Road Builders Pouring Concrete

It matters not what is said of the new highway commission it is the first time in the history of road building that concrete has been used in this part of the state. On highway 51 between Fulton and Wickliffe the contractors are covering the old gravel road as fast as they can with concrete surface. On highway 45, between Fulton and Paducah, the contractors started pouring concrete on the Paducah sector. A 20-foot concrete surface is being laid, and sixty days will be required to complete the work. Approximately fifteen men are now employed on the project. A distance of 6.4 miles will be paved.

During the period of reconstruction traffic is forced to detour via the Clinton road to Melber. The route has been marked.

Completion of this road sector will provide a hard surfaced road all the way from Paducah to Fulton with exception of a twelve-mile gap from Wingo to Fulton, on which contract is scheduled for letting by the state highway department. Construction of that gap could not be started until work is finished on Highway 51, which is now being paved.

Performance and actual work is all we crave in the First District and not so many promises as heretofore.

At a recent meeting of the Press Association at Somerset, Ky., Lieut. Governor Breathitt defended the state highway commission against charges of having abandoned its permanent road policy on main traveled highways, declaring there has been no change in the commission's policy regarding the completion of arterial highways. Every available dollar, he said, will be used during the biennial period to carry out the program for high type road pavings. He added that consideration will be given county and lateral roads.

Mr. Breathitt said that a reduction in the annual maintenance cost will be effected by the construction of concrete or rock asphalt roads, eventually releasing a large sum for secondary highways of the state. He pointed out that already 226 miles of high type paving have been contracted for and that additional mileage will be sold July 31, September 5 and 26.

The Lieut. Governor suggested that the highway department be placed on a business basis and that its personnel be stabilized. He said that the men employed in the department should be made to understand that their duty is "to build roads, not to political fences, and that so long as they perform their functions properly they may be reasonably assured of tenure of office."

Miss Ruth Nance, of Kevil, Ky., was elected to the position as teacher in the Commercial Department of the Union City High School at a meeting of the Board of Education last week.

OBION CITIZENS BUY SHOW HOUSE

FULTON WINS FROM UNION CITY, 7-6

The I. C. Boosters played the Union City baseball team Sunday afternoon at the Fairgrounds Baseball park, winning from the visiting team despite a triple play, 7 to 6, in a 10-inning game.

The feature of the game was the hard hitting of Fulton, Murphy getting two triples and Forrest one. McCoy and Batts each got a home run for Fulton.

There were no errors made on either side, Fulton getting 14 hits and Union City 10. Barge pitched for Fulton and was replaced by Ruskin in the sixth. Ruskin was given credit for winning the game.

Batteries for Union City were Pete Daniell, who was replaced by Newt Daniell, and Weatherspoon.

CLINTON FARMER HANGS HIMSELF

Edgar Evans, 58, well known farmer and stock owner, was found hanging from a tree limb on the farm of Wood Ringo near Clinton, Wednesday. He had tied a piece of wire around his neck and attached it to the limb of the tree. When he jumped off the limb the improvised noose choked him to death.

RIVES RESIDENT DIES SUDDENLY IN CRUTCHFIELD, KY.

Mrs. T. J. Gossett, age 59 years, passed away suddenly in Crutchfield, Ky., where she was the guest of relatives.

Funeral and burial took place at Liberty Church, near Jordan, Ky.

Besides her husband the deceased is survived by six sons, by a former husband.

Mrs. Gossett had resided in the old Moffatt home at Rives, Tenn., for the past 7 or 8 years but at the time of her death was visiting her son, Mr. Holly, at Crutchfield. She was a member of the Baptist Church.

FRY EGGS ON STREETS OF MARTIN SATURDAY

To prove that Martin was very hot last Saturday, says the Martin Press, Mrs. P. T. Milam fried an egg on a water meter cover on Lindell street, Saturday, with an interested and sweltering audience as auditors. The experiment proved a success and met with the hearty approval of a majority of the spectators, although some were surprised that the egg was not burned to a crisp.

REPUBLICAN PRIMARY ELECTION AUGUST 2

The Republicans will hold their primary election August 2, to nominate a candidate for Congressman of the First District. It will be the first election to be held under the new law and with the new ballot box.

There will be no Democratic primary election in the First District. The race for Congressman is the only one involved and in the Democratic ranks W. V. Gregory, of Mayfield, present incumbent, has no opposition.

A Welcome Arrival

Fulton Signs On Dotted Line

PULLING FOR TOURIST TRAVEL THROUGH HERE

At a recent meeting of the Chamber of Commerce held at the Usona Hotel a contract was signed in an effort to insure the routing of the Diagonal Highway from Iowa to Florida through Fulton.

The meeting was well attended and all were enthusiastic over the prospect of thousands of tourists coming over the new route.

It had been hinted along the line from Cairo to this point that Fulton was apparently unconcerned but when that delegation from Cairo, Wickliffe, Bardwell, Arlington and Clinton met with the Fulton bunch of live-wires their minds were changed. In fact, P. C. Ford said he would subscribe one-fifth of the entire Fulton quota.

We want all the tourist travel we can get and when anyone thinks we are asleep on the job attend a Chamber of Commerce meeting. Fulton is well organized to take care of any laudable enterprise and is not in the pipe-dream class. What we want is good roads to match our city paved streets and all the tourists we can get routed in this direction.

VACATION TRIP ENDS TRAGICALLY

Young Nashville Girl Dies in Car Near Tourist Camp

Death brought a tragic close to a family vacation trip Sunday. Miss Maggie Gorman, 18, Nashville, Tenn., traveling with her parents, died suddenly in an automobile just as the party neared a tourist camp on the outskirts of Paducah, near Lone Oak.

Eight families, all of them kin, were traveling in a motorcade and were on the last lap of their journey after a western trip.

Miss Gorman was riding in a car with her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gorman, at the time of her death. She had been ill of heart disease for more than a year and had suffered several attacks recently, relatives said. She died before medical aid could be summoned.

NEW TOURISTS' INN CONTEMPLATED

It has leaked out that Fulton and Union City people are planning to build a handsome building mid-way between the two cities on the highway. The structure will probably be of ornamental brick veneer for the first story and the second story of stucco.

It will be used as a tourists' inn, where all kinds of entertainment will be provided as well as good things to eat, prepared in the most tempting way. A large baseball park, tennis court and golf links will be some of the features to occupy the spacious grounds, made attractive and beautified with modern conveniences for pleasure and comfort.

The inn will be conducted on the highest plane, handsomely equipped with modern fixtures and appliances for serving the public in first-class style.

A service station with free parking space will add to the convenience of the pleasure seeker and traveling public.

At present the names of the promoters are withheld.

Roberts, of Texas.

Mrs. Anna Linton and Mrs. Joe Cates, of this city, are her nieces.

PADUCAH RADIO STATION TO BE OPENED AUG. 10

Broadcasting Rooms of WPAD Are Being Constructed At The Ritz Hotel

August 10 has been tentatively set for the first radio program to be broadcast by the Paducah Broadcasting Company, recently granted a license to operate on a frequency of 1420 kilocycles by the Federal Radio Commission, according to Pierce Lackey, joint owner of the station with Huston McNutt, Jr.

Broadcasting rooms are being built on the ground floor of the Ritz Hotel on the south side of the building, and antennae towers are being constructed on the roof of the hotel.

The Election Commissioners of Obion county, Tenn., have called an election to be held at all the voting places in said county on Thursday, August 7, 1930, for the purpose of electing a Trustee, Sheriff, Tax Assessor, County Court Clerk, Magistrates and Contables for the various district of said county and any and all other officials required to be elected by law in the Regular August Election.

At the same time Democratic nominees for United States Senator, Governor, Members of Congress, Public Utilities Commissioner, State Senator, Floater, Representative, Executive Committeemen, and all other offices required by law are to be selected in this election.

DETOURS NOT SO BAD

Motorists traveling between Bardwell and Fulton now leave the highway at Bardwell, traveling over the road leading by the Kane farm, back into the old Arlington road at the railroad trestle and then into Arlington over the old Bardwell-Arlington road.

South of Clinton they leave the highway near Crutchfield, pass through that town and go into the Fulton-Hickman highway west of No. 51, and then into Fulton.

It is probable that the detours will be used several weeks. Except the dust, the detours can be negotiated during dry weather, but in wet weather you'd better carry a team of good mules along.—Bardwell News.

Brieflets

As a rule a Fulton man marries so he'll have something to tell his troubles to. And then he has plenty of troubles to tell.

Early to bed and early to rise—and you'll miss a lot that doesn't go on in the daytime.

We'd like to hear the rest of the story about that New York man who put a ball and chain on his wife.

Most Fulton girls want to marry an economical man but none of them want to be engaged to one.

A college education seldom hurts a man if he is willing to learn a little something after he graduates.

One rotten egg doesn't spoil the whole dozen, unless you scramble them.

Poverty in some families around Fulton was unknown until someone wanted a better car than the neighbor's.

It has about gotten so that experience is the only thing we can't get on the installment plan.

Keeping up appearances and keeping down expenses are seldom done by the same keeper.

The Fulton man who tries his hand at something and fails might try using his head for a change.

You can't choose your ancestors. But that's fair enough. They probably wouldn't have chosen you.

Farmers around Fulton are lucky at that. If they were prosperous the government would soon start in to regulate them.

The farms have given this country its greatest men—and now look at the fix the farms are in.

Why is it that when a crop starts coming up in the field it starts going down in the market?

A St. Louis medical man says we are not eating as much as our grandfathers ate. Maybe not, but we're paying twice as much for it.

It has been our observation that the quietest event in most any Fulton home is Dad's birthday.

Community Building

Importance of Proper House Design Apparent

Through a better appreciation of architecture, home lovers more and more are striving toward perfection and beauty of house design. As a result, a knowledge of historic styles is well defined in the minds of interested discriminating home builders. To day people know approximately what they want in the way of a home, and recognize the importance of architectural guidance. Only well-proportioned homes with artistic and correct architectural treatment attract and appeal.

To assure the ideal home—be its size ever so small—the technically trained architect should be consulted. No one thinks of going to a dentist with bodily ills. By the same token no one should go to a contractor for home design. Home design is a highly specialized field, and only an architect can reflect and crystallize your home ideas properly and correctly into a design possessing merit.

One often hears "because I'm building a small house, I can't afford an architect—besides, I know where I can get some plans cheap."

This attitude has accounted for hundreds of unattractive homes which have no resale value—eyesores and a disgrace to the community.—Cleveland Leader.

Store Front Counts as Good Business Asset

"The store front indicates the character of a business establishment as well as of the men back of it, and that holds good whether the business is clothing, shoes, plumbing or what not," Howard H. Edmonds writes in an article called "Store Fronts," in a recent issue of Domestic Engineering.

Edmonds draws upon his experience in building and remodeling store fronts for many Cleveland companies for the material in his article.

"The store front is a silent salesman which works 255 days in the year and it gives half a chance to return its cost many times over in sales volume," he continued.

"A few of the great advantages of bringing a store front up-to-date are: It becomes a public improvement; it stimulates an activity in the entire community; it gradually builds up a healthy trading center in which to do business."

Attractive Homes an Asset

Two ideas about the American home have had a remarkable growth in recent years. One is that the dwelling of today, if it is to hold a fair position in competition with the motor car and other comparatively recent luxuries, must be attractive and good taste things. But it has become increasingly evident, too, that the task of bringing the home up to the desired artistic level is even more a matter of education, good taste and skillful guidance than it is a matter of money. The element of cost must be considered, of course, in any circumstances. But attractiveness of the best sort may be a feature of the moderately priced home as of the motor car of a similar nature.

Getting on Airman's Map
Communities that want the world to know they are air-minded—and most of them apparently have this desire—can make air-marking one of their first important objectives. Labeling the town, village, city or hamlet with its name painted in large and legible letters on the roof of the tallest building may seem rather a humble start in the direction of aviation. Far from it.

"It is the easiest way to get on the airman's map," says a pilot with hundreds of hours of cross-country flying to his credit.

The Fireless City

The fire prevention idea has developed into a major community enterprise in the city of Albany, Ga. and it now enjoys the distinction of being regarded as the "Fireless City." With a population of 20,000, it has the lowest annual loss by fire of any city in the country. There were but 91 alarms of fire during 1928 and the total loss was but $4,520. This has been accomplished by wiping out many fire hazards and by maintaining an energetic fire patrol nightly.

STATE TAX MEN AND BANKERS IN ACCORD

Months of Negotiation Lead to Agreement on Changes Broadening Method of State or Local Taxation of National Banks.

NEW YORK—Months of conference and negotiation between an American Bankers Association special committee and the Committee of the Association of States on Bank Taxation have resulted in an agreement on a form of amendment to the Federal statute dealing with state or local taxation of national banks that "maintains the integrity of the protective principles of the section and is satisfactory to the commissioners' committee," says the American Bankers Association Journal.

Thomas R. Paton, the organization's General Counsel, in making the announcement says that previously proposed amendments to the statute, which is known as Section 5219, have been opposed when it was felt their terms would enable any state to place banks in a tax class by themselves.

"The law as it stands today," Mr. Paton says, "permits state or local taxation of national banks or their shareholders in one or the other of the four following forms: the shareholders upon their shares—a property tax; the shareholders upon their dividends—a personal income tax; the bank upon its net income; the bank according to or measured by its net income. Only one form of tax can be imposed, except that the dividend tax may be combined with the third or fourth form if other corporations and shareholders are likewise taxed."

"The conditions permitted are: the tax on shares must be at no greater rate than on other competing moneyed capital; the income tax on shareholders must be at no greater rate than on net income from other moneyed capital; the tax on bank net income must be at no higher rate than on other financial corporations nor the highest rates on mercantile and manufacturing corporations doing business within the state; the tax measured by net bank income is subject to the same limitations as the tax on net income of the bank but may include entire net income from all sources."

States Seek Broader Law

National banks and their shareholders are taxed in different states under a diversity of systems, he says. The U. S. Supreme Court has held that the low millage rate on intangible personal property is in violation of the present law where it results in national bank shares being taxed at a rate greater than that assessed upon competing moneyed capital. A number of states, unwilling to use the income methods permitted, had the alternative of either repealing the intangible tax laws or limiting taxation of national bank shares at the intangible rate. Therefore they sought a broadening of the permissive provisions.

Also, Mr. Paton points out, a Supreme Court decision held a state's excise tax on corporations invalid where it included income from Federal and local government bonds in the excise measure. This created doubt as to some state bank excise taxes.

"Conferences have been held to reach some agreement which would protect the banks, satisfy the tax commissioners and avoid a contest in Congress," Mr. Paton says. "From the standpoint of the tax authorities, the main objectives have been an amendment which would permit certain states to retain their low rate tax upon intangibles and at the same time derive an adequate, but not excessive, revenue from national bank shares, and an amendment which would permit certain states to tax corporations on their net income, excluding income from tax-exempts, and at the same time derive the same revenue from the banks as heretofore. From the standpoint of the banks, it has been deemed imperative to maintain the protective principles of Section 5219."

The Changes Agreed On

"In the proposed amendment the existing provision permitting taxation of bank shares no higher than the rate upon competing moneyed capital has been modified with respect to certain intangible tax states only by a provision under which, instead of the moneyed capital limitation, the rate shall not be greater than the rate upon the shares of other financial corporations, nor upon the net assets of individuals, partnerships or associations employed in the banking, loan or investment business, nor higher than the rate assessed upon mercantile, manufacturing and business corporations with head office in the state."

"Also an added fifth alternative permissive method, designated as a specific tax, permits a state, in place of an ad valorem tax on bank shares, to add together total dividends paid the preceding year and the increase in capital, surplus and undivided profits, less additions to capital or surplus paid in by stockholders, and to divide this total by the number of shares. The state may tax the shares based upon this amount, but not to exceed the rate on other corporations in proportion to their net profits."

"This method is designed for states which have heretofore taxed national banks upon their entire net income from all sources at a proportionate rate to that assessed upon business corporations. The amount which is the basis of the tax is the equivalent of the entire net income from all sources, but being assessed against the shareholder upon his property in the shares and not a tax upon the bank, it is not open to the objection as an indirect tax on exempt income."

Look Well—Taste Well

MORE and more food products are being packed in the sanitary enameled lined cans which have proved so attractive to the housewife. All corn is now packed in these containers and at least 25% of the peas, with the quantity steadily increasing.

The reason for this seems to be visual rather than gustatorial. The effect of preserving better the colors of highly colored fruits and vegetables. They not only look better on the table, but look better when the can is opened and its succulent contents retaining their full color are reflected in its shiny sides. The empty can has a mellow glow which seems somehow to add to this succulence, and makes the housewife come back for more.

Vegetables and Fruits

The vegetables which can be obtained in these sanitary enameled cans now include beans, beets, Brussels sprouts, cabbage, cauliflower, corn, hominy, onions, peas, pimientos, pumpkin, squash, succotash and sweet potatoes.

The fruits include apple butter, blackberries, cherries, coconut, cranberries, figs (Texas), fruits for salad, grapes, green olives, loganberries, prunes, raspberries, rhubarb, strawberries and wine fruit salad.

Fish, Specialties, Meat, Soup

The fish and shellfish include caviar, clams, cod fish, crabs, haddock ("Finnan Haddock"), lobsters, sardines in mustard sauce and shrimps.

Specialties include catsup, cheese, clam cakes, clam juice, fruit-butters, grape juice, jam, Japanese crabmeat, jelly, lobster paste, molasses, orange juice, spiced and pickled fruits, sweet and sour pickles, tomato juice and whole squab.

The only meat is boiled tripe, but the soups include chicken broth, chicken creamed soup, clam broth and clam chowder.

DEBORAH, A LEADER IN A NATIONAL EMERGENCY

LESSON TEXT—Judges 4-14.
GOLDEN TEXT—Day to them that are of a fearful heart, be strong, fear not: behold, your God will come with vengeance, even God with a recompense; he will come and save you.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Deborah a Brave Woman.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Deborah a Brave Woman.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Notable Women Patriots.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Woman's Influence in Community and National Affairs.

The book of Judges covers the period from the conquest of Canaan and death of Joshua to the judgeship of Samuel. While Joshua and the elders of his generation lived, the people in some measure remained faithful to God, but the very next generation went into apostasy. Their declension may be accounted for by:

1. Their failure to drive out the Canaanites when they took possession of the land. Their failure to carry out this command of God was their undoing.
2. Their amalgamation with the Canaanites. Their tolerance of the heathen about them was quickly followed by union in marriage.
3. Idolatry. Their intermarriage with the heathen was followed by worship of the heathen gods.

In order to teach this lesson intelligently it is necessary that the teacher have a grasp of the book of Judges from which it is taken. In chapter 2:6-19 is given a synopsis of the book. Observe (1) The sin of the people (vv. 6-13), (2) God's judgment for their sin (vv. 14, 15), (3) Their repentance (3:9), (4) God delivers them at the hands of the Judges (vv. 16-19). A repetition of sin, oppression by the enemy, repentance, and deliverance, is the story of the book of Judges.

1. The National Emergency (vv. 1-3).
1. Lapse into idolatry (v. 1).
Ehud was not only a righteous but a strong ruler. Under his judgeship, freedom had been enjoyed for many years. As soon as he was dead the people turned away from God.
2. The bondage of the people (v. 2).
The Lord abandoned them to be oppressed by Jabin, king of Canaan.
3. The people cried unto God (v. 3).
Affliction brought them to their senses.

- II. The Judgeship of Deborah (vv. 4-10).

The great national emergency confronting Israel was met by a woman named Deborah. Her name means "Bee." As suggested by another, she exemplified her name by her industry, sagacity and great service to the public.

1. The place where she judged Israel (v. 5).
It was under a palm tree. She held an open air court for the administration of justice.

2. Her method (vv. 6-10). (1) Her summons to Barak (vv. 6, 7). Barak means "lightning." Deborah, being a prophetess, was able to select a man whose gifts would enable him to rally the forces needed to gain victory over the formidable foe. Deborah gave definite instruction as to the number of men and the strategy to be employed, assuring him that God would deliver Sisera into his hand. (2) Barak's reply (v. 8). He expressed an unwillingness to go unless Deborah would go with him. (3) Barak rebuked (vv. 9, 10). Deborah yielded to his request, but made it plain to him that it would detract from his honor as a conqueror, "for the Lord shall sell Sisera into the hand of a woman."

- III. The Defeat of Jabin's Army (vv. 11-16).

Sisera, the captain, gathered a mighty army and went forth, confident of victory over the ill-equipped and undisciplined army of Barak, but he made one sad mistake—he did not consider that it was the Lord's battle (v. 15). Through supernatural interposition the enemy became panic-stricken (25:20).

- IV. Sisera Killed by a Woman (vv. 17-24).

In his flight Sisera took refuge in Jael's tent. In the guise of friendship she committed a most heinous murder after inviting him into her dwelling.

- V. The Song of Deborah and Barak (ch. 5).

This song was composed and sung in celebration of the marvelous victory which God had wrought. Deborah set forth in the most definite way that the secret of victory was the help of God.

FOR BETTER TIMES

Next to the weather, the chief topic of conversation around Fulton these days has to do with conditions that have come about since Wall Street went crazy. We read a lot on the subject, but much of it can be set down as the harping of idlers who would not work at a job if they had employment. Others, more serious-minded, are trying to point the way to better times.

A few days ago this statement appeared in many daily papers over Calvin Coolidge's signature: "If those who are working and have the means would pay all their retail merchandise bills, and in addition purchase what they need and can afford, a healthy commerce would quickly be created. Our nation has plenty of resources to support all its people comfortably through a mutual exchange of products if everyone will do his part. Those who have employment now run the risk of losing it by refraining from buying and paying within their means. No one who has the money can afford to postpone paying his bills. Paying them now will bring better conditions than we can bring about in any other way."

That is a sensible man's recipe for making things better and getting things back to normal—pay your bills to the other fellow can pay his. Buy whatever you can afford to buy and pay cash for it as far as you can. This will put money into circulation, and are the things everyone in the community should do if they want to make conditions better, or if they want to keep them from growing any worse.

MARRIED TEACHERS

The question of whether or not married teachers should be employed in the public schools of the country has bobbed up again. We note in a Washington dispatch the government's attention has been called to discriminations said to be shown in several sections. It seems that in recent years the old method of hiring teachers on their merit has been lost sight of to a great extent. Today unmarried teachers, through their state associations, are arguing that the married teacher is not in position to give her undivided attention to the work, and for that reason cannot teach properly. But the married teachers argue they have a right to appointment, and that then if they do not "deliver the goods" it is easy enough to remove them. To us it appears a question for each community to settle for itself. Our school officials in and around Fulton have been doing that very successfully for a long time, and we see no reason why the agitation should be given recognition in this community.

LEARNING TO SWIM

Fulton mothers are justified in being strict with their boys in the matter of letting them patronize "the old swimming hole." But we want to plead again, as we have in the past, that they use a little judgment in the matter and not go too far along this line. Every boy should learn to swim, and the earlier in life he learns the better for him. Of course, he should be in the company of older boys, or better still with his father or brother of more years, when he starts in to learn. And he should be in the company of older boys when he is near deep water even after he has learned. But to prevent a boy from mastering this art is to rob him of a protection that he may some day need and need badly. No man has lost anything by knowing how to look after his safety, or the safety of others, while in the water. Since few learn to swim after they reach manhood, it follows that they should be encouraged to do so while they are young. Don't let the boy deliberately court danger in the water. But don't at the same time, handicap him by keeping him from learning, in a safe way, one of the things every boy and girl, man and woman should know—the art of swimming.

GIVE THEM WATER

Everybody is now interested in keeping cool and comfortable. In fact most of us are devoting so much thought to the subject that we are apt to forget that human beings are not the only ones to suffer from torrid summer suns. It's just as hard on dumb brutes. They suffer, too, even though they can't get around and tell everybody about it and add to the general misery by broadcasting their complaints.

One thing especially we should not lose sight of is the need for seeing that water is placed where the family dog can get a drink any time he wants one. Medical men declare that rabies in dogs are caused from failure to place drinking water where it will be handy for them. They "go mad" from thirst, and their bite when in that condition is usually fatal. Children are their usual victims, since the little ones do not realize their danger and cannot protect themselves.

Fulton citizens should not look on the mad-dog theory as a myth. It is very real, as newspaper dispatches from other sections of the country have shown in recent weeks. It is borne out by medical science, and hydrophobia fatalities are quite numerous along about this season every year. Don't deprive your dog of drinking water, even though it may inconvenience you a little to provide it. It is a protection you owe the community, and even from the dog's standpoint it is only a humane act to see that he gets plenty of drinking water during the hot days on ahead.

THIEVES IN AUTOS

Have you noticed how fields, woods and farms along the highways are gradually getting fenced in, so that the motorist who would like to stop in a nice shady grove to eat lunch often looks long before finding an opening? The motorists themselves are to blame. Farmers are fencing in their property, at considerable expense, for their own protection. Many motorists have long made it a practice to rob fields, groves, gardens and orchards of anything that struck their fancy. They act as if they did not realize that taking vegetables, fruit, nuts and the like from private grounds is stealing, just as much as if the farmer came to the town man's door and took off the door knob and carried it away. These motorists pretend to think there is "no harm" in taking these things, but would they take them in the presence of the owner? In the meantime they are getting all the highways strictly fenced off to themselves. No such fences have been built along the railroads.

Shelf Fishing

FISHING calls for patience, but not so much of it if you're just fishing a can off the pantry shelf. And where else can you catch anchovies, clams, codfish, crabs, crawfish, haddock, herrings, lobster, mackerel, salmon, sardines, shad, shrimps, tuna fish, and even turtles, all in one place? Just a twist of the wrist with a can opener, and you can have any of these fine products before you without any tedious waiting or a bit of sunburn. That's one of the luxuries of modern life.

Another luxury is the fact that so many good recipes have been devised for the use of these products that your only problem is to choose between them. Try, for instance, this recipe:

Tuna Loaf with Celery Sauce: Shred the contents of one 7-ounce can of tuna fish, and add two slightly beaten eggs. Add one cup of bread crumbs, three tablespoons milk and salt and pepper. Put in a buttered loaf-pan, and steam or bake forty-five minutes. Turn out and serve with a sauce made by heating undiluted one can of celery soup. This serves four.

A Tasty Pudding

Corn and Salmon Pudding: Mix in the following order the contents of a No. 2 can of corn, one tablespoon melted butter, one-half teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper, one small can salmon and one tablespoon heavy cream or evaporated milk. Be careful not to break up the salmon too finely. Bake in a buttered baking dish in a moderate oven (350°) thirty minutes. Serves eight.

POULTRY

(By J. T. Watkins)

I don't know if the readers have missed this column the last two weeks or not. But on account of illness and confinement in the Paducah hospital I have been unable to write this column, but now I am back on the job again so will try and keep it going again.

Speaking about the hospital, it is a very nice place to stay when you are sick but they seem to think you don't want to eat much. I lost ten pounds in my weight while I was sick—don't know if it was the diet or just plain sickness that caused the loss, anyhow I lost it.

By the time you read this article you will have gotten your premium list of the fair, and read it over. Now get busy and pick out the chickens you want to enter in the show and groom them so they will be in good shape. And another thing, the more you handle your birds the gentler they become and will pose for the judge and that goes a long way when the competition is keen.

Indications point to a large class of Buff Orpingtons. Mrs. D. J. Perry has always been having her own way in the buffs, but this year she will have to be on her toes for there are three or four buff breeders who have signified their intention of showing.

As usual there will be a big string of barred rocks. Most of the old exhibitors will show again, and there are several new ones who think they have the best birds in this locality. So here will be another class that will give the judge something to ponder over.

After the judge has rested from this big class she will have about four more big classes to wade into. The White Plymouth Rock class and the White Wyandotte class will be almost as large as the barred rocks, and when she gets into the Rhode Island Reds, she will have a job on her hands. Then the White Leghorn class should stage a comeback this year and exceed the number entered last year. The Black Minorca class in past years has been one of the largest classes but last year they fell down. Dr. Luten and Sam Holt did not show last year but possibly they will be back again this year. There are really some extra good Black Minorcas in this town and surrounding country, and I would like to see them all in and have a big class.

The rabbit breeders are also making big preparations for a big show. While there will be no money prizes offered on rabbits, the breeders are willing to put on the show to let the people of this community know there are quite a large bunch of rabbits being raised around here. They expect to have 75 or a 100 rabbits in the show.

When the stork brings twins to a home it attracts quite an amount of interest also starts the man of the house to wondering how he is going to finance the outfit, but the other day the stork came to visit Earnest Carver out in the McFadden precinct, but Earnest is not worrying for he says he will make more money out of the deal. The stork brought twin calves, so he will have two veals to sell instead of one.

Well, I figured on winning the automobile last week, and was going to paint on the side "White Feather Farm", but the Goddess of Chance was not favorable to me, so you won't see our auto on the streets for awhile longer.

The time is getting short now until the fair and you breeders haven't been in and paid your dues yet. Why put it off? Get in line so you will help boost the show. We should have 100 poultry raisers willing to pay one dollar for a year's dues to help boost the chicken game, and to date we have about ten. Shame on you.

ROADS RENDERED PUNCTURE PROOF

Three Large Magnets Patrol Missouri Highways.

Missouri motorists are being saved about $500 a day in expense and grief from punctures.

That is the state highway department's estimate of the value of three 900-pound magnets attached to a two-ton truck which patrols gravel roads of the state.

Remove Cause of Puncture.

Potential causes of punctures thus are cleared off Missouri roads in wholesale amounts. Usually a day's run, with the truck covering about 50 miles of road surface, brings an average of 112 pounds of miscellaneous metal—nails, bolts, springs, staples, tin cans and scrap iron.

On the assumption that the magnets' work prevents 1,000 punctures a day, C. P. Owens, maintenance engineer of the highway department, says the outfit means a saving of at least $500 a day to motorists, figuring each puncture's cost at 50 cents.

With one magnet hanging from the rear of the truck, and two others at the sides, the truck can clean a strip of road surface from seven to eight feet wide.

Operating Apparatus.

The operating apparatus consists of a 110-volt compound wound generator equipped with panel, voltmeter, ammeter, automatic discharge switch and powered by a five horse power gasoline engine, all mounted on the truck.

Experiments have shown the magnets operate efficiently when adjusted to a height of four inches above the road surface, with the truck moving at ten or twelve miles an hour.

It is necessary to "demagnetize" every four or five miles to clear off the magnets' collection.

Speed Motorways Vision of Traffic Authority

Prediction that within the next quarter century all major centers of population will be connected via high-speed motorways, such as is now proposed to be constructed between New York and New Haven, Conn., was made recently by W. L. Hinds, traffic authority.

"The rapid motorization of entire members of the American family, which is adding many thousands of new cars on our roads every month, is making such high-speed motorways not only necessary but imperative," Mr. Hinds states. "A street or highway, like a railroad trackage system, can only carry up to a certain maximum traffic charge, and when this is exceeded, congestion, delay and off-entire injury result. Authorities estimate that even at the present time existing traffic congestion is costing this nation approximately $2,000,000 a year."

Pressure Reading Does Not Determine Quantity

It does not pay at any time to accept the pressure reading on the dash oil gauge as final on the amount of lubricant in the crankcase. This is particularly true in the summer.

The gauge is an efficient mechanism but it is not devised to record the amount of oil. To determine accurately, the gauge under the oil filter pipe should be read. This should not be construed as reflecting on the dash gauge. It is designed to record oil pressure not oil quantity. There is a great difference.

Curing Leaky Exhaust

Valve Guides on Motor

The operation of a gasoline motor is not affected by leaky exhaust valve guides unless the wear is so bad that the valves do not properly seat, but leaky inlet guides cause irregular running at slow speeds and make it impossible to get the motor to idle smoothly. The illustration shows a way to eliminate this trouble. A light spring is fitted over the valve stem and a felt or leather washer is fitted on the stem with a hole that will just allow the valve stem to slide.

It is a good idea to place a thin metal washer between the spring and the felt, although this washer is not shown in the illustration. The light spring will keep the washer pressing against the top of the guide and prevent air leakage and the consequent spoiling of the mixture. This suggestion should prove useful on old cars where the expense of new valve guides is not justified.—Popular Science Monthly.

AUTOMOBILE HINTS

The object of cooling devices on brakes is to prevent "fading" after long steady use.

$15,000 BOND EXECUTED
BY BALLARD COUNTY FARMER

James Stahl, 40 years old, Ballard county farmer residing near Lovelaceville, was arrested Monday on a charge of shooting to death Will Hammond, 70 years old, who was a tenant on his place. The examining trial was called by County Judge Walter Tanner, at the Wickliffe courthouse.

Testimony of a number of witnesses was heard.

The second witness called was James Hammond, young son of the slain man. Hammond said he fired birdshot at Stahl after the latter shot his father. He said Stahl chased him from the house and into a field, and only gave up the chase when Hammond stumbled and fell.

Stahl has been under bond since the death of Hammond, on Saturday night, July 13. A guard has been retained to stay with Stahl until his examining trial. The defendant has been recuperating from wounds caused by a spray of bird-shot. He was shot immediately after he is alleged to have pumped several bullets into the body of Hammond on July 13. James Hammond, son of the slain man, is said to have fired the birdshot, but no charge has been preferred against him.

Stahl executed bond of $15,000 for his appearance before the grand jury this fall.

COUNTY HEALTH DEPARTMENT ACTIVE

Included among the various activities of the County Health Department of the past few weeks has been the physical examination of the employees of the Fulton dairies, laboratory tests were made for tuberculosis and intestinal parasites also a complete blood analysis made on all the persons having anything to do with the milk supply in an effort to make the milk used here safe. All the dairy cows will also be tested for tuberculosis.

Due to the excessive heat wave the child health conferences held in Hickman and Fulton the first of the month were not well attended. Ten rural schools were visited last week. The toilets and conditions of screens in the schools were inspected by Captain Johnson, the sanitary inspector, and a sample of their drinking water taken to send to the state laboratory. Dr. Prather and Mrs. Douglas gave health talks on malaria and good health habits and vaccinated all those not having a successful vaccination scar.

Thirteen children were examined at Walnut Grove school and twelve were found to have physical defects, four children needed dental correction, three had bad tonsils and nine out of the thirteen children were over seven percent under-weight and one defective heart case was found. The only child eligible for a blue ribbon was Dorothy Rice. Decayed teeth paved the way for rheumatism and various other diseases later on in life and the undernourished child is frequently anemic, nervous and maybe tubercular, so should be taken to the family doctor for a complete physical examination.

AVERY CHAMPION MOWERS

All that the name implies—

If you've ever wanted a mowing machine that would do the job easier, better and keep right on season after season, here it is—the Avery Champion.

Regular or Vertical Lift

The Avery Champion cuts all kinds of grass under all normal conditions. It has tremendous cutting power and lasting power. No lost motion in the pitman, and the knife and the pitman are always kept in perfect alignment—assured.

The Avery Champion is made with either the Regular or Vertical lift. Both machines have the same valuable features with the exception that the Vertical lift enables you to cut around trees and places where there are stumps and stones with the least possible effort.

One or Two Horse

Avery Champions are built with either wood or steel pitman and are obtainable at your dealer's in one or two horse models. They have behind them more than a century of experience in the making of America's leading hay making machinery, and every Champion can be depended upon to deliver long, enduring service at least cost to you.

Before buying any mowing machine, look into the Avery Champion. It has won the approval of thousands of none-too-easily-satisfied farmers, and is sure to please you in every way.

EXCEPTIONAL SALADS

We all want salads in summer. They form a cool and refreshing part of the diet, and furnish mineral salts and vitamins. Here's a hearty one to be served from a buffet table to people who come in hungry from outdoor sports.

Turkey, Sweetbread and Pineapple Salad: Toss together lightly one cup cold diced turkey, one cup cold diced sweetbreads, one-half cup white grapes, skinned and seeded, and one-half cup diced pineapple. Season with salt and pepper, and moisten slightly with mayonnaise. Pile on a large chop plate or in a big salad bowl well garnished with lettuce. This recipe will serve eight people.

Financier's Luncheon Salad: Cut cold rare roast beef in thin, small shavings, drain a can of stringless beans, and slice one cucumber very thin. Marinate the meat, beans, cucumbers and some canned artichoke hearts separately in French dressing very thoroughly before serving. Then pile the beef in a lettuce leaf in center of plate, and surround with three small leaves holding a spoonful each of the three vegetables.

Salads Including Nuts

Pea, Cheese and Nut Salad: Drain two cups of canned peas, and marinate thoroughly in one-fourth cup French dressing. Drain. Add one-half cup diced American cheese, and one-half cup chopped nuts, mix with mayonnaise, and serve on lettuce.

Grapefruit and Almond Salad: Toss together lightly the contents of one No. 2 can grapefruit, one cup shredded blanched almonds, one-half cup chopped dates, one-fourth cup preserved ginger, and one green pepper cut in rings. Dress with French dressing made with grapefruit juice instead of vinegar. Serve in lettuce nests and garnish with tiny hearts cut out of canned pimiento.

A Fine Fruit Salad

Witch Salad was devised for Halloween, but it tastes equally good any other day in the year. To make it, mix one cup chopped apple, one cup chopped celery, and one-half cup chopped dates, and moisten well with mayonnaise. Arrange a mound of this mixture in the center of a bed of shredded lettuce. Over each invert a soft peach, rounded side up, from a No. 2½ can of peaches. On each peach make a face, using whole cloves for eyes and nose and narrow strips of canned pimiento for the mouth. Pass extra mayonnaise with the salad. This recipe will serve eight.

Some Salmon Salads

Salmon and Rice Salad with Deviled Eggs: Mix together very gently, so as not to mash, the contents of a No. 1 can of salmon, one cup boiled rice and one and one-half cups sliced celery. Marinate fifteen minutes in French dressing. Add one tablespoon capers, one-fourth cup chopped sweet pickles, and one-fourth cup sliced radishes, and moisten slightly with mayonnaise. Arrange in a large bowl lined with lettuce, mark with mayonnaise, and arrange eight deviled egg halves around the edge. This recipe will serve eight.

Spiced Salmon in Cucumber Routs: Mash the contents of one large can of salmon. Boil three-fourths cup vinegar, twelve whole cloves, twelve pepper-corns, six allspice berries, and one-eighth teaspoon salt two minutes. Pour hot over the salmon, and let stand several hours. Drain and serve cold in cucumber boats, or on lettuce garnished with sliced cucumbers. This recipe will serve eight.
