Early Diagnosis

The sooner consumption is discovered the fewer will be the sufferings and the less contagious it will be. If you have any of the following symptoms:

1. The patient is pale. The skin is cold. The breath may be noticed. The pulse is rapid and weak.

2. The voice is husky and breathy. The patient becomes weak and faltering.

3. The patient coughs and sneezes frequently. The sputum may be blood-stained.

4. The patient has a feverish condition. The temperature may be taken at any time of the day. It is not necessarily increased in the evening.

A healthy individual may have these symptoms, but they are not so pronounced.

The symptoms are similar to those of influenza, but influenza is not contagious.

the legislature, the report would be of interest in the present economic question, and it is to be hoped that the committee on economic questions will use its influence with the legislature to secure the submission of the report to the public for its consideration. The report is expected to be submitted to the public within the next few weeks.

Last evening a most interesting session was held by the local branch of the American Historical Society in this city, conducted by Mr. James Smith of Second and Broad street. The discussion was on the subject of "The Early History of the United States." The meeting was attended by a large number of people, and the discussion was carried on in a lively and stimulating manner.

The organization is one in which the public men can use their influence and their knowledge for the benefit of the country. It is a splendid example of what can be done by the people themselves, and it is to be hoped that other cities will follow the example of this city in organizing similar organizations.

There is nothing Cheryl in the school that cannot be done, and we have seen the school board the six months that we have been here, and we have found that they have been doing an excellent work. The school board has been making improvements, and we believe that they will continue to do so.

The school board has been making improvements, and we believe that they will continue to do so.

Miss Alice Blythe will have many more interesting and instructive courses in this city, and we are sure that they will be enjoyed by all.

In closing, we wish to express our appreciation of the work that is being done by the school board, and we hope that they will continue to do so.
