FULTON, KY., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1939.

NUMBER FORTY.

SOUTH SIDE SCHOOL MAKES PROGRESS

There is every indication that the South Fulton School is headed for real progress, now that it is under the Obion county school board, with an experienced school man like W. H. Cravens as superintendent. He came here weeks before the school was scheduled to open, and as is evidenced by the improvements and spirit of the school, he is well versed in organization and getting the job done.

The faculty is alert and aggressive, and the student body is a representative group of fine, youthful boys and girls who are eager to learn and participate in school activities. The Parent-Teachers organization is one of the most active in the county, and it is predicted that the school system will make rapid strides in the next few years.

Enrollment in the various classes has increased, and improvements and additions have been made in the commercial, home economics, and other departments. An effort is being made to obtain a Smith-Hughes instructor in order to add a course in agriculture. The present building is overcrowded, and the construction of additional class rooms will soon be required.

Besides children whose parents reside in South Fulton, many attend from the rural area. School buses transport them to and from school.

A WPA kitchen has just been opened to provide hot lunches for needy school children, and this service is of vital importance to the health of the children.

Athletics are an important part of the school program, providing healthful recreation for those desiring to participate. This year football was reorganized in the school for the first time in ten years, and the school has had a six-man team that has been undefeated so far this season.

The student body, faculty and local followers of sport are looking forward to the opening of the basketball season. South Fulton has some of the best material available in years out of which to mold a winning quintet, in both the girls and boys divisions.

SOUTH FULTON SCHOOL STARTS WPA KITCHEN

A WPA kitchen was opened at the South Fulton School this week under the sponsorship of the P.-T. A., and approximately 250 school children are being fed daily, according to Mrs. Leon Hutchins, president of the Parent-Teachers organization. The committee in charge is composed of Mrs. Roy Taylor, Mrs. D. D. Legg and Mrs. W. H. Cravens.

Under this plan, with the aid of WPA funds, the kitchen will be operated in order to provide hot meals for school children, many of whom are unable to pay for the proper food. A small charge is made for meals served those able to pay.

HICKMAN WOMAN CRITICALLY INJURED

Miss Helen Tyler of Hickman, and Richard Sanders of Woodland Mills received severe injuries in an automobile accident Monday night on the Union City-Hickman highway. They were rushed to the Union City Clinic.

(Buck) Heffley and Mr. Sanders were returning to their homes in Woodland Mills after the Ninth District American Legion convention at Union City. Their cars collided head-on just outside the city limits, it was stated.

Dr. Frank Kimzey stated Tuesday that Miss Tyler suffered a fractured arm, broken ribs, concussion of the brain and lacerations on her face and left knee. Mr. Sanders was in even more serious condition, he said, with probably a fractured skull, a fractured left wrist and lacerations on his body.

Mr. Heffley was not badly hurt, nor was Miss Tyler's chauffeur.

NEW FORD STOLEN FROM AUTO SALES

Many cars have been stolen in this locality, but a bold thief broke into the Auto Sales Company and stole a new 1940 model deluxe Ford last Sunday night. An electric drill and other items were also taken.

Entrance to the garage was gained by prying open a rear window. An air hose was cut and used to syphon gasoline out of other cars, and place in the stolen car. The thief then broke the lock on the rear door and drove the new car off.

The car was recovered Monday morning in Memphis after police in nearby cities had been notified. A Memphis patrolman was suspicious of the car when he noticed it had a dealers tag on the front and a different license plate on the rear. He ordered the driver to pull over to the curb, which was done, but the thief is said to have jumped from the car and fled.

The man driving the car is alleged to have been about six feet tall, a brunet weighing about 170 pounds and wore a dark brown suit.

ENTRIES COMING IN FOR MIDGET RACES

Entries having started pouring in for the Elks Midget Auto Races to be held here Sunday, November 12. All indications point to a large attendance, as interest in this final racing event of the year seems to be higher than ever before, according to comment of people who live outside of Fulton. The committee on putting out the advertising posters returned from their trips much elated over the favorable comment. Those who attended the last races state they will return and those who were not here but have heard of the races state they are coming too. The news is very gratifying to the Elks as every effort is being made to make this next show the biggest racing event ever staged on the local track.

Several owners of Hobo cars have expressed themselves as being ready to enter, their cars. If any of our readers have a car up to and including the 1933 models, and as long as it is strictly a stock car, then you should write, call or come in and see Mr. Cheiso G. Cisna, managing director of the races, who has his headquarters at the office of the Fulton County News. There are plenty of good cars in other cities and towns in this vicinity eligible to enter, and the Elks are very desirous of having entries from other communities, as well as Fulton. Cash awards will be given winners.

Daredevil Joe will return to again make his thrilling drive with death around the track three times at 60 miles an hour, blindfolded. Those who saw this breath-taking stunt in the last race will never forget it—it is sensational.

The following drivers of midget cars (midget in size but giants in speed) have already signed for the races: Hugh Sabbatini, Jimmie Stuart, Ed Ackley, Shorty Campbell and Archie Lyles of Memphis; Joe Shaheen, George Schroeder and Henry Early of Springfield, Ill., and Paul Borchert of Petersburg, Ill. Others will enter before the day of the race.

Box seats in the grandstand are now on sale, and those desiring to obtain them in advance may see Mr. Cisna at the News office.

Broadway Stage Hit Now Comes to Fulton Screen

Norma Shearer, Joan Crawford, Rosalind Russell Here Next Week in "The Women"

With the most brilliant feminine cast ever assembled in Hollywood, "The Women," based upon Clare Boothe's stage success and starring Norma Shearer, Joan Crawford and Rosalind Russell, opens at the Fulton Theatre Sunday for an engagement of 3 days.

A cast of 135 actresses, drafted from the stage as well as the screen, appear in the distinguished new comedy-drama which follows the lives of women through beauty salons, gown shops, boudoir and bath, as well as the drama of their everyday lives.

Norma Shearer is cast in her first modern society role since "Riptide," and Joan Crawford gets her initial opportunity to portray a "heavy." Rosalind Russell is given a chance to show her many-sided versatility as the screen's arch-gossip to date.

The supporting cast includes such names as Mary Boland, Paulette Goddard, Phyllis Povah, Joan Fontaine, Virginia Weidler, Lucile Watson, Florence Nash, Muriel Hutcherson, Esther Dale, Ann Morris, Ruth Hussey, Dennis Moore, Mary Cecil, Mary Beth Hughes, Virginia Grey, Marjorie Main, Cora Witherspoon and Hedda Hopper.

Nothing was spared to bring to the screen women in their natural habitats. The largest set of its type ever built in Hollywood comprises a modern beauty salon, and every type of treatment known to such establishments is covered.

The story shows Norma Shearer as Mary Haines, who chooses to divorce rather than countenance her husband's temporary infidelity when he becomes enamored of a perfume salesgirl, played by Joan Crawford. The constant gossiping of Rosalind Russell forces issues throughout the drama which finally come to a happy conclusion when Miss Shearer decides to fight back and reclaim her husband.

The settings, which reflect the luxury of modern life, range from scenes of New York and its smart suburbs, to Bermuda and a dude ranch in Reno, Nevada. Of particular interest is a remodeled farm house in which much of the action transpires. Early American in type, it is furnished with a collection of priceless antiques gathered by the studio property department over a period of years. Other interiors include night clubs, beauty salons, smart shops and apartments.

The picture was produced by Hunt Stromberg and was directed by George Cukor, who has such hits to his credit as "Romeo and Juliet," "Camille" and "David Copperfield."

The Spirit of Pioneers

When the cry of "Westward Ho!" resounded from the wagon train a century or more ago, American milling made its way along side our pioneer forefathers. So important was milling in frontier days that the traditional name "Honest Old Miller" is to be remembered even until this day.

Though we are not pioneers in the making, yet we cling to some of the traditions of the "Honest Old Miller." We contribute liberally toward the advancement of our town and community; we practice honesty and fair dealing in our transactions; we strive at all times to merit the good will and patronage of those who are in the market for our products.

When you are in the market for flour or feeds, remember the name—

BROWDER MILLING CO.

ARE WE A RACE OF OSTRICHES?

"Passing the buck" is a universal trait of the human race. When a man loses his job, he almost invariably and instinctively blames his employer. When the employer is in difficulty he blames "business conditions," the Democrats, the Republicans, or some other equally vague and docile agent. Seldom do people turn in retrospect and survey their own shortcomings.

In spite of rumors and indications of a "war boom," private savings in this country are still about as active as a dead dinosaur. And the savings of the private citizen must be coaxed out of hiding into the channels of investment and industry before there can be any sound prosperity.

The reason savings have gone into hiding are largely political. And the average politician, like the rest of us, looks everywhere but at himself for a "cure." He goes into a bank and sees money stacked on the counter and concludes that the banks are unconscionable hoarders. He "challenges" them to "supply money" to the economic system through virtually free loans, or else. He forgets that the banker is highly anxious to make loans. That is the banker's business. But to make loans there must be borrowers of sound credit standing. Loans made on any other basis would be an injustice to the community which the banker serves; would be against the law, and would violate the trust placed in him by those who own the money.

It is not the banker's job to supply money, rather, it is his first duty to meet the demands of the thrifty for a safe depository, and second to meet the loan requirements of legitimate enterprises. He should be congratulated upon a job that, on the whole, has been well done—not "challenged" to do the impossible.

LODGESTON HOMEMAKERS ENJOY HALLOWEEN PARTY

The Lodgeston Homemakers Club entertained with a Halloween Party October 31, at their club house from seven to eleven o'clock. A color scheme of orange and black was followed throughout the decorations, with colored lighting adding to the effect.

The presence of ghosts, witches, and goblins added to this usual hilarity of Halloween. Entertainment, consisting of games and contests, was enjoyed throughout the evening, with Martha Williamson winning the prize for the best disguise.

Refreshments, carrying out the Halloween motif, were served to Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Inman, Mr. and Mrs. Mattingly, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Burnett, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Williamson, Mrs. T. E. Williamson, Mrs. H. C. Brown, Mrs. H. P. Town Sheriff W. A. Armstrong of Lexington, Ont., refused to prevent nude bathing in the Humber River, explaining: "That water is so dirty it is impossible to see whether bathers are naked or not."

Charging that her husband, Frank, "treated the dog better than he treated me," and that "the dog treated me better than my husband did," Mrs. Karolina Mascha of Chicago sued for a divorce.

A VILLAGE ORACLE

Every village has its wise man or oracle; Fidelity would not have been worthy of remembrance if it had not qualified in this particular. Our wise man was an elderly gentleman, Uncle John Hancock, who lived to be ninety-three. He was born before the whole western part of the state was open for settlement, even before it had been bought by the Kentucky and Tennessee commissioners, Isaac Shelby and Andrew Jackson, from the Indians. I heard him say that he hunted in the prairies there while it was still Indian land. But it was not age alone that made him an oracle, however much we children liked to hear him tell of times so remote.

He was a rustic philosopher, far ahead of his age. He had picked up a knowledge that made him respected by the licensed lawyers of the county seat. He had served numerous times as a squire or magistrate and was known in our community for his fairness in settling cases. There was nothing soft in the old man, even when old age began to come on. He kept his fine physique to the very end and was able to walk some five or six miles, from the home of one of his children to that of another, only a few days before his death. I have been him walking down the road with a step as firm as that of men young enough to be his grand-children. I worked with him sometimes and kept a constant stream of questions going, for he loved to talk and was in his way a sort of authority.

Besides law, he knew many other things. In our community he lost caste for a while by voting wet when everybody else of much consequence voted dry. He stoutly maintained that regulated saloons were better than so-called prohibition. From his long experience he argued that humanity was better off when it regulated its own morals without depending on government to do this. You can imagine how bitterly many of the people of the section opposed this idea. But the worth of the old man brought him back into favor after the election, especially since the dry forces won by a huge majority.

Like Goldsmith's schoolmaster in THE DESERTED VILLAGE, he was an adept arguer, on politics, religion, or what have you. I cannot remember what particular faith he professed; it matters very little, anyway, for he could argue for or against any position and do it so well that the younger generation were provoked: they could not afford to get angry with him, because he was such a patriarch, and they could not get him down in a fair argument, the only kind he ever indulged in.

Since he was born in 1811, he was fifty years old when the Civil War began. The events of that time he recalled as if they had happened the day before. Though he was a Southerner in sympathy, I never heard him say a bitter or prejudiced thing, which was more than remarkable in our little world. Sage experience had taught him that in every war both sides have good and bad attitudes and that war itself is an unmixed wrong.

Thirty-four years ago, when he passed away, I did myself the honor of writing for the little county paper a brief obituary, which I tried to make less stiff than the ones I usually wrote or read. A whole generation later I am glad to add these few words, since our village oracle was so typical of the wise men that, almost miraculously, appear in every time and place, showing that genius is not a monopoly of any age or race.

UNCLE JIM SAYS

Selling is the other half of the farmer's job.

The best producer in the country may make a poor living if he doesn't use wisdom in marketing.

Prices largely determine farm profits but farmers acting individually can do little about them.

One reason for the high cost of living is that too many people have to make a profit between the producer and consumer.

The one-variety cotton movement is a splendid example of what the farmer can do to improve the quality of his crops through cooperative effort.

Reports show that the Extension Service through county farm and home agents helped over 1,200,000 farmers in 18,500 communities with their marketing problems last year.

Last call! October 31 is closing date for carrying out soil-building practices under the 1939 Agricultural Conservation program and credit will not be allowed after this date, according to AAA officials.

Last year over 3,500 farm people lost their lives and $95,000,000 worth of property was destroyed by fires. Carelessness in handling kerosene, faulty chimneys, thoughtless smokers, and make-shift jobs of electric wiring are some of the principal causes of farm fires.

Now is the time to: Cull cows so you won't have to feed "boarders" this winter; start feeding hens and pullets winter laying ration; get machinery and materials ready for dormant spray on fruit trees; provide dry and comfortable quarters for calves, colts, and pigs this winter.

SUCCESS FAMILY

The Father of Success is work; The Mother of Success is Ambition.

The oldest son is Common Sense; Some of the other boys are Perseverance, Honesty, Thoroughness, Foresight, Enthusiasm and Cooperation.

The oldest daughter is character. Some of her sisters are Cheerfulness, Loyalty, Courtesy, Care, Economy, Sincerity and Harmony. The baby is Opportunity.

Money is an article which may be used as a universal passport to everywhere except Heaven, and as a universal provider of everything except happiness.

Nothing is so contagious as enthusiasm; it moves stones. It charms brutes. Enthusiasm is the genius of sincerity and truth accomplishes no victories without it—Lytton.

Only those who have the patience to do simple things perfectly will acquire the skill to do difficult things easily.—Schiller.

1,000,000 BUREAUCRATS

As the New York Times observes: "Though we have got used to the spectacle of enormous government spending and to some remarkable comparisons as a result, it is none the less rather startling to learn that on June 30, last, there were 923,310 civil employees on the Federal government's payroll—2,550 more even than at the World War peak of November 11, 1918."

This is one more reason why about 25 cents out of every dollar we earn goes directly or indirectly into the insatiable maw of government. Our entrance into the World War caused the number of government workers—entirely aside from those in the military forces—to be doubled. By 1923, the number of employees had dripped almost to the pre-war level. Then a slow rise set in, which became a fast rise in 1933. There were 563,000 government tax-eaters in 1932—and 719,400 in 1935. And where 824,259 workers lived at the expense of the rest of us in 1936, some 620,019 eat at a tax-supported table today.

Most startling of all is the fact that the number of government workers seems to increase regardless of changes for the better in business conditions. The years 1932 and 1933, going by all the statistics, were the worst of depression. But more than 150,000 additional people were employed by the government in 1937, when a comparatively high level of industrial production was reached, and the national income was substantially greater.

In response to a call for help, coast guardsmen in Chilmark, Mass., rushed to No Man's Island and milked a cow. The island's caretaker was sick and his wife didn't know how to milk.

I wholly disapprove what you say, but will defend to the death your right to say it.—Voltaire.

WELCH HIGH SCHOOL

The annual Field Day activities in the northern part of the county which have been lavishly supported and sponsored by the P. T. A. of various schools, have come to a close.

Our school in particular boasts of having a very successful year so far. We have a P. T. A. membership of 93 which is a splendid record for a small community. The last bi-monthly meeting of the P. T. A. reported to have very close to $150.00 in the treasury. Highlights of the last meeting was the passing of a resolution to concrete the basement of the Welch School. Another resolution was passed to do some campus work, particularly on the shrubbery and eroded spots.

We have secured a way of serving hot lunches for the school children.

Friday night, Nov. 10, Welch basketball team played Chestnut Glade.

Friday morning, Nov. 10, a program is prepared by the school children for American education week. A visiting speaker will be present. Would like for everyone to attend.

Mrs. Pentecost's fifth grade entertained the primary room with a very lively puppet show last Friday afternoon.

We would like to know why Lillian Qualls and Nadine Dickerson are always looking for a black V-8 pick-up.

Ask Edwanda Buck why she cries to go with Mr. and Mrs. Pentecost to Palmersville every time they start.

Martha Cotton is always yelling to play Brundage. We wonder why.

State Survey Shows

Democrats in Majority

A survey into state political sentiment conducted by the National Welfare Forum was completed as of this date. A summary of returns in the poll shows the following percentages in the race for governor of Kentucky:

Democrats 55.14
Republicans 40.24
Undecided 4.62

In the survey a total of 21,500 post cards were mailed to the following groups of voters in the ratio in which they occur proportionate to the total adult population of the State: Employers, employees, farmers, labor unions, retail merchants, farm bureau officials, war veterans, members of professional vocations, mayors of all Kentucky cities, civic club officials and newspapers.

In the above calculations a representative vote from all these groups is included. Replies were received and tabulated from every county in the state. The Negro vote was not polled but was added as a solid block to the Republican column.

On the basis of one million votes, which figure was slightly exceeded in the 1935 gubernatorial election, the returns of the poll indicate a Democratic majority of 110,000. In event of a total of 800,000 votes cast in the election November 7, it is predicted that the Democratic nominee will have a majority of 120,000.

FULTON HI NEWS

—By James Hagan—

Rev. Fuller Speaks at School

Rev. Woodrow Fuller gave a very interesting talk at Fulton High last Tuesday morning in chapel. He spoke on the subject of 'Airplanes,' including thrilling experiences during his flights and his predictions on the future of "air" America.

He gave the possibility that Fulton may be the site of an emergency airport for one of three companies who are now discussing the situation.

A meeting was held yesterday afternoon out at the airport for the purpose of organizing a club for people who are interested in model airplane building. Many boys in both schools were anxious to be one of its members.

The "Bulldogs" go to Owensboro today for their battle against the team there.

KROGER'S

CAPITOL COMMENTS

By David M. Porter
The Democrats and the machine seem pretty sure of victory in the election next week. They show it in their talks but a more positive indication is the way they treat party figures who backed John Y. Brown in the primary.

This time four years ago the leaders who supported Rhea in the Primary were being assiduously courted by the Chandler faction for they believed the election would be close and that every vote counted.

Now there is a certain coolness at headquarters for Brown supporters and they are being told it is their duty to back Keen Johnson for Governor because he is their party candidate, and not because of any job promise that they might get.

Johnson is making a strong campaign with two astute politicians to aid him, he is covering much territory and making many new friends.

Swope, less fortunate in his aids, and it is rumored, with a decided lack of enthusiasm shown by Maurice Galvin, last Kentucky leader, and Perkins of Frankfort, party leader who backed Cooper, is making a gallant up-hill fight, doing much of his own organizing and making rousing party speeches.

Already the talk has turned to the offices at Frankfort and many new faces will appear on Frankfort's political panorama.

There is talk of Mr. Cantrill of Lexington being made State Librarian instead of Highway Commissioner, but we believe he will take the Highway place.

We believe this will happen because it is the strongest place in our Governmental system, to make contacts and build up a machine, and rumor has it that, both he and Rodes Meyers are eyeing the Governor's Seat for 1943.

The politicians are holding polls again but we wonder, if the polls should go against their wishes, what their action would be. You, the readers of this paper, and the 79 other papers who run this column voted 97.6% correct in the Governor's primary in August. We believe that is a perfect showing and that you are the criterion of public opinion.

Two questions are perturbing the politicians and will come to a head after the election. One is whether the power of the Commissioner of Agriculture will be restored and the other pertains to the duties of the Auditor.

Bill May, Democratic candidate for Commissioner of Agriculture is a coming, young politician, and is liked by the farmers. The power of his office may be restored.

With the election of a new Auditor this year the powers of the reorganization bill takes effect and literally ymages him a past Auditor. As his duties are set out in the Constitution of the State this question will have to be settled by a test suit.

There is much speculation as to who will be the next President of the University of Kentucky, now that Chandler is out of the picture. Our guess is that it will be Dr. James W. Martin. He is honest, progressive, capable, and would make an outstanding President.

He is liked by both business men and politicians, has been connected with the University for a number of years, and is an outstanding educator.

We don't know whether our story about the drought last week had anything to do with the general rains in Kentucky, but we do know that if we don't take an umbrella or wear a rain coat on a gloomy day, it invariably rains.

COUNTY AGENT

H. C. Brown of Lexington has placed on his farm in Fulton county six registered Angus heifers and one registered Angus bull. This makes three Angus herds in the county. J. E. Attebery of Cayce is an Angus breeder and R. L. Curtis of Hickman is also a breeder.

Nelson Hickerson and Jessie McNeil of Sylvan Shade have recently purchased two valuable Hereford bulls from Thomas N. Greer, Estate, a very noted breeder of Shelbyville, Tennessee.

I feel that such breeding stock coming to our county is a step toward livestock improvement and Agricultural advancement in Fulton County.

Hybrid corn is showing an increased yield over open pollinated varieties of corn by approximately seven bushels per acre.

After playing a medley of Georgia tunes celebrating "Georgia Day," the World's Fair band in New York forgetfully struck up "Marching Through Georgia."

Opportunity is rare, and a wise man will never let it go by him—Bayard Taylor.

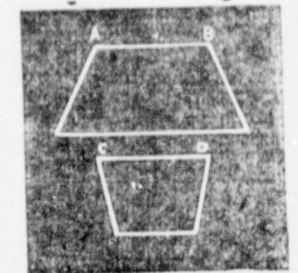

Do you know how many feet you travel per second at sixty miles an hour? Many accidents are caused when the motorist fails to realize the terrific speed he is traveling at sixty miles an hour and how long it will take him to stop the car.

An English judge discovered a very simple formula by which this could be figured. The answer is correct within 2 per cent. The formula is to take the speed shown on the speedometer and add one-half the speed to arrive at the number of feet traveled per second.

Try it. I am sure this will convince you that your brakes must be in good physical condition, and above all, that your judgment as to when speed should be used must be of the very best. Can you stop your car within the range of vision at night traveling sixty miles an hour and covering approximately ninety feet per second?

IT'S SMART TO DRIVE CAREFULLY.

If the devil wishes to serve you the worst turn, he could not ask more than an opportunity to do your thinking for you.—Anon.

HELP STOMACH
DIGEST FOOD

Without Laxatives—and You'll Eat Everything from Soup to Nuts. The stomach should digest two pounds of food daily. When you eat heavy, greasy, coarse or rich foods of which you are hurried or else your stomach often turns out too much food. Your food doesn't digest and you have gas, heartburn, nausea, pain or sour stomach. You feel sour, sick and upset all over. Doctors say never take a laxative for stomach pain. It is dangerous and foolish. It takes those little black tablets called Pei-see for Indigestion to make the excess stomach fluids harmless, relieve distress in no time and put you back on your feet. Relief is so quick it is amazing and one 25¢ package serves 10. Ask for Pei-see for Indigestion.

FULTON COUNTY MAKES STEADY ROAD IMPROVEMENT

In the past few years the rural roads of Fulton county have been steadily improved, and about 80 per cent of the dirt roads have been surfaced. County Judge C. L. Walker stated this week. Improvements have been made on the principal highways between Hickman and Fulton, and from these cities highways connect with important links in the road system at the various county lines in Kentucky and Tennessee.

There are about 350 miles of roads in Fulton county, it is estimated with about 280 to 300 miles of these improved and surfaced. The first district, in which Fulton is located, which is the smallest district in the county, has most of its roads improved.

Judge Walker was first elected in 1934, and his road building program has been steadily carried out, with the aid of federal appropriations.

One thing that the present war in Europe should settle is the argument about the relative merits of battleships and planes.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

It should be remembered that business was improving in this country before Germany invaded Poland, and Britain and France declared war. Therefore, late jumps in the business cycle cannot be entirely laid to hostilities abroad. War was a "boom" factor, but it didn't change a downward trend into an upward trend. It simply accelerated (to an immense extent in some lines) the betterment that had set in some time before.

The first weeks of the war saw frenzied buying and manufacturing—everybody seemed to be trying to get in on the ground floor at once, before prices shot skyward. That first, rather hysterical phase of the current improvement apparently has passed. The upturn in the barometer continues, but at a slow pace. The outlook is that future betterment will also be slow—but it is a fact which you can take for what it is worth that practically all of the economists feel that it will continue.

Business is better than most of us realize. Industrial production today is close to the 1929 level—some barometers show it even slightly above that point. A number of industries have actually passed the pre-depression peak. Of these, the most important is steel, which recently touched a new high. Other industries which are doing better now than in 1929 from the production standpoint (but not from the profit standpoint) are electrical power, shoes, textiles, oil refining and tobacco manufacturing.

As this column has pointed out before, the very sharp increase in inventories occasioned by the war has not as yet been met by a comparable increase in consumer purchasing. And it seems probable that foreign demand, at least in the near or less visible future, will be adequate to absorb the supplies—all Europe is short of cash, and her nations will use their own resources to the utmost before spending. As a result, it is to the domestic market that we must principally look for a rise in demand that will justify the rise in production.

That the country is all set to go ahead is obvious from even a cursory glance at the basic statistics. Business Week, for instance, thinks that without being over- sanguine, it is reasonable to anticipate a push forward that will bring us ahead of 1929 economically. As evidence, the magazine points out that bank deposits are at their all-time high and that excess reserves of banks are also at record high levels. The cash is on hand when our people are ready to use it.

All the temporary influences seem to be for the better. At the same time, it pays to be cautious—time and again in the last ten years we have seen the stage set for recovery, only to have a new "recession" take hold and shatter our hopes. If another break comes soon and the indications reverse their upward course, about every expert in the country will have to go into hiding. They are practically all bullish today.

One school of thought holds that the war in Europe must inevitably become a stalemate—that British seapower and German airpower will just about offset each other in effectiveness, and that neither Germans nor Allies will be able to make important gains through the great lines of fortifications on the Western Front. From this, it is argued that both sides will finally be forced to conclude some kind of a peace, if only to prevent Communism from engulfing Europe.

It has long been said that the only winner in a protracted European war will be Russia. And during the brief time this war has been fought, it is apparent that Stalin has achieved the only major victories. The ominous shadow of the U.S.S.R. blankets the Baltic completely—and extends far into the Balkans. Many an expert argues that Hitler gave away far more than he gained when he made his deal with the Soviets.

Today it seems certain that Russia holds the balance of power. She can stop Hitler cold in his northern advance—she holds Germany at her mercy when it comes to many essential supplies. On the other hand, if she threw in with Hitler and actually sent her vast army to fight with the Germans, few believe France and England could long survive. The probabilities seem to be that Stalin has definitely decided not to take the latter step—it is to Russia's interest, most experts are convinced, that she stay neutral—play one side against the other, and finally, when the two sides are worn and exhausted, step in and gather the spoils.

Also of importance is the current attitude of Italy. No longer does the controlled Italian press hail Hitler at every opportunity and revile the French and British. Mussolini hates Communism, apparently, far more than he loves the Nazis. And the German-Russian pact seems to have blasted the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo axis to bits.

SOUTH FULTON SCHOOL

The South Fulton Parent-Teachers Association met Monday afternoon at the High School with the president, Mrs. Leon Hutchins, presiding. The secretary, Mrs. J. A. Taylor and the treasurer, Mrs. Sam Jones, assisted her in the business hour.

Reports were heard from the following committee chairmen: Publication, Mrs. R. E. Sanford; Publicity, Mrs. I. M. Jones; Finance, Mrs. W. H. Cravens; and Membership, Mrs. Roy Taylor. It was announced that the fourth grade won first place in getting the most new members of the P. T. A. in the recent membership contest among grammar school.

At the conclusion of the business the meeting was turned over to Miss Martha Norman Lowe, who presented her music pupils and a few of her Glee Club in a well-prepared program.

Miss Lowe's pupils taking part were Sissy Murphy, Yvonne Moore, and Janice Lowe, playing solos. And five members of the Glee Club participating were Elaine Vaughn, Elizabeth Valentine, Dorothy Pickle, Nell Bizzle and Ruth Ellen Valentine, singing a melody of songs. Miss Lowe then rendered selections of old melodies at the piano.

An interesting Halloween party was held at school Tuesday night with a Men's beauty revue, an amateur program and a general program of entertainment.
