RICHMOND HEADS RED CROSS DRIVE FOR WAR FUNDS

Public Meeting Is Called Feb. 13 In County Courthouse

Dr. James H. Richmond, president of Murray State College, has been named chairman of the War Drive for the Red Cross of Calloway county, it was announced here today.

A meeting of all Red Cross workers and persons interested in the war program has been scheduled for Saturday afternoon, February 13, at 2 o'clock in the courthouse, Dr. Richmond said today.

Mrs. B. Melugin, executive secretary of the Calloway County Red Cross, said the drive would probably start about March 1. There will be only one drive this year, she explained, and the Roll Call will be combined with the War Fund Drive this year. W. Z. Carter is county chairman.

At the meeting on February 13, complete plans will be formulated including the naming of committees, establishing the goal, and setting the dates for the inauguration and completion of the drive. Under the chairmanship of Dr. Richmond, the Roll Call Drive last year went over the top, ranking among the best drives in the nation.

College Shield To Be Complete, Despite War

Prof. A. F. Yancey, Shield sponsor, stated that the college yearbook would be as large as ever though the present war restrictions and the reduced enrollment made the job more difficult. He also stated that this year's Shield would probably represent a more complete cross section of the campus life at Murray State than any other edition.

Carl Cohen, editor-in-chief of the Shield, stated that he was well pleased with the results of the staff's efforts so far. He said that he wished to thank the student body for the fine cooperation they had given concerning the pictures. Without this cooperation it would have been almost impossible for the Shield to be published he added.

All materials will be in, except some basketball results, by February 2. Some space will be saved for these results.

Bob Nagel, business manager of the Shield, said that although all of the advertising was not in, there would be as much advertising space as before.

The same design will be used on the front of the Shield, with the standard Shield predominating, though the embossing will be different.

Rickman Returns To Murray Campus

James Rickman, a graduate of Murray State in June, 1942, with a bachelor of music degree, has returned to Murray as a pre-medical student.

"Jimmy", who majored in violin and minored in piano and English, said that he had been planning to study medicine for a long time. He got started last summer working at the Kentucky Ordnance Works all day and attending Paducah Junior College at night.

At present, Mr. Rickman attends school here during the week and returns to Paducah on week-ends to give music lessons and direct the Christian Church choir. He is enlisted in the U. S. Naval Air Corps Reserve and plans to study medicine until he is called.

Fenton Instructs Naval Cadets in Art of Signaling

Harry Fenton, senior from Murray, has been selected by the Naval and school administration to instruct Naval cadets in the art of signaling by means of blinker, semaphore, and code. Over 150 cadets receive this instruction daily.

Fenton began July of last year teaching the Civilian Pilot Training classes and besides his present duties of instructing Naval cadets he is president of the Physics Club and photographer for the Shield and the College News.

Versatility Plus -- That's Billy Lipford

• If You Don't Believe
It, Just Look at This Four Year Record . . .

Yes, versatility plus will typify Billy Lipford, Murray, about as well as any other expression. This student has been active at Murray State College for the past four years and has placed many feathers in his hat of accomplishment.

His latest achievement came upon his application for a degree at the end of the fall quarter. He was then named principal of New Concord High—which is starting at the top of the teaching profession for a small high school.

During his four years at Murray State, Mr. Lipford has earned four varsity debate letters, has been a cheer leader, member of the boxing squad, president of the International Relations Club, and president of Tau Kappa Alpha, national honorary forensic fraternity.

He was a member of the squad representing Murray State College in the Southern Student Congress at Birmingham, Ala., in the spring of 1941, and was pictured with this delegation in the Birmingham Post for helping sponsor outstanding bills which were passed by the Murray group.

As a member of the Murray debate squads, Mr. Lipford has been on teams winning first place in two Murray Mid-Winter debate tournaments, second in the Union University Invitational Tournament, and second in the Manchester College meet which is the largest in the world.

In 1942, Mr. Lipford was one of the representatives of Murray State College at the Ohio Valley Conference of International Relations Clubs at Kent, Ohio. Last year he was assistant business manager on the Shield.

Mr. Lipford was graduated in December with a double major in chemistry and mathematics. When asked about his major interests, he stated, "I like to work math problems, answer chemistry questions, boxing, swimming, basketball, and reading."

Although not listed with the campus beauties at Murray State—Mr. Lipford has been a prominent figure in scholastic activities none the less. Perhaps he is best known for his endeavors with the vociferous vocal volcanses of the debate squad. But for better or for worse he's always in there pitching. Here's more power to him as he sits behind the principal's desk and directs the activities of New Concord High.

OFFICERS, CADETS ARE GUESTS OF FRAT AT DANCE

Phi Mu Alpha Has Hop for Navy in Carr Health Hall

The 250 cadets and officers stationed at Murray were the guests of Phi Mu Alpha, music fraternity, Saturday night, January 23, at a dance held in their honor at the Carr Health Building.

Murray hospitality was extended to the officers and men of the Naval Training Unit when Phi Mu Alpha was host to the Unit for three hours Saturday night at a dance from 8 until 11. Officials of the fraternity estimated that over 200 cadets attended the dance, making it one of the most successful held this year.

Len Foster and his orchestra, the official college dance orchestra, played for the cadets, featuring "Anchors Aweigh" for the "lead-out".

Plans have been made by Naval and school officials to have several more dances for the cadets in the near future.

Lieut. W. O. Baskin, Jr. Directs Physical Training

By Jack Anderson

One of the busiest men on the Murray College campus these days is Lieut. W. O. Baskin, Jr., head of the physical training program for the Murray Naval Flight Preparatory School. It is his job to see the 250 cadets enrolled in the school are physically fit and they must be fit when they fly Uncle Sam's bombers and fighters later on.

This genial southerner who talks with a slow drawl is more than qualified for the position he now holds in the United States Navy.

Lieut. Baskin attended Auburn University, graduating in 1927, where he was a star end on the football team and the ace of the track squad. During his collegiate days he held numerous high hurdle records. But graduation did not end the athletic career of the lieutenant.

In 1928 he was named line coach at Auburn and assistant track coach. He remained at his alma mater through 1930, serving his last year under Chet Wynne, former University of Kentucky football coach.

The following year he moved over to the University of Georgia in the same capacity in which he served at Auburn. He remained there for seven years and during that time he developed one of the most brilliant track stars in American history, Forrest "Spec" Townes, present holder of nearly all of the high hurdle records. Townes played a big part in Uncle Sam's victory in the 1936 Olympic games held at Berlin, Germany. Another track star tutored by Lieut. Baskin was Bobby Packard, a sprinter of great renown.

Coaches "Bruiser" Kinard

The University of Mississippi recognized the genius of Lieut. Baskin and in 1938 lured him away from Georgia. Here he also coached the track team and was a line coach in football. While at "Ole Miss" he coached one of the greatest linemen ever to come out of Dixie, "Bruiser" Kinard, now "Bruiser" plays for the Brooklyn Dodgers in the National Professional Football League and

NAVAL OFFICERS ARE GUESTS AT CHAPEL PROGRAM

*Mutual Support
Pledged By Wiley
And Richmond*

"We are standing by to do everything possible that we can for this school, faculty and its student body," stated Lieut. Charles L. Wiley, skipper of the U. S. Murray, when he and his three associates were introduced by Dr. James H. Richmond in chapel, Wednesday, January 20.

Lieut. Wiley further stated that from now on he wanted to call the members of the faculty and the students on this campus "mates," a word that means more in the Navy than even a friend, buddy, or a pal. The cost for sending each man through the Naval training to get his wings of gold was approximately $52,000 which is nothing compared with the sacrifice that they make for their country, the commanding officer stated.

Another to be introduced by Dr. Richmond was Lieut. W. O. Baskin, a southern athletic coach and former star athlete. Lieut. Baskin said they were here to build up the cadets mentally, spiritually and physically. He also stressed the necessity for a well-rounded physical education program to prepare the boys for the strenuous activities in which they will later engage.

Next to be introduced was Lieut. Baskin.

Just Simple Daydreaming

By VIRGINIA HONCHELL

How's your pet daydream? Still hoping that it will come true some day?

There are lots of factors to consider when one starts thinking seriously about a daydream coming true? Did you float through that economics or trig class on a fluffy pink cloud of fantasy? Or did you take off those rose-colored glasses during class and study periods long enough to come down to reality and face the facts, no color added? If you did, you probably put it over to yourself that the daydream, itself, was only a light shedding its glow on a "dry" textbook, full of technicalities, and on your everyday life with all its possibilities. Perhaps you were reminded that these very books and classes with which you come in contact every day are the WAY, themselves, to the attainment of that ideal. Did you remember that the American youth has a CHANCE to make his dreams come true, so long as dreams do not become his master?

Keep that cherished daydream just far enough ahead to make you run after it, because it's there. And LET the world shout after you, "It is futile."

School Spirit at Murray State

By KENNY KEANE

Hackneyed but always timely is an editorial on school spirit. But—as everyone knows—we have a game with Western here on February 17, and of all the times in the year when school spirit should be at its peak, that is it!

We all know what a great team the Hill-toppers have, but they're not unbeatable, especially by a team as great as we have right here on our own campus. The fact that they beat us on their floor is no sign that they will beat us here. In fact, I personally think we'll give them the most uncomfortable time they have had in many a moon.

For the Western game, to get that real thoroughbred spirit, we should have the students sit together as much as possible; have the band down there to play, and for one evening, if not for the rest of the season, have each student go down to the health building believing that we are going to win that game. And for one evening have faith in five boys who we know will play their hearts out to win that game.

"A Comely Fashion"

By MITTIE LAWRENCE BOMAR

Laughter is one mark of civilization and a civilizing agent. Beasts, however lively they may be, do not laugh, and neither do those persons whose sense of enjoyment is lost in their lives. The person who laughs is the one who feels so at home in his world that he can become amused and not irritated at his mistakes. He who laughs conceals no weapons; he has no axe to grind with you. He is the one whose life offers hope for the world.

It should be understood that laughter is no infantile giggle nor the sneer of ridicule. It can almost never be faked. One cannot pretend to laugh and be successful in relaxing the tension or brightening a hardship.

The days are almost upon us when laughter will become less and less, while the frown of anxiety and despair will grow more and more. The world is indeed under the glare of belligerency, and no one would counsel light-heartedness and complacency. Fortunately, though, man is a human being able to laugh at himself if he wishes. Can we not see how amusing we are in our over-seriousness, in our small complaints—and laugh?

Let us not neglect to share our laughter with our associates, for happiness unshared is not true happiness; it contains little flavor.

"Take joy home

And make a place in thy great heart for her,
For it is a comely fashion to be glad."—Inglelow.

Putnam Enjoys Working With Naval Cadets

"These boys have a very good attitude and are perfect gentlemen," said Prof. Loren Putnam when he spoke of the Navy boys whom he is teaching.

Professor Putnam is teaching physics and will soon be teaching navigation. He says he enjoys the work with these boys more than any other position he has had as a teacher.

Son of Prof. and Mrs. Leslie R. Putnam, he was a student of Murray College. After he received his bachelor's degree at Murray he obtained his master's at Ohio State.

In Trigg County, Ky., he taught two years; in Illinois he taught one year; in Bowling Green, Ky., he taught three years; and he did research work at Ohio State for two years.

PIANO-FLUTE RECITAL GIVEN IN AUDITORIUM

Miss Mary Virginia Gore, pianist, Paducah, and Miss Douglas Mitchell, flutist, Washington, D. C., presented a joint recital in the Murray State College auditorium Tuesday night, January 26, at 8:15 p.m. Miss Jeanne Nall, Martin, Tenn., accompanied Miss Mitchell.

Miss Gore opened the program by singing Choral—Prelude—"Komm, süsser Tod," by Bach-Kelberne; and Caprice in A Minor, by Mendelssohn.

Miss Mitchell then played Flute Concerto No. 2 in D Major (K314) by Mozart.

The third group, played by Miss Gore, was Nocturne in F Major, op. 15, No. 1, by Chopin; Waltz in A Flat Major, op. 69, No. 1, Chopin; and Polonaise in C Sharp Minor, op. 26, No. 1, by Chopin.

The next number was Esquise l'Espagne by Samazeuilh, played by Miss Mitchell. Miss Gore's last group consisted of Bohemian Dance (Polka) op. 29, by Friml; La Comparsa by Lecuona; and Seville by Albeniz.

The program was concluded by Miss Mitchell with Syrinx by Debussy; and In a Great Hurry (Steeplechase) by van Leeuwen.

Miss Gore, a senior, is a piano major, and Miss Mitchell, also a senior, is majoring in flute.

Cold Weather Causes Flooded Basement in Murray Auditorium

As a direct result of the cold weather, the basement of the auditorium was flooded Tuesday morning, January 19.

According to a workman on the new fine arts building a valve in one of the practice rooms was burst by the ice which liberated a large amount of water when the ice thawed. The water was cut off as soon as possible and a new valve inserted. By this time the floors of the practice rooms, the club room of Sock and Buskin, and Prof. Howard Swayers' room were covered with water, in some places as much as three inches deep.

After much work by Sock and Buskin members and others most of the water was disposed of. Damage was done to costumes and other equipment belonging to the club.

Cadets To Murray College

Murray College, encompassed in the hills; Birthplace of radio, mother of great men; Gratefully and reverently each heart fills As in humble words our gratitude we pen.

Your sacrifice we cannot comprehend, But, in silent speculation, know it great. The very barracks which we now attend Were surrendered in a hurried state.

Wide and welcoming on every street The Church doors outward swing by friendly hands. Our Christian brothers there we may greet; Symbols of strength on which our nation stands.

Rudely from your slumber you awake To the cadence of a score or two of men. But this is war, and we must live and take Lest in your streets, you hear the battle's din.

So, we're thankful to Great Old Murray That's all we now can do or say. But we'll never forget Old Murray Where our anchors drop and weigh.

Beside the empty used car mart
The village smithy stands;
The smith is mighty glad of heart
For business still expands.

The busy forge he engineers
Is like his heart—aglow;
This man has waited 50 years
To say "I told you so."

He hears a motor and its noise
Comes to him from afar.
It passes and he says, "Look, boys,
It IS a motor car."

Then once again his sledge he swings
And says as he well may:
"I knew when I first saw them things
They wasn't here to stay."

"Who you shovin'?" demanded the boy who was being pushed around on the steps of the ex-girls' dorm just before dinner.

"Don't know. What's your name?" came the stealthy reply.

After eventually getting into the dining hall, we saw a freshman drag out a string and tie it around an olive. Just through curiosity we asked him about it.

"How do I know I will like it?" he calmly and conscientiously retailed.

They Dropped Anchor Here . . . They'll Drop Bombs on Tokyo

Yes . . . we're glad to have the pre-flight candidates here for their training. These same fellows, who are just starting their naval aviation courses, will be the ones featured in future attacks on Rome, Berlin, and Tokyo. Here's a salute to them and a welcome to Murray State.

Military Information . . . Please

With several Murray students joining the reserves each month, it might be well to recall what happened while a group of prospective naval reservists were being examined in Louisville last summer.

Said the recruiting officer to a new recruit:

"What's your religion?"

Recruit (promptly and smartly): "Militia, sir."

Recruiting officer: "No, not I said religion."

Recruit: "Oh, religion, sir. I beg your pardon. I'm a plumber."

She: "I'm Suzette, Oriental dancer."

He: "Shake!"

Freshman girl: "Elmer, do you think my eyes are beautiful?"

Elmer: "Uh huh."

Fresh co-ed: "And do you think my hair is the prettiest you've ever seen?"

Elmer: "Uh huh."

Co-ed: "Do you think I have a perfect figure?"

Elmer: "Uh huh."

Co-ed: "Do you think my lips are like rubies?"

Elmer: "Certainly."

Elmer: "Yes."

Kappa Delta Pi Hears Student From Mexico

Miss Irene de la Lata, transfer student from Mexico City, discussed the educational system of her native country at the January meeting of Kappa Delta Pi, national honorary society in education. The fraternity met Monday evening, January 18, at the home of Mrs. G. C. Ashcraft on Miller Avenue.

President Hugh McElrath, Murray senior, had charge of the business session.

Misses Louise Gentry and Jeanne Nall were chosen to represent the fraternity in the "Old-Fashioned Spelling Bee" scheduled for chapel, Wednesday, January 27. After the names of those eligible for membership were presented and approved, the president appointed a committee to make plans for the annual initiation banquet.

Miss Evelyn Linn, instructor in mathematics and sponsor of the society, presented Miss de la Lata who spoke on "The Educational System of Mexico." The speaker stressed the present necessity of a more sympathetic understanding being built between the United States and Mexico through the educational systems of both countries.

After a period of general discussion, the hostess assisted by Mrs. G. T. Hicks, served a party plate to the 21 members and visitors present.

Murray Student Spells All 10 Words—Termed Most Difficult List

In the California Oakland Tribune the following statement was made: "Not one in ten thousand can spell all ten of the following words: ecstasy, hypocrisy, lequy, privilege, supersede, exultate, indispensable, irrelevant, rarely, and sacrilegious."

Albert Shemwell, Benton, Ky., is one in ten thousand as he spelled all of these words without an error.

Prof. G. A. Murphy stated that he has given this list of words to hundreds of Murray State College students, but not until this quarter has he found one who could spell all of them. Prior to this quarter, however, there have been three students who have spelled nine out of ten of these words. These students were: Virginia Honchell, Barlow; Doris Beane, Madisonville; and Ruth Bolin, Memphis, Tenn.

Pig Money Buys Bond for Training School Student

By Helen Gordon

Did you ever think of buying bonds with 'pig' money? That is just what John Richardson, fourth grade Training School student who transferred from Garden City, Kan., did.

It seems that all it took for John to get a start was to have a race for a pig. In Kansas, the home of this young fourth grade student, there was a race with the object to catch a pig. The pig was given about 30 feet head start, the whistle was sounded, and the chase was on. That pig surely could run! Because he ran around a ball park into mud puddles, and hit an irrigation ditch, John hit the ditch, too. He ran into it and tripped on a tree root, fell on the pig and neither of them could get up. John won the pig for the prize of catching it.

A friend kept the pig and from the first litter John got seven pigs. He sold his first pig for $90, and then bought a registered gilt for $47. His share from the gift was six.

When the Richardsons decided to move to Murray, John's grand-dad consented to keep the pigs for him. Not very long ago, he sold the gilt and some of the pigs. John has cleared approximately $137 from his pigs and he is really using his money in a way that is indeed commendable for one so young.

He has bought a $50 bond for himself and a $25 one for his little sister's birthday.

Faculty Flights Will Be Presented On April 10

Featured Performers To Return to Stage

The 1943 edition of "Faculty Flights" will be presented in the college auditorium Saturday evening, April 10, instead of the date formerly announced, members of the committee revealed today.

The heroes and heroines of the Murray State College faculty will again display their talents that have so long been overlooked by Hollywood scouts. Last year it was Prof. A. F. "Villain" Yancey who had the audience biting their nails and gnashing their teeth in an old-fashioned melodrama of the "Gay Nineties," entitled "Fireman, Save My Child."

But that's past history now—and the same faculty members will be back again on the night of April 10 with another session designed to "roll 'em in the aisles." Members of the "Faculty Flights" committee have whispered that Prof. C. B. "Hero" McGovern, of 1942 dramatic fame, will again have a leading role. The heroine of last year's program, Mrs. C. S. Lowry is again slated for a major role. All this—and then some. Among the favorites who will again be featured will probably be Prof. and Mrs. A. C. LaFollette, Dean Ella Welthing, Miss Ruth Ashmonville, and Ruth Bolin, Memphis, Tenn.

Last year over $100 was obtained through the presentation of "Faculty Flights" and this year's goal has been set at $150.

Three Murray State College students were named for scholarships during the present scholastic year. Miss Dorothy Eberhardt, senior from Owensboro, received the scholarship for the fall quarter; Miss Louise Gentry, senior from Paducah, was given this award for the winter session; and Miss Virginia Sullivan, senior from Hickmore, Dr. Max Carman, Miss Emilyn Wilson, Mrs. Mary Ed Hall, and

Coach Scales Says Colts Are Potentially Strong Team

Boys Are Young And Inexperienced But Are Improving

"It isn't the best high school basketball team I've ever seen, but it shows potentialities of becoming one of the best before many seasons are past." This was the appraisal given the Murray Training School Colts by their coach, Ed Scales.

Since Christmas the Colts lost to Benton 41-9 and to Faxon 38-16. However, these teams represent two of the strongest in Marshall and Calloway Counties.

The Colts this year are young and inexperienced, the first five averaging only 16 years of age. At the guard positions are Vernon Griffin and Allen Russell, two 15-year-old boys. Despite their age and inexperience, these boys are beginning to handle the ball like veterans. At the center, Scales has his only big boy, Max Turnbow, a freshman standing 6' 2" and weighing 185. His coach calls him the best prospect he has seen this year.

Filling the forward positions are Captain Joe Windsor and "Stub" Wilson. Windsor is the only experienced member of the squad, and will be the only player lost to Scales next year. Wilson is a junior, but is just beginning to hit his stride and is expected to be a mainstay next year. Forwards will be the only problem next year, but several freshmen are showing great promise of being ready for a good season by that time.

"Of course," said Scales, "I'll lose Wilson next year, but I'll need something to worry about then anyway."

At the time of this interview, the Colts were pointing to their invasion of Louisville to play St. Xavier and Manual on January 29 and 30.

"We don't figure to beat them but believe we'll give them everything we've got," Coach Scales declared.

The Scalesmen have shown their greatest scoring punch this season in games against St. Mary's (of Paducah) and New Concord. In the St. Mary's game they scored 14 points in 3 minutes. This feat was surpassed only by a 15-point spurge in four minutes against the then undefeated New Concord quintet. Only inexperience kept the Colts from winning these two games, the coach stated.

In conclusion, Scales added, "We'll need good luck to show well on our trips, but if I can get the boys to explode for longer than three or four minutes, our opponents will need more than good luck."

We are still looking for the man who has made a big success by working just eight hours a day.

Breds Come From Behind To Top Invincibles

'RED' STARS

The Murray Thoroughbreds once more displayed a powerful "stretch kick" here Friday night, January 22, as they came from behind to chalk up a 56-44 win over the highly rated 36th Armored Regiment "Invincibles" from Camp Campbell, Ky., formerly of Ft. Knox.

The game started out as a close contest and not until after ten minutes of play had elapsed did the Invincibles begin to move to the front. Murray drew first blood when Padgett creased the net from the side. Though immediately tied it up with a crisp shot. The lead saw-sawed back and forth until the score read 8-8. Then Bernie Opper, former University of Kentucky All-American, slipped by for a crisp shot and a few moments later Bill Goodwin, ex-St. John's ace, did likewise, and the soldiers were leading 12-8.

Leonard "Red" Metcalfe, Murray forward, put the 'Breds back within range by firing one through from far out. Opper then sank a long one and Metcalfe cashed in on a charity toss to make it 14-11. The Camp Campbell quintet in front.

From that point, the invincibles turned on the heat to leave the Thoroughbreds far in the rear. Goodwin made a crisp and then a free throw to make the count 17-11 and then added another long. Opper hit a crisp, Lacy followed suit, and Opper repeated his performance to give the Invincibles a 25-11 lead. This finished the Army firework for the present and the Racers began to show their smoke.

Metcalfe thrilled the huge throng that packed the gym with his amazing long shots that dropped through the net without touching the hoop. At halftime the 'Breds had cut the Army's lead to 26-21 and the spectators seemed to sense a Murray victory.

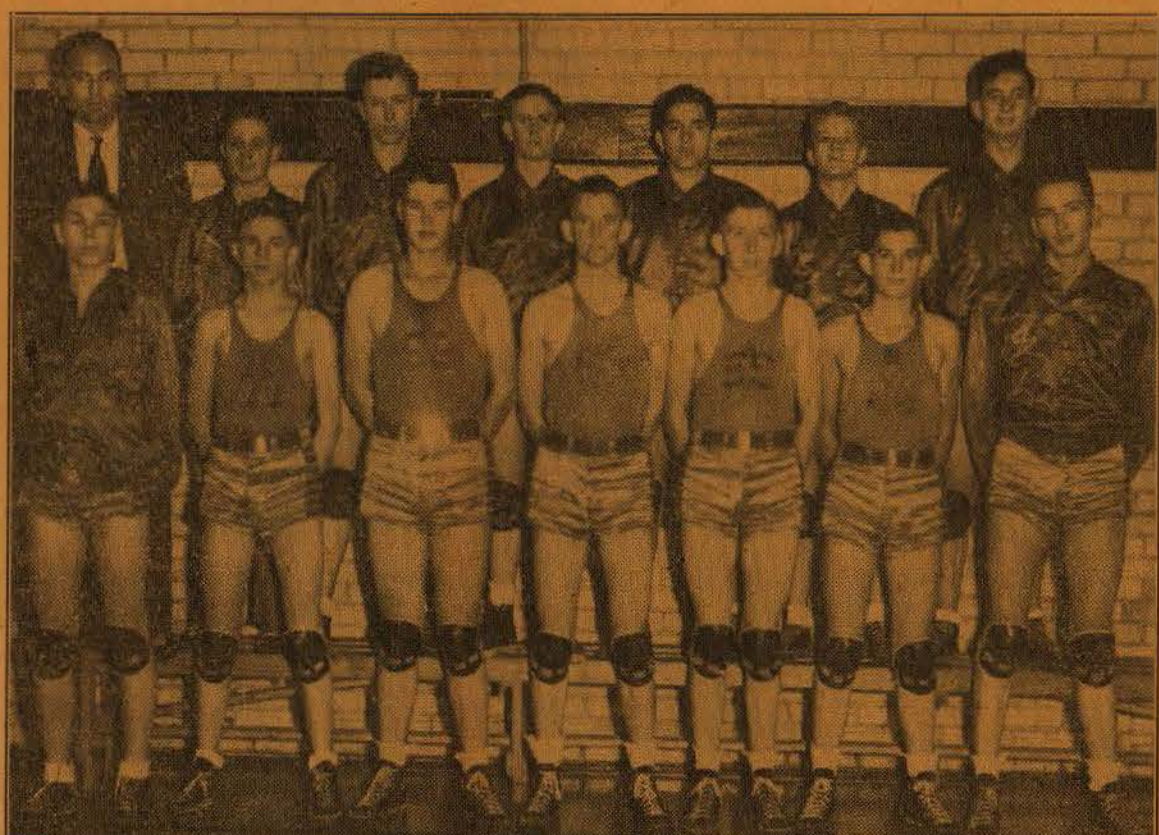

Fulks Is Ace
"Jumpin' Joe" Fulks, Murray ace, was the sparkplug of the Murray victory drive in the second half as he scored 15 of his 18 points in the final frame.

After two and one-half minutes of the second half had rolled by, Fulks dropped in a wheel shot to send the 'Breds into a 28-27 lead, which they never relinquished during the remainder of the game.

All of the regulars on the Murray squad, Captain Grimmer, Metcalfe, Fulks, Padgett and Hurley contributed to the scoring barrage in the last half. The Racers, all hitting with a great deal of accuracy, gradually increased their margin and were coasting at the finish. Padgett played his best game of the year.

The Invincibles never seemed to recover from the shock of the sudden swiftness with which the Thoroughbreds took command and

THOROBREDS WIN OVER EVANSVILLE

Millermen Cop Second Victory 41-36 On January 26

Murray's romping Thoroughbreds made it two in a row over Evansville College Purple Aces last Tuesday night, January 26, when they defeated the Hoosiers 41-36 at Evansville, Ind.

The game was rather loosely played on the part of both teams. Murray, as usual, was off in front and only once did the Aces overtake them.

The 'Breds led 20-17 at halftime but the Aces overhauled them and tied the count at 28-28 a few minutes later. The Millermen came thundering back however, and before long had the game well tied.

Joe Fulks was best for Murray with 16 points while Captain Grimmer was the runner-up with 11 markers. Chambers, Evansville forward, led the Aces with 10 points.

Previously Murray had defeated the Hoosiers 60-36 here on the home court.

The victory gave Murray a record of 8 wins and only 2 losses for the season.

College Farm Is Proving Success, Report Indicates

Prof. A. Carman, head of the agriculture department at Murray State, has operated the college farm with considerable profit this year, as the following report indicates:

The tobacco crop was sold and brought a total of $1,694.87. This is an average of $18.25 per hundred pounds. The yield was an average of 1,272 pounds per acre, or $232.17 per acre.

The 400 white Plymouth Rock hens are out of production at present, due to the fact that they went into a mold in December.

One acre of hemp raised on the college farm brought $113. It cost about $30 to make it, Mr.

Toppers Smash Breds 56-33 at Bowling Green

Victory Is 12th Straight Win for Western Cagers

Scoring almost at will, the Western Hilltoppers swept to a smashing 56-33 victory over the Murray Thoroughbreds in Bowling Green Wednesday night, January 20, before a packed house. Not since the rivalry between the two schools began has the margin of victory been so great. It was Western's 13th win against 12 for Murray in regular season play.

The Hilltoppers demonstrated conclusively why they have been rated the Number 1 team of the South and No. 7 in the nation as they rolled to their 12th straight victory of the season.

Herb Hurley, Murray guard, connected on a jump shot in the opening moments of the game and Murray was ahead, but not for long. Buck Snyder, speedy Western guard, dropped a set shot through the hoop to tie up the game. And from that point on, the Diddlemen kept the nets hot. Before Murray scored again, the 'Toppers racked up 13 markers.

The Western defensive play was so good that the Thoroughbreds often had trouble getting the ball past the center line. They made the Millermen shoot wild and rushed them off their feet.

Western Leads at Half
At the half, Western was ahead 27-10 and at one time in the second half, held a 40-10 advantage. However the Thoroughbreds began clicking a little better and saved themselves from humiliation by closing the gap in the waning moments.

Offensively, the Hilltoppers worked with clock-like perfection and most of their shots were of the crisp variety with a fast guard or forward breaking under the basket all by himself.

For the first time this year, the Racehorses faced a team with superior height. Forwards Don Ray and Charley Labhart of the 'Toppers both stand 5 inches above 6 feet and center Oran McKinney is 6 feet 4 inches tall. The Diddlemen used this excess height to their best advantage and controlled the backboards most of the time.

Joe Fulks was best for Murray with four field goals and two free throws and Herb Hurley was second with three fielders and one free toss.

Leading the scoring for the Hilltoppers were Oran McKinney, Don Ray, Johnny Labhart and Buck Snyder. McKinney hit eight field goals for 16 points, Ray got six fielders and two free for 14, Snyder collected five field goals and three free throws for 13 and Labhart pitched in five goals for 10.

The Student Organization sponsored the phonecast.

Dan Gregory, senior representative, phoned the game back to Murray from Bowling Green.

Colts Defeat St. Mary's 28-24

Displaying above average marksmanship Thursday night, January 28, the Training School Colts won over St. Mary's High in Paducah by 28-24. Joe Windsor, Murray forward, and J. B. Wurth, center for the St. Mary's Knights, tied for scoring honors with 11 points each.

Ed Scales' boys from the Training School were ahead all the way, leading 10-3 at the end of the first quarter, 20-9 at halftime, and 27-11 after the third frame. The Knights were unable to whittle down the lead until midway of the fourth quarter.

This brings the Colts' season record up to four wins and six losses.

Representatives selected for the spelling contest were Miss Martha Strayhorn and Miss Elizabeth Rhea Finney. Plans were also made for a series of sketch classes to be conducted every Tuesday night from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Off Campus Girls, Inc.

The girls of Murray State who live out in town, either by boarding or living at home, are also known to many of the dormitory girls, especially if they are freshmen.

For this reason, the girls living outside are entertained on an average of once a month by the girls living in the dormitory. In this way they may mix with the girls and become better acquainted at each meeting.

Due to a lack of actual information, I thought it best to ask several of the off-campus girls how they felt toward the other girls.

I walked across the campus and met a girl whom I knew, who lived at home. I inquired about any organization they might have. She told me there were none off the campus that she knew about, but that many of the town girls belonged to organizations on the campus.

I asked her if she felt differently toward girls who lived in the dormitory, and if she envied these girls for any reason. Her answer came quite suddenly, but knowing this girl as I did, it wasn't surprising when she said, "Several girls have asked me if I didn't have that 'left-out' feeling since I did not know dormitory life. Well, the only thing I have to say is that although I do not live in the dormitory, I spend many of my evenings with some girls who do live there, and I feel as though I am one of them. After all, an off-campus girl in Murray feels very much the same way as any girl felt when she went to high school and lived at home."

Through our conversation, I find that the off-campus girls of Murray play a very important part in the activities of Murray State.

Mrs. Earl J. Eckel, formerly Miss Mary Elizabeth Criss, is residing at Apartment No. 3, 57 East Chalmers, Champaign, Ill. Mrs. Eckel was granted a leave of absence from the library where she worked for several terms after her graduation, to get her degree in library science from the University of Illinois. After this graduation she was married. Murray campus remembers her kindly and wishes her happiness in her new home.

MISS FOUST IS NEW INSTRUCTOR

Owensboro Teacher
Accepts Post at College
For Pre-Flight Course

Among the new instructors recently to arrive at Murray College, is Miss Geneva Foust of Owensboro, Ky.

Miss Foust was called here as an instructor in navigation for the Naval Pre-Flight students last December. Prior to being called here, Miss Foust taught mathematics and aeronautics at Daviess County High School at Owensboro.

Owensboro has always been her home, and she graduated from high school there. Her college days were spent at Randolph Macon, Lynchburg, Va., where she received an AB degree and later at the University of Kentucky where she obtained an MA degree.

When asked her opinion of Murray, Miss Foust answered that she liked living here and enjoyed her work. She said she thought she could serve her country as well as a navigation instructor as she could in a Woman's Auxiliary Corp.

She expressed her opinion of the Naval students in these words: "All the boys seem to be interested and anxious to learn everything. They are some of the nicest students I've ever had."

Since his enlistment, he has traveled approximately 18,000 miles under orders. He enlisted at Nashville and his first station was Fort Oglethorpe, Ga. From there he was transferred to Fort McPherson, Ga., and from there to Charleston, S. C.

His next trip was to the Gorgas hospital in Ancon, Panama Canal Zone. After this tour of territorial duty, Capt. Other assignments have included Fort Kamehameha, Hawaii; Glendale, Calif.; Randolph Field, Texas; Kelly Field, Texas; Lowry Field, Colo.; Barksdale Field, La.; Hamilton Field, Calif.; Midland, Texas; and his most recent post, commanding officer of the 815th Bombing Training Squadron, Army Air Forces Bombardier School, Big Spring, Texas.

Captain Magruder has over 1,400 hours of flying experience.

At Murray State, Magruder was one of the outstanding varsity basketball players and track men. He held the state championship in the high jump and 440-yard dash.

The general idea of this column is to exchange ideas with other schools and to pass on to our students those items from other college papers that might be of interest to them.

This column will appreciate any contribution that may be of interest.

Honor system: Educational system wherein the Profs have the honor and the students have the system.—Froth.

An odd war-time incident at the U. of K.—During the present quarter there are about 300 more boys enrolled in the University than there are girls. There has been a drop of 394 from last quarter.

Louisiana State Normal College, a former opponent of Murray State in inter-collegiate sports, has received a Naval Pre-Flight school like the one recently established on this campus.

The State Board of Education of Louisiana ruled last week that intercollegiate athletics must be abandoned for the duration of the war at the four state colleges, Normal, Tech, Southeastern and Southwestern. The action followed a request from the four colleges that such action be taken.—The Current Sauce.

Fay: What sorority do you belong to?

Kay: Damma Phi No.—The Battalion.

Avenging an earlier defeat of 32-30, the Cape Girardeau Indians defeated the towering Murray State Thoroughbreds here 46-42 to give the student body one of the most exciting performances ever to be played at Houck Field House. This report comes from the Cape Capaha Arrow.

Three Scotchmen were in church one Sunday morning when the minister made a strong appeal for some worthy cause, hoping that everyone in the congregation would give at least one dollar or more. The three Scots became very nervous as the collection plate neared them. Finally one of them fainted and the other two carried him out.—The East Texas.

From the Union Cardinal and Cream—All-American Casey "Deacon" Jones went into action in the pulpit the other morning in chapel and had the entire student body rolling in the aisles, and they weren't shouting. The world certainly got beat out of a good preacher when they made Casey an All-American football player. Murray doesn't know about Casey's preaching but we certainly can vouch for his football playing ability.

After viewing the Murray-Western ball game we have come to the conclusion that the Hilltoppers really have a crack outfit this season, but they are nothing like the superior team which the score of the ball game indicated. The Thoroughbreds have another crack at them this season and we feel that there will be some redeeming done.

An Army rookie wandered, of all places, into the officers club, where he was greeted by a second lieutenant: "Get the blazes out of here! Can't you read?" "Officer," the rookie moaned, "If I could read, I'd be in the Navy."—The Hoist.

By the virtue of the fact that our campus is covered with eight inches of snow, we will have to postpone the local views until it melts.

Training School News

By Helen Gordon

The Training School orchestra presented the chapel program Monday, January 25. Another feature of the program was the girls' sextet, which is composed of Evelyn Ahart, Ann Galich, Kathleen Gibbs, Mary Ruth Goode, Sue Callis, Virginia Wilkerson.

According to Mr. Graham, Lieutenant Wiley will speak next Monday at the chapel exercises.

Attendance has been handicapped this week because of the bad weather and a few bus breakdowns.

The basketball team left Thursday afternoon, January 28, for Louisville. They will play St. Mary's of Paducah, Fort Knox High, and DuPont Manual of Louisville.

Training School sales of defense stamps have been larger this week than at any previous time. The stamp sales have amounted to $177.75, and also ten bonds have been sold. The largest bond sold in the Training School was a $50 one bought by John Richardson. He also bought a $25 bond for his sister. During this school year the amount collected for stamps sold has been $1342.95.

The seniors, along with Mrs. Rowlett, have nearly completed their work on the Training School section to be in the Shield.

Demand for Correspondence Courses Increases Says Director E. H. Smith

There is an increasing demand for correspondence courses by teachers and students since the attack on Pearl Harbor, according to Prof. E. H. Smith, director of the department of public relations at Murray State College.

Almost half of the schools in Western Kentucky and Middle Tennessee are being taught by emergency teachers. In many counties, the superintendents and the board of education require such teachers to take additional college work before their certificates can be renewed. Many new jobs have been created by the war, and most of them require the equivalent of high school education. Therefore, a number of students, who did not finish high school, are enrolling in correspondence work for high school subjects. The records show that between July 1, 1941, and June 30, 1942, there were 72 men and 174 women enrolled in correspondence work at Murray.

In addition to correspondence work, the department of public relations has started study centers in adjoining towns. These centers are created by demand of the county superintendents or a group of teachers who want the courses. Almost any course, except those that require a great deal of library and laboratory work, can be offered. Each student pays $2.50 per quarter hour for the course. The classes must have at least 10 students before an instructor is sent to conduct the classes.

Joe reports to Ft. Hayes, Columbus, Ohio, on Tuesday, February 2, and will be inducted into the Army Air Corps.

He was the official college photographer in 1941, and was also a member of the College News Staff.

Lieut. Ruth Brewer Explains WAAC Program To Murray Coeds

Second Lieut. Ruth Brewer of Women's Army Auxiliary Corps spoke to an assemblage of college girls in the auditorium following chapel, Wednesday, January 14.

Officiating as a recruiting officer from the Army Recruiting Station in Cincinnati, O., Lieutenant Brewer, was prior to joining the WAAC's a social worker in Chicago, Ill.

Lieutenant Brewer explained briefly just what the WAAC's stood for and what a new member could expect. She stressed explicitly that the WAAC's were authorized by Congress to utilize the knowledge, skill, and special training of the nation in time of national emergency. By serving with the Army, its members will replace able-bodied men, who are then released for duty with combat forces. She stated definitely that this was not a move by the women of this country to make the United States a "petticoat" nation.

In order to qualify for enrollment, Lieutenant Brewer said that a girl must be between 21 to 45; in good physical health and able to pass a mental alertness test. Applicants may be either married or single, but must have no dependents. There are no social or educational barriers for women who desire to enroll in the WAAC's.

WAAC's Duties

In addition to general duties, the WAAC's also do types of work such as accountants, bakers, bookkeepers, cashiers, cooks, cryptographers, dietitians, drivers, library aids, draughtsmen, hospital assistants, laboratory assistants, messengers, mimeograph operators, radiographers, radio operators, radio technicians, telegraph operators, secretaries, statisticians, aircraft, warning centers, clerks of all types, musicians in band, motion picture projectionists, stenographers, storewomen, telephone operators, teletype operators, and typists.

ENGLISH ART TO BE DISPLAYED IN GALLERY FEB. 1-15

Beaton Photographs To Be Open To Public at Murray

"London's Honourable Scars", art exhibit of photographs by Cecil Beaton, will be open to the public February 1-15, according to Miss Emily Wilson, art instructor. The pictures will be placed in the art gallery of the liberal arts building, room 310.

Mr. Beaton is a designer of scenery and costumes for ballet and stage and is now photographer with the Royal Air Force in Egypt. The exhibition of his photographs will be sponsored by the Murray branch of the American Association of University Women. They were received from the American-British Art Center in New York City, from which duplicates of desired prints may be obtained.

An example of art as a war product, "London's Honourable Scars" shows photographs of Sir Christopher Wren's churches as well as buildings of the 17th and 18th centuries. Allhallow's Barking was one of the nine churches in London of the Pre-Reformation Gothic. Although parts of it are gone, the tower still stands. Other photographs include Bloomsbury Square, St. Paul's Cathedral, Dr. Johnson Outside His Church, Regent's Square, and Century Room at White's Club—"Up to the bombing exactly as it was in 1775."

Lieut. Baskin Jr. Directs Physical Training of Group

Lieut. Baskin served for eight years in the Army Reserve and last April was called to service by the Navy. He was sent to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis for about a month and then to Pensacola, Fla., where Navy pilots receive their final training before being commissioned. He remained there until about a month ago when he was transferred to Murray.

Lieut. Baskin stated that the six sports that will be stressed here are swimming, basketball, tumbling, soccer, military track and wrestling with the most emphasis being placed on swimming. Mass exercises, testing, and various forms of competitive athletics including softball, volleyball, handball and touch football will be included in the sports program.

Body contact will be urged in these sports as is evidenced by the fact that no whistle is used in the basketball games. By this means, Lieut. Baskin hopes to toughen up the cadets and keep them physically fit.

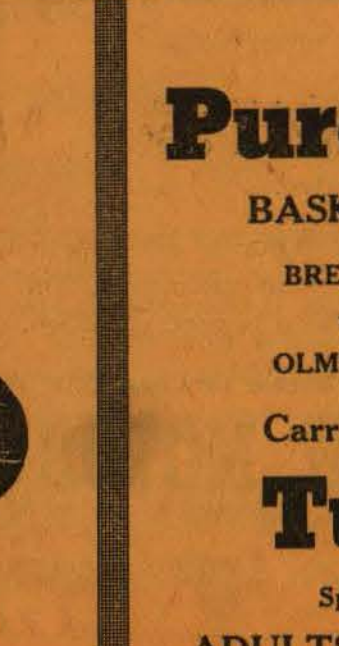

At the present time, an hour and a half a day is spent on the physical education program. Later on, when the cadets have advanced somewhat, more time will be devoted to this phase of flight training.

STRAIGHT OFF THE COBB

A bit of quick dialogue— Student to Librarian: I'd like to check out the book by "Clare de Lune". Librarian (Miss Honchell): Just a minute, I'll have a look. (Note: According to reliable info, she still is.) Impressions in quatrains— A group there was, and still there is, Why, I know not, 'tis none of my biz'. And this is the enigma Of the T-R-Y, Tri Sigma.

O lasses fair with manners gentle, Tri Sigmas with the accent mental, You're Murray's Eiffel Tower With your famed Harmony hour.

A toast! Daughters of Malnutrition East Vitamins. Ban inhibitions. Let there be no stigma On the 'scutcheon of Tri Sigma. The awful scene at Bowling Green— Diddle's done it again. This citizen wouldn't have believed it if he hadn't seen it. Western patrols the bankboards like a cop at a Communist picnic. I still don't think they can pull a repent in our back yard. Mentor Miller might just as well stock a two years supply of aspirin as Gibson, Ray, Labhart, and McKinney, four of the Hilltoppers' first five, are sophs. From the pernicious to the pastoral— Friday p.m.'s conquest of the reputable 36th Armored club out of Ft. Knox, Ky., was a very pleasing surprise. It shows what the boys are capable of. Thicker than ants at a picnic were the nature lovers last Sunday, sans shoes and stockings, but by Wednesday the only thing not completely covered was Joe Russell's proboscis. Remarkable Joe, "I'm having more trouble getting acclimated than did Richard Carlson in 'White Cargo'." Putting the Sports Shot— Read where the U. of K. finally eked one out over Ahe Notre Dame five. That ought to firmly establish the law of averages. My selections for an all-opponent five culled from the Racers' home fifts are: Forwards, Goodwin, 36th Armored; Russell, Cape Girardeau. CAMPUS LIGHTS TO BE PRESENTED ON FEBRUARY 23

Cole Announces Change in Date For PMA Event

"Campus Lights", annual musical production sponsored by the Murray men's music fraternity, Phi Mu Alpha, will be presented in the college auditorium on Tuesday night, February 23, instead of the original date of Friday, February 26, it was announced recently by Ralph Cole, student director from Benton.

This change in dates, said Mr. Cole, is due to the fact that the pre-flight cadets here at Murray will be unable to see it on Friday but will be able to see it on Tuesday night.

Rehearsal for the show has been under way for over a week and is progressing rapidly, said Director Cole. The dancing chorus, under the direction of Miss Martha Belle Hood, sophomore, Murray, will be in top shape soon.

The music department of the show has announced numbers by such stars as "Scrappy" Sheridan, one of the featured performers of last year's "Campus Lights", and some of the hottest piano music ever to be presented to a college audience by Bill Davis, of Mayfield.

Arrangements for the show are being made by Lindsey Merrill, sophomore from Madisonville, and Prof. Howard Swyers.

The cast for this year's "Campus Lights" includes 50 students, comprising as large a cast as has yet been used in any "Campus Lights" production.

A few laurels to the usually out-manned but never outought Colts of the Training School. Chronologically, they average about 16 years, which is fairly embryonic as high school teams go. At the writing, they are well on the initial leg of their big road trip of the season. Beginning with Paducah, and taking in Ft. Knox, Hi, and Manual and St. Xavier of Louisville, the jaunt should prove educational if not remunerative. Congrats to Coach Seales for giving the boys this opportunity, and the best of luck from here on out.

Rayburn Watkins, who became editor-in-chief of the College News in January, 1943, was formerly business manager of the newspaper, and has been a College News staff member for three years. He is a junior at Murray State College this year.

He is a member of Tau Kappa Alpha, national forensic fraternity, and this year is one of the managers of the International Relations Club's Purchase-Pennyrile Basketball Tournament, an annual event at Murray State College.

Watkins also is listed in the 1943 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities.

In addition to his newspaper experience with the College News, Watkins has worked on the Marshall Courier and the Tribune-Democrat in Benton, Ky.

Stubblefield Is Bookkeeper In Business Office

Because of the excess work of setting up books for the college in connection with the Naval program, Frank A. Stubblefield, 716 Poplar, Murray, formerly with Dale & Stubblefield Drug Store, is now employed by Murray State College as a bookkeeper.

Mr. Stubblefield is a graduate of the University of Kentucky in 1935 with a degree in commerce. He has been working for the college since January 1, 1943, and will continue to work for the duration.
