YOU, too, to get "smiling thru" trying times like it has other grateful women for the next 3 generations? IT MUST BE GOOD!

"Honolulu" Brings Dancing, Music And Laughter to Fulton Screen

With Eleanor Powell offering a series of new and brilliant dances against the exotic background of Hawaii, with Robert Young in a rib-tickling as well as romantic dual role, and with the sensationally popular comedy team of Burns and Allen edging to the uproar, "Honolulu," M-G-M's new concoction of music, mirth and melody, opens Sunday at the Fulton Theatre as one of the first of 1939's big movie hits.

The story deals with a screen star who wants a vacation to get away from fame. At an "opening night" he is told that the crowd has surrounded a man who resembles him, demanding his autograph. This inspires the star to arrange an exchange of personalities with his double and the deal is on.

On board ship bound for Honolulu, the Hollywood man meets a cabaret dancer and falls for her. Then, in Honolulu, he discovers that he has come into the difficulties of his double, including a charge of embezzlement and a fiancée. The confusion is straightened out when the double is persuaded to come back to the island.

High Forehead

The white high forehead of this Woodville, Mississippi, home rises above small columns to a height commanding the oak-lined streets about it. House of an aristocratic family, it carries its century of age with dignity. It is as well preserved as the family character to which its function was to give habitation. Permanency, authority, classical manners, are reflected in its facade.

This distinctive home, together with others, will be open to members of Illinois Central tour parties during the annual spring pilgrimage of the Woodville Garden Club in March.

Kentucky Merchants Ass'n Has Meeting

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Kentucky Merchants Association in Louisville on February 21st, 1939, a group of merchants representing every type of retailing from all sections of Kentucky heard Clay Copeland, Supervisor of the Kentucky Minimum Wage Law for Women and Minors, discuss and explain the new regulations under which every employer of women and minors must operate, or suffer severe penalties when the law is made mandatory.

"Kentucky is the 23rd state in the United States to pass wage and hour legislation," Copeland stated, "and Kentucky has the lowest minimum wage of any state having such laws."

Copeland requested the Kentucky Merchants Association to submit suggestions as to the number of hours a "learner" should be permitted to work in the retail trade at the reduced hourly rate before becoming a "finished retail employee."

After a thorough discussion of the Wage and Hour Law from all angles, the merchants passed a resolution which requests the Commissioner of Industrial Relations to set a period of 2,400 hours as the length of time to teach a "learner" the rudiments of the retail trade, before he can be considered a finished worker and receive the full minimum wage.

The resolution further petitioned the Commissioner to make certain exemptions for the holiday periods, inventory times and other peak periods which necessitate the employment of extra workers.
