THIRD TRANSFUSION IS GIVEN HUDDLESTON

Paducah, Ky., March 25 — The third blood transfusion since his injury nearly two months ago at the hands of a tramp whom he had arrested, was given Bailey Huddleston, chief of Fulton police, at the Illinois Central hospital, Monday. Although his condition is not regarded as alarming, his progress toward recovery was not so satisfactory as might be desired, and doctors resorted to another transfusion.

Chief Huddleston has been at the hospital since February 4, when he was attacked by a prisoner at Fulton. His throat was slashed from ear to ear. Chief Huddleston is attended by Dr. E. W. Jackson.

At a late hour last night he was reported as seeming to be a little improved.

All parents are invited to attend, so they can confer with the health officer in regard to their school or preschool child.

Club Coach On "Goodwill Trip"

Smith Motor Coach Company Introducing De Luxe Highway Transportation

The Smith Club coach arrived in Fulton on its "Goodwill Trip" Monday afternoon at 2:35 on time. E. W. Smith, assistant manager, and E. J. Bomer, assistant to President Frederick Smith, officials of the Smith Motor Coach Company, were aboard to greet the crowds who were out to inspect the latest creation in motor coach transportation. E. W. Goger, driver instructor, was in charge. A colored porter handled the baggage.

The executives whose vision must take in tomorrow as well as today, are vitally concerned in the comfort and safety of their patrons, providing motor transportation of the highest type. The club coach is equipped with Transitone radio, writing desk, individual reading lights and mirrors, overhead baggage racks, magazine racks, card table, ash trays, ice water, hot water heating system, electric fans, individual Dixie drinking cups, shatter proof glass in all windows, luxurious over-stuffed furniture, trimming and draperies in rose and old gold; air cushions and air shock absorbers, motor and chassis "Mack," 265 inch wheel base, Bender body.

Mr. Bomer took a keen interest in announcing the accomplishments of the Smith Motor Coach Company, especially in serving its patrons in comfort and safety. He also stated that special charter rates could be obtained for club coach trips from the main office at Memphis, or from Albert Smith, Fulton agent.

The Smith Motor Coach Company has endeavored to set a pace and a standard in de luxe highway transportation. They operate on regular daily schedule from Memphis to St. Louis via Fulton and Paducah, Nashville to Paducah and Paducah to Evansville and intermediate points.

Albert Smith, the genial proprietor of Smith's Cafe, is local agent. Here the traveling public can buy bus tickets and obtain all the information desired.

Smith's Cafe, you know, is tourists' headquarters where every little courtesy is extended with a smile.

WILLIAM PIERCE ALLBRITTEN RESTS IN FAIRVIEW

Funeral services for W. P. Allbritten, 78 years of age, who died at his home after a lingering illness on Third and Eddings streets, Sunday afternoon at 4:35 o'clock, were held Tuesday afternoon at the First Christian church where he had worshipped for more than a quarter of a century. The pastor, Rev. C. B. Cloyd, conducted the services, paying a beautiful tribute to his memory. Interment followed in Fairview cemetery.

Active pallbearers were Messrs. Roy Bennett, Marion Boulton, N. G. Cooke, Charles Binford, Sr., Charles Holloway, and Paul Ethridge. Honorary pallbearers: Messrs. W. W. Morris, L. H. Howard, George Beadles, Dr. W. W. Gourley, Paul DeMyer, Clarence Pickering, Paul Pickering, John Owen, Sr., Atkins Cole and Lem Cook.

Mr. Allbritten was born in New Providence, Ky., on Nov. 11, 1852. He was married to Miss Almada Lee on August 9, 1874. Seven children were born to this union, one of whom died in infancy and another at the age of twenty. Surviving him are his wife, three daughters, Mrs. J. D. Harpole, Louisville; Mrs. J. W. Gordon and Mrs. D. C. Ligon, Fulton; two sons, W. N. Allbritten, Paducah; and J. H. Allbritten, Memphis; also five grandchildren, W. Gentry and J. D. Harpole, Louisville; Joseph Crouse and Grace Willadene Allbritten, Paducah and J. W. Gordon, Jr., of Fulton. He also leaves five sisters, Mrs. Elsie McClure, Mrs. James Wilkerson, Mrs. J. R. Dick, Mrs. L. F. Wilson and Mrs. W. D. Miller; also four brothers, D. R., I. E., J. J. and C. T. Allbritten.

The passing of Mr. Allbritten removes from our midst one of our highly esteemed citizens, a man who took a keen interest in everything that was good for community life. He was consul commander to Evergreen Camp No. 4, Woodmen of the World, for four consecutive terms and then elected clerk, which office he filled efficiently for twenty or more years, or until his health failed him. He was a devout Christian gentleman and took an active part in church affairs, and will be sadly missed by a large circle of friends as well as in the family circle.

L. Kasnow's Sale Starts To-day

Spring Fashions Blooming in Charming Profusion

The whole nation is busy with preparations for Easter, and L. Kasnow, Fulton's Lake Street merchant, is alive to the occasion. While some stores resemble a cemetery with monuments of high prices looming up before their idle employees, who seem to act as sextons to watch over the remains of dead trade and toll the funeral knell, Kasnow and his sales force are on the jump and busy as bees waiting on big crowds who are taking advantage of providing their needs with high class merchandise at great savings.

Kasnow says when he shouts bargains they are in sight, both within his windows and piled high upon his counters and shelves precisely as represented. Truthful advertising, linked with genuine bargains, draw the people. This has been proven by the big crowds who pack the store.

The big pre-Easter Bargain Sale advertised in this paper to-day is an outstanding event of sensational values on the eve of Easter, with Spring fashions blooming in charming profusion.

"Quality, service and low prices have made this store the talk of this community and surrounding country," says L. Kasnow. "We never disappoint. Our great success is partly due to that fact. Feverish efforts on our part to make this the GREATEST sale ever, result in unheard of bargains."

FREE HEALTH PICTURES FRIDAY

On Friday afternoon, March 28, at the Orpheum Theatre, on Fourth Street, there will be free motion picture show for pupils in public schools of Fulton, and their parents. These pictures are shown under auspices of mother and child health demonstration and in cooperation with Fulton County Health Department, Fulton Public Schools and Parent Teachers Association. Five different pictures will be shown, including a variety of subjects. One is on posture.

that is excellent, and is prepared by Children Bureau, Washington, D. C. Another depicts blue ribbons being awarded on May Day in Central Park in Louisville. A most instructive one is entitled "Inside Out," which portrays the digestive system. Another on Sunlight in its relation to the prevention of rickets in children.

Prof. Whalen has arranged for the grade children to come from 1 to 2 o'clock, and Prof. Holland has arranged for high school students to come from 2:15 to 3:15 at which time the parents are invited to attend also.

This show was made possible through the generosity of Mr. Morris Jones, manager of Fulton's picture shows.

ALLBRITTEN-MOSS

The following account of a former Fulton young man's wedding appeared in Saturday's Memphis Commercial Appeal:

Miss Virginia Moss and Mr. J. H. Allbritten were married yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Moss, 1868 Young Avenue. Dr. Clovis G. Chappell officiated in the presence of a small group of relatives and friends.

An altar was formed with palms, ferns and smilax, on either side of which stood baskets of pink roses and carnations and silver candelabra holding pink tapers were on the mantel. Floor baskets of carnations and ferns adorned the downstairs rooms. Miss Sallie Ashcraft Leake played a program of wedding music before and during the ceremony.

Miss Allbritten, who was given in marriage by her father, wore powder blue crepe fashioned with long full skirt and belted natural waistline and a baku straw hat and other accessories in tone. She carried a shower bouquet of butterfly roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Frances Moss, who was her sister's maid of honor, and Mrs. C. E. Wallace, matron of honor, wore similar models of rose beige and emerald green crepe, respectively. They wore corsages of rosebuds, sweet peas and forget-me-nots in harmonizing shades. Mr. C. E. Wallace was best man.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Allbritten left for a motor trip to New Orleans, Biloxi and other southern points. She wore a tan and green sports suit for traveling. After the first of April, they will be at home in an apartment at Overton Park Avenue and Claybrook Street.

CITIES AND TOWNS

We want every father and mother around Fulton to listen to these words uttered a short time ago in an address by Secretary of the Interior Ray Lyman Wilbur.

"All of a sudden we have gathered great numbers of our children into concrete and brick cities, where there have to fight to live, where there is no room for pets and no pleasant things for children to do. For millions of them, the streets are their playground. It is difficult to rear them with a sense of responsibility. With the electric or gas stove, chemical refrigeration, steam heat, milk coming in a sterilized bottle laid at the door, the newspaper delivered, there is not a great deal you can provide in the way of errands and regular work for boys and girls in the city. Mass living gives the nation the poorest children it gets. The ones who come from the smaller communities seem to do the best."

Those are the words of an authority. It is proof that you are wrong when you argue that children in our smaller towns and rural communities do not have the opportunities of those in the cities. There in itself is all the reason you need for being satisfied to live outside a big city. Secretary Wilbur says it is better for the boy and the girl. It is a tribute to rural and small town life that should be kept in mind when the desire to "move to the city" seizes upon you. It is a powerful argument to use on those who try to tell you that your boy and girl would have greater opportunities in the city.

HOW TIMES CHANGE

In bygone days when visits came we sat in the front parlor, or if the friends were very intimate, we allowed them the privilege of the sitting room, and talked and talked. We discussed everything from the tariff to the baby's latest illness. We rambled on for hours, always having something to say and saying it loudly, for it wasn't often friends came to call, since people lived apart in those days.

But we seem to have lost the art of conversation, since it usually requires thinking. Draw your own conclusions. In this day of moving pictures and radio we are a mechanical people. We can't think for ourselves; it takes too much effort. Instead we go to see the latest movie and just sit there—sleeping if we wish—it is rather dark and no one else is wide-awake enough to be interested. We don't even have to exert ourselves to laugh—someone else will laugh loud enough for us, too, maybe. We can sit, or even lie down, and listen to the radio a whole evening without one thought passing through our head and without one word being uttered. The result is, when we go to our friends or even relations for half an hour, who do not live near us or see the same shows, or do not happen to like the same radio programs, we have nothing whatever to talk about. We just sit there at a loss for something suitable to converse about. Then some bright one of us suggests that we take a ride or go to a movie. No thought required.

Talk to an older citizen of Fulton and he will tell you that "people are not as neighborly as they used to be." But what he really means is that this generation has lost the power of conversation.

A PEACE PILGRIMAGE

There is one expenditure the government is about to make that every taxpayer around Fulton will approve. In fact, it will, or should be, approved by every taxpayer in America. That is the sending of World War mothers abroad so they can visit the graves where their sons who made the supreme sacrifice lie buried. This pilgrimage will start in May or June. Of the 11,440 widows and mothers of soldiers buried abroad, about 7,000 have signified their intention of going. It will cost about $800 apiece, which will pay the railroad and steamship fares, the hotel bills and necessary incidentals. But think what an appealing ambassadors for peace will be this little army of tearful mothers. Think what it will be worth to the mothers of those boys over there who can sympathize through having suffered a similar grief. And think what a powerful argument it will be against the most senseless of all human weaknesses—war. It will be money well spent, for it is being spent in one of the greatest arguments for peace that has ever been offered.

EDITORS ARE HUMAN

When a doubtful situation arises in a town it is quite the fashion to remark that "the paper ought to say something about that." The average citizen feels quite certain he could run a newspaper better than the editor does, and if he were publisher of that sheet he'd show 'em, you bet. As a matter of fact, if he has horse sense, he would do just as the editor does—put the soft pedal on family rows, church squabbles, scandals not involving major principles, and such matters of minor importance as will adjust themselves with the passing of time. The newspaper critic ought not to expect the newspaper man to advocate or attack any proposition which he himself has not the courage to support or assail over his own signature. The editor is willing, even eager, to push any project in the public interest. But he is not willing to pull chestnuts out of the fire for individuals or minorities.

KENTUCKY RE-UNION IS HELD IN ONTARIO HOME

Mrs. Bertha Crittenden Gohlson was hostess on Sunday at her home 621 North Euclid Avenue to 45 friends, formerly of Fulton, Kentucky, who now live in Southern California.

Eleven tables decorated in keeping with the California setting, were arranged in the driveway at the Gohlson home, where the large party enjoyed a lunch out-of-doors.

The orange trees, now blossoming, which surround the driveway, created a typically fragrant California setting for the affair.

Following the lunch, the afternoon was spent informally in renewing the old friendships and in reminiscing on former days.

Guests of Mrs. Gohlson included Mrs. J. Clarence Read, Sam McCall, Dudley Brann, of Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. James White, James White, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. George Fowler, Charley Fowler, Mr. and Mrs. Claude West, Frances and Claude West, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Thurman McNeilly, and Mr. and Mrs. R. Lesson for March 30

REVIEW

GOLDEN TEXT—Unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given; and the government shall be upon his shoulder; and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counselor, The Mighty God, The Everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus the Savior.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus the Savior.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—He Went About Doing Good.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The King Serving.

Since the lessons of the quarter are bound together by the threefold unity of one book, one theme, and one person, the best method of review for young people and adults is to present the book of Matthew as a whole, and each lesson in its relation to Matthew's central purpose. The central theme is Jesus Christ, the King, the fulfiller of the Messianic hope.

Lesson for January 5.

God entered into covenant with David concerning the Kingdom (1 Sam. 7:8-16). Christ's genealogy shows His legal right to the throne of David (1:1-17). The Messiah was not only said to be the seed of the woman (Gen. 3:15) and the son of a virgin (Isa. 7:14), but the mighty God (Isa. 9:6). Jesus Christ, the King, was begotten of the Holy Ghost and born of Mary, thus becoming Immanuel (Matt. 1:23; cf. Isa. 7:14).

Lesson for January 12.

The King entered upon His official work by being baptized. Christ's baptism was His act of consecration to the task of saving His people through the sacrifice of Himself upon the cross. Having received the official approval from the open heavens, the King went forth to the wilderness to meet and overcome the devil (Heb. 2:14). His victory demonstrated His ability to accomplish the work of redemption.

Lesson for January 19.

The voice of John the Baptist being still, the King becomes His own herald. His message was the same as John's, namely, "the kingdom of heaven at hand," which means the Messianic earth rule of Jesus Christ. He called helpers to His side and went through Galilee preaching with triumphant success.

Lesson for January 26.

This lesson shows the characteristics and responsibilities of the subjects of the kingdom, the beatitudes showing the characteristics, and salt and light the responsibilities. The life and testimony of the disciples are to light up the darkness of the world and preserve it from decay.

Lesson for February 2.

This lesson displays the principles which are to control the lives of the subjects of the kingdom. They should live a life of prayer, putting their trust in the Heavenly Father for temporal blessings. Spiritual affairs are to be first.

Lesson for February 9.

The subjects of the kingdom should be free from censorious judgments, be on the lookout for false teachers, avoid empty profession, and obey the words of Christ, the King.

Lesson for February 16.

In the performance of mighty works the King demonstrated His ability to administer the affairs of the kingdom. He showed His power over the chief foes of mankind—sickness, sin, satanic power, death, sorrow, and storms.

Lesson for February 23.

The kingdom was to be propagated by sending forth twelve men to preach the gospel of the kingdom. Their mission was authenticated by supernatural deeds.

Lesson for March 2.

In the propagation of the kingdom, violent opposition arose, resulting in the plan to kill the King. Opposition will be experienced by all who go forth in Christ's name.

Lesson for March 9.

The parables display the admixture of moral and spiritual conditions in the world between Christ's crucifixion and second coming. The parabolic method of teaching makes clear the truth to those who love it, but conceals it from those who do not.

Lesson for March 16.

The parables of the wheat and tares, mustard seed and leavened meal, show the outward growth and inner decay of the work inaugurated by Christ in the interval between His crucifixion and second coming.

Lesson for March 23.

Though rejected by the nation, the King continued His ministry of healing and teaching.

Straightening the Kinks

The kinks and tangles in our lives would straighten out wonderfully if we would let them come offener under the influence of the calm, clear life of Jesus.—Presbyterian of the South.

Christians

The young Christian thinks himself little; the growing Christian thinks he is nothing; but the mature Christian knows that he is less than nothing.—John Newton.

THE QUALITIES OF LEADERSHIP

By JOHN G. LONSDALE
President American Bankers
Association

Leadership and success, in a general way, are synonymous. They are both founded upon simple codes of thought and action, upon the realization that he who wins the laurels must be a doer, not a waiter, that application of energy, not time or luck, is what counts most. A rabbit's foot is a poor substitute for horse sense.

John G. Lonsdale

Both success and leadership, if they be of the highest quality, are the result of service to humanity. Service has been aptly described as "the supreme commitment of life." Analyze the lives and times of all great leaders of history and you will find that those whose names are enshrined in the hearts of their countrymen are those who sought to render a needed service to the populace.

Leadership, like success, need not, however, be international or national to achieve great results. There is room for each of us to be a leader in his community, in his work, in his church, and in various organizations. One of the indispensable qualities of leadership is the ability to persist steadfastly in the face of discouragements. If George Washington had not possessed the quality of persistence, he and his soldiers would never have survived the hunger and privations which were theirs at Valley Forge.

We have too many young men and young women these days saying a job cannot be done. Too many spend their time explaining why a thing can't be done, instead of saying, with firm resolve, that it can be done, and then going out and doing it. Anything that ought to be done is capable of being done. And anything worth doing at all is worth doing well. The fellow who handles a little job in a big way is always on the road to greater fields.

BANKERS STUDY CHAIN BANKING

The Economic Policy Commission of the American Bankers Association has been specifically instructed by the general convention of the association to study and report on chain and group banking developments, and also on the proposed extension of the Currency for an extension of branch banking in the national banking system, to permit those banks to conduct branches in the trade areas surrounding their locations.

R. S. Hecht, President Hibernia Bank and Trust Company, New Orleans, Louisiana, is chairman of the commission. The members are: George E. Roberts, Vice President National City Bank, New York, N. Y., vice chairman; Nathan Adams, President American Exchange National Bank, Dallas, Texas; Leonard P. Ayres, Vice President Cleveland Trust Co., Cleveland, Ohio; Frank W. Blair, Chairman of Board Union Trust Company, Detroit, Michigan; Walter W. Head, President Foreman-State National Bank, Chicago; W. D. Longyear, Vice President Security-First National Bank, Los Angeles, California; Walter S. McLucas, Chairman of Board Commerce Trust Company, Kansas City, Missouri; Max B. Naim, Vice President Citizens National Bank, Bowling Green, Kentucky; Melvin A. Traylor, President First National Bank, Chicago; Paul M. Warburg, Chairman of Board International Acceptance Bank, New York, N. Y.; O. Howard Wolfe, Cashier Philadelphia National Bank, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; Gorden Edwards, American Bankers Association, New York City, secretary.

A survey showing the extent to which chain and group banking has developed in the United States has been made and issued in booklet form by the American Bankers Association of New York City.

SECTIONS WHERE SAVINGS DECREASED

A regional analysis of the drop in the nation's savings deposits in banks, as recently reported by the American Bankers Association's Savings Bank Division in its annual compilation for 1929 showing the first recession in national savings in the twenty years during which it has published this data, reveals that all sections except the New England and the Pacific States groups recorded losses.

The published figures showed that on June 29, 1929, the total savings deposits in banks and trust companies of continental United States stood at $23,217,656,000, which was $195,305,000 below the similar total for 1928, when there was an increase of $2,200,000,000.

The regional analysis by state groups discloses, however, that the six New England states as a group gained more than $88,500,000 in savings and 152,984 in savings depositors, while the seven Pacific states as a group gained over $79,000,000 in deposits and nearly 278,000 in number of depositors. The gains in these two sections, however, were smaller than the gains recorded there for 1928. The sections which showed losses are the Middle Atlantic States, Southern States, East Central States and the West Central States.

NEW FARM ENGINE HAS A "BUILT-IN" HEATER FOR WATER

Running of Engine Furnishes Water for Washing Milking Utensils.

A gasoline engine with a "built-in" heater that heats water for washing the milker while it runs the milking machine or performs other tasks, is a new development in dairy farming.

The engine differs from the usual type of farm engine in that it is patterned after the modern automobile engine, according to the De Laval Bureau of Dairying. Extremely simple in construction, the engine is about as fool-proof as a piece of mechanism can be, and capable of being run by anyone without the slightest mechanical knowledge. An efficient magneto delivers a hot flaming spark at all speeds, a carburetor of novel design makes for starting ease in any weather, and an automatic governor control makes attention or manipulation on the part of the operator almost unnecessary.

Water Heater Is Built In.

But the unique feature of this engine, and one sure to be appreciated by the man who uses the milking machine, is the water heater built right into the engine. This consists of a four and a half-gallon tank which is connected to the cylinder water jacket of the engine. When the engine is being run, the water used to cool the Farm housewife drawing water from built-in water heater in new type of farm engine.

enough, for use in washing the milker or other dairy utensils. This takes place without mechanical assistance, and the result of thermo-siphonic action—warmest water rising to the top—the very same principle used in auto radiators. A convenient drain cock at the bottom of the water heater enables the water to be easily drawn into a pail.

The economy and convenience of this water heater will appeal greatly to every dairy farmer, according to the De Laval Bureau. It makes for cleaner milk because it makes easy the cleaning of the milking equipment after each milking. The fact that there is a sufficient supply of hot water on hand for use immediately after milking also saves labor by reducing the time required to thoroughly wash the milker. The bother and expense of heating water on the kitchen stove or some other place is eliminated, and the water has no chance to cool off because it does not have to be carried far, the engine necessarily being located close to where the milking is done. And all this—and this is probably the best feature of the heater—is accomplished without any added expense because the water is automatically heated during the period in which the engine runs the milking machine.

Has Other Uses, Too. After it has been used for milking, the engine can be run to operate the cream separator, the churn, the farm lighting plant or any other equipment coming within power range. Tests have shown that the operation of the engine is so smooth and its governor control so definite that when used to drive a lighting plant not the slightest flicker is noticeable.

TRACE BIG CREAM LOSS TO SEPARATOR

Practically any farmer can have his separator tested by merely saving the skim milk, adding the bowl flushings to it, and having the can of skim milk re-skimmed with a new, high-class separator of known dependability. In order to emphasize the universal necessity of "checking up" on every kind of separator, over 1,000 public demonstrations were made during the past three years by De Laval-trained dairymen. Before audiences totaling 100,000 farmers, the skim milk from some cream separator in use in the community was re-skimmed with a new, dependable machine. The cream recovered in this manner was weighed and tested and a check obtained for the amount of butterfat recovered from the skim milk. Last year, in 523 tests, an average of 9.2 gallons of skim milk was re-skimmed at each test. An average of 3.6 pounds of cream was recovered worth 21.8 cents at prevailing prices. This means an average loss of over $70.00 per year for all the separators from which skim milk was obtained.

Worth Noting

Are your wages too small?
In Europe people are content with having enough to eat.

Are the lights too dim? David wrote his psalms by the light of a smoky torch.

Are you cold? The soldiers of Valley Forge walked barefoot in ice and snow.

Are you tired? Why fret?
Jacob was tired when he dreamed of the angels in heaven.

Something wrong with the stake? The children of India and China are starving for want of a crust of bread.

Are you sick? Suppose you lived 200 years ago when sickness was fatal.

Are you poor? The Man of all men was not wealthy.

Why fret? Cheer up!
Come to church next Sunday and it will take your mind off a lot of things that you have been worrying about needlessly.

GOOD EXAMPLE

New York has set every state in the Union a good example in passing a law whereby any motorist who is twice convicted of driving while intoxicated, forfeits his driving privilege forever. But we suppose there will always be states slow to recognize that booze and gasoline will not mix, and that will go right on tolerating the greatest menace to human life that this modern age knows—the drunken driver. Every state has laws against driving while intoxicated. But we do not believe that the penalties provided are as strict in at least one-half of them as they should be.
Fulton drivers who know the dangers they face when there is a drunken driver on the same road they are traveling will back us up in that assertion.
The last place on earth for an intoxicated man is at the steering wheel of an automobile.
And the quicker every state fixes it so he cannot get there, the quicker will our annual death toll be reduced.

Yes the Coleman IS Different

You'll quickly see that the Coleman Cooker is different from other stoves the minute you see the Gas Preheater demonstrated.
This exclusive Coleman device is years ahead—the result of more than a quarter century of Coleman engineering skill. It lights instantly and in a minute or less the burners are ready with a clear, clean, hot blue flame.

Coleman Cookers

Make Their Own Gas

Besides this miracle of speedy cooking convenience, you'll find many other features that make the Coleman different—features that make a big difference in your daily preparation of meals.

Just think what a difference it would make in each day's household duties to have gas service for cooking . . . with its speed, its comfort and its economy. The Coleman gives you that wonderful convenience . . . no matter where you live. It makes and burns its own gas from regular clear-white gasoline. No piping, wiring or installation expense whatever.

And what a difference to have your kitchen free from soot, dirt . . . blackened pots and pans. The Coleman Range brings you that freedom. Ceilings, curtains and walls stay clean longer when you have this modern range.

You'll find the Coleman makes a difference in the cost of preparing each meal, too. Cooks a meal for the average family on less than 2 cents' worth of fuel.

There are other features about the Coleman
Range that make cooking entirely different.
Come in and see them. Pick yours. There's a style and size for every cook and kitchen.

Mrs. J. R. Snow, of Fulton, who is the first district chairman, will preside at the meeting and the welcome will be given by Mrs. John W. Haynes, who is the charming president of the Paducah auxiliary. Miss Mary B. Brawner, of Frankfort, Ky., who is state president, will be guest of honor and principal speaker at the conference. GOOD WOMAN IS DEATH'S VICTIM

Mrs. Mattie Brummitt fell asleep Tuesday morning at 11:30 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Matheny, at the age of seventy years.

For several months, Mrs. Brummitt has been confined to her bed, and had suffered that dreamless sleep from which there is no awakening until the resurrection morning. Mrs. Brummitt was a member of the Methodist church for many years and lived a Christian life, and those who weep for her hope to meet her where parting is no more.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Arthur Matheny, one granddaughter, Mrs. Owen Stepphens, besides other relatives and many friends. She was a near relative of the Rose family of Dukedom, reared by her aunt, Mrs. Nancy Rose.

POULTRY

(By J. T. Watkins)

Last week we began work on the first unit of a four unit poultry farm. This farm is to be known as the White Feather Farm, and will be run by Joe Bowers and J. T. Watkins. As the name implies, we are going to specialize in white chickens and white Holland turkeys. It is our intention to stock the farm with white Plymouth Rocks, Wyandottes, Leghorns and turkeys. We will breed for show purposes and production. I have always contended a show bird can be a good producer, and a good producer can be a show bird. Now I will have a chance to prove my theory.

Our Plymouth Rocks are from a winning flock from Illinois, our Wyandottes are from the John Martin flock of Dover, Ontario, the Leghorns are a blend of three of the best bloods in the United States, viz: Frank Rodgers, Elgin, Ill.; George Farris, Michigan, and the Hillview farm in Missouri. I have been line breeding this strain for about five or six years and I will say they are second to none.

We are going to make about ten fairs and shows in the south this coming season with a string of our stock and take orders for baby chicks, next spring delivery, hatching eggs and breeding stock. We will be able to sell a single breeder, pair, trio or as many as one will desire. We will also sell eggs by the setting, or in lots of fifty or one hundred, or as many as you want. In baby chicks, we will sell in lots of twenty-five, fifty, hundred or more.

We have been studying this matter for about two years from every angle, and we believe now we will make it a

I have been around to several of the hatcheries and it looks to me like the chicks hatched off this year have more stamina than heretofore. I got 58 chicks out of 72 fertile eggs, and have lost only one in the first week's time, and he was washed in the brooder by accident.

The hatchery managers all say the chicks are better this year than they have ever produced.

The time is rolling around for the annual election of officers of the Fulton Poultry Association, and we should get a good meeting and elect a good live bunch to carry on the work.

We also want to enlist this association in the national organization, the American Poultry Association, and also sign up about twenty or twenty-five individual members to the A. P. A. As it is there is only one member here now. I am the only card holder in the A. P. A., and at the St. Louis show I was talking to Harry Nourse, the National President, and he was surprised that as good a show as we have down here, there were no members and that the association was also a barefooted organization. So let's sign up and be a member of an organization that benefits us in more ways than one.

The store, arrived at my house last week, on St. Patrick's day, and left about a dozen baby rabbits, so now I guess I am a full fledged rabbit breeder.

But I am not going to let anything come between me and my first love, chickens. I will still breed chickens that are chickens, and plenty of them.

Don't forget we want you breeders to come on and join the poultry association and help us put Fulton county on the map. We want the best county fair show in the world, the best poultry county in Kentucky and 100 Standard bred hens on every farm.
