THE LISTENING POST

● I read with interest Henry Ward's column the other day in which he spoke of the beauty of Highway 51 north of Fulton. He called particular attention to the substantial homes which border the road, with well kept grounds and fences and spoke also of the charm of some of the towns, such as Bardwell and Arlington and Clinton. Henry was telling the exact facts, for this road is a beautiful one and during the years since it was built the towns and country homes have been gradually improving from a standpoint of appearance.

● When the highways were first built through this section they were rather bad and rough in their appearance. In many cases they were cut and blasted through new territory and little effort was made at the time to make them pleasing to the eye. In those days the mere fact of having a highway was sufficient. We thought if we could be linked up with other towns by a straight stretch of concrete, no worry need be spent on the appearance of the highway or its right of way.

● Fortunately we have had a second thought on that subject and for several years have been devoting much time and thought to beautifying the highways and their right of way. The Department of Highways has cooperated in many of these plans, and various organizations in the many towns have done their part. Not all the job is done yet, and in fact, only a beginning has been made. Nature herself is a grand helper, and if given a chance will do more to beautify a stretch of bare and ugly roadside than we realize. Only a few days ago I was passing along a rough and rutty sort of road, and the sides of the road had been used as a sort of dumping ground. No particular effort had been made to beautify the spot, but nature had not been idle. In some manner a plum tree had grown up there in all the muck and disorder, and it was alive with blossoms. Grass was growing over piles of refuse and I knew that nature was at work steadily on that spot. The same is true in the places where real efforts have been made to beautify, and if we will enlist nature with our own efforts we can really do something.

● Perhaps the greatest need for beautifying highways is trees of some sort. I have always felt that efforts should be made to plant dogwoods and redwoods along our highways, but people who know tell me that these two trees are extremely difficult to raise. A majority of such trees will die after being set out, and perhaps other trees might suit the need better.

● The most pleasing thing I see as I go along the highways is the way farmhouses have kept pace with modern progress. There is a vast difference now in farmhouses and the way they looked ten or fifteen years ago. Twenty years ago a painted farmhouse was more or less of an exception, but today practically all farmhouses are painted, and a vast majority stand out beautiful in white paint. Nothing is more lovely than a farmhouse, set in green trees, surrounded by luxuriant grass, standing well back from the highway--and we see that sight practically everywhere these days.

● I notice one thing that mars the appearance of many beautiful homes. The barns, which are too often badly kept, stand too near the house and show up too much from the highways. A sloppy looking barn often mars the appearance of a lovely home but I guess it takes time to get all these things done. In less than one generation

Bombs Fall For Hours On London

Heavy Casualties Feared; Shelling Precedes Assault

London. — Nazi dive-bombers swooped on London for hours overnight in a seemingly endless chain of fire as sticks after sticks of explosive smashed down on the sleepless capital.

Seasoned observers agreed that this was the heaviest blow yet loosed on London.

A curtain of anti-aircraft fire arched across the starlit skies and bagged at least one bomber, which burst with an eerie flash and fell in bits.

Casualties were not announced, but it was feared they might be heavy.

Raiders Dive Low The raiders dove low to loose their bombs and hurried off, followed by others in procession that kept coming over into the early morning hours.

It was the first big assault on London since the British made their heaviest raid on Berlin April 9, after which the German press published threats that the Nazis would retaliate—"a hundred-fold."

Some observers compared this new destruction with that of last Dec. 29 when incendiary bombs rained down on the city.

Explosives were the main fare today, however.

For the first time in months hotel lobbies were crowded with guests in night-dress, unable to sleep in the din of battle.

At one point four persons were believed killed by a hit on a shelter, and rescue squads worked with a crane to lift slabs of concrete off others trapped there.

Important Meeting For Legionnaires At Cabin Tonight

Marshall Alexander Post of the American Legion will hold its regular monthly meeting tonight at seven o'clock, and all members are urged to attend as there is important business to be attended to. A light lunch will be served.

Greeks Admit German Thrust Deep Into Center Of Lines

Athens. —A Greek high command communique early today disclosed a German penetration deep into the Greek-British central front, declaring that the Nazis are in action in the Grevena region and trying to advance toward Kalabaka.

Grevena is 60 miles south of the Yugoslav frontier and about 25 miles southwest of Kosane, which the Germans already have occupied.

Kalabaka is another 30 miles south from Grevena.

The Greek command attributed the advance to the German forces which penetrated the upper valley of the Aliakmon river on the west.

Kalabaka is the northern railroad of a line running to Trikala and connecting with Larisa, Athens and the main Greek rail network.

Aliakmon River Crossed

Further east, the Greek command said, the Germans had crossed to the south bank of the Aliakmon from the heights of Kosane. This is about 15 miles south of the town of Kosane.

South of the Albanian town of Koritza (Koritsa), the Italians were acknowledged to have taken the gorge of Kasma Marit (ap-

State Reports Income Taxes Ahead Of 1940

Frankfort, Ky. —Even with fewer returns tabulated, 1941 State income tax collections are running well ahead of last year, the State Revenue Department said Wednesday. Midnight Tuesday was the deadline for filing returns.

A total of $2,690 returns for this year has been tabulated so far and collections amounted to $1,032,581.52, the department said. Returns figured up by noon the day after the deadline a year ago amounted to $4,923, but the collections were less, $910,842.98.

Similarly, $494,216.23 has been received so far this year on 3,044 corporation returns compared with $411,017.40 on 3,790 on the same day last year.

"The returns thus far this year show more money to the income tax report than last year," Ward Oates, executive assistant to the State Revenue Commissioner, said.

"The reason more returns have not been tabulated this year than last is that under a new system, employees in the department are not being worked overtime. Nevertheless, we expect the system will enable us to catch up with the flood of returns within three days."

Prize Winning Essays On "What Uncle Sam Means To Me"

The following are the three prize winning essays written on "What Uncle Sam Means To Me." These three essays, written by Billy Stem of South Fulton, Sammie Lee Williams and Norma Long of Fulton High, were judged first, second and third respectively in the contest conducted recently by the Elks club of Fulton. There were 180 entries in the contest.

Prize Essay (By Billy Stem) America, land of freedom, means all the world to me. It means that I may go to school, go to church, go to the theater, or stay at home. Everybody does as he pleases, unless he is a menace to society.

In Europe, people do as the dictator wants them to. The young people are taught to hate and despise "democratic" people. There is no standard of morals and the sanctity of marriage is not recognized. The women work and rear children all at the same time. The women must work in the steel mills and on the farms. The men are in the army.

Thank God we don't do that in America. We are one hundred and thirty million people of every kind and type, mixed and mingled together. We have all kinds of occupations. We have the farmer, the Wall Street banker, the W. P. A. laborer, the doctor, the thief, the minister, the teacher and many others.

We have plenty to eat and wear and most have a roof over their heads. They don't have that in Germany or Russia. When I go to sleep tonight I will not worry about bombers blasting the daylight out of my home, like they do in Germany. If my family is poor, I still have the same chances for advancement as the rich man next door. I go to school with all kinds of people, rich and poor. I can say what I please and write what I please. I can go to the church of my choice and worship as I please.

The people of Europe are not as fortunate as I am. They are awakened by the scream of the air raid siren or maybe by the scream of a mother who has lost her only child. They lose their homes and cities and worst of all their lives. All this would not be if it wasn't for the greed and lust for power. England is fighting for her life at the present, and the United States is helping with her materials. France is conquered and is now starving for food. But America lives on and will until the end of time.

I am proud of my country and will fight if necessary to retain the freedom and privileges I now enjoy. My forefathers fought to preserve America several times and even fought among themselves to test whether the nation was united or divided. With God's help, "the government of the people, by the people, and for the people shall not perish from the earth."

Second Prize (By Sammie Williams) Uncle Sam means more to me than just the portrait of a man that is on many defense posters over the country, he means protection and freedom, he means a country into which our ancestors sought refuge from persecution in foreign countries.

He means a country where you can say what you want to, read what you want to and worship as you please. You are promised all of these things as well as a trial by a jury as long as you don't trample on other people's rights.

Uncle Sam has given me a home where I can listen to the radio, read and spend the money that we earn when and for what I want to. He has given me a school where I am taught a way to make a living in peace instead of how many small countries my country can grab in the coming year or that I belong to a superior race. But above all Uncle Sam has given me a church where I can worship without anyone telling me to go to another church.

Uncle Sam means protection to those who are old and to those who are invalids.

Uncle Sam means to me a country too. A country where an employer's son and his employee's son have equal chances. A country where, "All men are created free and equal," is treated literally.

Uncle Sam means to be a place where many, many years ago, our forefathers came to and a few years later fought for and won their freedom and even later many of their great-grandchildren gave their lives in preserving.

Uncle Sam means to me a great government too, one where the spirit makes up the greatest democracy in the world. Even though there are other democracies in the world, it is the one with the less social class.

He means a government of the people, by the people and for the people.

Uncle Sam means to me the very greatest country anywhere or anywhere, a country where every man or woman over twenty-one years of age can vote.

Uncle Sam must have been there many, many years ago when the various representatives wrote that famous document that we call the constitution, which to me has helped to make our United States great.

Roosevelt Indicates United States Ships Will Be Protected In Red Sea

Washington. —In a terse but apparently historic remark President Roosevelt indicated today that American merchant ships carrying war supplies through the newly opened Red Sea route to Egypt would have armed protection.

He was asked at a press conference whether it was the policy of this government to protect its ships wherever they go, so long as they stay out of the combat zones defined in the neutrality act. He replied that that was the law.

He did not say to what law he referred, but other officials expressed belief he meant international law which, they said, provided for the freedom of the seas. Although the President refrained from going into details about methods of protecting ships, naval men said several courses were possible if the government should decide upon them.

Prime Minister Of Canada, FR Talk For Hour

Financial Matters Concerning Nations Reported Discussed

Washington. —President Roosevelt and Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King of Canada talked for an hour at the White House today, and there were reports that financial matters concerning the two countries were under consideration. The Canadian executive brushed aside all inquiries about what he and the President had talked over as he left the White House after having tea with Mr. Roosevelt. White House officials also declined any statement.

In informed quarters, however, it was suggested that Canada was concerned about the problem of getting sufficient American dollars to pay for commitments here, and that the discussion might have included the possibility of revision of the neutrality act to permit Canada to borrow money in the United States. The neutrality law forbids loans to belligerents.

Canada Gets No Aid Canada is not receiving aid under the lease-lend program.

When reporters asked the prime minister whether he had brought with him from Ottawa any problems involving Canadian participation in the lease-lend program, he replied that he had promised Canadian newspapermen that he would give no interviews while in this country.

His visit stirred wide speculation that some new steps toward greater Canadian-American collaboration was in the making. Fanning this speculation were these developments:

A conference of Neville Butler, British minister, and Summer Welles, undersecretary of state, on the shipping situation. Butler indicated that one of the questions involved was that of American merchant ships replacing British vessels in the Pacific to permit diversion of the British ships for carrying supplies to Great Britain.

Easter history was made Sunday, April 13, 1941, in regard to weather conditions. Memory can't recall a drier season nor a more beautiful day, commemorating the resurrection, than last Sunday.

Sunday school attendance jumped to 96 at Jackson's Chapel. Mt. Pleasant reported 91. Salem 37, and Mt. Moriah 47. . . . Mt. Zion was host to the Fulton-Hickman Counties Singing Convention on Easter Sunday, 26 years ago and also this Easter. On both occasions, Bill Elliott, in a quartet, sang "He Is Risen." Then he was "Willie," age 15. Now, he's "Bill" of the Ford Garage at Fulton. . . . A crowd from here attended the afternoon singing and some spent the day.

M. B. Burkett, merchant, is trying to convince us that he's a farmer, too. He says that he has already cultivated his corn and his watermelons are up. . . . If something isn't done to check the growth of these melons, they'll be gone before the political barbecues get started.

Gordie Hopkins had a row to die Friday. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Jim Puckett have moved back to their place near Watts Station. . . . Wes Watts has purchased a used car. . . . Our own home is receiving a fresh coat of paint on the outside which was much needed. So is the inside, but can't afford both at the same time. . . . Fulgham's High school closes May 14.

We have seen the rural section change completely for the better, and perhaps during the next fifteen or twenty years we will see a vast improvement in the appearance of barns and outbuildings. Too, if we can get in the habit of building real fences and keeping them painted white we will rival the Bluegrass in sheer beauty—perhaps even surpass it.

Do You KNOW THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN A PERSON-TO-PERSON and a STATION-TO-STATION LONG DISTANCE CALL?

THE first important difference is in the cost. Station-to-Station service is about one-fourth cheaper than Person-to-Person service on most calls.

PERSON-TO-PERSON CALL

A Person-to-Person call is one where you ask to be connected with a particular person at a distant telephone or a particular station of a private branch exchange. Timing of a Person-to-Person call does not begin until the person you want is brought to the telephone.

STATION-TO-STATION CALL

A Station-to-Station call is one where you merely ask to be connected with a distant telephone. After the called telephone answers, if you wish, you may then ask for some particular person, but the charges on a Station-to-Station call begin when the distant telephone answers.

Also, the rates for most Station-to-Station calls, after 7 P.M., are about forty per cent less than the day rates, while most rates for Person-to-Person service, after 7 P.M., are reduced approximately twenty-five per cent from the day rate.

For rates and other information, look in the front pages of your telephone directory, or ask the long distance operator.

MRS. GLENN DUNN IS HOSTESS TO LOVELY PARTY YESTERDAY

Mrs. Glenn Dunn was hostess to a beautifully planned contract party yesterday afternoon at her home in Pickering apartments, Edgings street, entertaining twenty guests. Throughout her apartment were lovely bouquets of vari-colored spring flowers, including lilacs, redbud, iris, and roses. A color scheme of lavender and yellow was used and carried out in the attractive tables.

At the conclusion of bridge games, played at five tables, Miss Mary Swann Bushart held high score. Mrs. Joe Bennett, Jr., held second high and Mrs. Hendon Wright was winner of the travel prize. Each was presented an attractive gift.

The guest list included Miss Bushart, Mrs. Bennett, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Harry Bushart, Mrs. Ward Bushart, Mrs. Ward Johnson, Mrs. Ernest Fall, Jr., Mrs. Lynn Phipps, Mrs. William H. Atkins, Mrs. M. L. Parker, Mrs. Maxwell McDade, Mrs. Clifford Shields, Mrs. Chris Damiano, Mrs. Wilburn Holloway, Mrs. Donald Royal, Mrs. Joe Hall, Mrs.

C. F. MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEETING

The Missionary Society of the Cumberland Presbyterian church met in regular session Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Bob White on the Mayfield highway.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. E. O. Dewese, the president, and opened by repeating the 23rd Psalm in unison. Roll was called and minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. D. Fred Worth. After a short business session, consisting of various reports of committee chairmen, the nominating committee was appointed. This committee is composed of Mrs. R. L. Bushart, Mrs. R. H. Wade and Mrs. E. M. Vaden.

The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. Bob White, program leader for the afternoon and the theme was "Personal Evangelism." The scripture reading was Acts 1:1-8, also given in connection with Paul Brown's "Thy Kingdom Come," the missionary study book for the year. This was very beautifully given and left many impressive thoughts in the minds of all attending.

The meeting closed with sentence prayers and the missionary benediction.

During the social hour the hostess served a delicious salad plate with coffee.

DRAMA DEPARTMENT IN GOOD MEETING YESTERDAY

A very enthusiastic meeting of the Drama Department was held yesterday afternoon at the Woman's Club building with twenty-one members of the Department and five visitors attending. The visitors were Mrs. Milton Callahan, Mrs. George Roberts, Mrs. Oliver Pigue, all of Fulton, Mrs. Allie Pigue of St. Louis and Mrs. Ed Roberts of Water Valley.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Louis Weaks, Mrs. E. B. Vance, Mrs. John T. Price and Mrs. W. L. Durbin.

The meeting was called to order and presided over by the chairman, Mrs. James Warren. The roll was called and minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Robert Graham. Mrs. Warren then thanked all those who worked in preparing for the benefit bridge party, given recently by this department. She urged that all these who possibly can, attend the open meeting of the Woman's Club in May, this being the last meeting of the year.

Mrs. Warren appointed the year book committee for next year and those named to compose this committee were Mrs. Bertie Pigue, chairman, with Mrs. Norman Frey and Mrs. Louis Weaks helping her. The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Frey, the treasurer, and she also included a financial report of the benefit party.

That concluded the business period, the meeting being turned over to Mrs. Mozelle Terry Smith, Mrs. Smith, in a most interesting manner, gave criticism gathered from various magazines and newspapers "On J. N. Baitin's 'Out of The Night'."

After the program a pleasant social hour was enjoyed with the hostesses serving sandwiches and cold drinks.

LIBERTY W. M. S. IN GENERAL MEETING

The Woman's Missionary Society of Liberty Baptist church held its monthly general meeting Monday afternoon at three o'clock at the church. Twelve members of the Society attended.

The meeting was opened with a song, "Jesus Saves," followed with the devotional, given by Mrs. Kate Rives. Following her scripture reading was a prayer. The regular routine of business was then transacted with the secretary reading the minutes of the last meeting, calling the roll and reading the treasurer's report.

Mrs. Stacy Sammons from the Tennessee Circle was program leader and presented the topic of the program, "An Urgent Gospel: Challenge to True Discipleship."

The meeting was dismissed with prayer led by Mrs. S. J. Holt.

A. C. Butt & Sons Grocery

Signs Lend Lease Bill

There was no uncertainty in the minds of the personnel of the A. C. Butt's Grocery in regard to all-out aid for Britain. They have hit upon a plan by which they can lend the weight of their store and the co-operative effort of all ladies' organizations and individuals in Fulton and in Fulton County to the cause of raising money for "Bundles for Britain."

Here it is: In A. C. Butt's Grocery department you will find a huge display of cake baking ingredients, priced at figures slightly above cost. To all organizations or individuals who desire to raise money for aid to Britain, the A. C. Butt's Grocery offers counter space, advertising and the sales assistance, of the store's personnel in selling all home made cakes to the public; the proceeds to be turned over to "Bundles for Britain."

This plan will be in operation for a full thirty days from the time this ad appears.

Whether or not you have developed the art of cake baking to any high degree, your cake will be displayed and sold with the same appreciation as that of any person who has this cause at heart.

A. C. Butt's Grocery is offering for the duration of this plan only the finest nationally advertised cake baking ingredients at prices marked down within the reach of everyone. Using such ingredients you have a very slight chance of failure and your cake will be a quality that will exceed your expectations.

Here is a chance for both ladies' organizations and individuals to enter an activity and aid a cause in which we are vitally concerned. Bring your cakes to A. C. Butt's Grocery and they will do the rest.

MAY SEND MARINES TO GUARD AMERICAN EMBASSY IN LONDON

London.—The United States was reported today to be considering sending a detachment of marines to guard the American embassy in London, as in the last war.

The embassy which operates with large staffs of military, naval, commercial and shipping experts who daily exchange secrets with the British, hasn't even a policeman on regular duty. There virtually is no check on visitors except by an unarmed doorman.

Nearly all important British buildings, including most newspaper offices, have special guards who require visitors to show passes.

Italy, Reich Recognize Croatia As Separate And Independent State

Rome.—Italy and Germany recognized today a new "independent state of Croatia."

The Italian announcement said Ante Pavelic, terming himself chief of the Croatian national government, asked Italy's recognition in a note to Premier Mussolini and said frontiers of the state would be established "in agreement with the governments of the axis powers."

Mussolini assured Pavelic of recognition by Italy in a personal message.

The text of Il Duce's message:

"I received your telegram with which, in conformity with the will of Croat people, you informed me of the proclamation of the independent state of Croatia and asked recognition of independent Croatia by Fascist Italy.

"I salute with great satisfaction the new Croatia, which is reacquiring its long coveted liberty. Now the axis powers have destroyed the artificial Yugoslav construction.

"I am pleased to inform you of the recognition of the independent state of Croatia by the Fascist government, which will be happy to reach agreement freely with the Croat national government for delineation of borders of the new state to which Italy's people wishes every good fortune."

Hitler replied in similar terms in a telegram made public here.

PRIZE WINNER

Third Prize

(By Norma Long) When I speak of my "Uncle Sam," I mean just that. All my life I have looked at the pictures showing him a tall, strong gray-haired, kindly old gentleman; and always he has been a very real uncle. A real uncle born of my hard-working, hard-fighting, headstrong forefathers who were determined that he should be best in the world. So they started him off right when he was young; and he has grown old to be exactly as they intended he should—the best in the world.

He is a rich uncle. There is nothing worth wishing for on this earth that Uncle Sam can't offer me. A beautiful country of fertile valleys, broad plains, valuable forests, gorgeous mountains, a touch of desert, lakes and rivers. All these and anything more that God has made upon His earth. I have only to choose that spot that appeals to me most and that spot can be my home. But like a kindly uncle who does not wish to spoil those whom he loves, he requires that I work to pay for my luxuries. And then he makes the job easier by allowing me to choose the kind of work I shall be and furnishes schools of all kinds so that I can learn to be efficient in that which I have chosen. Then to complete it all, he gives me the opportunity to show the world what I am. If I am good, he is proud and lets me show it; and if I am bad, I suffer only in proportion to how bad I am.

French Vice Consul Offers Bases To U. S.

San Francisco.—The United States Government has been offered the use of all French naval and military bases in North and West Africa and Indo-China in a telegram French Vice Consul Paul Bibby sent to President Roosevelt.

(In Washington, Secretary Hull said he did not know Bibby and that nothing had been received at the State Department.)

Called Petain a Puppet.

Bibby, who asserted he is the only legal representative of the French republic in this country, made the offer on what he regarded as similar ground to that which the Danish Minister, Henrik de Kauffman, gave the United States access to naval and air bases in Greenland last week.

Contending the Vichy Government headed by Marshal Petain is a self-appointed "puppet State" controlled by the Germans, Bibby argued that Vichy has no authority to speak or act for the French people or republic.

His telegram said:

"Considering that someone must speak right now for helpless continental France, and in view of the extreme gravity of the present hour and absolute necessity of keeping mastery of the Mediterranean, Near East and Far East. . . Noting also the precedent established in the Greenland case, I offer to the United States absolute disposal of all North and West Africa and Indo-China bases.

Windsors Plan Trip To U. S. Over Finances

Palm Beach, Fla.,—The Duke of Windsor, now royal governor of the Bahama Islands, plans to come here Friday for conferences with his financial representatives. He will be accompanied by his American-born Duchess. It will be their second visit to the United States since he gave up the British throne to marry her.

Capt. Alastair Mackintosh, who announced the planned visit, said the Duke would confer with his financial adviser, Sir Edward Peacock, a governor of the Bank of England and member of the British Purchasing Commission.

Maj. Gray Phillips, the Duke's controller, also will come here from Washington for a conference with him, Mackintosh said.
