I don't think I'll Risk Scan The Future With You, Don!

We must be careful that, under the guise of "national security," the powers of government are not so increased as to impair the liberties of the people. For, as the father of our country said in a famous passage, "we must be vigilant against every encroachment on our rights and liberties."

If we are not careful, we may lose our freedom in the same way that we gained it. We must never forget the lessons of history. It is a sad fact that many nations have fallen into despotism because they were afraid to be free.

As we move towards the future, we must be more cautious than ever. The world is changing rapidly, and we must be prepared for anything.

The Great Depression of the 1930s taught us a valuable lesson. We must never let a crisis become so severe that we lose our freedom.

We must remember that freedom is not just about having the right to speak our minds. It is also about the ability to work, to travel, and to live our lives as we see fit.

So let us be vigilant, and let us never take our freedom for granted. It is a precious gift, and we must do everything we can to protect it.

Frank Ford Charms Audience at University of Louisville

New laws bring new hope. We have seen our brains blown in 1938. Some have been good years that have made money. To others, years have been bad. To many, the forecasts for 1939 are not optimistic. To others, a poor year. To the lucky few, tiny has been at money. But the end of the year should bring new hope. Year; tiny have at money. But the end of the year should bring new hope.
