The other day we had the occasion to visit with a group of ladies in one of the many worthwhile community organizations around here. We chatted with the ladies for a long while and told them how much we appreciated their group, their work, and most of all their visits to Fulton. Our last remark was not taken as well as we thought it would and one of the ladies explained why. She said: "Maybe you do, Mrs. Editor, but I wonder how many others do. One Saturday I went to Fulton to shop and as I waited in one of the crowded stores to be waited on, a lady said that if she had realized it was Saturday when all the 'country hunk' come to town, she would have stayed home."

The statement shocked us, of course. It is our firm opinion that visitors to Fulton stores by the people in the surrounding communities are the things that keep us all alive. We do not discount for a moment that the local business is fine and appreciated, but without our farmer friends shopping here, things would show a marked difference.

It was certainly not the fault of the store-owner that such a remark was made, he wouldn't have had it happen for anything. But things of this nature encourage mail order buying and out-of-town shopping. Its time we do a little more hand-shaking with our farmer friends and show them how much, how very much, we appreciate their patronage.

The OR driver had had a fatal accident. The insurance company man was at the widow's house and was presenting her with a check for $25,000, double indemnity payment on his life insurance. The widow was crying and inconsolable. She looked at the check and whimpered: "I'd give $15,000 of this to have him back again!"

It's good to see Elston McQuire back at his familiar post at the A and P Grocery. Elston has been on his vacation to points of interest in Dukedom, Buena Vista and Mayfield. He's had a wonderful time traveling to all these places and the other members of the A and P gang are sure anxious to listen when he tells of that big trip.

On vacation at the present time is Leon Fields, manager of A and P. Leon is having an equally interesting time traveling and one of the big things he did was to get a goat and have it barbecued at Union City. He's doing some big getting around in Memphis, too and if you don't believe it ask J. D., his brother in the produce department, who told us all this news.

Mattie Dear is asking a big favor of her readers in Kentucky. We had a letter this week from her that is self-explanatory. We reprint it herewith:

Miss Johanna:
I am asking you and your friends please do a favor for me. I am trying to go to the National Baptist Convention which will be held in Philadelphia and I want to leave Monday after the first Sunday.

Please help me if you can.

We ran across a lot of little-known historical data about some of our older Fulton firms this week while searching the 1925 files. Turn to the "Turning Back the Clock" feature on today's Editorial Page . . . we believe you'll enjoy reading it.

We wish space would have permitted the publishing of more data on each firm, and of more firms, but we tried to hit the highlights as they were written at that time.

We were sorry that the edition didn't have a story on Joe Bennett, Fulton's Dean of Druggists, whose store is apparently the oldest business house in Fulton in continuous operation under the same name and management. Mr. Joe opened up in 1890, three years before Arch Huddleston assembled his hardware stocks across from him on Main Street.

Even so, these young fellows were still new at the game when P. H. Weeks moved in from Water Valley in 1895 with 30 years' already behind him in Feltiana and Water Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. John Becker and daughters, Patricia and Priscilla of Independence, Mo., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Robert Graham and other friends in Fulton.

GEORGE DAVID JACO KILLED IN ACCIDENT

The many friends in Fulton of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Jacob are sympathizing with them in the tragic loss of their little 19-month old son, George David, who was killed when struck by an automobile Monday afternoon. The accident occurred when the child wandered onto the highway. He was struck by an automobile driven by Mrs. John Boatwright of Marshall County.

The child was taken to Riverside Hospital in Paducah by State Trooper Billy Watkins. The youngster died on arrival. Mrs. Boatwright told officers she did not see the child and realized she had run over him only after the accident had occurred.

Mr. Jacob has been principal of the Fulton High School for the past three years.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at Briensburg Church near Benton with burial in the church cemetery. Besides his parents the baby leaves two brothers, Noel and Danny and a sister, Katie Jean.

The News joins the many friends of the family in extending sympathy to them at this time.

The News Goes To A District Shin-dig

By Mary-Nelle Wright

Last week in the first district, the spotlight of the Kentucky press was focused on Paducah and Graves County when two of its royal and loyal subjects came back for a festive homecoming celebration.

The Veep and Veepeess, Vice-President Alben W. Barkley and his Missus, were the guests of honor in Paducah Friday morning and at Mayfield Friday afternoon.

His Royal Highness, Vice-President Barkley, made a principal address in Mayfield in which he coined a new word for Kentucky and the Nation when he said that on that day he and Mrs. Barkley were celebrating the ninth "Monthiversary" of their marriage.

Faculty meetings for both schools will be held in advance of opening days to plan the year's work.

Mr. Holland announced a new ruling for first grade students permitting them to enter school if their sixth birthday falls within 30 days after the opening of school. First grade students are to report to school on September 8, accompanied by their parents.

In the Fulton schools one position remains to be filled, while Mr. Burrow at South Fulton reported a completed faculty. The South Fulton school will have an organized band unit this year for the first time in many years. The band will be under the direction of Smith Stephens of Water Valley who will also teach classes in chorus.

The complete South Fulton faculty follows:

Miss Myrtle Brane, Mrs. Frances Harper, first grade; Mrs. George Crafton, Miss Maudie Pepper, second grade; Mrs. Rop-

Rain and Clouds Didn't Dampen Spirits of Scouts in Memphis

Despite the fact that it was a rainy, cloudy morning Thursday, nine cars carrying 30 Fulton Boy Scouts left here at 5:30 a. m. for Memphis where they made a tour of the city.

They were accompanied on the trip by Elbert Johns Field Scout Representative and Louis Weeks, District Scout Commissioner, and parents of the boys.

The Scouts sat in on the Juvenile Court of Judge Camille Kelly at 2 p. m. and also visited the Ford and Firestone Plants, Press Scipitar, swimming pool and other points of interest.

poem by Mrs. Cobb. So that her friends may enjoy the poem, (especially those of us at the News) we publish it herewith:

A LIFTED LAMP
My morning paper is to me
A wise and welcome friend.
It quietly tells me all the news
From the world's most distant end.

It speaks of every-day people
Along with the noted great,
Writing their names for a moment
On history's moving slate.

My paper is a lifted lamp,
Shedding an equal ray
On subjects controversial
And all issues of the day.
My paper is the printed word
Both powerful and humane,
Supporting the cause of justice,
Opposing needless pain,
For people who treasure
freedom,
And will sanction nothing less,
There's no surer sign of
freedom,
Than the Freedom of the Press.
—Alma French Cobb.

We hope we can live up to all that, Miss Alma.

Hungry Thief Enters Beadles Home With Feast In Mind

If you see a gent, or a woman, for that matter, with an unusually well fed look, they've been to Frank and Florence Beadles'. The person in mention was not a visitor however, but a culprit, who burglarized their home the other evening . . . of such things as a roast, chickens, eggs, fruit and a dozen other things.

It was shortly after supper and Florence had put away the supper things and gone upstairs to wash her hair. She had no occasion to go back to the kitchen that night, but the next morning when she started preparing for the noon meal she discovered the roast gone. Funny, she thought, and then started doing a little looking. The deep freeze had been entered and chickens and other goodies stolen. Going back to the ice-box the eggs, bacon, fruit, no telling what else had disappeared!

Florence says she's still finding where the burglar visited and the solution she gives is that he was a mighty hungry thief.

Plenty Squirrels In Kentucky This Season

Initial reports from throughout the state indicate a more bountiful supply of squirrels this year, the Division of Game and Fish announced today, in pointing out that the squirrel season opened on August 20 and continues through November 5.

DEATH CLAIMS FULTON'S OLDEST CITIZEN; ISAAC NOLEN WAS NEARLY 100 YEARS OLD

Funeral services for Fulton's oldest citizen, Isaac Robert Nolen, 99, were held Monday afternoon at the First Methodist Church, with Rev. C. E. Hawkins, pastor of the church officiating. Burial under direction of Paul Hornbeak Funeral Home was in Fairview Cemetery.

Mr. Nolen was a rare human being who enjoyed his full life to the utmost. Had he lived until May 14, 1951 he would have been 100 years old and could have boasted of the fact that he fully lived each of his many years. As a boy of ten he witnessed the Civil War, and enjoyed more than anything recounting his youthful experiences in that terrible war. He came to Fulton in 1876 and entered the sheet metal business with his father — the William Nolen and Son Sheet Metal Works. He retired from his business several years ago.

He was first married to Mary Elizabeth Good of Evansville, Ind., and to this union four children were born. Following her death in 1893, he married the former Elizabeth Wilkerson, of Graves County near Mayfield in 1894.

Mr. Nolen was the son of the late William and Hulda Baker Nolen.

He was a member of the Methodist Church and was active in both church and civic affairs here for many years.

Mr. Nolen leaves his wife; three sons, William I. Nolen of Dunedin, Fla., J. Robert Nolen of Dexter, Mo., and Marvin B. Nolen of Chagrin Falls, Ohio; and a daughter, Mrs. Hattie Bennett of Fulton; two granddaughters, Betty Boyd Bennett of Fulton and Mary McAfee of Norfolk, Va.; a great grandson and a great granddaughter.

Received a card this week from Bertie Pigue, currently vacationing in Washington, D. C. Bertie reports that "his eyes are bulging, with so many things to see." We agree that it's a "nice place to spend a vacation." You sure spend, and spend, and spend!

vs 216% Gain In Business For Ten-Year Span

Retail, wholesale, and service establishments located in Fulton County, Kentucky, showed a substantial expansion in dollar volume of trade from 1939 to 1948 according to preliminary figures from the 1948 Census of Business released today by the Bureau of the Census, U. S. Department of Commerce.

Retail sales in the county during 1948 aggregated $12.0 million, an increase of 216 percent over the $3.8 million in 1939, when the preceding Census of Business was taken. Wholesale sales in the county reached a total of $4.8 million in 1948 as compared with $2.3 million in 1939. The service trades included in the Census of Business recorded receipts totaling $591,000 in 1948 compared with $197,000 in 1939.

Employment in the county also rose over the 9-year period between 1939 and 1948 for the above trades. Establishments in these trades reported a combined total of 852 paid employees for the workweek ended nearest November 15, 1948. This compared with a total of 610 employees reported for the week of November 15, 1939.

The figures were sent to the News by Congressman Noble Gregory, as a public service to his constituents in Fulton County.

This series of releases, of which one is planned for each county in the United States, presents preliminary results of the 1948 Census of Business. The information is based on reports submitted by business establishments for that Census. The figures shown are preliminary, and are subject to revision in the final Census publications, but the changes are expected to be relatively minor with respect to coverage. The final Census figures will be issued in a series of Business Census bulletins which will show additional detailed kind-of-business information for all places where there are a sufficient number of establishments.

Barkley Visit Was Big Doings in the Ole Days, too!

By Mary-Nelle Wright

Last week in the first district, the spotlight of the Kentucky press was focused on Paducah and Graves County when two of its royal and loyal subjects came back for a festive homecoming celebration.

The Veep and Veepeess, Vice-President Alben W. Barkley and his Missus, were the guests of honor in Paducah Friday morning and at Mayfield Friday afternoon.

His Royal Highness, Vice-President Barkley, made a principal address in Mayfield in which he coined a new word for Kentucky and the Nation when he said that on that day he and Mrs. Barkley were celebrating the ninth "Monthiversary" of their marriage.

With all the glitter and glamour surrounding us at the breakfast in Paducah Friday morning—Governors, Generals, Congressmen, State Officials—our minds came back to a similar "Monthiversary" in the Mt. Moriah vicinity near Fulton, many years ago.

It was long before Alben Barkley was Vice-President of the United States or even before he was United States Senator from Kentucky that the spotlight was focused again on Mr. Barkley. It was sometime in the early twenties when the late Calvin Orr and his wife, Leona Fowlkes Orr, celebrated a "Monthiversary" by calling in all their kith and kin from near and far to enjoy their hospitality.

The gathering at the Mount Moriah "Monthiversary" had not the same meaning as that celebrated by the Veep and Veepeess. But rather it was a wonderful summer month when Uncle Calvin decided that it was a good idea to spread a feast and have some good talk and good fun.

No occasion was complete then, as now, unless Alben was there, as he was a great friend of the Orr Family. Will Barkley, Alben's uncle was married to Tennie Orr—Calvin's sister and they would also come down from Paducah to join in the festivities and reminisce with old friends.

The Veep

These days will forever remain fast in my memory. For weeks before the day set for the reunion conversation was centered around what we would take to eat because it was a dinner-on-the-ground affair with every family preparing a lunch to "spread." People in those days didn't throw together a bowl of potato salad or a pot of spaghetti. It took at least two days in preparing a boiled country ham, baking a pound cake, baking a pie—not to mention all the other food.

I couldn't help but make a comparison as I sat in that spacious dining room at the Irvin Cobb Hotel last Friday. There, more than two hundred of Western Kentucky's prominent citizens sat and basked in the reflected glory of Alben Barkley and his gracious lady. There hasn't been any change in Alben Barkley since those Mount Moriah days. There in that little community was the respect of the people for him and to a little girl, like me—there was adoration and hero worship—now he has conquered the great and near great of the world.

Many who attended those reunions have gone on to their great reward—Among those we remember were: Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Ridgeway, Mrs. Sallie McDade, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Pickle, Mr. John Coffman and Brother D. W. Fowlkes.

Other neighbors and relatives who still remember the event are Homer and Ruby Brann of Memphis and Mr. and Mrs. Terrell Fowlkes of Paducah. Maud and Arthur Pickle who live in Big Springs, Texas and Curt and Delene Muzzall of Fulton were always there to act as official greeters for the occasion. Maud and Delene are daughters of the late Mr. Orr.

Slums In Fulton

In a small town the size of Fulton, it has always seemed incredible to us that crowded, dirty living conditions should ever exist at all, yet they do. They do, in spite of the fact that there seems to be no apparent reason for being cramped-up in close squalor such as exists in the heart of a jammed city, where "being close to work" obliges many lowly-paid workers to seek whatever means exist in the area.

We seem to have lots of sub-standard living conditions here, and it isn't necessary to tell you where they are . . . you pass them every day . . . and perhaps take their being as a matter of course.

Their existence stems not from the indifference of the people living in them, so much as the greediness of the property owners, intent on collecting the almighty dollar, failing to spend a dime on their upkeep and improvement.

While taking the census in the Spring, the city enumerators encountered such cess-pools of human filth in some sections, that they were advised by the supervisor not to enter the houses; to do the counting as best they could. In many instances the horrible conditions was not the fault of the tenant, but the greedy indifference of the property-owner who refused to repair leaks, fallen-in ceilings, sagging walls. In many of the so-called apartments one water outlet served the needs of as many as six families, because the property-owner would not spend the money to run pipes into the various rooms. Sanitary toilet facilities are out of the question in most of the slum areas with a common latrine of the out-door variety to serve the needs of several dozen people.

AND RIGHT IN THE CITY LIMITS.

Such conditions are disgraceful. They are breeding places for not only rats, vermin and filth, . . . but, and much more important breeding places for rot and corruption within the hearts and souls of their human tenants.

How Mr. property owner expects a little child to grow to maturity in such areas, untarnished and straightforward in the midst of such environment, is more than we can stomach. It is a disgraceful spectacle to see a man collect his almighty dollar and thumb his nose at civic pride, public welfare and human decency.

When the children of such squalor grow to maturity, run afoul of the law and are brought before the court for sentence, it is the truthful duty of the judge to point his accusing finger squarely at . . . not the accused . . . not the accused companions . . . not even the parents of the accused, irresponsible as they may be . . . but squarely at the owner of the disgraceful shack rented to the family while the young boy, or girl was a growing, thinking child.

Nearly two years ago the city passed an ordinance making it unlawful for open privies to be permitted within the city limits. Unless they were made to specifications of the Health Department they would be fined $50. To our knowledge this law is certainly not being enforced because you can pass an open privy anytime you drive in Missionary bottoms and elsewhere.

The City Administration cannot be blamed for this condition, but we do believe that some kind of a building code should be set up making it unlawful for property-owners to rent property in the run-down, unkempt condition that a lot of rental property is.

There are no crowded living conditions here such as to permit renting property of this nature. But yet people with limited incomes have got to live somewhere and it is for that reason that some property owners step in and take advantage of the situation.

It isn't necessary to call names in this editorial. Most of us know the dollar-pinching offenders. It remains for the law-abiding, conscientious citizens, among them property-owners who give their tenants what they pay for, to put to shame the persons who say: "This filthy hole is for rent . . . you need a place to live and I've got that place . . . take it or leave it."

Butane vs Natural Gas

Unless something unforeseen happens, the City of Fulton and environs will have natural gas in the not too distant future. Under what conditions the gas will be sold, we do not know, but we hope that a condition of sale will not be permitted as recently happened in the little community of Marks, Miss.

Our good friend Henry Burns, editor of the Marks, Miss. Democrat had quite an experience with the United Gas Company there. For the benefit of future gas users we'd like to pass Henry's predicament on to you.

From his recent issue we quote:

"Looks like the United Gas Co. has a squeeze play it is putting into effect on the butane boys what we believe to be illegal, unconstitutional, in restraint of trade and unfair competition. When you sign an application for a meter it specifies that you will not use two kinds of gas on the same premises. In other words you can't use both natural and butane gas in the same building.

"Now if both pipings are according to code, what business is it of theirs what kind of gas one uses. The new Linotype the Democrat installed was equipped for natural gas and we wanted to run a natural gas line in the shop and see how the machine would operate on natural gas. If it had been as wonderful and economical as they claim, I might have converted all around. They said nothing doing.

"The butane boys should make a test case somewhere. Common sense tells the writer that gas guys can't get by with that kind of a deal.

"You may always depend upon the big corporations and invested interests to take care of themselves. Often it is at the expense of smaller competitors. They have smart lawyers staying awake nights figuring ways and means of getting by. Don't ever feel too sorry for them. They are plenty able to take care of themselves.

"Right now a big butane corporation is getting ready to put a squeeze on the small butane outfits. They will lend a planter a 1000 gallon tank and sell him gas at 7 and one-half cents a gallon, where the local people have been getting about 10 cents a gallon. What makes it seem worse is that they are operating on government RFC money."

A Spade, A Spade

Last Monday morning we all read in the paper that the U. S. Armed forces had decided to do-away with their pussy-foot attitude toward men in the services, i. e., the return of the tough first-sergeant, chewing out commands and spitting them at men in the ranks, (when needed) marked the end of a short-lived era of politeness in which the men were carefully cautioned when they were wrong, and probably patted gently on the head when they did well.

We were relieved to see the change, which, the dispatches pointed out, was required to enforce the proper discipline, get the required teaching accomplished, and save the lives of the men when they were thrown into direct combat.

That points up another thought we have had these past few months.

We wonder if the heads of our government are letting us in on the frank truth about Russia and the Korean war, or just treating us as so many "protected" children to whom the truth would be rough and awful.

Weeks and weeks ago, when the thing started, it seemed to be minimized right from the start. We were told, in effect, "Don't worry, it will soon be over . . . don't you fret about such things". Then our troops proceeded to back up 200 miles, losing lots of lives and probably millions in equipment . . . as well as ground that may be ten times as long in retaking. The headlines blare out today that our men have retaken eight miles of front line, and the fine print underneath tells those who read that far that we have lost it again. The headlines tell us that 800 tons of bombs were dropped in a big raid, and the fine print tells us that there are 50,000 enemy troops massed for a slugging drive against a third as many of our men.

It's not that we think the pessimistic outlook should be stressed. We do think however, that the encouraging should be better tempered with the setbacks. If we have a hard fight ahead of us, as we most likely have, we need to start a mental preparation for it now . . . in civilian defense, in agricultural planning, in general girding for a determined stand at home, backing up a major armed offense.

There may be times when the truth hurts, but, as the Army has found, it takes that kind of straight-from-the-shoulder punch to condition people for a tough fight.

Turning Back The Clock

August 27, 1925:

(A few excerpts from write-ups about Fulton firms in the 1925 Fair edition):

FRANKLIN DRY GOODS CO.: In 1901 Ed Slaughter and Tom Franklin came from Dukedom and opened a dry goods store in the Meadows block. At Mr. Slaughter's death in 1909 the Franklin Dry Goods & Clothing Company was formed; in 1916 a fine store building was erected on Main Street. Mr. T. M. Franklin is President; S. T. Butler, vice-president and Charles Binford, cashier. The firm employs 20 people.

T. B. NEELY: For the past 16 years, since 1910, T. B. ("Boss") Neely has been engaged in the barber shop business here. Associated with him at this time are Fred Cooper, Brent Roberson and Ollie Nicholand, and "if they can't make you look better, you are a mighty poor subject to work on."

CITY NATIONAL BANK. Organized in 1897 with Smith Fields and Chas. E. Rice as the first President and cashier. Credit for much of the success is undoubtedly due to N. G. Cooke, active vice-president, who has been with the bank its entire 28 years as first, a youthful book-keeper, then cashier. Following his promotion to his present position, C. P. Williams, who "had been doing his bit over in France", was made cashier. With these two in control, the bank has shown remarkable growth.

P. H. WEAKS SONS: When Water Valley was founded, George Weeks and his son, Porter H. Weeks removed their general store from Feliciana, where it has been prior to 1868, to the new railroad stop . . . and in 1895 moved on to larger fields at Fulton. In 1916 eldest son Leslie was made a partner, and at the death of their father in 1923 a younger son, Louis, joined the firm, which since that time has had its present name . . . a designation which is a lasting monument to one of Fulton's most honorable business men.

A. HUDDLESTON COMPANY: This store was established in 1893, and since 1895 has occupied the same building on Main Street . . . one of the oldest and best-known business enterprises in Fulton. Mr. Arch Huddleston in addition to managing the store, is also president of the Farmers' Bank. In addition to a large stock of hardware and queensware, this firm also does all sorts of tin and sheet iron work.

W. M. HILL & SONS: This contracting and brick manufacturing firm, one of the oldest in Western Kentucky, has built nearly every brick building in Fulton. The firm has about 75 men on its payroll, which runs more than $1000 a week. Their brick plant has a capacity of 28,000 a day, occupying a number of acres just north of the ice plant. This firm has built the new Baptist Church, is now at work on the handsome $50,000 building in Martin's soon to be occupied by the Martin Bank, and is now erecting a beautiful stone building for Mayor R. H. Wade on Carr Street.

READ & LITTLE: Successors to the firm of Olcott & Read, they are the agents for Dodge cars and trucks in Fulton, Hickman, Obion, Weakley and Lake counties. Dr. I. H. Read senior member, was for several years a dentist with offices in the Flatiron building. He is among the first in Fulton to own an automobile . . . and when he discovered that a fellow had a chance to ride to Hickman and back without having engine trouble, he immediately wanted to sell them to his neighbors. He has been doing this for years. Mr. Little, junior member of the firm, was for many years a dry goods merchant. He is a good trader. The firm also has R. V. Putnam best auto salesman in West Kentucky. If you don't let "Put" get your name on his prospect list.

FULTON HARDWARE CO.: Opened for business in Fulton 11 years ago, it was originally a branch of another organization in which Mr. George T. Beadles had an interest. For the past several years it has been owned by Mr. Beadles and his sons, Larry and Frank. Mr. George Beadles is one of the oldest and best known businessmen in Fulton, having lived here when Fulton was just a village.

ALBERT SMITH: Smith's restaurant is one business that is known far and near. Established more than twenty years ago, it has been open day and night and the doors have never been locked. Thousands have been satisfied with the food, the service, and the price.

PIERCE-CEQUIN CO.: Twenty six years ago, in 1899, Messrs. Devro Pierce and J. B. Cequin established a planning mill on the Tennessee side of Fulton, and for years it was spoken of as "The Planning Mill". With logging and other mills to require their time, the management was left to Mr. W. P. Murrell here. Upon the death of Mr. Pierce, Mr. Cequin has become president. Mr. Murrell secy-treasurer and Mr. Clarence Stephens, Mr. Murrell's assistant.

OWL DRUG CO.: The Owl Drug Co. located on Main Street, serves all the latest drinks from an improved, iceless fountain. Founded in 1911 by two enterprising young men, J. W. Gordon and J. B. Snow, it was left in the hands of Mr. Gordon during the late war while Mr. Snow offered his services to his country. Upon return, he found Mr. Gordon and the store at the same old stand.

HOMRA BROS.: In 1893 Messrs. M and K. Homra opened a dry goods and clothing store in Fulton on a small scale. As the city grew larger, this enterprising firm expanded and prospered, and today it is one of the leading dry goods stores in Fulton. Sales people include Mrs. Fanny Price, Mrs. Beulah Neely and M. U. H. Scott.

A. G. BALDRIDGE: Fifteen years ago A. G. Baldridge came to Fulton and opened a variety store with a small stock of goods. From year to year this stock has expanded until today it is surpassed by none in West Kentucky. Mrs. T. J. Griggs, assistant manager, is assisted by Misses Ruth Coulter, Ruth Rankin and Ruel Flippo.

JONES & FREEMAN: Many years ago Lon Jones and Marshall Chambers, doing business as Jones & Chambers, opened a "Gent's Furnishing Store" in Fulton. When Mr. Chambers left later, Mr. Jones became sole owner. A few years ago Mr. Claude Freeman acquired an interest in the store, from which it takes its present name. A second store, in Hickman, has since been established.

KRAMER LUMBER CO.: Successors to the W. K. Wall Company, this is one of Fulton's largest and most important business concerns. Mr. Theodore Kramer and his most excellent family came here 18 months ago from Ridgeway, Ill., where he was engaged in the lumber business for many years. He has already made a legion of friends, and is vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce. (Ed's note): Time and space prohibits publication of more column.)

Sermonette Of The Week

That Day Will Come . . .

By Msgr. Fulton J. Sheen as a mirror. What gravitation is to the stars, what atoms are to chemistry, what instincts are to the animal, that I was to you, help you in your course. I warned you; I shouted; I whispered; I murmured; I kept you awake at night; I made you afraid to awake in the morning. I troubled you in your pleasures; I gave you no rest in your sins; I filled you with a sense of fed-upness and phony education; the conscience which once considered as wrong, the conscience we now justify as self-expression; the conscience before it was polluted by license and mixed with selfishness; the conscience before it became "broad-minded" and gave right and wrong as an equal value.

This conscience will drag up from our unconsciousness all its hideous, leprous mass of sins in judgment. As a business man at the end of a day takes out from his cash register a record of debits and credits, so the slip of conscience will be pulled out at the end of life for the final reckoning. God will not judge us as much as we will judge ourselves. Our conscience will speak and say, I am the conscience God gave you! Behold yourself in it

Pray then, daily, hourly, for God's grace to know yourself as you really are.

FRANKFURTER FUN

By Marie Gifford

Frankfurters are stars this season of the year, for they're real fun food. Call on the versatile "frank" to play its part in your easy menus for late summer days, feature them for the Labor Day picnic and keep them on hand for those quick snacks.

No longer are frankfurters restricted to the camp and picnic grounds. Due to their goodness and ease of preparation, they have won their way into the menus for indoors and out and even company dinners.

To heat the franks and keep the mouth watering goodness and juiciness where it belongs—inside the frankfurter—drop them in boiling water and remove pan from heat. Cover them with a lid and let set for 7 to 8 minutes.

For the Labor Day picnic roast the frankfurters at the "spot" and team with buns, trimmings for the franks, corn-on-the-cob, tomato halves and a chopping bowl salad. For those garden fresh ears of corn, place fully dressed ears in water for 10 minutes then roast them on the grill along with the frankfurters. The steam created in the husks will keep each kernel of corn plump and moist. For indoor cooking on the broiler wrap the husked ear in aluminum foil. Turn the ears frequently. This method may also be adapted to outdoor cooking.

Plan a kitchen party and serve frankfurters in toast shawls! Remove crust and spread 12 slices of bread with mixture of 4 tablespoons mustard and 2 tablespoons horseradish. Place frankfurters cornerwise on sliced bread; wrap; fasten with a toothpick. Brush with melted butter and bake on a cookie sheet at 350°F. for 15 minutes. Top with stuffed olive. Add potato salad, garden onions and radishes for a snack to delight the family and friends.

For a wonderful family platter, cut three tomatoes in half, dot with butter, season and broil 5 minutes in pan set 5-6 inches below heating unit. Slit ten frankfurters lengthwise and fill with mixture of 1 cup mashed potatoes and ½ cup grated American Cheese. Place in broiler pan and broil until heated through.

SUCCESS IN FREEZING PEACHES

Now is the time to put peaches in your home freezer or frozen food locker. Peach shortcake, pie or sundaes will taste mighty good next fall and winter.

Select Ripe Fruit

Freezing does not improve the flavor of the fruit. The peaches are ready to freeze when they are ripe enough to eat with cream and sugar.

Some fruits and berries may be frozen successfully in a dry sugar pack but peaches are best in a sugar sirup. You may guard against discoloration by adding one-fourth teaspoon of ascorbic acid to each one or one and one-half cups of cold sirup. Your neighborhood drugstore, no doubt, has the ascorbic acid for sale.

Sugar-Water Sirup

Sirup should be prepared by boiling sugar and water together and chilling before adding the peaches. Medium, heavy and extra heavy sirups are satisfactory. The sweetness desired is up to you.

	Sugar	Water
Medium	3 1/4 cups	4 cups
Heavy	4 1/4 cups	4 cups
Extra Heavy	7 cups	4 cups

Put about one-half cup of cold sirup into each clean freezer container. It is important to work quickly and prepare only a few peaches at one time.

The peaches should be blanched by dipping in boiling water for one-half to one minute. Then cool in ice water and drain.

Cut each peach in half, remove the skin and slip halves or slices quickly into the sirup. Fill the container to within three-fourths inch of the top. Add sirup to cover the peaches.

Press a wad of cellophane or aluminum foil over the fruit just before putting the lid on. This keeps the peaches down in the sirup—another precaution to keep them from discoloring.

How Now, Brown Cow?

Once dairy herds were milked by hand, and the milk taken to the springhouse or the milk train. Getting it to the consumer before it spoiled was a major problem. Then the average American family spent less than $5 a month for all the milk and milk products, like cheese and ice cream, that it used.

How now? Today Bossy is almost a symbol of electric living. Her milk is coaxed from her by electric milkers, chilled in electric coolers, moved to market in refrigerated cars and trucks, kept fresh in electric refrigerators.

Today, just as it pays more for nearly everything else it buys, the average family spends about $12 a month for milk and milk products.

But the electricity that keeps it fresh, whips it into pies and cakes—and does hundreds of other chores around the house—costs that same family only $4.17 a month.

Go upstairs, downstairs, all through the house... Electricity is still the biggest bargain in the average family budget.

QUICK CORN DISHES

With spring cleaning in the background and the yard and garden clamoring for attention, meals that require little time or no watching have top billing.

A good luncheon dish that allows plenty of time in the sunshine is Cheesed Corn. Time required, only about twenty minutes.

Cheesed Corn
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 tablespoon chopped onion
No. 2 can Cream Style Corn
2 1/2 cupsfuls
1 tablespoon sweet pickle relish
1 teaspoon chopped pimiento
1/4 pound cheese, grated

Melt butter or margarine in skillet, add onion and cook until tender. Add the remaining ingredients. Heat until the cheese is melted, stirring constantly. This will serve five to six persons.

An oven meal that bakes while you garden is ready to serve when you're finished. About an hour before meal time put baking potatoes and this corn and veal loaf in the oven.

Baked Corn Loaf
No. 2 can cream style corn
2 1/2 cupsfuls
1 pound ground veal or hamburger
1 egg, well-beaten
1 teaspoon salt
Pepper
1 medium onion, chopped
1 tablespoon melted butter
1/3 cup cracker crumbs

Combine all ingredients and mix. Turn into greased loaf pan. Bake uncovered in moderate oven (350° F.) about one hour. The loaf should be a golden brown. Serve with catsup.

Yield: 8 servings.

This loaf makes a good main dish for any meal since it is both meat and vegetable. The oaked potato and a molded fruit salad complete a tasty well-rounded menu.

Special Treat: Homemade Bread

Delight to all who enjoy good food is the appearance of freshly baked homemade bread, with butter or margarine and preserves to spread on it.

Though busy homemakers like to depend on the baker for their daily supply of enriched bread, there is nothing quite like the wonderful aroma of homemade bread baking in the kitchen and family enjoyment of this special treat.

Thick slices of fresh home baked bread may be cut for snacks, to be spread with butter or margarine and topped with a bit of brown sugar or jelly; thinner slices for sandwiches to go into the lunchbox, others to be dipped in egg-and-milk and fried a golden brown for breakfast French toast.

However you like it, enriched bread from home kitchen or bakery fits well into any normal diet and provides excellent nourishment. In the well-planned reducing diet, too, enriched bread is included at each meal for its food energy, proteins, and B-vitamins.

If you like a deep-browned loaf of bread, brush melted butter or margarine over the top of the loaf after it has been shaped and placed in bread pan to rise. Bake in moderately hot oven for lightness and even grain.

MARINE RESERVES CALLED TO SERVICE

Enlisted men of the Volunteer Marine Corps Reserve in the ranks of sergeant and below are to be ordered to active duty immediately, according to Col. Frank M. Reinecke, officer in charge of the Marine Corps Central Recruiting Division here.

First reservists to be called are those in the following occupational fields:

Construction and equipment, fire instrument control repairmen; operational communications, material, electronics, motor transport, machine accounting, aviation electronics, and air control.

Next in line for receipt of active duty orders are other trained volunteer reservists. Untrained reservists will be called last, and will be ordered to recruit training camps for indoctrination and training.

Colonel Reinecke stated that a minimum of 15 days would be allowed between receipt of orders and actual assignment to duty. He said that Marine Corps Reserve District directors are authorized to allow an additional 15 days delay where deemed necessary.

In addition, reserve district directors may allow periods of delay up to six months if the reservist is in one of the following categories:

BILL OF HARRIS FORK

This is GRAVES County that the whole world has heard about. Mammoth Cave is not in Graves County, just because we did not have room for it without cutting something else more important out.

Kentucky is a great State but it wouldn't be so much without Graves County. It is an Empire in itself; we have everything that a man or a mule needs and because it is well known. We have cotton, persimmons, squirrels, beautiful widows and water-melons.

We also raise the very best Vice-Presidents that know how to pick out the prettiest widows to be proud of and exhibit hither and yon.

Then we have that guy that used to settle all the feuds between Dukedom and Water Valley in the old days. Dukedom brids would get loaded and armed and ride over here to clean out the town. Herschel would hear of them coming and mount old Elizabeth, his mule, and wait on the Main Drag for Dukedom's army, and if they started anything Herschel went into action and the feuding was soon over.

Herschel claims he can still hit a squirrel in the left eye nine times out of ten. And he don't brag either.

Tennessee would like to annex Graves County, but like Kentucky Dam, they found out it was too big a proposition for folks that were used to small packages.

They will just have to be contented with seeing that South Fulton don't get away from them.

2000 Nimble Fingers To Pick Cotton At Blytheville, Ark.

Two thousand nimble fingers will fly through a fluffy white cotton field at Blytheville, Ark., September 29 in search of one thousand green dollar bills.

The occasion will be the National Cotton Picking Contest when more than two hundred of the nation's speediest cotton pickers vie for the title, "Worlds Champion Picker", and a $1,000 prize.

In addition to the top award and the title, more than 25 other prizes — totaling $2,500 in all — will be awarded in sum-rang from $25 to $250. While women also are eligible for the $1,000 award, they also may compete for the $250 first place award for the best woman picker.

Sponsored by the Blytheville Junior Chamber of Commerce, the National Cotton Picking Contest has grown in the past decade into one of the nation's leading agricultural events.

HARD LUCK HITS JR. RIFLE TEAM

If hard luck hadn't beset Fulton's Junior High Rifle team they all would be wearing gold pins and admiring trophies as State Champion riflemen.

But hard luck got 'em ... not the four-man team because they came away State Champions. But Rice Owen and Larry Cavender on the two-man team were disqualified because of an age technicality. Their score was high enough to tie the Senior High Championships, but that didn't matter ... they were disqualified.

Hunter Whitesell, instructor of the rifle team explained that an early ruling stated that boys who were 13 when school started were eligible to shoot in the junior competition, although they might have had birthdays after school started. Rice, Larry and Don had their fourteenth birthdays after school started. Mr. Whitesell was not notified of the new ruling until three days before the State meeting.

Don Wright, the one man-Fulton team, after shooting a score high enough to win second place in the junior competition was also disqualified.

The four-man team composed of Gerald Bushart, Bailey Binford, Charles Binford and Frank Cardwell were judged the State champions in the Junior competition.

Mr. Whitesell and James Hibbs who have worked untiringly with the boys had the satisfaction of knowing that in spite of technicalities, Fulton has the best rifle and moskeet marksmen in the State.

DEMOCRATS PLAN FALL CAMPAIGN

Plans were laid last week by Kentucky Democratic Congressional nominees for the 1950 campaign at a Washington luncheon presided over by Senator Virgil M. Chapman and attended by Governor Earle C. Clements, the party's standard bearer for the United States Senate, and seven House nominees.

J. Thaxter Simms, of Cynthiana, Kentucky, Clements' primary campaign manager, was the unanimous choice of the group to direct the Kentucky general election campaign.

Others attending the luncheon were Senator Garrett L. Withers, Congressman John A. Whitaker, Second District; Frank Chelf, Fourth District; Brent Spence, Fifth District, and Carl Perkins, Eighth District.

Representative Noble Gregory, of the First District, was unable to attend, having been called to Mayfield to take charge of arrangements for the Barkley Homecoming at the Graves County Fair.

BUMPER POTATO CROP

The United States and Kentucky Department of Agriculture report the United States production of potatoes at 467,392,000 bushels, up almost 17 million bushels from the July 1 estimate. Production last year was 401,962,000. Kentucky's yield is much heavier than was first estimated, and harvesting will not be completed for another two weeks.

ENON NEWS

Mrs. Alfred Vaughan

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Elliott and children of Detroit, Mrs. Donald Cherry and son, Billie, Mrs. Thomas Exum and son, Glyn, spent Tuesday with Mrs. Nina Murchison and family.

Luther Elliott is seriously ill in the Fulton Hospital.

Mrs. Ollie Howell is seriously ill in the Fulton Hospital.

Funeral services for Osiman Shelton were held at Wesley Church on Sunday at 2:30. He is the son of the late Mac Shelton and Mrs. Fannie Shelton, who now lives in this county. He leaves three brothers and two sisters; James Shelton of Sumnerfield, Ohio, Macon Shelton of Crutchfield, Woodrow Shelton of Hickman County, Margaret Jeffries of Crutchfield and Allie Mai Duke of Water Valley, Route 1. Burial was in the Wesley cemetery.

Zelia Murchison of Rutherford, Tenn., spent Sunday with Mrs. Nina Murchison and family and attended Osiman Shelton's funeral.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Cook, Sr., and Harold Wayne were: Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cook of Cuba, Ky., Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Vaughan and children. In the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sellars, Mr. and Mrs. Harvort Cannon, Bobbie Joe Sellars and Miss Joy McAntott, Jimmie and Russell Sellars, Gerald Wilkerson, David Clark and William Boon Cannon were visitors in the home.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cook have returned from their vacation which was spent in Oklahoma City, Okla.

Mrs. Alfred Vaughan and children spent Monday afternoon with Mrs. O. G. Clark and children.

The following was taken from the Frankfort Journal August 19, 1950, a daily newspaper of Frankfort, Ky., in regard to Joe Vaughan, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Vaughan of 210 Conway Street, Frankfort, Ky. Joe was born in Beelerton, Hickman

County, Ky., April 30, 1932. His father was principal of that school for several years before going to Frankfort in 1938. The State Journal article reads as follows: "HOT DAWG! Behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy; especially to the local football fans and most of all to Panther Mentor Ollie Leathers, who is beginning to allow that recent habitual frown to be supplanted with a smile."

The news that busted Leathers' gloomy decorum was the goliath, Joe Vaughan, the much lamented lost tackle, is no more lost. Vaughan failed to pass his army physical thereby putting him in a uniform of a different sort—a football uniform.

Army doctors who examined the 1950 captain-elect tabbed to leave with the local National Guard unit and take with him most of F. H. S.'s hopes for a winning ball club, deferred him because of asthma. Working on the theory that sneezes don't hurt on the gridiron Leathers is waiting for Monday to roll around with open arms.

An all-star-mention last year, Vaughan was and is picked for some standout accomplishments this fall. Probabilities are that with the hulking 200 pounder in the line, Panther morale will go up 100 percent.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Christ Jesus" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, August 27, 1950.

The Golden Text is: "Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will raise unto David a righteous Branch, and a King shall reign and prosper, and shall execute judgment and justice in the earth. . . . And this is his name whereby he shall be called. THE LORD OUR RIGHTEOUSNESS" (Jer. 23:5,6).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And Jesus answered them, saying, The hour is come, that the Son of man should be glorified. . . . And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me." (John 12:23, 32).

MARMALADE SURPRISE

Cut hot buttered toast into three strips and spread with marmalade. Cover with a slice of cheese and run under the broiler until the cheese has melted and you have a delightful accompaniment for a fruit salad.

GRAIN MARKETS UNSETTLED

As reported by the USDA and Kentucky Department of Agriculture at the close of the week of August 14, 1950, No. 2 red winter wheat brought $2.19 at Chicago, $2.21 at St. Louis and $2.19-2.23 at Kansas City.

Marketing of corn increased and arrivals at the leading terminals totaled 8.3 million bushels. With slow demand corn prices declined at some markets but at Chicago and St. Louis were about unchanged. No. 2 yellow corn was quoted at Chicago at $1.55 5-8, St. Louis at $1.55 and Kansas City at $1.44 1/2-1.47. Oats were unchanged and soybeans continued to decline to a new crop basis.

GLORIFIED FRUIT SALAD

Dress up a fruit salad, whether it is made of fresh or canned fruit, or a combination of the two, with a sprinkle of cocoanut, a tiny winding stream of honey and a cherry, berry, or swirl of whipped cream to top it all.

First of the Fine Cars in Value

Little
Just how much need a really fine car cost?

YOU'LL find the answer written in the delivered price tags of this bold and strapping beauty pictured here.

It's a Buick ROADMASTER—and you have only to put yourself behind the wheel to see that it is truly fine by any yardstick. But it leaves the factory carrying the lowest price per pound of any car in the fine-car field.

That means that the money that goes into its building goes for things that really count—

For a big, husky Fireball straight-eight engine of 152 hp and all the brilliance of performance the highways can handle—

For room that measures up with the biggest, and for comfort contrived of deep soft seats and abundant space for taking it easy—

For a ride that's literally "out of this world," soft and easy as only all-coil springing can make it, yet firm and steady always, thanks to torque-tube drive—

For handling that is feather-light, for the complete smoothness of Dynaflo Drive as standard equipment, for a whole host of fine-car touches such as rich upholstery materials, flexible-spoke steering wheel, non-glare rear-view mirror, even automatic windshield washers, all included in the price.

Yes, the big question ROADMASTER answers is not how much a really fine car costs, but how little you need to pay to get all that a fine car can give.

Drop in any time on your Buick dealer for a trial ride in a ROADMASTER—and the surprisingly happy news on its delivered prices.

MARY-NELLE

ter, Clarence and Carlyle and their wives, Myrtle Brady, Ora Taylor and Myrtle Green Ridge-way who spent most of their lives in that community were always on hand to help entertain the guests.

The two Bruce sisters, Minnie and Osie, were there with their respective husbands, Walter Henderson and Gip McDade. Walter and Nettie Permenter never missed such an occasion.

There are others, who will remember those days, whom we have failed to mention. There are others who will remember days spent with Alben Barkley. Days such as that were a privilege to those fortunate enough to have enjoyed them.

As we heard Mr. Barkley say, Friday, that in his youth he had considered leaving his native state at times—it is that way with most men—we feel sure that no man who has left it fails to wish, at times, to return.

We feel that when Kentucky's favorite son puts away his gavel as the presiding officer of the United States Senate, that he will return. Yes, that he will return to his native land and enjoy the hospitality of such gatherings as were held in the Mount Moriah Community, then—and now.

place; Fulton in third, behind five games; Jackson in second, four and one-half behind Mayfield, who has a breeze for the balance of the season. Their schedule calls for three games with Fulton, and four with the Cairo Dodgers.

Did any of you hear that loud wail from over Union City way last week? Well, that was our good friend Lou Wrather, from WENK. He was protesting very loudly concerning the statement of Ed Kellow, the Paducah Sun-Democrat sports writer, concern- ing next year's Kitty League lineup. Lou, we can tell that you are not a steady reader of Mr. Kellow's column, because if you were, you would have protested long before now.

It seems that our Jackson and Paducah friends are not pleased with the present arrangement of the Kitty League clubs and they are wanting to change them so that they can suit the news- papers better (the metropolitan papers, that is). First of all, they are going to get rid of Cairo, Ful- ton and Union City. Next, we'll take on Paducah, Hannibal, and Centralia. This would be a sort of combination of the Kitty and the Valley, so we had better make the name apply both ways so let's just call it the Valkit League.

What's that? You like KitVal better, OK, let it go at that. That would make a good combination for organized baseball. (By the way, before I forget, Hannibal is a town in Missouri, about seventy five miles north of St. Louis, two hundred, seventy five miles north of Fulton, three hundred thirty miles north of Jackson. A nice afternoon's drive for a base- ball game.)

Laying all jokes aside, Padu- cah wants the Kitty, and person- ally, we would like to see them in the Kitty. Baseball is a busi- ness that is based on competition, and you must have this competi- tion to draw the crowds. You must have the crowds to keep that club rolling and out of the red. Keep plugging, Mr. Kellow, you might make the Kitty, yet.

What was wrong with my boys last week? Brother, I wish I knew. One thing we are certain of, with the fifth place club only three games behind, we've gotta hold 'em airtight. What about it, boys? Is we is, or is we aint? If we do make the grade, or if,

Mississippi Plantation Life: The Writings Of Mattie Dear

"Well, I'm on my job again today and it is a very pleasant day while being the 22 day of August. But this is the coolest August that I can witness but the Lord knows his business.

I was at the Bethel M. B. C. Sunday pastored by the Rev. L. A. Brown of Rosedale, Miss. He read 11 verses of the 19 chapter of St. Luke. His text was 9 chapter of St. John, verse 5. Subject: Jesus is the Light of the World. He preached a soul reviving sermon. Let Mattie Dear tell you one thing, I sure love good service.

We are having fine weather now. My cotton sure is opening. I guess I might start to handling some money now. I hope I will but yet I am doing fine.

My brother that I hadn't seen since the year 1904 he come to see me in 1948 and stayed two nights with my sister and I and he went off and I never heard from him until on the 21 of August I received a letter from him. He is in Seattle, Wash. I sure was glad to hear from him; only brother that I has living. Pray that we may meet again in this life. He sure was good to me when we was together. He is the fourth child.

I wrote Patricia Latane but I never did get no answer. I read all the other letters she answered. There was something I sure would like to know and I address it like they said. Here is another poem.

My loving mother,
She is gone, she ask
Us all to follow on,
She said work for
Jesus while you can
And meet me over
In the Glory Land.

LIGHT PEACH CROP

The 1950 peach crop will only be a drop in the bucket to take care of the needs of our people in Kentucky; according to Harry F. Walters, Commissioner of Agriculture. Many orchards have no peaches to ship, and very few orchards have approximately 50 percent of a normal crop. The cause of this is the result of the late spring freeze.

Miss Emma Lou Shell spent the weekend with relatives in Union City.

ALABAMA COOK TELLS HOW SHE MAKES HER FAMED SHERRY CREAM PIE

Mrs. Kenneth Coons of Tuscaloosa, Alabama, is so intensely interested in food that she started an impressive cookbook collection, now numbering 25 volumes, and her own little herb garden. But the best evidence of her skill in the arts of the kitchen is the elegant Sherry Cream Pie for which she is famous all over that southern town. Writing in McCall's for August, Katharine Best and Katharine Hillyer give you Mrs. Coon's recipe for this party favorite:

MRS. COONS'S SHERRY CREAM PIE
1 1/2 cups crisp chocolate cookies, crushed.
1 lb. butter, melted.
1 envelope unflavored gelatin.
1 cup cold milk.
3 eggs, separated.

1/2 cup sugar.
1 cup milk.
1-8 teaspoon salt.
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg.
1/2 cup sherry wine.
1/2 pt. whipping cream.

Crush the cookies on waxed paper with a rolling pin until very fine. Then mix crushed cookies with melted butter and pat the mixture firmly into a 10" glass pie plate, up over the edges, to form a pie shell. Now put the pie shell into the refrigerator for a 1-hour chilling.

Work here on you have to "work like a cyclone." First, soften gelatin in cold milk. Second, put the egg yolks in the top of a double boiler, beat slightly, then add sugar, 1 cup of milk; stir well and cook for 10 minutes or until the mixture coats a spoon. Take off the stove.

Third, add the gelatin mixture, the salt and the nutmeg to the egg custard until gelatin is dissolved. Fourth, add your Sherry wine, very slowly, stirring constantly. "If you add the sherry too fast," warns Mrs. Coons, "it might curdle." Now, and fifth, the custard filling goes into the refrigerator to thicken. When thick, beat your egg whites stiff and whip the cream firm. Then, fold or mix in the stiff egg whites gently and again gently, fold in the whipped cream.

Your pie shell by now should be lovely and firm. Take it out of the refrigerator and fill it with the chilled custard mix, sprinkling the top with grated sweet chocolate or crushed cookies. Put it back into the refrigerator for a good long 8-hour session. Then, you can serve it to your fanciest friends.

Since August, 1945...

We've Nearly Doubled the Number of Telephones

...and we're still on the run!

What an expansion of telephone facilities for five short years! The number of Southern Bell telephones in service has been increased from 1,805,980 at the end of World War II to 3,366,000 today—nearly doubled. Thus, in five years' time, we have achieved an increase in telephones as large as the increase for the first 63 years of our company's history.

And here's more of the five-year picture of progress:

RURAL TELEPHONES tripled ... from 144,721 to 434,000.

LONG DISTANCE CIRCUITS nearly doubled, going from 9,300 to 16,500.

AMOUNT OF MONEY INVESTED IN TELEPHONE FACILITIES more than doubled, advancing from $389,600,000 to $837,000,000.

SERVICE ... clearer, faster and more dependable.

The South has experienced five years of unprecedented growth ... and a tremendous upsurge in telephone demand in town and on the farm. Meeting this demand has meant constructing new buildings, installing new central office equipment and thousands of miles of wire on pole lines and in cables. For each telephone added today, these facilities are costing nearly twice as much as in 1945.

Telephone service is one of the nation's great assets in any time of emergency. Our facilities and the skill of telephone men and women were never so far advanced as they are today. Whatever communications needs may arise, they will be met to the utmost.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE PUBLIC AGAINST LIQUOR SELLERS

Gentlemen:

They are engaged in a wicked business. It is the most infamous business that is operated outside of hell. Although they may have a license under the New Deal administration and under the laws of their State to engage in the merchandise of booze, yet I remind you that under God they have no such license and under the unwritten laws of decency, purity and virtue they have no such license.

I hold no personal ill will toward them, but I shall oppose and fight the rotten traffic which they are engaged in. Some of them may be respectable citizens in the community where they live, but they are operating the most disreputable business in the world.

They may have homes of their own, but they are destroying the homes of others.

Their children may never be orphans, but they are making orphans of your children who are entitled to the same chance in life as theirs.

Their bodies may never be ravished by a disease, but they are causing multitudes of others to be shipwrecked in body and soul.

They may never be sent to an insane asylum, but they are helping to send others there who will never return to a normal life.

They may not be dope peddlers, in the commonly accepted sense of the term, but they are selling a narcotic that is as deadly as any poison ever taken into the human body.

They may not be in the kidnap racket, but I remind you that their Satanic traffic is kidnapping the souls of our boys and girls.

They may not be a criminal according to the letter of the law, but their ungodly business is making criminals by the thousands every day.

They may not be a robber according to law, but they are robbing boys of their manhood, girls of their virtue, and little children of their food, clothes, and the comfort of a good home.

They may not be murderers, but they are engaged in a business that kills, destroys and damns the souls and bodies of multitudes every year.

They may not be a reckless driver, but their deadly traffic is causing our highways to be baptized in human blood.

Their infernal traffic brings shipwrecks to lives, destruction to homes, sorrow to mothers, heartaches to wives, poverty to innocent children, confusion to the community, corruption to the state, and disgrace to civilization. It empties pantries, engenders strife, inspires crime, swells the prisons, ravages the body, and hangs crepe on the door. It is dishonorable, betraying, depraving, and degenerating. It is an enemy of virtue, modesty and chastity.

They are engaged in this evil business for the gain of a few paltry dollars, but I remind you that they are trafficking in the souls of men. The filthy lucre which will come into their hand is blood money. It is sinful, slimy and snaky.

They laugh and sneer at those who oppose their unholy business, but I remind you that pay day will come. "BE not deceived; God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap; he that soweth to the flesh, shall of the flesh reap corruption." They cannot be a party to making their fellow-men drunkards and not escape the inevitable consequences of their sin, for I remind you that God has spoken on this subject: "Woe unto the man who giveth his neighbor drink, or putteth the bottle to him, and makes him drunk also. Thou art filled with shame for glory." (Hab. 2:15, 16).

In making men drunk they are helping to enlarge hell, for God says that "No drunkard shall inherit the kingdom of God." If they are determined to go to hell anyway, why do they want to drag the souls of others with them?

Why not be honest with yourself and admit that their putrefying business is a stench on the community and a reproach on society? Why not admit that it is because of a greedy covetous heart that they have stifled their conscience, sullied their reason, and sold their soul to the devil in order to fool themselves into going into the diabolical business? Have they said Goodbye to all sense of honor, decency, virtue and respectability?

Of course, you may not like to receive this letter. You may think I have used rather strong language, but my only regret is that I cannot make it stronger.

I believe we have enough praying people and enough sensible fathers and mothers that have teen-age children on the streets that we will not allow whiskey to come back to our town or county.

Mr. Link Robinson, 519 Lindsey, is the most content and satisfied man in Newport, Ky. In fact, he says there isn't a thing in the world that can irritate or upset him now that he is on the HADACOL band wagon. If there ever was a man who thought HADACOL is the most wonderful thing in the world, it is Link Robinson, since he learned that his system lacked Vitamins B, B₁₂, Iron, and Niacin.

Here is what Mr. Robinson has to say about HADACOL, which is now supplying liberal quantities of these essential elements: "I have been a steel worker for over twenty years. When you are a steel worker, you have to do plenty of good, hard work, and you need lots of good, substantial food. But when a stomach is ir as bad a shape as mine was... I couldn't eat, I had gas pains, stomach bloating and nervousness; well, I just couldn't eat the proper foods I needed. My boss told me about HADACOL and I started taking it immediately. After the second bottle I could tell a definite improvement. Now I can eat the foods I need to eat to really be on the job. In fact, I can eat anything I want to. I am not nervous anymore, either. Best of all, I haven't got those terrific gas pains and no more stomach bloating. HADACOL is the best ever. I recommend HADACOL to everyone."

HADACOL Is Different
Countless thousands are benefiting from HADACOL... even hundreds of doctors are recommending HADACOL to their patients whose systems lack Vitamins B, B₁₂, Iron, and Niacin. HADACOL is so wonderful because HADACOL helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when Iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every organ, and every part of your body—to the heart, liver, kidneys and lungs, even to the eyes, hair and nails. Give remarkable HADACOL a chance and if you don't feel better with the first few bottles you take—you get your money back. Age and Draft To Determine Service In Armed Forces Worried whether the draft might yank the boy out of school? or whether you yourself can get a deferment?

Nobody can tell you for sure what will happen. But Selective Service officials say this is the policy, laid down partly in laws and partly in regulations:

Only persons in the 19 through 25 age group can be drafted now, although 18-year-olds must register.

If you are in the right age bracket and have a job, it's up to your local draft board to decide whether your type of work is of the kind and importance to warrant a deferment. The board is supposed to defer anyone whose employment or occupation "is found to be necessary to the maintenance of national health, safety, or interests."

Nobody is giving the board yet a definite list of jobs the government considers vital. So the board is on its own to a large extent, and it has pretty wide discretion.

The Commerce and Labor Departments have given the armed services lists of critical occupations to use as a guide in calling up members of the reserves and National Guard. But Selective Service shows little interest in such lists. After all, its job isn't to see that business has enough manpower, but that the armed services do.

Still, Selective Service might get around later on to using job lists. It had them during World War II, although only for purposes of advising draft boards.

Either you or your boss can ask for a deferment because of the nature of your job. And the board has to be convinced you can't be replaced and that putting you in uniform would mean a "material loss of effectiveness" in the activity in which you are engaged.

Suppose your boy is going to school and is eligible for the draft. He can stay in high school until he graduates, reaches his 20th birthday or fails to do satisfactory work. If the draft board thinks he's trying to flunk so he can stay in school longer, it can draft him.

A lad who gets a draft call while in college can finish out the academic year.

Or if he is taking senior R. O. T. C.—Reserve Officers Training—in his last two years, he can stay in school if he agrees to take a commission when he is through, and remain on active duty at least two years.

Or the draft board can defer him if it decides it would serve the national health, safety or interest for him to complete his course. Medical or scientific students, for instance, might get deferments.

What if the Army gets the boy before he is through college? Is the government going to finance his schooling after he gets out of service?

It did for World War II veterans. And bills are pending in Congress to extend educational and other benefits of the GI Bill of Rights to persons called into service because of the Korean war and troubled world conditions. So far the bills haven't gone far.

Perhaps the boy is a member of the reserves or National Guard and is now taking GI training as a result of service in the last war. If he is called into service again, or if he volunteers, he can come back and resume his schooling at any time before July 25, 1950.

RETURN TO SCHOOL DONOVAN ADVISES

Whether or not a young man should enroll in college during the current emergency is answered as follows by Dr. H. L. Donovan, president of the University of Kentucky:

"Any young man who has been in college and who has done successful work would be wise to re-enter; likewise, it would seem advisable for the student who has proposed to enroll in college in September to continue with his plans."

Local draft boards are authorized to defer men in college attendance for the remainder of the school year for which they are enrolled, and this would mean that any student who had not been called before the middle of September might reasonably expect deferment until the close of the school year in June, President Donovan said.

A supplementary policy, he pointed out, authorizes occupational deferment for the registrant who has completed at least one academic year of a full-time course of instruction at a college or university with a scholastic standing placing him in the upper half of his class. The local board, however, must be satisfied that he had fully intended prior to August 1 to enroll in college for the 1950-51 year.

Kentucky students who expect to attend the University of Kentucky for the first time this fall are urged to contact the Registrar's Office immediately if they have not already done so. Students are still being admitted for the fall semester, which opens September 11.

Classification tests and physical examinations for all new U. K. students will be held September 11-13, registration and classification of all students will be conducted September 14-16, and class work will begin September 18.

Dr. Donovan said it seems improbable that the current emergency will greatly affect the University's fall enrollment, particularly if policies of the Selective Service System are clearly understood by college students.

Miss Marsha McClain of Vicksburg, Miss., was the weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Blackstone and family. Miss McClain was enroute to her home from Carbondale, Ill., where she has been visiting a college friend.

PUBLIC HEALTH TOPICS

The duties of the county health unit sanitarian are many and his program changes to meet the needs of the particular county to which he is assigned. Some of his specific duties include his work in connection with adequate sewage disposal, safe water and milk supplies, rodent and insect control and the inspection of camps and swimming pools.

Generally speaking, the county sanitarian plans with officials of communities and with individuals for the solution of all problems of environmental sanitation.

In connection with his work he collects samples for laboratory investigation, such as from the public water supply, milk as sold in the country, school water supplies, etc.

Another important phase of his work in the field of environmental sanitation is that of school and public building inspection. Waste disposal, whether from individual homes or a community, constitutes an additional problem for the county sanitarian in his work of preventing disease spread by insects and rats.

Inspections of the restaurants in your town, to insure proper refrigeration and adequate dishwashing, is still another phase of the county sanitarian's job of the sanitation rating of a "A" in such a place is his report to you.

POLIO PRECAUTIONS

Q.—What about places of recreation and amusement?

A.—If such places are cleanly and properly operated, it is not recommended that they be closed during the polio period.

Q.—Should children be permitted to travel during the months when polio is prevalent?

A.—Although there is no objection to one's traveling, it appears unwise to take children from a community with few cases of polio to a community with a high rate of the disease. In addition, long trips which may cause physical exhaustion should be avoided during the polio season. When traveling, do not hesitate to consult a doctor if polio symptoms are suspected.
