Large Crowds Here Saturday

A large crowd was in town Saturday and the business firms who capitalized their opportunities report good business. The stores were filled with happy shoppers taking advantage of the special bargains offered and supplied their needs for months to come. Not since the war have prices been slashed so mercifully. Fulton merchants fully realize prevailing conditions and the buying public know that this is the time to provide for the entire family.

The slashed prices are not on old shelf worn goods, but on new seasonable merchandise needed now and the rest of the winter.

Fry & Newhouse, "The All-Leather Shoe Men," are offering the greatest shoe values in the history of their exclusive shoe store. They say "it is quite a feat to make glad feet. Bring them here and you'll have ten happy toes and a pocketbook that will never squeal."

Jones & Freeman, the exclusive gents furnishings store, has cut prices as never before. They say all they want is a chance to make men and young men look their best for the holidays.

L. Kasnow, the well known bargain store of Fulton, is overstocked with new seasonable merchandise for the entire family. He says the best way to render farm relief is to cut prices. The farmer's dollar will go twice as much today as it did yesterday. Crowds are feasting at the bargain counters. Gingham and yard-wide domestic going at 5 cents the yard. When did you ever hear of such prices? Ladies' coats at half price.

The Franklin Dry Goods and Clothing Company's "Great Dissolution of Partnership Sale" started Thursday with a crowd of bargain hunters that were made happy with the unusual values and high class merchandise. Buying was reported heavy in all departments.

Other firms in Fulton are conducting sales but we haven't space to tell about them here. Just take a trip through the business section of the city and make your dollars do double duty while the making is good and don't forget to visit Irby's Fashion Shop, the exclusive ladies' store where low prices and high class garments reign supreme.

COLLECTIONS REPORTED GOOD

December was ushered in Monday with bright sunshine and heavy frost. It was the first day of the month and bill collectors were out on parade in large numbers. Notwithstanding the financial disturbance everyone in Fulton made a special effort to pay bills with a smile. Some report collections the best of any month during the year and thousands of dollars changed hands.

At the City National Bank many new accounts were opened and thousands of dollars piled in the vaults. Nothing unusual during the week seeing out-of-town people opening accounts at this bank with large deposits.

OPEN FULTON-MARTIN HIGHWAY

Union City, Tenn., Dec. 1—Paving of Highway No. 43 between Martin and Fulton, Ky., has been completed, and was officially opened to travel Sunday.

A nice pleasure trip now for Fulton motorists is a drive around the circle via Martin and Union City.

Fulton B. & L. Association Elect Officers

The annual meeting of the Fulton Building and Loan Association was largely attended by stockholders Tuesday night at the Chamber of Commerce rooms. Matters of mutual benefit were freely discussed and everyone was glad to know that this $2,000,000 institution was growing stronger every day as shown by the semi-annual statement read by the secretary. Close economy of operating expenses has created a nice surplus fund to meet any ordinary emergency.

President Franklin advised the members that the association would be glad to loan money on stock now or at any time it was desired. Just call on Secretary Fall and everything will be explained in detail so the loan can be made satisfactory without any loss of time.

As this was the time for the election of officers for the ensuing year ballots were distributed and the following directors were elected: Joe Browder, J. E. Fall, Arch Huddleston, Vodie Hardin, J. D. Davis, T. M. Franklin, W. P. Murrell, P. P. Pickering, I. H. Read.

There being no further business the meeting adjourned and the newly elected directors met and elected the following officers: T. M. Franklin, president; I. H. Read, Vice-President; J. E. Fall, Secretary; W. C. Reed, assistant secretary; Vodie Hardin, Treasurer, Frank Carr, Attorney.

Farmers Bank May Re-Open at an Early Date.

At a call meeting of the stockholders of the Farmers Bank Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock plans were discussed by the 46 stockholders present regarding the re-opening of the bank on deferred payment plan to depositors. When the plan is put into effect it will be submitted to the Banking Commissioner for approval or disapproval.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT MEETS DECEMBER 10

Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 10, Mrs. O. H. McFarlin will entertain the music department of the Woman's Club at her home with Mrs. W. A. Love as joint hostess.

The chairman, Miss Doris Huddleston, will preside over the business session. Current events will be given with the roll call. The last three programs have been devoted to Norway, pre-eminently a land of song.

Miss Mary Bell Warren will be leader of the remarkably interesting Peer Gynt Suite by Grieg. Miss Warren will give the story of Peer Gynt and the following program will be presented:

Piano—"Morning," Miss Ruth Fields.

Duet—"In the Hall of the Mountain King," Mrs. Houston and Mrs. McFarlin.

Voice—Solvejg's Song, Mrs. R. S. Williams.

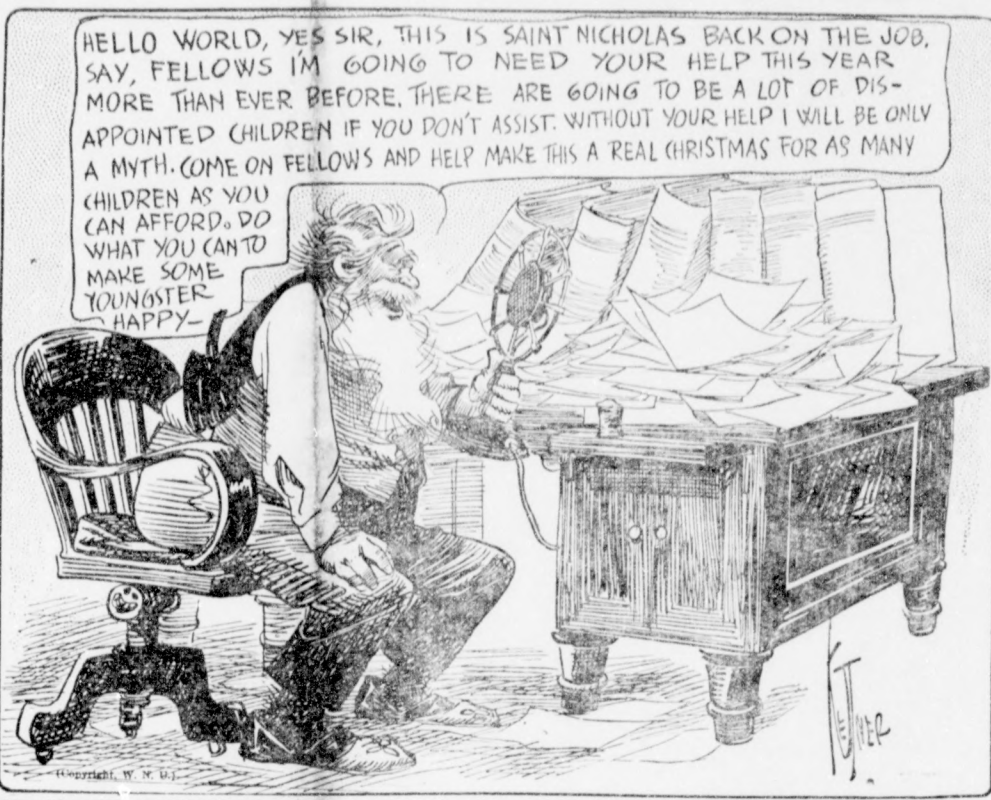

Violin—"Ase's Death," Mrs. W. A. Love.

Duet—Arabian Dance, Misses Huddleston and Butt.

Piano—The Shipwreck of Peer Gynt, Mrs. G. G. Bard.

Miss Sara Butt will serve as accompanist.

MRS. KENNETH ALVERSON ATTEMPTS SUICIDE MONDAY EVENING

Friends of Mrs. Kenneth Alverson were shocked Monday evening when it was reported that she had attempted suicide in her room at the Wiggins boarding house on Carr street by shooting herself.

She was found in her room by neighbors who heard the gun's discharge. The charge had entered the right side and shattered the hip. She was taken to the Curdin-Neill hospital where physicians operated in an effort to save her life.

As this is written her condition is reported critical.

The cause for the rash act is a mystery but may have been prompted by ill health.

Majestic Special Visits Fulton Last Wednesday

Majestic's $50,000 Radio Train arrived in Fulton at noon Wednesday and parked in front of Majestic's radio dealers, Graham Furniture Company's store on Walnut street where hundreds had the pleasure of seeing this marvelous "traveling theatre of the air." Radio fans throughout the nation had the pleasure of hearing Mrs. Charles Gregory sweetly sing several beautiful selections broadcasted from the train's studio, with Miss Doris Huddleston, accompanist at the piano.

The Majestic Special is creating a sensation wherever seen or heard. Presented through the courtesy of Grigsby-Grunow Co. of Chicago, makers of Majestic Radios and Electric Refrigerators.

Majestic Special is the World's First Broadcasting, Receiving, Reproducing Motor Train, now on an extensive Good Will tour extending the public its first invitation to attend the 1933 World's Fair in Chicago and to visit the greater Grigsby-Grunow plants that have made Chicago the radio center of the world.

This luxurious train is capable of traveling at the rate of 35 to 40 miles per hour on the open road; equipped with two 150 H.P. gas motors, synchronized transmissions and especially designed safety brakes that place the control of the entire equipment at the finger tips of the operator.

Beautiful Window Display.

The pretty window display of the Kentucky Utilities Company on Lake street is causing much comment and admiration. Without doubt it is the handsomest and most gorgeous holiday show window ever presented in our city. It was certainly conceived by an artist with a master mind for artistic arrangement and decoration, and we will add too, that every article displayed is a valuable utility to gladden the heart and make the entire household happy. You too, will be attracted and lend your admiration when seeing the display.

Brieflets

The Fulton man who tries to get all he can out of work is more likely to be successful than the one who tries to get out of work all he can.

The pat on the back that influences a man's life most is the one he got in youth with a hair brush.

Americans seem to have little trouble in keeping the commandments. Its amendments that bother them.

Fulton girls who suffer broken hearts will do well to remember that they are mended more easily than husband's socks.

Love may make the world go round but it takes a lot of money to square it.

There are many ways to keep from growing old, but one of the surest ways is to become a Chicago gangster.

Our idea of a real hypocrite is the Fulton man who says grace over a meal that his wife prepared with a can-opener.

If the motorist has both hands on the steering wheel, the woman beside him on the seat is his wife his mother or his sister.

In case you hadn't already noticed it, we're calling your attention to the fact that the stork is the only bird that has two bills.

Have you noticed that as a rule Fulton married men usually begin to shed their hair, their illusions and their buttons at the same time.

Another nice feature of a castle in the air is that you don't have to bother with taking down the screens in the fall.

Cider is like a man in one respect—the more it works the harder it kicks.

The good old days in Fulton were those when on Sunday night a man carefully folded his clothes and carefully laid them in a bureau drawer where they remained for a whole week.

Another sight we never have seen is a brow-beaten wife shedding tears of sympathy for a hen pecked husband.

The bigamist is one person who doesn't believe in the old saying that "there is safety in numbers."

The old-time Fulton horse was frisky when it was feeling its oats, but not as frisky as an automobile is when it is feeling its gas.

NO MORE HUSKINGS

Along about this time of year the memory of local residents around Fulton carries them back to the days when corn-husking bees, with the added attraction of reward for finding red ears, were among the most popular of all neighborhood pastimes in rural communities. They brought together people who came to work and others who came to play. And always a good time was had by everyone who attended them.

But corn-husking has changed along with everything else. It's a different proposition now, and the change has robbed rural communities of one of its most enjoyable social functions. While husking is still done by hand by the less independent farmers and for small crops, machine husking and shredding are the usual features of modern agricultural life. The machine husks out the ears cleanly, and throws the blades and stalks into its intervals, from whence they emerge in the form of ground food, or cut-fodder as some call it, ready for instant feeding or for storing in the silo.

Year by year machinery is taking the romance out of farm life. Anybody who has ever tried to husk corn in freezing weather with a bit of ice clinging here and there on the bundle will approve the change. He will not regret the loss of romance when he remembers his once partly frozen fingers. But the romance of the husking bee, with the kisses bestowed by rural maidens when a red ear was found—that something all the machinery in the world can't make up for.

THE FARMER'S DOLLAR

For several years the Bureau of Agriculture has been preparing statistics showing the buying power of the farmer's dollar. One set of figures shows the changes in prices the farmer receives for his products, another set shows the changes in price of the things he has to buy. The figures cover every day since 1923.

The Bureau finds that in the middle of the present year the level of prices paid by the farmers for what they bought was the lowest in seven years. The other set of figures shows that the prices he received for his products was the lowest in the same time. There was a falling off of 4 per cent in what he bought and a decrease of nine percent in what he had to sell. This means that if the farm dollar had a purchasing power of 100 cents before the war, this year's dollar, along in mid-summer, had a purchasing power of only 82 cents. A year previously it was 87 cents, and 15 months ago it was 90 cents.

It should not be difficult for anyone in Fulton to see from these figures that the farmers of the nation are coming out the little end of the horn. He can't go on forever selling low and buying high; no one can. But Uncle Sam, accustomed to solving hard problems, hasn't given up. The Bureau of Agriculture still feels there is a solution to this one, and everybody, everywhere, is silently and prayerfully hoping that it won't be long until that solution is found.

RADIO AND EGGS

We note in a poultry paper that a New Jersey man claims to have increased egg production among his flock by putting on a radio concert in his chicken houses at 3 o'clock every morning. He tried it as an experiment, and says he found that the chickens showed "increased animation and cheer." As a result he noticed an increase in his daily egg production. He told neighbors about it, and they, too, have tried the stunt with equal success. For the benefit of inquiring readers around Fulton however, we want to state that we haven't any additional information on the subject, not even the name and address of the man who originated it. If you want to try it, go right ahead as there is no patent on the idea. But first be sure of the quality of music you tune in on, for some of it that comes over the radio is enough to kill a hen instead of pepping her up to the point where she will lay an additional egg or two just to show her appreciation of the concert.

WARD McALISTER ACCIDENTALLY KILLED IN CALIFORNIA

Ward McAlister, son of Jim McAlister, of near Fulton, was reported accidentally killed Sunday morning near Quincy, Calif. The remains were shipped here for burial. The deceased was well known in this vicinity where he formerly lived and his untimely death is generally regretted by his wide circle of friends and acquaintances who sincerely sympathize with the bereaved. Besides his parents he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. John Binkley and Miss Eunice McAlister, of near Fulton.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Adams of Glenn Avenue entertained with a party Saturday in honor of their daughter, Louise, on her tenth birthday. The following guests were present: Irene Oldham of near Martin, Naomi Stem, Bonnie Ruth Moss, Mary Alice Bondurant, Rosa May Bell, Dorothy Pickle, Mary Neal Bowden, John and James Adams, Kathryn Morris, Margaret Stephens, Aline Boaz, Ruth Gambill, Neall Bizzell, Wilson Prewitt, and Audrey Heflin, all of Fulton. Games were played and delicious refreshments were served. The honoree received several nice presents, and many good wishes for future birthdays.

HICKMAN MAY GET SEA WALL
Citizens Ask For Protection Against Mississippi

Hickman, Ky.—A drive to obtain flood protection for the city of Hickman was started this week, following a mass meeting of property owners with Mayor John Pyle and the city council at the city hall. A number of property owners wished to demand damages for the floods, which inundated a part of the business section of Hickman by the building of the levees on the other side of the river, but it was pointed out to them that all such bills had failed and that the Mississippi River Flood Control Association was now working on a general bill along that line.

Mayor Pyle appointed a committee consisting of Judge W. B. Amberg, chairman of the Fulton County Levee Board; City Councilman Fred Stokes, A. Robbins, secretary of the Hickman Lions' Club; and C. P. Mabry, to take the matter up again with Congressman W. Voris Gregory and Senator A. W. Barkley, in order that a bill might be passed at the coming short session of Congress. It was pointed out that the special report on Hickman ordered by General Brown, chief of engineers, would be submitted to Washington shortly, and that this report plans a sea wall for the protection of the low parts of the city.

by Lighting Your Home—*Local Contest Rules

Only displays erected on property used for residential purposes shall be considered.

Each outdoor display must contain at least five lights, although interior decorations visible from the outside may be considered a part of the display effect.

Displays will be judged December 20. At least three judges shall be selected, consisting of men and women engaged in the professions of architect, artist, decorator, or similar professions.

Exhibits shall be judged by the following points, in order named: beauty, simplicity, and effectiveness.

State Contest Rules

All judging for state contest prizes shall be done from photographs and accompanying descriptions.

All photographs shall be taken at least one hour after sunset, and shall not be retouched in any way.

All photographs shall be black and white glossy prints, preferably 8 inches by 10 inches.

Photographs should be accompanied by a brief description, not exceeding 200 words.

Name and address of the contestant shall not appear either on the photograph or the description, but must be written clearly on a separate sheet of paper and attached.

The same basis of judging shall be used as the local contests.

Photographs of local winners must be in the hands of the commercial department of the company, Louisville, on or before January 8.

On the state prize, will be awarded, announcement of winners will be made January 10.

Decoration of your home at Christmastide—a lighted window, twinkling lights about the lawn, or soft light flooding over it to bring it into relief against a winter night—is symbolic of the happiness and peace that prevail within.

This year, an outdoor Christmas lighting contest has again been arranged, and you may enter your display or exhibit to be judged for a prize in your own town, and the winners there will then be entered in a state-wide contest.

An electrical appliance will be the prize for the contest in your community. These winners then will compete for a state-wide award of $50 in cash for first prize, $30 in cash for second prize, and $20 in cash for third prize.

The contest will begin December 20 and will close January 1. All entries must be filed at the company's local office by December 20.

Helping Santa Claus—Assistants Needed

HER children had had such a jolly Christmas. Their joy and delight had been a joy and delight to see. But that Christmas afternoon she heard of a story that saddened her. A little girl and a little boy had gathered a tree from the woods and had left it for Santa Claus to trim.

Eagerly Christmas morning they had gone down stairs to see the tree, but it was just as they had left it. Santa Claus had not come, and they had followed all the rules they had been told about cutting up the chimney to him.

Their family were both poor and lacking in imagination. Struggle and ill health had driven any lurking imagination from them.

So she went that evening, her arms laden with tree decorations and odds and ends of candles and toys and asked if she might trim the tree. The next morning the children were told that Santa Claus had not forgotten them—he had had to dash over to the next town to do so much that he had been delayed. Santa Claus needs his assistants and no job in the world is much more fun than that of being an assistant to Santa Claus—Mary Graham Bonner.

Christmas Greens

The custom of hanging evergreens in the house during the yuletide originally had a purpose beyond that of decoration. In olden days each kind of evergreen was believed to confer special blessings on those who passed beneath its boughs. To pass under holly insured good fortune throughout the year, bay meant victory, while laurel was supposed to impart a spirit of beauty and poetry.

But Once a Year

At Christmas play and make good cheer. For Christmas comes but once a year.

Cannon Ball Baker Smashes Coast to Coast Auto Speed Record by Six Hours

Following some of the trails which a century ago heard the creaking wheels of covered wagons, Cannon Ball Baker has chopped more than six hours off the transcontinental speed record. This map shows his route and elapsed time at several points. Insert shows Baker putting in anti-freeze just before his start from Manhattan Island.

Cannon Ball Baker, meteor of the automobile world and holder of more speed and endurance records than he can remember, has done it again. Using a Stutz automobile he has lowered the transcontinental speed record by hurling his car across the country in the almost unbelievable time of 60 hours and 21 minutes. The previous record was 67 hours, 8 minutes.

Baker is one of the most interesting and colorful personalities in the automobile world. For 24 years he has been living a life of thrills, with death close on his trail more than once as he roared through mud, fog, cloudbursts, desert heat, and zero weather to hang up new records. He has taken part in more than 500 motor contests on track and road, has raced across the continent 101 times, and has driven more than twenty times the distance around the world in every conceivable type of contest.

When Baker is hot on the trail of a new record, he subjects his own body to a strain commensurate with that of his machine. In his latest record-breaking run from New York to Los Angeles he snatched a total of thirty minutes sleep on the entire trip. Yet so great is his physical endurance that after a Turkish bath and three hours sleep he said he felt "fit as a fiddle."

"Lady Luck," says Baker, "is a much maligned woman. There is an element of luck in everything, but most of our failures and successes can be traced to the degree of care and forethought we exercise."

"No detail is unimportant. I exercise as much care in the choice of an anti-freeze solution for my radiator as I do in the selection of the automobile. On this trip I used a permanent one-shot solution, with the result that this was the first run across the continent in which the radiator cap was not removed."

"Yes, I've had my share of what we call tough luck, but generally it is the result of neglecting what we wrongly consider the unimportant details. In this game there isn't any such animal."

SOUND ADVICE

Taxpayers ought to think twice before denying their patronage to the railroads, cautions President L. A. Downs of the Illinois Central System in his December letter to the public.

The railroads carry a substantial part of the general tax burden, he explains. Loss of patronage impairs their ability to bear that burden. The railroads pay for their own roadways and pay taxes on them. The roadways used by other methods of transportation are provided by the taxpayers and are untaxed. Railway taxes constitute more than half the support of public schools in some communities.

The taxes of the Illinois Central System for 1929 amounted to $12,823,014, according to Mr. Downs, and were almost equal to the entire net income realized by the railroad in 1929.

To Cure "Hard Times"

Since American business started to walk back from a ten year joyride, hundreds of suggestions for smashing the depression and restoring conditions to normal have been offered. Of all we've seen, however, we believe the one offered by the editor of a Georgia weekly paper is the most logical.

He says that in all probability just as much money will be spent on the celebration of Christmas this year as ever before. But if the people of one community persist in buying their holiday goods from stores in another community, or by mail, then they are only going to prolong distress at home instead of alleviating it. By buying only such goods as are carried in local stores—and they are as nice in quality and reasonable in price here as anywhere else—the "hard times" we hear so much about can be greatly minimized. There's no need in helping another town solve its problems by taking your shopping dollars there when we have similar problems of our own.

The suggestion is an excellent one, and if carried out it is bound to bring a measure of relief from existing conditions. It doesn't mean a sacrifice either, except sacrificing the foolish belief that if something comes from a distance it is better than the same thing bought at home. Why not start in with the very first dollar you spend to carry out the suggestion, and then spend all your Christmas money here at home? Try it and see if it doesn't quickly help to better local conditions, while at the same time making your Christmas a merrier one through the knowledge that you've been loyal to your neighbors.

THIS MAN KNOWS

Roger W. Babson, noted economist, gives advertising as his prescription for business ills. Writing in a recent issue of Collier's Weekly Babson says that advertising on a larger scale than the world has ever known will prove the necessary stimulant toward economic recovery. He says:

"As one who has studied business depression in life rather than in libraries, I see in current conditions the call for advertising. There is nothing wrong with the patient but poor circulation. Money is being held instead of circulated. Advertising ideally is fitted and competent to accelerate the situation. It is the most effective known force for accomplishing the speeding up of money and thereby giving us more business at a time when more business is the nation's greatest need."

HUNTING TRAGEDIES

With the hunting season now on or about to open in every part of the country, newspapers are ready to chronicle the usual number of deaths.

The subject demands their attention in another way, too, since they are in duty bound to call attention to the dangers that beset every man and boy who goes into the field with a gun, no matter what he may expect to shoot at. Regardless of how skilled one may be in handling firearms—they are dangerous. There are certain rules that must be followed, and even then enough danger remains to make it absolutely essential that the greatest possible care be exerted. Pulling the gun through the fence with the muzzle toward you, carrying it with hammers in position for firing, shooting into underbrush or high weeds where the vision is not clear for a long distance ahead, or placing it somewhere about the house without first removing the shells—all such violations of carefulness may bring death. Ask any man around Fulton skilled in handling a gun, and he will tell you that it is impossible to be too careful. The very thing you had not reckoned in is the thing that may happen, and the thing that usually does happen when the cause of a hunting season accident is traced to its source.

Even with the utmost care there will be tragedies during the hunting season. But care will prevent more than anything else. Bear that in mind when you pick up a gun, and keep it in mind every moment the gun is in your hands. It may save you a lot of grief.

Old World Recipes

By HELEN SCHAUFLER
Domestic Science Expert

ONE of the chief secrets of the best Old World cooking lies in the care which is taken that each dish on the menu shall go well with all the others. Flavors are carefully studied. Particularly in the case of those vegetable dishes which tradition causes the housewife to serve with certain meats, the most meticulous attention is paid to obtaining those nuances of flavor that will accentuate the savor of the meat itself.

Russian Beets—(Russian)—Serve with ham. Boil eight beets until tender in one quart of water sweetened with two tablespoons of sugar. Chop, add salt, one tablespoon of butter, one teaspoon sugar, one-half cup of chopped broiled bacon or salt pork, one tablespoon vinegar and one-half cup of sour cream or milk if it is on hand. Thicken slightly with one teaspoon of flour.

Rice with Mint—(Spanish)—Serve with lamb. Boil two cups of rice in salted water until tender. Drain. Mash two tablespoons of fresh mint leaves with one tablespoon of powdered sugar. Add one teaspoon of lemon juice. Stir this into the rice with one tablespoon of melted butter. Pack in a baking dish. Brush with butter and dust with a little powdered sugar. Brown for fifteen minutes in a hot oven.

Boiled Cucumbers—(Turkish)—Serve with lamb, veal or beef. Peel and dice four medium-size cucumbers. Soak in salt water for twenty minutes. Drain and plunge into boiling salted water for fifteen minutes. Drain. Add two tablespoons melted butter, one tablespoon of sugar, one-fourth cup of vinegar and one and one-half cups of the water the cucumbers were boiled in. Bring to a boil and thicken with one tablespoon of flour. Sprinkle with chopped parsley or chives.

STEPHEN, AN EARLY INTERPRETER OF CHRISTIANITY

LESSON TEXT—Acts 6:1-7:60.
GOLDEN TEXT—And the saying pleased the whole multitude: and they chose Stephen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Ghost, and Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicolas a proselyte of Antioch.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Stephen, Jesus' Helper and Friend.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Standing Up for Jesus.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Standing Up for Christ.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Stephen's Contribution to Christianity.

I. Stephen Chosen as Deacon (Acts 6:1-5).

The early church was threatened with disruption over suspected partiality in the distribution of alms. As soon as the church had relief from external troubles, difficulties arose from within. A congregational meeting was called, the case placed before the church with instructions to select seven men of good reputation, and Spirit-filled, to administer the temporalities of the church, thus giving the apostles the necessary time for prayer and the ministry of God's word. Among the seven deacons chosen, Stephen occupied first place. The essential qualifications for the deacon's office are:

1. Integrity. They were instructed to look for men of good report, of unquestioned integrity.

2. Sagacity. They were to look for men full of wisdom, men of common sense and good judgment.

3. Spirituality. They were to be men full of the Holy Ghost.

II. Stephen Before the Council (Acts 6:9-15).

1. Disputing with Stephen (vv. 9, 10). Certain foreign speaking Jews took the lead in this controversy. Perhaps the fact that Stephen was a Greek-Jew provoked them to this action. He was more than a match for them while the debate was carried along the lines of reason and Scripture. Heaten along these lines, they had him arrested and brought before the Council.

2. Charged with blasphemy (vv. 11-14). They trumped up this charge against him and endeavored to support it by secretly finding and inducing men to perjure themselves in their testimony. Stephen showed in his preaching that God's purpose was progressive and that the policy instituted by Moses would be superseded by the new faith, since it was but the culmination of what Moses began. Christianity did not destroy Judaism but caused it to blossom forth into the glory of the new order.

3. Stephen's face transfigured (v. 15). He was so completely filled with Christ that as he saw the angry mob and realized how soon he would be violently dealt with and thus pass into the presence of the Lord, his face shone as the face of an angel.

III. Stephen's Defense (Acts 7:1-53).

In refuting their charge he showed by the history of God's dealing with the Jews that they had always resisted him. Therefore, their present attitude was because they were unwilling to move forward with the divine purpose. According to Dr. Stiller, four points emerge in this defense:

1. God's dealing with the Jews showed progress. It was not reached by a single leap, but by gradual stages.

2. The temple was not the only holy place. God appeared at different times and in different places.

3. Israel invariably opposed God in his effort to lead them on.

4. He showed his loyalty to Moses by constantly referring to him.

IV. Stephen Stoned (Acts 7:54-60). His words cut them to the heart so they gnashed upon him with their teeth.

1. Looking steadfastly into heaven (v. 55). Instead of looking upon his murderers he looked up to heaven.

2. He saw the glory of God (v. 55). A vision of God's glory is only possible to those who are loyal unto death.

3. He saw Jesus standing on the right hand of God (vv. 55, 56), showing that he was actively interested in the suffering of his faithful witness.

4. They cast him out of the city and stoned him (vv. 58, 59).

5. His prayer (v. 60). He knelt down and cried with a loud voice, "Lord, lay not this sin to their charge." How like the prayer of Jesus on the cross.

6. He fell asleep (v. 60). The Christian's death is only a sleep. This sublime scene must have vitally affected Saul who was consenting unto his death.

Faith

Faith draws out our steps . . . While the sympathy of our Lord is expressed in the briefest verse in the Bible—"Jesus wept"—that verse requires as a footnote the many pages which describe his crucifixion.—John Andrew Holmes.

The Railroads Carry Traffic—and Taxes

A Message from
L. A. Downs,
President,
Illinois Central System.

Dependable for 79 Years

Every taxpayer has a direct interest in the preservation of railway transportation.

The railroads carry a substantial part of the general tax burden. Loss of patronage impairs their ability to bear that burden.

The railroads pay for their own roadways and pay taxes on them. The roadways used by other methods of transportation are provided by the taxpayers and are untaxed.

In some communities railway taxes constitute more than half the support of public schools. In some others there are abandoned railway lines which cannot be taxed.

Taxpayers ought to think twice before denying their patronage to the railroads. Choosing transportation is equivalent to voting on taxes.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

L. A. Downs

Chicago, December 1, 1930.

THE ILLINOIS CENTRAL SYSTEM

The taxes of the Illinois Central System for 1929 amounted to $12,823,014. This was almost equal to the entire net income that was realized in 1929.

... SUCCESSFUL HOMEMAKING

By GRACE VIALL GRAY

Pre-Leavened Flour Takes Guess-Work Out of Muffin Baking

Quick breads, of which muffins are a type, have an important place in our meals since they act as an emergency bread and are enjoyed by our families for their freshness and variety in flavor and texture.

Success with muffins as with all other quick breads depends largely upon the kind and amount of leavening agent used and the method of baking. Accurate measurement and good material are necessary, with close attention to oven temperature.

To be wholesome, quick breads must be thoroughly baked and free from all heaviness. Inasmuch as muffins depend for their success upon the kind and amount of leavening agent used, that should be of utmost importance to us in their making. And we can have good muffins every time we make them if we use self-rising flour in making them.

Self-rising flour is pre-leavened flour. That is, it is flour to which the baking powder and salt have been added in the proper proportions. This combining of the main ingredients of muffins makes baking simple and easy for us. A chemist, highly trained and experienced, does all the actual hard work for us. All that we have to do is to add the egg or eggs, the milk and the fat and then we have our muffin batter.

Not only has the chemist done this accurate, difficult task for us by combining the flour and leavening in correct proportions, but under his direction the self-rising flour has been sifted and mixed together by machinery for 15 minutes, which means that we have our principal ingredients, flour, baking powder and salt, sifted for us as we could never sift them ourselves. Because of this we get finer grain muffins.

I find it best to have a standard muffin recipe which can be used as a base for variations. If we master one good muffin recipe then we can make an endless variety of muffins. Such a basic recipe is as follows:

2 cups self-rising flour
1 cup milk
2 eggs
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup shortening

Sift and measure the flour. Add eggs, milk, melted and cooled shortening. Beat vigorously. Pour batter into well-greased muffin tins, half filling them, and bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) 18 to 20 minutes. This recipe makes 14 muffins.

Now, you can take this foundation recipe and make blueberry or date muffins, poppy seed, chocolate or coconut muffins. And then there are cereal muffins, nut muffins, and french muffins, and I suggest you try some of the following delicious muffins:

Date or Raisin Muffins.

Use basic recipe with but three-fourths cupful of milk. Flour two-thirds cup chopped and pitted dates or raisins and add to batter. If you like a sweeter date muffin add one-fourth cupful more sugar. For variety one-half cupful finely chopped citron and candied cherries may be used instead of the dates or raisins.

Coconut Muffins.

Use basic recipe, omit shortening and add one-half cupful shredded coconut. These are best baked in tiny greased muffin tins so that you have about 24 small ones.

Jam Muffins.

Use basic recipe and stir in four tablespoons raspberry jam, strawberry jam or any other desired jam.

Poppy Seed Muffins.

Use basic recipe and sprinkle poppy seeds over the top.

Lon Binford Passes Away.

Funeral services for Lon Binford were held Thursday afternoon at Winstead and Jones' funeral home on Second street, conducted by the Rev. C. H. Warren pastor of the First Baptist church interment followed in Palestine cemetery.

After a lingering illness Mr. Binford passed away Tuesday evening, Dec. 2, at the home of his sister, Mrs. Hattie Fields, on Second street, where every care that loving hands and skilled physicians could administer to prolong life was rendered.

The deceased was born and reared in this vicinity, near Mount Carmel Baptist church. He was the son of Robert and Sarah Binford, two of Kentucky's most prominent and beloved people. He professed faith early in life and united with the Baptist church and lived close to its teaching to the end.

His passing has brought sorrow to a wide circle of friends who sincerely sympathize with the bereaved.

He is survived by three brothers, Chas. Binford, P. R. Binford and Earl Binford, and two sisters, Mrs. Hattie Fields and Miss Inez Binford.

The Charm of a Salad Depends On Its Dress

By JOSEPHINE B. GIBSON
Director, Home Economics Dept.,
H. J. Heinz Company

SALADS, once regarded as mere accessories to the menu, at last have come into their own. Charming in appearance, delicious and absolutely essential to the diet, salads now are one of the main courses on the family table.

Most of our delightful salad dressings are variations of a famous three: (1) French Dressing—which is especially suitable to serve with greens and fresh vegetables or fruits; (2) Mayonnaise Dressing—for more substantial luncheon salads of eggs, meat or fish; and (3) Cooked Salad Dressing—for those who do not care particularly for the dressings containing salad oil.

The ways in which these main types of dressing may be varied are almost numberless. Merely by adding one or more simple ingredients to the foundation, one may obtain a dressing suited to any particular type of salad or individual taste. Of course, the quality of the ingredients used is of the utmost importance. And more especially, since their real purpose is to bring out the rather neutral flavor of the salad greens.

Remember this when preparing salad dressings from this list of principal types, with their several variants:

FRENCH DRESSING:

1 teaspoon salt; 1/2 teaspoon sugar; 1 drop onion juice; 5 tablespoons Pure Vinegar; 1/4 cup Spanish Olive Oil.

Put the salt, sugar, paprika, onion juice, Vinegar and Olive Oil in a jar. Cover closely and shake the dressing thoroughly. It is then ready for use. Always shake well just before using.

Variations of French Dressing

Chiffonade Dressing: 2 tablespoons parsley; chopped onion; 1 hard cooked beet, well drained.

Ketchup Dressing: Add 1/4 cup Tomato Ketchup to the foundation recipe, and mix thoroughly.

Parisian Dressing: 2 tablespoons salt; 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper; 1 tablespoon chopped celery; 1/2 tablespoon chopped onion; 1/2 tablespoon chopped parsley.

Mix thoroughly, and add to foundation recipe.

MAYONNAISE SALAD DRESSING

1/2 teaspoon Prepared Mustard; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 1/4 teaspoon pepper; 1/4 teaspoon paprika; 1 egg yolk; 2 tablespoons Pure Vinegar; 1 cup Pure Olive Oil.

Mix the mustard, salt, pepper and paprika. Add egg yolk and mix well, then add 1 tablespoon Vinegar. Add the oil gradually, beating constantly with an egg beater or silver fork. As the mixture thickens, add remainder of Vinegar.

Variations of Mayonnaise Dressing

Russian Dressing: Add to foundation dressing, or a jar Mayonnaise Salad Dressing, 1/3 cup Chili Sauce. Serve over head lettuce salad, hard cooked eggs, meat or fish salads.

Thousand Island Dressing: 1/3 cup Chili Sauce; 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper; 2 tablespoons Stuffed Olives, chopped; 1 chopped, hard cooked egg.

Mix and add to foundation dressing, or a jar Mayonnaise Salad Dressing.

Different Dressing: 1 chopped hard

1/2 cup salt; 1/2 cup sugar; 1/2 cup vinegar; 1/2 cup oil; 1/2 cup milk; 1/2 cup Pure Vinegar.

Mix mustard, salt, sugar, flour and paprika together. Then add well beaten egg and mix until smooth. Add milk and vinegar and cook over hot water until thick, stirring constantly. Remove from fire, add butter and cool.

Variations of Cooked Salad Dressing

Whipped Cream Dressing: Fold 1/4 cup sweetened whipped cream into the foundation dressing.

Savory Dressing: Add 1/4 cup India Relish to the foundation dressing. This is excellent to serve with meat or fish salads.
