THE LISTENING POST

● notice with a lot of interest that Henry McLeMore, well known columnist, advances a plan which would solve all national problems, win the present war, cure all unemployment and labor troubles, and in short, bring about a more happy condition in the world that prevails at present. Mr. McLeMore's plan is quite simple, involves little or no cost, and would please a number of persons immensely. As to whether it would work—well, that remains to be seen after it is tried.

● Mr. McLeMore, after noting that President Roosevelt is now taking a vacation on the high seas, proposes that all columnists of the United States be notified to report at the White House at once if not sooner. While the President is away these columnists will run the nation and take whatever steps are necessary for the abolishment of Hitler, provide all needed sinews of war for Mr. Churchill, and in general do the various things which need to be done at this time.

● McLeMore says he knows that columnists can do this job without any trouble, for they are, always doing it in the various newspapers which peddle their wares. Citing as a personal experience his own work, Mr. McLeMore says that he pushes the President around at least three days a week. "I get up in the morning feeling fresh and unfettered," he writes. "I shave and then eat breakfast and read a newspaper at the same time. While reading of something that the President has done or has not done, I at once have a brilliant idea about the proper manner in which to handle this problem. I do not give the matter a great deal of thought, for my idea comes to me full blown and life size. I just know it will work. I also have a column to turn out that day and my idea at once appeals to me as something on which to hang a column."

● "So, just after breakfast, while everything seems quite rosy and my idea seems a brilliant affair, I sit down at a typewriter and dash it off. It doesn't require a great deal of effort and I confess that I do not give the matter a great deal of thought. Naturally I think of my idea from only one angle, and it never occurs to me that in putting my plan across the President might run afoul of something else which would be worse than allowing the problem to remain unsolved or unattended to. No, I just go ahead and wham out the column, knowing I will be through for the day when the thing is written, and the newspapers carry my idea far and wide within the next few hours."

● "Or, say I am simply peevish some morning. Perhaps I have taken on too many drinks the night before, or eaten unwisely, and feel quite rotten. On such mornings I am always out of sorts and it is then that I take pleasure in pushing the President around. Or maybe just some of his assistants. No matter what it is, if I think of it, I think it a brilliant idea and know it will make a column, and so there it goes, if we can get all the columnists in the White House I know we can get the job done."

● And while Mr. McLeMore is about this little job, may I suggest that he include among his guests all the military and naval experts who daily tell us that certain things are not as they seem, and that instead of winning so many victories, Herr Hitler is in reality being whipped to death on every front. I believe the experts have given out more misinformation in this war than in any other war in history.

● If we can get all the columnists to suggest the plans and all the experts to tell us how they are developing, we will really get somewhere.

Final Action Likely Today On Draft Bill

Senate Expected To Act Swiftly On House Change

Washington. — Leaders of the Senate non-intervention group conceded Wednesday that there was little they could do to prevent final Senate approval of the Army Extension Bill, and Democratic Leader Barkley, of Kentucky, predicted it would be sent to the White House Thursday.

The measure was passed by the House Tuesday night by the single-vote margin of 203 to 202, and will go back to the Senate Thursday for consideration of minor House amendments.

Barkley said that the House amendments had not materially changed the previously-approved Senate measure, which would continue for eighteen months the service periods of selectees reservists, National Guardsmen and enlisted men. It also would grant $10-a-month pay increases to all those serving more than one year.

Senator Taft (R., Ohio), a leader of the Senate fight against the extension measure, told reporters after a meeting of opponents of the measure that, while his group would like to refuse to concur in the House amendments, and thus give the chamber another chance to vote, there appeared to be no way to do it.

Another member of the group, Senator La Follette (Prog., Wis.), asserted: "The consensus of the meeting was that there is nothing we can do to prevent final Congressional action Thursday."

CARD OF THANKS
We wish through this method to express our deep and sincere appreciation to the many who were so kind to us during recent days. It is in times of trouble that friendship becomes doubly dear and we really felt the deep friendship of the entire community. May the peace which passes human understanding be with one and all.

MYERS ACTING GOVERNOR FOR SEVENTH TIME

Frankfort, Ky., —Rodes K. Myers was Acting Governor of Kentucky Wednesday for the seventh time since he became Lieutenant Governor in 1939.

He found two requests for pardons on Governor Johnson's desk shortly after coming here from Bowling Green, where he is an attorney, but said he would not act on either. Later he drove to Versailles to have lunch with United States Senator A. B. Chandler at the latter's home.

Bumper 1941 Grain Crops Indicate Large Reserves Of Food Supplies

Washington. —Agriculture Department officials said Tuesday this year's bumper crop of wheat assured the nation of enough supplies to last until the 1943 harvest even if next year's crop should be unusually short.

Likewise, prospects for fair crops of corn and oats and unusually large crops of barley and grain sorghums indicated that feed grains would total nearly 103,000,000 tons, an increase of 4 per cent above last year's larger-than-average production.

Administration farm leaders have been striving to build up food reserves which President Roosevelt said may be needed "to meet emergencies which can as yet be only dimly foreseen."

In a letter to Secretary Wickard, dated July 25, but made public Tuesday, the President declared that in this time of crisis "food is a weapon against Hitlerism just as much as munitions, and food will continue to be a weapon in all efforts toward insuring a more orderly, prosperous and peaceful world."

Mary Ethel Lansden Wins Beauty Contest

Will Represent Fulton At Annual Black Patch Tobacco Festival At Princeton

Miss Mary Ethel Lansden, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Lansden, was the winner in the beauty contest held last night at the Fulton Theatre and will represent Fulton at the annual Black Patch Tobacco Festival at Princeton on August 28-29-30.

Ten of Fulton's fairest participated in the contest, which was sponsored by the Lions club to choose a representative to the Black Patch. Judges in the contest were Fred Stokes, E. Dobson and W. A. Johnson, all of Hickman.

Miss Lansden, a pretty brunette, is a senior at Fulton high school. She is a talented musician and has several compositions to her credit. The judges based their decision last night on the following points: 50 pct. physical beauty; 25 pct. personality; 25 pct. stage appearance.

Miss Jane Dallas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Dallas, ranked second in the contest.

Miss Lansden wore a model of white crepe with a shoulder corsage of red roses. Miss Dallas also wore white.

Bill Browning acted as master of ceremonies and the following girls participated in the beauty contest: Misses Marilyn Shankle, Grace Cavender, Betty Sue Houston, Marie Ferguson, Nell Bizzie, Mildred Mount, Jean Brown and Martha Neil Houston.

Proceeds from the beauty contest will go to the Lions charity fund.

Hiring To Start At Early Date On Balloon Center Project

Paris, Tenn., —Offices of the Rock City Strider Construction Company have been opened in Barrage Balloon Quartermasters Headquarters at the Barton Home here with Project Manager J. W. N. Lee in charge.

Mr. Lee said Tuesday that employment offices for work on the Barrage Balloon Center would be opened in the city this week.

The project will open with employment of a limited number of men the first few weeks, finally reaching a maximum of 7000 men.

Mr. Lee gave assurance that every local worthy man would be considered for employment. He pointed out, however, that employment would be made on the basis of merit and ability alone and that any man discharged for inefficiency would not be rehired.

"We must protect the Government and taxpayers against the expense of hiring and rehiring, which is a most costly process, Mr.

Lee said. "An iron-clad rule will be enforced that men once fired for inefficiency in a higher position will not be hired in a lower one. In other words, workers can and will be encouraged to work up to higher positions, but they cannot work down."

The Barton Home, once palatial residence of the late Col. O. C. Barton, is now a scene of much activity. The lower floor of the building is occupied by various offices of the Quartermaster Corps, the Capt. Albert H. Well, constructing quartermaster, in charge.

Rock City Strider also has offices on the lower floor. The upper floor is occupied by the R. H. Hunt Company, architect-engineer.

Start of work depends on the time required by engineers and architects to complete their plans, but it is thought that some construction work should get under way within the next two or three weeks.

IF DEFENSE PROGRAM HALF WAY IN 1942, PROGRESS ASSURED

Will Hit Peak Of Production By July, 1942

New York. —Director General William S. Knudsen of the Office of Production Management predicted today that, if the nation's defense program hit the half-way mark by January 1, 1942, "we should hit peak production by July and after that America can write its own ticket on war material."

"And this ticket, as far as I am concerned, will be twice what anybody else's ticket is," Knudsen added.

Greater speed in subcontracting defense orders will be required to accomplish the objective, he asserted, in an address prepared for delivery before the New York Division of Commerce Production Clinic.

"All we need is the will to get this job done and we have one great advantage nobody is going to bomb us much while we are doing it. I think it is too late for that. All we need is to get together and stop bickering over procedure."

GASOLINE RATIONING THREATENED UNLESS USE IS REDUCED

Sales Show Increase on Eastern Seaboard After Blackout

New York. —Dr. John W. Frey, director of marketing in the Office of Petroleum Coordination for national defense, said today that the nation would have gasoline rationing "if the consuming public forces it on the national government."

Dr. Frey told a meeting of petroleum company representatives that the government wanted a voluntary reduction in consumption, because that was the democratic way, but added that "I would not be telling the truth if I say we have not been exploring the possibility of rationing."

He said that reports from eastern seaboard states since gasoline stations started closing from 7 p. m. to 7 a. m. showed sales had increased more than the normal seasonal increase.

Mrs. Taliaferro Dies In Florida

Noted Musician Is Well Known In Fulton; Is Cousin Of Mrs. M. P. McDowell

Funeral services for Mrs. E. E. Taliaferro, who died as the result of an automobile accident Saturday in Florida, were held at 10 o'clock Tuesday in Jackson.

News of the death of Mrs. Taliaferro came as a great shock to Jackson and West Tennessee where she had long been a leader in musical circles. Possessed of a beautiful voice, Mrs. Taliaferro was generous in her use of it to bring joy to her hearers. In recent years she has been responsible for the training of a number of men and women who give promise of attaining prominence in the world of music.

Mrs. Taliaferro, who is a cousin of Mrs. M. P. McDowell of this city, is well known here and several Fulton women have studied voice under her. At various times she has brought her glee clubs here for programs. Her glee club gave a recital at the First Baptist church here about two years ago.

NEGRO WORRIED BY PENDING EXECUTION TO APPEAL CONVICTION

Record of Case Will Be Sent to Frankfort At Once

Frankfort, Ky., —James Clayton Satterfield, Louisville negro who wrote the state Court of Appeals from the Eddyville penitentiary recently that "I'm supposed to die Aug. 22 and it's got me a little worried," is going to appeal his murder conviction.

Jackson Morris, Louisville attorney for Satterfield, informed Appellate Court Clerk Charles K. O'Connell today that Jefferson Circuit Court had granted the appeal and a record of the case would be sent here, as required, before the scheduled execution date.

O'Connell said that after the record was received, the execution would be stayed automatically until the Court of Appeals acted on Satterfield's case.

He had no details of the crime of which Satterfield was convicted.

Japanese Paper Asserts America And England Handed Warning

Britain and the United States have been warned — that further pressure on Japan would "bring nothing but the worst situation," the militarist newspaper Kokumin reported Tuesday in declaring Japanese determination to proceed peacefully but undeterred in the creation of a broader sphere in East Asia.

This warning, the paper observed, had been especially pointed to Washington, where it was hoped there would be a calm approach to Pacific questions, despite what was termed London's "frantic efforts to cause friction between the United States and Japan."

These alleged efforts to disturb the Pacific peace were the desperate action, said Kokumin, of a power which for two years had been on the verge of defeat by Germany.

Officially, Japan's attentions were turned with avowed anxiety toward U. S. shipments of war supplies to the Russian Pacific port of Vladivostok.

Federal Debt Towers Above 50 Billion Mark

Washington. —Piling up the rate of $277.50 a second, the federal debt towered above the $50,000,000,000 mark today, a figure almost double the $26,596,701,848 peak reached in World War days.

Treasury officials said that since the new fiscal year began July 1, the debt had increased about $1,040,000,000. It has not, however, kept pace with defense expenditures which aggregated $1,400,000,000 during that six-week period.

On the basis of an estimated population of 132,633,000 the present debt amounts to $376.97 per person.

The principal factor in the rising debt has been the sale of defense savings bonds, which netted about $480,000,000 in the six weeks. Another $255,000,000 came from the sale of tax anticipation notes. Although these securities are destined to be turned back to the Treasury in payment of taxes, they are regular debt securities and will be replaced by other forms of debt before they are cashed in.

Issuance of the $1,040,000,000 of new securities entailed the printing and distribution of bonds and notes which statisticians said, would cover 2,560 acres of land.

The rapid rise of new debt in the last six weeks was said to be just the beginning of a trend. In this fiscal year, alone borrowing to meet the deficit caused by the defense program may top $10,000,000,000.

The present debt limit of $65,000,000,000 may be crowded in the next year. Some officials have predicted that before the present emergency ends, the debt may reach $100,000,000,000.

REVIVAL STARTS AT UNION CHURCH

A revival meeting will begin at Union Cumberland Presbyterian church on Sunday, August 17, with the Rev. H. C. Walton of Jackson, Tenn., assisting Rev. Hubert Covington in conducting services. Many preparations have been made for the revival and at the request of the pastor, weekly and mid-week prayer meetings have been held at the church for the past few weeks. Rev. Covington has sent out special letters to all church members and many friends, asking them to pray, attend, bring friends, be led by God in worship, talk and pray with the lost and support the revival with time and talents.

You are cordially invited to attend the services which will probably close on Friday night, August 22.

"Japan wishes that the United States would not send munitions," said Koh Ichi, spokesman for the Cabinet Information Bureau.

"Japan desires peace in the Pacific, and so Japan is watching such shipments with grave concern."

Eye Vladivostok With Alarm

In Shanghai, Lieut. Col. Kunio Akiyama, spokesman for the Japanese army, said plainly that his government feared Vladivostok might become "America's first line of defense against Japan."

There were, he added, three serious considerations for Tokyo: That American supplies might never go to Western Russia, particularly in view of the fact that the Trans-Siberian Railroad was "practically closed."

That such supplies might eventually go instead to Chungking, the capital of Nationalist China, which the United States "already considers her first line of defense and is assisting with credits, arms and munitions."

Editorial

FIRMNESS IS REQUIRED

At Kearney, New Jersey, work has been in progress on building two cruisers, six destroyers, three tankers and numerous smaller craft. All told the company there has contracts for almost half a billion dollars' worth of ships that are badly and urgently needed in the defense program of this country. It is vital that the planned two-ocean Navy be finished in record time, for all signs point to the urgent need of this development at the earliest possible moment. In a matter of days it may be possible that we will be involved in war in both Eastern and Western oceans and ships are the only things which will save us from defeat.

In the face of these known facts, a strike has stopped work in these shipyards. The C. I. O. has made certain demands and a more or less spineless Defense Mediation Board has asked the employers to yield to the demands. The employers agreed to the demands for higher pay, but refused to yield to certain other C. I. O. demands which, the employers claim, would result in workers being utterly helpless under union pressure. The employer also says that if these demands are met it will result in similar strikes in all other ship building yards on the East Coast. It must be remembered that the workers in the Kearney yards had already accepted "no-strike clause" in their agreement made some time ago. Despite all this despite the urgency of the need for ships and more ships, these workmen are now out on strike involving, not working condition, hours or pay, but some trifling matter of union authority, and all work has been suspended on these vitally needed ships. 200,000 man hours are being lost daily; many ships are being needlessly delayed, and the owner of the shipyards has finally asked the Federal government to take over the entire business and operate it in such manner as may seem expedient. In no other way, the owner says, can the contracts be filled and the ships be finished.

The only thing which the strikers insist on is a matter of breaking down the East Coast tradition of an open shop. Right now, when our entire national life is in danger, those C. I. O. men and officials are willing to further intensify this danger merely to win a point for organized labor. All those things could be discussed fully and fairly while the men work; refusal to work in this manner comes dangerously near treason and disloyalty to the Nation which gives these men the greatest opportunity any nation gives any workmen.

It seems, too, that the Government is rather slow to take action. In all its essentials, this Kearney case is quite similar to the case where the Army took over a great plane plant in the West and put it back into operation. Some details may vary to some extent, but in the main it represents a challenge to organized government in this country and such challenges should not be permitted to go without swift and certain action.

WILL SOMEONE LISTEN?

(From The Atlanta Constitution)
If Walter McDonald sticks—as he usually does—to that job he has just picked for himself, his name is certain to be enrolled among those other great benefactors of a grateful South.

The diligent chairman of the Georgia Public Service Commission, who is also president of the Southern Association of Railroad and Utilities Commissioners and executive secretary of the Southern Governors' Conference, has some notable influence to wield in gaining a hearing for his argument that the Federal Government could save itself "millions of dollars" on the costs of defense in demanding for its own necessary economy those equalized freight rates the South has been seeking for years.

Southerners living near railroad tracks have noticed, since the start of the defense program, the amazing increase of freight traffic. Trains are speeding back and forth across the South day and night. Millions of tons of freight are being hauled to the Army centers and to the camps, to the seaports, to the boom towns that are sprouting in all the busy areas.

All these freight movements are costing the millions of dollars to a Government that is scratching its head and biting its fingernails while it works night and day trying to raise the money to pay the bills.

That harassed Government certainly ought to be interested in Walter McDonald's emphasis of the fact that bombers made in Tulsa, Okla., are costing $375 each more than they would if the South and West enjoyed the same freight rates as that favored section north of the Ohio River and east of the Mississippi. These excessive costs, in 1939 alone, amounted to a total of $160,000,000, a figure that could have meant a great many more airplanes to be added to this Nation's defense efforts.

In excited times, such as these, when every effort is centered in a mad speeding of production and little thought given to wise management, Chairman McDonald may find it difficult to gain a hearing from our defense leaders. He, however, has the will and the calm logic that would impress an audience if he were to gain one. He also has the drive and the influence to gain the necessary audience. We hope he proves successful in this creditable effort. He may be the means of solving one of the most harassing problems the South has been struggling to overcome for years. This is a good time to strike.

GRASS INTO SILAGE CONSERVES STORAGE

Putting legume hays and grasses into silo is insurance against loss in curing and also conserves storage space; it is pointed out in a new circular of the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics called "Grass Silage." In wet seasons often as much as 50 percent of the value of the hay is lost in an effort to get it cured.

MAN LEAVES ONLY $5 TO 'PRO-NAZI' WIFE

Detroit, —Clarence May, World War veteran who charged his wife with being a "devoted Nazi follower," today bequeathed only $15 of an $8,500 estate to his family.

The will left $5 each to Mrs. Elly May and her two children. The balance was bequeathed to May's sister, Mary Shultz, Rochester, N. Y.

The Mays were married in Berlin in 1933 after a brief postal romance. In 1939 he filed suit for divorce.

Fritz Haller, former German consul, represented Mrs. May at the probate hearing and declared she was entitled to a dower share of the estate.

Errors Are Costly As Union City Wins Rubber Game Of Series 3-1

Julian Burgess was in magnificent form last night in Union City and held the Hounds to five hits, while his mates were nicking Al Sommerer for double that number. Two costly errors, one by Burgess himself, gave the Hounds three runs and that proved the margin of victory, for the Tigers were unable to hit with men aboard and lost 3 to 1 in a tight and nerve-racking game. Not a run was earned by either team, as the lone Tiger tally came as the result of a two base throw by Bankhead, Hound shortstop. The victory gave the Hounds the rubber game of the series and made it harder for the Tigers to claw their way into a first division berth. Further efforts in this direction will be started tonight when Hopkinsville opens a three game series at Fairfield. Two out of three from the Hoppers might take the Tigers somewhere.

The Tigers took a lead in the third inning last night, when Joe Reese scored from second when Bankhead threw a ball into right field. The Hounds took the lead in the fifth when Burgess nicked a batter in the ribs and then Hawking singled on the hit and run play. The runners moved to second and third on a sacrifice, but Burgess whiffed Sommerer to make it two outs. Bankhead then drove a grounder to Derrick and the shortstop made a wild throw to Burgess, the ball going far into the shadows near the bleachers. Bankhead took third while the two runners scored, but Burgess got the next man without trouble. In the next frame Burgess threw away an easily hit ball, and later wild pitched the runner in with two men gone.

The Tigers were threatening all the way, but three double plays turned them back, and they seemed unable to fathom Sommerer with men on the runways. They were hitting the ball hard, but Hounds seemed to be waiting at the right spot every time. Eight men were left on bases during the game, two in the final inning. In this inning Vico finally found his batting eye and clouted a double to left. Ivy followed with a hit, but Burgess fouled to third base for the final out.
