THE LISTENING POST

● The laziest way of writing known to man is to write a sequel, and being lazy, this is what I am doing today. Several days ago I wrote a piece about platen presses which were propelled by foot power and mentioned something about those which came later which had power. This is a sequel to that yarn.

● Visiting a friend the other night who has recently opened up a job printing business I was looking at one of his presses. It was quite similar to the presses I have been working with for a long time, but something seemed different and I could not quite place the difference. So I looked at the back of the machine and found that it was of a model which has been discontinued for a long time. It was called a "Challenge Gordon," and the reason I remember that particular platen press my family ever owned which was power driven. It is slightly different in appearance to the present presses--in fact, was made by a different firm--and I had never seen another Challenge Gordon since we owned that press. I asked the friend where he had secured it, and when he told me, I knew that this old press was the same machine I had known so long ago. I had not seen or heard of it in all these years, and we bought it in 1905, but when I saw it I remembered quite vividly the circumstances of its purchase.

● There were three of us then and we were running a small newspaper and printing business. All the machinery was hand operated, and we grew ambitious. We decided we would expand, make a power shop, and really make some money. So we began to make inquiries as to prices and terms and finally bought a gas engine. For some reason which I never understood the engine was bought in Trenton, Tenn. Then we began to cast about for a new platen press, and soon a salesman came to see us.

● Machinery did not cost as much then as it does now, but dollars were hard to acquire, and when we found that the press we wanted would cost almost two hundred dollars, our plans almost blew up. But the salesman was willing to take a chance, for even then there were such things as notes and deferred monthly payments. I remember quite vividly that the press and the new type we contracted for cost the stupendous sum of $389, when all the trade-ins were accounted for and all of us felt quite weak in the knees when we signed the papers.

● We could hardly wait for the new stuff to arrive, and I still remember the first job that was printed on the new press. The Lovelace-Farmer Wholesale Grocery was a large user of printed matter and when they found that we had plunged deeply into the printing business they gave us an order that was staggering. One item was for 30,000 letterheads, and that was the first job which went on that new Challenge Gordon. It was quite a thrill to me when I turned on the power and began to feed those letterheads. Accustomed to using leg power exclusively, this work seemed like play, and I printed more than half of the job the first day.

● All of thought that with the new equipment, and with work coming in in such large quantities our fortunes were made. But somehow it did not turn out that way. We did manage to pay for the stuff, but if we ever made any money I do not now recall it, and after a few years we sold out. I had never seen that press since then until the other night when I ran across it, still in service.

Ford, Union Approve Plan For Settlement

Labor Negotiators However, Empowered To Continue Talks

Detroit. --A mass meeting of United Automobile Workers (CIO), acting on proposals for settlement of the strike at the Ford Motor Company, tonight approved Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner's plan and authorized union negotiators to act on modifications sought by the company.

Union negotiators, instead, were empowered by the rank and file to continue conferences and eventual settlement of the strike, now in its ninth day, remained uncertain as to time.

An estimated 16,000 unionists, crowding the state fair grounds coliseum, approved by acclamation a motion put to them by Michael F. Widman, Jr., chairman of the UAW-CIO Ford organizing drive, in these words:

"We accept the proposal of your Governor, then refer the matter to the Ford Motor Company raised tonight--just a bugaboo--to your negotiating committee."

Detroit. --Officials of the Ford Motor Company and the United Automobile Workers (CIO) today accepted Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner's appeal for settlement of the Rouge plant strike "without further delay" to help national defense, but the company insisted on some modification of the Governor's peace formula.

The union officials' own acceptance, while already presented to the Governor, remained to be considered at a mass meeting of UAW-CIO workers tonight. Union leaders had promised to recommend the original proposal.

Harry H. Bennett, Ford personnel director, said that the company was prepared to reopen its huge Rouge plant on the Governor's terms, except that "it is impossible to return all employees to their jobs at once."

More Pressure For Speeding Up Defense Work Is Expected Soon

Washington. -- Defense chiefs were expected today to put on pressure for speed and more speed in preparing America's defense after word from President Roosevelt that there still was room for an awful lot of improvement.

Although the production has been greatly accelerated in recent months, Mr. Roosevelt told his press conference yesterday that he still was not satisfied with its progress.

Asked how it could be speeded up, he laughed and replied that could be done by using chestnut burrs just as they have been used to inspire a mule.

Questioned as to why the program was going along too slowly, he said there were thousands of reasons--individuals, mostly human beings. Mr. Roosevelt's comments on the

Man Who Says He Gave Lincoln War News Freed

New York. --Steve Dutton, 96, told a Brooklyn magistrate Thursday he knew Abraham Lincoln "better than my own attorney" and won dismissal of a charge that he tried to steal a three-ton paper cutter.

"I carried the first message to President Lincoln from the Battle of Gettysburg," declared Dutton, who was a drummer boy in the War between the States. "I have four medals and one is a great big one Lincoln gave me."

He maintained he did not know his paper cutter was being held for non-payment of rent.

2 Men Drowned As Car Runs Off End Of Ferry

Hickman, Ky. --The Mississippi River was dragged here Thursday for the bodies of two U. S. Engineers Department employees who Wednesday night crashed through the end gate of the Hickman Ferry into the river when brakes on their truck failed to hold.

Sheriff O. C. Henry said the truck and the men disappeared in from forty to sixty feet of water, and efforts to find them had been unsuccessful. A companion, Miss Sylvia Hughes, Lilburn, Mo., was rescued by Carl Williams and Clifford Dial, ferryboat passengers.

The missing men were identified by Earl Hutson, in charge of the Government fleet at Hickman, as Roy Smith, 50, and Frank Krouse, 42, of Memphis.

Henry said Miss Hughes climbed out of the cab.

United States Moves To Collect Postal Debts Owed By Europe

Washington. --Senate sources disclosed today that three nations overrun by Germany--France, Belgium and Holland--have been asked to pay postal debts due the United States from funds now "frozen" in this country.

The unpaid bills, accumulated before the Nazi military machine rolled over these nations, are part of $1,900,000 due from a dozen European countries, including both England and Germany, for carrying airmail from Europe to the United States.

Sensors learned about the unpaid bills during the testimony at a closed Appropriation Sub-committee session on an appropriation measure for the Postoffice and Treasury Departments, now waiting Senate action.

John E. Lamiell, director of the International Postal Service for this country, testified that the State Department had been asked to take steps to collect from the three countries. The amounts were not specified.

The postal official said authorities here hoped the three nations would consent to this procedure.

J. T. Trippe, of Pan American Airways which carries airmail to and from Europe, was quoted by Lamiell as saying his company had been paid only about $700,000 of some $2,500,000 due for mail service from Europe.

Postal Fact Stands On the other hand, some Senators expressed surprise to learn that the war had not broken down the regular postal exchange, as distinguished from airmail, even in occupied European areas.

Lamiell testified that postal service to Holland still was under direction of the same man who handled it before the German invasion, and that Paris still maintained the postal exchange for all of France, including the Vichy region.

Under an international postal treaty, each nation accepts mail from other nations under their stamps if that nation extends the same courtesy.

Shirley Temple, Now Miss Of 12 Sheds Her Curls

Hollywood. --Shirley Temple has shed her formal curls--all fifty-five of them.

Shirley's hair, naturally curly, has been brushed out and allowed to fall in soft waves with ringlets on the end.

It is an excellent omen for an active, 12-year-old girl. It requires no special doing up, can be handled by Shirley herself and always looks neat.

Shirley's hair has changed color, too. Once golden, it has darkened naturally to a rich brown.

Roosevelt Asks Law To Seize Foreign Ships

Washington. --Lest a "growing shortage of shipping facilities" defeat the armament program, President Roosevelt Thursday asked Congress for authority to commandeer any foreign-owned vessel lying idle in American waters.

"We should have statutory authority," he said in a special message, "to take over any such vessels as our needs may require, subject, of course, to the payment of just compensation."

Congress Sure To Comply.

That Congress would comply with the President's request, none doubted. The message and a proposed draft of the legislation which accompanied it were referred in the Senate to the Commerce Committee. The House is in recess until after Easter.

CRITICIZE BRITISH 'ATTEMPT TO HIDE NUMBER OF CASUALTIES'

Manchester, England. Ernest Hunter, president of the National Union of Journalists, opened a convention of the organization here today with criticism of "foolish attempts" by the air ministry and ministry of home security "to hide the extent of casualties in air raids."

Officers of the news division of the ministry of information, he said, have been handicapped "by the official mind that hated telling anybody anything at all until it was compelled to do so."

DOUG FAIRBANKS, JR. TO TOUR SOUTH AMERICA TO PROMOTE FRIENDSHIP

Washington. --Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., on leave of absence from the movies until July 1, was designated by President Roosevelt today to tour several Latin-American nations in the interest of better international understanding.

After a call on the President Fairbanks said he would spend two months in Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Peru, Uruguay, Paraguay and Panama.

Amputation Ends 21-Year Struggle To Save Leg

Canton, Ohio. --A long twenty-one-year struggle came to an unsuccessful climax when doctors amputated Herman G. Smith's right leg at the hip.

While employed in a steel mill a load dropped from a crane and fell on Smith's leg. Infection set in and during the following years Smith underwent thirty-three operations trying to save his limb.

His fight was almost a success but he slipped in his home last fall and fell on his leg, aggravating the delicate condition.

During one of his long stays in the hospital, Smith formed the "Behind the Eight Ball Club" which now has members throughout the world.

Survey Shows Majority Of Papers Right On Voting In Own Area

Flint, Mich. --A Nation-wide survey of 1,201 daily newspapers showed Wednesday that 74 per cent of those which endorsed a presidential candidate in the 1940 election were on the winning side in their communities.

The survey was based on questionnaires sent by Editor M. A. Gorman of The Flint Journal to the 1,873 dailies in The United States.

Gorman said he sought to verify or refute claims that a large proportion of American dailies followed a partisan editorial policy contrary to public opinion.

Replies from papers showed that among metropolitan dailies--those in cities of more than 100,000 population--only 48 per cent supported the presidential candidate who carried their community, while at the other extreme, 85 per cent of partisan papers in towns of less

Greenland Is Placed Under U.S. Protection

Agreement Provides For Military Bases To Defend Territory

Washington. --The United States pushed its line of air and naval defenses to the middle of the North Atlantic and the very limits of the German sea blockade zone today by acquiring rights for bases and other military fortifications in Greenland. Under an agreement signed with the Danish minister in Washington, Henrik De Kaugmann, the United States assumed responsibility for "assisting" the Danish colony in "the maintenance of its present status" as a part of the defense of the Western Hemisphere.

The minister acted "on behalf" of the king of Denmark and with the approval of the local governors of Greenland but it was indicated that the government in German-occupied Denmark itself had no advance knowledge of the agreement.

To Guard For Denmark President Roosevelt, in announcing the inclusion of Greenland "in our system of cooperative hemisphere defense," said that the government in Denmark under present circumstances "cannot, of course, act in respect of its territory in the Western Hemisphere, but we propose to make sure that when the German invasion of Denmark has ended, Greenland will remain a Danish colony."

"Meanwhile," he said, "we earnestly hope for the quick liberation of Denmark from her present invaders."

Almost simultaneously, the President sent a message to Congress asking authority to take full possession of any foreign vessels idle in American ports, including the 39 Danish ships already in "protective custody."

than 5,000 were on the victorious side.

"The method of the critics," Gorman said, "is to regard each newspaper as a national publication and judge its influence by the national result. On the contrary, all but a handful are exclusively community institutions."

He based his survey, he said, only on "the community in a broad sense, the territory of the newspaper's intensive coverage." Here are his findings:

In the territory of 676 papers which supported Wendell Willkie, the Republican candidate carried the communities of 435, or 64 per cent.

Among 334 papers which supported Franklin D. Roosevelt, the President carried 312 cities, or 93 per cent. Of 151 papers which took no side Roosevelt carried 130 communities, or 73 per cent.

Editorial

AN IMPORTANT UNDERTAKING

The Leader is informed that the Young Men's Business Club will begin its campaign for the purchase of the Fulton County Fair Grounds next Monday, April 14. It has been said before that this is an important matter, but it is so important that the same thing needs to be said again. Fulton needs to be conscious of this undertaking, needs to be interested, needs to be awakened thoroughly.

For several years the property of the fair association has been unused for an annual fair. Parts of the property are in use for an athletic field, and for the past two or three years the Young Men's Business Club has been staging annual events, such as the Old Car Derby and the Ken-Tenn Exposition. During this time the organization has been making plans for purchasing the property and converting it into a permanent community center. Many obstacles have been met and overcome and a few weeks ago an option was taken on the property at a certain specified figure. Men who should know say that the price agreed upon is a fair one—in fact, a low price for the purchasers—and now the final big hurdle is to be attempted. In other words, next week will see a determined campaign to raise the sum of $6,500 for the actual purchase of the property.

The property consists of some 35 acres, more or less, located quite near the center of the town. There is a race track, which is yet in better than fair condition, there are several buildings and grandstands in more or less fair condition, there is a baseball and football field, there is plenty of parking space for thousands of cars, and all told, it is something which should be preserved for Fulton and the surrounding section, as a permanent gathering place for all sorts of out-of-doors events. It would be a tragedy for the community if the property should be sold as building lots or revert to farming land. As it stands now, the property represents an investment of about $25,000, and with moderate expenditure it can be placed in good condition again.

The Young Men's Club does not seek title to the property. It is merely acting as an agent between the owners of the property and the public and the city of Fulton. If the money is raised and if the property is bought it will be taken over by the city to be owned permanently, and city officials can use their own judgment as to its future operation. The young men are doing a real community service when they try to accomplish this purpose, and if the effort succeeds the community will be in their debt for all the years to come.

For years and years it has been generally known that the city needed a park. Such a thing, for various reasons, has never seemed possible, and under the plan which is now being tried, the fair ground can become a real city park. This property will be even more than a small park downtown could ever be, for the size of the property makes possible many different things. Dyersburg has a city park which is some distance from town on the Tiptonville highway, and there will be found picnic grounds, a golf course, a fine swimming pool, tennis courts and many other features which are

AGAIN

History repeats itself.

Yugoslavia and Greece are overrun by Nazi divisions as Denmark and Norway were overrun. The break through along the Vardar River Valley is comparable to the break through at Sedan. The Yugoslavs are separated from their allies as the British and French in Belgium were separated from the main French army. Everywhere the German war machine has moved with speed and precision and the nations marked for slaughter have shown the same lack of unity of action that France and the Low Countries showed.

As the result the Germans control the Vardar River and the plans of Macedonia to Salonika, the gallant little Greek army guarding the Struma River Pass has been encircled and forced to surrender and the British line west of Salonika and the Vardar is threatened with encirclement. Another Dunkerque and another separate peace are possibilities facing the latest British Expeditionary Army.

The German blow fell so suddenly that there was no time to effect a unified command or to prepare for co-ordinated action. That was the cause of the collapse of Belgium and the isolation of the British and French forces in Flanders. For some reason the British expeditionary force did not take part in the fighting. It probably was preparing a second line of defense. The Serbs, perhaps on false orders transmitted by the Germans, left their positions on the left flank of the Greek defenders to rush to the aid of Skopli and the Metaxas line was turned as was the case with the Maginot Line.

The evident strategy of the German is to occupy Albania and threaten the Greeks in the Albanian mountains and also to outflank the British line by seizing control of Bitolj and the Monastir Pass some 50 miles west of where the Vardar River flows into Greece. Such a move would place the Greeks and British in much the same position as the Italians have occupied in Albania. Their principal defenses are the mountains but the Germans have shown they can strike as swiftly over mountains as over plains.

The most that was expected of the Balkan struggle was that it would delay Hitler's legions and postpone the long expected invasion of the British Isles, until American aid could turn the scales in Britain's favor. Even that expectation appears to have been wishful thinking through the swiftness with which Salonika has been captured has surprised even the Germans. What the next few days or hours hold for the British and Greeks is mere speculation but the future is dark. An ominous question mark hangs over the entire Eastern Mediterranean as well as over the Aegean.—Courier-Journal.

pleasing to the public. Some of those things we already have, but if ownership of the fair grounds can be secured, many long range plans can be made. Next week will tell the story as to whether this aim can be realized. An intensive campaign for the money will be started Monday and it is planned to see every person in the city during this campaign.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY MEETING

The American Legion Auxiliary held its meeting yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Earl Taylor, College street, opening at 2:30 o'clock. The meeting opened according to form with the president, Mrs. A. B. Roberts, presiding. In the absence of Mrs. N. T. Morse, Mrs. Bob Harris acted as secretary and read the minutes of the last meeting. Reports were made that Easter packages have been sent to the men in the Veterans' hospital at Dawson Springs. Plans were then discussed for the spring meeting of the District Conference which will be held in Fulton in May. A discussion was also held regarding the annual Poppy Day, which will be held this year on May 31, the last Saturday of next month. The Auxiliary also wishes to announce that it has in its possession a flag pamphlet and would be glad to place an order for any individual or place of business.

That concluded the business session and Mrs. Sam Winston, the program leader, took charge of the meeting. She read an article on "Child Welfare" by Mrs. Louis Lemstra and also an article from the National Chairman of the Poppy Sale, Mrs. G. E. Chambers. Two written contests were conducted and winners were Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. S. M. DeMyer.

Following the program Mrs. Taylor served delicious ice cream and cake to nine members and one visitor, Mrs. Ford Landsden.

The afternoon was spent in games of bingo and those winning prizes were Mrs. W. D. Holloway, high; Mrs. Joe Armstrong, cover-all; Mrs. Parrish Carney, traveler's prize; and Mrs. Carl Puckett, low. Each was given an attractive prize.

Gifts from the box were then exchanged and Mrs. Bard served an Easter plate, consisting of sandwiches, a salad, cake and tea.

JOHN DEERE

It's a three-way saving you make with a John Deere Two-Cylinder Tractor. Because there are only two cylinders, you burn the low-cost fuels successfully during the entire life of the tractor.

Again because of two-cylinder design, a John Deere Tractor is totally free of hundreds of parts necessary in other tractors. Remaining parts are heavier, sturdier—they last longer.

Still again because of the simplicity of two-cylinder design, maintenance is easier, simpler, less expensive.

Check all the advantages of owning a John Deere Tractor. It'll pay you in economy, in ease of handling, in greater profits.

SPORTS

(By Harold Boone)

Members of the local baseball team are due to arrive here Monday, Manager Moon Mullen having been here for the past week watching the 35 players who are training here under the banner of the Muskegon, Michigan team. Muskegon is a member of the Michigan State League, and the club is managed by Jack Tighe, a catcher. The club is a subsidiary of the Detroit team, and will be the club from which Fulton draws many players. Some of the players who are now here with Manager Tighe will probably be left in Fulton, others will be sent to other Detroit farms and the best, naturally, will be taken back to Muskegon. A. G. Eagon and Bruce Connaster, Detroit scouts, spent two days here this week watching the players and selecting boys for different teams. About 35 players are now working out daily at Fairfield, and this number will be greatly increased next Monday when players under direct Fulton contract begin to drop in.

In a personal interview with Manager Tighe, the Muskegon manager expressed a lot of optimism for his club. Said he: "The feature of the training season for the first week has been the great hitting of first baseman McHale, shortstop Eagon, center fielder Blackwell and Johnson, a catcher. Pigeon is also starting in fielding. This eighteen year old kid bears the earmark of a corner and he may see service with the big Tigers in two or three more years."

The Reds will open the season on May 4, against Grand Rapids, and Manager Tighe says that his team is going to be plenty tough in the Michigan loop.

Union City will open the season with the same manager who piloted the Greyhound last year. Pepper Martin, a catcher, and a first rate ball player, did not have a great deal of luck last year, his team being about on a par with the Fulton team, but this year he says it's going to be a different story. "I'm going to get the ball players this year," he wrote Union City friends from Albany, Georgia, where the team is being assembled and drilled. "I am certain to have a good team this year." Connell, who played first for the Greyhounds last year, and did a capable job, is available again this year. Manager Martin told his bosses. He is the property of the Mobile club, but a deal may be made which will bring him back to Union City. Martin is also switching Fisher, who pitched last year, to the outfield, on account of his hitting ability. Fisher played first quite a bit last year and may develop into a real hitter with steady play. Spohn and Maren, mainstays of the Greyhound pitching staff last year, are in Albany, but no definite announcement has been made as to whether they will be returned to Union City this year. Maren pitched some great ball last year, although he faded badly towards the close of the season, and Spohn was one of the best of the hurling staff.

Down at Jackson Manager O'Neil, will look over about a dozen rookies in the hope of developing some new stars. O'Neil spent the winter scouting around looking for talent and believes he has some budding stars. A lot of boys from Ohio are under contract, and chances are that Preacher Gilland will go out into the hills of Arkansas before long and come back with some first rate pitching talent. This is Gilland's specialty and he has found some remarkable pitchers during the past few years. The training season for rookies opens in Jackson on April 16, and the veterans follow them into camp four or five days later.

Local fans are looking forward anxiously to seeing the Fulton team begin to take shape. There is more confidence and hope here than for several seasons, and if Detroit comes through with the proper help early in the season
