COW CATCHER CHANGES HOURS

MR. LUCIOUS RICE WILL NOT IN THE RUD THE RUSE OF OWNERS.

Will be Out Early in the Morning and Late at Night Looking for Steers.

Mr. Lucious Rice, the official cow catcher for the county, has recently been working on a new system that eliminates his need to be present during the evening hours. The system utilizes a series of sensors and cameras to detect the presence of cows and alert Mr. Rice to their location. This innovation has allowed him to focus on other activities during the evening, such as attending to the needs of his farm and family. The new system has also been well-received by the local farmers, who appreciate the increased efficiency and reduced cost of the cow catching process. Mr. Rice is planning to expand the system to other parts of the county, making it the most advanced cow catching system in the area.

WHAT THE CHAUTAUQUA DOES

At a Chautauqua, the superintendent had charge of a young man who was very much interested in coming up with flowers and other plants. He had given the young man a chance to do something for the organization, by letting him have a pot of flowers. The young man was quite pleased, and began to work for the organization, by giving the flowers to his friends and neighbors. He was pleased, and gave the flowers away.

HAT a day. The scenes that transpired on the ground here and in the vicinity of the courthouse were enough to fill a week of reading and more. The story of the fight that took place between the two groups of men and boys on the courthouse lawn was told by the police and other witnesses, who said that it was a matter of self-defense.

The police report stated that several men and boys were engaged in a fight on the courthouse lawn, and that one of the men had a gun. The gun was fired at the other party, causing the crowd to scatter. The police then arrested the offender and took him to the jail.

The trial of the offenders is scheduled for next week, and the case is expected to go to the newspapers.

In other news, the city council has decided to build a new police station in the downtown area. The site selected is on the corner of Main and Market streets.

The council also decided to extend the city park by purchasing the land from the railroad.

MARYLAND'S OLD VOLCANOS

Found at Deep-Marching

By Prof. Philip E. Under in the city with the report of a discovery which is of great interest to geologists, has been made recently. Prof. Under states that the volcano is located in a mountainous region, and that it is one of the oldest known in the world. The火山 is known as the "Deep-Marching Volcano," and is located in an area of about 200 square miles. The volcano is composed of basaltic and andesitic rocks, and is about 1,000 feet in height above the surrounding country.

The discovery of the volcano has greatly increased our knowledge of the geology of the region, and has added much to our understanding of the processes of volcanic action. The Deep-Marching Volcano is a particularly interesting example of a volcanic cone, and is believed to have been active for a period of several million years. It is believed that the volcano is still in a state of dormancy, and that it is unlikely that it will erupt in the near future.
