GARRETT WILL NOT VOTE FOR JOHN ROBSON

Former G. O. P. Chairman of State Road Board Declares
He is Not for Nominee

LOGAN AND WILLIAMSON PRAISED BY REPUBLICANS

Says Democratic Candidates
Are Best Offered by Either Party in Last 25 Years

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 23.—Making the charge that Senator John M. Robson and Gov. Flem D. Sampson were solely responsible for the defeat of the minor candidates on the state Republican ticket in 1927 H. Green Garrett, former Republican chairman of the State highway commission and finance director of the Sampson's primary campaign, said in a statement that he would not vote for Senator Robson "because I know him."

Mr. Garrett's statement follows in full:

"Being an old line Republican and knowing one J. M. Robson, known as 'Big I John,' who is running on the Republican ticket for United States Senator, I will not vote for him because I know him. I shall vote for Judge M. M. Logan and Ben Williamson for the Senate because I know them, and I don't believe either party has offered two better men in the last 25 years. I won't vote for Robson because he voted against the confirmation of Judge Parker, who was a southern man and an outspoken dry, but Robson in turn voted for the confirmation of Judge Roberts of Pennsylvania, who was an outspoken wet."

"Mr. Robson's attack on Raskob is all camouflage. Any one who has been in Washington as much as I have as a layman will know what's what. He is preaching regularity for the Republicans to vote for him when he voted against Mr. Hoover on two occasions, and commercial conditions have become worse every day since the President lost control of the Senate through Robson and others of his type. Any man who keeps in touch with economic conditions of the country knows this is true."

"I would not vote for Robson because, in my judgment, he and Flem D. Sampson, the 'Interwoven Pair' were solely responsible for the defeat of the minor candidates on the State ticket in 1927. One of these three minor candidates was my precious daughter, Mrs. F. D. Quisenberry, of Elizabethtown, Ky. Mr. Sampson, the 'possum hunter' made iron-clad covenants with the candidates on the ticket, but broke every one of them. With my knowledge, from taking part for the last 25 years in both state and national politics, I will say frankly that no government can endure under the leadership of Sampson and 'Big I John' Robson, who demanded undated resignations for appointments in both State and Federal governments."

"The advertising 'Big I John' is putting out through a Washington paper this week is a disgrace to any candidate and to the voters of Kentucky. No man should run for as high an office as United States senator and stoop to such low-down acts. He thinks he is fooling somebody, but he is only fooling himself. 'Big I John' does not know enough to know this."

"Sampson isn't the governor of the commonwealth, he's the governor of a clique, and his idea and the idea of John Robson is to use Public Office to punish their enemies and double-cross their friends."

SNOW THREE TO FOUR FEET DEEP IN EAST

New York City Experiences
Coldest October 20 On Record

Kansas City, Oct. 21.—Old man winter's premature rendition of "Button up your overcoat" was due to end tonight in the middle west, its echoes lingering in Oklahoma and Texas and in states east of the Mississippi.

With the dusting of snow removed by rising temperatures and sunshine, artist frost was ready to take the stage and complete the transformation of wooded hillsides to crimson and gold ready for the frolic of a promised Indian summer.

Relief for the blizzard-swept and shivering eastern states was thus promised from the land in which much of the eastern weather is brewed.

New York, Oct. 21.—Eastern states which pined last week and cooled unduly over the week-end continued to shiver today.

In New York City, where the temperature was mild in comparison to that in the northern part of the state, the thermometer registered a low of 33.5 degrees, making the day the coldest October 20 on record. The high mark of the day was 50 degrees.

Caterpillar tractor plows forcing their way through snow three to four feet deep opened roads in the Buffalo area that had been snow-bound since Saturday, thus relieving threat of a food and milk shortage in nearby towns.

The snowfall was general through northern New York and northern Pennsylvania and the cold spell was general throughout the east, with frost for the first time this season covering a wide area.

Snow in Virginia

Richmond, Va., Oct. 21.—Killing frost was followed by snow flurries in the Virginia mountains today as the first cold blasts of winter swept in from the north-west. There was a light frost throughout the central part of the state and the weather bureau here issued warning today of a heavy frost if the weather clears by tonight.

HOME-TOWN PROPHETS

The weather prophets, whatever the season, are generally first heard from in New England. So it is appropriate that there should come out of Stony Point, Vt., a prediction from an old patriarch to the effect that the hardest winter in 20 years is now staring us in the face. He declares long, hard winters invariably follow a long, dry spell such as the country experienced during the past summer. But don't worry. There are weather prophets galore around Fulton, and if you will interview any one of them he will probably tell you that the Vermont prophet is "talking through his hat." He will have plenty of proof to back up his argument, too. It's a poor weather prophet who can't call up a lot of signs to substantiate his prophecies. If you believe in patronizing home industries—and you should—then practice it now. Patronize your home town weather prophets. You'll make them happy by recognizing their "talents," and the weather will go right ahead being just as good or just as bad as it wants to, anyhow.

A Captive

Handsome Office Complimented

REMODELING OF ADVERTISER OFFICE BUILDING IS NOW COMPLETE

After two months' work on remodeling our office building the contractor, Mr. Frank Merz, finished the job Saturday. The structure was completely transformed and is a credit to the city as well as the contractor who displayed his skill of modern architectural ability with outstanding effect. The black enamel brick with white mortar for the upper part is a handsome combination trimmed in white stone. The interior is finished in white ornamental iron ceiling, ivory colored walls and antique brown base.

The concrete floor, plastering of walls and brick work was done under the supervision of W. M. Hill & Sons, well known contractors and brick manufacturers of Fulton. It is a beautiful building and new home for The Advertiser. The front of the building adjoining was also remodeled the same as ours. It is occupied by Kelly and Floyd Lowe and Bowen Brothers.

MAKE IT SAY "PLEASE"

"Make your auto horn say 'Please!'" That is one of the orders recently given out to operators of the nation-wide bus line by its manager. But the bus drivers have no monopoly on it—every individual motorist around Fulton can adopt it with a good deal of credit to himself. Make your horn say "Please" instead of "Get out of the way" and see if the fellow in front doesn't respond more readily. Besides, you will miss the frowns and ugly words that usually come from him when you blast your horn as though you were swearing at him. Courtesy is still the greatest safeguard against accident. Courteous drivers, drivers who are considerate of others, figure in the fewest accidents. That is a proven fact. So why not profit from the order being given the bus drivers? Why not accept a sensible suggestion when it comes your way? Start now and see how much better you get along when you make the horn say "Please" instead of "Get out of the way."

GIBRALTER SAVINGS CORPORATION

The Gibraltar Savings Corporation was organized by local capitalists and is entering upon its second year with much evidence of success. It was organized and incorporated under the laws of Tennessee and has just recently undergone a most thorough examination by the Kentucky Securities Department of this State and is authorized and permitted to do business in this state. The representative of this Department made a special trip from Frankfort here to make the examination and having found the company to be in fine condition and splendidly managed issued the necessary permit for it to do business in this state.

The company issues to its customers its certificate and upon the payment of $7.00 per month for 120 months it will pay the certificate holder the sum of $1,000.00; it also carries at its expense upon the life of the certificate holder a policy of insurance in the amount of the certificate and in the event of the death of the certificate holder his estate is paid the face of the certificate. In other words, if you carried a certificate of $1,000.00 with this company and had not made but one payment and died, your estate would receive the full sum of $1,000.00, and its certificate further provides that in the event of permanent and total disability of the certificate holder, the company pays the monthly payment during the time of the disability, and it also provides for a cash surrender value; that is to say, in the event you have made these payments for a certain time and desire to surrender your certificate, you may do so and will be paid back the cash surrender value, which is fully set out in your certificate.

The securities Departments of both Kentucky and Tennessee, after having carefully examined the plan of the company and its methods of doing business, have authorized it to do business in these states. The insurance feature of its certificate or contract makes it impossible for a certificate holder to lose. If you die your estate collects the face value of your certificate, whatever the amount thereof may be; if you become permanently disabled, then the company makes the monthly payments for you until you are recovered. No other company of this character carries the insurance feature, and this feature was highly commended by the representative of the Kentucky Securities Department. Mr. R. H. Wade is the president, Paul Hornbeak the vice-president and Hugh C. Pigne the secretary.

The company has its office at 203 Commercial avenue, where it will be pleased to meet you and show you how easily you can save $1,000.00 by becoming one of its many certificate holders.

CHEAPER LIGHT

A lot of us pause every now and then to kick about our light bill, not stopping to compare the cost of light now with that of earlier days. In 1817 George Washington's birthday was celebrated at Philadelphia with a great ball. To illuminate the ballroom torches were applied to 2,000 wax candles, which produced 1,000 candlepower for five hours. The cost of that illumination was $150. Today by throwing a switch, the modern ball room can obtain the same amount of light for fifty cents—one three-hundredths of the cost of 113 years ago. Isn't there a bare possibility that we have come to take modern improvements so much as a matter of fact that we forget to be thankful for them? There is an old proverb to the effect that we never miss the water until the well runs dry. Maybe in the matter of light we will never be able to fully appreciate our present ones until something comes along to take them away from us, or to force us to go back to the grease candles of our fore-fathers' day.

Brieflets

If you can pass an apple orchard without thinking of the stomach ache, it's a sign you are growing old.

Any Fulton man who can keep up appearances and keep down expenses while still wearing a smile, may be classed this day and time as a success.

It appears the American people are divided into two great classes: Those who think they are as good as anybody and those who think they are better.

If life insurance companies would write policies for only as much as men were actually worth in the community they would never earn any dividends.

Mother knows best. And maybe that's the reason a lot of Fulton girls always let her do the sweeping, scrubbing and dishwashing.

There are several kinds of powder that may be used to kill bugs, but the only kind that will kill a humbug is gunpowder.

Marriages may be made in heaven, but we've noticed that quite a few of them turn out like the other place.

Wonder what becomes of all the furniture around Fulton that is too old even for poor folks and not yet old enough for rich folks?

The proposal to have motorists give their cars names will be all right, providing some of them don't name them what they call them.

If you happen to be one of those who can remember when it took a Fulton girl three hours to dress for a "surprise" party, then you are a genuine old-timer.

One of the proudest moments of a mother's life is when her daughter likes one of her hats well enough to wear it down town.

A New York beggar was found to be the owner of two big cars. Maybe that's the reason he had to beg.

The Fulton man who used to jump out of the frying pan into the fire now dodges a passenger car to land under a truck.

Any considerate motorist will give a woman half of the road, if he can find out which side she wants.

Next to a lonesome pup in the middle of the night the greatest howling success in America is radio static.

HOSPITAL NEWS

The following out-of-town patients were brought to the Carlin-Neill hospital for X-ray examinations: Mrs. Walter Taylor, Hickman, Ky.; Harry Parks, Hickman, Ky.; W. R. Carlton, Hickman, Ky.; Dorothy Grayham, Clinton, Ky. Besie Green of Hickman received treatment at the hospital.

Mrs. Leue Johnson, of Nashville, was brought to the hospital for examination and treatment.

Mrs. W. T. Woodruff who fell and suffered a dislocation of the left arm, was brought to the Carlin-Neill hospital, where an X-ray examination was made.

Mrs. S. A. Bennett was admitted to the hospital Thursday.

Hone Abernathy has improved sufficiently to leave the hospital.

Mrs. Phil Warren was able to leave the hospital this week.

Community Building

Importance of Proper House Design Apparent

Through a better appreciation of architecture, home lovers more and more are striving toward perfection and beauty of house design. As a result, a knowledge of historic styles is well defined in the minds of interested discriminating home builders. To day people know approximately what they want in the way of a home, and recognize the importance of architectural guidance. Only well-proportioned homes with artistic and correct architectural treatment attract and appeal.

To assure the ideal home—be its size ever so small—the technically trained architect should be consulted. No one thinks of going to a dentist with bodily ills. By the same token no one should go to a contractor for home design. Home design is a highly specialized field, and only an architect can reflect and crystallize your home ideas properly and correctly into a design possessing merit.

One often hears "because I'm building a small house, I can't afford an architect—besides, I know where I can get some plans cheap."

This attitude has accounted for hundreds of unattractive homes which have no resale value—eyesores and a disgrace to the community.—Cleveland Leader.

Store Front Counts as

Good Business Asset

"The store front indicates the character of a business establishment as well as of the men back of it, and that holds good whether the business is clothing, shoes, plumbing or what not," Howard H. Edmonds writes in an article called "Store Fronts." In a recent issue of Domestic Engineering.

Edmonds draws upon his experience in building and remodeling store fronts for many Cleveland companies for the material in his article.

"The store front is a silent sales man which works 365 days in the year and if given half a chance will return its cost many times over in sales volume," he continued.

"A few of the great advantages of bringing a store front up-to-date are: It becomes a public improvement; it stimulates an activity in the entire community; it gradually builds up a healthy trading center in which to do business."

Attractive Homes an Asset

Two ideas about the American home have had a remarkable growth in recent years. One is that the dwelling of today, if it is to hold a fair position in competition with the motor car and other comparatively recent allurements from the outside, must display the attractiveness and good taste that characterize many of these other things. But it has become increasingly evident, too, that the task of bringing the home up to the desired artistic level is even more a matter of education, good taste and skillful guidance than it is a matter of money. The element of cost must be considered, of course, in any circumstances. But attractiveness of the best sort may be a feature of the moderately priced home as of the motor car of a similar nature.

Getting on Airman's Map

Communities that want the world to know they are air-minded—and most of them apparently have this desire—can make air-marking one of their first important objectives. Labeling the town, village, city or hamlet with its name painted in large and legible letters on the roof of the tallest building may seem rather a humble start in the direction of aviation. Far from it.

"It is the easiest way to get on the airman's map," says a pilot with hundreds of hours of cross-country flying to his credit.

The Fireless City

The fire prevention idea has developed into a major community enterprise in the city of Albany, Ga., and it now enjoys the distinction of being regarded as the "Fireless City." With a population of 20,000, it has the lowest annual loss by fire of any city in the country. There were but 91 alarms of fire during 1928 and the total loss was but $4,520. This has been accomplished by wiping out many fire hazards and by maintaining an energetic fire patrol nightly.

Much Money for Building

Fifty-six life insurance companies, located in cities throughout the country, lent $274,011,450.20 on American homes in 1928, according to the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

The First Message

Husband (seeing her off on the train)—Now, dear, as soon as you arrive you must telegraph.
Wife—Very well. How much shall I telegraph for?

Reward of Reticence

"But surely," cried Jean, "you didn't tell him straight out that you loved him?"
"Goodness, no," Mildred said calmly. "He had to squeeze it out of me."

Safety First

She (anxiously)—Why are you going so quickly?
He—The brakes won't work, so I want to get home before we have an accident.

Limit of Trouble

"Do you have trouble with your car?"
"Trouble? I couldn't have more if I was married to the thing!"

NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH

The prosecuting attorney had encountered a rather difficult witness. At length, exasperated by the man's evasive answers, he asked him whether he was acquainted with any of the jury.

"Yes, sir," replied the witness. "More than half of them."

"Are you willing to swear that you know more than half of them?" demanded the man of law.

The other thought quickly. "If it comes to that," he replied, "I am willing to swear that I know more than all of 'em put together!"

Economical Corn

THE two things a housewife is most anxious to save are time and money. She can save both by using canned corn, either cooked by itself or in combination with other foods. The following recipe, for instance, costs only about eighty-five cents and serves eight people. It takes nearly an hour to prepare, but it would take longer and cost more if fresh corn were used instead of the canned.

Corn and Beef Loaf: Mix together one pound ground rump of beef, one-half pound ground fresh pork, one beaten egg, one tablespoon chopped onion, one-half tablespoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon pepper, one-half cup bread crumbs and the contents of one eleven-ounce can of corn. Place in a well-greased loaf pan and bake in a hot oven (400°) for about forty-five minutes.

This Tastes Good

And here is a recipe for corn cooked all by itself which will also serve eight people, and which is sure to be eaten to the last kernel.

Savory Corn: To two cups of canned corn add two well-beaten eggs, two tablespoons chopped green pepper or pimiento, two tablespoons melted butter, three-fourths cup milk and salt and pepper to taste. Pour into a buttered baking dish and cover top with buttered crumbs mixed with an equal amount of grated cheese. Bake in a moderate oven until set and browned on top.

"DEAREST MOMS:
"Would you be very disappointed if I brought a friend of mine along when I come on my vacation? I've talked so much about you and dad that she's crazy to meet you. I know you'd probably rather have me all to yourselves, but—well, don't fail me, Mom.
I've already invited her and she has accepted. Her folks live out in California and with only a week off she could hardly have time to get there and back.

"We're playing Durban next week, then Williamson the first half of the week after and Garlington the last half, then—Home!"

"Love from,
"CHARLES."
When Mrs. Wilson had finished reading the letter she took it out to her husband.

"Read that," she told him. "Charles is the same open-hearted boy he always was. I reckon this is some lonesome little nobody he's met somewhere."

Mr. Wilson dropped his hoe, dusted his hands off on his overalls.

"I guess we'll have to let her come, mother. She's probably a pretty nice little girl or Charles wouldn't take up with her."

"Wonder what she does?" Mrs. Wilson mused.

"Actress probably."
"Oh, I hope not. I'd hate to have an actress in the house even for a week."

Once they had decided to let her come Mrs. Wilson put heart and soul into her plans for the visit. She cleaned the shining old house from curt to cellar. She put up fresh frilly curtains in the windows and planned menus that would tempt the faded appetite of an epheure. When at last the day came for the arrival of her visitors she put on her best dress and went down to the station with her husband to meet them. Almost before she had seen him Charles had enveloped her in an enthusiastic hug, then turned and introduced the girl
beside him.

"Mother, this is Hazel Smathers," he said. "And there's dad! Gee what a welcome!"

Mrs. Wilson looked at the demure little figure standing beside her huge son and she checked the impulse to feel sorry for her. "Probably a dreadful little vamp and I bet she is an actress, too," she thought, so she repressed her natural cordiality and greeted the girl with a cool dignity.

The trip home was rather silent.
Hazel was uncomfortable, Charles was wretched, Mr. Wilson wanted to apologize for his wife. Perhaps Mrs. Wilson was the least miserable of the group. Later Hazel was so appreciative of every little thing and praised the supper so extravagantly that Mrs.
Wilson melted a little in spite of herself.

"We actors have such a hard life,"
the girl said, "and it's always jump from one cheap hotel to another! A good home-cooked meal is like a bit of heaven to us."

After supper Mrs. Wilson sent them all out and started clearing away the dishes. Mr. Wilson went to the front porch to smoke, and Charles and Hazel wandered down in the back yard. Out of the kitchen window Mrs. Wilson watched them eagerly. Charles dropped down on an old tumbledown bench and lit a cigarette. Hazel sat beside him, but not romantically close. Mrs.
Wilson sighed with relief and went back to her work.

At last it was over, they went away.
But a week later Mrs. Wilson nearly collapsed when she received a wire
from Charles reading:

"Hazel and I were married this morning. We love you."

"CHARLES!"

She found Mr. Wilson out in the garden and showed him the message.
"He's married her, he's married an actress! I knew what would happen," she sobbed.

"Well, mother," he soothed, "I know it's hard on you, but she's a sweet little trick."

On the heels of the telegram came a letter postmarked Dalgia, Calif.

"Dear Mrs. Wilson (it ran):
"Hazel has wired me her intention of marrying your son, Charles, next Monday. At first I was dreadfully grieved at the idea of my only girl marrying an actor, and I cried myself sick over it; then my husband said:
"Hazel's an actress herself. I don't see why you're making such a fuss about it. There are good men who are actors just like there are good women who are actresses." Then the humor of the situation dawned on me and I couldn't help laughing. I guess they'll be happy because they're in the same kind of work."

I want to meet you soon and most especially my new son.

"Very cordially,
"CORA D. SMATHERS."

"Well, after all, isn't life funny?"
laughed Mrs. Wilson to her husband.

"Here I was looking down on Hazel for being on the stage and I never once struck me that our Charles was doing the very same work. . . . Six of one and—"

"Half dozen of the other," Mr. Wilson ended quietly. "Folks are like that."

(By J. T. Watkins)

Well, I had about twelve rabbit letters to get out this morning, so spent almost all my typewriting ability doing that job, so don't know what I can promise you in this column for this week.

First, I will tell you of my trip to the National Show at St. Louis. Gee, but she was a dandy! It seemed to me there were about the same number of cattle there in the open class, and the 4-H club members had to hold their show in a large tent. They alone had several hundred head of purebred stock. Right here I wish to enclose a clipping cut from the Checkerboard News, a paper gotten out at the arena by the Purina Mills daily. The story has quite a bit of patos and lots of gladness also, as you will see how it turned out:

4-H Club Boy's Tears Turned to Smiles.

"Life's just a little laughter, just a little tear," those words from Chaney's great masterpiece, "The Unholy Three," were re-lived at the dairy show this week. Tragedy stalked to the death a club boy's calf...a calf that through long months of care and attention he had brought from one show triumph to another...finally this one...the National Dairy Show, greatest of all. Then...death for the calf...and a broken heart for the boy. It was one of those boyish tragedies that will live...live in a broken heart. Such loss was irreparable for the little fellow...Roy Stecklein, 10 w a Guernsey club boy.

For him the show was a har-binger of ill fate. These days...since Sunday noon...he has lost interest. He has stood at the ringside and seen other ribbons handed out to other boys. But there was none for him. He had reached the end of the trail...seen air castles that he had built...topple down...dreams that he had dreamed for many months become a s other dreams...dreams that never come true. Then last night at the American Guernsey Cattle Club the dark cloud turned inside out. Today he has another calf...gift of the Guernsey breeders attending this year's show. His loss had become their loss. So after all, as Chaney says, life is just a little laughter...just a little tear, so we hope, for Roy Stecklein...winner because he was a great loser, at this year's show.

I made one round of the dairy cattle and the displays connected thereto, then spent the balance of my time in the poultry house. The show seemed larger than the one last year, although I did not count the birds, as I usually do. I know the water fowl and turkeys were way ahead of the show last year. Speaking of the waterfowl, the same bunch that was at Memphis was shown here, but one thing that attracted my attention was a little white duck that won first at Memphis, was disqualified at St. Louis. And she she should have been treated the same way at Memphis, for her bill had a black streak the length of the bill about one-half inch wide. But the judge at Memphis did not know his onions when it came to judging ducks.

There were about fifty turkeys in the show and some of them were dandies. The Red Bourbon were shown in greater numbers, closely followed by Bronze, Narragansetts and prize TOM of the Reds was sold for $1,000.00; looks like a lot of money, but he was a humdinger, and the man who bought him can afford to to pay that much for him—Mr. Gus Busch. He also paid twenty dollars for a pen of bantams. Still, Bob Wade wants to know what good are bantams. They are good to sell. See?

My old friend, Ralph Sturdevant, of Galena, Mo., was there with a string of his superb Buff Wyandottes, and as usual, copped all the best prizes in that class. His first pullet was judged the BEST pullet in the show. I saw him refuse one hundred dollars for that bird. He is the breeder I got my start of buffs from. I told him I believed that old saying, "You can't beat the Dutch." He just grinned. The sweepstakes cock was a white leghorn, sweepstakes hen, a white orpington, while the honors went to a brown leghorn cockerel for best cockerel. Sweepstakes old pen was won by white leghorns, while young pen went to the Rhode Island Reds.

Now, a few words about the rabbits. There were about 400 entered, with three kinds I had never seen before—lilacs, Havanas and Polish. The Polish are the banty of the rabbit breeds, weighing only two and one-half pounds when fully grown. They certainly would make fine pets for the kiddies. There was quite a difference between the largest and smallest rabbit—a matter of about fourteen or fifteen pounds. There was also a good display of the REX rabbits, but I can't say I fancy them very much. The fur is too short; looks like it had been singed off. Well, I guess I have used up all of my space, so will ring off.

Community Building

Why Living in Small

Town Has Advantages

Prof. Walter B. Pitkin bases a prophecy as to the rosy future of the small town, which he makes in the Household Magazine on four things: The healthier living conditions in small towns, the realization that the majority of city dwellers are as poor as their country brethren, the new shift of industry away from big cities, and the better opportunities for occupying one's leisure in the country. Small towns, he says, have sunshine, quiet and freedom from smoke. Out of every thousand inhabitants of the big towns, you cannot find more than three or four who are better off in their jobs than the people you meet in Main street or around by the post office. And now comes the new American revolution! Industry begins shifting to the small towns. No man in his senses thinks of starting a factory in a metropolis nowadays unless he is making something which cannot be made elsewhere. And, finally, concludes Doctor Pitkin, "If you live far from the clamor of Broadway, you can pick and choose your leisure pursuits effectively. And, having picked them, you can hold to your course with fewer distractions. And that, I maintain, is half of happiness. To do what you like, in the way of exercise, play, rest, reading, music, inventing, dreaming, or what not, without having a mob of peddlers yelling at you to do something else."

Development of City

Depends on Planning

It was only ten or fifteen years ago that planning, and along with it zoning, came to be regarded as absolute necessity in the larger cities of this country. It was soon evident that only by such means could hazardous growth be replaced by orderly development in the interest of rapidly increasing numbers of urban residents. The desirability of the same protection for suburban areas and smaller centers is a product of more recent years. The spread of this enterprise is an indication of the improved conditions which are a part of the modern city.

In giving the result of a recent survey of the situation, the Department of Commerce, through its division of building and housing, notes this fact: "Cities having planning commissions are believed to be more apt than others to exercise foresight and true economy in the laying out and improvement of streets, the location of parks, playgrounds and public works, the development of transit and transportation, provision for street traffic and in the equitable regulation of private use of land through zoning ordinances."

Good Citizen Defined

Good citizenship is loyalty toward community, state and country. It begins right at home. A citizen who delights in keeping his own premises cleaned up and developed, who co-operates with each worthy cause or development that promises improvement, advancement, or uplifting of his community; who supports his home institutions and enterprises so far as economics permit; who obeys the law who loves order and peace; who takes pride in helping to develop and maintain these conditions, with a similar spirit and attitude prevailing for state and country, is an example of what constitutes good citizenship.—Ruth Adele Barr, in Grit.

Must Speed Up Planting

During recent years tree planting has received great stimulus in the states largely because of the help that the federal government has been able to give. In 1925 only 13 states were distributing planting stock to its citizens, says the American Tree association. Thirty-two states are now engaged in this activity. Nevertheless, it is going to be necessary to speed up America's planting program at least ten times in order to reforest our denuded lands with reasonable promptness.

Makes for Civic Good

Just as the improvement in the home influences the family, the modernization of a house does a certain amount of good for the community.

In the last analysis a city is but a collection of homes and anything that improves a part is working for the good of the whole.

Modernizing lifts up a city out of its ordinary commonplace position and transforms it into a live progressive community, filled with busy individuals striving for their betterment.

Be Liberal With Paint

Paint has many virtues. Besides beautifying your home, it will increase its sale value and, in fact, the valuation and desirability of the entire neighborhood.

Particularly applicable in this connection is the oft-quoted but very true Dutch proverb: "Good paint costs nothing for it saves more than its cost."

Fewer, Better Schools

Cook county (Ga.) decreased its schools from 30 to 11 in less than a decade, replacing old buildings with consolidated schools.

Even Informal Parties Require a Food Surprise

By JOSEPHINE B. GIBSON
Director, Home Economics Dept.,
H. J. Heinz Company

THE informal party is, perhaps, the most delightful of all, but its chief charm, from the standpoint of food, lies in those dainty dishes with which every hostess likes to surprise her guests.

If one entertains frequently, it often seems difficult to have something entirely new and different. However, just a little extra care in planning will make all your "party dishes" remembered—and this without any need for an elaborate menu. In fact, a creamed meat on toast garnished with olives and pickles, or a distinctive salad accompanied by novel sandwiches, is all that any hostess need plan for an informal affair.

Below you will find suggested some simple party menus that are particularly attractive. And I am sure you will find many others that are similarly unpretentious.

Fresh Peach Mousse
Chocolate Ice Box Cookies
Iced Tea or Coffee

Frozen Chocolate Plum Pudding
Individual Angel Food Cakes
Coffee

Chicken Shortcake Hot Biscuits
Preserved Sweet Chokins
Crisp Potato Chips
Mint Coffee

Mixed Fresh Fruit Salad
Sandwiches or Crisp Cookies
Salted Nuts Coffee

Chocolate Ice Box Cookies: Melt 1 cup shortening and add 1½ cup sugar. Add 1 egg, and 2 squares chocolate melted over hot water. Then add 2½ cups flour, 2 tablespoons baking powder, and 1 teaspoon salt, sifted together. Gradually add 3 tablespoons milk to make a very firm dough, and work in 1 cup Rice Flakes. Place in a bread pan, cover with waxed paper and set in a refrigerator over night.

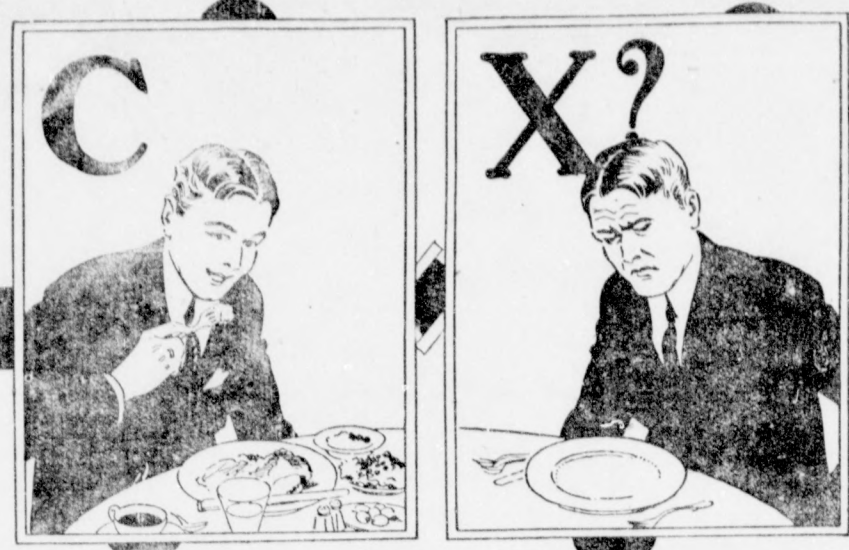

Slice thin and bake in a moderately hot oven—400 degrees—for eight minutes. This recipe makes about fifty cookies two inches square.

Frozen Chocolate Plum Pudding: Scald ¾ cup milk in a double boiler, and add 1½ cup sugar mixed with 2 tablespoons flour. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add 2 beaten egg yolks and cook for several minutes, then add 1 square bitter chocolate, melted over hot water. When cool, add 2 stiffly beaten egg whites, chill, and fold in 1 cup Pure Mince. Last, fold in 1 cup Pure Mince. Mince ¼ cup chopped English Walnut meats and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Place in trays of refrigerator to freeze, stirring occasionally, or freeze in a regular freezer.

Chicken Shortcake: Get together 2 cups flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder and ½ teaspoon salt. Add 4 tablespoons butter and two of lard. Blend the fat with the flour mixture, add milk to form a firm dough, and mix very stiff. Roll out on a lightly floured board and pat ½ inch thick. Shape with a cutter and bake in a hot oven for 12 minutes. Split with a fork, butter while hot and place hot creamed chicken or other creamed meat between the halves and on top of the biscuits. Garnish with Stuffed Spanish Olives and Preserved Sweet Chokins.

To prepare the creamed chicken: Melt 4 tablespoons butter in saucepan and blend with 4 tablespoons flour. Add 2 cups rich milk and the mashed yolks of 2 hard-boiled eggs. Cook until thick and season with salt, pepper, paprika and a few drops of Worcestershire Sauce. Add about 2 cups cold cooked chicken, cut in strips. Chicken and ham mixed, or veal, and ¼ cup Stuffed Spanish Olives, sliced, saving the remainder of the olives for garnishing.

Salted Nuts: Pour boiling salt water over shelled almonds or filberts, and allow to stand for about a minute in the water. Then place them between towels and rub, when the skins will come off easily. Cook the nuts in a skillet with several tablespoons of Pure Olive Oil, having the oil hot when the nuts are added. Cook until the nuts are brown, drain on heavy paper, and sprinkle lightly with salt.

ALPHABETICAL EATING

Do you ever get tired of planning menus? This story does not refer to the alphabetical soup in which children take such delight, but to the device of a bachelor to solve the problem of choosing meals constantly at clubs, hotels and restaurants. Even bachelors have their food problems, although all that some of them have to do is to make up their minds while looking over a menu with an attentive waiter hovering beside them. How much more difficult it is for the housewife who has no menu of happy suggestions before her, but must evolve from her own experience and inner consciousness not only what foods to have but how to cook and serve them!

This bachelor hit upon the plan of alphabetical eating. He decided that at each meal he would eat only foods the names of which started with one particular letter. When he confided this scheme to a friend, the latter cynically remarked that he preferred to diversify his diet, and suggested one from the two extremes of the alphabet—apples, asparagus, zwickel and zoolak.

Found Dining Difficult

But the bachelor persisted in his plan, and got along fairly well by including dried foods under D, until he reached the fifth letter of the alphabet. There he found himself apparently limited to eels, eggs, eggplant, and elderberries, unless he went out hunting for elk. So he made an analysis of the alphabet and found that the best letters to dine in were C, B, P, S and T, with the food supply rapidly tapering off in the others.

C was his most successful day under the new plan. He had cocktails, clams, celery, chicken, corn, cheese and coffee, and a host of other good things for dinner, and topped off his C evening by taking a cab to a musical comedy to see the chorus girls before he retired to his couch.

Then He Got Married

Then he got married, but when he made his helpful housekeeping suggestion to his bride, she laughed so hard that he really felt hurt about it. But the suggestion was not entirely lost. His wife couldn't get it out of her head. Being a wise woman and economical, she used a proper proportion of canned foods, and she soon found out, as he had, that C is a great gastronomic letter. The canned vegetables in C are cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, celery and corn (cream style, whole grain, kernelettes and on the cob). The canned fruits are cherries (red, white and black), crabapples, cranberries and currants. The canned fish are caviar, cod fish balls, cod fish cakes, cod fish flakes, clams (Little Neck, razor and minced), crabs (plain and deviled) and crawfish. The canned meats are chicken (boneless, deviled, in tamales and whole). In addition to these there are catsup, cider, cheese, chili con carne, chili sauce, chow chow, clam cakes, creamed white potatoes, clam chowder, consommé, chicken curry, chicken à la King, chop suey, chicken soup, clam broth, cut mixed peels, and coffee (vacuum packed).

B Is Bounteous

B, too, proved bounteous in canned foods. The vegetables are beans (baked, with tomato sauce, with pork, red kidney, lima, refugee and wax), beets (whole in pieces, and sliced), and Brussels sprouts. Blackberries and blueberries are the fruits, and the meats include bacon, beef (boiled, corned, dried, roast, stew), beef steak with onions, and brains. There are also Boston brown bread, beef à la mode, beef soup and beef bouillon under the specialties beginning with this letter.

As to P, she also found it prolific of good foods. The vegetables that came in cans are peas, peppers (sweet and green), pickles, pimientos, potatoes (Irish new, and sweet), and pumpkin. The fruits are peaches (whole, halves, crushed and sliced), pears (whole and halves), pineapples (Hawaiian sliced, crushed and unsweetened juice), plums, and prunes (dry and in syrup). The only meat is pig's feet, but specialties in P are puddings (fig and plum), pea soup, pepper pot, and puree (beans, lima beans and celery).

Some Lean Letters

But the bride would not admit the efficacy of his plan. Whenever he boasted, she pointed out the lean letters of the alphabet. There are no canned foods at all the names of which begin with L, N, U, X, Y or Z, and a goodly number of letters with only one product. The only D is, dill pickles, the single E eels, Q stands alone for quince, and W for wholewheat. So she maintains proper discipline whenever her husband misbehaves by threatening him with a meal in one of these barren letters.

Sons and Daughters at School may not have Time to Write

But they do have time to telephone...and it's such a pleasure to hear their voices.

There are so many things to do...so little time to write. Even to Mother and Dad.

But telephoning—that's different. It's quick. It's inexpensive. And personal. There are a lot of things that are easy to talk about, but hard to write...

Why not have a regular chat with your boy and girl, just as you do when they are home? Say, twice a week...Wednesdays and Sundays. If you wish, you can have them telephone you and "reverse" the charges, which will be placed on your monthly bill.

Your telephone is your pathway to the world—to friends in distant cities, to the "folks back home," to sons and daughters in other towns.

Telephoning out of town costs little. To most places 25 miles away, the day station-to-station rate is about 25 cents; 75 miles, 50 cents; 150 miles away, 80 cents. Where the station-to-station day rate is more than 35 cents the rates are lower during the evening and night periods.

In Case of Emergency

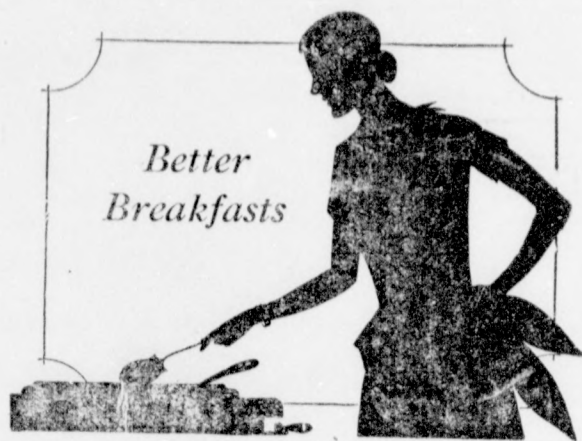

When you want a thing in a hurry you rush to a local store and get it. But do you realize that the existence of our stores depends upon continued business.

If every person in this community were to use the stores only for emergencies there would soon be no more places to satisfy those urgent needs.

You should do your part towards keeping local business alive and in a constant state of betterment by doing all your trading at home. It will be profitable to you as well as to the entire community.

Better Breakfasts

HAVE you seen a shadow pass over your husband's face when you served him the same old breakfast for the umpteenth time during the year? It was probably nothing, just the most fleeting of frowns, but there is a way of avoiding it, and it is worth avoiding. The more shadows and frowns that are eliminated from family life, the better for it really is.

Farina Mold with Raspberries and Cream
Poached Eggs on Whole Wheat Toast
Gooseberry Jam Coffee

To make the farina mold, combine two cups of water with the juice from an 8-ounce can of raspberries, one-half teaspoon salt and one tablespoon sugar, and bring to boiling. Add one-half cup farina slowly, stirring constantly. Place over boiling water, and cook ten minutes. Pour into individual molds wet with cold water, and chill. Unmold and serve with the drained berries and cream on top of milk. This recipe serves four.

Lesson for October 26

SPIRITUAL WEAPONS IN A WORLD WAR
(World's Temperance Lesson)

LESSON TEXT—Galatians 5:13-26.
GOLDEN TEXT—And every man that striveth for the mastery is temperate in all things. Now they do it to obtain a corruptible crown; but we an incorruptible.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Learning Self-Control.
JUNIOR TOPIC—The Law in One Word.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Secret of Self-Control.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Making Prohibition Effective and Permanent.

The lesson topic is not a happy one. The Scripture text chosen clearly refers to the inner conflict going on in the believer. Having been born of the flesh and of the Spirit (John 3:6), there is an unceasing conflict going on between the two natures (Gal. 5:17). The insurrection springing out of the carnal nature cannot be put down by the Law of Moses. Victory can only be accomplished through the energy of the indwelling Holy Spirit. The committee has further designated it "a temperance lesson." It has a real bearing on temperance in that it shows the only way to destroy the infernal liquor business; namely, to lead individuals to a personal knowledge and experience of Jesus Christ. Having in Galatians 3 and 4 shown that the believer is free from the law as a means of justification, Paul makes practical application of this doctrine as follows:

I. Christian Freedom (vv. 13-15).
1. It is not an occasion to the "flesh" (v. 13).
Liberty is not license. The notion that when one is free from the law he is free from constraint, is wickedly erroneous. License of the flesh means not merely the indulgence of the flesh in actual material sins, but in the expression of a self-centered life (v. 15).
2. By love serving one another (v. 13).

Freedom from the Mosaic law means slavery to the law of love. Love thus becomes the fulfillment of the law—"Love thy neighbor as thyself" (v. 14).
II. Walking in the Spirit (vv. 16-18).
Walking in the Spirit results in:
1. Loving service to others.
2. Victory over the flesh (vv. 16, 17).
By the "flesh" is meant the corrupt nature of man expressing itself in the realm of sense and self.

III. The Works of the Flesh (vv. 19-21).
By works of the flesh is meant the operation of the carnal nature. The one who chooses to live according to the impulses and desires of his natural heart will be practicing the following sins:

1. Sensuality (v. 19).
The sins enumerated here, practiced in the sphere of the body, are:
(1) Fornication. Fornication includes all sexual sins in married and unmarried life.
(2) Uncleanliness. This includes all sexual sins, open or secret, in thought or deed.
(3) Lasciviousness. This means the wanton, reckless indulgences in the shameful practices of the flesh.

2. Irreligion (v. 20).
These acts take place in the realm of the spirit and are:

(1) Idolatry.
(2) Witchcraft or sorcery. This means all dealing with the occult, such as magical arts and spiritism.
3. Sins of temper (vv. 20, 21).
These take place in the sphere of the mind and are:
(1) Hatred. (2) Variance, which means strife and contention. (3) Emulations; jealousy. (4) Wrath; bursts of passions. (5) Seditions; factions in the state. (6) Heresies; factions in the church. (7) Envyings. (8) Murders.

4. Sins of excess (v. 21).
(1) Drunkenness. This means indulgence in intoxicating liquors.
(2) Revelings, acts of dissipation under the influence of intoxicants.

IV. The Fruit of the Spirit (vv. 22-24).
This indicates action in the realm of life. The product of the Holy Spirit indwelling the believer.

1. Love to God and man.
2. Joy; glad-heartedness because of what God has done.
3. Peace with God and fellowman.
4. Long suffering; taking insult and injury without murmuring.
5. Gentleness; kindness to others.
6. Goodness; doing good to others.
7. Faith; believing God and committing all to him.
8. Meekness; submission to God.
9. Temperance; self-control in all things.

Hints For Homemakers

By Jane Rogers

If your pancakes have a tendency to stick to the griddle, try rubbing it with the cut side of a raw potato instead of greasing it. This will usually prevent sticking even when grease consistently fails.

The art of seasoning lies in blending and developing the flavors of the main ingredients; never in smothering them out of all recognition. A small amount of sugar, for instance, is frequently used in the preparation of meat and fish sauces; not to sweeten, but to point up and harmonize the flavors of the fish or meat, and the other ingredients of the sauce.

PAVING OF 45
IS ADVANCING
AT GOOD RATE

Expect Job to Be Completed
Soon

Surfacing of U. S. 51 From Wickliffe to Fulton Ended

(Paducah Sun-Democrat)
With one and a fourth miles of concrete surface already laid the section of U. S. highway 45 from Wingo through Water Valley to the Hickman county line will be completed in approximately fourteen more working days. Work was begun last Thursday.

The remaining six-mile gap from the Hickman line to Fulton will not be constructed this year, according to engineers of the district highway office. The distance from Wingo to the Hickman line is 7.1 miles.

Paving on U. S. highway 51 from Wickliffe to Fulton has been completed and the road will be opened to traffic, except for a bridge detour over Obion creek a mile and a half south of Arlington, about October 27. Approximately six weeks longer will be required to complete the bridge, which is about 1,000 feet north of the Obion creek bridge opened last spring. The fill was raised at this point and a concrete span is under construction.

During construction of the portion of the road from Wingo to the Hickman line, traffic is detouring via Fulghum and into Fulton.

Retread construction on the highway from the Graves county line at Leader Bottom to Wingo is advancing steadily. The road is open to traffic.

SISTERS HURT IN AUTOMOBILE CRASH

Clinton, Ky., Oct. 20.—Miss Dorothy Graham and Miss Marjorie Graham, sisters, were painfully hurt in an automobile accident near Clinton on U. S. 51. Dorothy Graham, a senior in Clinton high school, suffered a broken knee cap. The other girl's shoulder was wrenched. They were also bruised and cut by flying glass, when their car struck a barricade in the road and turned over in a ravine.

Several other occupants of the car escaped injury, save for minor bruises.

The injured girls are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. David Graham.

MAYFIELD YOUTH KILLED IN AUTO WRECK SATURDAY

Another Escapes Unhurt; Occurs Near Wickliffe

Wickliffe, Ky., Oct. 18.—Clyde McCampbell, 24, steamfitter, of Mayfield, was instantly killed and James Ray, 20, plumber's helper, also of Mayfield, seriously injured this afternoon when the automobile in which they were riding from New Madrid, Mo., to Mayfield, overturned in a ditch on the Wickliffe-Blandville road two miles east of here.

A third occupant of the car, R. T. Scroggins, Mayfield, sustained only slight injury. Ray, with Scroggins accompanying him, was taken to St. Mary's hospital in Cairo by motorists who reached the scene shortly after the wreck.

McCampbell, who was at the wheel of his own car, a roadster, died from a broken neck. The three men all employes of R. H. Vandeveld and company, Mayfield plumbing contractors, were enroute home from New Madrid where they had been at work on a plumbing installation contract in a new hotel. McCampbell was superintendent. The accident occurred about 2 o'clock, shortly after the men left Wickliffe. The steering apparatus broke and the driver lost control, according to reports received here. The automobile was demolished.

F. M. Elkins, Barlow undertaker, returning from Blandville, chanced to pass the scene of the wreck a few moments later. The body was taken to Barlow.

At the Cairo hospital, Ray's condition was found to be grave.

McCampbell was unmarried. He went to Mayfield from Paducah with his parents, who survive him, about two years ago to reside. His father was notified at New Madrid of the accident. The body probably will be taken to Paducah for burial.

Ray is a graduate of the Mayfield high school and a former player on the football team.

To give an unusually delicious flavor to your summer beverages, add to a base of sweetened lemonade, tart jellies of different varieties, beaten until syrupy. The brightly colored jellies are as valuable for their color effects as they are for the distinctive flavors they impart. Two or three teaspoons to a large glass is about the right proportion.

When hanging recently washed curtains, if you have a trying time running the rod through the hem, put a thimble on the end of the rod. Then you'll have no trouble getting it through, even though the hem is stiff and stuck together. Best of all, you'll eliminate the risk of tearing delicate fabrics.

No More "Beef and Beer", As Athletic Records Fall

EDITOR'S NOTE:

Lawson Robertson is without question one of the greatest trainers known to the American track. He not only has coached many famous runners and weight men, but he also was a notable athlete himself, competing in the Olympics at St. Louis in 1904 at Athens in 1906, and at London in 1908. He was trainer and coach of the American Olympic teams in 1912, '20, '24, and '28. In view of the new records constantly being established, we have asked Mr. Robertson to explain the improvement in speed and stamina of the present day athlete. Surely no one is better qualified to speak authoritatively.

—EDITOR.

By Lawson Robertson

(Famous coach of the University of Pennsylvania, and trainer of American Olympic teams)

THE balanced diet now is so common in the training of the American athlete, that I doubt if many of the present day track enthusiasts ever stop to consider how comparatively new this present system really is. We take it more or less for granted that runners, jumpers and weight men naturally balance their meat and other protein foods with certain cereals and fibrous or leafy vegetables to provide the bulk so necessary for proper elimination. While rice, which is nearly ideal because of its smoothness and volume of bulk—spinach, lettuce, carrots and beets—all are found regularly on college training tables these days. But let's see how this differs from the way things were done only a few brief years ago.

Beef and beer—believe it or not—were the mainstays of many an athlete whose hair now is just beginning to show signs of gray. The poisons from such a diet were worked off with plenty of physics and innumerable sweats. Today, of course, we know that this is neither a normal nor a healthy way of providing necessary bodily elimination. We now promote intestinal hygiene as nature planned that we should—through eating bulky foods such as rice (the cereal form of which has been found to be most palatable and efficacious), and quantities of the coarsest vegetables. With the indigestible matter (furnished by such foods, sweats and physics are unnecessary for carrying off the residue and the poisons.)

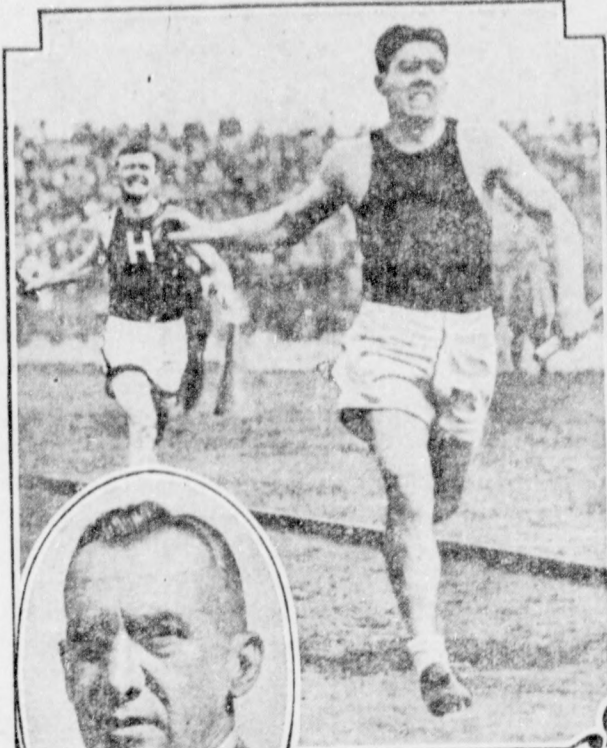

Only a few years ago, too, I remember that a diet was based entirely from the training table. It really is hard to imagine such a thing, isn't it? But then even the best training was sort of a hit or miss affair. We didn't realize then, as we do now, that a man really runs on his stomach.

I remember a conversation I had with Pat MacDonald some 10 or 11 years ago, when he was at his peak and was heaving the hammer and putting the shot farther than any other mortal. Pat was 44 years old then. As a kid in County Clare, Ireland, he had lived on buttermilk and potatoes. At the time he was breaking weight records right and left he was 6 feet five inches, and weighed 320 pounds. Did he eat what he liked? He did.

"Pat," I said to him the day the N.A.A.U. meet opened in Philadelphia, "I suppose you are in good shape for this meet."

"Sure," said Pat, "I had a shave and a hair-cut last night."

"Pat's records—these since father before younger and more wisely conditioned men. It has been my theory for a long time that any person's diet—athletic or dub—should be regulated so that the intake just equals the output. Balancing our meat with plenty of fruit and cereal or vegetable cellulose—bulk, in other words—will do it, and at the same time help keep the weight normal for those whose lives are sedentary.

Don't misunderstand me, however. I don't advocate putting a lot of taboos on certain foods. As a matter of fact, I let my men eat pretty much what they like, so long as they keep a proper balance of roughage in their diet.

When we consider the almost complete revolution in the dietary habits of our present day athletes, it is not hard to understand why competitors go right on breaking records. The men of today aren't the super-beings that some authorities would have us believe. They simply are keeping their running, jumping and throwing machinery in better shape through "some stocking," and they maintain their bodies in fairly good condition the year round, all of which naturally makes the trainer's task much simpler.

Everything considered, it's my belief that a sane, balanced diet is simply common sense for attempting to to the discard those records of the "beef and beer" days. After all, most athletes are made—not born. They win with their stomachs, and not in spite of them!

If You Have "Menu-itis", Just Try This Easy Cure

By JOSEPHINE B. GIBSON
Director, Home Economics Dept.,
H. J. Heinz Company

IF "menu-itis" could be classified as a dangerous affliction, almost every woman would find her name enrolled on some hospital list.

The first symptom, usually, is a feeling that one cannot—simply cannot—plan another dinner! Ever! And matters soon progress steadily from this point until the complaint becomes chronic, and the whole family is involved in the suffering.

Of course, no two persons will arrange a menu in quite the same way, any more than different cooks will produce identical results from the same recipe. However, the best method for obtaining needed relief from this daily task of meal-planning is to allow someone else to furnish occasional suggestions. I am sure you will find the menu printed below is a welcomed, practical idea. The secret of its goodness lies in the somewhat different seasonings that are given the different foods. Try it for dinner tonight!

Olive and Egg Appetizers
Deviled Ham Loaf
Succotash of Fresh Corn and Oven Baked Kidney Beans
Cote au Lard
Pure Apple Butter
Hot Rolls
Chocolate Wafer Dessert
Coffee

Small open sandwiches, often called "canapés," make excellent appetizers. They should be ready on small serving plates at each place when dinner is announced. The following simple appetizers are made from foods that you more than likely have on hand:

Olive and Hard Cooked Egg Appetizers:

Cut rounds of bread, and toast on one side only. Butter the untoasted side and spread with a layer of thinly sliced Stuffed Spanish Olives. Then cover with a generous layer of chopped hard cooked eggs, moistened with Mayonnaise Salad Dressing. Sprinkle with egg yolks that have been forced through a sieve and on the center of each, place a slice of the Olive.

Deviled Ham Loaf: 1 lb. raw ham and 4 eggs, 2 cups fresh pork, ground together; 2 beaten eggs; 1/2 cup Tomato Ketchup; 1 teaspoon Prepared Mustard; 2 cups Rice Flakes; 1 1/2 teaspoons Evaporated Horseradish; 4 tablespoons green pepper, chopped; 2 small onions, chopped.

Combine ham and pork, eggs, Tomato Ketchup, Prepared Mustard, Rice Flakes, and Horseradish, which has been soaked for 10 minutes in 2 tablespoons cold water. Fry green pepper and onions in a skillet with butter until they are tender, but not brown, and add to the meat mixture. Form into a loaf and bake in a moderate oven—350 degrees F.—for about one hour.

Succotash of Corn and Kidney Beans: 2 cups fresh corn cut from the cobs; 1 medium can Oven Baked Kidney Beans; 1 green pepper, minced fine; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 1 egg, slightly beaten; grated cheese; buttered crumbs.

Mix corn with Kidney Beans, and add green pepper, salt and egg. Pour into a buttered baking dish, sprinkle with grated cheese and buttered crumbs, and bake in a moderate oven for 30 to 45 minutes.

Chocolate Wafer Dessert: Use a package of very crisp chocolate wafers, which may be purchased in almost any grocery. Whip 1/2 pint cream, add 2 tablespoons sugar, and 1/2 teaspoon vanilla. Put the wafers together with a thin layer of whipped cream to form a cylinder. Then coat the outside thinly with whipped cream. Allow to stand in the ice box (not in the freezing compartment) for two or three hours, and cut in diagonal slices.
