Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 8.—Kentuckians forgot partisan politics today as they gathered here to inaugurate Ruby Laffoon, 62, Madisonville, jurist, and Albert B. Chandler, 33, Versailles, governor and lieutenant-governor respectively.

The Democrats made it an occasion for rejoicing over the landslide in the November election. Republicans joined in the move to give the new governor the biggest reception in the state's history.

The day was cold and bleak with a haze hanging over the city, but thousands arrived to participate in the celebration.

The city was decorated for the occasion. The celebration started with the inaugural parade in which almost every county was represented.

The new governor and the retiring executive reviewed the parade from a stand near the William Goebel statue.

Richard Priest, chief justice of the Kentucky Court of Appeals, was selected to administer the oath of office to the new governor.

On the governor took the reception and inaugural night will climax the celebration.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 8.—Ruby Laffoon promised retrenchment and reform will be the "watchword" of his administration in an inaugural address before taking the oath of office as the fortieth governor of Kentucky on the capitol esplanade today.

The 62-year-old Madisonville jurist pledged a "corresponding value in services rendered the people of Kentucky" for "each dollar expended."

The governor-elect declared each promise in the Democratic state platform was regarded "as most sacred and binding and will be honestly and faithfully executed for the common good."

"I promise to be the governor of all the people without regard to party affiliations," said the governor-elect, "and I shall strive to the full limit of my humble ability to administer Kentucky's government, in the interest of all her citizens, to the end that she will retain her enviable station in the sisterhood of states."

Judge Laffoon thanked Mayor William B. Harrison, Louisville, for the courtesies shown him by him in the recent campaign.

He voiced appreciation of the support given him in the campaign by party workers and newspapers.

The governor-elect said educational and health programs would be carried on and the charitable and penal institutions properly maintained. He stated the road building program would be carried forward.

ZANN WELLS
LEAD '32Varsity Fresh Leads Murray at Annual Banquet

Zann Wells, captain of the varsity football team, will lead the annual banquet at the College Inn, Thursday evening. Wells, one of the best players ever to play for the team, was named captain of the team for the year.

For the first time, there were no ladies present at the annual football banquet. The team, coaches, executives and visitors alone attended the south dining room for a delicious dinner.

The banquet was held under the direction of Dean Saxon, the college president, Turkey with all the trimmings was the piece de resistance.

The inspiring program was arranged and presided over by Prof. A. B. Austin, dean of men at the college.

At the end of the arranged program, in which every member deeply stirred his heart, the occasion became informal and ended with the fellows singing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" for new captain Wells and retiring captain Paul Perkins.

Wells is the second consecutive player to be honored with the captaincy as Perkins, this year's leader, is a guard. Wells was one of the ablest and best hitting backs in the conference this year and should have been honored on the S. I. A. A. star team.

Following was the program for the evening:

First Half but Lose Defensive Power With Farris Out.

With the county basketball season well under way and a few of the teams reaching their peak, the cage game played at Lynn Grove "on last" Friday night between the Lynn Grove Cats and the New Concord quintet, threw some light on "Who's Who in Basketball in Calloway County." A new dope bucket was filled to the brim when the Cats defeated the East-enders 24-25 in the best game that has been played in Calloway county this season.

Lynn Grove is leading the county with scant margin. New Concord is playing brilliant ball to push a close second. Kirksey, although splitting games with Lynn Grove, was nose out of second place when the New Concord five defeated them in a fast and rough tilt, and therefore is holding third position.

Almo high school, coached by Robert Reed, holds fourth position. Hazel, fighting under everlasting handicaps in fifth place, but will have to be watched with a steady eye. Faxon, under the sharp eyes of T. R. Graham, ex-Thoroughbred, has made a slow beginning on account of losing almost all letterman last year by graduation. This team will probably whip into shape to reach its climax in the county tourney. Murray high's outcome is yet to be seen. They are getting a late start, but Coach Holland is admitting the oncoming contest with great enthusiasm and has bright prospects for a hardwood team that will slash its way to the top rung before the season is over. Coach Holland has not stated his schedule yet but will probably open it within the next two weeks.

The Concord-Lynn Grove affair last Friday night was a brilliant exhibition and started with the whistle to be an extremely fast contest. The Concord boys drew first blood but soon the Cats scored. The best guarding of the year was seen during the first quarter and the teams were tied 6-5 at the quarter. Both teams speeded up and breezed the sphere through the air with amazing accuracy. Miller, center for Lynn Grove, easily won the last quarter, but his mates were unable to obtain it. The half ended Concord 14, Lynn Grove 10.

The third quarter found both teams playing perfect ball but in the speedy melee, Farris, Concord guard, went out via the personal foul and the Lynn Grove boys took advantage of this sturdy guard being out and started a rally. B. Cochran, Lynn Grove, found the basket at last and was responsible for 11 hard-earned points.

By the time New Concord formed, their attack the Cats led with one point. The game ended 24-25 in favor of Lynn Grove. Farris, Concord guard, was probably the outstanding floorman and B. Cochran, Lynn Grove guard, performed best as a forward.

Holland's Tigers To Open Season Dec. 16

The Murray High School Tigers under Coach "Ty" Holland will officially open their net season Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock when they meet the fast five from Water Valley.

The Tigers are yet in the dark and just what will be the outcome is not known. A large squad is reporting daily for practice. There is keen competition for each position and plenty candidates for each place.

Coach Holland stated that his schedule is not yet completed but that the Tigers would oppose Mayfield, Fulton, Paducah, Dawson Springs, Rutledge, Almo, and Lynn Grove. Eight conference games are on "Ty's" list and the Murray fans will have the privilege of seeing some of the best teams in the state on the Murray floor.

Almo Splits Games
Over Week End

The Almo High School five went down in defeat at the hands of the Sedalia quintet in a fast game played on the Murray high school floor, Friday night.

Almo and Sedalia ran neck and neck until the last of the third quarter when Sedalia ran wild to completely out-point the Almo boys. The final score was 35-25.

The Hazel girls journeyed to Brewer Friday night, December 4, and brought home the bacon by the tune of 22-17. The Blue and Gold's have showed a great improvement since the games with Arlington and Bardwell.

The half ended 8 and 9 with the Red and White's ahead. But in the last frame, Hazel's goal was not threatened. The passing attack of the Hazel co-eds was too much for the old district tournament rivals.

Wilcox, flashy running guard, was the outstanding player of either team, she accounted for twelve of the twenty-two points. Smith, Hardin forward, and Darnell center accounted for five markers each.

There will be two basketball games Friday night, December 11 on the Faxon floor. The Faxon Cardinals will meet the Cats from Lynn Grove. The Faxon lassies will entertain the co-eds of Brewer.

These games are expected to be of the most interesting of the season. Lynn Grove is leading the boys' teams in Calloway county while the Brewer girls have a high standing in Marshall county.

Training School

Prospects for a good basketball team at the Training School are bright this season. Twenty-five candidates reported for first practice this season. Only four lettermen reported: McKeel, Crawford, Houston, and Rodgers. A definite schedule has not yet been arranged for the Colts, according to Coach John Miller.

Two games have been scheduled with the Bowling Green Training School.

By the time New Concord formed, their attack the Cats led with one point. The game ended 24-25 in favor of Lynn Grove. Farris, Concord guard, was probably the outstanding floorman and B. Cochran, Lynn Grove guard, performed best as a forward.

The Murray High School Tigers under Coach "Ty" Holland will officially open their net season Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock when they meet the fast five from Water Valley.

The Tigers are yet in the dark and just what will be the outcome is not known. A large squad is reporting daily for practice. There is keen competition for each position and plenty candidates for each place.

Coach Holland stated that his schedule is not yet completed but that the Tigers would oppose Mayfield, Fulton, Paducah, Dawson Springs, Rutledge, Almo, and Lynn Grove. Eight conference games are on "Ty's" list and the Murray fans will have the privilege of seeing some of the best teams in the state on the Murray floor.
