How About That!

Soil Conservation Notes

By HERBERT ANDERSON
Aubrey Cope and Lannie Lyles, west of Brewers, dug an open drainage ditch the last week of April. The ditch was 1400 feet long and followed the property line between the two farms. The bottom width was three feet and the top was 15 feet. Average depth was two and one-half to three feet. The side slopes were two to one. Cubic yards of earth moved was 3,447.

Boone Lyles, north of Hale Springs and south of Soldier Creek, dug a 700 foot ditch the first of May.

Luther Edward York dug a 500 foot ditch on his mother's farm, Mrs. Beulah York, on the north side of Soldier Creek.

These ditches were dug with a dragline. A dragline is the most efficient machine for digging ditches two or more feet in depth. It can work when the ground is wet or where water is standing as much as a foot in depth.

The drainage problems on these farms were similar. Ponds of water stood on good land capability class two land. As the dragline cut the ditches to each pond of water they drained off the land into the creek. This pleased the farmers.

The survey work was done by the Soil Conservation Service. The farms on which the work was done are cooperating with the Marshall County Soil Conservation District.

15,000 to 20,000 acres of bottom land in the county are in need of drainage. This would require 1,500 to 2,000 miles of open drains. Crops are killed frequently on this land. Yields are reduced most every year.

When the land can't be drained because an outlet is not available, it is most profitable to change the land use from row crops to pasture. Plants which are adapted are Ky. Fescue, Red Top, Reed's Canary Grass, Ladino and Alsike clover.

Other farmers who have requested help in drainage work this spring are Noah Peck and Archie Story, south of Palma; Bob Simmons and George Long, Benton; and H. L. Story, north of Mt. Moriah Church.

O. M. Story, north of Palma, was host to 25 SCS personnel from the 15 surrounding counties last week. His farm was used for a conservation farm planning training meeting.

I helped Paul Mills complete the training of two 4-H Club water management contest teams, Monday morning.

...to bring the comfort and convenience of natural gas to more homes and industries

Men and equipment are moving into your area this week to complete a part of the $16,000,000 Texas Gas expansion program now underway throughout the Big River Region. This region — industrial heart of America — stretches from the Louisiana Gulf Coast to Ohio and embraces the valleys of the "big rivers".

The small army of construction workers and representatives of Texas Gas in your midst are here to install facilities that will expand the daily delivery capacity of our natural gas system. There has been a steady increase each year in the demand for dependable, economical natural gas in our eight-state service area.

This 1955 expansion of Texas Gas means new markets for landowners and lease-holders in the gas supply areas. It means more comfort and convenience for homes and industries along our pipeline. It is an added attraction for continuing industrial growth in the area we serve.

We grow as you grow. Men at work in your area this week are part of the Texas Gas team... working together with you for even greater development of the Big River Region.

Education in America Has Come Long Way in Our Time

(Editor's Note: This is another in a series of articles by the Department of Classroom Teachers of Kentucky Education Association.)

Back in the days of bundling and the bustle, when the winters were snowbound and the summers full and hot, dusty field work for the young and old, there was plenty of time for the blue-back speller, Ray's arithmetic, and the McGuffey readers. The double feature movie and the corner drugstore, the radio serial and the TV late show were still gleams in the eyes of a few inventive dreamers. Snack bars and sports cars were a million miles away.

Work, most of it by hand, was still the order of the day in thousands of American homes, where living was an unhurried, day-to-day affair, and time was an unrelated concept still drifting away in space. Junior shelled the corn for the chickens by hand, and Sister embroidered linen towels to hang on the rack by the pitcher and basin in the spare room.

Tom learned to recite the names and dates of the American presidents in order, and China was still something you got to if you dug straight down far enough. Mary could start with "This is the forest primeval. The murmuring pines and hemlocks . . . and go straight through a hundred lines. No telephone bells or car horns blasted the sweet serenity of silence in which they memorized endless fact after endless fact, unquestioning.

Teacher boarded round and "heard" the tables, one through twelve, after supper by the grate, gleaming with candle coal, while father dozed in the corner and Mother stitched patches on jeans. When Jim couldn't spell every word in his round, there was always a hickory stick in the corner behind the stove both at school and at home.

Where I come from we learned to fight fire with fire. You know, when a woods fire was running along at a pretty good clip, we'd build a backfire to head it off. Today's schools are building backfires all over the place.

We bring a movie about life in modern China right into the classroom. We dramatize the major periods in the life of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. We run our own serial of the fight against yellow fever and paint murals of the Lewis and Clark expedition.

Buses and automobiles transport our children to musical concerts and museums. We paint pictures and visit art galleries. Class teams debate on tariffs, and whole classes visit state legislatures.

Great libraries unlock the knowledge of the ages for children intent on independent research, while opaque projectors bring de Vinci and Michelangelo to the classroom. Tape recorders tantalize and stimulate youthful orators and foreign language students, and record players bring the music of Beethoven and the stirring speeches of Patrick Henry directly to the child in school.

Filmstrips clarify fuzzy mathematical concepts and give added meaning to the Constitutional Amendments. Diaramas stimulate and rivet interest and attention in social studies and science, language and literature.

Today's schools are building cultural "backfires" to compete with the persistently spreading flame of constant demands on the time, attention, and energies of today's pupils. This shirt sleeve era with its endless rush, where time is of the essence even to the very young, demands new approaches to the problems of learning. Today's schools are providing the new approaches.

The Farm Front - -

By J. HOMER MILLER
County Farm Agent

Strawberries have given a much higher return this year than was expected despite the drought, cold weather and rain. The berries have sold at a good price. Many growers are reporting a gross income of $1,000 and more per acre.

Work out your berries as soon as harvest is completed. Mow and work out the middle. Many patches may be made productive for another year. Fertilize to stimulate new growth. Rainfall still is above normal for the year with almost 4.5 inches falling this month. Bring in the total for the year to about 21.25 inches. This is almost one-half the average annual rainfall for the year.

Sudan grass may be seeded as soon as the ground is dry enough. A number of farmers have already seeded. Plant the piper variety for increased growth and one that is lower in prussic acid.

Hay cutting time is here for alfalfa, red clover, fescue, and oats. Red clover should be cut when about half the blooms have started to turn brown. Cut fescue and oats in the dough stage.

Draffen Schmidt is fertilizing 25 acres of corn according to plant food needs. He is investing about $16 per acre in fertilizer. If this will give an increase of 15 bushels or more per acre it will be profitable.

Listen to radio station W.C.B.L. at 12:05 daily for "Farms Facts of the Air." This is 30 minutes earlier than previously.

Mr. and Mrs. Joy Wyatt of Inkster, Mich., who came to Benton for the Big Singing, are visiting relatives and friends in the county this week.

Here's why PONTIAC WINS BUYERS FROM EVERY OTHER MAKE

It's a king-size luxury car—Biggest at its price!

Pontiac is a big, roomy car. Here it is: A car with 122" or 124" wheelbase—longest in its price field, even longer than some models in the top price range—and with true big-car stability to match. Luxury is in key. For quality of fabrics, conveniences and appointments, Pontiac compares with the costliest cars.

It's America's topmost value—Greatest buy of any year!

Pontiac is selling at the fastest rate of all time for this simple reason: America agrees—when you can get the size, power, beauty and luxury you want at Pontiac's easy price, that's the place to put your money. Come in and get all the facts.

It's a 200-horsepower performer—Most powerful at its price!

As the only car with the Strato-Streak V-8, Pontiac has a big performance advantage. This newest and most efficient V-8 enables Pontiac to provide more power than any car has ever delivered at Pontiac's price—a full 200 horsepower with the four-barrel carburetor, an extra cost option; 180 H.P. is standard.

It's a future-fashioned beauty—Most distinctive at any price!

Style-conscious motorists turn to Pontiac for true mode-of-tomorrow design, beautifully different from any other car on the road. Exclusive Vogue Two-Tone styling, Twin-Streaked hood and low, rakish lines give you a car that you know will remain a prideful possession for many years to come.

You can buy a big, 200-horsepower Strato-Streak V-8 Pontiac for less than many models of the lowest-priced cars and for much less than stripped economy models of higher-priced makes—none of which equal Pontiac in combined power, size and future-fashioned beauty.

She Brings Color To Tires

Marcia Gottschall, probably the only woman tire designer in the nation, who developed U. S. Rubber's blue, brown and green tires.

Colored tires in blue, green and brown have recently been introduced to blend with the gay colors of new automobiles. The tires, made by United States Rubber Co., represent successful production of colored tires which has been a goal of the rubber industry for many years. Behind the idea is Marcia Gottschall, believed to be the only woman tire designer in the country. She worked with scores of colors before selecting the right ones to blend with a majority of the bright colors so popular with motorists today. The tires have scuff-proof white sidewalls, and the cured-in color extends from the white to the tread. Colors will not peel or rub off. Miss Gottschall believes that the tires will appeal particularly to women, who are expected to have more voice in tire purchases from now on.

This '55 Buick
must have something that folks just won't do without!

TWO months ago, in the public print, we said that this looks like Buick's biggest year—and we weren't fooling.

But what has happened—and continues to happen—is almost beyond belief.

People buy up these stunning new Buicks practically as fast as we get them from the factory. Buick production—already revised upward several times—keeps forging ahead to new highs every month to meet the mounting demand.

And Buick sales keep soaring higher and higher and higher—outstripping by far the phenomenal success of last year—the success that moved Buick into the "Big Three" of America's best sellers.

What is it about the '55 Buicks that folks by the hundreds of thousands just won't do without? It's many things.

It's styling that's boldly distinctive and fresh as tomorrow. It's beauty of line and beauty of interior decor. It's a ride that's level, firm and steady. It's a new sweetness of handling. It's great power—walloping new V8 power of record might.

But above all, it's a new kind of performance, from a new kind of automatic transmission that was born of flight thinking.

It's Variable Pitch Dynaflo®—engineered from the principle of the modern plane's switch-pitch propeller—and what it brings you in the way of pure thrill, mere words can't describe.

Just you drop in on us this very week and try it. That way you can see what a terrific automobile—and a terrific buy—the hottest-selling Buick of all time really is.

*Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Resources Of God

Lesson for May 29, 1955

A CRIPPLED American carrier after the battle of Leyte was zig-zagging its way to what looked like certain death. Faster Japanese craft were after it, their shots were coming closer. The only hope any one on board could have was that by zig-zagging its course and speeding again and again, they might be able to put off the inevitable end. Finally in mid-afternoon, just when drowning seemed closer than ever, for some reason the Americans never understood, the enemy ships gave up the chase and pulled away. The chaplain gathered the men on deck and there read the 124th Psalm (Otu devotional reading for the week) as if it had been written for the occasion: "If it had not been the Lord who was on our side, when men rose up against us, then they would have swallowed us up quick... then the waters had over whelmed us."

The Resources Of God
God (said Napoleon) is on the side with the largest battalions. Napoleon was not acquainted with God or he would hardly have said that. There have been too many occasions when the biggest battalions, the best military material (sic), the ablest generalship, did not turn the trick. God has some times appeared to be on the side of very small battalions. Some times it's a kind of mystery how it's done. But history carries the record. There was the time when the Hebrew slaves left Egypt in spite of the best army in the world. There was the time described in the Bible reading this week, when the God-fearing King Hezekiah and his people—a much smaller little country than many another that had fallen to defeat by mighty Assyria—were saved by a miracle. There was the time later in Hebrew history (between the Old and the New Testaments) when the little army of the Maccabees stood off the great armies of the Seleucid kings; the astonishing day when the "Invincible" Armada, the enormous naval expedition of Spain, which could never have been beaten by English arms at that time, was smashed by a hurricane on the rocky coasts of the islands the Spaniards intended to enslave. Say what you please, some victories cannot be explained unless you can see "God within the shadows, keeping watch above his own."

Victories of the Spirit
There have been victories of the spirit, too, which can hardly be explained unless you can see God in the picture. When John Woolman was born, slavery was taken for granted everywhere in the civilized world. You would not have thought Mr. Woolman could make a dent in so well-established a custom. He had no money, no prestige, not much education. But he laid on his soul a burden, and he went from one Quaker meeting to another, sharing his burden of concern for slavery, and out of his one-man crusade came the Quaker opposition to slavery and the gradual awakening of the Christian conscience everywhere. To nearer our times, when Walter Rauschenbush was a boy, religion was generally supposed to have to do only with a man's soul, not with his business or his politics or anything outside his church and home. Rauschenbush became a new sort of prophet—attacked, it is true, as prophets are; but what seemed to be heresy in his day is preached today in all churches, that the Christian religion is concerned with every side and every interest and relationship of life, public and private too.

Not the Lazy
It is a serious mistake to suppose that God always rewards the weak, or that he will do for us what we are expected to do ourselves. The story of Hezekiah brings this out. He felt, and the whole country felt, that God had saved them in their time of need; and this was true. But it should be noted that Hezekiah, faced with invasion, took intelligent (and expensive) measures for defense. He secured a reliable water supply for use in case of siege, he diverted water away from the places where the besieging army was sure to be. He built up the army, he manufactured new equipment. If he had radar screens he would have used them.

Junior Women Hold Installation Ceremony

A candlelight installation dinner, held in the private dining room at the Kentucky Dam restaurant on May 12, was the setting in which Mrs. Frank J. Dunn was installed as president of the Benton Junior Woman's Club for 1955-56.

Other officers installed were Mrs. Billy Peak, first vice-president; Mrs. Jim Owens, second vice president; Mrs. Travis Downs, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Kemp, recording secretary; and Mrs. Pat Warren, corresponding secretary.

Mrs. E. G. Williams, club sponsor, served as installing officer at the ceremony. Mrs. Williams stressed the duties of each officer, and gave her best wishes for their success in the coming year. Mrs. Joe L. Jones, retiring president, gave her fellow officers a gift as a token of her appreciation for their year of work with her.

Mrs. Williams gave the invocation, and following the dinner a short business meeting was held, at which time Mrs. Frank Dunn and Mrs. Jim Owens were elected as delegates to attend the state convention of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs, to be held in Lexington on May 16-17-18.

The dinner tables held centerpieces of spring flowers as centerpieces. White candles in black holders were used by each guest's plate. Mrs. J. C. Jones and Mrs. Charles Kemp were the hostesses for the evening.

Attending were Mesdames Billy Peak, Jack Thompson, Billy Napier, Pat Warren, Jim Owens, Charles Kemp, E. G. Williams, Weldon Nelson, Joe L. Jones, W. J. Brien, Smith Dunn, Travis Downs, Frank Dunn, J. C. Jones, Thomas Holland, George Latham and Robert Poague.

The next regular meeting will be the annual club picnic on June 2, and will be the final meeting

God shall judge the righteous and the wicked. — (Ecclesiastes 3, 17.)

Those who, by constant striving and prayer, live in righteousness, are rewarded—daily, hourly—with peace of soul and mind, through God's judgment. Those who deny God in their thoughts and acts cannot be lastingly happy for in the deep of their hearts they can not know peace.
