Last February or thereabouts most of us in Fulton suddenly learned that a big pipeline for piping natural gas was going to be laid past our doorsteps, starting all the way down at the edge of Texas and running all the way up to Middletown, Ohio (a distance of 800 miles). Pretty soon trainloads of pipe appeared all over the place. Now eight months after it was begun, the whole works is in the ground, under the Mississippi once and the Ohio in two places and under no telling how many smaller rivers and streams, and is delivering gas. Brother, that's hustling!

We feel right ashamed of ourselves because of it, too. While this outfit was hustling along on this seventy-three-and-a-half million-dollar project, we haven't even taken time to go find $40 worth of new and badly needed chases for our press.

Mrs. Edgard Grissom, our West State Line correspondent, continues to be our most careful observer of patriotic holidays. Last Wednesday, being Feb. 22 and Washington's birthday, in came the West State Line news all carefully written on white paper in alternating paragraphs of red and blue! Someday, with a different press, maybe we can print it in the paper that way. Someday. Maybe.

"The building is virtually fireproof, the only inflammable items being the judges' stands" . . . (from an account of the Court-house at Dresden).

Ahem. Some of the most inflammable goings-on in a court-house happen right there.

The Ken-Tenn territory surrounding Fulton certainly isn't suffering for lack of home entertainment these days. Now that the annual Minstrel shows at Fulton and Union City are well-established and in current showing, we notice also that the "Darktown Minstrel" at Clinton is being presented and a Legion-Sponsored home - talent musical opens in Martin this weekend. Whatever communities are not getting up their own shows will probably book the Fulton or Union City shows.

Now a little competition sharpens the wits and drives one to greater endeavor . . . and who knows but that in a few years the nation may be singing some hit-tunes that originate right here in our midst, written especially for our own little shows.

Natchez used to have a nice peaceful little pilgrimage season down there, without any special fanfare, until the women split up, started some real competition with each other and spread the Natchez Pilgrimage movement clear across the nation.

Again to Dresden (That Enterprise digs up some good stories!): Billy Winston, operator of a service station there, lost an identification bracelet in 1946 somewhere in the Pacific area. Lo and behold, in walked a former Dresdenite last week and presented his bracelet to him safe and sound.

It seems that the former resident, while an attaché of an Army depot in Memphis, was examining a shipment of miscellany returned by the Army from the Pacific area, and came across the bracelet bearing a Weakley County address. Deciding he could find the owner, he carried it to Dresden and located Winston.

Commented Winston: "Nothing is impossible!"

J. P. McClintock, State Conservation officer at Clinton, may carry a gun with him, but he also carries a pencil and paper. Quizzing 50 hunters during the past season, he reported that they had killed a total of 192 coons; 1,082 squirrels; 840 ducks; 48 geese; 766 quail; 479 doves 35 rabbits. All were reputed as legally killed.

One hunter said he had killed 150 quails another 145 squirrels; and a third had taken 86 coons.

Good hunting country, this is but it can't last long," commented the Hickman County Gazette.

Local Ladies to Attend Meet To Talk About School Funds

At the invitation of John W. Brooker, secretary of the Kentucky Education Association Mrs. Trevor Wayne will represent the Fulton City School District at a meeting of "grass roots" school teachers to be held in Frankfort on next Tuesday. The invitation comes as a result of a recent statement made by Governor Earle C. Clements that he would see classroom teachers whenever it was convenient for them to come to Frankfort.

Mrs. Gilson Latta, a prominent member of the West Fulton Parent-Teachers Association will also so attend the meeting as a representative of the parents of the local school system.

Both ladies will attend a mass meeting to be held to further discuss the possibility of an increase in the State appropriation for educational purposes. From that meeting a committee of classroom teachers will be selected to meet with the Governor at some future date.

During their stay at the State Capital representatives of classroom teachers from all over the State will "button-hole" their representatives in an attempt to pass suitable legislation to increase the State educational appropriation.

At the meeting held at the Fulton High School on Tuesday, at which the two ladies were elected, Mrs. Ernest Fall, Jr., gave a brief report of the district meetings held in Murray on January 25 and February 18.

The program chairman, Mrs. Arch Huddleston, Jr., gave very interesting biographies of the Founders of the Parent-Teachers organization — Mrs. Alice McLellan Birney and Mrs. Phoebe Apperson Hearst.

HAMPSHIRE SALE IN MAYFIELD TUESDAY

The Kentucky Hampshire Breeders Association will have a sale of 50 bred Gilts in Mayfield next Tuesday, Feb. 28th at the new fairgrounds, announced F. S. Johnson, sale manager. The sale begins at 1:00 p. m.

This sale, the first to be held in Mayfield, has been moved from Henderson to encourage the hog market in the Purchase area. Mr. Johnson told the News this week.

The 50 gilts are consigned by Breeders in Paducah, Waverly, Glendale, Henderson, and Mayfield, and are all bang-tested, double-treated for cholera, and will be sold with a health certificate.

Mr. Johnson, who is acting as manager of the sale, is a Graves County breeder and a vice-president of the State Hampshire Breeders' Association. He lives on Route 2, Mayfield.

Red Cross Serves 1300 State Families

A total of 1,300 families in 22 Kentucky counties have been served by the Red Cross this year; 923 were evacuated. Approximately 1,000 persons were cared for in 47 Red Cross-operated shelters in the state. The number of families who have already registered with the Red Cross for rehabilitation assistance is 351 with a total of more than 800 registrations expected. Most property damage has been slight but territory affected extensive; 800 homes and 300 other buildings have been reported damaged.

I. C. Official Reveals Facts Concerning Fulton Services

George M. Crowson, assistant to the president of the Illinois Central Railroad who was a visitor in Fulton this week, in a talk before the Paducah Lions' Club on Tuesday, made the following statement about the fluctuations of employment in its shops there and elsewhere on the railroad.

"Coal constitutes about 30 per cent of the total tonnage of the I. C.," Mr. Crowson said. The I. C.'s loss in coal traffic during 1949 amounted to 68,550 cars and $6,160,000 in revenue. In January the loss was about 10,000 cars and $870,000 in revenue. "February is going to be worse than that," Mr. Crowson said. Mr. Crowson said changing travel habits has resulted in the loss of much short haul passenger business to the railroads, and that unprofitable lines have had to be abandoned. He said the East Cairo-Barlow line, abandoned in 1943, probably will not be restored. The I. C. has no plans for furnishing highway service from Paducah to connect with main line trains at Fulton or North Cairo. Such service, beyond the trains now serving Paducah and Fulton, is now provided by other carriers, he said.

HICKMAN HOLDS EDGE IN COMING DISTRICT BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT NEXT WEEK

Hickman, with eleven straight games to its credit, and with a season record of 18 wins against 10 losses, is the "hottest" team coming to the First District Basketball tournament in Fulton next week, according to dopesters.

Hickman and Clinton (in the top bracket) and Fulton, Bardwell and Cayce (in the lower bracket) are the teams expected to make the strongest showing in the 10-team lineup of the tournament. Play will get underway next Tuesday, Feb. 28th, with the first game scheduled that night between Western and Hickman at 7:30 p. m., followed by the Fulton-Milburn game at 9:15 p. m.

Two games will be played each night for the next four nights, with the finals scheduled for 8:00 p. m. next Saturday evening. (See playing chart on page 7). All tournament play will be in the Carr Gym at Fulton.

The percentage record for the Fulton Bulldogs, if they win over Western tonight (Friday), will be equally as good as Hickman's with (including a win) 15 wins against 8 losses.

Winner of the tournament will receive a handsome 29-inch trophy, with runner-up receiving a 25-inch trophy. Both winner and runner-up will qualify for the regional tournament to be held at the Murray State College gym the following week.

Jerry Forrest, Fulton center, is the only senior on the local squad and will play his last game next week. Forrest has scored 259 points this year and ranks high in district scoring honors. His average of 14½ points per game is believed to be highest percentage average in the district, declared Coach Hogg this week.

Forrest is closely followed by Collins, junior forward, with an average of 14 points per game. Large crowds are expected in Fulton for the tournament.

The Board of directors went on record as favoring this survey as part of a proposed program to increase the effective work of the Chamber.

M. L. Parker, a former Fultonian, chairman of the Barkley Day Air Show last summer in Paducah and an active civic worker there for several years, Monday night was elected Key Man of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The insurance man was chosen at a stag banquet at Hotel Ritz in Paducah, winning a majority of the votes on the first ballot.

Although a long list of his activities was read, Mr. Parker's biggest contribution was as chairman of the air show, a project that busied him from May until Aug. 14.

Mr. Parker was chairman of the state Jaycee awards committee and twice went to Louisville to conduct meetings; he was a delegate to the convention at Owensboro and chairman of the banquet at which current club officers were inaugurated.

He was routing chairman for the Jaycee Radio Patrol for the Salvation Army; chairman of the

An estimated turnout of 200 braved a wet, rainy night to attend the meeting, elect officers and hear G. P. Summers, marketing specialist with the University of Kentucky.

Mr. Summers predicted that, although farm prices will be down about 10 percent this year, they will remain above pre-war levels, with expenses staying pretty well "in line."

Attendance prizes during the evening were awarded to Sidney Rose, of Fulton, Mr. and Mrs. Jeffers of Crutchfield and Mrs. Wm. McClendon of Fulton Route 1. Bestguesser in the corn contest was found to be Joseph McAlister of Fulton Route 1, who won a bushel of seed corn.

BARRY WARNS OF RAW MILK GERMS

Heat-treat your raw milk if you cannot get pasteurized milk, advises Harry A. Barry, Fulton County Sanitarian. The germs of many diseases such as typhoid fever, dysentery, septic sore throat, diphtheria, tuberculosis and undulant fever can be carried by raw milk, Mr. Barry said. Correct heat treatment, or pasteurization, will kill these germs and make milk safe to drink.

Home pasteurization is simple and inexpensive. One easy but effective method is treating small amounts of milk in heating in a double boiler or open sauce pan, stirring constantly, to a temperature of 165 degrees Fahrenheit. No one can guess at this temperature successfully, so a dairy thermometer must be used. When the correct temperature has been reached, cool the milk at once by placing it in a pan of cold water, bringing the temperature to below 70 degrees before the milk is placed in the refrigerator.

Advice on other methods of home pasteurization may be obtained from your health unit. Don't take chances on raw milk.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hornbeak, Mr. and Mrs. Alf Hornbeak, Mrs. J. C. Yates and Mrs. Elizabeth Milner attended the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. A. M. Moultrie in Obion Wednesday.

PURE MILK PRODUCERS PRODUCE MORE THAN MILK - - - OR MAYBE ITS THE MILK!

The Fulton Pure Milk Company and its producers really started the New Year in a big way.

On January 20th Leslie Walker was passing out cigars and telling of the baby boy, James Daniel, who had arrived. Four days later W. P. Burnette, manager of the Fulton Pure Milk Company was receiving congratulations on the arrival of Ruth Ann. The next day his brother, Naylor Ward Burnette, was standing back with his chest out to receive congratulations as Judy Kay had arrived at his house.

Larry Binford was very happy that his daughter, Julie Ann, came along on the same day.

While this was taking place Herman Sams, Jr., one of Hickman County's youngest dairymen was away on his honeymoon.

John M. Luther, who drives one of the Milk Company trucks came in with a big smile on his face on February 15th telling about Joe Dale who had arrived at his home.

Don't think that Cecil Burnette wasn't doing things too. He was installing gas heat in his milking parlor and milk room to make it more comfortable for his herdsmen who attend his fine cattle.

Things will be blooming around the Luby Howell place before long as he has planted shrubbery around his milking parlor. This adds greatly to the appearance of his place. I think it would be a fine if all dairymen would do this.

He served on a Jaycee committee to instruct members in club principles; was chairman of a waterfront committee of the city barge; and was active in promoting a garbage disposal system.

He served the club as a director, presented awards at the state convention, and served on a committee to revise bylaws of the club constitution.

He was chairman of a committee to erect a sign at Barkley Field, was co-prosecutor in a mock trial at the club recently conducted, and had a part in many other Jaycee activities.

Lee Livingston presided as toastmaster and President Joe Mitchell conducted a business session, presenting the gold key to Mr. Parker.

Rev. C. H. Warren, a prominent former citizen of Fulton, pastor of the First Baptist Church here for 16 years, and a former civic leader in the life of the community, announces this week that on April 1st after 38 "very gratifying" years in the Ministry, he is retiring and returning to Fulton with Mrs. Warren to make his home and enter business life.

The announcement was made Tuesday at the Rotary Club, where Bro. Warren was a guest, and where he "made up" attendance for his absence from the Carbondale group.

From May, 1919 to October 1934 Bro. Warren filled a prominent position in Fulton religious and civic life as pastor of the First Baptist Church. It was during his administration that the present auditorium part of the church was built.

In addition to Fulton, and Carbondale, Bro. Warren has served pastorates in Jackson, Tenn., Lebanon, Tenn., and Greenville, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren have five children, one of which, James, is a Fulton attorney, and well-known civic figure. Those applications which cannot be filled in the March delivery will be taken care of in the fall, but pond owners are warned to make applications to the county conservation officer at the earliest possible date so that the schedule may be mapped.

The Farm Pond Supervisor emphasizes that unless application had been received prior to February 22, deliveries of both bluegill and bass will not be available until fall.

Now is the Time For Us To Seek Industry

At the Chamber of Commerce meeting on Monday night Paul Boyd, prominent in business and civic circles in Fulton, was elected president of the organization. The News wishes Mr. Boyd every success in his new post of tremendous responsibility and offers him whole-hearted cooperation in attaining the goals that he has set for himself and the group he heads.

Mr. Boyd succeeds Gene Williamson as president. The immediate past president has served the organization efficiently and well. While there are not a great many tangible accomplishments that the average layman can point to as great deeds, we do know that Mr. Williamson and his equally capable board of directors has laid the ground-work for a large number of projects, which Mr. Boyd has committed himself to fulfilling.

Chief among the accomplishments of the past president and board is the methodical planning done during the past year to get industry into the area. It was with this view in mind that Mr. Williamson invited Mr. Durward Williams, Chief of the Field Service Division of the State Agricultural and Development Board to be the principal speaker at the meeting on Monday.

Mr. Williamson gave the local business and professional men a "shot in the arm" as far as seeking new industry is concerned. He made the statement during his immensely interesting and informative talk that if a circle were drawn around the city of Fulton, to cover a radius of 500 miles, it would take in a population of 60,000,000 people, about 40% of the population of the United States. This population he said, could be served by overnight bus or train service out of the city.

The tremendous importance of this statement cannot be overestimated. Barring such centers of strategic importance as Kansas City, we would say that Fulton, Ky., is perhaps in one of the most enviable transportation centers in the Nation. With industry, private enterprise and Government, branching out into the inland areas, we would like for you to ponder the value of that statement in dollars and cents to the merchants of this city.

Chambers of Commerce all over the South are gearing their organizations in an all-out campaign to grab some of the lucrative industries settling around us. The little community of Dresden, Tenn., has fortified itself with a full-time permanent secretary to investigate and seek means to bolster the economy of its township. The possibility of such action for Fulton is in the discussion stage among the board members of the board of directors. We heartily endorse this action, for it would mean that Fulton would be "Johnny-on-the-spot" to talk business with industrialists seeking to locate here, relieving the members of the Chamber of Commerce of the necessity of leaving their businesses to pursue the details of the inquiry.

Good luck to you Paul Boyd. May we have the privilege of assisting you whenever and however we can, both as a newspaper and as private citizens.

Fulton Setting Pace For Funds

The educational eyes of Kentucky are focused on the First District and on Fulton, for courageous endorsement by the local Parent-Teacher Association, and others of a sales tax to finance Kentucky's educational system. The endorsement by the local group has spread throughout the First District, when more than 1500 teachers and interested citizens went on record as endorsing a sales tax for educational purposes.

Through W. L. Holland, superintendent of the Fulton School system, who introduced the proposal to Governor Clements at a meeting with educators in Frankfort, the sales tax measure is gaining momentum. Mr. Holland, has advocated a sales tax for education for several years. His plan is now being endorsed by groups all over the State.

If a sound, workable, revenue producing measure is passed by the General Assembly and subsequently signed by the Governor, which would bring more money into the State's school funds, we'll bet our rock bottom dollar that somewhere in the proposal is the work of Laurance Holland and Fulton's school patrons.

You just wait and see, and in the meantime get on the bandwagon and let's fight for additional school funds.

Should Murder Become Legal?

We call your attention to the second article appearing in today's News dealing with "mercy killing," for which Dr. Hermann Sander is now on trial in Manchester, New Hampshire.

Much has been written and discussed about the death of Mrs. Abbie Borotto, whose death certificate signed by Dr. Sander indicated that she had died of cancer and that he (Dr. Sander) had injected air in her veins.

The soft-spoken general practitioner is charged with the first degree murder of 59-year-old Mrs. Abbie Borotto. It could mean death for the physician from Canada, New Hampshire, who touched off a nation-wide argument over euthanasia, or mercy killing.

The outcome of the trial may be precedent-setting. It may decide that man will assume the power of God in deciding the life or death of a human being. We are watching the trial with interest and a private prayer that we will not see a Nazi horror become standard practice in America.

Tidbits of Kentucky Folklore

"Why Don't You Speak For Yourself"

Every semester I teach a class in American Literature in which we read Longfellow's "The Courtship of Miles Standish." Though all the students have read the poem in high school, few of them have tried to see whether John Alden and Priscilla Mullins are actual character or are figments of the poet's imagination. They have accepted the poem as a poem, just as most people accept anything that is reputed to be history. My one great purpose in teaching the poem is to show how Longfellow tried to make human the pioneer, especially those who came so long ago to Plymouth and from whom he was descended. In general we have idealized our historical characters so much that they are abstractions, no more human than a statue or a building. Evidently Longfellow felt that something should be done about this, and he wrote a very human document in this famous poem. Historians will tell us that his facts are wobbly, prosodists will say ugly things about his use of the dactylic hexameter, and realist will lament his sentimentality. Longfellow was guilty of all these faults, of course, but who of these critics have ever written or could ever write a poem that has taken such a hold on our American minds?

Just today I have been reading a transcription of an old volume of popular songs, written down seventy-five or more years ago by a singer, apparently from his own repertory. Many of them are just such songs as my sister used to copy down in a composition book just as we heard them sung by our visiting cousin who always brought us up to date in popular music. Some are traditional ballads that I always love to see in their thousand and one versions. But even better than the ballads and songs are some interspersed rhymes of the album-verse type, bad spelling and all. One of them goes thus:

"My ink is blue
My pen is golde
My love for you
Can not be told."

Another one in the same vein:

"The time is long
For you i weep
And in your armes
I long to sleep."

The only one that I can recall having ever seen before is this:

"Forget me not Forget me never Till you and I
Keep house together."

Whoever William A. Larkin was, and the information about him is very meager that Dr. Ruth Ann Musick of Fairmont, West Virginia, has been able to discover, he was human and lives by his rhymes quite as much as he must have lived as a ballad singer and instrumentalist in the last century. If he were living now, he would be well over a hundred years old. Mr. Larkin, like Priscilla and John Alden and Miles Standish, was not an abstraction but a warm-blooded human being.

"Her boss didn't want her wedding to interfere with her work!"

Kennucky On The March

Ordinarily the death of a popular young man is just another sad event, but the loss of Nelson Carter to Irvington and vicinity stunned the entire population. Carter, product of the local high school, had thrilled everybody with his pitching for the local baseball team, and a scout for the St. Louis Cardinals had put him under contract. Then tragedy. The young man was accidentally killed by a live wire on a power line.

Admirers of Carter decided to honor his memory with some kind of a monument at the school's athletic field. Then somebody asked why shouldn't Irvington people help build a grandstand with the money raised and name it for Nelson Carter, whereupon everybody voted yes, nobody voted no.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Christ Jesus" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, February 26, 1950.

The Golden Text is: "As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in him: - - - for in him dwelleth Love, Mrs. Armistead, Mrs. Sisk and Miss Mable Cole.

February 28, 1930:
The George Noffel family of Fulton, returning from Tiptonville last Sunday suffered a tragic accident when their car left the highway and rolled down an embankment, killing little Christine, 8, and injuring mother, father and brother, Alex, who was driving. The accident was attributed to a blowout.

Fall and Fall insurance agency at 214 Main street has just installed all-new metal office equipment. Besides J. E. Fall and J. A. Colley, Clarence Reed, Miss Elizabeth King and Mrs. Carline Dumas are efficient personnel of the office staff.

To Whom it may concern: this is to certify that I have received a check today from Atkins Cole for $150.00, for injuries received for being knocked down by my car a few months ago. I take pleasure in recommending this little accident policy which costs only $2 a year. . . . Mrs. Seldon Cohn. (Atkins Coie, Agent).

Mr. and Mrs. Carnell Hancock of Beelerton community are the proud parents of a baby boy, Charles Lee, born Feb. 22.

Calloway County, highly organized for better agriculture, is ambitious to get 100 per cent cover crop coverage. The goal is a bit high, I think but there is no harm in striving for perfection. Farmers with large corn crops usually find it difficult to harvest the grain before bad weather sets in. Mechanical pickers are an advantage to farmers who want to disc their stalk land and sow rye or barley in time for it to get well rooted for winter. If Calloway County gets cover crops on 90 per cent of its plowed ground it will be as widely publicized as Union County was when it rid itself of all its scrub bulls, rams, and boars.

Warsaw, seat of Gallatin, the smallest county in Kentucky, has a mayor and six councilmen. When these men took their elective offices they declared themselves the town's chamber of Commerce. And they are working now with the county agricultural agent to expand the county's dairy interests.

all the fulness of the Godhead bodily."

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Whosoever believeth that Jesus is the Christ is born of God." (1 John 5:1) have never had any difficulty in understanding the distinction between direct and indirect killing. Indirect killing is death merely permitted to result from the pursuit of some legitimate good—for instance, the death of a soldier who goes into danger in line of duty, or of a patient who submits to a necessary but dangerous operation in the hope of saving his life. Death is not the desired or necessary result, as in direct killing, which is the exercise of dominion, ownership, over human life, which belongs only to God, its creator. Voluntary euthanasia is suicide and murder—brutal words, offensive to Mrs. Robertson Jones, who finds murder not murder when it is "legal". It is appalling to find professional spiritual leaders espousing mercy killing. Have they forgotten that man, put into life for the purpose of serving God, deliberately removes by such suicide the fundamental condition of all obedience and service to God, namely, human life itself? Or do they somehow think that physical discomfort annuls the lease on life we have from God, canceling the cross from Christianity? Last year more than 400 clergymen lent their names to a petition to the New York legislature favoring legalized mercy killing.

The brochure "Merciful Release" brazenly acknowledges an implicit totalitarian philosophy as it encounters the objection that the aims of the movement are too restricted, that compulsory euthanasia should be sought for all who are a burden to themselves and the community (including mental defectives and others incapable of consent) rather than merely for sufferers who themselves ask for euthanasia.

With the ashes of Auschwitz still fertilizing Poland's soil, this monstrous explanation is offered: The American and English Euthanasia Societies, after careful consideration, have decided that more will be accomplished by devoting their efforts to voluntary euthanasia. To take someone's life is a very different thing from granting him release from unnecessary suffering at his own expense. The freedom of the individual is highly prized in democracies.

In other words, the euthanasias, in pushing for voluntary euthanasia, are merely biding their time, waiting until democracies which once prized freedom can be sold the idea that benefiting humanity by ridding it of retrograde individuals in the ultimate goal of human desire and endeavor. Will Nineteen Eighty-four be the date?

The date has been postponed in the interest of "the cause." In 1936 Rev. Dr. Charles Francis Potter, founder of the euthanasia organization, "advocated lethal chambers for incurable imbeciles. Planned-murder advocates are more discreet these days. Thus Dr. Howard Wilcox Haggard of Yale delivered an address at New York Town Hall on March 3, 1949. By 1960, the doctor pointed out, something like one-sixth of our population will be 60 years of age or over. "Each year, each day, our hospital facilities and all others for the care of the ill," he complained, "are more and more taxed to provide aid for those whose stay in bed will not be a week or a month but perhaps many months, and for whom there is no chance of recovery." In the current issue of the Woman's Home Companion Albert Deutsch documents the railroad-ing of thousands of our people into State mental institutions. Dr. Haggard has a simpler solution—euthanasia.

The doctor is the key man in the euthanasia "cause." The Society boasts that 3,272 physicians in New York State have gone on record in favor of legalizing euthanasia. From England came a petition from Britain's Euthanasia Society urging the UN to include the right to "mercy death" in the Declaration of Human Rights. At the same time, Dr. Killick Millard, secretary of the Society, expressed his delight over what the Sander case meant to "the cause."

Organized medicine was cautious in its comments. While Dr.

John F. Conlin, director of information for the Massachusetts Medical Society, was forthright in his condemnation, Dr. John P. Bowler, president of the New Hampshire Medical Society, promised he would issue a statement at the proper time. Dr. John F. Wheeler, secretary of the State Board of Registry in Medicine, was undisturbed on learning that Dr. Sander had resumed his practice. "No action is contemplated," he said, "and none will be taken so far as the Board is concerned, unless the man is found guilty following a trial." After the Attorney General has stipulated that Dr. Sander must refrain from practice while under indictment, Dr. Wheeler announced that a hearing of his Board would be held on January 18 to consider revocation of Dr. Sander's State medical license. The General Manager of the AMA, Dr. George F. Lull, called Dr. Sander's action a violation of the doctors' Oath of Hippocrates, which includes the pledge: "To please no one will I prescribe a deadly drug or give advice which may cause death." Yet the Euthanasia Society was able to circulate extracts from an article by Dr. George B. Lake, reprinted from Clinical Medicine, arguing that most physicians of wide experience have, at one time or another, been brave enough to risk a trial, and possible conviction, on such a charge of conferring the bliss of death upon a hopeless sufferer. . . . The Sander case was challenging American medicine to make up its mind on mercy killing. Using the double-talk language of the Euthanasia Society, the doctor's law firm, in Manchester, N. H., announced: "If and when Dr. Sander is tried for his admitted act, he will not be called to testify under any circumstances. The prosecution will have to prove the doctor guilty of murder, which he denies." Whitaker and Baxter, promoters of the AMA education program to maintain the traditional American practice of medicine, have a new and additional chore, it seems. Three years ago America asked editorially:

Why have not the vast majority of decent, conscientious doctors in the country come out in a body to denounce this treason (advocacy of euthanasia) by their fellow practitioners? Why have not State and national medical societies made some move to strike from their rolls men who have so betrayed medicine's ideals?

Despite a widespread sympathy for the plight of Dr. Sander's attractive family, Americans who believe in God and fundamental decency are going to be asking that question and impatiently awaiting an answer.

The Time The Anti-Trust Lawyers Killed Their Own Case!

For ten years the anti-trust lawyers have been attacking the business methods that make it possible to give the public the best quality food at the lowest prices.

In our last ad we told you how Federal Judge W. H. Atwell, at Dallas, threw the anti-trust lawyers and all their inflammatory charges against A&P right out of his court.

But the anti-trust lawyers were not satisfied with decisions against them by three federal judges.

They still wanted to destroy A&P.

They Appealed to New Orleans

So they appealed Judge Atwell's decision to the three-judge Circuit Court at New Orleans.

One of the three, Judge Curtis L. Waller, agreed with Judge Atwell that the case should be dismissed.

The other two members of the Circuit Court, Judge Joseph C. Hutcheson, Jr., and Judge Allen Cox, although saying the case should be tried, agreed that the indictment was vague and contained many allegations which were inflammatory.

They decided that Judge Atwell at Dallas should protect A&P from these inflammatory allegations and could order the anti-trust lawyers to supply the defendants with a bill of particulars.

So the case was back in Dallas again.

Judge Atwell, carrying out the decision of the Circuit Court, struck out the inflammatory matter.

He said that without this inflammatory and prejudicial matter the Grand Jury might never have returned the indictment.

Judge Atwell said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"There are many statements in the indictment which are not at all in violation, and are highly prejudicial and inflammatory."

The anti-trust lawyers objected. They advanced an amazing argument. They said that the removal of their inflammatory allegations (which all four judges had agreed did not belong in the indictment) destroyed their case.

Judge Atwell instructed the anti-trust lawyers to furnish the court with a bill of particulars. In short, he wanted specific charges instead of vague generalities. He set the deadline for furnishing this material at January 15th, 1944.

When the anti-trust lawyers twice asked for more time, pleading sickness among their staff, Judge Atwell extended the time to February 25th because he believed that they were honestly trying, in good faith, to prepare the material he had requested.

Actually, it developed, they were using the time to get ready to drop the case in Dallas and start it in another court.

They Quit in Dallas

On February 26th, while the judge was still waiting for his answer, and without any previous notice to him, the anti-trust lawyers gave a story to the newspapers in Washington, announcing that they were dropping the case in Dallas.

They said that it was their intention "to file a substantially similar suit in an appropriate jurisdiction at an early date."

The "early date" turned out to be the same day.

As soon as one anti-trust lawyer killed the case in Dallas, another anti-trust lawyer filed a new case in Danville, Illinois. This new case made most of the same allegations that had been made and dropped in Dallas; and that are being made against us today.

So now, according to the anti-trust lawyers, all four judges who had ruled on the Dallas case were wrong.

Despite defeats in three federal courts in widely separated parts of the country, they continued their campaign to destroy A&P.

When Judge Atwell heard of their action he ordered the anti-trust lawyers to prepare an order for his signature dismissing the Dallas case.

In signing this order he said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"This nolle prosequi does not have the sanction or approval of this court. That is not necessary, nor that the government ask for the court's approval."

"It is, however, a matter that may be presented to the other court and may be of interest to the people at large."

So after their efforts to destroy A&P had failed in Washington, D. C., Wilson, North Carolina, and Dallas, Texas, the anti-trust lawyers moved on to Danville, Illinois.

They were still determined to destroy this company which had brought more and better food at lower cost to millions of American families.

They Were Wrong Three Times Before!

Three times the anti-trust lawyers went into federal courts and made serious and damaging charges against A&P.

Three times federal judges said the anti-trust lawyers were wrong and rendered decisions against them.

In previous ads in this series we told you about these other anti-trust "cases" involving us, which the judges said were not cases at all.

We think you should know about these previous cases, because once again the anti-trust lawyers are making damaging "allegations" that could seriously affect our business if they were believed by the public.

There was the time in Washington, D. C., when they said we and other good American citizens conspired to fix the price of bread in that city.

This was the time Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough ruled that A&P and the other defendants did not even need to put in a defense. He instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty".

It was the time Judge Goldsborough said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"If you were to show this record to any experienced trial lawyer in the world, he would tell you that there was not any evidence at all."

"Honestly, I have never in my over forty years' experience seen tried a case that was as absolutely devoid of evidence as this. That is the honest truth. I have never seen one like it."

There was the time in Wilson, North Carolina, they said we and other good American citizens conspired to fix prices paid farmers for their potatoes.

This was the time Federal Judge C. C. Wyche directed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty".

It was the time Judge Wyche said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"In my opinion there is no testimony produced from which it can reasonably be inferred that the defendants entered into a combination to depress or lower the price of potatoes."

"I might say that I never tried a case in my life where a greater effort, more work, more investigation had been done, combing almost with a fine-tooth comb to gather evidence."

"But, as was said a long time ago, you can't make brick without straw, and you can't make a case without facts."

There was the time in Dallas, Texas, when they made practically the same "allegations" they are making today.

This was the time Federal Judge W. H. Atwell ruled that the case should not even be tried. He said that the indictment contained inflammatory statements that he would not permit to be presented to a jury.

It was the time Judge Atwell said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"I know of no American rule, and I wish I had the power to underscore the word 'American,' which permits us to try a man because of his size."

"If I thought I was presiding over a court and that I might have to sentence some person because he was a great big fellow, or because he was a Lilliputian, I would feel like resigning. God knows we don't want it ever to occur in America that the size is going to determine whether a man is guilty or innocent."

The Fulton and Hickman chapters of the Order of the Eastern Star were hosts to a lovely banquet Friday evening at 6:30 in the dining room of the First Methodist Church. This annual banquet is given each year by the two chapters.

Covers for over a hundred were laid at beautifully appointed round tables centered with miniature cherry trees with red, white and blue candles placed at intervals down the center of each table. Attractive place cards carrying out the George Washington motif marked each place.

A special table was arranged for the Worthy Grand Matron of Kentucky, Mrs. Clarice Crowe of Beaver Dam, who's place was marked with a beautiful corsage of red roses. Other special guests at the table were: Mrs. Laura Gideon of Paducah and Mrs. Eunice Robinson of Fulton, Past Grand Matrons, J. C. Williams of Paducah, Past Grand Patron and Grand Committee members of Rates and Transportation, Mrs. Garrar Gargus, Deputy Grand Matron of Mayfield, Whipple Walker, Deputy Grand Patron, Mrs. Ples Fields, Worthy Matron of the Hickman chapter, Mrs. Virgil Davis, Worthy Matron of the Fulton chapter, Rube McKnight, Past Grand Master of the Masonic Order of Fulton and Edward Benedict, Worthy Patron of Fulton. "Thine Alone," Victor Herbert, sung by Mrs. Sundwick accompanied by Mrs. Carter.

Following the banquet the guests adjourned to the Masonic Hall for the Worthy Grand Matrons annual inspection of the Fulton and Hickman chapters. Present at the inspection were two other Grand representatives who were not present for the banquet. They were: Mrs. Jeltve Day of Paducah, Grand Representative of Ontario, Canada and Mrs. S. J. Pecora, Grand Committee Member of Credentials of Paducah, Guy Barnett, Associate Patron of Hickman acted in the absence of the Worthy Patron. A special guest was Mrs. Eunice Robinson, Past Grand Matron of Kentucky and the only charter member of the local chapter present. There are only five charter members still living.

The Masonic Hall was a scene of beauty with arrangements of vivid red roses, greenery and jonquils. Garlands of the roses and greenery entwined the arch adding beauty to the scene.

She was also presented a beautiful crystal vase. Gifts were also given all the Grand officers by the Fulton and Hickman chapters. Mrs. John T. Price made the presentations to the women and Mrs. Joe C. Johnston gave the men's gifts.

The Fulton chapter opened and balloted and the Hickman chapter did the imitative work.

Representatives from Hickman, Bardwell, Mayfield, Hartford, Paducah, Murray and Alford chapters were present.

At the close of the inspection a reception was held. The refreshment table was beautiful with a center arrangement of red roses and greenery flanked by glowing red, white and blue candles.

Punch and cake was served by Mrs. J. E. Hannephin and Mrs. William Holland. There were a hundred and fifty present.

MRS. BRUCE HONORED WITH VALENTINE TEA

The Community House was the scene of a lovely Valentine tea Tuesday afternoon, February 14 when the Palestine Homemakers Club honored their delegate to Farm and Home Week, Mrs. Thomas Bruce.

Lovely refreshments of sandwiches and tea carrying out the Valentine motif were served to twenty two members and one visitor, Mrs. Weldon King. Mints in the shape of red rose buds added a note of color to the decorations.

Mrs. Lon Brown presided at the tea table.

By Patsy Green

Mary Ann Brady was born in the old Fulton Hospital on May 30, 1932. She lives on a farm 3 miles north of Fulton and attended Beeler School for eight years before coming to Fulton High.

She is going to Murray College and is going to take a double major in commerce and library science. She is a member of the Fulton High Honor Society and F. H. A. Club. She is also a member of the F. H. S. Glee Club and A Cappella group.

Mr. Jacob thinks Mary Ann is a whiz at making out the monthly reports for him. Guess he'll miss her a lot next year. She has been office girl in one of the two and some times both offices for the past 3 years.

Her favorite sports are basketball and tennis. She also likes to receive mail, especially when it is postmarked GEORGIA!!

Mary Ann Brady

Mary Ann has black hair, blue eyes, and a great big brain which she seldom uses outside of school work.

FRESHMAN NEWS

PA has a flame in Junior High. Could it be WV. It seemed that way Tuesday night.

MDW and WN have gone back together and it seems like for good. Good luck, kids.

CS and VM have had a little trouble. I hope it isn't too bad.

Well, it looks like FG and DH have broken up. Was it because TS from South Fulton stepped in to the picture?

Could anyone tell me who DJP walked home Saturday from the canteen?

MSH and SL are a steady couple now. Good luck!

BRP went riding with a certain Sophomore girl last Thursday night. Could it have been DPB?

SOPHOMORE NEWS

It seems that BM has a new flame. Could it be BC.

NB have you finally given up trying for the Sophomore boy and started after a certain Senior boy?

It seems that PC and HS just can't leave each other.

AP why can't you look at LS? Does she always get you in trouble?

JW, what are you doing these nights. Couldn't be staying home, could you.

PM, is it still DM? If it is you had better watch NB.

It seems that BC and AL are going strong.

LH what are you doing these days?

MD, is it still a sailor?

JAL how are you and DLP getting along? Just don't let PG get around him.

JUNIOR NEWS

BB spent the past weekend in Jackson. Upon her return she had an orchid to show from Bobby and was also talking about the dance she attended with Bobby. Wonder if she had a good time?

Wendal Jones must believe in "the early bird gets the worm," because he called MF this dawn concerning a date or should we say dates.

Who was BSJ seen with Friday and Saturday nights? If you say that red haired Senior president we would say you were right.

BSC seemed mighty proud of his woman, CP, for the nine points she made in the ball game. He seems to be proud of her at all times. Can you blame him?

We see that JC and that certain Senior boy, JPW(are still being seen with each other. Good luck!

Say, BSJ, what was your hurry to get out of English class the other day? Having zipper trouble?

What seems to be the trouble between SAB and "Pretty Boy"? Is it just a little quarrel or is this dispute permanent?

Why are the Juniors getting so excited? Is it because there is a rumor that their rings are coming soon?

Aha, LSS is it true that Willy was seen taking you home? Confess, don't be bashful.

Not much left to tell as the majority of people are done hooked, which seems to suit them fine.

Say, BJT, what happened when you and MF stayed out so late and which made you all so excited? Hmmm?

SENIOR NEWS

Well, here I am pinch-hitting for CP again this week. Say, CP, what is it or should we say who is it that keeps you so busy during the week that you don't have time to find out about other people's goings on so you can report to the Fulton County News all the latest gossip.

FLASH! JPW was seen with JC at the "Tale of Two Cities" show last Thursday night. Is there something brewing between you two, Jessie.

ANOTHER FLASH! We hear that TG has had another interest besides RH this last week and it has kept him busy every night. Darn, that old Minstrel practice.

CP do you think that BSC will ever learn to do the Shag. Keep up the lessons, he seems to be improving.

SM and JF are seen together quite a bit lately.

LW sure is excited, today Reckon it is because her one and only JD is coming home.

If RG had her way the mail would run every day including Sundays, holidays.

Purebreds Offered To Young Dairymen

Four-H Club and FFA members will have the opportunity again this year to get purebred dairy cattle with the cooperation of various breed associations, say U. T. Extension dairymen.

Some 35 Guernsey heifers will be sold to junior dairymen in Nashville on March 4; and about the same number will go on the block in Greenville March 11. These heifers will be selected from top herds in Virginia.

keeps your Buick livelier longer

JUST realize one thing, good madam, good sir—as you pilot your Buick down the highway past the parade of lesser cars, you're the secret envy of most other drivers.

So you owe it to this admiring audience to keep that wonderful Buick of yours purring at its proudest—gliding over the roughest roads like a car on a cloud, with never a squeak—lively, long-striding, and staying that way longer!

And one of the easiest ways to do that is to wheel into our shop once a month—ask the man for our LUBRICARE—and here's what will happen:

1 One of our trained Buick mechanics will lubricate your car as the factory engineers specify—covering many points never touched elsewhere.

2 While he goes over your Buick, he gives you an extra service only a Buick man can render. He inspects the entire car with a trained Buick eye—making sure you get lubrication plus Buick care.

3 When you get your bill, you'll find a wonderful surprise—our LUBRICARE costs no more than a routine "grease job" but, man alive, what a difference it makes!

You Have a Vital Stake in Telephone Bargaining:

It's YOUR money

that pays telephone wages

Southern Bell Wages and Working Conditions Already Are Among the Best—Any Increase in Wages Would Have To Be Paid By Telephone Customers—There Is No
Other Way Wage Increases Can Be Paid

You have a vital stake in telephone wage negotiations, for it's the money you pay in to us that we pay out in telephone wages.

Telephone employees are well paid.
Their wages compare favorably with the wages paid by other concerns in the community for work requiring similar skills.

Telephone wage rates have been increased 117% since 1939, compared with an increase of less than 70% in the cost of living.

But wages are not the whole story. Telephone employees have the advantage of steady work, with no seasonal layoffs.
They get vacations with pay, up to three weeks, plus six holidays a year. In addition, they enjoy the real security provided by one of the best pension and benefit plans in any industry. Among other things, it provides:

- A pension with a minimum of $100
a month, including Social Security, at age 65, and liberal provisions for earlier retirement.
- Sickness and accident benefits, up to a full year's pay, depending on length of service.
- Death benefits, up to one full year's wage, depending on length of service.

For all of these benefits, the employee pays nothing — the Company pays all

Any way you look at it—wages, working conditions, pensions and benefits — telephone employees are doing all right. And that's the way we think it should be. It takes all these things to get and keep good people.

The telephone business is regulated in a way that Unions and most other businesses are not. Federal and State Commissions determine the rates we charge for service.
Any increases in telephone wages would force us to ask for an increase in telephone rates.

What About The Contract?

Southern Bell and the CWA-CIO are engaged in collective bargaining on wages at the request of the Union. We earnestly hope that a settlement can be reached that will be fair to the employees, to telephone users and to the company. Meanwhile, the public has every right to expect uninterrupted service under the present contract between the Company and the Union, which provides that, quoting the contract itself, "UNDER NO CIRCUMSTANCES
MAY IT (The Contract) BE TERMIN-ATED EARLIER THAN JUNE 5, 1950."

CHECK TO BE MADE FOR DISEASED STOCK

The Department of Kentucky State Police will assist the State Board of Agriculture in checking shipments of livestock being brought into Kentucky for health certificates, Commissioner of State Police Guthrie F. Crowe said today.

Livestock being brought into the State must have a proper health certificate or they will be turned back or the owners required to contact the Division of Livestock Sanitation of the State Department of Agriculture for a quarantine permit. Animals in question must be kept under quarantine at point of destination until tested and released by the State Veterinarian.

However, if the livestock is going to slaughter, no health certificate will be needed, but the driver of the load will have to sign an affidavit that the stock will be slaughtered. Copies of that affidavit will go to the Department of Agriculture and the slaughter house, who will send their copy to the agriculture department for comparison with the copy received from the State Police.

If the permit carried by drivers of livestock loads shows that they are carrying diseased animals, the load will be turned back.

"The increasing number of diseased animals coming into the State costs the farmer thousands of dollars annually. Bangs disease has been found in more and more cows and this causes undulant fever in humans," said Commissioner of Agriculture Harry F. Walters.

New Courthouse at Dresden

WEAKLEY COUNTY'S NEW COURTHOUSE AT DRESDEN, now being completed with the "finishing touches," is built on the square at Dresden, on the site occupied by its predecessor. The imposing limestone structure cost an estimated $720,000 and will be occupied in the near future. The building houses 37 offices, three courtrooms, 12 restrooms and elevator, all in a ultra-modern setting. The old courthouse was destroyed by fire two years ago this month. Cayce Sunday morning.

Friends of Rev. and Mrs. Earl Baird of this community are sorry to hear they have sold their place in Cayce and will be moving to Union City in the very near future where Rev. Baird is employed at Brown's Shoe Factory. Rev. Baird is pastor of the Mission in Fulton.

Quite a few of our farmers are taking advantage of these pretty days getting ready to burn their plant beds for their next tobacco crop.

Most of our sick folks are better. There are quite a few colds but none serious.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Grissom attended church at Cayce Sunday.

summer in the north where the breeding grounds are located. It is only after these checks that the season and bag limits can be set.

I think that the waterfowl population will show an increase. How much this increase amounts to is anybody's guess.

But unless it amounts to a huge gain—say 50 per cent or more—I favor keeping the season as last year, then with hope we can maintain an ample reserve for the years ahead.

Sure, I'd like to hunt ducks for 60 days—and that's the length of season many hunters are predicting—but I'll settle for 45 days of hunting with the assurance of a supply of ducks.

Our big problem right now, I believe, is stopping the illegal slaughter of ducks that is rumored in many places. Let's keep our eyes open and help the wardens catch the shotgun boys who have no regard for laws or wildlife. That way we can definitely add to next year's waterfowl populations.

Strawberry Setting Is Early March Job

Set strawberry plants before the middle of March and fertilize heavily, growers are advised by U-T Extension horticulturists. New settings should be at least a thousand feet from old patches to avoid crown borers.

Heavy fertilization at setting is important, it is pointed out, as this is the only time phosphate and potash can be placed in the root area during the life of the stand. About 1,000 pounds of complete fertilizer, not high in nitrogen, is recommended per acre.

CREOMULSION

Duck hunters apparently never are content.

With last season's kills not even old enough to be classed as memories, the waterfowl boys already are planning and plotting for the coming gunning season.

The story you hear most places goes something like this: "Sure were a lot of ducks last year, most I've seen in 10 years. I guess the Fish and Wildlife guys will have to give us a longer season and a bigger bag limit."

In many cases this reasoning probably is true. Many hunters did see more waterfowl and have better gunning last season. I did in several different places where I was fortunate to get to hunt.

Frankly, however, this is all beside the point. Let's not rush our reasoning on the waterfowl situation. The Wildlife Service in January made a wintering grounds survey; a similar check will follow in the spring and

What do you mean, it can't happen here? Of course it can! That's the pattern followed in other countries where liberties—and opportunities—were lost, a little at a time. That's how a socialistic form of government comes into power.

A socialistic government threatens EVERYBODY, not just a few. People who work in factories and industry. White collar workers. Office help. You — your friends — your family — your future and your freedom. Remember that, next time somebody tries to sell you on the idea of a socialized state. Remember the ten free workers, who now are free no more.

What makes a railroad ?

Keeping an eye on tomorrow

When an industry moves into new territory, you can be sure the top executives have checked the character of the railroad that will serve them.

For railroads, like people, possess characters that are the sum of varied qualities.

Important to every railroad's character is the quality called foresight. Clear vision into the future brought the Illinois Central to Mid-America ahead of the farms that checkerboard its prairies, topped Mid-America's rich coal deposits, provided the first refrigerated shipment of perishables by rail, pioneered scheduled fast freight service.

Foresight has today placed the Illinois Central on a firm financial foundation for building progressively finer service—service which will continue to attract new industries, new payrolls and new prosperity to Mid-America.

With a keen eye on the future, we shall continue to build our character by developing new devices and improved methods for earning your friendship and patronage.
