and in the Jewish press.

This institution was established ten years ago by the late Dr. Sabato Morais, and its maintenance since then has been amply justified by the splendid results attained.

The seminary is not a local, nor even a sectional institution, but is national in scope and character. Its pupils have come from California, Montreal, Connecticut, New Jersey, as well as from Europe. It should receive the support of the entire Jewish community in America.

The association desires that the Jewish ministers in all parts of the continent should respond to their request and devote the sermon on Sabbath Chanukka to the claims and needs of the seminary; to a tribute to the memory of its lamented leader, founder and president of its faculty, and to an urgent appeal for popular support.

A MORNING BLAZE.

Fire Department Called to Second and Monroe.

The fire department was called to Second and Monroe streets this morning shortly after 8 o'clock to extinguish a blaze in the roof of a two-story frame structure occupied by Lige Reese, colored.

The flames originated from a defective flue and the department encountered considerable difficulty in getting to the scene on account of the sewerage excavations and ditching apparatus.

The roof and a portion of the rear were destroyed before the fire was checked.

SERIOUS CUTTING AFFRAY.

A. T. Tatum Stabbed by John Ellis.—Both Well Known
People of Marshall
County.

Ellis Claims That He Remembers
Nothing About It.—No
Cause Is Known.—Case
Continued.

A cutting affray occurred last night early near Rosenthal's saloon, on lower Court street, in which A.
T. Tatum was stabbed by John W.
Ellis. Both are residents of Marshall county, near Birmingham.

Ellis had been in the saloon attempting to create a disturbance, when Tatum, who was known to be a friend of Rogers, was called in to pacify him and take him outside.

Mr. Culp, of the same neighborhood, was with them, and Ellis, after shaking hands with both, and aserting they were friends, allowed himself to be led out by Tatum. When nearly outside he made some remark about them "could drive him out, but couldn't run him," he turned and stabbed Tatum with a pocket knife. The wound was in the breast, and penetrated to hollow, missing the breast by a few inches.

Chief Singery arrested Ellis on Court street coming towards the city hall. Tatum was taken to the city hall, where he remained all night in the court room on a cot, being attended by Lockup Keeper Keller and James Tatum, a hostler. His wounds are not necessarily fatal.

Ellis was locked up, and in the lockup seems to have found another knife. At any rate, he attacked one of the tramps there and one knocked

Fourteen Tramps Before Judge Sanders.

All Were Dismissed.—One Fine
Assessed in the Police Court.

Fourteen tramps were before Judge Sanders this morning charged with vagrancy. They were arrested last night by Officers Cross and Johnson near the "Y" around a fire. Some had money and some had none.

Chas. Hepworth, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., had money and a pistol, too, but the pistol was not concealed. He said he had been working at Shelby-ville and was going towards Memphis.

C. Sheppard, of Philadelphia, and a member of an electrician union, said he had looked for work, but failed to find it.

W. Meyers was a chair maker from Monroe county, Illinois.

Jas. Sattermore, a baker who had worked at one or two places here.

Henry and Mike Lan were Scandinavians from Dakota, who made baskets and worked in wire.

Hugh Daugherty was a tramp.
Thos. Monroe, a Missouri miner.
Chas. Williams and John Lyons, laborers.

J. Martin, a laborer of Louisville.
Frank Williams, John Rogers and Bert Dorner, also tramp workmen.
The latter claimed he had worked at one or two places here.

Judge Sanders said it was getting near to Christmas, and while there were probably some rascals in the crowd, most of them looked like honest men. He allowed them all to go.

John Scanlin, of Metropolis, was fined $1 and costs for drunkenness.
He was found in Mr. John Bogeno's stable last night, but said he remembered nothing about it on account of his condition.

the circuit court for the purpose of bringing for judgment the issues that presented on the indictment and docket were "Sandy Dodd" and "Franky Warfield," and the court had to go to work and correct the names, which are Stanley Walker and Sam Dodd.
Both are known to every police officer in Paducah by their correct names, yet they were warranted under the wrong names, given an examining trial under the wrong names and as a consequence indicted under the wrong names.

This simply shows with what recklessness names are handled by the inferior officers of the police court.
Men are frequently warranted and tried under assumed names, sometimes intentionally, and at other times unintentionally. It is no fault of Judge Sanders. He is wholly unaware of it. It is the fault of the policemen and court officers who get warrants. Oftentimes if you have a "pull" you can induce a policeman to report you as somebody else "to keep your name out of the papers." Sometimes a man gives the wrong name and when brought before the court no one thinks to require him to give his right name.

Yesterday morning two young toughs from Ballard county were up for a breach of the peace. They were tried under assumed names.
They were fined under assumed names and doubtless the record contains assumed names. A reporter asked both Marshal Collins and Lockup Keeper Keller, who, it is said, knew them, for the correct names, and both refused to give them, possibly for the purpose of screening a couple of toughs who deserved no sympathy whatever and ought to have been given a little dose of publicity, for the good it might have done them.
In such cases it should be remembered that a newspaper is printed for the purpose of giving the public news. Some news it is best not to give, but if a paper chooses to give or not give it, it is nothing in either instance to the police authorities; they have to give or not give the responsibility. Judge Sanders has one of the best and most expeditious courts in this part of the state, and it is hoped that he will not allow himself to be imposed upon in the matter of furnishing names of those charged with offenses.

Yesterday a policeman was informed that a suspicious looking tramp had been seen down about the wharf with what looked like a bolt of blue checked calico under his coat.
As there is a quantity of stolen goods taken by tramps concealed somewhere about the city the officer thought perhaps the suspicious character might furnish a clue to the whereabouts of the missing goods. He started in quest of the man, and after searching about the boats discovered him in the cabin of the Clarksville. He perceived at the same time what apparently to be the bolt of domestic.

"Seems to me I've seen you somewhere before," he remarked to the stranger, eyeing him suspiciously.
"Maybe you have," was the indifferent reply. "I've been on this old earth about twenty-five years, I guess."
"Let me see, what is your name?"
asked the officer.
The man gave his name, and said he was from U. S. town.
"You're about to lose some goods, I am," cautioned the officer, reaching near

Walker, in for four years yesterday breaking, that he would be in the penitentiary before he was grown, and like many of Judge Sanders' other predictions, it has come true.
Walker began as a petty thief, and the courts right at the start, made the mistake of encouraging him by releasing him on account of his age.

Lockup Keeper-elect Robert Men-fee says his children have done something, he ventures to say, no one else's children ever did.
When asked what that is, he replied that they wear the same clothes he wore, without alteration or change.
In explanation, the first garments of his children were the same he wore himself when a youngster years ago.
They are still pretty little dresses, and none the worse for wear.

A prominent young German-American of Milwaukee visited Germany on a pleasure trip not long ago, and undertook to give the people of Berlin some American pointers, which caused him grief and cost him about $25 in cash besides, says the Milwaukee Wisconsin. According to the friends of the young Milwaukeean, he was in the city of Berlin during a big fire in the heart of the German metropolis. He decided to go out and see how a Berlin fire was handled by the department. The conflagration was making rapid headway when the young man reached the scene, and he was astonished to notice that the fire department had not got to work, although on the ground. The Milwaukeean proceeded to investigate and was still more astounded when he found the chief, or some officer in full charge, busily engaged in calling the roll of the firemen, before ordering them to get to work on the burning building.
Somewhat indignant, the man from Milwaukee rushed up to the head of the department and exclaimed, "You d—n fool, why don't you get to work on that fire, and call your roll afterwards!" He had barely finished expressing himself in this terse, breezy, American way, when he was snatched up by a policeman and taken to a station, where he was accused of undertaking to direct the movements of the fire department.
He then discovered that in order to keep himself out of jail he would have to pay a fine of 100 marks equal to about $25. He promptly settled, walked out of the station, did some thinking, and as soon as he could make his arrangements, shook the dust of Berlin from his feet, declaring that things were not being run there to suit him.

Outside these walls the top hills run down on every side, and across the valleys formed by these you see other hills, and the whole country is rolling. The big diamond inside the wall is filled with a mass of box-shaped lime-stone houses, built one on top of the other and crowded into streets which cut each other at all sorts of angles.
The roofs of the houses are flat.
There are no chimneys and windows.
The streets have no side-walks, and the shops are merely holes in the walls. The streets are voluted and winding, and in going through them you think of the cata-combs. The tower is so densely populated that one room often constitutes a house for a family and the narrow streets are packed with people of all descriptions. They are so narrow that no carriage can enter Jerusalem, and in going from there to Bethlehem, the place of our Savior's birth, you have to walk out of the city before you can get a conveyance. Outside the walls of Jerusalem you find many new houses that have been built since the construction of the new railroad, and the

Deafness Cannot Be Cured By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the infla-mation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; time cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send
