Chamber Of Commerce Enjoys Dinner At Fulghum

A Good Will Dinner, sponsored by the Fulton Chamber of Commerce, was held at the high school building in Fulghum Wednesday night. The Homemakers Club of Fulghum served a delicious dinner to the sixty-five who were present from Fulton and Fulghum.
The welcoming address was given by Mr. Rogers, principal of the Fulghum school, and Hoyt Moore of Fulton, gave the response.
Rev. E. R. Ladd, pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church of Fulton was the principal speaker of the evening and gave a most interesting and inspiring talk.
Paul Hornbeak was chairman of the program committee and entertainment for the evening was furnished by the Hill-billy Band of the Fulton High School. This band was composed of Myrtle Binkley, Mica McGee, Florence La Gate, Carolyn Atkins, Harry Tully, Randall Willey and Tommy James.
The Homemakers Club also gave a play program.

CAR WRECK NEAR FULTON SATURDAY NIGHT

L. B. Blalock and Miss Allene Felts, both of Mayfield, sustained injuries in an automobile accident on Highway 45, between Fulton and Mayfield, late Saturday night, when their car collided with a car driven by Miss Mozelle Hastings of Fulton. With Miss Hastings were Eugene Lee, Ray Lee, Mrs. Mary Louise Hastings, Chester Brown and Miss Christine Owen, none of whom were injured.
Miss Felts sustained a broken arm and lacerations about the head. Blalock received facial lacerations. They were given treatment in the Fulton Hospital.

ROTARY CLUB HEARS YOUTH MOVEMENT

The Fulton Rotary Club enjoyed a program given Tuesday by the "Caravan of Youth," which is conducting an educational program at the First Methodist Church this week. Rev. Wilford introduced Mrs. Stavley who explained the work being done by the caravan, and Miss Glenn led the club in singing.
Mr. and Mrs. Stavley talked interestingly upon the work that is being done by the caravan, pointing out that the spirit of the program is to educate youth to the importance of co-operation rather than competition, and make them enjoy their religion as they would other activities. A big problem among youth of today is the finding of suitable recreation that tends to improve the character and right-thinking.

Mrs. Virginia Fitzgerald gave a clear picture of the various movements among youth of the world. She called attention to the program in Italy and Germany, where militarists hold sway. The purpose of the Youth Crusade movement is to encourage the youth of America to know the personality of Jesus, and install in their mind a finer feeling of brotherhood and love.

A joint meeting of the Rotary Club and the Lions Club will be held Friday, July 7, when Dr. M. E. Dodd will address the memberships.

YMGC GETS CHARTER FROM STATE OF KY.

The Young Men's Business Club met in regular business session at the Rainbow Room, with 45 members present. William Blackstone, president, presided over the meeting, and final details of the Old Car Derby were discussed.

The club was presented a charter by member Lynn Phipps, who stated that the organization is now incorporated. Yewell Harrison, instructor at Carr Institute and Guy Fry, employee of the Hornbeak Bakery, were presented as new members.

The committee on the parade planned for the Fourth celebration is working on that part of the program. This committee is composed of M. L. Parker, H. M. Meeks, and J. D. Hales.

The next meeting of the club will be a luncheon session which will be held Tuesday, July 11.

He that is wise will not be taught.

Mrs. Joe Pope has returned to her home in Nashville Tenn., after a visit with friends and relatives here.

FULTON TIGERS AND UNION CITY GREYHOUNDS PLAY

Plans have been completed for the Second Annual Old Car Derby to be held Tuesday, July 4th, at the Fair Grounds in Fulton, when the old jalopies, made between the years of 1900 and 1926, will race 50 miles or 100 laps around the dirt track for a large cash purse. Seven been sold to this event, which will be an all-day affair this year, starting in the morning with a ball game between the Union City Greyhounds and the Fulton Tigers.

The novelty auto race, which is scheduled to start at 2:30 p.m., is the feature attraction of the day. Up to Wednesday of this week, eight cars have been entered, with several others expected before the race begins. Following are those who have already entered:

John Thompson, driving a Jewett built in 1924, sponsored by A. C. Butts & Sons.

H. P. Allen, driving a Buick built in 1920, sponsored by Browder Mill.

Coy Hicks of Wingo, Ky., driving a Huson built in 1926, sponsored by the Allis Chalmers Agent of Water Valley.

Cary B. Carter of Benton, Ky., driving a Chevrolet built in 1926, sponsored by the Phillips Chevrolet Co. of Benton.

A. L. Hunt of Paducah, Ky., driving a Wood-Noblette, built in 1912, sponsored by Hunt Dairy of Paducah.

Jack Davania driving a Buick built in 1923, sponsored by Smith Cafe.

Johnny Owens, driving a Buick built in 1923, sponsored by the OK Laundry.

Buck Bushart driving a Packard built in 1924 sponsored by Buck's Liquor Store.

Harold Thompson, driving a 1926 Packard, sponsored by Reynolds Packing Co. of Union City.

One of the outstanding features of the program will be the personal appearance of Robert Wadlow, the world's tallest man, who towers nearly nine feet high. This young man is just 21 years old and still growing, and he is the marvel of science and the human race.

In the amateur contest several entries have been received. Misses Lucille and Christine Babb, a sister act, will sing and play guitar. Alaine Vaughn is a vocalist. Edward Lee Mays, colored shine boy of the Reliance Barber Shop, is a saxophonist. Treasure Haywood Rogers and Josephine Mitchell, colored, are scheduled to compete in the colored jitterbug contest. Others are expected to enter between now and July 4th, and on the day of the celebration voluntary entrants are expected to compete for the cash prizes.

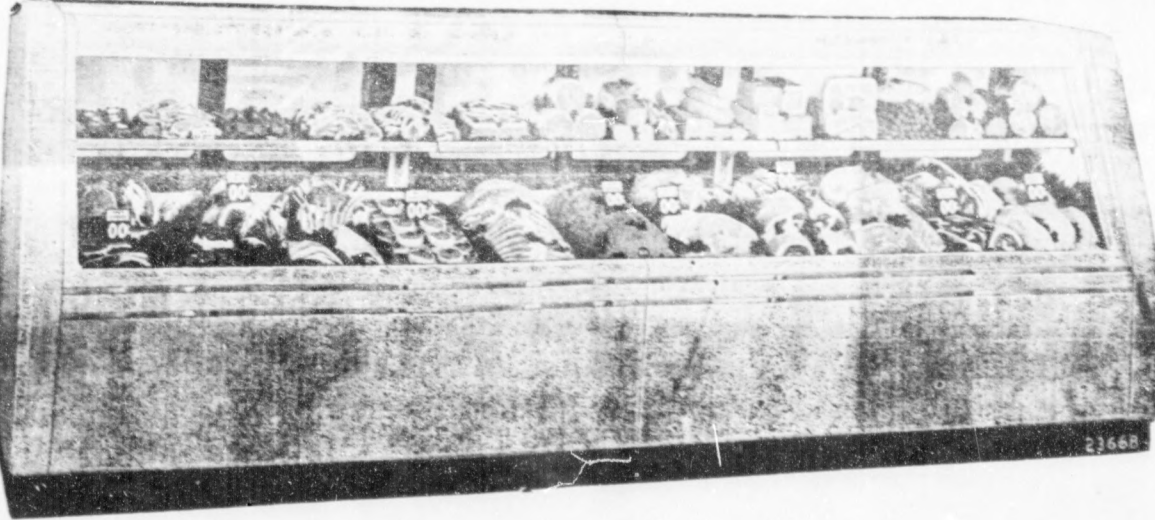

LUNCHEON OF W.M.S. ANNUAL GUEST DAY

The annual guest day luncheon of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First Methodist Church was held Monday at the church, with sixty-five members present. A delicious plate lunch was served at 12:30 o'clock. The dining room was attractively decorated with cut flowers, arranged by Mrs. A. G. Baldridge.

After the luncheon a brief business session was held, presided over by the W. M. S. president, Mrs. Warren Graham. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Alf Hornbeak, and a report was made by Mrs. Abe Jolley, treasurer. Reports were also made by the chairmen of the missionary groups as follows: Mrs. Eunice Robinson, East Fulton; Mrs. Ernest McCollom, Unneudas Circle; Mrs. Clint Reed, Group A; Mrs. Don Hill, Group B; and Mrs. J. C. Koelling, Group C.

Walter Shupe and Cornell Johnson, special agents of the I. C. Railroad, were in Mayfield on business Monday.

What Is Abroad in the World Today?

"Open the door, let in the air, The winds are sweet, and the flowers are fair, Joy is abroad in the world today, If your door is wide open it will come your way. Open the door."

THIS stanza was memorized by the writer when a child. At that time it made an appeal largely because of its pretty picture and happy rhyme. Many years later it came back to thought with a deeper significance, which led to the contemplation of spiritual joy.

The door to our mental home is our receptiveness to whatever comes knocking for admission. To what are we opening our door? Are we definitely closing it against the intrusion of fear, distrust, despair, ill-health, poverty? Do we welcome in the good we wish to see objectified in our experience?

If we are alert, and listening to Truth, we shall become aware of the spiritual joy, trust, healthy thoughts, assurance of peace and happiness which are awaiting only our receptiveness to come in and abide with us.

In the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," Mary Baker Eddy gives us this counsel, which, when obeyed, is far reaching in its effects and influence (p. 292): "Stand porter at the door of thought. Admitting only such conclusions as you wish realized in bodily residence, you will control yourself harmoniously."

Today mankind, finding itself in a condition of great economic complications, is asking, "Is there a way out?" Fear of lack of individual and national security is knocking loudly for entrance into human consciousness. Are we to stand by, helplessly feeling that there is no answer available, or that the answer is dependent upon those in authority who may or may not be guided wisely? Definitely, no!

There is an answer, a solution, to the individual world problems of today. We read (ibid., p. 290), "It is our ignorance of God, the divine Principle, which produces apparent discord, and the right understanding of Him restores harmony."

How simple, yet how profound, is the answer—"the right understanding of Him!" In His great love, God has endowed each one of His children with the ability to understand His Father-Mother God. . . . This understanding of God, and of man in His likeness, dispels all that is imperfect, unlovely, sinful, sick, or sorrowing.

Divine ever-operative Principle, when understood and applied in our human experience, establishes the true concept of brotherly love, and a corresponding desire to reflect Love, God. Thus, as understanding is gained, wars will cease; and so in due course whatever is wrong will be annihilated, and nothing discordant will remain. . . .

The only real, true government of man is by God's law of harmony. And the understanding of God's law precedes obedience to that law. When we shall have fully awakened to the glorious privilege of submission to the guidance of unerring, infinite divine Mind, then shall we experience the reign of everlasting Life, Truth, and Love. We need not wait one hour to begin the joyous task of helping to bring about the kingdom of heaven on earth. What we harbor in thought decides whether or not the pathway we are treading is leading us upward and onward into God's kingdom. The radiance of thought which is in accord with divine Love not only illumines our own journey but helps to brighten the pathway for others. As the light of a tiny candle dispels some darkness, so does the least reflection of the light of Truth in our consciousness dispel some error; and gradually but surely shall all humanity come to the recognition of universal good, glorious and triumphant.

May we then open wide the door of our thought to let in light, peace, freedom, dominion, power, and the spiritual joy that are more and more appearing in the world today. Then shall be brought to pass the promise given by the prophet Jeremiah (Jeremiah 31:34), "And they shall teach no more every man his neighbor, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for they shall all know me, from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith the Lord."—The Christian Science Monitor.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

When the monopoly investigating committee (whose official name is the Temporary National Economic Committee) was authorized by Congress, business regarded it with mild misgivings, but was not particularly worried about what it might do. Some businessmen felt it might achieve some real good by ferreting out combinations in restraint of trade and, failing that, that it would at least dig up factual information of possible value.

Today businessmen are watching the committee at work with honest trepidation. For, they are coming to conclude, the real purpose of the monopoly inquiry isn't to reveal there is fear that, instead of the real monopoly, if and where it does exist purpose is to subtly pave the way for an almost revolutionary extension of Federal control over the economic affairs of the American people.

Business aren't alone in this view. Various newspapers, economists and publicists have lately come to share it with them.

Typical opinion came recently from hard-hitting Hugh Johnson of NRA fame, now a leading columnist. In General Johnson's view, those behind the monopoly show have a purpose "as revolutionary as Hitler's, and they are making as excellent use of their puppets on that committee and the general indifference of the people of the United States as the European totalitarians ever did, to lay the ground for a nazi-fascist Federal control of almost every normal activity of American life—whether in labor, agriculture or industry.

Those are strong words, but recent hearings of the committee seem to more or less justify them. Tremendous interest has followed the committee's inquiry into the life insurance business. Comparatively little attention was paid to whether these insurance companies do or do not constitute a monopoly. No claim was made that standard company practices make the insured pay more to prove that existing state supervision of insurance is inadequate, and that the only solution is sweeping Federal supervision.

Just how successful those who steer the course of the monopoly committee have been in persuading the public that there isn't enough Federal control over our economic destinies toward this end (such as Senator O'Mahoney's once-proposed, then dropped bill to require Federal licensing of all corporations) is also a matter that only the future can decide. But this does seem certain—by and large, the current Congress seems to grow increasingly distrustful in new experiments and the pending 1940 Presidential battle makes members of both parties eager to escape taking sides on highly controversial matters so far as they can. So it is not unlikely that legislation to make the Federal government even more topdog in the public's affairs, may be quietly tabled by this Congress.

UNCLE JIM SAYS

Heavy, heavy hangs the cloud of surplus production over the farmer's head.

Surpluses of farm products mean less net farm income, and low income leads to a waste of soil fertility.

Acres adjustment on cash crop farms prevent waste of fertility and pave the way for soil improvement.

The AAA program with its provisions for acreage allotment and soil building is one silver lining to the gathering surplus clouds.

Time is the one thing we have plenty of, but not when it comes to saving hay. Early cut hay is more palatable, digestible and nutritious.

Crops can be no better than the seed you sow. Every precaution should be used to prevent saving seeds that have mixtures of other varieties and weeds.

FULTON BUSINESS FIRMS WELCOME YOU!

CELEBRATE JULY 4th AT THE OLD CAR DERBY

WHAT "TRADING AT HOME" MEANS TO YOU AND YOURS

DOESN'T it stand to reason that when you trade at home, you see what you buy, you examine its quality and can talk it over with the merchant who sells it to you

You see at a glance what you are getting for your money, and you know that the purchase must prove satisfactory in every respect, otherwise you have no difficulty returning it to the man from whom it was purchased and getting a satisfactory adjustment or refund.

In this manner you and the merchant are building up a friendship and understanding which in itself makes for a better community existence.

Doesn't your local merchant pay the taxes for your city and county, and isn't he always a leader in every good movement by co-operating with every section of this county in every worthy cause? Then how can he continue to help if you fail to patronize his place of business.

Don't overlook one important factor about your local merchant. He is your friend and neighbor! He not only invites your patronage and offers you 100 per cent satisfaction, but is ready to stand behind every thing he guarantees. Can the same be said of purchases made away from home? The answer is obviously, NO!

Your money spent away from home help only those who contribute nothing to the upbuilding of your community. Trade with your local merchant and you help all . . . your own friends . . . neighbors and loved ones.

Louisville Retail Trade Is Reported As Increased

Business activity has continued to improve although the aggregate gains have not been large, according to late reports to the Department of Commerce from 36 key cities throughout the United States, just received in the Louisville District Office. Railroad freight traffic is at the highest levels attained this year reflecting in part the seasonal rises in shipments of grains and ore. Freight car loadings are about 15 per cent higher than a year ago. Steel ingot production has advanced to 55 per cent of capacity, a rate close to the first quarter high point and sharply above the May level. Automobile assemblies hold steady, after moving upward in the preceding week. Although active buying of cotton textiles had been reported earlier, the market settled somewhat during the latter part of the week, and quiet but steady trading was in evidence. Department store sales, with only a few minor exceptions, were maintained above the same week a year ago. Compared with the previous weeks, however, there were indications of a general leveling off a seasonal movement. Wholesale trade was characterized by replacement orders for summer items, and a limited volume of advance purchases for fall requirements was in evidence. Prices in the primary markets displayed a stronger tendency though price changes were not large.

Louisville reported that retail sales for past week increased over the same period a year ago; men's furnishings volume was 15 to 20 per cent higher, sporting goods sales gained 5 per cent while retail furniture sales were about even with 1938. Dry goods and notions wholesalers reported 10 to 15 per cent volume above last year. Manufacturing and other industrial activity reported little change from similar 1938 week.

Employment services reported 1,042 placements in past week, an increase of 34.4 per cent over the preceding week.

Louisville bank closings increased 4.9 per cent over corresponding period a year ago.

State crop conditions indicated probable smaller wheat productions than in 1938, but materially larger than the 10-year average; rye slightly less than average. Berries marketed by McCracken County Strawberry Growers' Association this season brought $400,000, or $110,000 less than 1938 total, although 509 carloads of berries shipped equaled 1938 marketing of 523.

COUNTY AGENT

Mexican Bean Beetles

In driving over the county, I see a large number of home gardens where the Mexican Bean beetles have completely destroyed the bean vines. Practically all the vines have reached the production stage and after the hard work of planting and growing the beans were done. It is not much to gain by planting beans in the garden and cultivating them until they begin to form young beans and then giving them over to the bean beetles without resistance.

I have been told by some that they quit raising beans as the bean beetle took them every year. Of course, that is one way of not being bothered with bean beetles but that method does not fill our stomachs or balance our diet. Beans are too important a vegetable for gardens and offer such a splendid economical food for us to just quit and give up to bean beetles without making an effort to control them. However, we must have some knowledge of the habits of the bean beetle and the effects of some poison sprays before we can be successful in their control. We must know that the insect is a leaf eating insect and eats from the under side of the leaf but not all the way through; therefore it will be absolutely necessary to apply poison dust on the under side of the leaf, if you expect to kill the beetle. To do this it will be necessary to apply the dust with a special duster with a nozzle that blows the dust upward. This type of sprayer is stocked in a local drug store in Hickman and retails around $1.00 each.

Next for the poison to use: Do not use arsenic or lead, as it will burn the beans. The cheapest and best effective dust you can use is Calcium arsenate, 1 pound; Hydrated lime, 3 pounds; Sulphur, 1 pound; Mix thoroughly before using and apply at the rate of one pound of dust to 500 feet of row. It is best applied in the afternoon when plants are dry.

Dutox is a ready mixed dust that is very effective but will cost more than the above recommended dust. Sulphur may be added to dutox without affecting its quality and yet making it less expensive. The rate of application is the same as the above mixture. We must not expect that one spraying will last all summer. One spraying will last about one week. We must make plans to spray regularly if we keep the beetles under control. The recommended poison dust can be purchased at a local drug store in Hickman or any drug store that stocks insecticides.

We have available for you details of how to control Mexican Bean beetles. Call at the office for this bulletin and let's discuss the problem in full, before we turn over our garden after it is made to insects.

SOUTH IS INCREASING AS VACATION CENTER

Advertising the tourist attractions of the South in the annual time is the unusual theme of a series of advertisements featuring New Orleans and surrounding territory now being placed by the Illinois Central Railroad in newspapers in the principal cities of the Middle West.

In recent years there has been a steady increase in the number of people from the Middle West who have chosen the seashore of the South for their summer vacation according to a statement by J. V. Lanigan, passenger traffic manager of the railroad. The trade winds can always be relied on to make weather conditions comfortable, Mr. Lanigan says, and average temperatures compare quite favorably with northern summer resorts. Accommodations in the South are plentiful and inexpensive and with modern air-conditioned trains in journey is made in perfect comfort.

When Richard Buecher of Syracuse, N. Y., found his stolen automobile, the following card was fastened to the steering wheel: "Hereafter leave the tire key in the car so I can change flat tires."

"Closed. Out to lunch," is the placard the proprietor puts in the window of a small lunchroom in Boston.

Detectives who responded to a report of robbery by Myles McManus in Elizabeth, N. J., learned that only 25 cents had been stolen.

Two men who were found hidden behind a mail box in Oakland, Calif., by police explained that they were playing hide and seek with their wives.

A Coggon, Ia., man has boomed business at his garage by accepting farm products in exchange for mechanical work.

Trapped by fire in her room on the second floor of an apartment house in New York City, Mrs. Jennie Schreiber pulled in her clothes line, tied it to a table leg, and shot out the window to safety.

HELP STOMACH DIGEST FOOD

Without Laxatives—and You'll Eat Everything from Soup to Nuts.
The stomach should digest two pounds of food daily. When you eat heavily, greasy, starchy or rich foods or when you are nervous, hurried or else, your stomach cannot digest and you have gas, heartburn, bloating, pain, or constipation. You feel sick, sick and upset all over. You may even take a laxative for stomach pain. It is dangerous and foolish. It takes time to make the system strong enough to handle future distress. In no time and you are back on your feet. Relief is so quick, it is amazing, and one day package proves it. Ask for full-size for instructions.

Little Stories about GREAT HYMNS

"LEAD KINDLY LIGHT"
—Rev. John H. Newman

"Lead, kindly Light, amid th' encircling gloom

Lead Thou me on;

The night is dark, and I am far from home;

Lead Thou me on;

Keep Thou my feet; I do not ask to see

The distant scene,—one step enough for me."

"Rev. John H. Newman wrote this hymn in 1833 while on the Mediterranean Sea. Detailed at Palermo for three weeks, he finally started off in an orange boat for Marseilles. While becalmed for a whole week in the Straits of Bonifacio, he wrote this hymn, which has since become a favorite.

CIDER MAKING

Cider-making is not a passing institution, though it may have changed much in recent years. I have had at least an apprenticeship in the art as it was practiced in the earlier years of the century; hence my nerve in attacking the subject today.

There were two kinds of mills: a small hand mill that was fairly easy to operate and a large mill that was turned by horse power, much as the crusher of a sorghum mill is worked. In the same way there were two kinds of presses: small ones for the hand mill and large ones for the power mill. My experience was almost entirely with the small mill, where I was the power and the brains combined.

Apples are necessary, as you might imagine. Since good apples can be dried or canned or "pied", it will be necessary for us to choose inferior ones. If you are fastidious you had better not follow me to the orchard, for I may pick up apples that you would reject. Apples with a rotten place may yet have some juice that the mill will find out. After we have gathered the windfalls and probably given the trees a few shakes of gratis, we are ready to start the work. A tub is filled with water to wash the apples. Incidentally, if you swish the apples around a few times, playing like you are washing them, and then dump them into the hopper at once before they can drain, you will have more cider. Old-time people did not approve of this but few of them remained throughout the whole season of cider-making to give us the benefit of their long and sage experience.

When the presses begin to run and the odor of "pummies" gets out into the orchard and the garden, whole troops of flies, gnats, yellow jackets, wasps, bees, and such, arrived for the duration of the season. Do not be too unkind with the stinging ones, for they will stoutly maintain their rights to the cider you are making. From experience I know how sharply a yellow jacket can sting, even on the nose or lips. Since there is enough for the insects and you, let them have their share.

In the intervals of turning the mill and running the screw down on the presses, strain up what you have made. A good-sized jar will do for this, but the ultimate container, if you are making cider for the farm, will be the large barrel where the cider will go all the way from innocent and insipid sweetness to vinegar with a wallop.

In the interval between sweet cider and vinegar comes the fore-ordained and predestinate use of cider with its pal and boon companion, gingerbread. Again, I wish I were a poet to tell the virtues of this partnership. Good things go in pairs, as I have often said: turkey and cranberries, pancakes and syrup, cake and pickle, fish and tartar sauce, gingerbread and cider. Nor the least of these partnerships is that of the last two that I have named.

STOP THE "FOURTH OF JULY" MASSACRE

SAFETY — WILL DO IT!

By Fred W. Braum, "The Safety Man"

The latest race to show that at least 515 people lost their lives by accident last Memorial Day. That, of 11-374 lives of people mostly pleasure bent. What a Memorial Day it will be for all their families—and 203 of them killed in highway accidents! A terrible toll for a holiday.

The next day of danger will be the Fourth of July. Everybody is planning a trip or an outing of some kind. The roads will be crowded with cars—all anxious to reach their destination in the shortest possible time. The call for carefulness will be louder than ever, and unless you wish to contribute your life to the record for the day you will be careful. Remember: the difference between careful and careless may be your life—won't you drive carefully? Won't you keep in mind the simple traffic rules established for safe driving? Won't you take a few moments more and drive a little slower—moments that are cheap indeed when computed in life and death. Let's not have a repetition of the Memorial Day massacre. Celebrate the "Fourth" safely—carefully—safely—come back—ALIVE!

Robbers who looted a clothing store in Plymouth, Mass., left a list of merchandise taken, which included the size of shoes, shirts and other articles stolen.

When Walter and Pearl Priddy of Vancouver, Wash., sought a divorce, they discovered they never were legally married, and decided to be married instead of divorced.

A cat playing with a cigarette lighter set fire to the home of Fred W. Prior in Boston.

Screen's Topmost Entertainment To Be At Fulton Theatres

"Juarez" Coming To Fulton Theatre

Pursuant with their course of presenting entertainment of the highest calibre, the Fulton Theatre will have as their feature attraction, starting Sunday, Warner Bros.' magnificent new historical drama, "Juarez", starring Paul Muni and Bette Davis, and a supporting cast which truly deserves the much-abused term "all-star."

After two months of careful planning and selection, another month during which some seventy camera tests were made, director William Dieterle finally chose the forty-three players to support Paul Muni and Bette Davis.

That preliminary search for names and talent in itself was unusual. Ordinarily the casting office handles such details in work-a-day stride, seldom taking more than three or four days for the job. But neither Muni, nor Dieterle, would have it that way. When planning a picture of such tremendous scope you must count on competent workmen.

It is for this reason that, on the cast sheet for "Juarez," are listed such famous names as Brian Aherne, John Garfield, Claude Rains, Gale Sondergaard, Joseph Calleia, Donald Crisp, Gilbert Roland, Henry O'Neill, Louis Calhern, Montagu Love, and Vladimir Sokoloff heading a cast of 1188 people.

Aherne, reversing matters with the star in that he wears a beard while Muni goes clean-shaven, portrays the ill-fated "golden prince", Maximilian von Habsburg, who wore the phantom crown of Mexico. Bette Davis is his Empress, the lovely and fragile Carlota. Rains plays Napoleon III, his consort is Miss Sondergaard as the Empress Eugenie. Film-goers readily will recall their work together in "Anthony Adverse" and this is the first time they have been reunited since.

John Garfield, John Miljan and Gilbert Roland are included in the list. Miljan and Garfield are generals on Juarez's staff, one the shrewd Mariano Escobedo and Garfield as the fiery young Porfirio Diaz, in the later years to become the president of his country. A Juarez-ian general also is Pedro de Cordoba as Riva Palacio and with him, on the staff is Charles Middleton as Carbajal.

Donald Crisp, Louis Calhern, Irving Pichel and Monte Blue are other famous names in the cast. The veteran Montagu Love has an important supporting part, with other such roles going to Hugh Sotherton, Harry Davenport, Alexander, Leftwich, Gilbert Emory, Vladimir Sokoloff and Henry O'Neill.

SWIMMING POOL NOW OPEN FOR SUMMER

Sun Dip Swimming Pool is now open for the summer. Many improvements have been made at this popular swimming place, including new floors for lockers, dressing room, new spring boards, and re-finishing of the walls of the pool.

This pool is a very popular refreshing place, especially for the children during the day, and use by adults is steadily increasing. Fulton is fortunate in having a pool like this, for many communities in this vicinity are without them, and local swimmers should support it.

The sweet young things are getting ready for the summer season by getting a nice tan.

Things To Do In Fulton July 4th

There will be many things to entertain those who spend July 4th in Fulton.

The Old Car Derby is the principal attraction. This is the second annual event, and the crowd of 15,000 which attended the race last year is expected to be surpassed this year.

Robert Wadlow, world's tallest man, who is nearly nine feet high, will appear in person at the Old Car Derby which will be staged in the Fulton Fair Grounds.

FULTON THEATRE — Melvyn Douglas and Joan Blondell in "Good Girls Go to Paris."

STRAND THEATRE—Return engagement of "Jesse James", starring Tyrone Power, Nancy Kelly, and Henry Fonda.

DANCING—At the C. & E., and Lowe's Rainbow Room.

SWIMMING—At Sun Dip Pool, which has been reconditioned and improved.

TENNIS and GOLF—At the Fulton Country Club.

BASEBALL—Game between the Fulton Tigers and the Union City Greyhounds at Fairfield Park on the morning of July 4th.

BAND CONCERT—At the Fair Grounds, music by the Fulton High School Band, under the direction of Yewell Harrison.

The Rev. R. Anderson Jardine, who performed the marriage ceremony for the Duke of Windsor and Mrs. Simpson, is now in Hollywood, Calif., and is looking for an American pastorate. He is said to be considering offers from New York, Chicago and Dayton, O.

Two lawyers of Adams, Mass., agreed in lieu of $250 due them from a client, who was unable to pay them, to accept 1,000 dozen eggs over a ten-year period.

The man who denies the existence of a problem is not apt to discover a solution.

FULTON THEATRES ATTRACT THOUSANDS OF PATRONS EACH MONTH

The Malco Fulton theatres, under the management of Hiram M. Meeks, bring the theatregoers of this territory topmost screen entertainment, many times featuring pictures that have not made their appearance, anywhere in this vicinity. Thousands of patrons attend the Fulton and Strand theatres here each month, hundreds coming from neighboring communities in order to enjoy the screen's latest productions before they reach their own community. Below are a few of the coming attractions.

"Juarez" with Bette Davis and Paul Muni, Sunday and Monday, July 2-3.

"Good Girls Go To Paris" with Joan Blondell and Melvyn Douglas, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, July 4-5-6.

"Young Mr. Lincoln" starring Henry Fonda, Friday and Saturday, July 7-8.

Others to follow: Jack Benny and Dorothy Lamour in "Man About Town", Betty Grable in "Million Dollar Legs", Sonja Henie and Tyrone Power in "Second Fiddle", Brian Aherne and Victor McLaglen in "Captain Fury".

At the Strand: "Hound of the Baskervilles" with Richard Greene and Basil Rathbone, "Gracie Allen Murder Case", Kay Francis in "Women in the Wind", Jane Withers in "Boy Friend" and a number of good Westerns as well as a good serial.

William G. Morgan, of Lockport, N. Y. was awarded his college "letter" for athletics 45 years after graduation from Y. M. C. A. College in Springfield, Mass. The award was made in recognition of his invention of the game of volleyball many years ago.

Side-line advice should be ignored by the players.

The biggest joke on matrimony is some of the couples that try it.

C. & E. Popular Dine And Dance Spot

The C. & E., Fulton's popular dine and dance place, under the management of "Happy" Wilson, has been beautifully refinished, and is ready for July 4th, when several thousand people are expected to attend the Old Car Derby here.

The new color scheme of the dancing room adds additional charm to the place, and under the able supervision of Mr. Wilson the C. & E. is attracting good crowds.

Hitching up her husband to a plow, for want of a mule, Mrs. T. Humphries of Juniper, Ga., carried on the work of their farm successfully.

Mrs. Edith Rosewell, testifying in her separation suit at Birmingham, Eng., said that her husband had spoken only four words a day to her for 34 years.

Some people feel that because they have the right of way at an intersection they have a certain measure of safety.

Strict adherence to the right of way rule is sometimes very foolish.

The interpretation of the right of ordinary unprotected intersection shall have the right to cross first, but that when two vehicles reach the crossing at the same time, the one on the left should give way to the one on the right. Most drivers know and observe this rule. Many abuse this privilege. They assume that the other driver will stop and let them pass.

Be careful lest you become a "statistic."

It's Smart to Drive Carefully.

Squirrel Season Opens July 1

July 1 may be just another day to large numbers of people but to the squirrel hunter it has a definite meaning, that of being able to begin the hunting of squirrels on that date and the continuation of such sport until the first of October.

Major James Brown, Director of the Division of Game and Fish, calls attention to the bag limit of 6 squirrels daily which is now in effect and which law will be strictly enforced by the Conservation Officers.

Reports that have come to the office here from both sportsmen and Conservation Officers from over the state indicate that all species of the squirrel have made for losses in number suffered by them during the past hunting season and should be plentiful enough to furnish good hunting this season.

Most American problems could be settled if everybody was interested in the general welfare.

In our anxiety to award rights to minorities let us be sure that we do not infringe upon the rights of majorities.

Happy is the individual, man or woman, who can look into the past and recall gorgeous memories of unselfish deeds.

Getting ahead in life, according to modern go-getters, is convincing other people that you are more than you believe you are.

Whenever an argument is strong you can weaken it a little, with some people, by calling it communistic, fascist or un-American.

R. M. Bagby Opens Campaign

R. M. Bagby of Grayson, Carter County, candidate for the Democratic Nomination for Lieutenant Governor is the son of the late Captain James T. Bagby, owner of the steamboat "Fannie Dugan" which used to ply the waters of the Ohio.

He was born on a farm in Greenup County and from there his father moved his family to Grayson, Kentucky, where R. M. at the age of 6 received his first experience in the business field, by selling paper.

Mr. Bagby later entered into commercial circle in Grayson by establishing a drug store and mercantile business. In 1920 he became interested in lumber and organized the Bagby Lumber Company. His commercial methods have always borne the closest investigation and scrutiny and his well formulated plans, his determination and courage have carried him steadily forward. In addition, he is Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Commercial Bank of Grayson, Publisher of the Sandy Valley Enquirer, and operates farms in Carter and Woodford Counties.

He is active in the Methodist Church, and has long been a member of the Board of Stewards of that organization.

Fraternally he is a Mason and was made Charter President of the Grayson Rotary Club. His interest in political affairs has led him to give active support to the Democratic Party, having on numerous occasions been campaign manager for Carter County. He usually attends all state conventions as a delegate and was a delegate to the national convention in Chicago and Philadelphia.

He is an ardent advocate and supporter of the Public School System, having served as a member of the Carter Board of Education for over 20 years and it was largely through his efforts as Chairman of that Board for 15 years that one of the best high school systems in the State was developed.

He is a man of exceptionally pleasing personality and of unusual business ability, and he knows every citizen is interested in clean politics and good government. He favors legislation which is beneficial to those who earn their bread by the sweat of their brow.

Mr. Bagby, when elected, will use every effort to continue his outstanding career by giving to the people of Kentucky a successful administration.

Mr. Bagby will address the voters of the State, Friday, July 7, at 6:45 Central Time over W.H.A.S.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"God" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, July 2, 1939.

The Golden Text is: "Unto the King eternal, immortal, invisible, the only Wise God, be honor and glory forever and ever." (1 Timothy 1:17.)

Among the citations which compose the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For all people will walk everyone in the name of his god, and we will walk in the name of our God" (Micah 4:5).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health With Key to the Scripture" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The true idea of God gives the true understanding of life and home, roles the grave of victory, takes away all sin and the delusion that there are other minds, and destroys mortality" (Page 323).

Alleging his mustache, which had "grown unclipped for a period of 45 years" had been cut when he ordered a shave and haircut, Francesco Mastrostefano of Kingstown, R. I., filed suit for $2,000 against his barber.

In her apartment house basement Miss Bertha Lipschitz of New York City, has outfitted a laundry so unemployed tenants may take in washing.

Things Farmers Do When They Succeed

What makes for success on the farm? The University of Kentucky College of Agriculture interviewed farmers to find out.

Since control of expenses is easier than control of prices, successful farmers reduce costs. They produce the most at the smallest cost.

Some other things good farmers do: use limestone and phosphate; grow winter cover crops on plowed land; seed mixed clovers and grasses; grow enough vegetables, meat, milk and eggs for home use; keep 40 percent of tillable land, other than bottom land, in pasture; purchase only concentrated feed that can't be produced on the farm; keep enough cattle and sheep to use all hay and pasture, and enough hogs to eat all the corn not needed for other stock; do or supervise all labor themselves; do work on time; have fence and stock water adequate for all fields to be pastured at the right time.

Other factors observed: successful tobacco growers give attention to curing; dairy farmers who succeed, cull, select and feed for high production; those who raise sheep provide small grain pasture, house and care for their flocks; hog raisers follow sanitary methods in feeding and farrowing, save most pigs, and push them through to early market condition.

HEALTH FADS

The subject of how to live long is always of interest, which perhaps accounts for the eagerness of the average mortal to seize upon various methods which are recommended for promoting health and longevity, such as doing daily exercise to radio music and the like.

In spite of all the propaganda on the subject, however, there are many who are skeptical regarding the real benefits of strenuous physical activity. One of these wrote a letter to the Cleveland Press, pointing out that Walter Camp, famed athlete and originator of the "daily dozen," died at 65, while he, the writer, had never taken any kind of exercise to speak of and was still in excellent health, although a great-grandfather. He added that "the longest-lived people are the physically lazy but mentally alert."

Commenting on the letter, William Feather, a well-known editor, declares that several years ago he adopted a vigorous health program, including vegetarianism, cold baths and the daily dozen, with this result:

"Acute indigestion led to the abandonment of vegetarianism on doctor's orders. Another doctor recommended discontinuance of cold baths. The daily dozen are still pursued, but faith in them has been shaken by the untimely death of their inventor."

Still, we may find many who swear by the health fads and feel that their lives have been saved thereby. As the proverb has it, "What is food for some is black poison for others."

Faith in democracy is not to be found in those who think that the master minds of business should run a country for the benefit of business.

When police of Huntington Park, Calif., received a call reporting a woman screaming, they rushed to the address given and found that the screamer was practicing her singing lesson.

Mid-South Fair To Be Held In Memphis

The Mid-South Fair, to be held in Memphis, Sept. 11 through Sept. 16, is well under way towards becoming a new and different show, increased in size and interest, officials announced today.

Again, one of the greatest centers of activity of the Fair will revolve around the Future Farm of America and a great deal of attention will be devoted to them.

The Agricultural exhibits will be augmented this year and exhibits directly from the Mid-South Territory will be the feature.

Interest in the Livestock Show to be considerably larger than ever before, is high, officials report. The judging will be confined almost entirely to livestock from the Mid-South, since in the past few years much of the finest livestock in the country has been bred in this section.

In the big parade to be held on the opening day, Future Farmers of America will play an important part. This parade will feature many truck-drawn floats and much of the equipment of the Rodeo will march.

After the parade the Future Farmers will adjourn to the Fair Grounds where they will appear on an original Radio Broadcast. Later their judging will begin.

Many additional amusement features are scheduled and every show will be increased in capacity. One of the greatest additions is the signing of the complete 66-train carload Royal American shows, with some 500 entertainers. This will be the first complete showing of this entertainment in the Mid-South.

Much interest has already been evidenced in the shortwave broadcast in this section cooperating. This will originate at the Memphis Fair and will allow visitors to talk with friends at the New York or San Francisco Fairs and other points.

The Rodeo, which will show twice daily, will have a special feature this year in bringing buffalo for the feature instead of the usual steers.

The "Made in the Mid-South Show" to be held on the Fair Grounds in connection with the Mid-South Fair, will feature the exhibits of manufacturers in this section.

Editors and School Superintendents in the Tri-States will be complimented again this year by the Commercial Appeal and the Mid-South Fair Board. They will be invited to attend the Fair as guests and will be regally entertained.

For the first time this year tickets are available in advance at half price. These tickets in books of ten are available at Atkins Insurance Agency.

QUEER SUPERSTITIONS

Superstitions regarding the prevention and cure of disease have persisted from the immemorial, many of them being still prevalent in the more backward sections of the country. A few were called to mind by a recent writer, in noting the death of an aged Kentuckian who continued to wear earrings to the last, in the belief that they were good for the eyesight.

Another old-time notion was that wearing a mustache was beneficial to weak eyes, just as it was thought that carrying a buckeye or a potato in the pocket would prevent or cure rheumatism.

One doesn't have to be so very old to remember when children were caused to wear a little bag of asafetida strung around the neck as a protection against "catching" diseases and when in many homes bunches of various dried herbs were hung about for the same purpose. Some believed that keeping a goat around the house was a prime health measure.

The writer remembers being warned when a boy not to wade in water when afflicted with hives, lest they "strike to his heart and kill him." He waded, nevertheless, and lives to tell the tale.

These superstitions, like the belief that a horseshoe placed in a rain barrel would turn into a snake, are gradually dying out—but many presumably intelligent persons to this day will refuse to take the third light from a match or walk under a ladder, for fear of dire consequences.

AN ALL-STAR CABINET

An interesting, if not particularly edifying, indoor sport is that of picking all-star and all-American teams in football, baseball, and other athletic activities. This practice has been varied slightly by a prominent magazine, which has attempted to select the most capable government administration, drawing from all who have held the positions considered.

In all such enterprises there will be differences of opinion, but here are the magazine's selections, with dates of taking office:

President, George Washington, 1789.

Vice-President, Theodore Roosevelt, 1901.

Secretary of State, John Hay, 1898.

Secretary of the Treasury, Alexander Hamilton, 1789.

Confidence— A National Asset

By RAYMOND PITCAIRN

In recent weeks the American people have been encouraged by various promises from Washington that steps will be taken to restore confidence in our national economy and our future.

Among these promises are included, for example, a cessation of attacks on the forces which promote production and employment, and a return to those principles of economy which would lighten the burdens of debt and taxation that now bear so heavily on the shoulders of all workers and earners.

To the American people the restoration of our traditional spirit of confidence seems a prime necessity. They realize, even if the politicians do not, that confidence is, in itself, a national asset, no less important than natural resources.

Confidence in the stability and the future of our productive activities is as essential to the national progress and well-being as are forests, mines and fields. Without confidence, America could never have developed from a small group of seaboard states to the greatest and the most productive land on earth.

Without it, America could never have established the high standards of living and the inspiring record of freedom and well-being for her people that now distinguish her among nations.

That which destroys confidence, therefore, destroys one of America's greatest assets. That which restores it, restores prosperity and happiness.

America today has the resources, the skill and the energy to resume the traditional progress which recent handicaps have halted. It needs only confidence to go ahead. And this confidence must be based on more than the familiar and repeated promises. It demands action by Congress and the Administration to make those promises good.

If Washington keeps its pledge, if production is freed of its shackles, if the voices of hate and fear are stilled, then America can look forward to a renewal and a quickening of prosperity such as her natural wealth and the enterprise of her workers assure.

Today, the American people are poised on the mark and ready to go. What they ask is that Washington clear the track of the extravagance, the borrowed theories and the political maneuverings that block the course.

What they demand is an ending of assaults on that spirit of confidence which in the past has been the strength and the hope of their nation.

CAPITOL COMMENTS

When Dr. Martin resigned as head of the Revenue Department the State suffered an irreparable loss that may reflect on the taxes and revenue of Kentucky.

He is a gentleman and a business executive who never allowed political influence or pressure to interfere with his duty. His ability and knowledge of taxation and revenue was recognized throughout the nation and he was often called by other states to reorganize their revenue department.

The burden of taxes is often obnoxious, but Dr. Martin made them as fair and least burdensome as possible and there was no evasion of the assessments or loop hole for favored politician to escape them.

Under his administration State revenue increased more than fifteen million dollars a year.

Dr. Martin you served your State well and deserve any honors she may bestow upon you.

Keen Johnson opened his campaign for Governor, Saturday, before one of the largest political gatherings in the State's history. Immediately after his speech, his speakers platform collapsed and a number of people were injured.

Most of you heard his speech over the radio. It was the official start of another one of Kentucky's famous campaigns.

The filing deadline for candidates has passed and the starters are at the post, the race is on with more than fifty candidates for the State administrative offices.

W. E. Porter withdrew from the Governors race and filed for Lieutenant Governor, throwing his support on the John Cooper Republican ticket.

"Attention Sportsmen". The squirrel season opens July first, and they are plentiful this year, but remember that the big limit is 6 squirrels a day.

The Highway patrol under Major Hanson is doing great work on accident prevention. We give you here a thought they gave us. "BE CAREFUL THE 4th, AND BE ALIVE THE 5th". Think about this and a happy holiday.

The McFadden Homemakers Meet

The McFadden Homemakers Club made a tour of kitchens of different members Friday. The major project of this club has been kitchens for this year. This tour was made to see how many of our members had put into practice things that have been brought out in our lessons.

The tour began with Mrs. Herman Sams. Others in order in which they were visited were: Mrs. George Gordon, Mrs. Herbert Burton, Mrs. Jim Burton, Mrs. Cleo Burton, Mrs. John Blackley, Mrs. Commodore Burton, Mrs. Cyril Morris, Mrs. Marian Daws, Mrs. Thomas Allen, Mrs. Dean Collier, and Miss Maude Morris. Several things taught in our lessons had been brought out, such as half shelves put in cabinets to utilize space. Partitions placed in drawers for silver ware, towels, cup towels, etc. Knife holders made, color schemes were carried out beautifully in rugs and curtains.

Several were made from brown domestic trimmed with rick-rack and bias tape. Some were tinted to bring out color in walls and rugs.

One lady had made lovely dish cabinets from old apple boxes with a shade on rollers to keep out dust. Another had made adjustable shelves put on hinges which would unfold over her breakfast table, to use for a working surface. Two ladies had turned their old back porches into lovely kitchens. Some were sealed with cardboard and papered or painted. Several new sinks had been added and new water and draining systems installed.

At noon a picnic lunch was served at the home of Mrs. John Binkley in her lovely garden.

Those attending were Mesdames Cyril Morris, Marion Daws, Tom Hannah, O. E. Nanney, J. N. Burton, O. C. Burton, Cleo Burton, Thomas Allen, John Binkley, Jim Holland, Herman Sams, Othel Slayden, Wales Austin, Misses Eunice McAlister, Maudie Mae Slayden, Maude Morris, Majorie Daws, and Mrs. Catherine Thompson, home demonstration agent.

Coconut pie is banned in Georgia between May 15 to October 1 by the state department of agriculture. The richness of coconut pie causes harmful bacteria to develop during the hot weather, according to J. P. Yarborough, state chemist.

Surrogate J. A. Foley of New York has declared former Justice Joseph F. Carter of the state supreme court legally dead. Carter disappeared mysteriously nine years ago, and his widow has married again. Litigation over his life insurance is in prospect.
