VOLUME III.

Wichita, Kansas, has three of the liveliest daily papers in the West.

The Farmers Review, of Chicago, estimates the corn crop of 1887 at thirteen hundred million bushels.

Commodore Miller, of the Internal Revenue Bureau, denies that he intends any along the beer supply of the country.

A prominent member of Congress accuses the President of having become a "tariff crank." Reformers are always cracks at first.

A rich Texas ranchman was kidnapped and taken to Mexico recently and only released when his son paid $15,000 to one of the band.

The Tortilla Mining Co. fraud is taking in some of our State newspapers. The brethren are too anxious to become blotted bond-holders.

Sam Jones is lecturing in Upper Kentucky on the subject "Get There" and he does it in great shape. When Mr. Jones will finally land on this proposition is not known.

A Wichita, Kansas, woman has sued her husband for money for the support of herself, under a new statute in that State. She has only been married a few weeks. It is perhaps the first case of the kind on record.

The weavers strike, begun about two months ago in Louisville, has ended by the strikers withdrawing from the Knights of Labor and going to work at the old wages. It is stated that the Knights will order a boycott.

Gov. Becker has appointed Hon. J. R. Morton, of the Lafayette Circuit Court, a special Judge of the Rowan Circuit Court to try the case of James Harris, indicted for confederating to kill Judge A. E. Cole. The court convenes October 13.

The weather department has thrown a big damper on the G. A. R. pow wow at St. Louis. The "vets" have been trampolining around in the rain and mud ever since they got there and about the only people in St. Louis who are enjoying the thing are the hotel and saloon keepers.

The Western Recorder, the leading Baptist paper of the South, published in Louisville, has been sold to Rev. W. T. Harvey, of Harrodsburg, Ky. Dr. A. C. Caperton, who for more than sixteen years edited and owned the paper, writes because the work requires too much of him.

The decision of the United States Circuit Court at Boston in the Bell telephone litigation rests upon technical grounds regarding jurisdiction, and does not deal with the issue of the validity of the patents. Judge Colt holds that the proper remedy in the case is an injunction only.

It is very evident, from the initial proceedings at St. Louis, that the better portion of the order are endeavoring to suppress the Tattlers and the Fairchilds and to defeat, if possible, the attempt to turn the organization into a political machine. This is the wisest course they could take, and, if successful, will strengthen the order materially with the country at large.

Tennessee went "wet" Thursday by from 10,000 to 15,000 Monticouery county giving about 2,000 majority against prohibition amendment. When Tennessee goes "dry" the drought will severely affect Kentucky along the line where "Robertson County" has been wont to flow over and mingle with "Bourbon." The Governor of Kentucky will now probably say to the Governor of Tennessee, &c., &c.

The President states that he is not to be considered as preparing a bill for the reduction of tariff duties, as he does not care to be placed in the attitude of interfering with the powers and prerogatives of the legislative branch of the Government. He says, however, that he regards the highest duty of the Democratic House to be the reduction of taxes, and when the proper time arrives, he will plainly express himself on the subject.

In reply to an Alabama delegation who waited on him the other day to urge the appointment of a gentleman from that State to the vacant Justiceship of the Supreme Court, President Cleveland said: "All of the parties named are men of the highest character, and likewise Judge Sumner, of Louisiana, whose name has been also mentioned in this connection. But the newspapers throughout the country seem to have already made this appointment for me, and I am somewhat embarrassed in consequence. I do not care to make an issue with the press on this matter." The interpretation placed upon the President's remarks is that the selection has already been made, and that Secretary Lamar is the fortunate party.

John Pierce, a member of the notorious Turner gang, who was suspected of the murder of Howard Monroe, of Yellow Creek, Bell county, Ky., last Saturday night, was overtaken by a Sheriff and posse Wednesday near the scene of the crime and riddled with bullets. He was overtaken in the road with a friend, Thomas Henderson, another of the Turner gang, who was ordered to halt, but turned and fled, firing three shots, one of them slightly wounding a Deputy Sheriff. The posse then opened fire on the fleeing desperado and wounded him in several places. He will die. Henderson escaped at the time, with a slight flesh wound in the shoulder. He was afterward arrested and lodged in the Pine-Bluff jail for complicity in the murder of

THE G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT.

RAIN STILL INTERFERES WITH THE PROCEEDINGS AT ST. LOUIS.

Proceedings of the Sessions of the G. A. R. and Woman's Relief Corps—The G. A. R. Not an Incorporated Body—Interfering With the Grant Cottage.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 30.—It was long after midnight when the banquet tendered to the local and visiting correspondents of the press by the California delegation at the Hotel Hamilton, came to a close. There were twelve hundred guests and wine flowed like water. Such a banquet, "journalists" as G. W. Blarney and Fairchild, Hon. Hannibal Hamlin, Governor Oglesby, of Illinois, and Evans, of Colorado, were the leading post-prandial speakers, and kept the company in excellent humor.

The same lively and drizzling made their reappearance this morning, much to the chagrin of the promoters of the great trades demonstration and parade. The sessions of the encampment and the Woman's Relief Corps were resumed at the exposition building at 9 o'clock, respectively. At the encampment in the Department of Commerce, the speaker of the day was John G. Cayton and Col. Holshel, of San Diego, with a view to the establishment of a G. A. R. soldiers' home in that city. The donation is in the form of land and is equivalent to $100,000 in cash. Of this sum of $100,000, $25,000 is to be expended in the immediate erection of buildings, while it is proposed to leave the balance in order to provide for an endowment fund. If the proposition is accepted by the encampment the house will be placed under the control of three trustees, one by the donors, the second by the encampment and the third by the other two. The usual regulations of soldiers' homes will be in force, and actual service Grand Army membership, property and residence in California will be the sole qualifications for admission. The scheme has been extensively canvassed since the arrival of the various delegations in the city, and apparently meets with general favor.

There was a consultation this morning between the council of administration, Gen. Fairchild and Charles E. Gantz, of Albany, N. Y., the representative of Joseph W. Drexel, in reference to the acceptance of the grant cottage at Mount McGregor. Gantz had come here prepared to hand over the deed for the cottage, but it was suggested that there was a difficulty in the way of accepting the bequest in the fact that the Grand Army is not an incorporated body.

This was reported to Judge Advocate General Taintor, of Connecticut, who decided that it would only be necessary to appoint a board of trustees, whose names the deed could be made out. He held further that the deed might be transferred in trust to the National officers and their successors. These suggestions were referred to the National encampment. Then it was suggested that the organization had no full authority to apply to the care and preservation of the cottage. Mr. Gantz responded that the state of New York would attend to this feature of the affair. That the legislature would, in all probability, add a few thousand dollars and that with the receipts from the sale of souvenirs and trinkets, the cottage and its surroundings could be preserved in good style. At the close of the conference there was a unanimous agreement that the gift should be accepted.

A movement has been inaugurated looking to the re-election of Gen. Fairchild as commander-in-chief. It originated with the California delegation, which was in caucus until after 2 o'clock this morning. Gen. Stearns' candidacy was dismissed in a few minutes and without even the formality of a ballot. Then there was a contest between supporters of Gen. Gritz, of this city, and Warner, of Kansas City, but both of them fell short of the number necessary to hold the delegation. As a last resort a second round for Gen. Fairchild was suggested. The compromise was immediately adopted, and the delegation at once informal vote bearer of the present commander-in-chief. This morning it was working hard to gain re-election, in the expectation that sufficient support will be secured to induce the general consent to the use of his name. In the event of a pre-emptory refusal the Californians will throw their strength to Warner. Gen. Sherman has declared for Gen. Gritz.

Only the committee on credentials reported at the opening of the encampment this morning. Something was expected to show up much to the disappointment of many of the delegates, who are anxious to get at a discussion of the pros and cons of Commodore Vanderbilt's resolution concerning President Cleveland for voting the dependent pension bill, but the members of the committee had encountered themselves in a little room on the gallery floor and were using a working method of discussion which lasted up to the hour of adjournment of the morning session without any definite result. It is said, however, that three-fifths of the committee are in favor of reporting the resolution to the encampment in its original shape.

The only definite action of importance in the encampment up to the dinner hour was the adoption of the pension bill giving the value of every dollar $5 per month, no matter whether death resulted from injuries received in the army or from other causes, and which further makes every dependent or pensioner's discharge papers the only necessary claim for a pension of $10 monthly. Under this measure all veterans who are in possession of discharge papers or soldiers' homes and who have the proper discharge papers, or who can show by the records that they were honorably discharged from the Federal army would be entitled to this pension. The news of the adoption of the measure created considerable dissatisfaction among the supporters of the pension bill, who would have acted upon their own measure before the other one came up for consideration.

The resolution by states at Forest Park, for which great preparations had been made, is in progress to-day, but the unfavorable condition of the weather is militating considerably against its success. Still there are several thousand comrades upon the grounds and they are parading around each other's camps, removing old associations, filling the air with war songs, forcing in the commissary department and generally having a jolly good time.

Back From the Encampment.

Leavenworth, Kan., Sept. 30.—The band at the Soldiers' Home returned yesterday from St. Louis. They report that the city was one great mad house, and that thousands of people were in the streets, and that the weather had drowned all the enjoyment they had anticipated.

Distillers Assign.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 30.—J. R. Watson & Co., distillers, have made an assignment with liabilities of $50,000. Assets not yet known.

CLEVELAND'S EXPENSES.

WHAT THE PRESIDENT'S WESTERN TRIP WILL COST.

His Desire Was to Move as an Ordinary Passenger on a Regular Train—The Buffet Car to Be Stopped by the President Himself—Other Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—An intimate friend of the president says that Mr. Cleveland is much annoyed by the extravagant stories which have recently been printed in regard to the expenditures he will be obliged to incur on his contemplated trip. "It has been stated," said he, "that the president will spend over $10,000 before he returns." The fact of the matter is that he has simply purchased a regular full fare ticket for each member of his party.

It was his desire to travel as unostentatiously as possible, and he would have preferred going west on one of the regular express trains had not their official disavowal of any representation which it must be allowed are very sensible. The president of one of the roads over which the party is to pass explained to Mr. Cleveland that no railroad would be justified in the risk of transporting him on such a journey as he contemplates without more adequate than can be thrown around him on the ordinary train.

"The president then suggested that the special car set apart for him might be attached to a regular express. This official answer by saying that all the express trains are run on a schedule, which is liable to occur at every stopping place, might seriously interfere with the regular sessions of the road would be sure of less inconvenience and should not suffer the annoyance when it could be so easily prevented. The road under any arrangement would be taking a great responsibility, and the president would not be able to stock the buffet car himself, and the expenses will be trifling compared with the suggested accounts that have appeared."

Secretary Fairchild Back in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Secretary Fairchild was at the treasury department to-day and held a conference with Acting Secretary Thompson, and later attended the cabinet meeting. Mr. Fairchild will resume active charge of the treasury department to-morrow morning.

ROBBING THE CITY.

How the City of Cincinnati Was Robbed by the Old Board of Public Works.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 30.—Expert report to the board of revision on the old board of public works was presented Wednesday, itemized, and specified the frauds and irregularities of which that body was guilty. The report begins with fifty-five separate specifications of fraudulent warrants aggregating $2,811,544, delivered to the city treasury. These warrants were issued by the officers of the board and the money was obtained by Louis and George Seiler, Charles T. Blackburn, H. T. Blackburn, Charles Doll and Joseph M. Peter, a nephew of Seiler. The money was obtained in payment of bogus warrants, stone, gravel and fuel, issued to fictitious parties. The frauds covered a period of five years—from 1881 to 1886. These members of the board, who are now directly charged with crookedness acted with the greatest carelessness and extravagance.

The auditing committee, which was responsible for the bills paid are especially charged with negligence. The various presidents of the board also signed bills in many instances without inquiry or investigation. The employees on under bond systematically robbed the city from year to year. The amounts collected by the board are noted in the following table: Louis and George Seiler, $1,000,000; Charles T. Blackburn, $500,000; H. T. Blackburn, $500,000; Charles Doll, $500,000; Joseph M. Peter, $500,000. The frauds covered a period of five years—from 1881 to 1886. These members of the board, who are now directly charged with crookedness acted with the greatest carelessness and extravagance.

ASTORIA, O. OF GOLD.

President Cleveland Will Walk Upon One While in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—When President Cleveland comes to Chicago he will find a section of La Salle street opposite the city hall paved with gold. It isn't the straight stuff, but it is gold. Once upon a time Bull Buble, the horseman, wanted to buy a mine in California, but didn't want to put in his money until he knew what sort of ore the hole would pan out. He sent five or six men to the board of trade, who had a new patent pulverizer and amalgamator that he wanted to test on the road. He sent a Biss and Biss joint force, Biss furnishing the ore and Biss the machinery. Biss found that his machinery worked to a charm, but Biss discovered that the ore would assay just $3 to the ton instead of $30, as he had been informed. It is the mean time he rented a collar for $25 a month, in which he made up their minds that he was sick of the stuff and gave it to the city on the condition that they would cart it away. And that's how La Salle street is being paved with gold-bearing quartz.

Fire in a Box Factory.

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—About 11:30 o'clock last night fire originated in the extensive box factory of Maxwell Brothers, Loomis and Twenty-first streets, which resulted in almost complete destruction. The loss is estimated at $125,000; insurance about $45,000. The planing mill annexed to the factory of John Lohstein was damaged to the extent of $25,000; insurance $5,000. For a time the fire threatened the immense lumber yards in the vicinity. Nearly four hundred employees are thrown out of work by the fire.

Where the Games Will Be Played.

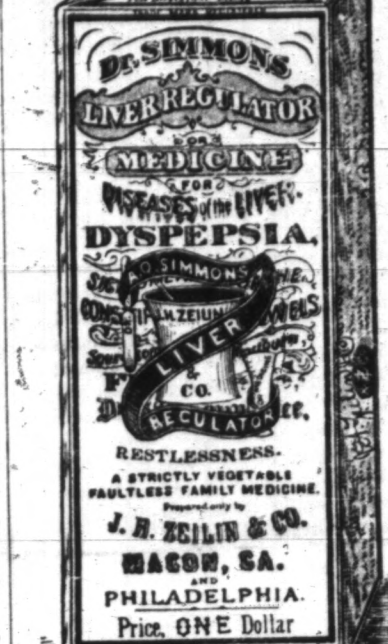

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 30.—The following is the schedule of the world's championship League and St. Louis Association clubs: St. Louis, October 10; Chicago, 11; Detroit, 12; Philadelphia, 13; New York, 14; Brooklyn, 15; Philadelphia, 17; Boston, 18; Staten Island or Athletic grounds, Philadelphia, 19; Baltimore, 20; Washington, 21; Brooklyn, 22; Cincinnati, 23; Louisville, 24. If the result be a tie the deciding game will be played at St. Louis.

Settlement Reached.

TYNENBURG, Pa., Sept. 30.—An amicable settlement of the differences between the Western Window Glass Manufacturers and their employees was effected today. They will receive a 5 per cent advance instead of 10 per cent as originally demanded, and the manufacturers will endeavor to bring into the association all outside factories. Work will be resumed in about ten days. The settlement affects between 6,000 and 7,000 men.

Quite an excitement was created
Thursday afternoon opposite Mr. Jno.
Young's residence. Mr. W. J. Chiles, of Trenton, and a friend were coming into the city in a road cart. The horse became unmanageable and planted one of his hind feet over the dash board, and threw both men heels over head into the road. In order to extricate the steed from his position the road cart was taken down in a dozen places. Neither man sustained injuries. Mr. Chiles had a narrow escape as the animal let fly his heels with great force in close proximity to the gentleman's stomach.

cold, attended with a distressing cough and running into consumption in its first stages. He tried many so-called popular cough remedies and steadily

Discovery for Consumption and found immediate relief, and after using about a half dozen bottles found himself well

A Very Mysterious Jail Delivery.
"Calro Charley," a mulatto, who had been confined in jail for some time, and who had once before broken jail at this place made a miraculous escape Monday. Uncle Daniel Brown, the jailer, gave the prisoners their supper at the usual hour Monday evening, after which the prisoners were all securely locked in their cells. After the cells were securely locked "Calro Charley" called for a check of Johnson, the jailer went into his private room and returned handing the tobacco through bars of the cell. There can be no doubt that the prisoner was in his cell when the doors were fastened. No disturbance was heard through the night, and the jail was not entered until next morning when the cells it was found that "Calro Charley" had made his escape. Not a scratch could be found about the jail, and everything about the jail as it had been left the night before. On an early hour Tuesday morning a reporter for the Times and News called at the jail and interviewed the remaining prisoners, who claimed that "Calro" was in his cell after night, and his escape is a mystery to them. Taking it all together it is simply as Uncle Daniel says: "The greatest mystery on earth and always will be."—Madisonville Times and News.
