FULTON, KY., FRIDAY, JANUARY 19, 1940.

NUMBER FIFTY-TWO

MINISTERIAL ASSN. MET WEDNESDAY

The regular monthly meeting of the Fulton Ministerial Association, in the minister's study of the First Methodist Church, was featured by a splendid discussion on "The Order of Church Services," led by the president of the association, the Rev. Woodrow Fuller, minister of the First Baptist church. It was decided to hold the next meeting the first Wednesday morning of February at the Methodist church study, when Dr. Don P. Hawkins, Christian church minister, will present a paper on "What the Christian Church has contributed to American democracy." Other papers on what various other churches have contributed to democracy in this country will be discussed by the various ministers of the city at future meetings of the association. At the meeting Wednesday morning the following members were present: Rev. Mr. Fuller, president; Rev. E. R. Ladd of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, vice president; Dr. Don P. Hawkins, secretary; Rev. W. H. Saxon, treasurer; Rev. Mr. Jarrett, pastor of the Nazarene church and Rev. J. H. Felts, retired Methodist minister, who was unanimously elected as honorary member of the group.

Plans for revivals in the Baptist and Methodist churches were talked over. Rev. Saxon reported that a Fulton Youth Union had been organized and asked for united support in the movement. Vacation Bible schools in the Methodist and Baptist churches to be held when the public school terms close, were also announced.

South Fulton Defeated In Double-Header

The South Fulton Angels and Red Devils invaded the Palmersville gym Tuesday night. The Angels were defeated 26 to 19, and the Red Devils were defeated 30 to 16.

The Angels started off in slow motion and the Palmersville girls tramped them with Pentecost and Brann scoring 16 points by the first half. At the half Ray and Pounds begin doing double duty as guards while Reed and Redmon gained speed over the center and the Angels, Hagler and Hastings scored 15 points together. But Tyson and Price recovered too many plays from the Angels and Pentecost and Brann scored 10 more in the last half.

The Red Devils and Tigers stormed the first quarter, then the Red Devils begin slowing up and the Tigers gained with Pettit and McClain playing an excellent game. House and Faulkner were on defense, but couldn't seem to gain enough speed to intercept the excellent passing of the Tigers. They already were 15 to 1 in the lead at the half.

Frankum was high point man for the Red Devils scoring 10 points and aided by McKinney scoring 4. McClain and McWhorter played the best with Frazier on offense playing a fine floor game.

MARCH OF DIMES CAMPAIGN STARTS HERE JANUARY 20

A "March of Dimes" in which Fulton county will join with the rest of the United States to mobilize millions of silver coins in the fight against infantile paralysis will start January 20, it was announced this week by J. C. Lawson, county chairman of the Committee for the Celebration of the President's Birthday.

This part of the Campaign will include the sale of buttons at the usual price of ten cents to almost everyone. (School children may obtain buttons by contributing anything from one cent up.)

The March of Dimes buttons this year are in the form of metal lapel tabs bearing a reproduction of a coin similar to a dime on a red-white and blue shield.

More than twenty million buttons were used in the campaign last year, and the number doubtless will be increased this year.

Half of all funds raised will be held in or returned to the county where the money originates for use by a local chapter. The other half goes to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The March of Dimes supplements other means of raising funds.

County Chairman J. C. Lawson, stated that he had appointed J. M. Calvin, Superintendent of the Hickman Schools as Chairman for Hickman, and J. O. Lewis, Superintendent of the Fulton Schools, as local chairman for the city of Fulton.

LEAP YEAR SEASON NOW ON IN FULTON

The open season for leap year is on in this vicinity. Widowers, bachelors, and other unattached men travel in the Fulton vicinity at their own risk. Every bush, tree or pole in this section may provide a hiding place for some enthusiastic leap year hunter. If you're tagged it will be too late to run, as during leap year the male of the species has a little less to say in regard to such things as in other years. Happy hunting!

KENTUCKY TO BE MADE TOURIST SPOT

Assuming the initiative in a campaign to sell Kentucky's scenic beauty and historic lore to the Nation's tourists, directors of the Kentucky Junior Chamber of Commerce announced January 15 they will submit a plan for a national publicity campaign to Gov. Keen Johnson.

The action was taken at a meeting of representatives of the Kentucky Junior Chamber of Commerce in Louisville, January 13, which also resulted in the approval of a proposed aviation legislative program and the formulation of plans for the extension of the Kentucky Junior Chamber.

E. Skiles Jones, Louisville, president, will immediately petition Governor Johnson for a date on which the Junior Chamber of Commerce may present its proposed publicity drive for his approval, and appointed a committee of fifteen to wait upon the Chief Executive.

Members of the committee are, Mr. Jones, Barry Bingham, Elbert G. Samuel, Louisville; Harold W. Bodinson, Ashland; Howard F. Ziegler, Campbell County; Howard Beeson, Covington; James Ewing, Henderson; John O. Hardin, Hopkinsville; Garvice D. Kincaid and Angus W. McDonald, Lexington; N. S. McGaw and E. L. Claytor, Madisonville; Byron Cull, Owenton, and Jack Rottgering and Joe W. Little, of Paducah.

While Mr. Jones did not divulge details it was believed State aid for the project would be sought in the event it is approved by Governor Johnson.

The State organization voted to finance a section in the magazine, "Future", publication of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce, which will appeal to tourists.

The directors also voted to endorse the proposed legislative program of the Aero Club of Kentucky, which would provide for the creation of a State Bureau of Aeronautics, after hearing a report by Clifford N. Goff, Ashland, chairman of the Aviation Committee of the Junior Chamber.

The bill would pave the way for the State to take advantage of Federal funds for improvement of airports and also contemplates a diversion of tax money derived from the sale of gasoline to plane operators into channels for airports improvements and other functions of the proposed Bureau of Aeronautics.

Mr. Goff declared a survey completed by his committee revealed Kentucky as forty-fifth among the States in the matter of aviation and airports with Bowman Field the State's only major port and but nineteen inadequately equipped emergency landing fields.

The aviation program adopted by the directors includes promotion of model airplane contests; an

WAS IT WORTH IT?

According to a story for which we won't vouch, a successful candidate for sheriff's office in a well known county in the northwest submitted the following itemized list of campaign "expenditures."

Lost 1349 hours of sleep thinking about the election. Lost two front teeth and a lot of hair in a personal encounter with an opponent. Donated one beef, four goats and five sheep to county barbecues. Gave away two pairs of suspenders, four calico dresses, $5 in cash and 15 baby rattles.

Kissed 126 babies. Put up four stoves. Kindled four fires. Shook hands with 9303 people. Walked 4967 miles. Told 10,101 lies and talked enough to make in print 1000 volumes.

Attended 16 revivals and was baptized four times by immersion and twice by other ways. Contributed $50 to foreign missions and made love to nine widows—five grass and four sod.

Hugged 40 old maids. Got dog bit 39 times and was elected by 353 majority.

Corn Acreage Allotment

Fulton County corn acreage allotment for 1940 has been established at 21,423 acres. C. M. Hornsby, chairman of the county committee of the Fulton County Agricultural Conservation Association, announces.

This county allotment will be divided among eligible corn producers by the county committee, with the assistance of community committees. Acreage allotments are being established for commercial corn growers throughout the corn belt, which includes eleven other counties of Kentucky—Henderson,

Ballard, Carlisle, Crittenden, Daviess, Hancock, Hickman, Livingston, McLean, Union and Webster. Corn growers throughout the United States will be asked to reduce their 1940 acreages by approximately 12 per cent. Mr. Hornsby said, to bring the total national acreage within the national goal. The national corn allotment for 1939 was 41,256,000 acres, as compared to the 1940 allotment of 36,638,000 acres.

To compensate for this reduction the 1940 diversion payment for farmers participating in the Agricultural Conservation Program will be increased to 10 cents a bushel on the normal production of the allotted acreage. In addition, a 1940 parity price adjustment payment will be announced later.

Last year the diversion payment under the Agricultural Conservation Program was nine cents a bushel and the parity payment was six cents.

Good times for farmers mean more business for city folks.

For every $100 rise in farm income there's been a $75 rise in rural retail sales.

1940 is a good year to strive not only for quantity production of higher yields of crops but for better quality production also.

THE FORUM

By J. PAUL BUSHART, Editor

A column conducted for news, views and comments, in which readers of The News are invited to participate. Mail contributions care of THE FORUM, this newspaper.

Since this is the time of the year that most of the taxes are paid and citizens of the county are thinking along that line, I am taking this opportunity to make an explanation of a condition that seems to be causing some comment among taxpayers.

Some seem to wonder why the extra ten cent tax for school purposes. Some ask if it is for transportation. It is not a special tax for transportation, yet it is an added tax and transportation is largely the cause of the ten cent raise.

Buses are like individually owned cars, they are expensive. They have come into use and seem likely to remain. And like cars, we realize that they are expensive, yet we are not willing to do without them and probably we should not.

It costs about $3,800 each year to furnish transportation for the children of Fulton county. This is an added expense, which we did not have until transportation was started and one that has to be met if we continue to give the advantages to the pupils of the county that we are now endeavoring to give.

Fulton County is the only county in West Kentucky that does not have the maximum tax levy which is 75 cents for a county district. 74 counties in Kentucky have a 75 cent tax rate and only the counties of the wealthier sections of the state do not have the maximum levy.

It is not the will of the members of the Board of Education to place the School taxes any higher than is necessary. But owing to the added cost of transportation the Board has been unable, with the past rate of 55 cents to meet the cost of operating the School therefore it raised the taxes 10 cents which now makes the levy 65 cents on each $100 worth of property.

J. C. Lawson, Supt.
Fulton County Schools

Much important legislation will come before the Kentucky Legislature this term. E. J. Stahr, of Hickman, named Congressman in the last election, and Harry Lee Waterfield of Clinton, re-elected as Representative of the First District, are now filling their respective offices at Frankfort.

Henry Ward of Paducah, who has been waging a fight for several drastic changes in county governmental affairs, will endeavor to get over some of his pet ideas. Ward would have the jailer's office consolidated with that of sheriff. I suppose there would have to be a trustee to take care of taxes and financial records. So far as I can see there might be some advantages to such a change, but very little. Especially if a trustee's office would have to be created. As our counties now operate much money is saved on fees which could not be saved if one man was both sheriff and jailer.

For a number of years I lived in Tennessee, where the sheriff's and jailer's office is one and the same, and a trustee takes care of the records and tax collecting. Personally, I believe we have a better set-up in Kentucky, with the sheriff and jailer plan. There might be more merit in Ward's proposal than has been made clear to me, but our legislators should weigh it well.

The small business man—who incidentally provides a living for more families than any other group in the nation—is being gouged and pushed closer to the brink of destruction every day. It is he who is the backbone of every city, town and hamlet throughout the nation. He labors on day after day, in his own particular community, supporting its churches, schools and other institutions, and his voice is seldom heard outside his own realm. He is interested in the welfare of the people at home—not abroad or at some distant point. If anything goes against the grain with the "big fellows" they

"Four Wives" Starts Sunday At Fulton

"Four Wives," sequel to last year's "Four Daughters," will have its local debut Sunday at the Fulton Theatre. "Four Wives," in which Priscilla, Rosemary and Lola Lane and Gale Page play the title roles, features the same cast as "Four Daughters," including John Garfield, who died in the original story. He returns in vision form in the new picture.

Others in the original family portrait who are prominent in "Four Wives," are Jeffrey Lynn, Claude Rains, May Robson, Frank McHugh, Dick Foran and Vera Lewis, the gossip "gate-swingers" of "Four Daughters."

There's a new and very delightful addition to the family, too. Eddie Albert, the young comedy star of "Brother Rat" plays the young doctor for whom Rosemary Lane successfully sets her wedding bonnet in the film. Rosemary, you will remember, is the only one of the four daughters who didn't "get her man" in the earlier picture. Also added to the cast is Henry O'Neill in the role of Albert's father.

Still other additions to the family tree are four girl babies. First of these to make her appearance in the film is the year-old child which is adopted by Lola Lane and Frank McHugh in the story. Then Priscilla gives birth to a girl baby, and Lola caps that by having twins.

"Four Wives" takes up the story of the Lemp family where "Four Daughters" left off. The two oldest daughters are already married, Priscilla, the youngest, widowed in the earlier film, is about to marry her first love, played by Jeffrey Lynn, when she learns that she's to have a baby by her dead husband. The fourth girl, Rosemary, puts on a matrimonial campaign, as mentioned above, with the help of all her sisters.

Suggested by the Fannie Hurst novel, "Sister Act," the script was written by Maurice Hanline, Phillip G. and Julius J. Epstein. Michael Curtiz directed.
