PTA Members Urged to Be at School Meeting Saturday

News-Prints

How do they do it department: The folks of Martin, Tenn., are busying themselves these days with plans to welcome a factory of the Western Garment Company of St. Louis, makers of the famous "Jean Harper" dresses. The company is seeking a building of 30,000 feet floor space on which they will pay $6,600 rental, plus 6 percent per year on the total investment and maintain the building on the inside.

Estimated total payroll is $300,000 per year. This factory seems in the same class with our own Henry I. Siegel Company, whose value to this community cannot be measured in words or finances.

We'll bet the good folks at the Siegel Company could tell us of a lot of folks wanting to settle here. How come site-seekers go to Martin, when our transportation facilities make Fulton as close to St. Louis as one is to two.

We'll close with the 'we just don't understand it department.'

Our good friends, Mary and Jake Howard down at Hickman seem to be pretty much in a quandry. They have received a letter from a former Hickmanian, Mrs. Forest (Irene Seay) Cramer, who is now living in Yokahama, Japan. In her letter Mrs. Cramer said that she took an enjoyable side trip to Kawana, B. C. F. and for the like of Mary and Jake they can't find out where in the world Kawana is. They have consulted atlases, gazeteers, school teachers, county agents and other smart people but without any clue as to the "shrangri-la." We feel in our hearts that some Fultonian can help out down there. How about some good reader coming up with the answer. As for us... never heard of it.

Well sire, you never know what'll they do next. A story was told us the other day about a former Fultonian, in the tiny tot class. Understand, that little Sid Dyer, young son of Dr. and Mrs. Sidney Dyer of Kutawa, Ky., went to church with his mother in Princeton recently, there being no church of their denomination in their own city. Little Sid, listened to the Mass patiently, pretty much engrossed, his mother thought in the Latin recitations, when all of sudden during a short pause in the ceremony, little Sid, stands to his full height in the pew and shouts:

"Sold to American."
Understand Dezzy is still taking nerve tablets.

We realize that we might be a little tardy in reporting this next item, but its news just the same. When a congenial group of Fultonians composed of Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell McDade, Dr. and Mrs. Ward Bushart, and Mr. and Mrs. Bob White attended a New Year's party at the swank country club in Paducah, they were right in the midst of gala activities with Vice-President and Mrs. Alben Barkley. They reported the Veep-ess to be as charming as her photos, and the Veep to be his usual good old Kentucky self. It was difficult for the distinguished couple to eat their meal, so steady and so enthusiastic were the well-wishers, but then, that probably didn't bother the couple. As Alben would say:

"That's the American public, my dear," without which he wouldn't make the big splash that he does, we add.

Terry-Norman Students Give to March of Dimes

The 82 students of Terry-Norman school in Fulton turned in $97.53 Thursday morning as their contribution to the current Polio drive.

This school is the first to report, and according to Elbert Johns, County chairman, sets a "high standard" for other schools to follow.

The Fulton Lions Club has contributed $100 to the Polio drive, and is the first local organization so far to vote funds for the campaign.

David Capps, WENK Writer Gives Latest Flood Account

David Capps, former Fulton newspaper man and now a representative of Radio Station WENK in Union City, made a tour of the Hickman levee on Tuesday at dusk. The following is his report of the situation, written especially for the News.

The flood situation in and around Hickman and western Tennessee looks a bit rough at nightfall tonight. However, there is no immediate reason for great alarm. The water hit a level of 36 inches below the level of 1937 this morning at Hickman and is still rising. Just how much more water will hit Hickman depends on the amount of rainfall in the immediate future and also the amount of water that hits western Kentucky out of the flooded Wabash basin in southern Indiana. About one foot more is expected at Hickman before midnight Wednesday. If the river at Hickman shows any drop at all before the water from the Wabash hits Hickman, it might not be sufficient to cause any great rise there. At the southern tip of the concrete wall at Hickman the water stood only 36 inches below the 1937 level.

It is, however, thought that the old Mengel levee might not hold the water that has stuck it during the last few days. It is striking at the very top of this particular levee now. It will take less than one foot to put it over this levee. This short levee is the one that holds the water from the river off the Mengel Lake and it is located between the Highway levee and the government levee. All families have been moved out of this area and hundreds of families are pouring into Hickman from Missouri today.

Hickman was safe, for the time being at least, behind its floodwall, and refugees from the Birds Point-New Madrid area of Missouri were being landed in town.

Residents of that section were moving out in advance of a possible flooding of the area to relieve pressure on levees elsewhere.

The Mississippi at Hickman was three and a half feet from the top of the floodwall.

It will be remembered that on the morning of January 24, 1937 the water topped Mengel levee and at 8:30 that night she went out, flooding this small enclosure, wrecking 3,000,000 feet of lumber

GI CHECKS MEAN BRISK BUSINESS

Government economists estimate that the GI insurance rebate checks in the sum of $2,800,000,000 to 16,000,000 veterans will boost the nation's business, and is cited as the No. 1 factor in predicting good conditions throughout at least half of 1950.

Some effect has already been felt in the business world, especially those devising new credit plans, whereby GIs may purchase needed merchandise and make no payments until they receive insurance rebate checks.

The Veterans Administration announced the past week that it is hoped to mail out 200,000 checks daily, and that it is further estimated that all checks will be in the hands of veterans by June 30, if the planned average of mailing 200,000 checks daily can be maintained.

Siegel City Welcomes German Worker

Mary Nell Grubbs Evelyn Daugherty

We, of Siegel City, wish to say welcome to Mrs. Douglas Webb of Dukedom. Mrs. Webb was formerly Miss Hildegard Menzel of Berlin, Germany. Hildegard tells us that she has been in America one year the seventh of December. She has been with us at Siegel only about three weeks. I believe she finds her work here with us a little different to her work back in Germany.

She speaks very good English and is very interesting to talk with and she doesn't mind talking about her life in Germany. She is a very attractive, young lady with beautiful, bright, brown eyes.

Hildegard speaks of her father, Franz Menzel, a well known musician, who played in all the opera houses and health resorts in Germany. Mr. Menzel was the violin, viola, saxophone and clarinet. Her brother played the violin, piano and trombone. Hildegard herself says she used to play the piano but is out of practice now.

She also tells us of her only brother, who was killed by the Russians during the war. He was a member of the air force band. He was married to a Baroness and they were on their honeymoon and he was developing pictures when he spilled acid on his feet. He remained in a hospital for a year. The flesh was eaten from his feet to the bone. He was sentenced to death for being a traitor or which he had planned purposely because he didn't want to fight. He was put in charge of a command and sent into a dense woods full of Russians. He never returned. Mrs. Webb says that her brother's wife believes that he is still alive and a prisoner

Mrs. Ernest Fall, Jr. To Broadcast For Polio Funds

Another in a series of radio broadcasts in the interest of raising funds for the March of Dimes, is scheduled for tonight (Friday) over Station WENK in Union City, Mrs. Hendon Wright, radio publicity chairman for this year's drive said today. Time of the broadcast is 7:00 p. m.

On Tuesday of this week Mrs. Wright interviewed Miss Mildred Greer over the air. Friday night, Mrs. Ernest Fall, Jr., president of the West Fulton PTA will speak on the program, and on Tuesday night, January 24, E. E. Williamson, president of the Chamber of Commerce will speak.

RECREATION PARTY AT CHESTNUT GLADE

A recreational party will be held at Chestnut Glade School Gym on Thursday night, January 26 at 7:00 p. m. This party is to be sponsored by the Young Farmers and Homemakers Organization of Weakley County.

This organization selected as one of its projects for the year the sponsorship of a series of recreational parties in various communities of Weakley County, for the purpose of giving Community Service and increase its enrollment in the organization.

Everyone from the Chestnut Glade Community is cordially invited and urged to help make this first recreational program of the organization a success.

FACTS ABOUT THE MARCH OF DIMES

By Agatha Voelgel

The March of Dimes opened January 14th in Kentucky and will continue through the end of January. That's just two weeks and the workers in the campaign are trying to make it easy for everyone to participate because they know the need. They know too that everyone wants to take part in this drive. The state goal is set at $500,000.00 and the Fulton quota is $3500.00.

The story of the March of Dimes is quite simple, the entire program of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is a matter of simple economics. The money is used to provide treatment, hospital and nursing care and rehabilitation of damaged nerves and muscles and to find means of stamping out the disease.

All of these things take money so much money that it is necessary for everyone to contribute in this once a year drive to sustain those stricken people and to provide care for those whom we may be reasonably sure will be stricken with polio in 1950.

The 1949 incident of polio reached 40,000 reported cases in the United States; in Kentucky these were 689 cases; in Fulton County there were eight cases. In viewing the polio records of the 13 year period from 1925 through 1948 and comparing the 1949 records with that period we find that last year there were 1/4 as many cases in the state and one-third as many in our county as there were in the preceding 13 years.

In all these years your dimes and dollars have been stretched and stretched again, right now care is possible which was not possible a few years ago. Regardless of how much you could afford to pay, if someone in your family had polio, the modern treatment they could and would receive was made possible because you and others in past years gave to the March of Dimes.

Scientists are making great progress in the polio field; they even go so far to say that "within the foreseeable future" a solution may be found. The support of this program of research is our one and hope for ever wiping out the polio scourge.

The state of Kentucky $75,000.00 last month for care and treatment of Kentucky patients. All these patients received the best kind of care that science knows how to prescribe. And it was all your doing; you paid the bill; now the money is all gone—the cupboard is bare; now it is time to swing into the March of Dimes again to keep this work going on and on—care, treatment, and research. These things March together in a full program to whip polio. The whole program is yours.

of the Russians. My interesting young friend tells me of how she worked as a house maid according to the laws of Hitler. Just luck for her, she got a job in the house of her best friend's sister. She then, after one year as a house maid, went to commercial school and got a job as a secretary with a large firm. She worked in the office until after the war when the Americans troops moved into Berlin. She could speak English and when this was made known she was given a job in the 633rd Laundry Co., in the U. S. Army as clerk. She kept this job for two years.

Mr. Webb was stationed at the Quartermaster Company Depot as a supply clerk and met the lovely lady while turning in clothes to the laundry in December of 1946. They were married November 8, 1948 in Berlin. It must have been a beautiful affair. The picture of the wedding proved that to me.

Hildegard says she doesn't care for Hitler also her family respected him as they all are Catholics.

She says that when she left Germany over 66,000 German girls had married American boys. She says that she has been told that the reason so many American boys preferred German girls were because they are more economical and more easily pleased.

American people are much better dressed than Germans, she says. She says that the Germans have a worn out look due to the shortage of food.

Again, we say welcome Hildegard and if there is any way in which we can be of assistance to you just let us know. I'm sure it won't be so hard after you get the hang of it.

School Men Seek New Taxes As Means to Get More Funds

PMA PERSONNEL HERE SATURDAY

Chas. E. Wright, Chairman, Fulton County PMA Committee, announced today that the office personnel would be in Fulton, Saturday, January 21, at the Southern States Co-operative Store (one block East of the Post Office) to receive 1949 Performance Reports. Application for payment and performance reports are made at the same time.

Mr. Wright also stated that it is essential for farmers to report practices carried out in order to be eligible for payment. This is the last time that the office personnel will be in Fulton under the 1949 year.

Farmers who are unable to meet this date should make an immediate report to the County Office in Hickman, Ky.

Otha Linton Named On Debate Team at Murray

Otha Linton, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Linton, 115 Cedar street, Fulton, and Nolan Shepard, son of Rev. and Mrs. Ray Shepard, Water Valley, Ky., are members of the varsity debate team at Murray State College. They recently participated in non-decision intercollegiate debates with Southeast Missouri State College and Evansville College on the subject "Resolved: That the United States should nationalize the basic non-agricultural industry."

Highly Controversial School Appropriation Hints of Move to Draft John S. Cooper For Senate; Doran Uncooperative to School Teachers

Failing in their efforts to influence Governor Earle Clements, or former schoolman and House Speaker Adron Doran, to appropriate $34,500,000 for Kentucky schools, Kentucky educators began a series of eleven district meetings this week to pass increased tax legislation for educational purposes. W. L. Holland, superintendent of city schools reported today.

Under discussion are such revenue producing matters as:

BOY SCOUTS HAVE REGULAR MEETING

The Dry Lake District Committee of Boy Scouts met in regular monthly meeting January 16th with the following Scouters present: Glynn Bushart, Milton Exum, W. B. Seight, Hugh Barnes, Louis Weeks, Jack Speight, Charles Jones, Garland Merryman, Sid Rose, Scoutmaster Kimbell, Van Latta, Elbert Johns, Foad Homra, R. E. Sanford, Maxwell McDade, Scoutmaster, Harry Newton and Clardy Holland, Hickman, Harry Brady, Clinton, Stanley Jones, Jack Carter, Nelson Tripp, Cubmaster Rev. Rueb, Rev. Stone, Spud Edwards, and Bertie Pigue.

Reports of all Troops and Cub Packs were made.

Plans were discussed for the pilgrimage of the Scouts to Valley Forge Park near Philadelphia June 30th-July 6th when 10,000 Boy Scouts from all Nations will encamp for a week with trips to points of interest there and side trips into Philadelphia and New York. A Boy Scout must be 12 years old and hold the rank of second class or better to be able to attend. Special cars will be attached to the regular scheduled trains on which reduced rates have been secured. The total cost of the trip will be approximately $100.00 per boy. It is hoped that at least 66 boys from the Four Rivers Council will attend. There will not be another International Jamboree like this until 1960.

National Scout week will be observed Feb. 6th-14th and a special service will be held at one of the local churches. A further announcement will be made later. A financial drive will be made during the week to secure funds for the year's operation. A new sponsor is being sought for the South Fulton Troop. The Cubs plan a banquet for next week. The annual scoutmasters appreciation dinner will be held in Cobb Hotel, Paducah, Feb. 14th. This district will have at least four Scouts to become Eagles at this dinner.

COMMITTEE TAKING NEW APPLICATIONS

County Production and Marketing Administration committees are now taking applications for new farm tobacco allotments for 1950 from farmers eligible to share in the small acreage available for these allotments. R. O. Wilson, chairman of the State PMA Committee, said here today.

Applicants for these allotments are required to file applications with county PMA Committees prior to February 1, 1950, except applicants who have been discharged from the armed services since December 31, 1949. The latter may file within a "reasonable time" prior to planting of tobacco.

There regulations apply to all tobacco produced under marketing quotas in the state.

SUE FORREST HONORED ON 12th BIRTHDAY

Sue Forrest was honored on her twelfth birthday Saturday afternoon with a skating party at the Martin roller rink given by her aunt, Mrs. C. P. Bruce.

The hostess assisted by Mrs. Bill Holland served delightful sandwiches, Coca-Colas and ice cream. Favors of miniature drums of candy were given each guest. Sue received many nice gifts.

1. Raising the tax of a pack of cigarettes to five cents, now two cents.
2. On beer to $3, now $1.50.
3. On parimutuel betting to 10 per cent, now three per cent.
4. On whiskey production to 10 cents a gallon, now five cents.

The meeting of the First District educators, which Mr. Holland will attend, is scheduled to be held Saturday morning at ten o'clock at Murray State Teacher's College. All Parent-Teacher groups and interested citizens are invited to the meeting.

Mr. Holland, co-chairman of a First District committee to educate the public with the dire needs of Kentucky's school system said that chances looked "good" for passage of the revenue producing tax measures.

State-wide, and in many local communities, tremendous animosity is being built up against Governor Clements and especially House Speaker Adron Doran because of their stand in refusing to heed the proposals of the Kentucky Education Association. Great hope had been placed, it was reliably reported, on Doran, a former schoolman, to assist with the appropriation. But Doran's attitude on the matter was summed up in the following conversation, with prominent educators who pleaded with him to recognize Harry Lee Waterfield, instead of Floor Leader Hanratty, an opponent of the increased appropriation.

Mr. Doran is reported to have replied:

Tomorrow morning I shall recognize, Mr. Hanratty, and not Mr. Waterfield.

The attitude of the Governor and his General Assembly leaders has started the ball rolling among school leaders to draft Senator John S. Cooper, a former U. S. Senator and a Republican, to seek the office of United States Senator from Kentucky in the primaries this summer. Governor Clements has been mentioned as a possible Democratic candidate for that office.

SECOND CONCERT WED.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 20, 1950

Special Note To N. J. G.

For whatever it might be worth to any politician who has sometimes dreamed of being United States Senator from Kentucky, we're tipping you off that now is the time to get right in and announce for the office.

Heralded as the most formidable un-announced candidate in the race, Governor Earle C. Clements seems to have turned his back on any chances he might have had, by deliberately bucking the educational leaders in the State.

We say, deliberately, because we mean just that. It seems to us that it might have been within his prerogative to renege, if he did, on his promise to back every objective of KEA's platform, but then to turn around and ridicule KEA's efforts to acquaint the public with their platform is an unnecessary slap in the face to the folks who are the most overworked, underpaid, unappreciated group of citizens in the State . . . the school teachers.

We cringe a little when we see the teachers in our neighboring State of Tennessee getting far greater salaries than our own Kentucky teachers, and then note where $17,000,000 more is sought from the Tennessee Legislature to give teachers pay increases. More power to the forward-looking Tennesseans, and shame on Kentucky law-makers for enjoying the next to last place berth in the Nation's Educational set-up.

Good Work, Harry Lee!

Fulton-Hickman counties representative Harry Lee Waterfield, Clinton publisher, certainly has kept the spotlight on the First District with his major victory in delaying passage of the Administration's $131,000,000 budget bill.

For whatever the delaying action is worth, it does show conclusively that the two counties are well represented.

With no attempt to get on the bandwagon, although Harry Lee knew full well that we pledged our support to another very fine gentleman, Harvey Pewitt, and therefore could not vote twice, we feel that Fulton and Hickman counties are getting their share of recognition in the General Assembly.

Its getting to be a habit though. Remember the work done by Harvey Pewitt and Charlie Waggoner on the eleventh hour passage of Fulton's school bill last year?

Which reminds us, Governor Clements vetoed that bill, too.

What's the matter Earle, don't you want us'en to have any book larin'?

Congratulations, Harry Lee. May you someday realize your political ambitions, which will certainly be to the distinct advantage of the First District and the rest of the State, too.

Quick Doctor, The Spray Gun!

The Democratic Administration, through a series of direct by mail news releases to newspapers, complete with questionnaires and brochures, is starting a campaign in favor of the President's National Compulsory Health Insurance plan, that makes the American Medical Association's "lobbying" attempt look like small potatoes.

Under the auspices of a new organization called the Committee for the Nation's Health, 1416 F. Street, N. W., Washington, D. C. volumes of material are being mailed out setting forth reasons why the National Health Insurance bill, S1679, should be enacted into law.

Last year when the bill was first introduced, the AMA, through its affiliate state, county and local groups, set the woods on fire explaining to lay people why the bill should not be passed. The combined efforts of all interested groups had the desired affect on members of Congress and the President, because the bill was way-laid.

But this year, a Congressional election year, when candidates seeking office will promise anything to get elected, it is our studied opinion that the American Medical Association, AND ITS AFFILIATE GROUPS HAVE REALLY FALLEN DOWN ON THE JOB.

The News is categorically opposed to the President's National Health Insurance Plan in its present form. It further taxes the employer, the employee, and will wreck incentive in a well organized and, for the most part, efficient profession.

Unless the medical profession gets on the ball, offers a plan of "charity medicine of its own" and dispenses with its sometimes in-different attitude toward "inabilities to pay," they will be the first in a long line of businesses and professions that will be forced to take the yoke of socialism being forced on the American public.

We're ready to fight are you Doc?

Tidbits of Kentucky Folklore

THE TYRANNY OF WORDS

Stuart Chase, S. I. Hayakawa, and others have written many books about the tyranny of words. There are more books that could be written, for all of us are victims of words in every phase of our human life. Folklore is valid in few places more than in words. So accustomed are we to assuming that the word is the thing itself that we rather resent any interference with our pet likes and dislikes.

I am convinced that most political bad feeling turns primarily on words. In the extreme western end of our state Democrat does not mean merely a term applied to a certain political party, a party that has certainly changed its point of view many times; it means all that is best and noblest in humanity, in politics, and just about everything else. In the extreme eastern end the term Republican has exactly the same connotation to thousands of people. What's in a name? Basically there may be nothing in a name, but millions of people are ready to fight for a word and what the word means to them, regardless of its origin and its meaning to other people.

Society puts its stamp on words so effectively that most of us hardly dare to use a word in good standing. When virtuals was decreed as just the thing, everybody that wanted to appear as anybody quit saying food and said virtuals. Styles changed, and only old-fashioned people clung to virtuals as a word, though most of us still like the things designated by the word. Food came back into use, now by the very best and most up-and-coming people; virtuals showed a person's crude background. What our great-grandchildren will call what they eat "doth not yet appear"; it is perfectly possible that even virtuals may get another workout. What is more probable is that some word now unknown or else in sub-standard use will come to the front and become a badge of the very best people.

For most of my life I have lived in a college atmosphere. There have been successive waves of mere terms to describe ordinary things. Some of these terms have been the property of the professor and have been passed back and forth like some sort of international currency: "motivation," "social situation," "correlation," and so on to infinity and nausea. Succeeding generations of students have been forced to learn the fashionable word for the plain fact and held up, by me as by others, until they learned to say the term as glibly as they could give their own names and places of residence. And then a new textbook came out that ignored the old terminology and forced even the teacher to learn all over again. Since I have taught grammar steadily for some forty years, that subject would be a good one to illustrate what I mean. Some of the books I once used called a certain usage of a noun or pronoun a "resultant object," a pretty good term for it. I taught that term to thousands of people. Later texts called the same thing a "factive object," which, by proper knowledge of Latin, means exactly the same thing. Now all the texts call it an "objective complement." Meanwhile the thing itself, regardless of its name, is an every-day feature of our language and will continue to be. Personally I have had to learn all the terms and to recognize any suggestion of some other word that a student from far away brings with him.

The students, too, have had their vocabulary, just as precise as the teachers'. That is, slang has always been around any college campus. Each generation, almost each year, believes that it has found the right word for the right idea. Rather strangely, the very right word sometimes dies within a few weeks or months. Sometimes also, the old, old slang comes back seemingly as fresh as one-popular songs that are reintroduced as if they had just been created by a composer. And, as among the teachers, the facts are still hanging around. The "drip" or the "dope" or the "dumb-bell" is nothing new, no matter what we call him now or called him when I was a freshman in college. However, not to call him by the accepted name would brand one as being behind the times.

"I don't care if he is president of the company during Boys Club Week—he's not going to fire ME!"

Kentucky On The March

When a group headed by Dean Maurice F. Seay of the University of Kentucky reported to the Committee for Kentucky over four years ago on the condition of our public schools, the public was shocked as it had not been shocked before by any revelation of conditions inside the state. Some people found the Seay report hard to believe. But nobody could refute a word of it. And the result of the revelation was a substantial increase in school funds, with higher salaries for teachers and, in some places, new or enlarged buildings.

Now we get some fresh information about Kentucky schools in a nation-wide survey conducted by the New York Times, which great newspaper seems to have followed the general pattern of the Seay report. The Times says we are fourth from the bottom now in salary averages of teachers, principals, and supervisors, with $1,990 as compared with Mississippi's $1,393, or $27.78 a week; as compared with the national average of $55.37 a week; Arkansas's $1,675, and South Carolina's $1,795. Kentucky salaries range from $524 to $4,300. Our low is the third lowest in the country. Mississippi's bottom is $500, Nebraska's $450.

Our average, now $1,890 for classroom teachers, was $1,014 when the Seay report was published by the Committee for Kentucky, based on 1943 data.

Oberlin's Observations

When tempers have calmed down, when the 1950 session of the Kentucky state legislature is history instead of red-hot, current news, it is possible that somebody will undertake a full-scale analysis of the tax proposals of the Kentucky Education Association.

It would be much better to as-

"because it was considered the best location" for the site of the I. C.'s new $6 million dollar railroad shops, which when completed, will be the world's largest, the Paducah News-Democrat announced this week.

January 24, 1930:

Ben Cantrell, 35, well known farmer of Austin Springs, was found frozen to death near his overturned car on the Palmersville road Saturday. The accident apparently happened during Friday's snow storm.

More than 180,000 acres in Arkansas lay under 2 to 3 feet of water this week as engineers fought to prevent further breaking of levees weakened by high flood waters this week.

The annual election of officers in the City National Bank this week indicated no changes being made. Directors include W. W. Morris, Joe Browder, T. N. Fields, W. A. Terry, Enoch Browder, Sam T. Butler, N. G. Cooke, W. P. Murrell, E. F. Karmire, L. F. Burke and C. P. Williams.

says The Times, "has doubled since 1939-40—it was $1,441 that year—it has gained only about $300 in purchasing power." That is a little over 20 per cent, and most of the things teachers have to buy are up 50 per cent or more since 1940.

There is a considerable improvement in teaching personnel. But Kentucky still needs 3,700 more elementary teachers and 200 secondary.

According to the survey conditions in Kentucky are about the same as in 1948-49. The gains all came immediately after the rural tax limit was raised from 75 cents to $100 worth of taxable property to $150. This means that if Kentucky goes to sleep on its one year's gains, conditions will soon be deplorable again because school population is not standing still—estimated increase of pupils for next school year is 10,000—and the profession of teaching is not getting to be any more attractive to young people.

Public indifference all over the nation to the most important thing in modern civilization is hard to understand. Americans in the last decade have reached an all-time high in extravagance, in wastefulness. At no time in recorded history have children been given more luxuries, had more money squandered on them directly by their parents. Yet in this decade of free spending the public schools, the most important institution in the nation, came last in public consideration.

What the K. E. A. in effect has done is demand at the eleventh hour that a long range program for improvement of teachers salaries be jammed through the legislature. It rallied to this proposition all the weapons and tools of the most clever professional politicians. It went about it in the most practical political manner.

This does not seem the proper way to approach educational matters.

A good many of our best informed citizens believe that Kentucky's social and economic ills stem directly from the deplorable condition of our educational system. We have too few schools, too few well-trained school teachers, too few youngsters who graduate from high school, too few of everything which makes an enlightened citizenry.

The thing which will remedy all this, which will provide schools, encourage teachers to stay on their jobs and keep youngsters going to school, is more money.

The only question, really, is where is the money coming from.

The K. E. A. has decided that thirty-four and a half million dollars is the magic figure. This amount will provide Kentucky teachers with an average of $2,400 a year. This amount itself is ridiculously low.

Teachers, who put several years of their lives and considerable money in their education, to equip themselves to train the young, should be paid more than that—or they shouldn't be teaching.

Thirty-four and a half million probably is far too little. But we don't have any idea how much is needed because no educational survey has been made. We don't know how many one-room, one teacher schools should be eliminated, or how many or how large new buildings to replace them should be.

The Kentucky Education Association should have a county by county schools district by school district, survey of all Kentucky, with a complete study of wages and buildings. From that it could determine what is necessary. Then it would know what annual budgets are needed to finance the long range program.

But this takes time—just as raising the tax-money honestly takes time. For education is strictly a local problem. Most of the money for schools and teachers should be raised in the community where the children go to school. That means, of course, that property assessments must be increased. And that's a slow process.

There are counties in Kentucky which will be unable to support their school system even if property assessments are honest. These, by all means, should be given all the money necessary by the state to provide a sound, modern, complete educational system.

Because, it's a strange thing—but the better the local educational system, the sooner the state tax burden will be lifted from the state, and local communities will be able to take care of themselves.

Investing in the education, training and welfare of our children is the best investment we can make. But it is the best only if it is on a sound and permanent basis.

Mrs. Sam Winston left Wednesday night for Cincinnati, Ohio, where she will join her daughter, Miss Mary Nell Winston and they will go by plane to California and Mexico City for a two weeks vacation.

Here Is Another Time The Anti-Trust Lawyers Were Wrong!

Ever since the anti-trust lawyers filed their suit to put A&P out of business, they have been making, in the newspapers and over the radio, various "allegations" about how they think this company does business. Please remember that "allegations" are charges that have not been proved.

In this case they will be disproved.

There have been times in the past when the anti-trust lawyers made very damaging "allegations" about this company that the courts eventually decided were utterly without foundation.

In our last advertisement we told you about the time the anti-trust lawyers charged that A&P, two other food chains and two labor unions conspired to fix the price of bread in Washington, D. C.

And yet, when this case came to trial, it was revealed that the defendants were actually selling bread cheaper than most other stores in Washington, and there was absolutely no evidence that they had ever engaged in any such "alleged" conspiracy.

That was the time Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty."

It was the time he said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"If you were to show this record to any experienced trial lawyer in the world, he would tell you that there was not any evidence at all."

"Honestly, I have never in my over forty years' experience seen tried a case that was as absolutely devoid of evidence as this. That is the honest truth. I have never seen one like it."

But this was not the only time that the anti-trust lawyers made such serious "allegations" against A&P which were false. Again, and still again, they brought cases against A&P and suffered defeat.

As we have said, we think you are entitled to know about these other cases. And now, we are going to tell you about the second time the anti-trust lawyers were wrong.

The North Carolina Potato Case

In December, 1941, the anti-trust lawyers brought a criminal suit in Wilson, North Carolina.

They charged that A&P's fresh fruit and vegetable buying subsidiary, and other good American citizens, had conspired to fix and depress prices paid farmers for potatoes in North Carolina, Virginia and Maryland.

Can anyone imagine any charge calculated to be more damaging to a retail grocery business that must rely on farmers, day after day, for the food we distribute to our customers?

In this case the anti-trust lawyers gave a story to the newspapers, telling millions of farmers that we were the kind of people who would force their prices down, deprive them of a decent income, and lower their families' living standard.

These charges were false.

They made these charges despite the fact that it has always been A&P's policy to pay our farm suppliers fair market prices for all produce; to aid agriculture through better distribution of its products; to narrow the spread between farm and retail prices; and to help farmers build better markets for their products.

That is why many thousands of farmers all over the country are now coming to our support.

When the case finally came to trial, the anti-trust lawyers put on as their first witness a potato expert of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

This expert, who was the anti-trust lawyers' own witness, testified that contrary to the anti-trust lawyers' "allegations," the defendants made every effort to help the Department of Agriculture in its efforts to aid the potato farmer in better marketing of his products and in getting a better price for his products.

When the anti-trust lawyers had put in their evidence and had argued their case Federal Judge C. C. Wyche directed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty."

Judge Wyche said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"I have studied this case from the very outset. In my opinion, there is no testimony produced from which it can reasonably be inferred that the defendants entered into a combination to depress or lower the price of potatoes."

"I might say that I never tried a case in my life where a greater effort, more work, more investigation had been done, combing almost with a fine-tooth comb to gather evidence, as was done in this case."

"But, as was said a long time ago, you can't make brick without straw, and you can't make a case without facts."

So, here was a case in which the anti-trust lawyers made seriously damaging charges against A&P in which the Judge decided that there were no facts to support those charges.

That is why we say the anti-trust lawyers can be wrong and have been wrong.

That is why we say that they are wrong again, just as they were wrong in the Washington bread case and the North Carolina potato case.

We are going to show the American people that the suit to destroy A&P is really a suit against efficiency and against real competition.

The real question involved in this suit is whether businessmen are going to be encouraged to do a better and more efficient job; or whether we are going to let the anti-trust lawyers in Washington blow the whistle on anybody who gets big by giving the people more for their money.

No one can make us believe that it is a crime to try to sell the best quality food at the lowest possible price.

VICTORY HOMEMAKERS

MEET TUESDAY, JAN. 17

The Victory Homemakers Club met in the home of Mrs. Allen Jones, 503 Third street Tuesday, January 17 for an all day meeting.

The business session was presided over by the president, Mrs. Harold Copeland. Mrs. E. L. Cook acted as secretary in the absence of Mrs. Reginald Williamson. Roll call was answered by twenty-one members giving their New Year's resolution.

After a bountiful pot luck lunch, the house became a humming workshop. Beautiful lamp shades were made of parchment and card board trimmed with different colored craftstrip under the supervision of the leaders Mrs. Charles Upton and Mrs. Harold Williamson. If you find that your shades have become shabby and discolored or if you just want a change you can put a new cover on the frame with very little cost and have fun doing it.

In the absence of the recreation leader, Mrs. Cecil Burnette led the group in playing, "I'm Thinking of Something" and singing, "Sing Your Way Home."

Mrs. Raymond Harrison will go to Lexington as a delegate for the Club to Farm and Home Week.

Tea for the delegate will be with Mrs. Herman Roberts on Thursday, February 9 at 2 o'clock.

The club was glad to have Mrs. McLeod, Home Agent, present for the business session.

The February meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Cecil Burnette with Mrs. E. A. Carver as co-hostess.

DRAMA DEPARTMENT HOLDS JANUARY MEETING TUESDAY

The January meeting of the Drama Department of the Fulton Woman's Club was held Tuesday night at 7:30 at the Club Home.

Mrs. Fred Gipson presided over the meeting. Four new members were welcomed into the department. They were: Mrs. Bobby Matthews, Mrs. Smith Brown, Mrs. Charlie Walker and Miss Mary Holman.

Mrs. Russ Anderson presented a most interesting program which was a colored film of her trip from Honolulu to Canada and the scenes were so beautiful that it looked like paintings.

During the social hour the hostesses Mesdames: Charles Rice, Russell Rudd, Earl Collins, Sterling Bennett, Curtis Hancock and Buren Rogers served a lovely salad plate and spiced tea.

MRS. BRADFORD ENTERTAINS BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. L. O. Bradford entertained the Tuesday afternoon bridge club at her home on Third street. Games of contract were enjoyed during the afternoon. Mrs. V. L. Freeman was high scorer for the afternoon.

The hostess served light refreshments at the close of the games.

FULTON HOMEMAKERS TO HAVE ALL-DAY MEETING JANUARY 25

The Fulton Homemakers will have an all-day meeting Wednesday, January 25 beginning at 10 o'clock at the Young Men's Business Club.

Members are asked to bring a sack lunch.

The project will be the making of parchment shades. All members are urged to attend.

CAYCE F. H. A. HAS MEETING

(Too late for last week)

The regular monthly meeting of the F. H. A. of Cayce School was called to order by Kathryn Rice, the president. Charlene Preuit, secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting and they were approved. In the absence of Wanda Stallins, treasurer, Miss Pauline Waggoner, advisor, gave the treasurer's report.

Old business was discussed and committees gave the following reports. The F. H. A. enjoyed a Christmas party and also prepared a box to send to our adopted Home Economics class in Germany. Over a hundred cans of fruit was given to Mrs. Wall, whose home was destroyed by fire shortly before Christmas.

Initiation of new members were planned for January 12 including a theater party afterwards. Mrs. Lee Buckannan chapter mother, will be present for the meeting and the following will be initiated: Ann Ballow, Dorothy Burns, Jane Dawes, Loretta Gilbert, Anna Harris, Carol Jenkins, Linda Hicks, Eleanor King, Sammy Mills, Carlene Searce, Marie Thompson, Joan Wade and June Wright.

The meeting adjourned with the F. H. A. prayer.

ART DEPARTMENT HAS MEETING WITH MRS. FALL

Mrs. J. E. Fall Sr., was hostess to the Art Department of the Fulton Woman's Club Saturday afternoon at her home on Vine street.

Mrs. Gordon Baird, chairman, assisted by Mrs. D. Fred Worth was in charge of the business session and plans were made for the February open meeting of the Woman's Club at which time the Art Department will be host.

Mrs. L. A. Clifton, program chairman, gave a most enjoyable program on "Antiques of the East." Mrs. Ira W. Little made a report on the "Art Delight," and it was decided to subscribe to the magazine "Antiques" to be used in connection with the department's programs.

The hostess served delicious refreshments to fourteen members and one visitor, Mrs. Felix Bright of Nashville.

The February meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Clanton Meacham.

BAPTIST CIRCLE MEETS WITH MRS. HYLAND

The Annie Armstrong Circle of the First Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. J. P. Hyland on Holman street.

Mrs. V. E. Clayton opened the meeting with prayer. The chairman, Mrs. James Fortner, presided over the business. After the minutes were read and business conducted, the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Neal Looney, program leader, who presented Mrs. Bill Hogg, who gave an interesting article, "Playing Fair with Others," taken from Royal Service.

HOTTEST ENGINE NEWS of 1950

That's the word spreading about Buick's brand-new F-263 valve-in-head engine, already proving itself in the hands of new SUPER owners

CALL it if you will the biggest power-story of the year. Call it another triumph in Buick's long history of coming up with car performance beyond compare.

But, sir, when you step into the sleek-lined traveler pictured here — hang on to your hat.

For you'll be riding behind a power plant that is not only new but a major sensation of the 1950 season.

You'll be commanding the very latest word in valve-in-head power—the newest accomplishment of the organization with the country's longest stretch of experience in this engine design.

Here every fist-size fuel charge now delivers a huskier wallop. Shorter, lighter connecting rods mean that pistons flash with faster and livelier action.

Heavier crankshafts, floated on bigger, more rugged bearings, take this greater load and transmit its stepped-up surge to the drive shaft and rear wheels.

And you, behind the wheel, wreath your face in smiles at the lift you find! At the trigger-quick take-off — the mile-eating cruising stride — your easy disdain for the passing gas pumps.

You and your SUPER are really stepping out — and Buick's good name as "a sweetheart on the road" gains still more lustre.

Nor is road-thrill the only blessing this new power plant brings. Simpler design makes service easier, so upkeep diminishes as a problem. Hydraulic valve-lifters keep valves properly seated for efficient operation — and for quiet unbroken by tappet noise.

And you can have this power either with Buick's easy-shifting Synchro-Mesh transmission or the silken luxury of Dynaflo Drive.*

Either way, this SUPER is certainly something to see. To this top-notch new power it adds style and room, comfort and a wide outlook, soft easy stride and handier new over-all length.

Even the price justifies a prompt trip to your Buick dealer to learn more about Buick for 1950. You'll soon see why so many folks are already saying, "Whatever your price range—better buy Buick!"

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

Features like these mean BUICK'S THE BUY

HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines, five hp ratings. (New F-263 engine in SUPER models.) • NEW-PATTERN STYLING, with bumper-guard grilles, taper-through fenders, "double-bubble" taillights • WIDE-ANGLE VISIBILITY, close-up road view both forward and back • TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and maneuvering, short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from coil-springing, Safety-Ride rims, low-pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube • DYNAFLO DRIVE standard on all ROADMASTERS, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL series • NINETEEN MODELS with Body by Fisher • WIDE CHOICE OF EQUIPMENT adding flexibility to prices that bracket every price range above the lowest.

BARBARA ASKEW AND ROY PENDERGRAFT JR. SAY MARRIAGE VOWS

Barbara Lynn Askew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Holie Askew of Whittier, Calif., became the bride of Roy William Pendergraft, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pendergraft, Sr., of Madras, Ore., on Wednesday, December 28th, the wedding anniversary of her parents.

Miss Askew is a daughter of the former Miss Ruth Wade and a granddaughter of Mrs. R. H. Wade of this city.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. G. R. Siemens at 8 o'clock in the evening in the Calvary Baptist Church.

Miss Jane White of Fulton, Ky., cousin of the bride, was maid of honor.

Her gown was of American beauty slipper satin with portrait neckline, fitted bodice and full skirt. She carried a white satin muff with American beauty rosebuds. The other bridesmaids wore similar gowns.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white satin fashioned with a tight bodice, buttoning down the back with tiny white satin buttons. The deep yoke of marquisette was outlined with two ruffles of Chantilly lace. Long tight sleeves ended with calla lily points. The long full skirt had a front panel of Chantilly lace and satin ruffles, and the cathedral train was outlined with the same lace, which also bordered the veil of French illusion which fell from a halo of lace and orange blossoms. The bride's only ornament was a string of pearls, an heirloom of her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Clare Askew of Whittier. The bride carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with American Beauty rosebuds.

A reception was held in the church parlor immediately following the ceremony. Receiving with the bride and groom and members of the wedding party were Mrs. Askew, the bride's mother, wearing a gown of black crepe, sequin-trimmed and a corsage of yellow rosebuds; the bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. R. H. Wade of Fulton, Ky., wearing a gown of black crepe, satin-trimmed and with a purple throat orchid pinned on her shoulder; the groom's maternal grandmother of Ontario, Calif., wearing a gray crepe dress with a purple orchid and Mrs. S. L. Finley of Bellflower, Calif., a cousin of the bride, wearing black crepe, trimmed with gold sequins.

The bride's table was overlaid with a lace cloth and centered with a tiered wedding cake with crystal chandelabra holding lighted tapers on either side of the cake and matching arrangements of chrysanthemums, gladioli and poinsettias at each end of the table.

After greeting the guests, Mr. and Mrs. Pendergraft left for a wedding trip to Palm Springs. The bride was wearing a Joselli original suit of gray wool gabardine with navy accessories and a corsage of red rosebuds.

Mrs. Pendergraft was born in Fulton, Ky., and attended Terry

Norman and Fulton High Schools. The family moved to California in 1944. She is a graduate of Whittier Union High School and attended California Theological Seminary of Los Angeles.

Mr. Pendergraft also a graduate of Whittier Union High School attended Biola in Los Angeles and is now associated with his father in business in Madras, Ore.

The bride and groom will be at home in Madras, Ore., after January 10.

Mrs. R. H. Wade, with Miss White flew to California for the wedding with Mrs. Wade staying for a longer visit.

ES SIR, here's my new baby, and quite a gal she is, too. She weighed in at 45,000 horsepower when she was born, and in a couple of months she'll double in size. By March she'll be up to 90,000 horsepower, delivering half a billion kilowatt hours every year—three times the number of kilowatt hours used last year by ALL of the electrified farms in the 73 county area KU serves.

"You think kids are expensive these days! Brother, you don't know the half of it. This one cost $10,000,000. But she's worth every penny of it.

"EAT! and DRINK! Wow! Two hundred seventy thousand tons of Kentucky coal every year, and 86,000,000 gallons of water every day. That's enough coal to keep 216 Kentucky miners working the year 'round, and it's enough water to meet the needs of a city about the size of Lexington.

"Green River is part of what we call our 'plentiful power' plan. Her brother Tyrone was born in 1948, and she's a mite bigger than he is. He weighed in with 80,000 horsepower.

"This isn't our last one, either. So long as Kentucky's power needs grow, we'll keep on building new plants or adding new generators or other power sources to the ones we have."

Soil Conservation Report Shows Interest, Progress

The first report of the Fulton County Soil Conservation District indicates a tremendous interest in this organization, with requests for assistance far outdistancing ability to meet the demand, the report showed this week.

Eighteen plans have been developed, and 48 will be tackled this year; when these 66 are completed, almost a fourth of the rolling and steep land in the county will be in planned terracing, drainage and planting . . . an immediate record attesting to the progressive spirit and methods of the Fulton County farmer.

The complete report is reprinted herewith:

SUPERVISORS REPORT TO THE PEOPLE OF THE FULTON COUNTY SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT

Feeling the need of an organized effort to conserve the land of Fulton County a group of farmers petitioned the state committee to set up a soil conservation district in Fulton County under the laws of the State of Kentucky. Having completed the organization with the election of a board of supervisors composed of five farmers a memorandum of agreement was signed with the Federal Soil Conservation Service for the assistance of a trained soil conservationist to assist cooperating farmers in developing a soil and conservation plan on their individual farms.

Mr. G. C. Richardson came to the County about the first of July 1949. Office space, equipment and materials had to be secured before the work could even start, so the time has been short, measured in terms of soil conservation.

There are approximately 110,000 acres in Fulton County. About half is rolling to steep land. The other half is bottom land. Much of the upland is so badly eroded that it falls in class four, six and seven. A large percent of the bottom land is such quality due to poor internal drainage that it falls in class three and four. Seventy five percent of the class two and three upland in the county needs terracing if cultivated in row crops. The class four, six and seven land should be kept in a dense vigorous pasture sod at all times. The good bottom land if needed should be drained with open ditches where possible. The class three and four bottom land with open ditch drainage is best used in adapted pasture grasses and legumes.

The farmers realizing these conditions decided the problem could best be solved by rendering assistance through a cooperative organization.

We as district supervisors solicit the help of all governmental Agencies, civic organization and individuals in development of the soil and water conservation program. Since the Soil Conservation Service works only through district organization in planning and getting the proper conservation practices applied to land according to its capabilities it is natural that they contribute more to the program.

We feel that the interest thus far has justified the organization. They had received up to January 1st sixty-six signed requests for assistance in developing soil and water conservation plans on their farms. Plans had been developed on eighteen of the sixty-six covering approximately 1700 acres leaving a back-log of forty eight covering about 10,800 acres to be planned in 1950 in addition to the requests that will come in during the year.

The eighteen farms on which plans have been written include 874 acres to be farmed on the contour, 440 acres of winter cover and green manure crops to be seeded, 830 acres of pasture improvement (mowing and fertilizing), 736 acres to be seeded to pasture, 6 ponds to be constructed, 25 miles of terraces to be constructed 1 mile drainage ditches to be constructed, 653 acres of rotation-row crops and 57 acres of sod water ways established. It is anticipated that these practices will be carried out within the next five years.

Seventy two individual farms planned for 1950 has been set up as the goal with at least twenty percent of the planned practices to be applied.

We have had the assistance of the County Agent in setting up the program and doing much educational work in the field. Vocational Agriculture through the Veteran teachers has done an out-standing job of selling the program to their classes and have turned more in than half of requests for service. The Production and Marketing Administration have been very helpful in locating farm boundaries on photos for capability. Surveys civic clubs and business establishments have given the program moral support and in one case financial support.

Reed Bros. Feed and Seed merchants, of Fulton have taken as their project the soil conservation essay contest for the pupils of the schools of the county and have signified their intention of awarding cash prizes year after year.

It is our desire as supervisors charged with the responsibility of the program in the county to have one hundred percent cooperation from every one in making the program a success as fast as possible. Every man, woman and child is vitally interested in its success whether they know it or not. The health and standard of living of our people as well as all future generations depend upon how we take care of our most important resources the soil. Fulton County Soil Conservation District.
