THE LISTENING POST

● In recent years it seems that Fulton has not been a good enough town for division headquarters of the Illinois Central System, but it gives many of us a lot of fun in seeing the Illinois Central officials pick Fulton boys for division superintendents. Not long ago the Mississippi Division was assigned to Tom Williams, who served in the local office of the old Tennessee Division for a dozen years and who went South when his brother, Hub, was made superintendent of the division. Tom served with distinction on the division in Mississippi and was made acting superintendent when Supt. Caulfield was stricken with illness. Shortly after the death of the latter he became superintendent of that division. Soon after that Supt. Kern became ill on the Kentucky Division, and a week or so ago retired. In casting about for a successor the Illinois Central picked Tom Williams, the Water Valley boy who grew up in Fulton and he now is at the head of one of the biggest divisions on the Illinois Central. He'll do a good job, too, for the Williams family is made up of railroaders who know their business.

● Nor is that all the story. Meanwhile another young fellow who has served the Illinois Central in many capacities, has been doing very well by himself on the North-eastern divisions. I am talking about Old Willingham, who served here for some time and who was transferred to Council Bluffs some years ago. He remained there for a while and was then promoted to the Illinois Division, with headquarters in Chicago. On July 1 he will become superintendent of that big division. Old is a Fulton boy, born and bred, with railroad in his blood, and the best manner a man ever had. A long time ago I picked him for big things with the system and since that time he has been marching straight ahead to one promotion after another. He has the stuff to go still farther and I confidently expect him to land in the general offices of Chicago before he is fifty years old. Nor will I be any way surprised if Tom Williams goes right along with him, for both of them have the stuff which takes a man far.

● Looking back over the years I remember many men who worked in the old railroad offices here at one time or another and who have gone far with the Illinois Central and other railroads. If we could ever stage a reunion of all the old-timers who worked on the Tennessee Division and who have gone on up the ladder, we would have some of the biggest men in railroading as our guests. It seems to me, and perhaps I am prejudiced a little, that the local railroad office was the training ground for some of the biggest men in the Illinois Central System. Perhaps other sections did as well, but I happen to know more about those who went up from Fulton. I do know that some of the best men the line has served time here in Fulton, and these last two men will prove worthy in every respect of those who have gone before.

● Some great railroad history has been written in the old building which housed the Tennessee Division, and while that is all past history and water over the dam and long gone, we people in Fulton still take a pride in the big railroad men we have had a part in training and a lot of pride in the men who are now filling big places with the Illinois Central whom we knew in the long ago. The old Tennessee Division had a reputation of being either a man killer or a man maker. The weaklings did not last long on the old Tennessee and the strong always forged to the front. For it was big railroading on the Tennessee. We had no mountains, but we had some bad rivers which caused a lot of trouble, and we had lots of trains and tight schedules and big terminals and all that, and the old division either broke a man or it made him.

CIO Machinists Consider Going Back To Yards

AFL Strikers Vote To Return To Jobs; Gypsum Strike Begins

CIO machinist considered yesterday whether to go along with AFL machinists in calling off the strike at San Francisco shipyards. A meeting of the CIO strikers was called after an announcement that the AFL men, at a meeting Wednesday night, had voted 5 to 1 to return to work Monday and negotiate a contract later.

The vote broke the lines of a strike begun May 10 when about 1,200 AFL and 600 CIO machinists walked out at 11 San Francisco shipyards and drydocks holding $500,000,000 of defense orders.

Meantime, a strike of CIO workers began in 13 plants of the United States Gypsum Company. R. W. Hanson, national director for the Gypsum Workers Organizing Committee, said 4,000 workers had joined in a walkout and were demanding 10 cents increase in hourly wages, scales now ranging from 62½ to 95 cents.

Sperry Strikes Threat Of deep concern to defense officials was a threatened strike at the Sperry Gyroscope Company, Incorporated, of Brooklyn. A walkout of 6,000 employees was threatened by the Brotherhood of Scientific Instrument Workers if an agreement with the management is not reached by July 1.

A possibility that the strike might be averted was seen in continued negotiations between management and union officials.

Strike Reputation May Prevent Towns From Getting Plants

Washington. — Communities noted for strikes and other labor disturbances may find themselves unable to get new defense orders and plant locations under a government policy disclosed today.

Donald M. Nelson, purchasing director for the Office of Production Management, testifying before a House appropriations subcommittee, said the OPM "very definitely" takes into consideration labor difficulties and interferences in placing orders and locating new manufacturing facilities.

"If that sort of thing has gone on in certain communities, they would

Funeral For Jim Hicks To Be Tomorrow

Heart Attack Is Fatal To Farmer Of Beeleron Community

Funeral services for Jim Hicks, 72-year-old farmer of the Beeleron community, who died yesterday afternoon at the Fulton hospital, will be held Saturday morning at 11 o'clock at the Mt. Zion Presbyterian church. Rev. Powles will be in charge of the services and burial by the Hornbeak Funeral Home will be in the church cemetery. The body will remain at the residence until funeral time.

Mr. Hicks, who suffered a heart attack Wednesday afternoon, had apparently been in good health before. He was actively engaged in farming at the time of his death and was one of the best loved residents of the Beeleron community, where he had lived all of his life. He belonged to one of the pioneer families of this section and was held in esteem by a large host of friends and neighbors. Always active in church and community affairs, his death is a great loss to the community. He was a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, holding membership at Mt. Zion and he was a former Deacon in this church.

He was married to Cora Elliott, who survives, and to this union were born two children, Mrs. Ruth Phelps, who preceded him in death six years ago, and Jesse Hicks, who lives North of Fulton. Besides his widow and son, Mr. Hicks is survived by two brothers, Sam Hicks and Huley Hicks, both of whom reside in the Beeleron neighborhood. Miss Jean Hicks and David Ward Phelps, both of near Fulton and Rupert Phelps of Detroit. One great-grandchild, Gerald Phelps of Detroit also survives.

SCHEDULE SHORTENED

The First Methodist Church announces a summer schedule of services effective today. All services will be shortened fifteen minutes, the morning congregation being dismissed at 11:45, the evening congregation at 8:15 and the Wednesday night audience at 8:00 o'clock.

Concerning the Summer schedule the pastor stated, "The Master said long prayers were not a sign of piety, and it is equally true long services do not indicate devotion. Hundreds of our people are devoutly attentive to their religious devotions and Church obligations. They are faithful in season and out. Over 100 are attending Prayer meeting each Wednesday night, many of them coming from work without their evening meal.

In this country sensible people slow down in July and August. There will be other years to work, and those who refuse to obey nature's laws during "dog days" soon find themselves unfitted to meet the demands of the years before them. The last fifteen minutes of the service create the prickly heat under the collar and the uncomfortable feeling around the waist, and prickly heat is to be avoided if possible. We believe we are intelligent, and none the less religious, when we announce all worship services shortened fifteen minutes during the hot weather."

Movie Glamour Boys Preparing For Army, Navy Jobs, If Called

Hollywood. — Movie glamour boys still burn the midnight oil, but not always in the night clubs.

Correspondence courses linked with national defense are keeping several of erstwhile bright lights contingent humped over desks into the early hours.

Ronald Reagan, for example, is a second lieutenant in the cavalry reserve, subject to call at any time. Pending nights on a war department course in tactical problems.

Wayne Morris, who once called every nighty doorman in town by his first name, is an ensign in the naval reserve and is due to report in a week or so at the end of deferment granted to finish a picture.

Robert Cummings, a captain in the air corps reserve, turns his spare time talents to aerial navigation and meteorology. He, too, is subject to immediate call.

Stirling Hayden holds a master's license, but because he didn't attend college, he's ineligible for a naval reserve commission without strict examination. So a mathematics book is his companion many evenings.

Even Franchot Tone, once a notable playboy, is spending much extra time in intensive camera work to be fit, if called, for the aerial photography branch.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Ruthie Moore of Crutchfield; one brother, Orvin Moore of Fulton; three sisters, Mrs. Carl Phillips, Mrs. Clyde Veatch, Mrs. Macon Shelton and Miss Reva Moore, all of Crutchfield.

Funeral arrangements will be announced in tomorrow's issue of The Leader.

HENDERSON SAYS OFFICE FORCED TO TAKE OVER AUTOMOBILE PRICING

Washington. — Announcing that Chrysler Corporation had refused to rescind a recent price advance, Price Administrator Leon Henderson asserted tonight that the company's action "is forcing us to take the pricing of automobiles out of the hands of the industry."

Henderson said that plans would be pushed "immediately to establish a complete overall price ceiling for new automobile models," and that this would include not only manufacturers' prices and dealers' mark-up, but probably would be extended also to trade-in values.

The price chief said that because of Chrysler's refusal he was releasing the smaller independents from his request that they rescind price advances, but that a request to the Ford Motor Company still was pending. He praised the Packard Company for its action in delaying a proposed increase at the request of the Office of Price Administration and Civilian Supply.

STATE INCOME IS EXPECTED TO DROP 3 MILLION DOLLARS

Frankfort, Ky. — Kentucky's general fund income in 1941-42 will drop $3,000,000 from the present fiscal year, the state revenue department estimated today, because of the "economic repercussions" of the international situation.

Submitting revised estimates of revenue to State Finance Commissioner J. Dan Talbott, revenue commissioner H. Clyde Reeves said in an accompanying letter:

"It is recommended that the commonwealth should plan on receiving nearly $27,000,000 plus approximately $1,500,000 from fees and miscellaneous sources. x x x Because of the uncertainty, the estimate is conservative. Despite this, revenues might fall considerably below estimates. The department of revenue believes though that the changes of receipts exceeding this estimate slightly outweighed the chances of not realizing these expectations."

Reeves' estimate of general fund revenue was $29,944,615. Up to the close of business yesterday, receipts of the fund for the current fiscal year, which ends June 30 totaled $30,031,094.17.

U. S. Navy To Use Old Ships As Gun And Bomb Targets

Washington. — President Roosevelt signed an act Wednesday giving the Navy authority to shoot, bomb, torpedo or sink its own aged or obsolete vessels as part of national defense training.

Previous law required the Navy to sell such ships at public auction but Secretary of Navy Knox asked Congress to authorize use of these vessels for experimental purposes, including target practice.

The Navy said the provision "will permit naval personnel to obtain more realistic training in the control of naval gunfire, bombs and torpedoes than can be obtained from the use of artificial targets."

Russia Told Requests To Be Quickly Noted

Roosevelt's Program Of Aid To Soviet Finds Little Opposition

Washington. — The United States informed the Russian ambassador today that it would give immediate attention to any request from the Soviets for aid against Germany.

The ambassador, Constantine Oumansky, called on Summer Welles, undersecretary of state, to advise him officially about the "predatory attack of Nazi Germany."

Afterward it was learned that Welles stated that any request for help would be given favorable consideration as possible.

The Russian envoy in a jovial mood met newspapermen in a State Department corridor and made this statement:

"I called on acting Secretary Welles to officially notify him of the predatory attack of Nazi Germany upon my country and received from the secretary a clear answer as to the attitude of the government of the United States toward this attack and as to the future relations between the United States and the U. S. S. R."

"The acting secretary made it clear that all questions deriving from the German attack on the Soviet Union will receive immediate and friendly attention of the United States government."

Oumansky refused to comment when asked whether he had brought any request for aid.

Buel Nicholas Dies In East

Former Fulton Man Is Brother Of Mrs. Smoot Morris

Buel Nicholas, 46 years old, died at a veteran's hospital in the Bronx, New York City, at 2 a. m. Thursday. Nicholas, who was born May 23, 1895 in this city, was reared and educated here. He later moved to Cape Girardeau where he was employed with a Frisco section force for a short time, prior to the war.

Nicholas, a son of W. L. Nicholas, was a government guard at an Army base in Brooklyn for eight years prior to his death. Mr. Nicholas was not married. He was in the Army during the first World War, having gone into the service from Cape County. He was later a sergeant, serving mainly in the Hawaiian Islands. His enlistment was from 1930 to 1933. He was an able machine gunner, serving in that capacity more than 20 months overseas in the World War.

He is survived by his father; four brothers, Clyde, Fred, and Harry of Cape Girardeau, J. W. of Tampa, Fla.; two sisters, Mrs. George Fulbright, Cape Girardeau; and Mrs. Smoot Morris of Louisville.

Nicholas will be remembered by a large number of Fultonians who will regret to learn of his death.

Funeral services will be conducted at Cape Girardeau at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

GERMANY HERALDS ITS SUCCESSES

Even Hitler's Germany cannot conduct a war in camera and so the curtain of censorship that has surrounded the campaign in Soviet Russia, for the last four days will be lifted today. The news-hungry people demand to know what is going on and a Government spokesman announces that successes "baffling the imagination" will be made known.

Continued silence could only be interpreted to mean that the powerful Nazi war machine had not scored any noteworthy victories. It had moved with speed and fury in nearly a half dozen directions but it had not come to grips with any large concentrations of the Red Army. It had smashed its way through field and forest and village but it was up against the immensity of Russia and its object, to destroy the legions of the Bolsheviks, had eluded it. That was the logical conclusion as the fall of the strategic fortress of Brest Litovsk was announced immediately after it had occurred and, no doubt, today's announcement may be taken with several grains of salt.

That the German war machine has moved with much the same rapidity as it moved in Poland and in France, however, is not to be doubted. The terrain, both flat and rolling, is well suited to mechanized warfare. The time of the assault was carefully chosen and Hitler weather prevails. The troops are veterans of many fields and the equipment is in top condition. Although superior in numbers, the Russians are inferior in tanks and planes, and artillery and far inferior in leadership. The Nazi war machine is unbeaten; the Soviet war machine is an unknown quantity.

But Russia has planned its campaign no less than Germany has planned its Blitzkrieg. Russia's strategy is retreat. Its fortifications are not a single Maginot Line but a series of forts running back a hundred miles from the old Russian border—fortifications in depth. If Germany has reached the first line—which apparently it hasn't—the fight has hardly begun and its initial successes are merely preliminary moves. —Courier-Journal.

WHAT WAR SETTLES

Is it an "evasion of thought" to say that "war never settles anything?" That is how Mr. Justice Frankfurter, speaking at the Radcliffe commencement, described this statement frequently made by Americans who want their country to stay out of the present conflict. He said:

"It simply is not true that 'war never settles anything.' The Civil War settled slavery. And this war will settle the quality of your lives and your children's lives."

It is useful to question such general statements—including the learned Justice's. Some of those who casually discard war need to look into history a bit as he was doing in the reference to the Civil War. Lincoln and all the others who suffered through it felt that it was necessary to preserve the Union. To be logical those who say war never settles anything should apply it not merely to "foreign war" but to the defense of America and disband the army. They might also paraphrase the statement and say,

"The police are useless, they never settle crime." Not to recognize this is indeed an "evasion of thought."

In fairness it should be recognized that many who use the phrase perceive that what men think governs what they do and that their thinking is changed by reason more than force. They can point out to Mr. Justice Frankfurter that slavery was really settled when men rejected it as unjust. He probably would agree that "the quality of your lives" will be settled by the kind of thinking done today—Which will itself determine the outcome of the war. One important need in that thinking is to avoid evasion of the fact that in the present stage of human progress, force is required to support justice and defend freedom.

through the audience which we concert goers, without further thought, are likely to attribute merely to the pleasant stimulus of expectancy.

Musicians, like all good workmen, always test and adjust their tools while enlivening their agile muscles for the work they are about to undertake. The small-throated aboe first speaks out, instantly but modestly. The strings then draw sombre and uncertain fifths and the flutes and clarinets volubly explore their fluent range, while deep grunts from the bases express their approval of the whole procedure.

It is conceivable that baseball spectators may—as may concert audiences—derive as much pleasure, if less excitement, from the players' warming-up exercises as from the actual game.

One can think of other examples. Musicians long associated produce very pleasing, and remarkably co-ordinated effects in their spontaneous warming-up. When the baton is raised, the several anarchic impulses of the performers are instantly unified under the will of the conductor. His vision and authority unite his subjects for a common purpose, and the concert then begins, for better or—as the appreciative Oriental thought—somewhat for the worse.

NEGRO COUNTERFEITS DIMES TO KEEP FROM STEALING; GETS TERM

St. Louis. — Justice does not always sympathize with even a wise chooser of the "lesser of two evils."

That's what Matthew Casey, Negro transient, discovered when he told U. S. District Judge Charles B. Davis he made counterfeit dimes to "keep from stealing."

"I'm a victim of circumstances," Your Honor," Casey explained. "I had to make counterfeit money to keep from stealing."

"Besides," he added, "I only used 'em to get good coins out of slot machines."

Judge Davis fined him $1 and gave him five years in prison.

RECENT BRIDE HONORED AT SHOWER

Mrs. Theodore Kramer, Jr., who was Miss Christine Cardwell before her marriage earlier this month, was complimented last evening with a miscellaneous shower, given by the Misses Elizabeth and Marie Ferguson at their home on Oak street.

The pink and green motif was beautifully carried out in the decorations with a profusion of summer flowers arranged throughout the rooms. The lace-draped table from which punch and cake was served, was centered with an arrangement of pastel flowers in a crystal carved bowl, flanked on either side by tall pink tapers, glowing in crystal holders.

Many lovely gifts were presented to Mrs. Kramer in a red wagon brought in by Helen Fay Cardwell, her sister, dressed in pink dotted swiss.

The guest of honor was beautifully attired in a frock of black and white sheer. Elizabeth received in a brown and white jersey and Marie wore a sport dress of dusty rose. They wore identical corsages of pink gladioli.

The hostesses were assisted in entertaining by their mother, Mrs. H. L. Ferguson, and Mrs. Arch Cardwell, mother of the honoree.

WOULD PLACE MERCHANT SHIPS ON WAR ECONOMY

Washington. — Senator Bailey (D-N.C.) said today it was necessary to put the entire American Merchant Marine on a "war economy" to cope with critical shortages of ships "both coast-wise and trans-oceanic."

The chairman of the Senate commerce committee said this could be accomplished under the merchant ship priorities bill pending before his committee after House approval.

"This is war economy as opposed to normal economy," he said to newsmen. "We must get a total effort without totalitarianism. We'll keep every ship busy, we'll build up our merchant marine and it will be strong for years."

Defense and maritime officials asked the drastic ship control leg-

Eight Extra Base Hits, With Two Homers, Beat Paducah

Booming Tiger hats again swamped Paducah here last night, as eighteen hits, including two homers and six extra base blows, brought in fifteen runs, while Bob Emrich was scattering eight hits to hold the Indians to three runs. Emrich went four hitless innings and only in the seventh did the Indians put their blows together for runs. In this inning they blasted in three runs, but Emrich held them in check after this, although the Indians kept threatening the remainder of the game. This game wound up the Paducah series, Fulton winning two out of three, and Union City moves into Fairfield tonight to start a three game series which will end Sunday. Union City is just a notch below Fulton, and the Tigers are tied for third place with Hopkinsville.

The game last night again revealed the glaring weakness of Paducah in pitching. Freeman started the game, and the Tigers clouted him for five runs in the opening inning. He managed to stagger through the second inning, but in the third the Tigers began scoring again and kept it up. Johnny Davis finally relieved him, but was unable to hold the Tigers, and Nash, a third baseman, finally finished the game.

Eight extra base blows featured the game, with Peterson and Faudem hitting for the circuit. Peterson's came with the bases empty, and one man scored ahead of Faudem. Peterson also had a double and Faudem a triple, while Walker crashed two doubles.

Two new players showed their wares in the game. Vicco, an outfielder-first baseman, played most of the game in left, finishing the game at first. He had two hits, one fluke and one hard single, while Litz caught a nice game and had one hit. Both were sent here from Muskegon, Detroit farm club.

FLEAS BITE TIGERS

The Fleas stretched their victories to eighteen yesterday when they defeated the East Fulton Tigers, 37-17. Lowe, the winning pitcher, was in good form and East Fulton had only six earned runs. Errors in the outfield were plentiful. Cummings and Lowe led the hitting, each getting four for six. Cummings played a swell defensive ball game.

Travis led the walks getting six for 7 times at bat and crossed the plate six times. Hassell hit a homer in the first inning and was walked the remainder of the game. Davis held down the first bag in rare form. Long was the losing pitcher, allowing 23 hits for a total of 37 runs. "Cassanova Pinhead" Byassee was lousy behind the plate as umpire.

The Fleas have chosen Cummings as best defensive player, having made only six errors the whole season; Ayers as best outfielder; Lowe as best pitcher, winning four and losing one. Travis lead the League in walks, having received 36. Davis was credited with being the craziest player the league has ever had, but this helped keep the Fleas on top. Byassee was chosen as the best hitter.

UNION CITY NEWS

Union City, Tenn. — A proposed budget for operation of schools and various departments of the county government has been prepared by the Union county budget committee and will be submitted to officers of Union County Court for adoption on July 7.

The budget, as prepared, fixes the county tax rate for the fiscal year beginning Sept. 1, 1941, at $2 on each $100 assessed valuation. This constitutes an increase of four cents over the rate for the present fiscal year. A further raise in the rate is seen if county court members are sympathetic regarding a petition seeking an additional levy to pay interest on $94,000 worth of bonds to be sold in a campaign to raise money for a school building construction and reconstruction program.

This extra levy would, however, include the four-cent levy already proposed, thus making an additional levy of one cent the only change above the proposed rate.

John W. Hart, Union City attorney, has been named by the city commission of Union City to succeed Joe Gwaltney as city attorney. Hart is a graduate of the University of Alabama and has practiced law here since 1934. Gwaltney resigned several weeks ago to accept a position in Washington.

LYNCH MOB RETURNS NEGRO BECAUSE OF LACK OF EVIDENCE

Deputy Sheriff Gus Lewis said that Eddie Lee Spivey, 28-year-old Negro suspect in an attempted assault on a 65-year-old farm woman, was taken away by a mob of more than 100 men that stormed the jail last night.

Spivey was returned to his cell and was held on a charge of attempted criminal assault.
