2nd Annual Old Car Derby To Be Held At Fulton July 4th

FULTON COUNTY WINS FIRST RURAL MEETING 4-H CLUB CONTESTS AT DUKEDOM TONIGHT

To Fulton county goes the honor of sending a girls' demonstration team to represent the Purchase 4-H clubs at Junior week contests in Lexington June 5 to 9. Members of the Fulton county girls' team, which demonstrated "Baking Powder Biscuits and their Variation" were Lucy Garrison and Dorothy Simpson, both members of the Cayce 4-H club. This team was selected as best from seven teams representing Graves, McCracken, Marshall, Calloway, Hickman, Ballard, and Fulton counties at the Purchase District rally at Paducah, May 23.

These girls, with Joan Collier, County Food Judging winner, Martha Sue King, County Clothing Judging winner, Marjorie McGee, Style Show winner, and one or two other girls from the county, who will be selected by the 4-H club council from other outstanding 4-H club members, will represent Fulton county at Junior week. Mrs. Catherine Thompson, Fulton County Home Demonstration Agent, will be in charge of the group.

Hickman county boys' team has been named to represent the Jackson Purchase in these contests. Members of the Hickman team are Jesse J. Wilkins and Claud Bugg, Jr. They demonstrated construction of a self-feeder for hogs.

Blue ribbons went to other girls' teams in Fulton, Marshall, McCracken, and Graves counties.

Hickman, McCracken and Carlisle boys' teams won blue ribbons.

KING COTTON GETS COAST-TO-COAST AID

King Cotton reigns this week, May 22 to 27, which has been set aside as National Cotton Week. Thousands of merchants throughout the nation are co-operating to make this week a money-saving event for American housewives, and to emphasize the importance of cotton in the economic life of the United States.

Twelve million surplus-harassed dependents of King Cotton will get coast-to-coast promotional aid during this week, and merchants everywhere are urging the public to use more cotton products. It's a safe bet that there's hardly a consumer in the country who won't be encouraged to "buy cotton, benefit yourself, speed national business recovery." Here in Fulton, Grant & Company are advertising special values in cotton in a Cotton Carnival of Values.

Cotton's plight isn't being exaggerated. Foreign demand for American cotton is far below past levels. Carry over of past years' crops is dangerously large. And this means plenty of economic trouble in that great segment of the United States which depends on cotton for the major share of its farmers' income. The economy of whole states is tied in with cotton. Thousands of farm families look to it as their sole or principal source of livelihood. A depression in cotton means crisis in the South, the Southwest, and sections of the Far West. That means paralyzed business dropping purchasing power, dwindling markets for all industry—and more depression for the whole country.

This great cotton drive doesn't depend for its success alone on enlisting public sympathy in the plight of the planters. The participating stores will offer great cotton values. They will do everything possible to price cotton products at levels that make it uneconomical for the consumer not to buy. And if the drive goes over the top, every business, every worker, in the country will feel the long-range benefit.

TILMAN ADAMS NOW WITH INSURANCE COMPANY

Tilman Adams, popular young man of this city, is now connected with the Life and Casualty Insurance Company. The office is located over Evans Drug Company on Lake Street.

Continuing the yearly program of holding meetings in various rural communities adjacent to Fulton during the summer, members of the Chamber of Commerce will gather with a group of citizens of the Dukedom community tonight (Friday). Dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. The committee in charge of arrangements is headed by Joe Browder. It is estimated that around 100 people will attend this meeting.

Dukedom is a thriving and progressive community, and those in charge of the program there predict a real gathering. Joe Davis will act as toastmaster for the occasion, and Rev. Woodrow Fuller, pastor of the First Baptist church of Fulton, will deliver the principal talk. Other speakers will participate on the program, including several of the Dukedom community.

A good program of entertainment has been arranged, and music will be provided by the Hill-Billy Band of the Fulton High School.

Baccalaureate Sermon For Fulton High School

The baccalaureate sermon for the graduates of Fulton High School was delivered Sunday night at the First Baptist church by the Rev. C. F. Wulf. The following program was attended by a good crowd:

Processional, Miss Mignon Wright; Invocation, Rev. J. N. Wilford; Anthem, Girls' Glee Club; Scripture, Rev. E. R. Ladd; Sermon, Rev. C. F. Wulf; Anthem, Girls' Glee Club; Benediction, Rev. B. J. Russell; Recessional, Miss Mignon Wright.

The Class Day program was presented Wednesday at the Science Hall.

Dr. Frank F. Drowota, pastor of the First Christian Church of Mayfield, Ky., gave the commencement address to forty Fulton High Seniors last night at the Science Hall. The following program was given:

Processional, "Prairie March" from Athalia, Mendelssohn, Miss Agatha Gayle; Invocation, Rev. Woodrow Fuller; vocal solo, "Hark, Hark, the Lark," Schubert, Betty Goldsmith; Salutatory, Martha Sue Massie; Valedictory, Jane Alley; presentation of speaker, Supt. J. O. Lewis; Address "Adventure in Friendship," Dr. F. F. Drowota, Mayfield, Ky.; presentation of class, Lawrence Holland; presentation of diplomas, Mr. Moore; benediction, Rev. J. N. Wilford.

GRAVEL ROAD SOUTH OF FULTON

The Rupert Sellers road between the Martin highway and the Weakley county line, running near the Walnut Grove church, is being gravelled. When the work is completed this will be an all-weather road.

PURE-BRED HEIFERS TO LEGION PAYS RESPECT BE DISTRIBUTED SOON TO DEAD MEMBERS

Through the efforts of the Agricultural Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, and P. R. Farlow, agricultural extension agent for the Illinois Central Railroad, ten registered pure-bred Jersey heifers have been purchased for distribution among farmers of this vicinity. The committee, Paul DeMyer and B. A. Ross, accompanied by Mr. Farlow and K. P. Dalton recently inspected herds in central Kentucky and Tennessee. After visiting about 20 herds, they found ten registered heifers at the farm of R. T. Kirkman of Elkton, Ky.

These heifers will be delivered to Fulton with registration papers in about three weeks. From the interest being taken by farmers in these heifers there will not be enough to supply the demand. Other trips are planned, and it is believed that 40 to 50 heifers will be placed this year.

Farmers will be notified as soon as the heifers arrive, so that they may come in and pick the one they want. Prices will range from $45 to $50, and this price includes cost of registration. These low prices for pure-bred heifers have been obtained by diligent efforts of Mr. Farlow and the committee, and offer an opportunity for farmers to improve their herds.

Purchase of these heifers is a continuation of the "better dairy program" which was begun by the Chamber of Commerce three years ago. Since then 17 registered Jersey sires have been placed in the Fulton territory to improve the herds. It is estimated that already one thousand good heifer calves are being raised by the farmers from these good sires. However, practically all of these are grade herds. Fulton territory needs some good pure-bred herds, and it is the purpose of the Chamber of Commerce to place these registered heifers with farmers who are anxious to get started in pure-breeds.

It is, therefore, hoped that through these purebred heifers a number of purebred herds may be established, and thus attract outside buyers to the Fulton trade area who will recognize this community as a pure-bred Jersey community, and they will want to buy these good cattle from local farmers.

WINSTEAD-JONES OFFER INTERESTING SERIES

During the past few weeks, an interesting feature has been provided in a series of illustrated facts pertaining to popular songs by Winstead-Jones & Company, local undertaking firm. These "Little Stories About Great Hymns" are worth reading each week, and many are clipping them for their scrapbooks. This week "America the Beautiful" is taken up and discussed. This song was inspired by a tour across the United States in 1893, and penned by Miss Katherine Lee Bates, professor of English at Wellesley College. On the summit of Pike's Peak where spacious skies and amber plains are visible for miles around, she wrote the opening lines and completed the hymn afterwards at Colorado Springs.

ENTERTAINMENT PROGRAM INCLUDES MANY NEW ATTRACTIONS THIS YEAR

HIJACKING CLEANUP CLAIMED AT RIPLEY

RIPLEY, Tenn.—Remnants of a hijacking gang active in West Tennessee for almost two years have been rounded up by arrest of six persons, Sheriff Charlie Shoaf said Friday night.

Arrested on a charge of hijacking and disposing of $7,000 worth of whisky en route from Cairo, Ill., to Tallulah, La., were Harry Hilmus, operator of the Green Lantern a night club near Covington; Joe Siegman of Fulton, Ky.; Earl Alonzo Shepard of Cairo, Coy Wilson of Union City, Tenn.; T. C. Neil and Argentry Pennington of Covington. Neil and Pennington are negroes. Hilmus is at Liberty under $3,200 bond. Siegman is being held at Fulton on a charge of robbery. Shepard, former Cairo policeman, is held at Cairo on a similar charge. Sheriff Shoaf said. Wilson and the two negroes, who have confessed, are in jail here.

On the night of Oct. 24, 1938, Sheriff Shoaf said a truck loaded with whisky was hijacked near Ripley. This whisky, he charges, was carried to the Green Lantern and unloaded in one of the tourist cabins.

"We know that Snow Davis who was recently killed by Federal and state officers in Mississippi, was in on the hijacking and accompanied the whisky truck to the Green Lantern," he said.

Sheriff Shoaf said the negroes had confessed and had implicated all the others who have been arrested.

"I believe this is the last of the gang that has been hijacking loads of whisky consigned from Kentucky to points in Louisiana and Florida," the sheriff asserted. "Five other men now are awaiting trial here and in Kentucky on hijacking and kidnapping charges."

Seigleman was arrested here Friday night, following an order from Lauderdale county officers. He was released on $200.00 bond. He was rearrested Tuesday afternoon on a fugitive warrant and made bond for $2,000. Trial will be held Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock before Judge Lon Adams.

Hickman County Man Seeks Re-Election

Harry L. Waterfield of Clinton, Asks To Be Returned to State Legislature as Representative from The First District

In this issue of the Fulton County News, Harry L. Waterfield of Clinton, makes his formal announcement, seeking re-election to the office of State Representative from Fulton and Hickman counties. Mr. Waterfield has served the people of this district in the legislature, and his efforts for the best interests of his district have been commendable.

Having known Mr. Waterfield for a number of years, he being a newspaperman himself, publisher of the Hickman County Gazette, we have always found him alert, aggressive and thoughtful of the community and district in which he resides. He stands ever ready to stand up and fight for a principle which he believes is right and for the common good.

It is believed that his re-election and the return of the duties of the office of State Representative could not be in better hands.

CHARLOTTE ADAMS RECEIVES SMITH - HUGHES DEGREE

Charlotte Adams, Hickman, Ky., will receive a Smith-Hughes degree in home economics from Murray College in June. She has been secretary-treasurer of the Household Arts Club, president of the Christian Association, member of Portfolio Club, Pep Club, and Future Teachers of America.

CARS OF OLDER DESIGNS WANTED FOR ENTRY IN NOVELTY AUTO RACES

The Young Men's Business Club, which sponsored the Old Car Derby here last October, is now arranging plans for the second event of this kind, to be staged at the Fair Grounds here on July 4th. Chelso G. Cissna has been named as manager in charge of the drive for sale of tickets and publicity.

The Old Car Derby committee of the YMBC met at the Rainbow Room Monday night, to lay preliminary plans for the event. Those wishing to enter the derby here this year are urged to contact the Young Men's Business Club, or this newspaper.

In addition to the race between old cars this year, several other features of entertainment will be provided, with a full program to be arranged for the day. In the morning a game of baseball will be played at Fairfield Park between the Union City Greyhounds and the Fulton Tigers. Then in the afternoon, starting immediately after noon, entertainment will be provided at the grounds of the Old Car Derby, just to the rear of the baseball park.

The admission price to the novelty auto races will probably be the same as last year, 10c per person. Some 15,000 persons attended the event then, and this year, with even a better program arranged, the crowd is expected to top that of last year. Tickets will go on sale shortly, and everybody is urged to purchase theirs.

Proceeds from the derby last year were used by the Young Men's Business Club to install street markers throughout the city, and proceeds will again be used for some worthy community project.

A tentative program was arranged Wednesday night by the Old Car Derby Committee as follows:

Starting at 12:30 p.m., the Fulton High School Band will play appropriate music for the occasion marking the 163rd anniversary of the Declaration of Independence.

A Jitterbug Contest for colored will then be held with prizes offered the winners.

Joe Louis and John Henry Lewis, two local colored youths, will fight three rounds.

Then a Jitterbug Contest will be staged for white, with prizes offered to the winners.

A highlight on the program will be the amateur contests, featuring quartets, tap dancing, harmonica playing, hill-billy music, singing and various other forms of entertainment. Prizes will be offered, and those wishing to participate are urged to register at Old Car Derby headquarters on Lake-st.

The Bicycle Race will attract scores of youths, and will prove an interesting event. Further information about this race will be announced later.

The Drag Race is certain to meet the hearty approval of everybody. It is something entirely different, and chunk full of fun and thrills. Those having fox hounds, wishing to enter them in this race should make applications promptly. Nice cash awards have been set aside for the winners, and added purse.

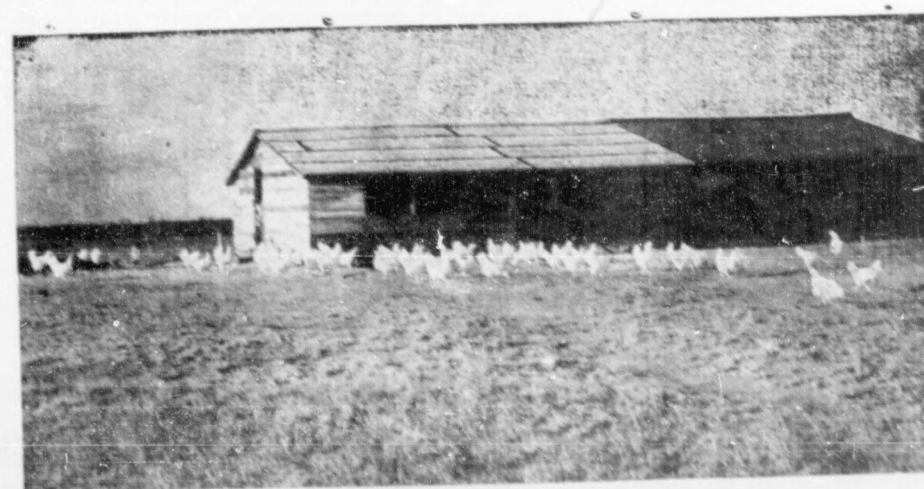

A Marksmanship Exhibition is expected to be given by a representative of a gun manufacturer, and this event alone will be worth the price of admission.

An effort is being made to secure Joe T. Lovett, State Legion Commander, to make a brief talk on Americanism. John Young Brown candidate for governor, and A. B. (Happy) Chandler, have been invited to attend the novelty derby.

The price of admission will remain the same this year—only ten cents, and special cash awards will be given.

MANY FARMERS IN THIS TERRITORY TURN TO POULTRY FOR READY CASH

PROFITS from poultry raising are sought by many farmers in this section, as advanced methods of breeding, production, housing and feeding are adopted. W. R. Phillips, of Martin, Route 4, this spring had 830 baby chicks and 260 hens in a fine flock. He estimates that he cleared $325 on 300 birds, and sold hatching eggs for approximately $5 a case.

Reports from Key Cities Indicates Increases in Business Activity

With the settlement of the bituminous coal dispute in the major fields, less emphasis upon European developments, business evidenced gradually strengthening confidence and increased activity during the past week, according to reports to the Department of Commerce from 36 key cities, received by its Louisville District Office. Reports from the various cities were practically unanimous in registering substantial increases in retail trade for the past calendar week over the comparative 1935 week. Wholesale trade, while showing no marked changes from recent levels, continued above last year's volume, with fill-in and replacement orders predominating. Construction activity showed a substantial rise, with awards for April much larger than a year ago and the actual volume of operations reflecting the large volume of work under contract. In contrast to developments in these lines, the automobile and steel industries continued to show moderate declines.

Louisville reported that a decided improvement in retail business lifted total volume to a point slightly above that of the same period last year. Wholesale men's furnishings up 5 to 7 per cent, and furniture and household goods up 3 to 5 per cent. Wholesale buying was still off 30 to 35 per cent in some lines as compared with last year. After individual agreements were reached, 6,000 men returned to work in coal mines in five western Kentucky counties.

Kentucky employment services reported placements for the past week totaled 658, a decrease of 12 per cent from the preceding week. Strawberry growers in Marshall, Calloway and Graves Counties, are preparing for marketing season, to begin early in June, all indications pointing to a bumper crop.

Indications for 1939 crops for Kentucky show probable production of 5,435,000 bushels of wheat, compared with 8,220,000 bushels last year and a ten year average of 4,623,000 bushels (1928-37); rye production estimated at 187,000 bushels, 225,000 last year and 10 year average of 204,000; indicated yield of rye to be harvested for grain in Kentucky as 11 bushels on May 1, 1938, and a ten year average of 10.8 bushels.

Louisville bank clearings registered an increase of 7.5 per cent over the corresponding period of last year.

A RISING COMPOSER

Born in New York's slums, Dante Fiorilli, son of Italian immigrants, recently won the Pulitzer prize scholarship for music for 1938, as the "most talented and deserving" American composer of the year. The composition of which the award was based is a symphony, begun several years ago.

This is not the first prize for music to be won by young Fiorilli, as he previously had been awarded the prize offered by a society of professional musicians, besides four Guggenheim fellowships, since he first began his serious musical studies at the Greenwich House, founded by Mrs. Mary Simkhovitch, a noted social worker. He is now 27.

The prize composition is the eighth of twelve symphonies written by Fiorilli, who has many other compositions to his credit. His first work to be performed in public was a series of dances, written when he was 17, and played in concert under the baton of his instructor, Enrique Coroselli, a native of Uruguay who took an interest in his young pupil and gave him much encouragement. Winning of the Pulitzer prize carries with it a cash prize of $1,500 which will go toward further musical study in Europe, and in view of the high recognition already given him it seems certain that Dante Fiorilli will in time take high rank among contemporary composers.

A negro truck driver, asked by a New Orleans traffic officer why he had gone through a red light, replied: "Well, sah, I saw white folks goin' through green 'uns and al' though red 'uns was for colored folks."

Three bandits who kidnaped L. R. Jones of Columbia, S. C., and robbed him of $4,300 were considerate. They returned $75 to him and gave him a half-pint of whiskey.

COUNTY AGENT

S. V. FOY, County Agent
Land Use Affects Livestock
Production

The experience of successful farmers show that usually the best practices for good land use and the best practices for good livestock production are in complete agreement and actually help each other.

1. If cover crops are seeded to save the land from washing and leaching. Then more winter and spring pastures are available for livestock. Such pastures make excellent feed at low cost. They are best when other pastures are not available.

2. If land is limed and phosphated in order to produce more abundant crops. Then each unit of hay or pasture from such land produces more rapid gains for livestock at lower cost.

3. Corn fodder is a good source of cheap roughage, relatively high in minerals. If it is saved for livestock production. Then small grain and grasses can be seeded earlier and with greater ease on corn land. This usually improves the set of grasses and makes possible a better growth of small grain. Early small grain holds the soil better during the winter and makes additional pasture for winter and spring.

4. If future production is safeguarded through erosion control and fertility maintenance. Then more livestock can be carried and the future income is also safeguarded because the income from livestock fluctuates less than the income from crops.

The Kentucky lamb situation at present seems to warrant a considerable effort to make spring lambs too weight as early as possible. The principal reason is that lambs for early spring market from competing states are delayed. This offers the probability of favorable prices for top Kentucky lambs to about July 1. Another reason is the present low cost of grain for creep feeding. Also there is a very great value in small grain pasture, when available, for hurrying lambs to top market weights.

Outlines Program for Sheep Raisers. The following nine-point program as outlined by County Agent, S. V. Foy for Sheep growers:

1. Feed ewes and lambs well until grazing is plentiful.
2. Standardize all lambs to be sold after June 1.
3. Drench ewes and lambs every six weeks, beginning June 1.
4. Sell before fall or breeding season all ewes that are old, have broken mouths or spoiled udders.
5. Replacements and new flocks to come from northwestern-type ewes.
6. Replace all grade, scrub and nondescript rams by purebreds of mutton type.
7. Sow such early cover crops as rye, wheat, barley, rye grass or crimson clover for winter feed.
8. Feed grain to ewes at least six weeks before lambing time, to prevent pregnancy disease and to insure well-developed, strong lambs.
9. Prepare lambing quarters to prevent drafts on ewes at lambing, and keep quarters dry and well bedded.

Pastors To Attend Course at College. Arrangements are being made to accommodate a large attendance of pastors, lay leaders, social workers and other persons at the fifth annual rural leadership institute at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture at Lexington April 17-21. Regular lectures will interchange with studies of music, books, recreational programs and other features.

Speakers throughout the course include Dean George V. Moore of Transylvania College; Dr. A. H. Rapping of Philadelphia, in charge of town and country church work for the Methodist Episcopal church; Dr. A. B. Graham, Ohio educator and farm leader; Dr. W. D. Nicholls, Dr. Howard W. Beers and other members of the faculty of the University of Kentucky.

In many instances local churches, town churches, farm bureaus, denominational boards and other agencies are providing scholarships to defray a part or all of the expense of attending pastors. No registration fee or tuition will be charged.

Mixtures For Pigs

Mixtures to feed growing pigs, as recommended by the Kentucky College of Agriculture in circular for 4-H Club members:

1. 9 parts shelled corn, 1 part tankage.
2. 6 parts shelled corn, 6 parts middlings, 1 part tankage.
3. 5 parts corn meal, 2 parts middlings, 6 parts ground oats, 1 part of tankage.
4. 1 part corn, 3 parts skim milk.

The steel industry in the United States spends more than nine million dollars a year on research.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

Few Congresses in history have produced as little in so long a time as the current one. Of the dozens of major bills introduced (to say nothing of the thousands of minor bills, of which a considerable percentage falls into the crackpot category) less than half a dozen have been definitely acted upon. But that doesn't mean that Congress is lazy or incompetent or is more than ordinarily dominated by buck-rumors. It does mean that one factor, of the most immense significance, has been uppermost—and so far no one has offered a solution that has met with really widespread approval. That issue is the role of the United States in today's complicated world affairs.

As Newsweek puts it, "The 76th Congress offers no more striking contrast than the calm unanimity with which it votes hundreds of millions for defense, compared with the hectic uncertainty with which it parries and postpones decisions on foreign policies. Senators and representatives who can agree on the number of ships, planes and guns needed cannot agree on what they are needed for."

The conflict between the isolationists and the nationalists has been going on for a long time. Today it is more bitter than ever—and seems destined to become constantly more so in the future. It is a known fact that this Administration definitely falls into the internationalist classification—the most potent Presidential advisors, such as Ambassador Bullitt and Kennedy, seem convinced that we must eventually throw in our lot with France and England, and the sooner we do that the better off we shall be. The Republicans in Congress, led by stern isolationists Borah, Johnson and Nye, are convinced that this course is suicidal, spells the participation of the U. S. in a possible war which is not our concern. Republican opposition is not particularly important to the White House—in spite of GOP gains last November, the Democrats still have a handsome majority. But this issue has split party lines wide open. Effective Democrats such as Clark of Missouri, are as strongly isolationist in feeling as Borah. And many lesser lights in Congress, whose views have not yet been put on record, will vote for isolation when the time comes.

Still more important, judging by all the available indicators, the American people are tending isolationist in view. A recent Gallup (Institute of Public Opinion) Poll showed overwhelming disapproval of U. S. involvement in Europe's troubles. The Gallup polls have accurately indicated the drift of public feeling in the past, and many a Congressman whose prime interest is in pleasing his constituents, irrespective of what he personally thinks, is certain to cast his vote according to their findings.

Summing up, the advocates of the strictest kind of U. S. neutrality have the edge at present. Whether or not they will hold that edge depends upon many potentialities, tangible and intangible. But the force they exert today is indirectly indicated by the Administration's recent hands-off policy in the matter of neutrality legislation. Mr. Roosevelt is not giving orders now—Washington observers say he apparently feels that Congress is in no mood for dictation.

In the meantime, practically everyone seems agreed that we must build up our national defense to the limit. And Congress has voted military appropriations with a lavish hand. So far more than $1,500,000,000 has been appropriated at this session for national defense purposes. A recent bill (passed by the House, and apparently sure of Senate approval) shows the kind of fighting tools we are making. It provides for two 45,000-ton battleships—larger than anything we now have afloat—two big cruisers, a number of submarines and destroyers, hundreds of naval planes, etc.

If the Navy gets its way, the shipyards will be kept even busier. In addition to the two 45,000-ton monsters, the Admirals have asked for six 35,000-ton battleships, 18 heavy cruisers, 23 light cruisers, 150 destroyers, 59 submarines, and 8 aircraft carriers, plus 2,000 planes.

And the Army is not being neglected. Its force is to be increased to 400,000 men (this figure includes the National Guard), it is to be given more planes, and tremendous quantities of weapons, including the new Garand semi-automatic rifle, of which amazing reports are heard. So—while Congress fights to keep us out of Europe, the lawmakers are doing everything possible to make sure that Europe keeps away from us.

CHURCHES OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, May 26, 1939.

The Golden Text is: "Mine hand shall be upon the prophets that say vanity, and that divine lies, and ye shall know that I am the Lord God." (Ezekiel 13:9.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "He that receiveth you receiveth me, and he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me." (Matt. 10:40).

Striking truck drivers picketing a soft drink company plant in Pittsburgh saved footwear. They wore roller skates.

Ninety-year-old Charles Nickel of Chester, Ind., was buried in a suit he made as a tailor in Chicago 60 years ago.

"Lucky Night" Has Grandest Team of Years

Although Myrna Loy and Robert Taylor had been under contract to the same studio for five years, some streak of fate kept them separated in their screen work until they were co-starred for the first time in "Lucky Night," opening Sunday at the Fulton Theatre.

Taylor entered pictures five years ago, following his graduation from Pomona College, at a time when Miss Loy, already established in pictures, was entering stardom in "The Thin Man" with William Powell. Since then Taylor has been co-starred with almost all the M-G-M stars with the exception of Miss Loy, and Miss Loy has co-starred with almost all the male stars except Taylor.

Although Miss Loy plays the type of role which in the past has established her as one of the outstanding comedienne of the screen, Taylor plays a role entirely new to him, and one which he has been anxious to play since his picture debut. A decided departure from such roles as Armond in Garbo's "Camille," the romantic war survivor in "Three Comrades," and his two-fisted roles in "The Crowd Roars" and "Stand Up and Fight," Taylor appears in a comedy role of a penniless playboy without a care in the world.

The picture also is a departure for Norman Taurog, the director, who is better known for such screen classics as "Boys Town," which starred Spencer Tracy and Mickey Rooney and was one of the leading candidates for the 1938 Academy Award.

Produced by Louis D. Lighton, "Lucky Night" has a large supporting cast of featured players, among them Joseph Allen, Henry O'Neill, Douglas Fowley, Bernard Nedell, Charles Lane, Bernadene Hayes, Gladys Blake, Marjorie Majin, Edward Gargan Irving Bacon and Oscar O'Shea.

"PRESIDENT" COMING TO HICKMAN

The big all-steel Streckfus excursion steamer "President" is coming to Hickman on Wednesday, June 7. Under the command of Captain John Streckfus, the "President," largest and finest pleasure steamer on the Western Waters, is enroute from New Orleans to St. Louis for its summer season at the Missouri metropolis.

During its stay here, the "President" will make one moonlight excursion, leaving Hickman at 9:00 p.m. The trip is being sponsored by Elks Lodge No. 1294.

On its upriver journey this spring, the "President" is featuring a popular new dance band, the "Louisiana Swing Masters"—13 dusky kings of swing with a varied repertoire of the latest and catchiest dance music.

Sixty-three Americans received salaries above $200,000 in 1938, of whom 49 were connected with the motion picture industry in some capacity. Louis B. Mayer of M-G-M received the highest, $1,296,503, but income taxes took the lion's share of all these big salaries.

Mrs. Eveline Lowe, who is the first woman chairman of the London county council, wishes to be addressed as "Mister Chairman" and "Sir," instead of by feminine designations. And being the "chairman," she will probably have her way.

Thumbnail Sketch of Keen Johnson

The story of a newspaperman, a World War veteran and a public spirited citizen interested in community and state public service is contained in the career of Lieutenant-Governor Keen Johnson, one of the most attractive candidates ever to declare for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in Kentucky.

Though only 43 years old, Lieutenant-Governor Johnson has crowded into the short period of years since he reached manhood enough activity for several persons. Son of a Methodist minister, he was born at Brandon's Chapel, in Lyon County, January 12, 1896. His parents were the Rev. Robert Johnson and Mrs. Mattie Holloway Johnson.

He received his early education in the public schools of Western Kentucky where his father filled a number of pulpits. In 1914, he graduated from Vanderbilt Training School, a boy's preparatory institution, at Elkton.

At the outbreak of the World War, in 1917, Keen enrolled in the first officers' training camp at Ft. Riley, Kansas, May 5, 1917. Here he was commissioned a second lieutenant and assigned to duty with the 34th Infantry, 8th Division, going overseas where he saw more than a year's service in the A. E. F. He was discharged from the Army in October, 1919, as a first lieutenant.

Leaving the Army he embarked on his first newspaper venture, acquiring The Mirror, a weekly newspaper, in Elizabethtown, which he edited and published for more than a year. He then enrolled at the University of Kentucky, where he continued his studies until his graduation in 1922. While a student at the University he worked as a reporter on the staff of the Lexington Herald. Upon graduation from the University he became editor and co-publisher of the Anderson News, Lawrenceburg, where he remained from 1922 until 1925, when he went to Richmond to become editor and co-publisher of the Richmond Daily Register, a newspaper connection he has continued ever since.

In 1932 he was elected secretary of the Kentucky State Democratic Central and Executive Committee and was reelected to this post in 1936. His present term as secretary of the Democratic party's governing body in the State will expire in 1940.

In 1935 he became a candidate for Lieutenant-Governor and, after winning the party nomination in the primaries, was swept into office by a majority of more than 100,000 votes. He is a past president of the Kentucky Press Association and past president of the University of Kentucky Alumni Association. He is a member of the American Legion, The Forty-and-Eight, and the Veterans of Foreign Wars and, as Lieutenant-Governor, is chairman of the Kentucky Disabled Ex-Servicemen's Board. He is also a past president of the Kentucky Conference of Social Work. He is a member of the Masonic Order, the Junior Order of American Mechanics and the Elks.

He was married, in 1917, to Miss Eunice Nichols, of Missouri. They have one child, a daughter, Judy, 12 years old.

The Maine legislature legalized Sunday movies recently, but overlooked an old blue law which provides that anyone present at a show or entertainment on the Sabbath shall be fined not exceeding $10.

A bill which would compel the wealthy to lend money to the gov-

It's the pattern—no mistaking that—you'll find plenty of admiring glances following wherever you travel in this stunning Buick.

But what we were shooting for was something more than attention — and mister, look how we hit the bull's-eye!

You try out the driver's seat—it fits.
You take hold of the wheel—it seems molded to your hand.

So you ease down on the gas — and pronto, you've got rhythm! You fingertip the wheel—presto! there's control!

You wing down the straightaway, cruise around curves, swoop up the hill. Your car is almost a part of you, your wish is its action!

So, you happily discover, here's where you belong!

It isn't the big and powerful wallop in that big Dynaflex straight-eight alone.

BETTER DAIRY PROGRAM

The Better Dairy Program, which was started a few years ago by the Fulton Chamber of Commerce, is attracting interest far and wide. Improvement of the herds of farmers of this vicinity is a definite step forward, and benefits are increasing as careful breeding brings finer stock and greater production among the dairy herds.

Now comes a second step in this development program. Ten pure-bred Jersey heifers have been purchased for distribution among the farmers, with forty to fifty heifers expected to be placed before the year passes.

This progressive movement is commendable, and those who have played any part in pushing forward this program are good citizens. First, the farmers who have taken such deep interest in the betterment of their herds, deserve praise for their initiative and progressiveness. Paul DeMyer and B. A. Ross, representing the Chamber of Commerce, are to be commended for the time and efforts they have spent in order to get the plan working.

But that genial, hard-working extension agent of the Illinois Central System, Paul Farlow, who has labored so faithfully in this vicinity so often that he seems to be one of us, is the fellow that pitched into the program and started the ball rolling. He has endeavored himself to us by the splendid efforts he has exerted in behalf of this community. Too, Fulton is fortunate in being located at the cross-roads of one of the finest railroad systems, the Illinois Central System. On numerous occasions we have called upon this railroad to co-operate with us on some worthy movement, and never have they failed us.

Certainly this dairy movement is a worth-while and far-reaching program, and should add materially to the agricultural wealth of our community.

Now, The News suggests that a program be started to continue the advancement of poultry raising in this vicinity. Already wonderful strides have been made here in this agricultural pursuit through the efforts of the hatcheries, and it is estimated that $500,000 worth of poultry products were produced in this territory last year. More than two million dollars worth of livestock passed through the local stock yards.

These two farming activities linked together can be strengthened made to be a major source of income in our community. Profits on the farm, coupled with industrial payrolls in the city, mean economic stability.

IN THE PUBLIC EYE.

Every business and city should constantly strive to keep in the public eye. Fulton is no exception to the rule.

Fulton has many natural assets. Our twin-cities of Fulton and South Fulton, are located on the cross-roads of several major highways, and of the Illinois Central System. Transportation facilities and a good geographical location are our good fortune. We have a fine climate, and the advantages of a city located in two states are to be considered. Where there are certain disadvantages for industrial purposes on one side, there are disadvantages on the other side that offset unfavorable conditions.

We have a twin-city, but we have a one-fold purpose—promoting the general progress of each. The two municipalities should work jointly at all times, for what benefits one, also helps the other. Our various civic organizations are in the same position—co-operation is the keynote of our progress.

Last year the Young Men's Business Club sponsored its first Old Car Derby. Some 15,000 people visited Fulton and for six weeks prior to the date of the novelty auto races, our city was publicized for a radius of fifty miles. It is these things that keep Fulton before the public, and make people realize that we are wide-awake, alert and making progress.

Now comes the second annual Old Car Derby, and if present plans are carried through, the event this year will be an all-day affair, with a varied program of entertainment. The efforts of this organization are deserving of support and commendation. Already inquiries have begun to come in about the Old Car Derby, indicating the wide interest that is being taken in this attraction.

Fulton certainly is on the map. And, it is vitally important that we keep moving along the route of civic progress, and encouraging the people of our Fulton trade area to come to our city to shop because we strive to bring them full value for their money and appreciate their visits. We want them to feel that their interests are our interests, because what benefits one also benefits the other, Fulton's welcome sign is always out.

UNHERALDED SERVICE

It's probably only human to do a good deal of kicking at our commercial institutions, particularly those which involve "big money." But this kicking shouldn't be allowed to obscure our view of the services they render us.

Banks, for instance, probably come in for about as much uninformed abuse as any business. The banks—which are simply the repositories of money belonging to millions of people, most of them of very moderate means—provided the financial blood that is further developing this country today.

No banker wants to refuse an application for a loan. He knows that loans make the mare go so far as banking is concerned, and that the more sound loans he can make, the faster his community and his bank will grow. Bankers refuse some loans because they have to—because their first thought must always be for the safety of the money entrusted to their care.

In every community in this country the banks are helping today, as in the past, in financing homes, factories and merchants. Banking's service to America isn't often heralded—but it is second to none.

BOXING MATCHES WILL BE HELD AT BALL PARK

The boxing matches, sponsored by Post 72 of the American Legion, will be held Wednesday, May 31, at 8 p.m. at Fairfield Ball Park.

The main event of the evening will be the match between King Cole of Camden, Tenn., and Battling Strom of Greenfield, Tenn. This fight will be 8 rounds. These are two of the best boys in the South. Cole has boxed such boys as Bobby Green, Manuel Quintero in Florida, Luther Orr, Ray McNatt, whom he knocked out in Hot Springs and others of renown. He boxed Strom several times when coming up.

Battling Strom has boxed six years and has had 50 professional fights. He is a terrific straight right hand puncher and will finish Cole if he connects solidly. He has scored 23 knock-outs in 50 fights.

Caruthers of Union City, and Prather of Rives, two experienced lightweightweights will steal the spotlight, according to all indications.

Duffy, colored lightweightweight from Mayfield, challenged any negro in Kentucky. Young Joe Lewis, 183 lbs., from Union City answered the challenge, although he lived out of the state. This will be a good fight.

Seven other bouts are carded, featuring Del Anderson, Tiger Mike, James Pembers, Odell Glover, Wardell Baker, Del and Jack Stewart and others.

HAPPY JUBILEE QUARTET PRESENTS PROGRAM

The Happy Jubilee Quartet, recently organized, presented a very enjoyable musical program to members of the Elks Club at their regular monthly meeting Monday night. The group was awarded this trip after winning the quartet contest in the Obion County Musical Festival sponsored by the Union City High School Alumni Association, Thursday night, May 11.

COMMENCEMENT PROGRAM HELD FOR S. FULTON

The commencement exercises for the South Fulton school were held last Friday night at the First Methodist church. Fred Shultz, of Murray State Teachers College, delivered an inspiring address to thirty-four high school graduates, who wore black and white caps and gowns.

J. B. Cox, superintendent, presented the diplomas to the high school graduates, and Orvin Moore, principal, presented certificates to the eighth grade graduates.

The Murray State Teachers College quartet rendered several numbers on the entertainment program, and Miss Charlene Sanford, student of South Fulton, gave a solo number. Awards for the school year were distributed by Supt. Cox as follows: Miss Kathleen Harwood and Morga Omar, Jr., athletic awards; Miss Sylvanella Pounds, activity; Miss Ruthelia Ferrell and Fred Jolley, citizenship.

A local traffic officer says: "You can't tell how far a couple has gone in a car by looking at the speedometer."

UTILITIES TO STOP SERVICES UNLESS BILL PAID BY HICKMAN

Kentucky Utilities Company, which company serves Hickman and Fulton, has notified the Hickman city council that unless settlement or arrangement is made to handle the water and electric bills owed by the city of Hickman to the utility company, services will be discontinued after May 31.

The street lighting and other electric services will be cut off unless the city pays its overdue account, a sum of $14,437 to the utility company, or makes satisfactory arrangement. H. P. Blanks, manager of the Hickman plant, said that the condition of the well and equipment used for the water supply to the city is not good; that it has been used six years beyond its period of life expectancy, and may fail at any moment.

ANNOUNCES FOR

STATE REPRESENTATIVE

First Legislative District
Of Kentucky

Fulton and Hickman Counties

MY FELLOW CITIZENS:

Having filed my declaration of candidacy with the Secretary of State three weeks ago, I now desire to make public announcement of my candidacy for renomination to the office of State Representative from the First Legislative District of Kentucky composed of Fulton and Hickman counties, subject to the action of the Democratic primary of Saturday, August 5, this year.

It has long been the custom of the Democratic party to endorse faithful public officials. I am ambitious, again, to represent the people of this district because I know that I have undertaken to serve you faithfully and to reflect the sentiment of the people and I ask your endorsement of the efforts that I have made.

I believe that my experience as your Representative in the regular and special sessions of the 1938 General Assembly will be of great value to me and I shall bring this experience to bear in my further efforts to represent the people of my district, if in your wisdom, you choose to endorse my record and return me to the General Assembly.

I desire to express my profound gratitude to the people for their confidence as expressed in my nomination and election two years ago, and if elected again, I shall strive to merit your endorsement by devoting myself unselfishly in an effort to promote the best interests of the people of Fulton and Hickman counties.

THE FORUM

By J. PAUL BUSHART, Editor

A column conducted for news, views and comments, in which readers of The News are invited to participate. Mail contributions care of THE FORUM, this newspaper.

Farming activities in this vicinity are looking up. In the past few days we have made a circuit of the Fulton trading area, and every farm home we visited was being kept busy from morning till dark. Diversification, livestock and poultry raising have been gaining more attention in recent years, and Fulton is steadily growing as a marketing center for these farm products.

We notice that among improvements being made in the rural districts is the purchase of modern farm equipment by many of our farmer friends. The boys down at the Williams Hardware Company opened here this spring, were telling me about a sale completed down near Hickman, representing an outlay of more than $5,000. The steady march of progress in the rural section is one of the finest things that can happen to improve the economic conditions of this vicinity. For instance, last year more than two million dollars worth of hogs and cattle were sold at the Fulton stock yards; better than a half million dollars worth of poultry products were sold here. The income from these products are proving a boon to farm life, and these farm activities are more valuable than a large factory. Of course, we need both factories and farming prosperity, to have a well-rounded program that brings community progress.

Helen Sharpe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Sharpe, near Fulton, has just returned from East Tennessee up in the Smoky Mountain region. She said that after being there, it made her feel good to be back home again. She said "I feel like the people here much better—and the country. It's good to visit other sections, for it makes us appreciate our own that much more."

Walter Evans, Fulton's most enthusiastic baseball fan, runs a drug store when he is not baseballing. But take it from me, any time you see Walter, you can bet your bottom dollar that the subject of baseball is always acceptable company. He has taken a deep interest in the welfare of the Fulton club, and has devoted many hours to work in behalf of the Tigers. It's fellows like Walter, K. P. Dalton, Bert Newhouse, H. H. Bugg Bailey Huddleston—who love the game for the fine sportsmanship it gives—that will keep the Kitty League functioning.

Fulton High and South Fulton High schools have closed another successful year. Both schools have graduated a fine group of boys and girls who have finished their school work to enter a higher course of learning, or enter the work-a-day world and seek their fortune. These youths deserve the co-operation and helping hand of the adult world. For it is these boys and girls who will soon be men and women, and will step in to fill the shoes vacated by older persons who have served their day. Now that they have an education, they must choose a profession, and learn how to face the problems of life, which is even a harder school. So when you see a youth, extend a word of cheer, and help him along if you can.

Bob White, proprietor of the Bob White Motor Company of this city, and former deputy sheriff of Fulton county, has one of the handsomest and most conveniently-arranged homes in this section. I recently went through the palatial home of Mr. and Mrs. White. It is located on a promontory just north of Fulton on the Mayfield highway. Built of beautiful gray brick, with appropriate materials, for sheer beauty, it catches the eye of all who pass. All the modern features of styling, ventilation, lighting and heating have been innovated to give it every convenience and comfort. A play room for the children, and a roof garden over the garage, give it an extra touch of charm. Although considerable landscaping has already been done, such as leveling the ground on top of the hilltop, cutting a well-proportioned drive in a half-circle up to the home, planting of trees, shrubbery, flowers and sowing of grass for a beautiful turf, Bob plans many other things that will lend additional appeal and beauty. For one thing, he expects to build a lake at the foot of the hill, and have it stocked with fish. The grounds around this water will be landscaped, with walkways properly arranged.

Bob, who owns several fine horses, delights in a good canter. He has modern stables at his palatial country home, and a caretaker in charge. Mr. and Mrs. White have a host of friends in this community, who have enjoyed their pleasant hospitality at numerous social events. Bob is active in business and civic affairs of the city.

The Happy Jubilee Quartet of this community is going to town. They are giving regular concerts, and gave a program over WMC at Memphis this week. This quartet is composed of Herbert Vaught, Bill French, James Etheridge, Robert Vasseur, with Miss Odelle Rhodes, accompanist.

L. W. Cunningham, chief of police in South Fulton, had a bunch believing he was a mighty daredevil. Leo claimed he had stood on the ball which is located on top of the new water tower near the high school. Mayor Lowe, Leo, S. P. Davas, consulting engineer for South Fulton, and I were discussing the new tower, with the idea of taking some pictures from the walkway on top. Leo had stood on the ball all right, but when it was lying on the ground before being installed. I gathered from the conversation that Mayor Lowe has no aspirations to climb to excess heights—until St. Peter has Gabriel to blow his horn. Then I imagine most of us would be glad to ascend that celestial stairway. Officer Cunningham, however, has been having trouble keeping boys off the tower, and chasing up and down the ladder has become a routine with him. Anyway it might be good setting-up exercises. Someone suggested that he get himself a slingshot to run the boys down with and save a lot of climbing. Another suggested that what goes up must come down, so he could sit down and wait with open arms.

CAPITOL COMMENTS

That people play politics with human misery, was definitely brought out last week with conclusive proof that the head of the W. P. A. in Kentucky, used his position and organization to obtain campaign funds and further Senator Barkley's campaign.

Earnest Rowe, supervisor of the Lexington district W. P. A. during the campaign revealed two letters that are definite proof of this and should not be ignored.

The W. P. A. spends billions and employs millions of Americans who should have the right to vote as their conscious dictates. If this organization is permitted to coerce and assess its employees it creates a virtual dictatorship that will soon overthrow our system of Government. Every citizen should seriously consider this situation and if the President and high authorities take no action on this evidence it will be a disgrace to Kentucky and the nation that we will not soon live down.

In a statement to this column the Governor said, "It bears out the charges of Judge Brady Stewart, my campaign manager last year."

"Politics are hell," and Kentucky loses two C. C. C. camps with Kentucky's parks carrying the brunt.

The reputed inside story of the case is one of petty political bickering that we give you here.

Mr. Ringo, inspector of National Parks with the Department of Interior was discharged on charges brought by State officials to Secretary Ickes.

The state claims that the Supervisors of CCC camps in Kentucky all came from Indiana and that Kentuckians should have these places.

The other side claims that Kentucky had no trained personnel for the park service, that while Bailey Wooten, State Park director, and Charles Fennell, Director of the Department of Conservation, might be good lawyers, they knew nothing about the technical side of Park supervision and work, and Kentucky would have to replace them with trained men in order to keep the CCC camps and have park work done by their men. The State was given sixty days to conform to this and when it did not, the camps are being withdrawn.

The Governor claims the camps were being withdrawn as an economy move and this other was a political excuse as an out.

The Harlan case drew nationwide attention last Sunday when Governor Chandler spoke over a nation-wide hook-up by telling why he sent troops to Harlan.

The Fayette county Farmers Association praised the Governor's action in this matter and troops will remain in Harlan as long as it is necessary to protect those men who want to work, the Governor says.

DANZIG, THE FREE CITY

The controversy between Germany and Poland over the free city of Danzig, has created fresh interest in this Baltic seaport, once one of the most important in Europe. When it was founded is not known, but records show it to have been a considerable town as early as the year 997, and it is therefore some two centuries older than Berlin.

During much of its early history Danzig was a free city, and as a member of the famous Hanseatic League of commercial cities during the Middle Ages it reached a high development in power and wealth. It declined in the 17th and 18th centuries as a result of the constant wars which ravaged northern Europe but has continued to be commercially prominent.

Danzig came under the rule of Prussia (Germany) at the close of the Napoleonic wars in 1814, and so remained until after the World War, when it again became a free city under the auspices of the League of Nations, although its foreign and diplomatic affairs and certain functions, are conducted by Poland. Danzig is governed by its own legislative body of 72 members.

The area described as the free city of Danzig is 754 square miles in extent, and contains three other smaller cities—Zoppot, Neutreich and Tiegendorf—and about 250 rural communities. The entire area has a population of about 407,000, of which number 95 per cent are Germans.

Poland desires to maintain the present status of Danzig, while Hitler wants it returned to Germany. Thus a relatively insignificant piece of territory is the world's chief danger spot at the moment.

SPRING CONSIDERED GOOD TIME TO PAINT

When men talk about painting they usually are thinking about protecting the building. Women, on the other hand, often think about making something look better. They want to brighten up kitchen walls, lighten the woodwork, or change colors.

For homemakers seized with the spring urge to paint, Miss Ida Hagan of the Kentucky College of Agriculture has several practical suggestions.

First prepare for the painting. Get the right kind of paint for the work to be done, and follow the manufacturer's directions as to stirring, thinning, undercoating and the like. Wall paint will not do on a floor. Floor or deck paint has a binder that stands up against wear from the feet.

Anything to be painted needs some preparation. New unpainted wood requires little beyond dusting off. Remove building residue like mortar and plaster with a scraper or sandpaper. After putting on a priming coat, fill nail holes and loose joints with putty. Be sure the wood is thoroughly dry.

A chalky painted surface can be dusted off to prepare it for painting but if the old paint has begun to scale or peel, it will have to be scraped or brushed with a wire brush. Then, loose putty should be removed from nail holes and joints and replaced by fresh putty after the first coat has dried. Rub varnished or enameled surfaces with fine sandpaper, curled horsehair or fine steel wool.

Governors replying to a questionnaire revealed that 29 are Protestants, 2 Catholics, 2 Jewish, 1 Unitarian, 1 Mormon and 2 with no religious affiliations. By calling there are 23 lawyers, 4 farmers, 3 millers, 2 manufacturers, 2 publishers, 2 engineers, 1 pharmacist, 1 banker, 1 rancher and 1 nurseryman. Several governors made no reply.

"40 YEARS AT PIERCE"

For the purpose of celebrating Chas. E. Lowe's Fortieth Birthday in business, I wish to state that notwithstanding the fact, I am selling at a very low margin of profit, and many say lower than the rest, you will find many extra specials at my store during the week of May 27 to June 3. I would certainly be glad for as many of his "40" year customers to call by and see us during this week. You do not have to buy anything. Of course, we would be glad to sell you what you need, but even if you do not need anything, come anyway.

I wish to thank one and all for the nice business you have been giving us. Dad began business in Pierce May 31, 1899. That's a long time for any business. He has always had the interest of the Community at heart, and I am sure his friends will agree with that. So I am asking you to stop by during the week of May 27 to June 3.

Thanking you in advance.

CHILDREN'S DAY

A good old custom that grew up in the Sunday School was Children's Day, a custom that I have not observed in many years, though I am told it still exists in some parts of the state. I recently asked my Freshman class how many had said pieces in a Children's Day exercise, only to discover that not one of the thirty-seven in the class had even seen such a program. Evidently the custom is going the way of many another fine thing. After it had been in existence for a generation or two, it broke into our small neighborhood. Of course, our little church had to celebrate. The teacher of the country school was instructed to plan a program and put it on. I was in the lanky, skinny age at that time and was fond of Sunday School because the church stood near a creek where I could lay before and after the services. Someone thought I could sing and so put me up to lead the small children in a song called "Remember the Sabbath Day." In order to make it thoroughly in accord with the occasion, the director asked a little girl of the neighborhood to play the new organ as an accompaniment to the young choristers. She could play the song only in a very high key, a mile or so above where it was written. Consequently, I was the only one who could hit the high notes, but the others joined in after I had screamed a few bars alone. I can still do my part, nearly forty years after, and can still feel the rasping of my vocal chords when I shrieked out "And keep it holy, holy to the Lord." The second "holy" was in the range of the others, who, like me, had had abundant experience at calling hogs; hence that note got plenty of volume. As I recall it now, I tiptoed at the highest part in order to get my voice up to the right pitch. I suppose this was as necessary as to work the tongue when one is writing with a slate pencil. We also had an acrobatic exercise in which children gave Bible verses that began with letters that spelled out CHILDREN'S DAY. And we all knelt in devotional exercises while a little girl who whispered the twenty-third Psalm and a boy said the Lord's Prayer. When I think of that group kneeling in the country church, I do not know whether to laugh or cry. Many long ago joined other devotional groups in other worlds; only one or two still live in the old country community. Some of them have trodden the winepresses of suffering; one has traveled over much of America in search of health; the little girl who said the psalm died in adolescence. And the very program in which we participated seems to have departed as mysteriously as it came. Other things have taken its place, but somehow I still remember with joy the childish things we said and did in that long-ago time and place.

NOTED HARVARD MAN COMING TO KENTUCKY FOR LECTURE COURSE

With Dr. John D. Black, noted Harvard University economist, as the principal instructor, a two-weeks intensive course in agriculture policies for the state and nation will be offered June 12-28, during the summer school at the University of Kentucky. It is announced by Dean Thomas P. Cooper of the College of Agriculture.

Other instructors will include Dr. H. Bruce Price, economist and head of the department of markets and rural finance, and Dr. Howard W. Beers and Prof. David L. MacFarlane, economists and sociologists, at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Experiment Station.

Dean Cooper said the course will be of special interest to county farm agents and home demonstration agents, teachers of agriculture and home economics, and representatives of the Farm Credit Administration, the Farm Security Administration, the Soil Conservation Service, and other governmental agencies.

Dr. Black will give 15 lectures on the "general development of the principles underlying agricultural policy, including analysis of the place of agriculture in the general economy, goals or objectives of agricultural policy, causes and development of the present agricultural problem, appraisal of current and proposed programs, and legislation for remedial action," according to the prospectus of the course.

THE PROFESSION OF HOME ECONOMICS

By Mrs. Zelma K. Jenks
Head of the Department of Home Economics, College of Liberal Arts
Home economics training prepares the girl for the greatest vocation of all, that of being a good homemaker and no matter what vocation a woman enters she will some time or other play a part in the home. Furthermore, positions in an almost endless number of fields are open to the young women trained in home economics.

She may qualify as a teacher in the subjects for which she has prepared; there are government jobs open to her in the Bureau of Home Economics in Washington, for example, or in the various departments that the individual states maintain which require workers trained in home economics fields. There is relief work of various kinds, commercial positions with department stores and many other branches of this wide field. In dietetics alone there is a great range of opportunity for the young woman who is qualified, in hospitals, hotels, and restaurants. And finally, there is radio and newspaper work, an increasingly important and interesting vocation for the expert in home economics.

The girl must be willing to put in a period of apprenticeship under an experienced person if she expects to receive recognition. For today we need people not only trained for their particular jobs, but with practical experience in addition to their technical training.

To make a success of her job, the home economics graduate must have personality traits that are essential to success in any field. Dependability, trustworthiness, responsiveness, and cooperation are all important. Personal appearance, too, must be considered, as well as poise, ease in the manner of meeting people, and above all, the ability to use her education by applying theory in a practical manner.

CIRCLE MET MONDAY NIGHT

Miss Myra Searce and Mrs. Earl Collins were hostesses to the Annie Armstrong Circle of the Baptist church Monday night at the home of Miss Searce on Pearl-st.
