News-Prints

We are again gratified to report another good deed done by neighbors of a distressed family, this time three miles northwest of Dukedom, on Fulton Route 3.

While Mr. Fred Rhodes and his aged mother were both ill Monday and he was unable to harvest his tobacco, kindly neighbors gathered and harvested the crop for him.

Those assisting included: Doy Taylor, Neal Hedge, Don Stark, Adair Cannon, Newell Newton, Willie Cavender, Duckrey Webb, Hensen Jones, V. L. Phillips, Rufus Lowry, Welch Cavender, Hazel Walker, Herbert Hudson, Lony Anderson, Floy Harris, Neuman Croft, Eugene Moody, Walker Midgett, Tom Nabors, Jim Holt, Amos Williams, Ira Colley, Everett Rose, Walter Williams, Jesse Johns, Allie Wilson, William Jackson, F. S. Stover, Bill Cavender, Robert Travis, Pete Foster, Jasper Williams, Edgar Reeves and Drew Wall.

Stop-and-go lights are under consideration for the intersection of Lake and Walnut streets, and the intersection of Lake and Commercial. In commenting on the proposals, the City Council is of the opinion that they are necessary to give pedestrians and cars entering these busy intersections a better "break" with the too-rapid Lake street traffic.

When we brought Danny and Joan Baird back to town for a visit last weekend, the first thing they noticed "new" were the shiny new street signs which have been erected in the past few weeks. . . which points up the fact that although most of the home folks don't worry much about 'em, the visitor almost has to have 'em in order to get around. Good work, ex-councilman Ward Johnson for the ground work on the job (okayed and paid by the new council).

If you have always considered West State Line a rural highway after you head out from the Lake Street stoplight, better watch out. There is a school zone up in front of Carr Institute, and Fulton Police are out to see that the proper limit is observed. (15 p.e.r.) That reminds us of an account we read about a "very effective" traffic sign which greets incoming travelers at the edge of a Texas town: "20 MILES PER HOUR OR $19.85."

Fulton will play host to the First district basketball tournament this year, to be staged at Carr auditorium on Feb. 28 thru March 4. Fulton pairs off with Milburn for the second game on the first night.

Electric Co - Ops Plan Gala Meets

Directors of the Statewide Association of Electric Co-ops have approved a plan for the 1950 Annual Meetings that includes not only the best in farm and electrical displays but also beauty contests for the girls; Cooking contests for the women folk; A photo contest in which the best picture of electric farm life will be properly rewarded; Gospel Quartettes; 4-H and F. F. A. contests and best Homemade Labor Saving electrical device.

It is hoped that more people will attend their meetings this year because of all the additions being made to provide entertainment and information for Co-op members. Of course the usual business meetings will be held in order to elect directors and transact any business to come before the members.

Each meeting will be conducted for one and one-half days and at least one night this year in order to have time to conduct the contest and to give the members more time to see the exhibits. In Fulton County, the showing is customarily held at the Cayce High School building.

RECORD ENROLLMENT

With registration for the second semester at Murray State college virtually completed, 1441 students are enrolled in classes on the campus. This represents an increase of 85 over the enrollment for the second semester last year when 1356 were registered.

More Medical Aid Offered County If Funds Are Raised

Perhaps you recall reading recently of the couple who won a trip to South America on a radio quiz show but were unable to take it because, being of only meager circumstances, they didn't have enough spare change for the probable incidental costs involved.

That, after a fashion, pretty well sums up the position that the Fulton County Health Department finds itself in this week.

A full-time medical doctor has been offered to Fulton, Carlisle,

COURT REJECTED CURRENT CHARGES, A & P DECLARES

Inflammatory and damaging allegations made against the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company in a suit at Dallas, Texas, several years ago were so baseless that the federal judge "threw the anti-trust lawyers and their case right out of his court," the company is declaring in an advertisement this week.

The advertisement, scheduled for publication in 2,500 newspapers throughout the nation, is the third in a series discussing former court cases in which federal judges found there was no evidence against the company administered stinging rebukes to the anti-trust lawyers.

Pending against the food chain is a suit by which the anti-trust division is seeking to break the company into seven separate parts, deprive it of its manufacturing facilities and abolish its national buying offices.

WEEK'S WINNERS ARE ANNOUNCED

Ernest Lowe, manager of the Fulton Electric and Furniture Company, whose firm is currently sponsoring a weekly drawing, announces that last week's winners were Marvin Hill, Route 5, Fulton and Clifford Arnold, 103 Bates street, Fulton.

Hill won a set of dishes and Arnold was awarded a set of tableware.

Another drawing will be held Saturday; tickets are free to store visitors, Mr. Lowe announced.

Miss Martha Veatch

Miss Martha Veatch, 67, was found dead at her home two miles north of Crutchfield last Monday. Death had apparently come to the elderly lady several days previous.

Miss Veatch had lived alone for the past nine years.

Services were conducted Wednesday morning at the Klapp and Kaler Funeral Home in Clinton, by the Rev. L. L. Jones, pastor of the Methodist Church, assisted by the Rev. John B. Porter pastor of the First Christian Church. Burial followed in the Rock Springs cemetery.

Miss Veatch is survived by a brother, John Veatch of Clinton; a sister Mrs. Dave Cashon of St. Louis; and several nieces and nephews including Mrs. Wallace Ashby of Fulton.

Linton, Shepard, Webb, With Murray Debaters

Murray State's varsity debate team faced three contests this week with teams from Bethel College, Evansville College, and Austin Peay College.

The Murray debaters drove to McKenzie, Tenn., Feb. 7 for a return meet with Bethel; Evansville College came to Murray Feb. 9, and Friday, Feb. 10, the Murray team returns an engagement with Austin Peay at Clarksville, Tenn.

Debaters who are taking part in these debates are: Ed Norris, of Guthrie, Nolan Shepard, of Water Valley, Otha Linton, of Fulton, Henry Hooper, of Huntsville, Ala., Wallace Webb, of Crutchfield, and Phil Matlock, of Kuttawa.

Ballard and Hickman Counties . . . something that the 4-county area has never before had, and badly needs . . . and a new health center can be built in Fulton County with two-thirds of the cost paid by the federal government, something else that the County badly needs.

In the case of the doctor, an additional $3803 must be raised in Fulton County to underwrite the expense of having him spend two-fifths of his time here (and one-fifth in each of the other three counties); in the case of the health center, one-third of the cost of such a building would have to be raised in Fulton County.

It would be a splendid step forward in each case, if accomplishment could be made. Fulton County school children need regular and systematic check-ups from a health department doctor; Fulton County unfortunates who are beset with disease and suffering need some public-underwritten attention and the benefit of weekly clinics for various examinations; the thorough supervision of County health needs a qualified M. D. to go into some matters, despite the fact that our splendid health nurses and sanitarians are doing an outstanding job already.

Normally, local funds for such work are derived from several sources; the fiscal court, the School board, the city involved, and others. In Fulton County the Fiscal Court has been the lone contributor to the program, and has been as generous as possible in dipping into its meager income to help out health work. The Court now contributes $2100 a year to the program, but could hardly afford another $3800 on top of that.

The School Boards in Fulton and Hickman are already beset with grave financial problems of their own and cannot be called on to contribute anything to outside projects. The City of Hickman, while reported "in good shape," would not expect to contribute any more than its share.

It is the fond hope of the County Health Department, the Citizens Health Committee and many other interested citizens that somehow, somehow, the additional $3803 can be raised in the County by July 1st, and Fulton and its adjoining counties can thus jointly underwrite this progressive step of affording a full time doctor for their public health work.

REV. W. R. REID DIES IN OKLAHOMA

Word has been received in Fulton of the death of Rev. W. R. Reid, former pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian church here, who left in September 1948 to accept an Arkansas pastorate.

Death came to the Rev. Reid last Monday in Oklahoma, where he has just moved to accept a new pastorate. He had previously undergone a siege of serious illness at his Arkansas home, his local friends advised this week.

Funeral services were conducted Thursday at Greenfield, Mo., Mrs. Reid's former home. Brother Reid was a native of nearby Springfield, Mo.

Vets' Representative Schedules Visit Here

Mr. B. D. Nisbet, field secretary of the Kentucky Disabled Ex-Service Men's Board, Louisville, will be in Fulton next Thursday, Feb. 16, it is announced this week.

Mr. Nisbet will make his one-day office at Fulton's American Legion Hut, and will assist veterans in filing claims for themselves and their dependents, in addition to advising them regarding any other benefits to which they may be entitled.

NEW TRACK TEAM

Murray State college will have a field track team this year for the first time since before the war. Weather permitting, Coach Fred Faurot will call for first practice sessions this week. Coach Harlan Hodges, basketball coach, will assist Faurot by handling the field events.

WRECK AVERTED NEAR CLINTON; BOYS CONFESS

What at first was believed to be an attempt to wreck a passenger train of the Illinois Central about a mile and a half south of Clinton, Ky., last Saturday afternoon has turned out to be the mischievous work of two small boys, investigating authorities stated this week after the culprits were found.

The boys, Clarence Farmer 10, and Charles Evans, 12, both residents in the nearby country side on Clinton Route 1, drove a piece of scrap iron and several tie plates into southbound mainline rail joints Saturday afternoon.

The obstructions were discovered by engineer Turner on the north-bound City of New Orleans, who reported them to the Winford Junction station agent. The agent relayed word back to the train crew on the City of Miami, which was following the City of New Orleans, and the crew stopped at the point and removed the metal from the tracks.

I. C. agents of Fulton and Paducah, Sheriff Bolin of Hickman County and FBI agent Tackett of Paducah investigated the case immediately, and it was at first believed that an attempt had been made to wreck one of the system's crack passenger trains.

However, when the boys were found and had confessed, Sheriff Bolin concluded that "they apparently did not realize the seriousness of their act, and it is evident they had no criminal intentions."

FARMERS URGED TO STUDY SOIL NEEDS

The Fulton County PMA Committee today urged all farmers to use the next few weeks before crop planting time to study the condition and fertility of their soils and to plan conservation practices which will be needed in the coming year.

Farmers will soon be signing up in the 1950 Agricultural Conservation Program according to Chas. E. Wright Chairman of the Committee but many farmers need to make a more thorough study of their soil needs and compare these with ACP practices for holding and building soil fertility.

Locally approved practices are the means through which farmers conserve and build up their land so that it will continue to produce. For the consumer this means a continuing supply of food on the grocery shelves.

Any farmer in the county may cooperate in the 1950 ACP. To be eligible for assistance under the program the first step is to file a 1950 conservation farm plan at the county PMA office.

Farmers are urged to talk over their conservation problems with county and community PMA committeemen to determine how ACP assistance can be used in solving these problems.

MINSTREL SHOW COMING FEB. 22-23

The annual Minstrel Show of the Fulton Lions Club will be presented Feb. 22 and 23 this year, at Carr Institute auditorium, the Club announces.

Dr. R. V. Putnam will again serve as interlocutor, and a veteran cast composed of most of last year's show members will present a new program of songs, dances, comedy and jokes, assisted by a girl chorus selected from Fulton High School students.

For the past two years the show has proven to be a big hit, and has drawn large crowds both in Fulton and on its several appearances out of town.

ELECTION DATE IS CHANGED

The date set for the annual election of Fulton County Farm Bureau officers has been changed to Monday, February 21st announced President Roy Bard today.

The annual meeting and election had originally been scheduled for Tuesday, February 22. The meeting will be held in the Science Hall at Fulton High School.

Sales Tax Only Solution, Holland Tells Interested School Patrons' Mass Meeting

CORN SUPPORT IS 90% OF PARITY

Corn growers in Fulton County will be able to qualify for price support on their 1950 crop at 90 percent of parity according to the county PMA committee but to do so they must plant within individual farm acreage allotment which are now being established.

Fulton county is one of 55 counties in Kentucky included in the commercial corn producing area of the nation. Within this area farm acreage allotments will be used this year as a means of adjusting corn production to anticipated requirements.

The national acreage allotment of 46,246,973 acres for the commercial producing area, announced December 30 by the Secretary of Agriculture, will be divided among counties in the commercial area on the basis of production in the ten years 1940-49 with certain adjustments based on abnormal weather, trends in acreage, and promotion of soil-conserving practices.

Acreage allotments will be set for all farms on which corn was planted for harvest in one or more of the three years, 1947-48-49. In certain cases allotments may also be established for farms on which no corn was grown during these three years if an application for a 1950 allotment is filed by February 15.

Counties included in the commercial area are those where the average production of corn during the 10 years 1940-49 (excluding corn used as silage and after adjustment for abnormal weather conditions) was 450 bushels or more per farm and 4 bushels or more for each acre of farmland or where the county borders on the commercial area and at least one magisterial district within the county is likely to meet these requirements in 1950.

Acreage allotments will not be used outside the commercial corn-producing area in 1950, but in these non-allotment areas the level of price support is limited by law to 75 percent of the rate in the commercial area (67.5 percent of 1950 parity).

WORK PLANNED ON HICKMAN SEAWALL

Senator Virgil M. Chapman received assurance Thursday from Brig. Gen. P. A. Feringa, U.S. Army Engineers and president of the Mississippi River Commission, that the army engineers would be able to start construction this year on the completion of the Hickman, Ky., floodwall, if $7,000,000 earmarked for Mississippi levees in the 1951 army civil functions budget is voted by congress.

Chapman pointed out in a hearing of the civil functions subcommittee on Appropriations, of which the Kentucky Senator is a member, that the situation at Hickman is "dangerous" with the business section of the city under threat of inundation "whenever" the Mississippi river is in flood. General Feringa, who testified before the subcommittee on flood control problems in the Mississippi valley, supported Senator Chapman's observation, stating that on January 19 he inspected the floodwall in company with Judge W. B. Amberg of Hickman, and found that the Mississippi had risen to within two and one half feet of the top of the floodwall.

General Feringa said the river at that time was "not near" the highest stage that could be expected in that area in time of flood.

Feringa told Senator Chapman that the $7,000,000 proposed for Mississippi levees in the 1951 budget, together with unexpected funds earmarked for levee construction would allow a sufficient amount for a start on the completion of the flood wall.

Senator Chapman expressed the belief that the $7,000,000 appropriation would be voted by the 81st Congress.

*Supt. Holland to Present Sales Tax Proposal to Administration Leaders at Meeting Tuesday; Holland Among Hand-Picked Advisors

With local schools facing expulsion next year from the accredited list of the Southern Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges because of their impending failure to meet the $2000 annual salary requirement, more than 75 interested local citizens met at the High School Auditorium Tuesday night to discuss the desperate financial condition of Fulton's school system.

Expulsion from the Southern Association would mean, among other things, entrance examinations to accredited colleges for Fulton High School graduates.

In the group were representatives of every civic, cultural, labor, religious and fraternal groups in the city, who went on record as officially endorsing a resolution to seek the passage of a State sales tax to relieve the critical financial condition facing the State's educational system. The resolution, passed by the group assembled under the auspices of the Fulton Parent-Teacher Association, is among the first in the State to be officially passed, with instructions that it be formally sent to Governor Earle Clements, Senator Charles Waggoner and Representative Harry Lee Waterfield.

Supt. Holland, will be one of 25 prominent educators, hand-picked among the State, who will present Kentucky's educational problems to Administration leaders. Mr. Holland, with Roy McDonald of Trigg County, will represent the First District. The group, which will meet in Frankfort on Tuesday, is acting in a high level advisory capacity, and is independent of the Kentucky Education Association. Mr. Holland told the News that he will advise Administration leaders that a sales tax, based on the premise of the Tennessee sales tax plan, is the early solution to the State's financial school problem.

GOOD SPEAKER ENGAGED FOR C. OF C. MEETING

Durward B. Williams, chief field man for the Agricultural and Industrial Development Board of Kentucky, will be the principal speaker at the Chamber of Commerce meeting to be held on Monday, Feb. 20th, announced President Gene Williamson today.

Mr. Williams' subject will deal with "securing industry for the small community," and since this topic is uppermost in the minds of most Fulton businessmen, a large turnout is expected. All Fulton businessmen, whether they are members of the Chamber of Commerce or not, are invited and urged to attend the meeting and hear Mr. Williams.

The affair will be a dinner meeting, although members and guests not finding it convenient to have dinner with the group are invited to come in before the address begins, if they wish.

The meeting will be held in the Rainbow Room over Wick's. The annual election of officers of the organization will also be held during the evening.

Mrs. Martha Rhodes

Mrs. Martha Rhodes a lifelong resident of the Dukedom community, died early Tuesday at her home of her son, Fred Rhodes, about two miles north of Dukedom, following a brief illness. She was 90.

Services were conducted Thursday at the Oak Grove Church of Christ, near Dukedom, by Bro. Hardeman, with burial in the church cemetery.

Mrs. Rhodes leaves four sons, Fred Rhodes of Fulton, Route 3, Alvin Rhodes of Flint, Mich., Cliff Rhodes of Detroit, and Noah Rhodes of Los Angeles, Calif.; and a daughter, Mrs. Ed Reeves of Mayfield.

Her husband, John Rhodes died in 1928.

NEW ARRIVALS DEPARTMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Billie Parrish, Fulton, Route 5, announce the birth of a seven pound six ounce son, Edward Alan, born February 4 at the Fulton Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Murphy, Wingo, Route 2, are the parents of a daughter, Judy Ann, born February 5 at the Jones Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Willingham of Memphis announce the birth of an eight pound son born February 5 in Memphis. Mrs. Willingham in the former Mary Ann Rooney.

Mr. and Mrs. Carnell Harrison, Hickman, Route 4, are the parents of a seven pound five ounce son, Robert Lewis, born February 7 at 1:50 p. m. at Jones Hospital.

Introduced at the meeting by Mrs. Ernest Fall, Jr., president of the West Fulton Parent-Teachers Association, W. L. Holland, superintendent of the local school system told the group: "A State sales tax, which I have advocated for the past two years, is the only possible solution to bolster the financial condition of Kentucky's School system." Mr. Holland informed the group that he had had the proposal of the Kentucky Education Association to raise the taxes on such items as whiskey, beer, cigarettes, and pari-mutuel betting had been held up in committee, thus eliminating those tax measures as revenue producing for school purposes. (Ed's Note: A strong bloc has been formed in the General Assembly to defeat the tax measures, which indicates positive defeat of the proposals.)

Called in an effort to support the plan of the Kentucky Education Association to pass the resolution seeking new tax monies, the group, in three-hour discussion brought forth the sales tax plan. Except for minor objection, the sales tax plan was almost unanimous.

Bids Opened On District Road Work

February bids on the following state projects calling for surfacing and resurfacing will be opened on February 24, the Department of Highways announced this week:

Reconstruction and traffic bound surfacing financed from the state gasoline tax revenue will be done on the following rural secondary roads in Hickman county:

Perry road from US51 to KY-288, 1.4 miles; and William Shaw road from KY123 south of South Columbus extending southwest and southeast to KY123, 2.3 miles. Jackson, Royrader-High Knob road from Terrill Creek road at Rayrader to Slay county line, 4.3 miles. Knox, Artemus Evergreen road from KY225 at Artemus to US25 at Evergreen, 4.3 miles.

No projects were announced for Fulton County in the February 24th list, which included 52 improvement jobs.

Suicide Thwarted

Billy Williams, Hickman, will probably lose his left arm following an alleged attempt to commit suicide Wednesday at the home of a neighbor near Hickman. The neighbor, Toots Graves, knocked the shot gun from Williams' chest and it discharged against his arm below the shoulder.

Williams was brought to Fulton for treatment, and transferred to Memphis.

Show - Down In Coal

On January 9th between 55,000 and 60,000 of John L. Lewis' soft-coal miners in a half dozen states suddenly (and obviously by pre-arrangement) quit their jobs. Then the local leaders in those areas received identical telegrams from their chieftain suggesting that come Monday the men return to the three-day week. At the same time a new demonstration of Mr. Lewis' power was being mounted, this one in Wyoming, where members of the UMW "spontaneously" laid down their tools and went home.

The recent tempo of events in connection with this whole tragi-farce in the coal industry indicates that the long overdue show-down between John L. Lewis and the American people is at last both inescapable and imminent.

Actually, it is in Congress that this problem will ultimately have to be dealt with. For the issue is not simply one of whether a national emergency exists or not; nor is it a question of the five day week versus the three-day week. It is the issue of whether Mr. Lewis is to be permitted to turn on and shut off the public's coal supply at will, dictate the hours of work for 400,000 miners, and determine the price of coal and when it will be mined—in short, to continue in the role of a complete dictator in this one of the most vital areas in the nation's entire economy.

The Cow Story Up-To-Date

It doesn't make any difference whether you are a Republican, a Democrat or an Independent, the following article from the Berkeley, La., News-Journal is good for all to read who wish to see our American system of representative government survive.

Capitalism: If you have two cows, you sell one and buy a bull.

Socialism: If you have two cows, you give one of them to your neighbor.

Communism: If you have two cows, you give them to the government and the government gives you milk.

Fascism: If you have two cows, you keep the cows and give the milk to the government.

New Deal: If you have two cows, you shoot one, milk the other, then pour the milk down the drain.

Fair Deal: If you have two cows, you let them starve so you can buy your milk in cans, thus making business better.

Good Citizens

This is Boy Scout Week throughout the nation . . . the fortieth anniversary of the founding of this splendid enterprise dedicated to building better youth.

A "good turn" by an unidentified British Boy Scout in 1909 to an American business man who had lost his way in a London fog, led to the incorporation of the Boy Scouts of America in Washington, D. C., in 1910.

A Chicago publisher, the late William D. Boyce, was so impressed with the helpfulness of the British Boy Scout that he accompanied the Scout to the office of Sir (later Lord) Robert Baden-Powell, founder of Scouting, learned about the program and brought a trunkful of pamphlets to America to later incorporate the organization.

During these forty years of Scouting in the United States more than 16,500,000 boys and adult leaders have been associated with this organization, trained in its principles and turned out to the world as better citizens.

We think that there is nothing more wholesome for a young fellow, just at the stage where he is learning what makes the world go round, than to join the Boy Scouts. We find to our dismay that there are still a lot of mamas and papas who fear to let their children out of their sight at the tender age of 12 to attend troop meetings, learn how to use their hands and their heads in such things as hand-crafts, self-help, outdoor life and pride in accomplishment.

Warden Johnson of Alcatraz prison has said that "when all is said and done, the finest prison in the world is a monument to neglected youth. I believe that if we spent more time and money in the making of citizens, we should not be obliged to spend so much in the attempt to their re-making."

The Boy Scout organization is a worthwhile one; help it whenever and wherever you can. It builds good citizens.

Tidbits of Kentucky Folklore

NAMES AND PLACES

In my vacation in 1949 I was standing one morning looking out over a wild array of mountain scenery in Virginia when the thought suddenly struck me that every field in the map-like view, every stream, every road or trail had its name, sometimes one of very long standing. Many of the fields had ceased to be cultivated and had been taken over by a great national forest; others were still growing crops on their steep acres. "How," I asked myself, "could a farmer, going away in the morning to plow corn away up on the mountainside, tell his wife where he would be?" And yet I knew, from my own personal experience, that he could tell in a few words what you and I might have to draw a map to indicate. The Big Rock Field, or the Old Jones Field, or next to Booger Rock—just such places I have known and visited many a time. Those who have also been there could find their way; the rest of humankind would be lost before starting.

It has been my good fortune to spend a good many vacations in national parks. All of them contain areas that used to be owned in small private holdings. In early spring it is not unusual to find long-deserted walks outlined with narcissus in full flower. Tell-tale remnants of former flower gardens are often to be found in the young second growth. Often I find myself wondering what was the name of the lane that led down past the barn and across the fields to Uncle George's or Grandpa Brown's. Now its is overgrown with beggar lice and sawbrials formerly it had its prominence in a neighborhood that is now only a memory.

Going back still farther, what did the Indians call this stream that now bears some chance English name? Was my favorite knob particularized by some specific name that was as distinctive as the knob itself is? How many times in the century and two-thirds that white men have been here has a new name been applied to this same feature on the landscape? I can recall three such in forty years. How many more it may bear in the next age nobody can guess. Of course, names have a tendency to become fixed if they once get into print on a map. Also if the name becomes associated with an event of importance, it stands a fair chance of remaining long past even the language that called it forth. Many of our streams and mountains in America bear names that the Indians applied ages before our coming, but often there has grown up some other name that gradually superseded the old and poetic one. Modern efforts to restore old names is usually ludicrous, for the lack of sincerity in this type of naming is rather obvious. I have been on Lakes in the glacial area of America that had had old Indian names reapplied to supersede Grass Lake or Duck Lake, but only a few poetic souls would use the old unpronounceable names, preferring the plain, even harsh names given by early white settlers. Imagine renaming Deadman's Gulch after some poetic or imaginary Indian name that one finds in some old record!

This tendency to name places and objects also applies to naming animals. I doubt whether there are many actual name any longer applied to beef cattle, for the cycle from calfhood to slaughterhouse is so brief and so obvious that few tender memories cluster around any such animal. But the family cows, long a part of the farm, would be lost without some designation; it would be as unthinkable as having a race horse without a name. A few people whom I used to know even named all their livestock, including sheep, brood sows, goats, and at least the most obvious chickens. After all, if there is need to designate any particular animal, no matter how much it may resemble any other one, what can be better than a name? Of course, highly favored show animals always bear names, aristocratic ones that show pedigrees that any animal should be proud of. It is not for this tendency to apply names to objects around us, we would feel lost in a world of unfamiliar things; once give a name to an object, and it takes on, really, a personality not known before.

Books are the quietest and most constant of friends; they are the most accessible and wisest of counselors, and the most patient of teachers.—Charles W. Eliot.

Turning Back The Clock

February 13, 1925:

The big Chamber of Commerce program last Tuesday night was a brilliant success. The membership campaign between the "blues" and the "reds" netted a total membership of 204, most of whom were at the Usona to enjoy the evening. W. O. Shankle was elected the incoming president.

Charles D. Nugent announces his candidacy for re-election to Judge of the County Court; Walter J. McMurtry announces his candidacy for re-election to Representative in the State Legislature.

Dick Oberlin:

Oberlin's Observations

Is history repeating itself? And doing it so subtly that the repetition is almost imperceptible? It looks very much right now like that is exactly what is happening in the 1950 Bi-Annual Kentucky State Legislature.

Many of you will recall that last year when Governor Earl Clements called a special session to pass a property reassessment program, the legislature did practically nothing except gripe for several weeks. Then slowly, gradually, order began to come out of chaos.

It was as if a magician had waved a magic wand. And that is just about what happened. The Governor, who is a master politician, allowed an irate legislature to get its wrath out of its system first, then very gently, but quite firmly, guided them into passage of his legislation.

This year the legislature is following much the same path. We are at the approximate half-way point of the assembly, and so far only two pieces of legislation have shown any signs of being forcefully guided.

The first was the budget bill; the second concerned revision of licenses on vending machines operated by coins, such as cigar and candy machines.

Even this administration measured a shotgun blast, received while attending a dance near Dukedom.

Quite a large crowd enjoyed a candy-pulling at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Gardner Saturday night, reports the Pierce correspondent.

Jordan will soon be connected for electricity, announced Ky. Light and Power Company this week.

February 14, 1930:

Sheriff Bailey Huddleston remains in a critical condition in a Paducah hospital following a gashed throat and gunshot wounds received here last week. His assailant has been identified as Springer, an escaped inmate of a Mississippi insane asylum.

Mgr. H. F. McGinnis of the local American Cigar factory announced that the factory, closed down Tuesday, will be moved to a new location where cigars will be manufactured by machinery instead of hand-made.

Dr. J. L. Jones and family of Dresden, Tenn., have moved to Fulton; he has opened a dental office in the Cohn building.

John Earle, whose firm of Earl and Taylor has outgrown its location on Lake street, plans to build a handsome 2-story garage on 4th street.

A. D. Jones, well-known and highly esteemed citizen of McConnell, died at his home Monday at the age of 87.

Quite a few of the women in the Old Bethel community are quilting. A quilting party was given at the home of Barney Yates Saturday night.

sure—the coin machine measure—ran into some heavy weather and was allowed for the time being to pull into a safe harbor.

The legislature is reminiscent of nothing so much as a rudderless ship without a motor which is being buffeted aimlessly by every vagrant zephyr.

This state of affairs, however, it not likely to continue. If ever Kentucky had an administration which was tempered steel determination clothed with only the thinnest of velvet gloves, it's the administration of iron-willed Earl C. Clements.

This has prompted most of the veteran observers of State policies and Government to believe that the rudderless ship will be provided a rudder and a driving power probably within the next three weeks. The situation appears to be like this:

Clements will let the legislators putter around getting nowhere until near the end of the session. Then, when time becomes an all important factor, the administration will give direction and drive, and attempt to press through all those laws which it considers essential for this session to enact.

It is unlikely, however that this will be accomplished without objection. Representative

Harry Lee Waterfield of Fulton assured me the other day that he doesn't expect to get much sleep the last week or two of the session. Somewhat ruefully he said: "I expect I will be up all night every night reading bills to find out what they're about so if there are any objections they can be raised intelligently and honestly."

So our ship of state, even if it does get direction and drive, still will be on a turbulent sea.

Ewing Galloway:

Kentucky On The March

Quoting Editor Clarence Martin of the Tompkinsville News about civic apathy in his town:

"Too many of our civic organization gatherings are a disgrace to our town and communities rather than what they ought to be. This remark is in no way meant as any reflection on anyone of the 'chosen few' who do strive from week to week and month to month trying to make a better town and community for those who do not care enough for their community to get up after supper and come out to the meetings and join in with their fellow-men in trying to promote and build our communities."

"When the monthly meetings of the Tompkinsville Chamber of Commerce are held, it should be no odd sight to see the courtroom packed with citizens, who are eager to help their town and community. Instead there is the little group of six to 15 interested citizens, who are broadminded enough to want to see improvements, gathered there in the remote corner of the hall of justice, working and trying with all their might to lay plans for better things of the community, while the majority of the citizens 'bake their shins' or read the funnies."

"The Chamber of Commerce is no exception to the rule. There is the Lions Club, the PTA, the American Legion, the V. F. W., and possible other civic organizations whose purposes are so often defeated by lack of personal interest from those who should be for the uplifting of our communities."

My guess is that Editor Martin's picture fits two-thirds of the small cities and towns in Kentucky. Half of them, anyway. But wherever small groups meet there's hope, if the little groups are determined to get what they want. It sometimes takes almost fanatical zeal. Half a dozen respected citizens, backed by the local newspaper, can in some cases accomplish more than 50 to 100 when it comes to making decisions.

For ten years Henderson has had what amounts to a one-man chamber of commerce — Leigh Harris, publisher of the Gleaner and the Journal. Harris says that when you want to get something done, three are a crowd and six are a mob.

Our suggestion to Tompkins-ville's little groups is to keep a-fighting. The whole town may fall in line eventually. Certainly a majority will.

Letters To The Editors

Fulton County News

Dear Editor,

This howling, prowling and growling of the coffee situation that many hear makes me so all-fired mad that its plenty good enough for these who were doing that very thing, the results of buying up all they could possibly afford, back a few months ago when that first report by radio and newspapers gave out the news that the crop was short unless some weather condition happened soon enough to save the crop.

With my experience it is all the good and bad brands heaped into some bins, roasted and ground and filled in bags and tin cartons and sold at higher prices.

Coffee is the best beverage for all American people who sit and swivel it and ask for another cup. Why many housewives rush here and there and buy up a supply of the brand, come what may.

That seems to be the only way to get prices up and up they went, so now go down and pay the price asked by your grocer, who can't help the situation either.

There is a certain class of people who may still have those war nerves on rationing, but as far as this writer is concerned, can you hoard coffee or any other commodity when all over the world there are people who are starving, even in the U. S. A.

To my way of thinking it would be better to help keep prices of coffee along with many other foods in fair reach of all citizens hereafter.

Let me urge the housewives to not be guilty of hoarding coffee again when you hear a broadcast that the crop is short. I still think that is the only way to raise prices.

—A Fulton Housewife.

By Patsy Green

Anne Latta was born in the Mayfield Hospital on May 27, 1933 at 4:00 in the afternoon and if I may quote her father in saying 'just in time for her Saturday nite bath'. Another item of bad luck, besides the fact that she was a girl, in her daddy's and Uncle Roy's book—their best mule died!

She has lived in Water Valley all of her life, but stays with Mrs. Hill on Second street quite a bit. She came to Carr Institute in the 6th grade and entered High School in '46'.

She attends Sunday School in Water Valley and the Methodist Church in Fulton.

Anne says that dancing is her hobby by all means. She likes to play canasta, bridge, tennis, basketball, football, baseball, and swim. She is another of Fulton High's athletes. She has been a majorette for 3 years, taken piano for 6 years, Music Club in which time she was president in 48 and reporter in 47, belongs to F. H. A. and is the treasurer, and is the public relations officer this year.

Anne Latta

Anne reigned as queen of the Junior and Senior Carnival in her Junior year with Ted Goodwin as her king.

She has had many nicknames during her time spent at F. H. S. Everyday we would come to school Anne had a new name. "Hammer Chin," "Dimples" or any name that the Big Three could think up for her and you can take my word for it they have given her some good ones.

her "sweet" sixteen birthday.

Is the break between DC and AMc permanent? From what I hear it doesn't should like they will go back together. Another sign to go by is D C's date with MDW.

The question was asked last week, where BSC's heart belongs. He didn't have to tell us though as we all have eyes to see with. If you say she is CP we will mark you up with a 20, 20 eyesight.

They say it is the girls privilege to change her mind. The Junior girls sure are wearing out their privilege. Here are some examples so you will know I mean.

BB is still hopping around from one to another. She was last seen with one of our new Junior boys, W. "Sugar" R. Whoops! My mistake! She was with "Sugar" but was last seen with B. Hagen.

SAB is keeping it with a range of two. You ask who the two are? None other than GEE and JH of the alumni of FHS.

MF seems to be appealing to the alumni also so she has been seen with that Workman boy, JH and GEE.

BGB was with JF Sunday night but B Mc and she have now gone back together. Good luck.

What was JC's main subject of talk Sunday morning? Could it be about Jesse, whom she had a date with Saturday night.

Although there are some Junior girls still looking for the right one, there are many who seem to have the situation well in hand such as: B. Westmoreland and EM. Is he the reason she changed her mind about being a MD?

JG and Dickie H also come under the list.

Who is the girl always seen with Maurice B in a green Chevrolet? But of course it is RA.

There is a letter in the mail each morning for JEG from faithful KM.

LSS is still true to that army man.

NW and BB are still each other's one and only. Congratulations!

SOPHOMORE NEWS

Well, there is not much news this week. It seems to be the same old thing over and over. Either the girls and boys don't go out or they go with the same ones all the time.

AL and BC are getting up a case. Good luck, you two.

PM, is it really DM? It must be, that is the only boy we have seen you with lately.

Why is AP staying home more lately? It couldn't be because she has a young and good looking boy living there, could it, A?

JW, who is it that we have been seeing you with lately? He wouldn't be from MS would he, J?

That couldn't be Don Mann walking around in a trance after all these years.

PC, what have you got on your finger? It couldn't belong to that cute Senior boy or could it? Yes, it does.

NB, was that BC you were with Tuesday night? Good luck!

JAL is it really DLP?

DPB you are bound to get him with that short hair cut. By the way, what happened to that boy you had from UC. You didn't let SW have him, did you.

HW, who is this new girl we have been hearing about from Martin?

This is the end of the news I wrote. If there is anymore, you can give the credit to Patsy Green. She is good at doing things like that.

YOUR PROBLEM

Betty Lu Bushart

The Fulton City Schools are facing a bad situation right now. It seems that we are in danger of being dropped from the Southern Association. Of course now this probably wouldn't affect the present Senior class but you Freshman, Sophomore and Juniors are the ones who should be worried.

The reason for their unfortunate situation is that there isn't sufficient funds to keep them on an accredited school.

It seems our present governor made a lot of campaign promises to help the educational situation and since he got into office he has refused to do anything about the taxes that would help the educational problem.

I am sure that you, the students of Fulton High School, would not like to face the outcome of this if worst should come to worst. Most everyone knows the salaries of the teachers should be raised. Some may think they should not but if they are not it won't be too long until we will not have any teachers to be teaching. Why should they come to Kentucky schools when they can step right across the line to Illinois or Tennessee and receive much higher salaries.

Last year several of our very best teachers went to South Fulton to teach. Why? Because they could get more money and they have to live the same as anyone else.

What will happen if we are dropped from the Southern Association? I'll tell you. When your sons and daughters graduate from this school and they want to attend college out of the state of Kentucky, they will have to take numerous examinations, pretty stiff ones, and then maybe not get in. If they did not have to take the examinations they could go on and do good. You see students from non-credited schools are chosen last. Now we are sure the students and parents do not want anything like that to happen.

Well, you can't just sit around and say, "Oh, no, I don't want that to happen, but what can I do about it?" You will never do anything just sitting there holding your hands, get out and see what can be done about the Educational Crisis now facing you.

BUICK STYLE IS HERE AGAIN!

No question now as to who has the ball on automobile styling!

Take a look at almost any blockful of new cars—and you will see once more the sweep and dip of tapering fenders that Buick pioneered—and that the whole country went for with a joyous whoop and holler.

They're a little smoother now, of course, rounded a bit—and are molded right into the body. And they flow sweetly into rear-fender forms that look for all the world like a jet plane's power plant.

Then look how wonderfully they are topped off in the upperstructure—with wide, curving, one-piece windshields, and with smart, Buick-originated wrap-around back windows!

Yes, Buick style is here again. The sleek, swift-lined style that has put Buick right in the fashion forefront of postwar America.

And you can have it in a choice of many sleek and roomy models, ranging in price from just above the lowest brackets to the fine-car field.

Come in to see your Buick dealer—and start traveling in the smartest styling of the times.

Is it a crime to give people more good food for their money?

For 90 years A&P has devoted all its energies to this end.

For many months now the anti-trust lawyers from Washington have been giving stories to the newspapers, making speeches and talking over the radio about this company.

They have been making serious and damaging allegations about the methods that enable A&P to give its customers better food values.

We have already told you about other times the anti-trust lawyers made charges against us that were proved utterly false in court.

In the left-hand column on this page you can read what the federal judges had to say about those two cases.

Now we are going to tell you about the third time a federal judge decided against the anti-trust lawyers.

What Has Gone Before

Today's ad is the third in a series telling about times the anti-trust lawyers made serious and damaging charges against A&P that the courts decided were not true.

In the first ad in this series we told you about the time the anti-trust lawyers charged that A&P, and other good American citizens, conspired to fix the price of bread in Washington.

These charges were false.

That was the time Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty".

It was the time he said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"If you were to show this record to any experienced trial lawyer in the world, he would tell you that there was not any evidence at all."

"Honestly, I have never in my over forty years' experience seen tried a case that was as absolutely devoid of evidence as this. That is the honest truth. I have never seen one like it."

But that was not the only time the anti-trust lawyers made such serious "allegations" against A&P which were false.

In our second ad we told you about the time in Wilson, North Carolina, they charged A&P's fresh fruit and vegetable buying subsidiary, and other good American citizens, with conspiring to fix and depress prices paid farmers for potatoes in North Carolina, Virginia and Maryland.

Here again, as in the Washington bread case, the charges were false.

This was the time Federal Judge C. C. Wyche directed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty".

It was the time he said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"I have studied this case from the very outset. In my opinion there is no testimony produced from which it can reasonably be inferred that the defendants entered into a combination to depress or lower the price of potatoes."

"I might say that I never tried a case in my life where a greater effort, more work, more investigation had been done, combing almost with a fine-tooth comb to gather evidence, as was done in this case."

"But, as was said a long time ago, you can't make brick without straw, and you can't make a case without facts."

So here were two cases in which the anti-trust lawyers made seriously damaging charges against A&P, in which the judge decided that there were no facts to support those charges.

Today, we want to tell you about the third time—this time in Dallas, Texas—the court decided against the anti-trust lawyers.

The Dallas Anti-Trust Suit

In 1942 the anti-trust lawyers went out to Dallas, Texas, 1,400 miles from the homes of most of the defendants, and instigated criminal charges against A&P.

About this case one thing was sure.

Their previous experience did not deter the anti-trust lawyers from making more inflammatory and damaging allegations, just as they had done before.

They made practically the same allegations they are making today.

Federal Judge W. H. Atwell ruled that the case should not even be tried. He said that the indictment contained inflammatory statements that he would not permit to be presented to a jury.

Judge Atwell said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"If I thought I was presiding over a court and that I might have to sentence some person because he was a great big fellow, or because he was a Lilliputian, I would feel like resigning. God knows we don't want it ever to occur in America that the size is going to determine whether a man is guilty or innocent."

Judge Atwell also said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"If the indictment is not good then it is better to find out before an expensive trial than it is after an expensive trial. I do not think it is good, and thinking that, it is my duty to sustain the demurrers and motion to quash."

In short, Federal Judge Atwell threw the anti-trust lawyers and their case right out of his court.

So that makes three times that the anti-trust lawyers made damaging allegations against A&P. In two of these cases federal judges said they were all wrong. In the third case a federal judge said that the indictment was inflammatory and he would not even permit the case to be tried.

The anti-trust lawyers were not satisfied with the Dallas decision.

Neither were they satisfied with the two other decisions in which federal courts administered stinging rebukes to them.

They were still determined to destroy A&P.

In our next ad we will tell you how they continued their campaign in this case in the Circuit Court of Appeals and subsequent proceedings.

We will show you how, once again, they disagreed with the courts.

Everything that has happened since this suit was filed proves that the American people don't want A&P destroyed.

A deluge of letters from people in all walks of life and thousands of editorials in newspapers and magazines convince us that the public has faith in A&P.

The housewives of this nation, whose patronage has made this company big, are buying from us in increasing numbers and increasing volume.

Our suppliers, whom the anti-trust lawyers allege we have exploited, are rushing to our support.

Labor leaders, mindful of the fact that A&P employees enjoy the best wages, hours and working conditions, are taking a stand against the suit.

Even many of our good competitors, who the anti-trust lawyers allege are hurt by our competition, have taken ads to tell the public that they don't like this attack on A&P.

All this indicates that the American people realize that the suit to destroy A&P is really a suit against efficiency, against low prices and against real competition.

Apparently most Americans do not want to let the anti-trust lawyers in Washington blow the whistle on any businessman who does a better and more efficient job and grows big in the process.

No one can make them believe it is a crime to try to sell the best quality food at the lowest possible price.

Miss Hindman Weds Mr. Miller Amid Setting of Beauty and Dignity

Agatha Voelpel

In an exquisitely planned candlelight ceremony, Miss Lois Jean Hindman, daughter of Mrs. Morton Watson Haws, became the bride of Rodney Arthur Miller, son of Dr. and Mrs. William C. Miller of Gaitersburg, Maryland at the First Methodist Church on Saturday afternoon, February the fourth, at five o'clock, officiated using an impressive double ring ceremony.

The altar and choir loft was filled with dozens of white tapers burning in branched candelabra. Festoons of smilax linked the candelabra with large arrangements of woodwardia fern. A fan shaped urn filled with gladlioli and stock was placed in the center of the choir rail. Brass altar vases with similar floral arrangements were placed at either side of the altar. The satin prie-dieu bore garlands of small white flowers.

Tall cathedral candles tied with satin ribbons and gladioli outlined the center aisle forming a glowing pathway for the bridal party.

Preceding the exchange of the nuptial vows, Mrs. Lloyd Emery, organist, of Paducah, Kentucky and Mr. Roy Hines, tenor, of Alexander City, Alabama and Murray, Kentucky presented a program of nuptial music. Mrs. Emery's program included "Can-tilena" from the Viaticello Concerto in A minor, Galtnerman, "Arioso" Bach, "Echoes of Spring," Friml, "Andante Semplice" from the B flat minor piano concerto, Tschakowsky, theme from the "Andante" of the fifth symphony, Tschakowsky, "In Paradisum" Dubais and she sounded the wedding chimes just before the processional.

Mr. Hines sang the Cadman "At Dawning" and the conclusion of the ceremony, the Malotte "Lord's Prayer."

The traditional Wagner and Mendelshon wedding marches were used for the processional and recessional. "O Savior Kind," R. Deane Shure, was played during the ceremony.

The lovely young bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Dr. L. T. Callahan of Washington, D. C. She wore a strikingly handsome original wedding gown of Pandora of lustrous gardenia slipper satin. The tightly fitted Priscilla basque featured a heart-shaped neckline which was heavily encrusted in seed pearls in an intricate flower design. The long sleeves ended in points over her hands. The softly flared skirt received added fullness in the back from waistline gathers all of which developed into a circular cathedral train. Her tiered veil of imported illusion fell from a Juliet cap of shirred illusion. The edge of the cap was finished with a coil of seed pearls and satin and had small pearl medallions at each side. Dainty satin cords tied in a bow under her chin. She carried a white Bible topped with a white cathedral orchid and lilies of the valley showered with satin ribbons. In the folds of the Bible was an heirloom handkerchief made by the bride's great aunt.

Miss Mary Lee Haws attended her sister as maid of honor. She wore a Beau Mode original of ice blue slipper satin fashioned along period lines. The off shoulder neckline was finished with a deep bertha which was caught at each shoulder in triple pleats. The very haughty skirt worn over hoops featured triple folds caught up by satin bows at each side. She wore matching satin gauntlets and a poke bonnet of the satin. Her arm bouquet was of Golden Gloria roses.

The bridesmaids were Miss Patsy Callahan of Jacksonville, Florida, a cousin of the bride, Miss Bonnie Kistner of Beverly Hills, Chicago, Miss Marilee Beadles and Miss Peggy Scott. Their dresses were of canary yellow satin identical to that of the maid of honor as were their accessories. They carried arm bouquets of Cavalier-roses.

Misses Susan Bushart and Carole Callahan of Washington, D. C., cousins of the bride were junior bridesmaids, dressed in bauffant frocks of ciel blue taffeta. Triple rows of velvet ribbon were used on the berthas and skirts of their dresses. They wore blue poke bonnets and carried colonial nosegays of Golden Gloria roses.

Little Miss Lynn Bushart and Master Lynn Thomas Callahan, II, cousins of the bride, were ring-bearers; she wearing a miniature bridal frock of white satin with puffed sleeves and a full skirt caught up by tiny rosebuds to show net ruffles, a cornet of lilies of the valley in her hair, and he wearing the black velvet Et-on suit which his father, Dr. Callahan had worn in the wedding of the bride's mother.

Jack Bain of Glen Falls, N. Y., served as best man and the ushers were Billy Murphy, Parks Weaks, Read Holland, Robert W. Snow, Billy Terry and Jack Browder.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Haws wore an Eisenberg original of wine crepe. The entire bodice was beaded with diagonal bands of gold and silver bugle beads. The pencil slim skirt featured twin accordion pleated floating panels. She wore a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Miller, the groom's mother, wore dusty rose satin fashioned with a square neckline outlined by satin folds. The skirt was very full. She also wore an orchid corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Ward Busart, aunt and uncle of the bride. The reception room was lovely with beautifully arranged bouquets of pastel flowers. In the dining room the buffet held a large arrangement of white tulips, carnations and gladioli above the buffet was a festoon of silver illusion centered with a cluster of silver bells. The bride's table, draped in an elaborate outwork cloth, held the tiered wedding cake which was surrounded by gardenias. White tapers burned in silver candelabra.

Mrs. Bushart greeted the guests wearing a frock of blue chiffon with a jacket of blue and silver lame. Her corsage was of pink camellias.

Assisting in receiving and serving were Mesdames, Parks Weaks, Charles Thomas, Felix Gossom, Jr., Alf Hornbeak, Harry Murphy, George Doyle, J. C. Scruggs, Frank Beadles, Maxwell McDade, Horton Baird, W. L. Holland, Gilson Latta, Elizabeth Snow, Hendon Wright, Dudley Meacham and Misses Jean Atkins and Bertie Sue Meacham. Miss Mary Swann Busart was at the register.

Late in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Miller left for a wedding trip after which they will make their home in Chevy Chase, Maryland.

For traveling Mrs. Miller wore a spring suit of blue Milateen. The softly tailored jacket had designs of braiding. Her hat was of Navy straw and her purse and shoes were of cherry red alligator. She wore a corsage of cymbidium orchids.

Out of town guests for the wedding and reception included Dr. and Mrs. William C. Miller, Gaitersburg, Maryland, Dr. and Mrs. L. T. Callahan and children, Mrs. Jack Stewart, Washington, D. C., Mrs. James E. Jones, Mrs. H. Haws, Indianapolis, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Hindman, Anna, Ill., Messrs. Audree Long and Dana Freeman, Lakeland, Fla., Mrs. William S. ## Tobacco Market

WESTERN DISTRICT FIRE-CURED

Average prices for most grades offered on Western District fire-cured tobacco markets this week were fairly steady. Slight fluctuations were observed but only to the extent of 50c to $1.00 for the most part. Losses and gains were about equally divided. Volume of offerings was heavy. Quality of offerings was lower.

The Federal-State Tobacco Market News Service reports gross sales for the period ending February 7 totaled 2,122,121 pounds for $24.84 per hundred. The average was 72c less than for the two days of sales making up the previous week. Season gross were brought to 8,246,728 pounds for $24.85.

Slight increases were shown for most lugs and medium grades of thin leaf. Similar losses were observed among the various groups but mostly for heavy leaf and good thin leaf. Some grades were unchanged from the week before.

Larger proportions of nondescript and tobacco in unsafe order lowered the quality. The bulk, continued to consist of low and fair lugs, fair and good heavy and thin leaf nondescript. Over 13 percent of the marketing were in unsafe order.

Receipts of the Association through February 1, under the Government loan program, were reported as 2.9 million pounds for $23.75 per hundred. The deliveries represent around 47 percent of sales through that date.

Because of heavy sales and large amounts of tobacco in unsafe order, packing plants are congested with unprocessed purchases. After the auctions of February 7 it was decided to limit sales to 1,000 baskets on Wednesday and 750 on Thursday to help relieve this condition.

Reported gross pounds sold and averages by markets for the week ending February 7, 1950 and for the season were as follows: Week Ending Feb. 7, 1950 Market

	Lbs.	Av.
Mayfield, Ky. ....	1,147,300	$24.58
Murray, Ky. ....	974,821	25.14
TOTAL .....	2,122,121	24.84

Season Through Feb. 7, 1950 Market

Murray, Ky. ....	4,443,222	25.60
TOTAL .....	8,246,728	24.85

These markets averages are made available as general information only and do not reflect prices paid for tobacco on quality basis as among different markets. The only quality price guide of any service to farmers is that showing the prices by grades. This information is published weekly in the U. S. D. A. reports of average prices by Government grades and may be obtained from Tobacco Inspectors at warehouses.

U. S. Corn Stocks Set Record

Nearly 2,830 million bushels of corn were stored in all positions on January 1, 1950, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics reports. These stocks are the largest in the 7 years of comparable record covering most of the period of huge corn crops, which virtually assures it being an all time record. They exceed by 188 million bushels the previous high mark of January 1, 1949. About 2,401 million bushels of this corn remained on farms, 147 million bushels less than a year before. Stocks of 876 million bushels of oats in all positions on January 1 are about average for the date, having been exceeded 3 times and exceeding the other 3 years of comparable record. Barley stocks of nearly 195 million bushels are slightly below the average for January 1 of the past 6 years, despite the off-farm portion of 87 million bushels being larger than on any other January 1 of that period. Sorghum Grain stocks in all positions on January 1 were nearly 112 million bushels, compared with 85 million a year before and 46 million bushels on January 1, 1948. Stocks of feed grains in Kentucky—Sorghum, January 1, 1950, a total of 10,000 bushels as com-

Fertilizer Called 'Good Buy,' Liberal Use Urged To Beat High Fixed Costs and Lower Crop Prices

COMMERCIAL fertilizer is an "excellent buy" and should be applied liberally to responsive crops to beat the squeeze of high fixed costs and lower farm prices, according to Ed. Longnecker, Michigan State College soil specialist.

Longnecker pointed out that in the present period of declining farm prices increased crop producing efficiency is vital if reasonable farm profits are to be obtained. This can be accomplished, he said, only if soil productivity is maintained or increased economically.

He recommended several steps to good soil management. First, he advised eliminating crops from land where such crops grow poorly. He advised, too, that a soil test be made of each field at least once during the crop rotation. The results of these tests can be considered in planning the fertilizer program.

Fertilizer should be applied to responsive feed crops such as oats, barley, wheat and alfalfa and to corn when grown on well suited land; also to responsive cash crops, particularly potatoes, sugar beets and wheat. As cash crop prices decline, such acreage should be reduced and the acreage of productive sod crops increased, he said.

Longnecker recommended adding fertilizer to permanent pastures to increase production. This is particularly important on poorly drained mineral soils and muck soils. He also suggested eliminating excess tillage that adds expense and increases crop production costs per acre. Michigan tests have shown that plowing, leveling and packing will give as good or better crop results as seedbed preparation that includes double discing and spike-tooth harrowing.

Conservation of soil and water are vital, he said. On rolling cropland this may require one or a combination of practices such as cover crops, sod waterways, contour tillage, strip cropping, diversions or terraces. Where wind erosion is a problem, field strip cropping and windbreaks may be necessary.

He recommended further that crop residues be returned to the soil either as surface mulch or by plowing under. Manure should be carefully stored to reduce leaching and decomposition losses. Medium applications of manure to fields at frequent intervals, he said, are preferable to heavy application less frequently.

Feedstuff Markets Lower—USDA

Wheat millfeeds declined 75 cents—$1.50 per ton at leading markets while oilseed meals were from $1.00 to as much as $2.50 per ton lower. Most other feeds were also lower compared with the previous week, with tankage and meat scraps down $5.00-10.00 per ton. Bran 29.25 St. Louis; standard middlings 38.00 Minneapolis; Gray shorts 41.25 St. Louis. Cottonseed meal off 75-1.00 with 41 per cent meal 57.00 at Memphis. Soybean meal off 1.00 with 41 per cent meal 55.50 Decatur, and 44 per cent meal 52.50; Linseed meal off 2.50 with 34 per cent expeller meal 60.50, and 36 per cent extracted meal 58.50 at Minneapolis; Gluten feed steady 52.50 at Chicago, and Hominy feed of 1.00 at 45.00; Distillers Dried Grains down to 65.00 at Cincinnati, also Brewers Dried Grains off 2.00 - 3.00 at 55.20; Sun cured Alfalfa Meal unchanged, 38.00 at Kansas City; Tankage off 5.00, to 11.50 at Chicago.

Feeding Ratios for poultrymen became quite unfavorable in January, with a sharp drop in egg prices much more than offsetting lower feeding costs. A dozen eggs would purchase only 11 pounds of a representative poultry ration at the middle of January compared with 14.1 pounds in December and the prewar January average of 15.2 pounds. Feeding ratios for dairymen in January were about the same as in December, since butterfat prices declined about as much as feed costs. A pound of butterfat would purchase 24.5 pounds of a representative dairy ration in January compared with 24.4 in December and 22.3 the prewar January average. These figures are for the country as a whole and ratios varied for different areas.

Butter Production Higher: Cheese Lower

Butter — Compared with the same week last year there was an increase of 7 per cent in production during the week ended January 19, the USDA reported. There were decreases of 30 per cent in the North Atlantic area and 6 per cent in the South Atlantic. All other regions reported increases as follows: East North Central 1 per cent, West North Central 3 per cent, South Central 13 per cent, Western 27 per cent. Compared with last week there was a decrease of 2 per cent.

There was an increase of 7 per cent in the South Central, and all other areas reported decreases as follows: North Atlantic 9 per cent, South Atlantic 13 per cent, East North Central 2 per cent, West North Central 1 per cent, Western 4 per cent.

Cheese — Compared with the same week a year ago, there was a decrease of 6 per cent in production. There were increases of 67 per cent in the North-and-South Atlantic and 5 per cent in the Western region. Decreases were reported of 10 per cent each in the East North Central and Wisconsin, 8 per cent in the West North Central, and 7 per cent in the South Central. Compared with last week there was an increase of 2 per cent. There were decreases of 1 per cent each in the North-and-South Atlantic, and East North Central, and 5 per cent in the Western area. Increases were reported of 2 per cent each in Wisconsin and the West North Central, and 12 per cent in the South Central.

Cattle Lower, Top Hogs and Veals Higher

Good and choice Steers and Heifers sold on fewer markets for the week ending January 30. The average price on Kentucky auction markets was 23.94 as compared with 24.64 the previous week. Good and choice Veals averaged 32.75 as compared with 32.40 the previous week. Top Hogs averaged 16.65 this week and 16.08 last week. Several markets reported prices over 17.00 the latter part of January.

Egg Prices Lowest in Almost 3 Years

Egg prices in late December and early January were at relatively low levels. The mid-December farm price, 40.5 cents per dozen as a U. S. average, was lower even than any spring-month average reported for either 1949 or 1948. Previous monthly farm prices lower than the December figures are found only by going back as far as the early spring of 1947. Prices declined further from mid-December through the first 10 days of January, though some quotations were at their lowest levels in the third week of December. The movement of egg prices in wholesale markets and limited reports from country markets both indicate that the U. S. average price received by farmers for eggs will be lower in January than it was in December. These indications have resulted in a Department of Agriculture announcement that egg purchase operations would be undertaken to implement the 1950 egg price-support objective of 37 cents per doz. as U. S. average of about 25 markets.

Burley Markets Closing Fast—And Lower

The state average was only 38.75 for all Burley sold during the week ending January 28. Over 25,000,000 pounds were sold for nearly $10,000,000.00. The total pounds for the season now stands at 400,054,849 for a total of $183,608,270.42 paid to Kentucky farmers. The season's average is now $45.90. Wednesday of this week sales were held on only eight markets in the state out of a total of about 25 markets in the state out of a total of about 25 markets.

At Madisonville 46,540 pounds of Northern Fire-Cured-24 was sold during the season at an average of 20.84. Nearly 6 million pounds of Western Fire-Cured-23 was sold through January 28 averaging 24.83. At Hopkinsville 3,461,304 pounds of Eastern Fire-Cured-22 was sold for a season's average of 28.62.

Calling all outdoorsmen

By JIM MITCHELL

I happened to read a statement the other day which passed off the glass fishing rod as "something similar to a kid's toy that soon would be forgotten." Nothing could be farther from the truth, for the glass bait casting rod is here to stay.

I have fished with glass bait casting rods for the past two years. Some of the first models I used proved inadequate in certain respects and, possibly, they were not as efficient as the better tubular steel and split bamboo rods. That, however, was to be expected, for the companies were trying to work out the right formula for the rods.

Certainly these companies have made great strides in the field since then. Now you can buy glass casting rods in most any length, action and finish.

In recent weeks I have been practicing casting with a 6-foot glass rod made by Orchard Industries with a especially light action. This rod tosses a 1/4-ounce lure as effectively as the average rod handles a 1/2-ounce bait. Throwing this light lure never was possible with the steel rods I formerly employed and the light-action glass rod has opened up a new field for those who enjoy fishing with small and light-weight lures.

There are many other advantages to glass casting rods. Probably the greatest of these is the lack of care essential in keeping the glass in good order. Heat or cold does not affect them and they will take any amount of fishing punishment a caster can dish out.

Add to this that the companies now are making the glass rods in price ranges for everybody and you have a sweet deal in fishing rods.

Some writers may pass off the rod as a "toy" but I'll predict

DRIED FRUITS ARE IN SEASON

Dried peaches, pears, apricots and prunes are energy foods rich in sugar. They are good winter fruits for the family.

The fruit is also an economical source of iron, calcium and phosphorus even though a large amount of the Vitamin C naturally found in these fruits when fresh is lost in drying. It is important to cook the fruit in the water used for soaking since some of the minerals dissolve in water.

The tenderized prunes do not need to be soaked. Even cooking time can be cut to five minutes or less by using your pressure saucepan. Look for the amount of water and the cooking time in the booklet that came with your saucepan.

Budget Aid
Buy prunes by size according to the way you wish to use them. If the package is marked 40 to 60 it means that there are 40 to 60 prunes to the pound. The size may be described as small, medium or large instead of by number. The size does not affect the flavor. When the prunes are cut or mashed before using the small size is economical.

Use prunes in many ways to delight your family and friends. It will give you and your budget a real lift. Here is a new way to use your favorite dried fruit—prunes.

Prune Squares
1 cup sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/3 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup brown sugar
1 cup quick-cooking oats
1/2 cup shortening

Sift flour, soda and salt together. Add brown sugar and oats. Cut in fat until it is a crumbly mass. Put two-thirds of mixture in bottom of greased pan (8 x 8), pat down, spread prune mixture over and press lightly together. Cover with remaining crumbs. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 35 minutes. Cut in squares while warm.

Filling:
Add one cup water to one-half pound dried prunes. Cover and simmer until tender. Remove pits. Add one-half cup sugar and cook until thick.

Remember that one pound of dried prunes is the same as five to six pounds of fresh fruit.

Faithfully

Mississippi Plantation Life: The Writings Of Mattie Dear

I do thank the Lord Jesus for blessing me to write another article in the Fulton News. I'll first say I made my way to the Travels Rest M. B. C. Sunday pastored by the Rev. W. B. Barns. His text Hebrew 12th chapter, 1st verse. Let us lay aside every weight and the sin which doth so easily be set us and let us run with patience the race that is set before us. Subject, a crown for the runaway. He sure made it plain. I sure loves good preaching.

I am feeling so much better than I was about two weeks ago. The Lord sure has healed me. I has no pains at all, feeling fine tonight. Hope Mrs. Johanna is feeling fine. I am yet getting letters from Mrs. Mattie Bernhard. She seems to be a fine white woman. She writes me such nice letters telling me about the Lord and His goodness. I hope that we will chance to meet some day in this life so we can talk about Jesus and His goodness together. Jesus is worthy to be talked about. He is so good to us. He feeds us, clothes us and the breath that we breathe he give it to us and gives us water to quench our thirst. I will say the earth is the Lord's and fullness thereof blessing.

ed be the name of the Lord. We are having some very fine weather now but we ain't had no snow yet and not much cold but anything the Lord do I am satisfied. So pray for peace. I've wrote poems so here s a prayer.

Oh, God we come to Thee this day,
Give us a mind to do thy will;
In as much as you bled and died for us,
Help us for others to live,
Give us a heart with service filled,
Eyes that know no race nor color;
Help us to transcend the color line,
And be to every man a color.
