From the above stories of a recent newspaper correspondent held in the name of E. W. Braden, a publisher of Hopkinsville, Ky., that the publisher did not have a great deal of praise from one part of the statement, it is indicated that he has the idea that the government was too much interested in making money instead of providing for the people of the country. It is rather difficult to say whether the government was interested in making money or not, but it is certain that a great deal of money was made by the government.

The government was not interested in making money, but it was interested in the welfare of the people. --the end--
For a long time there has been much speaking of the need to stop the flood dangers here. At almost every public meeting the discussion will finally get around to the fact that the concrete bed of the creek is an unhappy one.

Every business establishment in certain areas is moved Merchandise in anticipation of the danger, and this project which is now being planned would certainly provide that leadership, if he functions according to the wishes of the people.

The project consists of running an eight foot concrete bed to the river. The danger in heavy rainfall periods and many times those floods have come along with great damage to many firms. Many times merchants are forced to close up their business because of floods, and in general the creek situation is an unhappy one.

Right now there is a project being planned to stop the flood deal in relieving this situation. It cannot be made to appear that the WPA would positively prevent any future flood, for that depends upon the amount of rainfall which may come. As long as there is a natural occurrence, there will be some danger from it, but intelligent steps can be taken to stem the danger, and this project which is now being planned would certainly lessen the danger.

The WPA is interested in the project and is ready to get it started. Officials of the organization say that they really want something started, such as the project that Fulton has received very little of this nature. Preliminary estimates indicate that the project will cost in the neighborhood of $14,000, and of this amount the WPA will contribute about $9,000. This leaves a balance of $5,000 which must be borne locally. The Chamber of Commerce, through President Bob White, has taken the initial steps to get the project started, and WPA officials have already looked over the area and given their preliminary opinions. An engineer will have to be employed to do the necessary surveying, and naturally the figures which have been submitted are not lopsided.

Visitors might be a shade high, but that is in the belief of Mr. White that they will not vary a great deal.

The Chamber of Commerce is anxious to have public opinion on this project. For several years efforts have been made to make some permanent improvement in the creek situation. The mission has been done by the yearly cleaning out of the creek and the work was cut from the creek channel for a distance of the city and this helps to a certain extent. It is only a matter of time until the water is returned to its normal state. The plan which is now under consideration is a prove of great and permanent benefit.

Right now it is the intention of Fifteen Years Ago

LAGUARDIA'S A GOOD MAN FOR THE JOB

The vast new civilian defense program is in good hands, New York Mayor Laguardia at his head. He has shown his executive ability as the mayor of the nation's biggest city, and has demonstrated his capabilities as the American chairman of the joint commission for cooperation between the United States and Canada in perfecting the defense of the Western Hemispheres.

Laguardia is a man who as a job done when he tackles it. A fellow like that is needed to get the civilian defense program under way. For it has been bogged down in most localities.

In Kentucky, for example, some progress has been made in the organization of home guard units, but the program has been hampered by the fact that those in charge refuse to give much attention to any municipalities which have not had national guard companies.

Paducah is the state's second city in importance as an industrial center, but local efforts to bring the establishment of a home guard division have failed because Paducah did not have a National Guard company.

It seems logical to believe that an industrial city needs a civilian defense program, but the state officials in charge of the organization of home guard units apparently do not see it that way yet.

Most people are willing to do their share in carrying forward the program to protect their country, and it is a foregone conclusion that with the proper leadership the civilian defense campaign will be successful. Laguardia will provide that leadership, if he functions true to form established in other jobs.—Bum-Bom.

Elwood City, Pa.—An Elwood City youth, called in the craft, who has done the job with a calculus, and then acted.

Before leaving for the induction station he spent the evening painting some signs which he fastened to his clothes. The signs—for benefit of two young brothers—read:

"Keep away from these clothes. I am not going to stay for a year."

The Chamber of Commerce to stage a campaign for the necessary funds next Tuesday. A breakfast will be held the evening and workers will start out from the breakfast table to raise the money. Mr. White indicated that he believes the campaign will be successful, but adds that if there is not enough interest to raise the money we should quit talking so much about how badly we need it. We can get the job done if we want to badly enough he said. "Let's see if we want it badly enough."

Big Harry Sprute pitched the Tigers' biggest game in the history of their franchise. The Oilers came out strong, scoring three runs in the first inning. But the Tigers quickly rallied, scoring four runs in the second inning, led by a home run from Big Harry himself. The score was 4-3 in favor of the Tigers at the end of the first inning.

In the second inning, the Tigers scored three more runs, making the score 7-3 in their favor. The Oilers tried to come back in the third inning, but Big Harry Sprute held them scoreless. The Tigers continued to dominate, scoring two more runs in the fourth inning, making the score 9-3. The game was called in the fifth inning, as the Tigers had already secured a comfortable lead.

Sprute pitched a perfect game except for one walk in the third inning. In the fourth inning, he gave up a double to Keeton, and the score remained 4-3. At the time of the double, the Tigers had already scored three runs in the previous inning. The walk came when the third baseman was unable to catch the ball, which allowed the runner to advance to second base.

Sprute pitched a strong game, allowing the Oilers only three hits and eleven walks. He did not give up another walk or allow any hits after the third inning. He held the Oilers from scoring anything after that inning, and not another offensivestrikeout was made.

Sprute's performance was a testament to his ability and skill, as he had what it takes when the chips were down. The Tigers trailed the Oilers throughout the game, and failed to score in the first inning, but they came back in the second inning, scoring four runs on three hits. The Tigers went on to score three more runs in the third inning, making the score 7-3. The game was called in the fifth inning, as the Tigers had already secured a comfortable lead.
