THE LISTENING POST

● The final night before an election is always an interesting one to me, for it brings the election to a sharp focus and sees some rapid traveling back and forth, with possible shifts of support and a few last minute trades. It is on this final night when the master minds and the would-be master minds get together in smoky rooms, in automobiles, in taverns, in road houses, and begin to estimate what the voters are going to do next day. It is on this final night that candidates need to have a pocket full of folding money, for it then that support is pledged and bought, and the candidate who buys must have the folding money to pay off on the barrel head. Such support, worthless though it may be, is easy and smart and no promises of future payment are accepted. It is only cash money which talks and if a candidate buys any of this sort of support he must be prepared to pay whatever sum is charged. Fortunately for the good of the county, there is not as much of this as was the case once; many candidates have found that plenty of men can talk of delivering a block of votes and then fail completely to do any delivery.

● Yet the final night before the election brings all this to the surface. Cars are darting from one end of the county to another practically all night long. A candidate hears that in a certain precinct he can make a trade to his advantage and he must see a certain man. Fill up the car, hit the highway, see the man, make the trade if it is thought best. Or, some last minute swap may have been consummated a few hours earlier and it is vital that news of this swap be carried to certain parties, perhaps in the other end of the county. Again the cars roll the highways through the night, the candidates and their supporters tired, weary and hot, but determined to do all that is possible to win at the polls next day.

● There are times when such activities affect newspaper and printing offices. I remember such a case a good many years ago. I had already gone to bed and the telephone woke me. It was a candidate and he wanted some circulars printed right then. An opponent had pulled out of the race at the last minute and was trying to throw his support to a third man. As this candidate talked to me the presses in another shop were rolling out the circulars announcing the withdrawal and it appeared vital that another set of circulars be prepared to meet that challenge. Those circulars had to be in every voting precinct by dawn of election day, and it was then ten o'clock.

● I called a helper and we met at the office. Madly we set up four of those circulars and locked them up on a cylinder press in order that we could print four at one time. At midnight we started the press rolling, running at the rate of 6,000 per hour, counting four forms on. The candidate made a telephone call and by the time I had finished cutting the circulars up into fourths, cars began to pull up at the door. Then came from various sections and hurriedly the circulars were counted out to each driver, with enough to cover his precinct thoroughly. At two o'clock the cars had disappeared, and at dawn the next morning both those candidates had circulars all over the county. Well, it was rather good fun then, and I kept the money for my own, for it was my own job, but these days, a good many years later, I would not care a great deal about doing such a thing.

● Last night the candidate buzzed and buzzed in various parts of the county, trying to turn public opinion in their direction. It is an axiom in politics that there is little use in trying to change any votes on election day. By that time, the experts say, minds are

Germans Told Their Advice Is Unwanted

Welles Says Diplomatic Moves Are Bare Faced Impudence

Washington. — Denouncing German diplomatic moves in the Western Hemisphere as bare-faced impudence, the United States served blunt notice on the Hitler government today that American republics needed no advice from Berlin on the conduct of their own affairs.

Coupled with this broadside at Germany was high praise from Sumner Welles, acting secretary of state, for the energetic action of Latin American countries in combating activities described as subversive.

He said their resistance to axis pressure and interference was very heartening and a demonstration that they were fully alive to existing dangers.

The bitter condemnation of Germany was inspired by a diplomatic exchange between Berlin and Mexico. Germany has requested that Mexico protest to the United States over the blacklisting of hundreds of firms in Latin America deemed to be operating for the benefit of the axis. Mexico rejected the request with a stern rebuke.

Welles interpreted the German move as a threat to act against Mexico in the future unless the blacklist was protested. He said the Nazi request was based on a pretext that the blacklist was in some way in derogation of Mexican sovereignty.

No country in the world, Welles told reporters, has been more definitely jealous of its own sovereignty and its legitimate rights as a sovereign and independent country than has Mexico.

In strong terms then, he declared that Mexico or any other American republic required no advice from the German government on the protection of its own sovereign rights.

He asserted the present German government had violated the sovereignty of innumerable other countries and temporarily destroyed the sovereignty of many peoples.

Court Passes Hat To License Dog For Needy Family

Chicago. — Everett Foster, 11, and his sister, Mary, 8, whose parents were served with a summons because the children's dog had no license, came to court with 60 cents and a note.

The note from the mother said no other funds were available and asked if the court would allow a little more time.

Judge Thomas Green did better than that. A hat was passed and $2.40 was collected to make the $3 license fee.

Wallace Says U. S. Must Show Willingness To Fight For Peace

Burlington, Iowa. — Vice President Wallace, the nation's new economic defense chief, dedicating an "arsenal of liberty," declared Thursday the United States must show complete willingness to fight, if necessary, if there is to be any chance for peace.

"Only by developing our might to the utmost," said the Iowan in a talk scheduled to be broadcast internationally as a climax to the formal opening of the $50,000,000 shell-loading plant here, "only by demonstrating through every action and attitude that we are completely willing to go to war, if necessary, is there any chance for that peace which we so earnestly

Four Boys Go On Tour In Model T Ford

Four Fulton boys left yesterday on a tour of Kentucky in the Model T Ford, owned by the Willey brothers. These four boys, James Walker, Fred Winter, Carl Puckett, Jr., and Earl Willey, left here early yesterday morning and plan to be gone about a week.

Lexington, Frankfort, Louisville and possibly Cincinnati are among the places of interest the boys plan to visit.

Two Injured In Car-Truck Collision

Charles Jones, farmer of Columbus, was seriously injured when his car was struck by a truck on the M. O. overhead bridge about a mile east of Columbus yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock. Jones' car turned over several times and his wife was also seriously injured.

Mr. Jones' four children were also in the car, but escaped with only minor injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones were brought to the Fulton hospital for treatment. Mr. Jones has a fractured jaw and bad cuts. His wife has internal injuries, a gash on her head and serious cuts on the arm and hand. Both are thought to be seriously injured.

Sgt. Leath Is Here On Leave

KENT PRAISES CANADA PLAN

Ottawa. — The Duke of Kent told a gathering of Canadian officials last night that the British people were "fully conscious of the great value of Canada's contribution to our joint cause in having thought out and put into operation the vast British Commonwealth air training plan."

Speaking at a State dinner given in his honor, he said his trip to Canada primarily was to see personally something of the training plan's operation.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King presided at the dinner, which was attended by members of the Cabinet, Government officials and high-ranking officers of the armed services.

REFUGEE ASKS POLICE TO SEND HIS PROPERTY

Garden City, Kan. — Police Chief Lee Richardson is willing to give this prisoner E. for effort.

The chap escaped from a city work gang July 9. Yesterday the chief received a letter from Texas asking Richardson to forward some papers and personal belongings left behind.

Richardson declined to surrender the articles except upon personal application.

Wallace Says U. S. Must Show Willingness To Fight For Peace

Burlington, Iowa. — Vice President Wallace, the nation's new economic defense chief, dedicating an "arsenal of liberty," declared Thursday the United States must show complete willingness to fight, if necessary, if there is to be any chance for peace.

"Only by developing our might to the utmost," said the Iowan in a talk scheduled to be broadcast internationally as a climax to the formal opening of the $50,000,000 shell-loading plant here, "only by demonstrating through every action and attitude that we are completely willing to go to war, if necessary, is there any chance for that peace which we so earnestly desire."

Insisting the "battle for liberty" is being fought "right here," Wallace urged Americans to ignore "a loud minority who give aid and comfort to the enemies of civilization some unwittingly and others quite wilfully."

Outing what he called the "axis of democracy," Wallace said he would include "not merely our fine German-Americans, but, in addition, the vast bulk of the German people themselves."

"Most of them never believed in the Prussian imperialism of the Kaiser any more than they now believe in the blood-spilling, world-dominating madness of Hitler."

Railroad, Labor Give Dispute On Work Rules To U. S. Board

Chicago. — Railroad management and labor negotiators rammed into a deadlock on revision of working rules, despaired of settling the issue among themselves and turned it over to the National Railway Mediation Board today.

They undertook, however, to negotiate a settlement of labor's demand for a multi-million-dollar pay increase for $1,150,000 workers.

Army Boosts Horse Buying In Last Year

Lexington, Ky. — Despite its drive toward mechanization, the Army still needs and buys horses and mules.

The Lexington office of the Army Remount Service purchased 3,570 cavalry and artillery horses and 1,687 pack mules during the 1940-41 period, Lieut. Col. Frank L. Carr said.

Annual purchases prior to that period averaged between seventy-five and eighty animals.

Purchases for the nation as a whole were ten times greater in the 1940-41 period than the average for previous years.

The sharp increase in the volume here, Colonel Carr said, resulted from a decision to extend remount purchases into Eastern States. Previously most Army stock came from Western states.

NAZIS DENY FLIER WHO FLED U. S. SLAIN

Berlin. — Friends of Sub-Lieut. Baron Franz von Werra, young German aviator, who escaped as a war prisoner from Canada and then jumped bail in the U. S. denied today a British report that he had been killed on the Russian front.

There said there was positive information that he is alive. Official quarters would not comment, however, emphasizing it never had been admitted he had returned to Germany.

EVACUATION DRILL PLANNED IN MANILA

Manila. — Manila will hold its first practice evacuation of civilians Sunday.

Four hundred residents, mostly women and children, of two slum areas considered highly vulnerable to bombing will be evacuated to San Mateo Rizal Province, sixteen miles away. The removal will take six hours and will test the ability of volunteer guards to handle crowds and of the constabulary to maintain order and direct traffic through narrow highways.

Washington. — A night "blackout" for 100,000 gasoline service stations from Maine to Florida was proclaimed Thursday by Secretary of Interior Ickes, effective Sunday, August 3, to meet the predicted petroleum shortage in the East.

Stations in the Atlantic seaboard states would be closed from 7 p. m. to 7 a. m., seven days a week, under this action, until the oil emergency abates or other curtailment methods are adopted.

July Outlay For Defense Is One Billion

Washington. — Cash expenditures in connection with the armaments program totaled about $1,000,000,000 in July, the largest sum since the World War.

Officials estimated the July total on the basis of nearly complete records for the month. These figures showed through July 30 cash payments by the Treasury totaled $899,488,021, and through July 29, defense payments of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and its subsidiaries amounted to $62,053,364. Final reports, officials said, should bring the total for these two types of expenditures to almost exactly $1,000,000,000.

Taken on a checks-issued basis or work-done basis, they said, the month's total would be much higher, but the $1,000,000,000 total would cover money actually after checks had been cashed.

Major Keeney, commanding officer of the Air Corps training detachment at Central Air Terminal, said, "Yes," after just one glance.

Ickes Asks Oil Stations In East To Close During Night Hours

Washington. — A night "blackout" for 100,000 gasoline service stations from Maine to Florida was proclaimed Thursday by Secretary of Interior Ickes, effective Sunday, August 3, to meet the predicted petroleum shortage in the East.

Stations in the Atlantic seaboard states would be closed from 7 p. m. to 7 a. m., seven days a week, under this action, until the oil emergency abates or other curtailment methods are adopted.

FDR Bans Fuel Exports To Axis Nations, Aides

Order Will Cut Off Flow Of Gasoline To Japanese Navy

Washington. — President Roosevelt directed the export control administrator today to prohibit exports of motor fuels and oils for use in aircraft to destinations outside the Western Hemisphere, British empire, and unoccupied territories of countries resisting aggression.

Mr. Roosevelt also directed that the export of other petroleum products, except to these same destinations, be limited to usual or pre-war quantities. The pro rata issue of licenses will be made on that basis.

Even though Japan was not mentioned, the action will, of course, prevent the export of aviation gasoline to the Japanese empire. And it will limit Japanese purchases to pre-war levels.

Mr. Roosevelt asserted recently in an informal speech that this country had continued to let Japan buy American oil as a means of discouraging her from invading the Dutch East Indies for the fuel necessary to feed her war machine.

But recently, after Japan moved into Southern French Indo-China, the United States, besides freezing Japanese assets in this country, clothed the treasury with powers to restrict sharply the trade between the two countries.

The White House announced the chief executive's action in a two-paragraph statement. A Presidential aide directed attention to the fact that the statement made no mention of Japan.

The prohibition on exportation of aviation fuels extends to certain raw stocks from which these fuels are derived.

Rubber Magnate Urges Motorists To Save Tires

Akron, Ohio. — To conserve tires, Rubber Magnate P. W. Litchfield suggested today that motorists:

1—Avoid speeds over 50 miles an hour; tires wear out 62 per cent faster at 70 than at 50.

2—Check air pressure weekly; pressure either too low or too high wears out rubber.

3—Have frequent inspections of break adjustments and wheel alignment to avoid "dragging" a tire.

4—Rotate tires every 2,000 to 3,000 miles switch the left front to the right rear etc.

5—Retread those which have good sidewalls but worn treads.

"There will be enough tires for those who need them if everybody helps and something unforeseen does not develop," Litchfield said.

Walled Off By Night Hours To Close During Night Hours

This was the first step toward compulsory restrictions on the use of motor fuel, and Ickes, the defense petroleum co-ordinator, responsibility for effectiveness of the service station closing was placed squarely up to the industry. Suppliers of gasoline were requested to refuse to deliver fuel to retailers who refuse to comply.

While expressing doubt that the Government had the power under existing statutes to prosecute violators, Ickes voiced confidence that the petroleum industry and the individual service station operators would co-operate fully.

FOOLISH OPTIMISM OF SENATOR NYE

Isolationist Senator Gerald P. Nye offers a strictly isolationist argument for opposing the extension of service for draftees and National Guardsmen beyond the one-year limitation.

Hitler's legions, he says, are being decimated in Russia and are drawing heavily on their reserves. There is reason to doubt, he avers, that the German fighting force is either as large or as efficient as it was a year ago. Therefore, he concludes, the emergency is less acute than it was following the fall of France and we can afford to disorganize our civilian army and lay back and wait for disaster to overtake us.

That the German losses have been heavy there can be no doubt. That stiff resistance of the Red Army has upset Hitler's time table and time in a Russian campaign is of the essence. The slowing down of the blitzkrieg has presented a unique problem to the Nazi High Command and each advance has been costly. But to suggest that the world situation has improved because of the titanic struggle in Russia is foolish optimism. Leningrad may fall in the next few days as Berlin is predicting its fall; the Red Army may be outflanked as the Maginot Line was outflanked and a decisive battle may be fought before the snow flies. Should this occur the German war machine would still be the greatest war machine of all time and Russia would be eliminated as a potential enemy.

A year ago Russia was the great enigma, the Balkans obstructed the Drang nach Osten, North Africa was quiet and Japan was devoting its entire energies to its war in China. Today the Near East, the Middle East, the Far East are only awaiting a German victory in Russia to burst into flame and then the war will surround the Western Hemisphere on three continents.

Germany's reverses in the current conflict are heartening but it is suicidal folly at this time to consider the demobilization of our comparatively small and inadequately trained civilian army.—Courier-Journal.

THE FARMERS DAUGHTER

At a recent convention which met in the interest of home economics with special regard to the farm family, a wardrobe was on display as an outfit for a girl in high school. The cost of it ran to $7.52 for one year. This sample wardrobe with a few changes and alterations, would last for three years, be in style, serve practical needs as well as suit the appearance of the wearer for this period of time. Three years of wear puts the $7.52 rate on the outfit. The garments would be made at home, following simple patterns, using mostly cotton materials, trimming with worn neck-ties and using spools, corks, nuts and wood chips for buttons. It requires ingenuity and the knack of visualizing, a touch of artistry and a trick with the needle and thread. Women about Murray have this and if they are members of a family whose income is $500 a year, they will still see that their daughter of high school age looks as good as the next girl.

ing the car parallel and then getting out of it on the side opening into the lane of traffic! When you stop to think it over you can remember all sorts of accidents that might have happened to you the many times you have done this very thing. You are running a risk for yourself and you are endangering others as the line of traffic swings hurriedly to one side when your car door opens. That means dodging and danger for another line of travel. By using precaution and observing FIRST before you step out you may safely proceed. But watch the fellow who will park his auto, shut off the motor, open his left-hand door and then BACK OUT of the car without looking around. Sometimes traffic may not swing aside and then what?

TRAILER TRAFFIC

Today manufacturing trailers have become an important industry in our country as the production this year is breaking all previous records. As the summer passes we will see more and more of them put into use. The housing shortage due to our defense program, has made the trailer the home for many workers who are using them as better living quarters than many of the ramshackle dwellings offered by overly crowded cities. The past years have seen the trailer home reaching new heights in construction and equipment. Today when you invest in one you find greater width and length, you see electric refrigeration and stoves, air conditioning and indirect lighting, flush toilets and hot water, twin beds and a dressing room. The trailer may have been a poor sort of thing in the past—but today many of them are modern luxuries on wheels. The cost of most is moderate but they can run into the higher brackets if you want "the works." There are still people who can't regard the trailer as fitting and proper in any case. But this frame of mind is altering as the trailerites have proved that today the highest type of civilization uses them. There is a right and a wrong way to use a trailer and this is true of almost everything else isn't it?

The trailerite finds that there is freedom on wheels, there is comfort, luxury and enjoyment in this gypsy sort of life, and even the most sceptical of us in Calloway would envy the ownership of one of these luxury land yachts. So don't pity the worker who has to live in a trailer until he can obtain a house. He may be living better than you are!

Strength In The Foundation

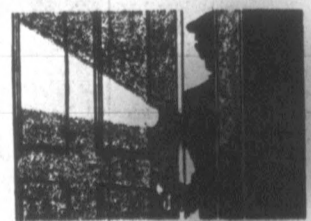

A business enterprise of lasting importance is somewhat like a giant bridge that spans the mighty stream. If it is to stand the test of time, it must be built upon a solid foundation.

Thirty-three years ago this month, the BROWDER MILLING COMPANY came into existence. Founded upon solid principles, this firm has enjoyed the confidence, good-will and patronage of a majority of the people in and around FULTON. We appreciate this fact and would like to offer our sincere thanks, again, for your loyalty during these thirty-three years.

BROWDER MILLING CO.

One door left unlocked—a thief comes in easily and a few minutes property which you value highly is gone, perhaps beyond recovery.

So, one policy improperly written or not written at all may open up your home or your business to loss by fire.

Why not check over these matters with us? We have made a long study of insurance problems and have an adequate knowledge of the subject. We are glad to talk over any insurance matter without any obligation on your part.

Lovely Contract Party Yesterday

Entertaining sixteen tables of friends, Mrs. J. L. Jones was hostess to a delightful bridge party yesterday afternoon at 2:30 at the Woman's Club.

The club rooms were attractively decorated, carrying out a color scheme of yellow and green, and garden flowers were tastefully arranged, with sun-flowers predominating in the decorations. The tallies and scorepads also bore tiny sun-flowers.

The last in the series of parties complimenting Miss Yvonne Homra and Ray Huff, was given last evening when Mrs. B. G. Huff, Mr. Hunter's mother, was hostess to a delightful planned dinner party at her home on Jefferson street.

Five card tables were arranged in the living room where bouquets of cut flowers formed an attractive decorative scheme. Each place was marked with a miniature steamer trunk.

Following the serving of a delicious menu, games of bingo were enjoyed with Mrs. DeWitt Matthews and Gene Speight winning the prizes.

Those present were Miss Homra and Mr. Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. Kennell Homra, Misses Amaline, Adelle, Mary and Kathryn Homra, Mrs. Al T. BAPTIST OFFICERS AND TEACHERS ENJOY DINNER

The teachers and officers of the Sunday School of the Baptist church enjoyed a chicken dinner and business meeting in the dining room of the church last evening. At seven o'clock approximately eighty officers, teachers and visitors gathered around the beautifully decorated tables to transact the regular business of the workers' counsel and enjoy the fellowship of the evening.

After the dinner was served, Superintendent E. E. Mount had charge and soon the reports of the officers were given and the business of the meeting transacted. Pastor E. A.

FULGHAM NEWS

By Miss Docie Jones

DEATH OF WOODROW

Years ago when Democratic fathers were naming their sons Woodrow, Walter Johnson chose a name for a young colt which has been in his possession ever since. By nature Walter is a trader; in fact, trading is his pet hobby, but Woodrow was one thing beside Resale and the children that he would not "swap." In some manner the old animal received a broken leg Friday night at the age of 28 and was killed by a veterinarian Saturday.

FAMILY FISH FRY

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Pharis were hosts to an enjoyable fish fry with plenty of trimmings and a variety of drinks served out in the open at their home Saturday evening. The following were in attendance: Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pharis, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Jones and Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Jones and son, Harold of Clinton, Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Pharis of Shiloh, and Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Batts and children. Friends present were Mr. and Mrs. Boyce McEllya and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Farr and sons, George and John Farr of Paducah. Following the meal car lights were turned on and games of croquet were enjoyed.

DINNER AT REELFOOT

Following the Sunday School hour, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Armbruster and daughters, Frances and Sara and their week-end guest, Mrs. Edd Waller of MTC, Mrs. Vol Armbruster, Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Armbruster and children drove to Sun-kist Beach for a dinner-spread outing, where they were joined by Mrs. Homer Armbruster and children of Detroit who are now visiting relatives in Hickman.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hindman, Mrs. Mollie Hodges, Frank Hodges and Mrs. Clay Parrott, Mardo Hopkins, Mignon Hopkins and her visitor, Laura Kathryn McGaugh.

Autrey made a very timely talk, using as his subject, "Today's Opportunities in the Baptist Church of Fulton." Those present were made to realize the opportunities that are theirs as workers in the Sunday school.

Mrs. Charles Gregory sweetly sang "Flee As A Bird," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Walter Voepel. A reading, "The Drowning Singer," by John Ruskin, was given by Mrs. Edward Pugh. A violin solo by H. L. Hardy, Jr., accompanied by Miss Martha Ellen Duley, was enjoyed very much.

Rev. Autrey then presented the guest speaker of the evening, Rev. C. P. Coaker of Clinton, Ky. Rev. Coaker used as his subject "The Soul Winner." He very ably discussed this subject from three angles, The Approach, The Response and The Commission.

The meeting was dismissed by all standing and singing "God Be With You 'Till We Meet Again," directed by Mrs. Gregory.

Out-of-town visitors for the evening were Rev. and Mrs. Coaker of Clinton, Mrs. E. A. Jones of Clinton, who is Sunday School Superintendent of this association, and the Rev. Woodrow Fuller.

COUNTRY CLUB MID-SUMMER DANCE SUCCESS

The mid-summer dance of the Fulton Country Club was given Thursday night and proved to be a great success. Scott Shelton and his 11-piece orchestra of Mayfield furnished the music for the occasion. The formal gowns of the feminine guests made the affair a colorful event.

Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Ike Read, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hall, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Davis, Miss Jane Dallas with Fred Brady, Jr., Miss Susan Simpson of Union City with Hugh Mac McClellan, Miss Donna Jean DeMyer with K. P. Dalton, Jr., Miss Peggy Williams with Clyde Williams, Jr., Miss Jean Brown with Darter White, Miss Kathleen Smith of Union City with Charles Looney, Miss Elizabeth Ferguson with Bobby Snow, Miss Mary Ethel Lansden with Dane Lovelace, Miss Evelyn Hornbeak with Jerry Jones, Miss Mildred Stone of Murray with Buzz Grogan, Miss Ruth Knighton with Paul Laine, Miss Mary Moselle Crafton with Jack Wellons, Miss Betty Sue Houston with Felix Gossum, Miss Dolly Curlin of Hickman with Hugh Earle, Miss Betty Ann Reed with Parks Weeks, Miss Elizabeth Payne with Kill Taylor Lee, Miss Miriam Browder with Buddy Steele, Miss Carmen Cockell of Union City with George Cultro of Rives, Miss Betty Yarbrough with Al Smith, Miss Eliza-of Princeton, attended the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Hulon Evans Sunday at their home east of Fulton.

FULGHAM

Politically speaking, we're "Bugs" And have been since 1895 when our voting place was moved from the old Goodfellow school house (Travlers) to the John Montgomery Woodcraft shop near Bug's store, which was the "trade mecca" for Eastern Hickman County and part of Graves. Hence, our magisterial name, Bug district, then called Bug precinct.

Bug's store was located on the old Fulton-Metropolis road (highway 307) about two miles north of Fulgham and was established about 75 years ago by John Bug and his partner, Thomas Kimbell. Voting continued at the "Shop" until 1920 when we were granted woman's suffrage. Then our precinct between Obion Creek and the Bayou-dechein was divided into two voting places known as Nicholas and Fulgham. For convenience, voters north of the Obion have always voted at Peto.

Bug, composed of Fulgham, Nicholas, and Peto; polls more votes than any district in the county save Clinton.

Our heaviest vote a few years ago was approximately nine hundred. This year each precinct has a candidate in the field for magistrate.

FULGHAM CLUB

Fulgham Homemakers will meet with Mrs. Jimmie Moore, Friday, August 8, with an all-day session beginning at 10:30 a. m. Some extra plans of importance will be discussed.

ON THE WATERS

Edmond Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. Turner Clark and a teacher from this section has accepted a position on a Defense Ship plying the waters from New Orleans to the Canal Zone. Nice sailing and sight seeing too at $75.00 per month plus board.

Hor Hudson of Union City with Jack Drenup, Miss Rachel Hunter Baldridge with James Allen Mitchell, Miss Jane Scates with Randle Burcham of Union City, Miss Doris Branch with Freddie Griffin.

Among the stars were—Stanley Parham, Billy Reed, Harold Mullins, Earl Willey, Randle Willey, Milton Crawford, Maurice Ferrell, Edwin Gunter, Buck Bushart, J. Mac Scates, Joe Browder Williams, Ike Hudson, Sayre Cultra of Rives, Herman Freeman, James Campbell, Jody Armstrong and William Humphreys.

THIS AND THAT

Funny how a crop can take care of itself just the week before the election. With the P. J. Vaughn sale Thursday, the Clinton Bar-B-Q Friday, the all-day voting Saturday with a Saturday night count and with scores of visitors in, we might as well proclaim a pre-election holiday week. The Sunday School count last Sunday was Mt. Moriah 32, Bethel 33, Jackson's Chapel 35, Salem 53 and Mt. Pleasant 82, totaling 235. Jewel Scott went to work with Theodor's crew on the I. C. railroad Monday. On election day seven years ago, twin boys, Charles and Clyde, were born to Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Batts, August 4; Six years, Rudell Johns and Frances Barclay were married; five years ago W. P. Whitlock was buried and last year "Buddy" Simmons was fatally injured in a car accident. Just wondering if we'll hit 50% of our "picked winners" Saturday.

Tigers Whip Mayfield There Last Night As Rally Fails

The Tigers whipped Mayfield last night in Mayfield 4 to 3, in as tight a tilt as has been played there all season. After holding a safe lead for the greater part of the game, the Tigers began to weaken in the eighth and Mayfield blasted in two runs to creep up near a tie, one run having been plated in the third inning. In the final inning, only one run behind, Mayfield-filled the bases with none down. Robinson then smacked a long fly to left center, which Vico took at full speed. Manager Hornsby set sail for the plate on the catch with the tying run. Vico whipped the ball in and the Brownie manager found the ball waiting for him when he arrived at the pay station. Schender then grounded out for the final play of the game, Reese to Walker.

Lake pitched the greater part of the game and was credited with the victory. Just back from a trip to his home folks in Michigan, the chunky right hander pitched a strong game until the closing innings, and in the ninth was relieved by Telshow after the bases had been filled. Telshow gave way to Emrich, who pitched to the last man.

Mayfield had nine hits and the Tigers had ten, but errors at critical times cost the Browns the game.

Manager Mullen fielded sensationally at third base, handling five hard chances and came through with two hits.

The second game is being played in Mayfield tonight and tomorrow afternoon the Tigers will again play in the Mayfield park. Monday night the Union City Greyhounds play in Fulton. The race for first division berths continues tight, with only a few points separating the teams from second second to fifth place.
