Why Many County Fairs Fail

Along about this time every year editors in some of our larger cities take occasion to fill up space with articles on "the decline of the county fair," or something like that. They all harp on the same thing, to the effect that the rural life of the nation is losing its old-time neighborly air and community interest.

It is true that the auto has enabled rural residents to enjoy amusements in neighboring cities to which they did not have access before. This has served in a small way to hurt some county fairs. In most instances, however, the suspension of fairs has been due to the growing expense of maintaining them, since it became necessary to engage high-priced attractions to back up the home exhibits. This year the nation-wide drought has been responsible for the calling off of a good many of them. But it was not from a lack of public interest or a decreasing air of community pride. It was because crops were failures in many sections and agricultural products—the very life of a county fair—were not up to standard. It was because many rural residents, hard hit by a crop shortage, felt it unwise to spend a single dollar for anything except necessities. And county fairs have never laid claim to being necessities.

Fair or no fair, rural community life is not showing a slump. It is just as strong around Fulton today as it has been at any time in the past, and this community does not differ from others in this and other states. Big city editors are certainly hard put for something to fill up an editorial column with when they have to resort to such misrepresentation as to declare that "rural life is losing in interest as shown by the suspension of county fairs."

A GOOD LAW

A federal court has just upheld a new law in Ohio which limits the length of motor vehicles on public highways. It is a good law, and there must be times in the life of every Fulton motorist when he wishes a similar one was in force closer home. The object of the law is to prevent excessive obstruction of the highways on curves and at road intersections. Autos with trailer attachments on which four or five new cars are transported were largely in mind when the law was passed. Passenger busses, too, are getting longer and becoming a greater menace to safety. Unless restrictions are set up somebody is always certain to hog more than a rightful share of the public property, and some busses are now taking up practically all of the road. They not only make it uncomfortable for others, but extremely dangerous. In limiting the length of busses and trucks Ohio has passed a good law. It should serve as an example to states that have not yet shown such foresight.

PINNED IN CAR; KILLED

Bridge Timber Fatally Injures Ridgely Man After Crash

Dyersburg, Tenn., Sept. 22.—Pinned in his car with a piece of two-by-four scantling, Colby Crouch, 30, of Ridgely, was fatally injured in an automobile wreck on the Bogota Miston Road a few miles northwest of here.

Crouch, with two companions, Herschel Crossley and Roy Yarbrow, both of Ridgely, was crossing a bridge, just out of Bogota when he lost control of his car as it skidded in gravel that had been dragged to the center of the highway and crashed into the side of the wooden structure.

One of the side railings rammed through the hood of the automobile and into Crouch's body, pinning him far back in the roadster after the back of the seat had been driven back several inches by the crash.

Unable to pull the timber back through the car or out of Crouch's body and without a saw, young Crossley chopped the timber off inside the car with an ax while Crouch looked on. The injured man was rushed to the Baird Brewer General Hospital here, where the timber was removed from his body.

Funeral services and burial were held Tuesday in Lake County.

His widow and two children survive.

YOUTH BADLY HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Denver Webb, 20, was badly injured when a car in which he was driving skidded in loose gravel and turned over six miles from Fulton on the Hickman-Fulton highway. His face and head were badly lacerated, his nose broken and deep wounds inflicted in seven places. He was brought to Fulton where he received medical attention from Dr. C. A. Wright.

Agricultural Outlook Brighter

McCRACKEN COUNTY MAKES REPORT

Majority of Farmers Will Not Need Help. Pastures Are Improved and Some Are Harvesting Good Tobacco Crops

The agricultural outlook in McCracken county as affected by the summer's drought is not nearly so serious as first believed, results of the county-wide survey indicate.

Approximately 2,000 questionnaires distributed among the farm homes of McCracken county have been returned to headquarters of the drought relief committee at the court house in Paducah, and while a complete report has not yet been tabulated, committee members say the cards reveal that the situation is far less gloomy than it generally had been considered.

The cards were given out by committees in each of the forty-four school districts of the county and have been returned from forty of them.

"The information obtained indicates that most of the farmers in McCracken county will be able to get by without outside aid," Mr. Johnstone, the County Agent, said. "They are very encouraging."

He explained that there are a number of impoverished farm families who will need help, but that they are fewer in number than was indicated a few weeks ago. These, however, will require seed and feed for their stock.

Rye seed will be given free of charge by the Red Cross to farmers who have been hurt by the drought.

FULTON POISON CASE IS DEFERRED ONCE MORE

When the Fulton circuit court opened here Monday morning and the case of James Gardner and Miss Lela Bunch, charged with murder in connection with the poison death of Gardner's wife in June, 1929, Commonwealth Attorney Flavious Martin asked that a continuance be had until the January term, stating that he was unable to proceed with the case because of a chemist witness who could not be secured at this term to testify for the state, the witness said to now be in Boston.

Gardner has been out on bail since July last, and the woman

PADUCAH NURSE INJECTS STRYCHNINE TO END HER LIFE

Paducah, Ky., Sept. 21.—Strychnine injected into the veins of Miss Pauline Curvin, 28, trained nurse, caused her death late Saturday afternoon. Miss Curvin died in her apartment at 614 Kentucky avenue. The poison was injected into the leg with a hypodermic syringe.

No reason is known for Miss Curvin's act. Coroner Robert L. Nelson said the case was suicide.

A graduate nurse of the Riverside hospital training school, Miss Curvin had practiced the profession of nursing in Paducah for the past five years.

Miss Curvin injected the poison into her veins about 4:30 o'clock. She was alone in her room at the time. She called to the maid, Edmonia Lucas, colored, who answered her summons. Miss Curvin told the maid that she was ill and asked her to call Miss Louise Detzel, with whom she lived.

The maid telephoned Miss Detzel, who was at work downtown, and she hurried to the house. She found Miss Curvin lying on her bed, almost unconscious. Dr. E. W. Jackson was summoned, but the girl died before he could get to the house.

Brieflets

The most dangerous thing on the roads around Fulton these days is a six-cylinder car run by a one-cylinder brain.

The trouble with a lot of us we have too many irons in the fire and not enough of it in our systems.

Maybe the dollar really does go farther now than it did a few years ago. It seems to take it longer to make a round-trip.

Middle-age is that period in a Fulton man's life when he can no longer go up a stairway two steps at a time.

There is probably music in heaven but we can't bring ourselves to believe that it includes the song of the mosquito.

Hell for a roadhog will probably be a place where the roads are so wide he cannot prevent other motorists from passing him.

The "good old days" in Fulton were those when you knocked on the front door to find out if the family was home on Sunday afternoon. Now you look in the garage.

Experts tell us mass production will cheapen anything. Just how much has mass production of crime cheapened it?

The oyster may be dumb in some ways, but it has sense enough to demand and get a four-months vacation every year.

The Fulton married man who complains that he "can't get a word in edgewise" ought to learn how to talk in his sleep.

One of the things to be thankful for this year is that your business is not dealing in raincoats.

A real philosopher is a fellow who can find consolation in the thought that the summer's drought saved a lot of wear and tear on lawn mowers.

It's terrible the way some men around Fulton will blow up their wives for a little thing like a couple of buttons off of a shirt or a measly bill from the grocery.

In these days of low-priced safety razors Fulton boys don't know the thrill of trying to shave with a fifteen-cent barlow whittled to a razor edge on a boot.

Contrary to popular belief endurance sitting is nothing new. It was a popular stunt with all of the old-time livery stable loafers.

A dentist is one man who can always make a good living in a hand-to-mouth manner.

HIGHWAYMAN CAPTURED

Dyersburg, Tenn., Sept. 22.—Charges of highway robbery will be faced in magistrate's court here Wednesday by John Carber, 25, Chicago, who is alleged to have robbed A. E. Thompson, Tiptonville of $3 and his automobile and a Memphis salesman of $25 on the highway near here.

Carber was given a ride by Thompson, into whose ribs he shoved a pistol a few minutes afterward and ordered him out of the car. While Thompson was handing over his money to Carber, he placed his hand behind his back and signalled the Memphis salesman to stop.

When the Memphis stopped he was robbed of $25. Taking the keys from one car and the other automobile, Carber fled but was captured with the automobile later at Newbern.

Frank D. Fuller's name has been associated with the Mid-South Fair at Memphis for nearly a quarter of a century. Good Citizen Called Away

E. T. Stevenson, for many years a citizen of Fulton, died Tuesday afternoon at the home of his daughter Mrs. R. S. Bard on Cleveland Avenue, where he made his home, aged 72 years. The funeral service was held Wednesday at 4 p. m. at his late home, conducted by Rev. Curlee of Curve, Tenn., assisted by Rev. R. A. Wood and Rev. N. W. Lee of this city, and burial followed in Fairview in charge of Winstead-Jones and Co. The deceased is survived by three children, Mrs. R. S. Bard and Mrs. Earl Boone of this city, one son Hallett Stevenson of California. Three grandchildren Mrs. Melvin Simon, Robert and Margaret Bard, and two great grand children Mary Louise Simon and Nell Lutten Bard.

Mr. Stevenson was a consistent member of the Primitive Baptist church, was a good father, a good neighbor, and will be missed by many who loved him.

Former Fulton Man Dies in Obion

R. A. Young passed away Sunday at his home in Obion, Tenn., aged 43 years. The funeral service was held Monday at Dyersburg and burial followed in the Dyersburg cemetery. Mr. Young was formerly a popular railroad man in Fulton, and moved from here to Memphis, he is still remembered by many friends here who will be sorry to learn of his death.

He is survived by his widow, two children, his mother Mrs. T. J. Gates of near Fulton and one brother Manley Young of Dyersburg, besides other relatives and friends. He is also survived by his stepfather T. J. Gates.

Hannah asked God to give her a

God's service. God heard her prayer and she named her son Samuel, which means "asked of God." Samuel in his later years was given to God, and he rendered a distinguished service for many years.

Lesson for August 17.
Saul was a man of fine gifts and had a great opportunity, but made a dismal failure because his heart was not right toward God. He had more concern for his own honor and welfare than for the glory of God. God is more concerned with having his commands obeyed than he is with the offering of sacrifices.

Lesson for August 24.
Friendship between David and Jonathan has been immortalized. This friendship was unique in that it took place between two men of rival interests. Jonathan was the natural heir to the throne, but David was God's choice. Jonathan knew this and mag-nanimously waived his rights.

Lesson for August 31.
Amos, a humble herdsman, was called from his life as God's prophet to stand before the king. He was not a prophet by succession nor was he trained in the schools. God selects his servants from even the humblest walks of life.

Lesson for September 7.
Josiah, the young king, was loyal to God. Two wicked kings had preceded him, during whose reigns God's law was lost. God put it into his heart to inaugurate a reformation, and in the process of restoring the temple, the law was found. When it was read before him, the king rent his clothes, and proceeded to institute his reforms on the basis of God's word.

Lesson for September 14.
Jeremiah, having heard God's call in his early years, zealously carried on his ministry. He called upon individuals to face their responsibility before God, assuring them that they would not be judged on the basis of racial heritage. Every man shall give an account of himself to God.

Lesson for September 21.
Jonah, a Jew, was called to preach repentance to a Gentile city. He sought to escape his responsibility by fleeing to Tarshish. God prepared a fish to swallow him. This was the means of his chastisement and return to his own land. After chastisement he was recommissioned. At his preaching the city repented, putting on their sackcloth and ashes. God is not willing that any should perish but that all should come to repentance.

Hints For Homemakers
By Jane Rogers

THE next time you clean carrots which are to be grated, instead of cutting off the whole top leave about an inch of the stem. The whole carrot can then be used without the risk of scraping your thumb and fingers while the last bit is being grated.

A good general rule to follow in seasoning green vegetables is to use a dash of sugar to a pinch of salt. Without artificially sweeten-ing the dish, the sugar restores the garden sweetness which so many vegetables begin to lose on their way to the kitchen.

Hints For Homemakers

WITH fruits and berries plentiful and cheap, and sugar selling at a price as low as we have seen in a generation, this is the ideal year

sealed and labeled glasses and jars, jams and jellies will make inexpensive and deeply appreciated Christmas gifts for friends and relatives
when the Yule season rolls around.

A few juniper berries, obtainable at the drug store, placed in a fry-odor of cooking out of the house.

THRIFT TICKETS FOR MEMPHIS FAIR

MEMPHIS, Tenn., (Special).—While agricultural fairs throughout the country are reporting but a very slight falling off in attendance because of drought and business conditions, officials of Mid-South Fair, at Memphis, have decided to offer "Thrifty Tickets" to the Memphis exposition this year. Five tickets will sell for $2 and can be used by anyone at anytime. Regular admission is 75 cents during the day and 50 cents at night. The bargain tickets are being sold by nearly all drug stores in Memphis and can be bought by mail from the fair offices. They will not be sold after the fair opens on September 29. Present estimates are that 200,000 will attend the fair this year if bad weather does not interfere.

MID-SOUTH FAIR GETS MUSICAL SHOW

MEMPHIS, Tenn., (Special).—What is declared to be one of the best musical shows that ever came to Memphis will be "The Fiesta of 1930," a musical extravaganza along Ziegfeld lines, with many pretty girls, opera singers, ballet dancers and all-star vaudeville acts, which has been booked as the nightly attraction throughout Mid-South Fair week, September 29-27.

SOUTHERN DAIRY SHOW WINNER

Mid-South Fair at Memphis and the Southern Dairy Show will be held in conjunction this year from September 29 to 27. Amateur breeders and owners will have a show to themselves and many fine animals will be in competition. Growing interest in dairying makes the show one of the biggest events in the South.

"PERFECT WEDDING" FEATURE OF FAIR

MEMPHIS, Tenn., (Special).—The ideal of "perfect" wedding ceremony such as many a prospective bride has dreamed of, but few can afford, is to be staged under auspices of Mid-South Fair before the grandstand at the Memphis Fairgrounds, Saturday night, September 27, closing night of fair week.

All wedding clothes, wedding ring, specially designed gowns for 16 bridesmaids and every other detail will be given the couple, already selected, by the Fair association. They will also be given $100 in gold toward expenses of a bridal trip.

The elaborateness of the ceremony, however, will come from the fact that the entire musical extravaganza cast of "The Fiesta of 1930," together with its elaborate settings and decorations, will be utilized. The Royal Scotch Highlander Band, famous resort band, will play the wedding march. Vocal selections will be by former grand opera stars who will be with the Fiesta in its nightly productions during the fair at Memphis. One of the best known ministers of Memphis will officiate.

PRIZE PORKERS AT FAIR

More than $5,000 in cash premiums will be distributed to exhibitors of purebred hogs at Mid-South Fair at Memphis September 29-27. Some of the great show herds of the country will be exhibited.

EXCURSION RATES TO MEMPHIS FAIR

Nearly all of the railroads operating into Memphis have announced very low rates, some of them the lowest rates ever offered, for patrons going to the Mid-South Fair the last week in September. One and one-half fare for the round trip will prevail on all roads. Several will give the full round trip for a one-way charge. This extremely low rate, however, probably will apply only for the three big days of the Mid-South Fair, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, September 23, 24, and 25. It is the lowest rate ever offered to Memphis for the fair, it is said.

If You Have a "Brisket Budget" These Meat Menus Will Appeal

By JOSEPHINE B. GIBSON
Director, Home Economics Dept., H. J. Heinz Company

EVERYONE who has the task of planning family meals knows how monotonous the meat dishes can become if the same one is served too frequently. Yet, the success of a dinner featuring meat depends less upon mere cost than does virtually any other type of meal. One of the most encouraging points about meat cookery is the fact that a little ingenuity employed in seasoning and preparing even the cheapest cuts will afford a pleasing variety of highly palatable dishes.

These savory meat dishes—whose success is assured by their seasoning—may take a variety of forms. Some housewives prefer the "One Dish" or "Oven Dinner" type, where the ingredients are prepared several hours in advance of the meal and then subjected to long, slow cooking. Others favor the quickly-cooked style, that may be prepared and all ready to serve in considerably less than one-half hour.

Whatever type you may prefer, the number of such meat dishes is almost endless. Simply provide your pantry with a variety of such Chilli Sauce, Worcestershire and Beefsteak Sauces, Prepared Mustard, etc. Then see how pleasurable it is to work out a host of delicious dishes that will delight the entire family. Below are just a few tested recipes that will show you the possibilities for serving delightful meals on even a brisket budget.

Braised Beef with Vegetables: 2 lbs. beef from the round or shoulder; salt and pepper; flour; 1 cup diced carrots; 1 cup diced celery; 1 cup diced onions; 1 cup diced turnips; 2 1/2 cups hot water; 1/2 cup Tomato Ketchup; whole potatoes.

Sprinkle beef with salt and pepper, dredge with flour, and brown quickly in fat. When turning the meat, avoid piercing it with the fork, as this allows the juices to escape. Place in a casserole or deep pan and add carrots, celery, onions and turnips. Mix hot water with Tomato Ketchup and pour most of this liquid around the meat and vegetables. Cover closely and bake for 2 hours in a slow oven—325 degrees F.—basting every half hour with the remaining liquid. Turn the meat over once during baking. During the last hour whole potatoes should be placed around the meat, sprinkled with salt and pepper, and baked until tender. When finished, the vegetables and meat are surrounded by a rich, tomato colored sauce, and both meat and vegetables are tender and savory.

Quick Chili Con Carne: 1 pound beef; 1 tablespoon butter; 1 onion, chopped; 1 medium can Green Baked Red Kidney Beans; 1 small can Cream of Tomato Soup; salt to season; small amount of Chili Powder (1/2 teaspoon). Brown beef in 2 skillet with butter and onion. When the meat is browned, add Kidney Beans, Tomato Soup, and salt to season, and cook for 15 or 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. A small amount of Chili Powder may be added if desired. Serve with boiled rice or baked potatoes.

Veal Birds: 1/2 lb. veal cutlet, sliced very thin; chopped bacon; bread or cracker crumbs; salt and pepper; onion juice; Worcestershire Sauce; 1 beaten egg; 2 tablespoons Tomato Ketchup.

Cut veal into pieces about 4 inches long and 2 inches wide. Chop the trimmings from the meat, and add to them an equal quantity of chopped bacon and bread or cracker crumbs. Season highly with salt, pepper, onion juice and Worcestershire Sauce, moisten with beaten egg, and spread each piece of meat with this mixture. Then roll and tie with a piece of cord or fasten with small wooden skewers. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, roll in flour and fry in a skillet in hot butter until a golden brown. Add cream or thin white sauce to half cover the meat, stir in Tomato Ketchup, cover, and simmer or bake for about 20 minutes. Remove the cords or skewers and serve each "bird" on a small round piece of toast, pouring the sauce from the pan over the top.

Steak Steak: Round steak, cut thick; slices of onion; 1/2 cup water; 1/2 cup Tomato Ketchup; 1/2 cup flour; salt and pepper; 1/2 green pepper, chopped fine. Add the salt and pepper to the flour and pound into the meat. Brown in a skillet with the fat; then add the onion green pepper, boiling water and tomato, cover closely, and simmer slowly until done. This may be cooked in a casserole in the oven or in a skillet on top of the stove.

Beefsteak Pie: Cold steak or roast beef; 1 onion; boiling water; 1/2 cup Tomato Ketchup; 1 teaspoon Worcestershire Sauce; flour; salt and pepper; potatoes.

Cut meat into one inch cubes. Cover with boiling water, add onion, Tomato Ketchup, Worcestershire Sauce, and cook slowly for 30 minutes. Remove onion, thicken gravy with flour to which cold water has been added, and season with salt and pepper. Add potatoes cut in 1/4 inch slices, which have been parboiled for eight minutes in boiling salted water. Put in a buttered baking dish, cover with baking powder biscuit dough or pie crust, and bake in a hot oven for 20 minutes.

Barbecued Lamb: 12 thin slices cold roast lamb; 2 tablespoons butter; 1 tablespoon Pure Olive Vinegar; 1/2 cup Currant Jelly; 1/2 teaspoon Prepared Mustard; salt. Reheat lamb in sauce made by melting butter and adding Vinegar, Currant Jelly, Mustard, and a little salt.
