MIDGET AUTO RACES HERE NEXT SUNDAY

What promises to be one of the fastest and most exciting automobile races ever held in western Kentucky will take place next Sunday, October 15, at the Fulton Fair Grounds in Fulton, where you will see those little speed demons, the Midget Cars, in four separate events, compete for highest speed honors.

These Midget Cars will be brought to Fulton from Pennsylvania to Arizona. Midgets have been entered from Allensdale, Penn., Muncie and Indianapolis, Ind., Petersburg, Taylorville, East St. Louis, Peoria and Springfield, Illinois, St. Louis, Jefferson City, and Moberly, Mo., and four cars have been entered from Memphis, Tenn., one from Blytheville, Ark., and one from Phoenix, Ariz. This is one of the greatest collections of Midget cars ever assembled for a race of this kind.

Old Cars Will Run

There will be keen competition in the Old Car Derby. In the race July 4th Harold Thompson, driving a 1926 Packard sponsored by Reynolds Packing Co., won the race. This same car, and again sponsored by Reynolds Packing Co., will be seen in the 6th and 8th event. But this car will have some real competition when John Thompson of Fulton (brother of Harold), driving a 1926 Jewett, sponsored by A. C. Butts & Sons grocery, Jack DeVania of Fulton driving a 1923 Buick sponsored by Thomas L. Shankle Auto Parts, Johnnie Owens of Fulton driving a 1923 Hudson sponsored by Cities Service and Malco Theatre, Coy Wilson of Fulton driving a 1923 Buick sponsored by the Service Barber Shop and the Silver Palace Lunch Room, all take off to prove the superiority of their ancient gas buggies.

Dare Devil Joe

The special attraction is Dare Devil Joe, the man with the iron nerve, who will drive his Shaheen Special three laps around the half-mile track, 60 miles an hour blindfolded, "in his ride with death." Dare Devil Joe will arrive in Fulton, Thursday, October 12, with his two Midget cars to give himself plenty of time to familiarize himself with the track. It is planned to have Dare Devil Joe visit Martin and Union City on Friday.

The official judges will be: Hon. C. P. Mabry, Mayor of Hickman, Ky.; Harry Vance, Mayor of Clinton, Ky.; Paul DeMyer, Mayor of Fulton, Ky.; J. H. Lowe, Mayor of South Fulton, Tenn.; and Morris Miles, Mayor of Union City, Tenn. Reinforcements of the grand stand, added new seats and old ones have been repaired, two new boxes have been added, decorations of the Elks colors, purple and white, will predominate. Reports from the Charity Race Headquarters state that most of the box seats are sold. If the weather is favorable all indications point to as large a crowd as has ever been assembled in Fulton.

Proceeds for Charity

All profits made by the Elks Club of Fulton will be used for their Christmas Charity Fund, when baskets will be delivered to the poor and needy to bring them good cheer and help them enjoy the Yuletide spirit.

Johnson, McConnell, was given a 30-day suspended sentence and Fred Todd, colored, charged with breach of the peace, was fined $10 and costs.

New Theatre Opens In Fulton Tonight

W. Levi Chisholm, who for many years engaged in theatre business here until he sold out to Warner Bros. a few years ago, has reopened the Orpheum Theatre on Fourth-st. The building has been thoroughly reconditioned and approximately $5,000 has been expended in improving the show house and the installation of new equipment.

Buster Shuck, formerly with Warner Bros., who operated the Orpheum here for a number of years, will be in charge and says that the best productions will be shown on the Orpheum screen and every effort will be made to please theatre-goers of this vicinity.

11 Prison Terms In Hickman Court

Hickman, Ky.—The Fulton county court disposed of a number of criminal cases last week in whirlwind fashion, passing sentences on fourteen defendants. The work of the court was speeded up on account of the fact that nearly all the defendants entered a plea of guilty of the charge against them and indicated that they were ready to accept any punishment which the jury saw fit to impose.

The following cases were tried and removed from the docket:

Lindsey Massey was sentenced to 2 years at Eddyville penitentiary for breaking into a storehouse belonging to Jim Provov and stealing tools.

L. D. Singleton was given 4 years on a charge of stealing a watch from R. F. Davidson.

James Lockhart, colored, charged with breaking into the house of George Pate and stealing clothing and a Sears-Roebuck voucher, was sentenced to 2 years.

Cuba Kiser, colored, took 3 years for stealing hogs belonging to George Newton.

Charles Bolin, 16, was given a one-year sentence and placed on probation for stealing automobile accessories belonging to T. O. Morris.

Paul Barbour Porter, 16, charged with breaking into the residence of W. E. Owens and taking money, was sent to the reformatory at Greenville to stay until he is 21 years of age.

Oscar Parker charged with breaking into the home of Jim Jackson and stealing articles of value, was given 2 years.

Willie Dafs, colored, went up for 5 years for chicken stealing.

Buck Allen and Ollie Ross Crowder, both 16, were sentenced for 2 years for breaking into an I. C. warehouse. They were placed on probation.

J. W. Tooms, charged with obtaining a car under false pretenses, was sentenced to 5 years in the penitentiary. He admitted that this car which he obtained from Ira Little for a small down payment was the 12th which he had taken. His plan of operation was to make the down payment and then drive the car away to unknown parts.

Clois Grissom was given 2 years for forgery.

Rubie Neal, colored, sentenced to 5 years for stealing an auto.

James Williams, colored, given 3 years for chicken stealing.

Johnnie Jackson took his third term in the penitentiary for chicken stealing.

Mr. Krug told the committee: "I see no reason why you don't go ahead now and get your system. Provided, of course, that you expect to sell current cheaper than is now selling."

Rev. Woodrow Fuller was a visitor at the meeting and spoke to the club regarding aviation in Fulton, and the possibilities of obtaining an airport here. He said that about 10 men are now taking instructions here and three have solo licenses, with five out of Hickman, Clinton and Union City with these licenses. An airline from Memphis to Louisville via Paducah and Evansville is under consideration and it is possible for Fulton to be selected as one of the emergency landing fields if a field is maintained here where planes can get in and out in safety. ### Thinking of Kentucky Folklore BY Jordana Wilson, Ph.D. WESTERN KENTUCKY TEACHERS COLLEGE BOWLING GREEN, KY.

STONE BRUISES

Has the foot in race grown tougher, or have more of our generation put on shoes? Something is wrong, for I never hear now of stone bruises, fearful things that all boys and some girls of another time expected to have as a matter of course. My father was fond of telling how some older man who had moved to the county seat once remarked that no boy was worth killing if he had never had a stone bruise. One of the man's own sons heard the remark and went out at rag that wrapped up a toe from once and stamped on the sidewalk which a nail had been stumped. It until he apparently was worth much, to judge by the size and ache of the bruise. Frankly, I do not know what a stone bruise is, some energy left to boast about trouble, even though it may be the badge of a regular fellow.

Some years ago doctors told us also that toe itch is athlete's foot. Back in the nineties no one ever heard of such a thing; toe itch was just toe itch, a disease that any person who went barefooted (and who didn't?) could expect to have. Now all sorts of disinfectants and other things are used to stop the dread athlete's foot; then all that was necessary was to tie a yarn string around the toe affected, with a bit of fried meat grease added for good measure.

Flaming advertisements tell us all sorts of things to do for itching or offensive feet. What we used to do is still a good remedy: we soaked our feet in borax water, the very thing that doctors advise us to do today. An ignorant cobbler once told me a valuable secret; he said that the perspiration of the feet reacts on the shoe leather to form an acid that hurts the skin; borax neutralizes this. How simple, but how few people can reason it out so well.

Another ailment that I rarely hear of now is the stamping off of toenails. Again this may be due to the prevalence of shoes, but it may imply also a greater care on the part of children than we once knew. People are always pointing with pride to something. Every genuine boy pointed with pride to the dirty rag that wrapped up a toe from which a nail had been stumped. It is amazing how easy it is to catch a toenail under something and rip it off. The pain is severe, but ordinary boys can stand it and have some energy left to boast about how little it hurt. My most vivid experience with toenails came when we were playing Hide and Seek once at a neighbor's. In order to reach "home," we had to run around a large house or through the passage, or "dog trot." I chose the latter way and failed to pick up my feet properly. That toe still looks somewhat like the fingers of people who fed the old-fashioned sausage mill not wisely but too well.

Nails are still mashed, especially since we have so many kinds of machinery. But there is small fun in hearing some grown man telling how he caught his finger in a machine at the shop; men ought to know better. Besides, it is a little too late for them to live a whole lifetime of pride in the cuts and bruises they have received and borne nobly.

TIMELY TOPICS

Newsweek reports a great boom being experienced by plants manufacturing wood type, used for extra large headlines in newspapers and for posters. The orders of one such firm is said to have increased 300 per cent during the first week of the war.

One World War hero still occupies the same position he held in 1914. He is Adolphe Max, burgomaster (mayor) of Brussels, Belgium, who was imprisoned for defying the Germans when they entered the city. He is now 70 years old and still active.

At the recent international convention of the Loyal Order of Moose held in Philadelphia, the title of "dictator" was abolished and "governor" substituted. The change was made because the word dictator "has fallen into disrepute," according to a resolution unanimously adopted.

Paul Gurtler, who was a sergeant in the company of Corporal Adolf Hitler during the World War, has enlisted in the Canadian Army. Gurtler is now a naturalized Canadian, whose home is in the province of Alberta.

While shaving a customer, Frank Dugan of Philadelphia saw an automobile hit a man in front of his barber shop, and start to speed away. Dugan dashed after the hit-and-run driver, jumped on the running board, razor in hand, caused him to stop and turned him over to a policeman.

John Lindsey of New Jersey has attended a theatrical performance once in his 95 years. That was on the night of April 14, 1865, at the Ford theater in Washington, where he witnessed the shooting of President Lincoln. The tragedy so shocked Lindsey that he never went to a show again.

Recounting some feats of women aviators, a writer reminds us that the first woman airplane pilot in the world was Harriet Quimby, who obtained her license in 1912. She met the fate of most pioneer flyers, being killed in a crash while giving a stunt exhibition in Boston.

Expressing skepticism about the value of strenuous exercise, George Jean Nathan, the author and critic points out that the laziest animals live longest. He cites the tortoise and elephant, which sometimes reach the age of 200 years, while the dog, squirrel and other active animals die at a relatively early age.

"A wise man will make more opportunities than he finds"—Bacon

The inventory showed about six million big-game animals, indicating a gain of nearly a million since the nationwide survey of 1937 was made. With the exception of buffaloes, no animals in captivity were counted.

Deer are the most numerous of the big-game animals, numbering more than five-sixths of the total. Others include 228,000 elk, 93,500 black bears, 16,300 moose, besides smaller numbers of wild sheep, mountain goats, grizzly bears and buffaloes.

Least numerous of big game animals are the woodland caribou, only 16 of which were reported, 12 in Minnesota and 4 in the state of Washington. There were 845 European wild boars accounted for, 425 of them being in Tennessee.

At one time the buffalo, or bison, seemed in danger of extinction, but through the intervention of the government in recent years these animals have been protected and allowed to multiply, so that there are at present about 4,500.

Similar conservation measures have been taken with respect to other native big-game animals and wild life generally, with gratifying results.

"The Briers," home of the Howell family, whose daughter Miss Varina was to become Mrs. Jefferson Davis, the first lady of the Confederate states of America, is isolated on a high bluff between a ravine and the Mississippi River at Natchez, Mississippi. Considered to be one of the best examples of the ante-bellum planter's country home, it has been carefully restored and will be visited by Illinois Central tour parties during the annual Natchez spring pilgrimage in March. In one of its parlors on February 26, 1845, Miss Howell became Mrs. Jef-

erson Davis, joining her fortunes to those of a man who in rapid succession was to become the nation's most popular military idol, then its Secretary of War, and finally its chief enemy, first and last President of the Confederacy.

While he was on vacation, the apartment of Ralph Ellis of Salt Lake City caught fire from an overheated radio which had been going continuously for 10 days.

Ralph Amato, a restaurant owner of East Haven, Conn., was arrested on a liquor and gambling charge, on complaint of a state trooper whom Amato had saved from drowning a few hours before.

While trying to rescue his goat which had fallen into a well, L. V. Warlick of Marcum, Okla., fell in himself. Discovered several hours later by Warlick's brother, both man and goat were fished out.

A Winnipeg newspaper records some recent happenings which indicate that there may be something in a name after all: Oscar Luck when bankrupt as a result of gambling; Mr. Cuff and Miss Link were married; Thomas Neverstop was arrested for speeding past traffic signals, and Alfred Waterer was fined for selling diluted milk.

The U. S. Treasury recently received $1.50 from a conscience-stricken WPA worker in River Grove, Ill., with the explanation he had "accidentally taken a sledge hammer home from work."

A thief who took 115 pennies from Joseph Katenas' butchershop in Philadelphia was captured because he paused to count them. Police found him at the cash register—still counting.

NEW RAIL EQUIPMENT

There will be no shortage of railroad facilities in the United States under any circumstances, according to J. J. Pelley, president of the Association of American Railroads, whose board of directors has declared that the roads can and will meet any anticipated demand for transportation.

It was stated that the railroads are at work now on necessary repairs to cars and locomotives, and that as need develops for additional equipment it will be available.

A specific instance of action looking toward increased facilities for rail traffic is seen in the appropriation this month of $8,000,000 by the Illinois Central Railroad for the purchase of new equipment.

Purchases for this one road will include 1,500 coal cars, 1,000 box cars and 10 Diesel-electric switching and transfer locomotives, the locomotives to be used on the Chicago terminal, replacing steam power.

Orders will be placed as promptly as the necessary details can be arranged, and will call for immediate delivery in anticipation of increased business.

Representatives of the leading railroads have been meeting in Washington to give further consideration to the business and transportation situation.

INDUSTRY AND PEACE

In a recent statement on the attitude of American industry toward war and peace, the National Association of Manufacturers makes an eloquent plea for peace which includes the following salient points:

American industry hates war, which destroys lives and wrecks homes, with economic chaos and crushing depression as its inevitable aftermath. Ultimately no one can escape the ruin of war.

American industry wants peace, for peace is the life blood of progress and is the national objective. There should be no misunderstanding of industry's position on this matter. A public will to peace, coupled with wise action, to this end will keep us out of war.

Industry opposes profiteering—the utilization of war psychology to boost prices for the purpose of making excessive profits. The association calls upon all its members to exercise vigilance against any unjustified price or profit policies.

The use of this crisis to excuse profiteering or to pursue partisan political objectives is not only indefensible and dangerous, but reprehensible morally. The present situation calls for agreement on common objectives, but the democratic process should never be abandoned. The statement concludes:

"In a world distraught by force, the best way to preserve representative democracy is to practice it."

AMERICA'S OPPORTUNITY

It's high time the United States began to put its domestic affairs in order. A good way to begin, as has been pointed out by Philip A. Benson, President of the American Bankers Association, is by declaring a moratorium on radical legislation, bureaucratic excesses and industrial strife. "Pump priming" and deficit financing will have to cease—the Federal budget will have to be balanced. The fallacious theory that America is through growing and expanding must be junked, along with the widely cultivated belief that "the world owes us a living." The world owes nobody a living. Either this country will tighten its belt and go back to work in a sane manner, or it will sink into the category of a decayed power with its people crushed under a political autocracy.

Private enterprise and the labors of free men in the hope of individual profit, developed our country into a mighty nation with undisputed right to the title of the world's highest standard of living for the greatest number of people. History has proved that vital liberties—religious, political and economic—must go hand in hand with free enterprise. They are far more than idealistic luxuries. They are literally necessities.

A steady trend over the world toward abolishment of free enterprises has finally resulted in what we see abroad, subjugation of the individual to the state. And make no mistake, the same trend threatens our liberties and free enterprise in this country.

That is why it is imperative that America awaken. Our liberties must be maintained. To do that, we must maintain private enterprise. And to quote Mr. Benson again: "To continue to have a system of free enterprise, capital (savings) must flow in a natural course from private investors into private enterprises. We have got to release the creative forces of capital and industry if we are to keep our freedom."

SPARKS OF WISDOM

"Opportunity is rare, and a wise man will never let it go by him."—Bayard Taylor.

"Our opportunities to do good are our talents."—C. Mather.

"Who makes quick use of the moment, is a genius of prudence."—Lavater.

Walter Albright, 13, of Baltimore County, Md., was knocked out of a truck by a bolt of lightning which rendered him unconscious, but shortly recovered. The straw hat he was wearing was torn to shreds. Instead of conventional signs on street trash cans, those in Highland Park, Mich., bear such labels as "Stuff Me," "Say, you! Dump that paper here," and "Toodle-lum-a-lum-a-toodly-ay, any waste paper for me today?"

Mrs. Ethel Nicholson hitch-hiked nearly 300 miles with her 2-year-old baby to take a job as housekeeper for Mrs. Mary Moody of Salem, N. J.

Mothers, Watch The Children

Don't Send Them to School Half Sick. Give them a Fair Chance—Now is the Time to Get Them Ready for School.

Many mothers who are ordinarily very conscientious about their children send them to school in poor physical condition expecting them to do well in their studies. It is very nearly impossible for a child to do well in school when it is choked full of Malaria and Bilious and Constipated. So mothers look after the little ones this year and give them a fair chance by having them in tip top shape ready for school.

Don't Spank Them When You Are To Blame

In most cases the children are not to blame when they fall behind in their work. Instead of spanking them look to their physical condition. If they are lazy and listless, lie around instead of being anxious for play, have a pale color—hate to get up in the morning. Then is the time to remove that Biliousness and Malaria from their systems with Nash's Tonic. Nash's Tonic acts mildly on their bowels, removing the poisons that have been accumulating in their systems all summer and makes them feel fit again. It removes all traces of Malaria and builds up the red corpuscles in their blood thereby fortifying them against disease. Nash's is truly a wonderful tonic for the little ones and should be in the home of every family that is interested in the welfare of the children.

No Poisons—Safe to Take

Nash's Tonic contains no poisons or habit forming drugs. It is safe for children to take and many mothers are today depending on this medicine to keep their children in tip top shape the year round. Give them a few doses and note the red color return to their cheeks—note the new pep and vitality in their work and play.

Take Nash's Advice

So get them ready for school. If more than one child buy the large dollar size and give to the whole family as you will find it money well spent, as to build up the system now will fortify them against cold and influenza later on. The smaller size sells for fifty cents and is sold on the same guarantee as the larger size. You must be thoroughly satisfied with Nash's Tonic or your money will be refunded. Drugists sell and recommend this tonic to give you entire satisfaction. Of course it is good for the grown-ups as well as the kiddies. For sale in Fulton by Bennett's Drug Store.

The West Fulton Parent-Teachers Association met Tuesday afternoon at Carr Institute, with the past-president, Mrs. Kellie Lowe, presiding.

The meeting was opened with the singing of "America." A report of the nominating committee was given by Mrs. Robert Graham and the following new officers were named: Mrs. Wallis Koelling, president; Mrs. Kellie Lowe, vice-president; Mrs. S. E. Campbell, treasurer; and Mrs. Eldridge Grymes, secretary.

The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. Koelling and she introduced Miss Butt, program chairman. The following program was given: flute solo, La Nello Bugg; tap dance, Mary Eleanor Blackstone. Miss Butt extended an invitation to all to attend the art exhibit on display this week and to attend the program of living pictures.

During the business session the minutes of the last meeting were read and one correction was made by Mr. Lewis. He stated that the amount owed on the band uniforms for the school was $200 instead of $300.

A suggestion was made by the executive board that a guest tea be held before the November meeting, and, after a brief discussion, the group decided to have the tea Wednesday, October 25, at the cafeteria, from four until five o'clock. All new members and prospective members are urged to attend.

Mr. Lewis spoke briefly on the safety seal campaign, which was sponsored by the P. T. A., with fifty per cent of the proceeds going to the organization.

Delegates were elected to attend the District P. T. A. meeting, to be held at Heath, Ky., Friday, November 10. Mrs. S. E. Campbell and Mrs. Roper Fields were named as delegates, with Mrs. Claude Linton and Mrs. Earl Collins as alternate delegates. The meeting was then adjourned to meet again November 14.

When the cry of "Westward Ho!" resounded from the wagon train a century or more ago, American milling made its way along side our pioneer forefathers. So important was milling in frontier days that the traditional name "Honest Old Miller" is to be remembered even until this day.

Though we are not pioneers in the making, yet we cling to some of the traditions of the "Honest Old Miller." We contribute liberally toward the advancement of our town and community; we practice honesty and fair dealing in our transactions; we strive at all times to merit the good will and patronage of those who are in the market for our products.

COUNTY AGENT

$47,379.48 has recently been distributed among cotton growers in Fulton County as parity payment on cotton and approximately $5,000.00 is yet to be received as parity payment on cotton.

$5,366.36 was distributed to the wheat growers of Fulton County as parity payment on wheat.

$11,485.00 has been received as parity payment on 246 corn applications. Payments on 434 corn applications is expected soon which will amount to approximately $30,000 more.

This makes a total of $99,430.84 that will be distributed among Fulton County farmers as parity payment on 1939 crops. This payment does not include the soil conservation payment. This is only parity payment. The soil conservation payment which will be approximately $280, 430 as government payment on the 1939 crop.

Keep these figures in mind when planning your 1940 crop and stay within your allotted acres. The above figures prove that it pays to do so. This program is of the farmers and for the farmers, so let's keep it going.

Poultry

Seven poultry farmers have agreed to conduct a demonstration poultry flock for the coming year. The poultry calendar starts as of October 1 and ends September 30 each year. The 7 farmers agreeing to keep records on their flocks are as follows:

John Dawes, Fulton, Ky., Rhode Island Reds; Jim Dawes, Fulton, Ky., New Hampshire Reds; C. A. Binford, Crutchfield, Ky., R. 2, White Rocks; Paul Williams, Crutchfield, Ky., R. 2, White Leghorns; I. R. Jeffers, Crutchfield, Ky., R. 2, Barred Rock; Paul Davis, Hickman, Ky., R. 4, White Rock; Ernest Jenkins, Fulton, Ky., R. 5, Rhode Island Reds.

Records on the seven flocks will be published in this column each month.

Mr. C. M. Hornsby, chairman of the County Committee of the Fulton County Agricultural Conservation Association, said today the State A. A. A. office has approved October 16, 17, 18 as the date for 1940 County Committee community elections in Fulton County.

Present community officials, Mr. Hornsby said, will conduct nominations and elections on that date at the following places:

Lodgeston school—7:30 on Monday, October 16.

Hickman Court House—7:30 on Tuesday, October 17.

Sassafras Ridge School—7:30 on Wednesday, October 18.

Eligibility provisions of the Articles of Association in regard to officers of the community and county organizations will be discussed at the opening of the meetings, and duties of officers and delegates will be explained.

Nominations will be made orally and votes for the nominees will be cast by written ballot. Each community group will elect seven representatives in the following order: Delegate to the county convention, alternate delegates to the county convention, chairman of the community committee, vice-chairman of the community committee, third regular member of the community committee, first alternate community committeeman and second alternate community committeeman.

CHURCHES OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

"Doctrine of Atonement" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, October 11, 1939. The Golden Text is: "If any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous." (1 John 2:1.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Break forth into joy, sing together, ye waste places of Jerusalem: for the Lord hath comforted his people, he hath redeemed Jerusalem." (Isiah 52:9.)

A clause willing his divorced wife an income of $6,000 a year if she does not remarry was contained in the will of the late William F. Beal of Nahant, Mass. Dr. J. H. Nilson, health officer of Mantako, Minn., at a recent meeting of the city council protested that his salary was too high and volunteered to accept a reduction.

THE FORUM

By J. PAUL BUSHART, Editor

A column conducted for news, views and comments, in which readers of The News are invited to participate. Mail contributions care of THE FORUM, this newspaper.

Agricultural marketing cooperatives have carried on many a battle with middlemen in an attempt to obtain better prices for producers. But this does not mean that the marketing groups are attempting to "stick the consumer," and to force the public to pay an extortionate price for the products of the farm. To the contrary, the desire of the marketing co-ops is to receive for their members a fairer share of the final selling price. In many instances middleman profits have been excessive. Aggressive cooperative action, by forcing middlemen to meet producers on a basis of equality, has made it possible to materially increase the farmer's income without increasing the price paid by the consumer.

So far the federal electric power program will cost the taxpayers of this country, present and future, close to two billion dollars. Men in the banking business are meeting the same sort of competition as are railroads, utilities, etc., that is, infiltration of government in your business. We have over emphasized government and ever since there has been too much emphasis on reform and too little on recovery. Let us have less government in business and more business in government and more intelligence all around. What this country needs is less technique and more good old common horse sense.

Those who hoped for a short and sweet special session of Congress which would talk little and get immediately to the business of repealing the arms embargo, are due for disappointment. Some of the country's leading men differ with the administration. And the senators who are fighting repeal, such as Johnson and Borah, are seasoned campaigners, who know every parliamentary trick, and have championed with success many a seemingly lost cause before.

But we have not yet forgotten the disillusionment of the last war; we remember that Europe still owes us some $10,000,000,000 in war debts which will never be paid unless a major miracle occurs. And many of us think that Britain and France, even though we want them to win, have made a terrible mess of matters the last five years. Hitler is making peace overtures, and the Allies seem determined to destroy Hitlerism once and for all.

Well, with peace and two Thanksgiving Days, the United States ought to be able to express itself.

Bette Davis, Miriam Hopkins Top
Cast of Brilliant Drama

"The Old Maid," co-starring Bette Davis and Miriam Hopkins, will have its first local showing at the Fulton Theatre on Sunday. Filmed by Warner Bros., it has been hailed by preview audiences as the outstanding dramatic event of the year—a rare combination of brilliant talents in the fields of acting, writing and directing.

One famous star—especially if she be that double Academy winner, Bette Davis—might be considered sufficient for a photoplay, no matter how great. But in "The Old Maid" there are two. Besides Bette Davis there is the lovely and highly capable Miriam Hopkins, who has starred in many a topnotch. The girls have equally important parts. This is the first time since they reached stardom, that either has ever shared acting honors or top billing honors with another player of her own sex.

"The Old Maid" was written first as a novel by Edith Wharton, often called the "aristocrat of American writers." She will be remembered as the author of "Ethan Frome" and "The Age of Innocence," among many other books. Then, four years ago, Zoe Akins, the brilliant dramatist, transformed the book into a stage play which not only had a long run in New York but won the Pulitzer Prize for that year, the highest award that can be bestowed upon a dramatic production.

With Miss Davis and Miss Hopkins in the picturization of "The Old Maid" are such players as George Brent, Jane Bryan, Donald Crisp, Louise Fazenda, James Stephenson, Jerome Cowan, William Lundigan, Cecelia Loftus, Janet Shaw, DeWolf Hopper and Rand Brooks. The director was Edmund Goulding, whose latest previous triumph was Bette Davis' sensational "Dark Victory."

The story deals with two cousins, Charlotte and Della Lovell, who live in the same old house in aristocratic Philadelphia in the period between 1861, when the Civil War broke out, and the 1880's. Despite the luxury and wealth with which they are surrounded, they hate and envy each other for twenty odd years. Then the daughter of "the sour old maid"—this young girl played brilliantly by Jane Bryan—is able to bring mutual understanding to them as their gray hairs and lined faces tell they have entered middle age.

The picture is a tense, gripping drama, with a charmingly picturesque period background. Houses, furniture, equipage, costumes, all were revived with authenticity and beauty, it is declared.

Little need be said of the acting ability of either Bette Davis or Miriam Hopkins. Each has a top place among the feminine players of the screen. And each, previewers agree, in "The Old Maid" surpasses anything she has previously done.

BIG SCALE MINING

What is described as the most spectacular mining operation in the world today is under way in Arizona, where an estimated 74 million tons of earth must be stripped from a copper ore deposit, as a preliminary to mining the ore itself.

This excavation work is going forward at the rate of about 28,000 tons a day, using power shovels that lift ten tons or more of earth at a time. The earth is deposited in special trucks and hauled away to fill a nearby canyon.

Under the surface of the ground, at an average depth of about 420 feet, lies the vast bed of ore, ascertained by diamond drilling to be approximately a mile long, half a mile wide and 800 feet thick. It is estimated that 250 million tons of ore ultimately may be taken from the mine. It is of low grade, however, and contains only about 10 pounds of copper to the ton.

Such "lean" ore could only be mined at a profit by mass production and with the most modern equipment. Naturally, an enormous amount of capital was necessary to undertake the development of the mine at all.

But through American initiative, capital and courage the difficulties attending this amazing operation are being overcome and another hitherto unproductive natural resource will be added to the nation's wealth.

LEE DIED A "PRISONER"

It may not be generally known that General Robert E. Lee was technically a prisoner of war at the time of his death in 1870, but such is the case, according to a recent writer.

After Lee's surrender to Grant at Appomattox, April 9, 1865, he was released on parole. President Johnson's amnesty proclamation issued the following month did not include Confederate officers above the rank of colonel, or any who had been educated at West Point or who had resigned from the United States army to join the Confederacy, so Lee was ineligible for amnesty on all three counts.

Johnson provided, however, that those in the exempted classes would have their applications for pardon considered and Lee made his application accordingly, but his request was entirely ignored by the President. The terms of Lee's parole were respected, however, and he was never molested, although he never restored to citizenship.

As is well known, after the war General Lee accepted the presidency of Washington College at Lexington, Va., and remained in that office until he died, when the name of the institution was changed to Washington and Lee. But at the time of his death he was still a paroled prisoner of war, deprived of his civil rights.

NEWS 200 YEARS AGO

In connection with the 200th anniversary of the Maryland Gazette, some early copies of that newspaper were exhibited.

The news and advertisements of early days were naturally quite different from what is found in current newspapers, as they reflected the customs and beliefs of their time.

One of the stories from Vienna told of the burning of several persons convicted of witchcraft, among them a "midwife who had baptized 2,000 children in the name of the devil." A local item related the experience of a negro slave who struck a white man in an argument over a dog fight. The negro was sentenced to have one of his ears cut off "pursuant to the law in such cases."

Among the advertisements was one announcing the arrival of a cargo of "about 200 choice slaves" which will be exposed for sale on Thursday the 22nd of this instant."

In its issue of October 21, 1762, the Maryland Gazette published the news of the birth of a son to the British king and queen, which had occurred on August 12. The story bore the headlines: "Great Joy to the Nation! A Prince of Wales is born. God Save the King." This was the disolute and notorious charge for who afterward became George IV.

The Maryland Gazette was frequently suspended for varying periods, but is credited by the librarian of Congress with being the "dean of present-day American newspapers."

In spite of the fact that he has undergone 130 major operations since he was ten years old, H. B. Smythe of St. Louis is hale and hearty at 69.
