Hahn Elected Captain Of 1942 Grid Eleven

Lambert Chosen
Alternate; Koss,
Best Blocker

Most Improved Player Is Fuson

Jess Hahn, tackle, and Jack Lambert, back, both of LaPorte, Ind., were elected captain and alternate-captain respectively of the 1942 football squad of Murray State College at the annual grid banquet held in Wells Hall Saturday night, December 6. They succeed co-captains Pete Koss, quarterback, Moosup, Conn., and Jack Haines, end, South Bend, Ind.

By the vote of the players and the coaches, Pete Koss was awarded the medal given annually by Athletic Director Roy Stewart for "best blocking" during the football season. His name will be inscribed in a permanent plaque in the Health Building.

Head Coach Jim Moore established like precedent by awarding a similar trophy to Harold Fuson, center, Corbin, Ky., who was chosen by the coaches as the individual player whose performance showed the most improvement during the season. Moore said Fuson was selected first, with Busch Hendrickson, guard, from Jensen, Ky., and Leo Hutt, back, from Ogdensburg, N. Y., running him a close race.

The banquet program included the following: Rice Mountjoy, toastmaster; Dean W. G. Nash, invocation; Fred Shultz, address; Roy Stewart, announcement of blocking award; Pete Koss, announcement of new captains; Jim Moore, summary of season and announcement of "most improvement" award; President Richmond, remarks; Frosh Coach John Miller, presentation of freshmen squad; Warren Miller, grid announcer, remarks; men's quartet, music.

Captain-elect Jess Hahn, a junior, is a tough 215-pound tackle, 6 feet 1-1/2 inches tall. His tackle play this year has probably been unexcelled by any player on the same field with him. He is big, smart, good-natured, competent and incidentally, a good student.

Commander K. C. Huffman of the Naval Aviation Cadet Selection Board gave a lecture accompanied by the motion picture, "Eyes of the Navy," to the Murray CPT pilots Monday night, December 8, and to the student body in the college auditorium Tuesday afternoon, December 9.

Commander Huffman outlined the opportunities offered by the Navy, and listed the following general requirements for enlistment in the aviation phase of the Navy: applicant must be between the ages of 17 and 28, single, and able to pass a physical examination for naval aviation.

The following notice to seniors, issued by Dean W. G. Nash, was presented by Dr. Charles Hire, in charge of the Murray College CPT students, preceding Commander Huffman's lecture:

"Graduation without teacher's certification will be granted on regular schedule to seniors who find it necessary to omit some requirements for the purpose of taking Pilot Training during the spring semester. Necessary substitutions and changes will be made in all cases where a requirement will not have been fulfilled because of pilot training during the spring. Seniors affected by this announcement should confer with Dr. Nash immediately."

AMERICAN WAY OF LIFE IS PRAISED BY RABBI RAUCH

Louisville Man Is Chapel Speaker at Murray State

Rabbi Joseph Rauch, representing the Jewish Chautauqua Society of Louisville under the auspices of the National Federation of Temple Brotherhoods, addressed the student body on the subject, "The American Way of Life," in the regular chapel here December 10.

Rabbi Rauch gave an account of most of his early life in America. He told of arriving in 1892 in Galveston, Texas, from Austria. While a child on the streets of Galveston, knowing not a single word of English, he envied the children the language they spoke, the games they played, and in general the American way of life.

He explained that learning the English language was a hard task but a joy after it was learned. The American way of life, unlike the language, was easy to acquire but few ever want to depart therefrom. He highly praised the American way of life (known all over the world as the democratic way of life).

The speaker stressed the fact that in America, Jews, Protestants, and Catholics all belong to the same congregation of brotherhoods.

"We cannot help—and do not want to help—our backgrounds," he added.

He asserted that until recently the American way of life had been desired instead of its destruction being attempted.

In touching on the present world affairs he said that, "The way America goes is the way the world will go." He reviewed the success of America in all its undertakings.

The winning of every past war was emphasized. This will be no exception, he asserted.

"When it is all over we will be a credit to all the past and to all the generations to come," he exclaimed in closing.

Dean W. G. Nash presided over the meeting, and President Richmond presented the speaker.

In introducing his friend, Dr. Richmond described Rabbi Rauch as "one of the most brilliant, lovable, and scholarly men in America."

TAMING OF SHREW IS SCHEDULED BY SOCK AND BUSKIN

Shakespeare Comedy To Be Presented On Friday Feb. 5

"The Taming of the Shrew," one of Shakespeare's master comedies, will be presented by Sock and Buskin, February 5, in the college auditorium.

According to Webster's dictionary, the shrew is a voracious or turbulent woman. Shakespeare gives life to the definition in a strong tempered girl who repulses all attempts at kindness.

Katherine, the shrew, has a younger sister, who is as sweet and kind as she is headstrong and willful. However, the much sought after young sister cannot be married until the older girl is wed, and since the disposition of Kate is so cold, she is not desirable.

Finally there comes into her life one who feels himself to be her master and determines to marry her and to train his unwilling bride of fiery temper to a meek, submissive wife. The manner in which he accomplishes this result is not only entertaining, but might offer a tip to some of the males.

Dr. Richmond's forceful appeal to all citizens of Calloway County is as follows:

"War has been thrust upon us by brutal and treacherous foes. Our democratic institutions are at stake. At this very hour, American boys are dying on distant battlefields that our American way of life may be preserved. Our people, all of our people, are united in thought and act to do their part in this world struggle. Modern war is total war. It not only affects every man, woman and child in America but it calls for specific services on the part of every man, woman and child. This is your obligation; that is your privilege.

"Continue your work till the country calls you, and when the call comes, we all will be ready for service and will go wherever our country wants us," he said.

He continued that it was impossible for the United States to avoid war. He said that the world was getting too small for such a large and important country as the United States to remain untouched and apart from the rest of the universe.

This Time, a Lasting Peace On Earth

Next week Christmas comes again—the anniversary of the coming of Christ. Two thousand years ago His birth was announced by herald angels singing, "On earth peace, and good will toward men." Next week the cannons of two score nations will boom, "There is no peace." Exploding bombs will speak men's hate. Air raid sirens will scream their constant tragic dirge.

This Christmas Eve, no herald angels, but the roar of dive bombers over the blacked-out homes of multi-millions. This Christmas Eve, no star of Bethlehem, but the long bright fingers of searchlights in the sky.

Indeed, there is no peace today. During the perilous days of the Civil War, President Lincoln often said, when asked how he had faith to keep at his task, "This, too, will pass." I believe that today.

No doubt much will have to be endured before peace comes, but it will come. We may now begin to expect to be deprived of many things we've considered necessary. We may expect to give of that we already have. Many have given their very lives already. You or I may be asked to take this chance. We must be willing. Such is the price of liberty and freedom today.

Let us face these very probable sacrifices and these prospective deprivations consoled by the justness of our cause. Let us face them with calm determination and faith—faith in Him who ruled at the first Christmas and who rules the wretched world even at this Christmas season.

Peace on earth? Not this Christmas. Perhaps not next, but at length, yes. Another Christmas will come when the music of some lover's guitar has replaced the crash of bursting bombs on Hawaii's moonlit beaches; when Yuletide gaiety, undiminished by the threat of death, has again returned to Merry Old England; when a joyous Christmas spirit has replaced the anxiety we in America share this holiday season. To disbelieve this is to make life all but purposeless. To believe it is to find cause for joy, even today.

Let's make this a Christmas of hope, that the song of the angels may sooner come truer: "On earth peace, good will toward men."—By J. P. Tucker.

Let's Be a Steadying Power

Because of the large number of homes and communities represented on this campus, it would be an easy matter to spread a rumor of any kind until it became really damaging to those who are anxious for news and grasp any bit of relevant information, real or rumored.

It is our duty to be a steady power wherever we are. We can do this by discouraging the repetition of unauthorized stories and maintaining ordinary good sense and reason.

This is one thing which all Americans, women and children as well as men, can do to help our country and protect our loved ones. Don't fail to carry your part of the load!

Christmas

"Christmas comes but once a year, and when it comes it brings good cheer." That is a thought that is running through a lot of persons' minds about now, and maybe they are wondering how this will take place during the present atmosphere and war crisis. Instead of the usual holler and skelter of the past years there will be the scampering of men in uniform, others going to join them, men waiting to be called, and some things that tend to depress the young men of the United States as to their life of the future.

But the answer to this view is to look at the other countries that have been fighting in this war for the past years, and to put yourself in their place and think how lucky we are to be the ones that still have freedom and some word in the running of our government. We cannot say as much about other countries.

The only way to make this a happy Christmas is to have faith in yourself, and to try to help others. Remember the people that do not have as much as you have, and try to help them, because without a Santa Claus there is no Christmas, and as long as he is kept in mind, Christmas will come once a year, and along with it will come all good cheer.

To You, 1941, Adieu

Soon another twelve months of heartaches, joys, sorrows, happiness, trials, tribulations, mistakes, success, and failure will have made history.

Yes, an eventful year have you been, 1941; you have surpassed your brothers before you in the important and significant events that have taken place in your regime.

We can not scold you because of the prosperity that you have given us and we can not praise you because of the last minute unhappy turn of events that you have shoved upon us, and yet we are not flinching as you may think we might have done.

We hope that you will speak a good word for us in your departure, to 1942, as we feel that we deserve it although we are not conceited.

1942, we hope that you do not hold a bitter place in your heart for us, because these United States of America want to continue to enjoy the prosperity and peace to which they have been accustomed.

Murray State Is a Fine College

"Fine" seems an inadequate word, doesn't it? But it is fine. Students are as congenial as they are anywhere or maybe more so. Faculty members always have the students' interests at heart—especially under the heading "term papers."

Even if it has no bells, almost the same thing in chapel every Wednesday, and the rapidly-changing Olive Boulevard, Murray State is still "home" to us. Where would we be without it?

Friends that we make in Murray will be our friends throughout life. We'll always have one great thing in common if nothing else is left—Murray.

So let's forget about our petty grievances and be thankful for our college. Murray State College is a fine college.

LIQUID AIR WILL BE DEMONSTRATED

Elliott James to Present Lecture and Program at Murray January 21

Elliott James, Bowling Green, will give his liquid air lecture demonstration in the Murray College auditorium Wednesday, January 21, 1942. It was announced today by Dean W. G. Nash.

The Hall of Science at the Chicago World's Fair was the scene of Mr. James' demonstrations for two years.

Moore's Boxers Working Hard

"The boys are working hard," was Coach Jim Moore's statement about the Murray College boxing team. He added that only one man, Bob Fiser, is left on the team from previous years.

"It is a complete new team, except Bob, and the main thing is the lack of experience," the coach stated. At present there are 13 men out, but Mr. Moore wants some more boys in the 135 to 145 pound classes and also in the 120 pound class.

The tentative schedule follows: Cape Girardeau, there, January 17; Cape Girardeau, here, January 24; Florida University, there, January 31; Purdue University, here,

His language is improved

How important this is.

Did you or do you ever receive a paper marked "Please learn to write", and then have to get the teacher to translate the notation? Admittedly, these specimens of writing were taken from teachers who had the "reputation"; so they can't be called representative of the entire faculty.

If the book on Graphology (Character Analysis Through Writing for the Layman) hadn't been checked out of the library, a complete list of character traits would be listed here, but perhaps we don't need the book.

The writer of the first beautiful specimen is a rather recent addition to the faculty. Species—male.

The second is a man in the English department. The small letters indicates preciseness—and he demands it!

The third is also a man. "Let everything be done speedily and on time" is his motto.

Number four was written by a lady. Her quiet good humor seems exhausted as she marks her English papers.

The fifth is characterized by a belief in the resourcefulness of his students. One has to be resourceful to read his writing.

The last is a replica of one's mental picture of an Irving "dame" of Dutch New York. She likes a joke on herself.

Try your hand at identifying your teachers and see if the analyses fit. The names will be listed in the next edition of the College News.

THEY MET IN PARIS

In 1937 Miss Catherine Fehrer was in Paris, France, studying poetry, and Miss Emily Wilson was there studying art.

The two met at a tea given by an organization called the "Welcome to Americans" committee. They did not meet again until they both came to Murray last fall to teach. They recognized each other instantly but thought it incredible that they should ever meet again.

KIPA PI HEARS JOE T. LOVETT

Former President of Kentucky Press Is Speaker December 12

Joe T. Lovett, Murray, former president of the Kentucky Press Association and now executive director of the Mid-South Chain Stores Council, Inc., addressed the Kipa Pi Journalism Club Friday morning, December 12.

Mr. Lovett discussed present opportunities and future prospects in the field of journalism. Much of the discussion was on the role of the small newspapers of today.

The speaker said that any newspaper today is subject to being somewhat out of date as far as world news is concerned; this fact has attributed in part to radio and to other means of communication.

For the small newspaper he suggested that being a good neighbor and servant of the community was an ideal purpose. Mr. Lovett also stated that journalism was a beneficial study for any college student regardless of whether or not he intended to be a journalist, because it teaches a better means of self-expression.

Murray To Play Mississippi in High School Gymnasium Dec. 20

With a record of two victories and one loss, the Murray State Thoroughbreds are now looking forward to their remaining games on their schedule.

The Thoroughbreds have one more game this year—with Mississippi College which will be played December 20 in the Murray High School gymnasium.

After this game the 'Breds will rest until 1942 when they start their campaign against the remaining teams on their schedule. Five of these games will be played at home, the other 10 away.

Among the teams Mountjoy's boys will meet are Illinois Wesleyan, Union University (Tenn.), Delta State, and Western. The Illinois Wesleyan game will be played at Paducah, January 5.

Murray, beaten in its first game by Southeast Missouri, was without the services of Bob Salmons, All-American and co-captain. Although he saw a little service against Southwestern Kansas, he was not in the best condition. He should be ready for real action after the Christmas holidays.

FROSH CONQUER LINDSEY-WILSON

Yearlings Lead During Entire Game Dec. 12

The Murray State Freshmen opened their 1941-42 basketball season with a bang by defeating the Lindsey-Wilson Junior College quintet 40-35 in the Carr Health Building on December 12.

The former state junior champions were never ahead of Coach Miller's Yearlings. "Long John" Padgett opened the game with a nice crisp shot. The first half was nip and tuck all the way with the Frosh coming out ahead 23-17 at half-time.

John Padgett, a former Hardin star, made his college debut by scoring 12 points. Hubert Briscoe, a football player, was second in scoring 9 points.

Agers and House, both of Lindsey-Wilson, shared team honors for scoring. Each player collected 8 points. Butler of Lindsey-Wilson had 7 while Buis and Brown, both of the same team, collected 6 apiece.

The Murray freshmen used their height to good advantage and the better part of the game was spent in Lindsey-Wilson territory. Failure of the visiting players to take the ball off the backboard prevented them from doing much scoring.

Lester West, frosh player, was injured in the opening minutes of play.

Colts Lose To St. Mary's and To Almo High

St. Mary's of Paducah won over the Training School basketball team by a score of 15-9, at Paducah in St. Mary's gym, Friday night, December 12. The Training School led at the half by a margin of 6-2. Not a field goal was made the first half.

Almo 12, T. S. 9
The Murray Training School basketball team suffered a defeat at the hands of Almo, Tuesday night, December 9, by a score of 12-9. Harris led the scoring for the Training School with 5 points and Phillips was high scorer for Almo with 4 points.

Breds Bounce Back to Beat Builders 38-36

Mountjoy Quint Downs Kansas in Overtime Tilt

In an overtime photo-finish, Mountjoy's rebounding Breds bowled over the Builders from Southwestern Kansas College, Winfield, Kan., 38-36 in an 8-times tied-up basketball game on Carr Court here Monday night, December 15.

Magnificently supported by the entire team, Co-Captains Culp and Salmons sparked the Thoroughbreds to victory over the Kansans who had lost only one game (by 1 point) in four prior engagements this winter. "Hy" Grimmer scored the winning basket in the overtime and made 8 points for the evening.

"Red" Culp with 12 points led Murray's cagers to a 33-33 tie at the end of the regular playing period. Then Bob Salmons, who had played only 10 minutes of the game—with his leg taped from his ankle to his hip—scored a crisp.

Jack Haines, Murray guard, went out on his fourth personal, and Frazier, Kansas center, hit a free-throw. Hy Grimmer made good a charity toss to make the score 36-34, Murray. Frazier tied it 36-36 with a long looper, and Grimmer dribbled in from the side to score the winning basket—38-36. D. Smith, for Kansas, sank a basket after that, but he was traveling and the game was over seconds later. The entire crowd was in an uproar making it almost impossible to announce that the game was ended and that it was not going into another overtime.

The score was tied 8 times: 2-2, 4-4, 9-9, 10-10, 11-11, 23-23, 33-33, and 36-36. Time after time, "Red" Culp put the Breds back into the game with long, one-handed loops from "way out in the floor." The return of Salmons, 1941 All-American, inspired the Hooses to victory, for they never trailed after his appearance on the court, although he was handicapped by incomplete recovery from his injury. Grimmer, Haines, Husband, and Fulk also looked good for Murray.

For Kansas, Frazier with 11 and Zahn with 10 were standouts.

The lineups:
Murray 38 Pos. S.W. Kansas 36
Johnson 1 F Balke
Culp 12 F Tucker 4
Fulk 4 C Frazier 11
Grimmer 8 G Dix 4
Haines 5 G D. Smith 4
Murray subs: Hurley, Husband 2, Ellison, Kirkpatrick, Salmons 6, Kansas subs: Morris 3, J. Smith, Pestinger, Zahn 10, Hesler, Miles, McDermott, Ward, Klein.
Officials: Mills, Georgetown.

Murray Bows to Missourians 36-25 in Mountjoy Debut

Playing without the services of Co-Captain Bob Salmons and under an entirely new coaching system, the Murray State Thoroughbreds opened their 1941-42 basketball season by losing 36-25 to the Southeast Missouri Teachers from Cape Girardeau in Carr Building Friday night, December 12.

After Murray took the lead on Sophomore Fulk's "bat-in" basket, the advantage changed hands five times until the count stood 11-11. Then Captain Mulkey of the Missourians, wearing No. 11 incidentally, hit a free throw to give the Cape Indians a lead they never relinquished.

The game marked J. Rice Mountjoy's debut as head mentor at Murray, and he used 11 of his men in an attempt to work out an efficient scoring combination. The boys from the "Show Me" state had won their two prior collegiate games this season and were simply too much for the Breds in their opening encounter. The affair was rough and bitterly contested throughout.

Three tied for high scoring with eight each: Fulk, Murray center; Mulkey, center, and Russell, forward, both of Cape. Fulk and Co-Captain "Red" Culp were standouts for the Racehorses, while Mulkey and Russell looked best for the visitors.

The count at halftime was 22-15 in favor of Southeast Missouri. Murray collected only four field goals and two free throws in the second frame. Though barely recovered from an injured knee, Jack Haines was in uniform and did a good job of guarding.

The lineup:
Murray 25 Pos. SE. Mo. 36
Johnson 2 F Bidwell 5
Culp 5 F Russell 8
Fulk 8 C Mulkey 8
Grimmer 5 G Hill 7
K'patrick 1 G Anderson 5
Murray Substitutions: Haines 2, Ellison 2, Husband, Nicholas, Hurley, Little. Cape substitutions: Klosterman 3, Goblen, Hoffman.
Officials: Austin and Phillips.

Training School News

The juniors and seniors of the Training School this Christmas are expressing a spirit of giving to their country. At the meetings of each of these classes the idea of exchanging Defense Stamps instead of presents was unanimously endorsed. Having started in the junior class, this idea will spread throughout the upper grades. Marvin Harris, a junior, believes. Also, instead of refreshments, the class sponsors have agreed to give every student another Defense Stamp. Each class is exhibiting a chart designating the number of stamps bought.

At 1 o'clock this Friday afternoon, before the class parties that will end the school work for 1941, the entire school will have a Christmas program, featuring group and assembly singing of carols and Christmas stories. All of the lower grade rooms are decorated in keeping with the Christmas season, and each will have its own program, in addition to the school assembly.

During the past week the organization of student government has been completed. A council has been selected, composed of two representatives from each room and three teachers in both the elementary and secondary groups. The two divisions of the council are to meet individually twice every six weeks and to hold one joint meeting during that time. The officers of the council are: Clifford Jones, president; Marvin Harris, first vice-president; Gus Robertson, Jr., second vice-president; Marian Sharbrough, first secretary; and Imogene Adams, second secretary.

The purpose of this democratic organization is five-fold: First, to promote loyalty and interest in the school; second, to serve as a good expression of student opinion; third, to define student responsibilities; fourth, to foster student character and initiative; fifth, to promote a spirit of cooperation.

Lambing Pens Built on Farm

Lambing pens are being constructed on the Murray College farm and lambs are expected to arrive within a few days, according to Prof. E. B. Howton, instructor of agriculture at Murray.

Twenty-three Montana crossbred ewes and one purebred Southdown ram compose the farm's sheep flock. The ram was formerly owned by John P. Patterson, Richmond Hill, Ontario, Canada. He is of the Luton Hoo blood line, and according to Mr. Howton, the ram is highly valuable as a breeder.

The flock was secured from the Tennessee Farm Corporation, Clarksville, Tenn., in July, 1941. Hay and grain mixture are now being fed these sheep.
