FOOLISH OPTIMISM OF SENATOR NYE

Isolationist Senator Gerald P. Nye offers a strictly isolationist argument for America’s entry into the war.

Today manufacturing has caused the greatest growth in the manufacturing industry in the country as the production of this year is far in excess of previous records. As the summer comes to an end, it is time to think about what we have accomplished. The housing shortage due to our defense program has made the housing for many workers who are building new homes more difficult than many of the rambunctious dwellings offered to the overcrowded cities. The past few months have seen the home building activity reach new heights in construction and equipment.

Today when you invest in one of these new houses, you are not only getting a home but also a valuable apartment. You will find some that include electric refrigeration and air conditioning and indirect lighting, flush toilets and hot water, electric lights and hot water, electric lights and hot water. The trailer may be a poor sort of thing in the past, but today many of these trailer homes are modern luxuries on wheels. The cost of the trailer is moderate but the contractors can run them into the higher brackets if you want the "works." They are still available for the people who can’t afford to buy a trailer but only pay for it in terms of use. The housing shortage due to our defense program has made the building of the trailer one of the most difficult tasks in the past few months. The use of these trailers to the highest extent of civilization uses them as a temporary shelter. There is a right and a wrong way to use a trailer and this is true of almost everything else isn’t it?
