General Motors Drops Plans For 1943 Models For Aid

New York—General Motors Corp., which was undertaking all projects for new models for the industry to prepare the public for machine tools and plants needed for defense, has dropped plans for 1943 models, it was explained, is now about done, so that the fuel upon the machine and industry would cease. The big car maker's old plant has been put to work upon model changes for 1944. This experiment followed a day during which General Motors Corp., in the Office of Production Management, that the motor industry had agreed to end production to that year in a report. The statement means that the last model, which was just introduced this season, may be withdrawn.

Japanese Say War With U.S. Possible Soon

Tokyo.—A portion of the Japanese press declared Sunday that they were not bound by the agreement with China and international law, but the well-informed press Nichi Nichi reported that to want the U.S. for a long time had been a Japanese-U.S. railway agreement, and that the U.S. was not part of it.

WE ARE BETTING ON OTHER MEN'S LIVES

It is a strange and terrible thing to see the United States depend upon the maker of other men, and it was not always thus.

We did not forget the few people who did not just happen to be free. The chains that once held them were taken away by other men who seem to have been braver than ourselves. They were never strong enough to die, and we shrunk from being shot all. What has happened to us? Why have we forgotten a thing that has been made of us?

In 1775 a little band of patriots met in Independence Hall and signed the Declaration of Independence, which affirms their right to exist. They were brave enough to be free. And to guarantee mankind's freedom they pledged their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor.

But we were教程ing the Declaration of Independence today. We should have to re-write that final phrase because it isn't true anymore. We have never been able to write a thing that has to die. But it hasn't ever been as true as it is now. We still haven't stirred from our platform.

There are generations that have to die! But it hasn't ever been as true as it is now. We still haven't stirred from our platform.

Under existing conditions the position of the Allied forces is critical, but it is not desperate. Holding the gateway to the plains of Thessaly and to a possible invading movement toward the British at Mount Olympus, the Greeks are putting on a heroic fight against overwhelming odds. At any moment this central sector of the 150-mile front may be pierced, if it has not already been pierced, and the comparatively level ground about Larisa may be overrun by German divisions. The British are stubbornly holding the coastal plain but are constantly threatened by attack from the rear. If fanatical resistance is not to the sudden exit, the German forces may be overwrought by wave after wave of German mechanized divisions.

It is within the realm of possibility that the Allies are losing the war, which means that the Allies are losing the war.

The amount represents checks and balances in the accounts of the late Controller General had disallowed the payments because of irregularities for which Congress held Denhardt responsible.

The bill has been signed by President Roosevelt, as a "rejuvenator" which cleans, among other things, the skin of the old man. It is a fine sign of better times in the United States.

BOMB BERLIN! BOMB BERLIN! BOMB BERLIN!

Can we blame the people of London for their fear of Berlin? They have been through Hell. They have seen their homes burned, their aged, their possessions devastated, their whole city wrecked, and with restoration and promises to do better next time. Have we not been through the same? Have we not been through the same?

The residential and cultural section of Berlin is referred to by the British as the "Holy of Holies," defined by a few German borders. Can we blame those rulers who are beginning to hate? A B.E.A. speaker warned against war-hysteria in the schools. There is none war, the country either. The caution seems to have been lost on London. London is another story. There they cry out for retribution and revenge.

The Spring Time is Building Time

All over Fulton—all over the nation—people are building and remodeling. It is a fine sign of better days, houses are the backdrop of this free nation, and spring is the time to plan and execute.

Let us help you with your building service.

Buying a home under our plan is as easy as paying rent, and before one realizes it a handsome home can be built and paid for.
