The invocation was given by Rev. McKnight, pastor of the Baptist church in Bardwell. District members and officers were then introduced and associational singing was conducted by Mrs. Margaret Kelly of Paducah, and accompanied at the piano by Miss Ada Brazelton, also of Paducah.

The report for the secretary, Mrs. Fred Stokes of Hickman was given by Mrs. Rice of Hickman and the treasurer's report was made by Mrs. J. J. Englert.

After the reports of the presidents of P. T. A. units, Mrs. L. W. Hughes, main speaker, was introduced. Mrs. Hughes is a past president of the Tennessee Congress of Parents and Teachers and made a most interesting and instructive talk on P. T. A. work. After the morning session was adjourned luncheon was served in the school building.

At one o'clock chairmen of the district committees made reports and several officers were elected. Mrs. Horace Anderson of Paducah was elected district treasurer and Mrs. Edith Robertson of Mayfield was named first vice-president. Mrs. Hughes then conducted a Question Box hour, during which time anyone present was permitted to ask questions.

In conclusion the association accepted the invitation to hold the fall conference meeting of the First District P. T. A. in Mayfield in November.

The Lord Is Risen

By J. Wesley Richardson, Elder
Seventh-Day Adventist Church

At this season of the year when all the world pays tribute to the Savior of the world, you, naturally, expect me to write about Our Lord's death, burial and resurrection.

Christ did not yield up His life until He had accomplished the work which He came to do, and with His parting breath he exclaimed, "It is finished," John 19:30. The battle had been won. His right hand and His holy arm had gotten Him the victory. As a Conqueror He planted His banner on the eternal heights. Was there not joy among the angels? All heaven triumphed in the Savior's victory. Satan was defeated and, knew that his kingdom was lost.

Not until the death of Christ was the character of Satan clearly revealed to the angels or to the unfallen worlds. The arch-apostate had so clothed himself with deception that even holy beings had not understood his principles. They had not clearly seen the nature of his rebellion.

God could have destroyed Satan and his sympathizers as easily as one can cast a pebble to the earth, but He did not do this. Compelling power is found only under Satan's government. The Lord's principles are not of this order. His authority rests upon goodness, mercy, and love; God's government is moral, and truth and love are to be the prevailing power.

It was God's purpose to place things on an eternal basis of security, and in the councils of heaven it was decided that time must be given for Satan to develop the principles which were the foundation of His system of government. He had claimed that these were superior to God's principles. Time was given for the working of Satan's principles that they might be seen by the heavenly universe.

Satan led men into sin and the plan of redemption was put into operation. For four thousand years, Christ was working for man's uplifting, and Satan for his ruin and degradation. And the heavenly universe beheld it all.

When Jesus came into the world, Satan's power was turned against Him. From the time when He appeared as a babe in Bethlehem, the usurper worked to bring about His destruction. In every possible way he sought to prevent Jesus from developing a perfect childhood, a faultless manhood, a holy ministry, an unblemished sacrifice. But he was defeated.

All heaven and the unfallen worlds had been witnesses to the controversy. With what intense interest did they follow the closing scenes of the conflict. They beheld the Savior enter the garden of Gethsemane, His head bowed down with the horror of sin. They heard His bitter cry, "Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me." Matt. 26:39.

As the Father's presence was withdrawn they saw Him struggling with death, dying in your place and mine. Heaven beheld the Victim betrayed into the hands of the murderous mob, and with mockery and violence hurried from one tribunal to another. It heard the sneers of His persecutors because of His lowly birth. The denial with cursing and swearing by one of His best-beloved disciples. O, fearful scene! The Savior seized at midnight, dragged to and fro from palace to judgment-hall, arraigned twice before the priest, twice before the Sanhedrim, twice before Pilate, and once before Herod, mocked, scourged, condemned, and led out to be crucified, bearing the heavy burden of the cross.

At last Jesus was at rest. The long day of shame and torture was ended. As the last rays of the setting sun ushered in the Sabbath, the Son of God lay in quietude in Joseph's new tomb. His work completed, His hands folded in peace. The night of the first day of the week had worn slowly away. The darkest hour, just before daybreak, had come. Christ was still a prisoner in His narrow tomb. The great stone was in its place; the Roman seal was unbroken; the Roman guards were keeping their watch.

Angels that excel in strength were guarding the tomb that held the Son of God, the Prince of Life, and waiting to welcome the Savior of Man. Then on that Sunday morning "There was a great earthquake: for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door. Matt. 28:2. When the voice of the mighty angel was heard at Christ's tomb, saying, "Thy Father calls thee," the Savior came forth from the grave by life that was in himself. John 10:17, 18.

The same power that raised Christ from the dead will raise His church, and glorify it with Him, above all principalities, above all principalities, above all powers, above every name that is named, not only in this world, but also in the world to come.

Say what you will of the coldness and selfishness of men, at the last they long for companionship and the fellowship of their kind.

out of an acre of poor land no matter what kind of seed you use.

A lot of good farmers think it is more important to plant when the soil is right than when the moon is right.

The farmer who is too trifling to produce enough food and feed for his family and livestock is usually too poor to buy what is needed.

Tennessee farmers following the recommendations of county agricultural agent planted over 800,000 acres of winter cover crops last fall.

Crops can be no cleaner than the seed you sow. Examine the State inspector's tag and buy for maximum purity, germination and freedom from adulteration.

For best results, soybeans should be seeded in April. For seed, sow in 2.5 foot rows, 5 pounds to the acre. For hay, seeding of 20 to 30 pounds per acre are recommended.

For the most economical production, pigs should be provided with muscle and bone building protein

Why lug the Drum when you can twirl the Baton?

YOU never yet saw a band come down the street without someone out in front setting the tempo, while someone back in the crowd obediently thumped in time.

So, why drive a car that's along just for the march—when you can pilot a Buick and show the others the way?

Maybe someday the others will have engines like velvet because they're electrically balanced after assembly; but Buick has them now.

Maybe tomorrow they will have coil springs all around, and Knto-Action in front that "gives" to the bumps—but Buick has them today.

Maybe sometime you'll get the five-foot front seat room and Foamtex cushions of the SUPER and direction signals with automatic cut-off as standard equipment—but you get those on Buick this year.

Maybe someday you'll get a car as long as Buick for the money, or with a frame as heavy without paying more.

But why take a chance on those maybes when this honey's here, ready for you to take over right now?

So drop in on your Buick dealer. Drop in to talk facts and figures, or drop in to see what next year's cars will try to look like. But drop in! Soon!

KEEP THE CITY CLEAN

A neat, clean, well-kept city, that is attractive to those who live in it, and also to those who visit it, is always a city where real estate values are higher.

As a matter of fact, such a condition in a city not only increases real estate values, but improves all values. For a city that is neat, clean, well-kept and attractive is nearly always a good place to live, where proper attention is paid to the needs of its citizens.

So is pays cash dividends to keep our city clean and attractive, just as it pays a merchant to keep his store clean and attractive. In addition it brings a satisfaction that few other things can bring. For is it not said that cleanliness is next to Godliness?

A united drive to beautify our city, clean it up, plant more trees and shrubs, tear down old buildings, take care of vacant lots and generally make our community more desirable to live in, should be directed by local civic groups.

As a part of this campaign we should put on a real "Clean Up" Week this Spring. This is done every spring, but this time we should put the full force and energy of the entire community behind it. In many cities this annual "Clean-Up" week is made a really big affair, in which the entire city is stirred up and interested and an which every citizen and organization works.

A great deal can be done at small cost. It is remarkable what a little effort, a little paint, some grass and flower seed, a few shrubs, will do to make your premises more attractive and desirable.

CHURCHES OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

"REALITY" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, March 31, 1940.

The Golden Text is: "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning." (James 1:17)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "All nations whom thou hast made shall come and worship before thee, O Lord; and shall glorify thy name. For thou are great, and doest wondrous things: thou are God alone." (Psalms 86:9, 10)

"Retonga Has Made Me Feel Better All Over"

Sour Indigestion, Frequent Getting Up At Night, Sluggish Bowels, And Other Troubles Quickly Ended, States Mrs. Milby. Husband Also Regains Strength.

MRS. GIRTY MILBY

Winning new victories over long standing troubles every day Retonga adds more friends to the thousands praising this celebrated medicine. Mrs. Girty Milby, well known resident of Route 1, Magnolia, Ky., who owns three farms, and is a member of Benningfield Chapel where she formerly sang in the choir, is among the latest to report her restoration.

"I believe I had the worst case of indigestion around here because even sweet milk would sour in my stomach before I got up from the table," declares Mrs. Milby. "Gas would bloat me up until I had terrible choking spells. I had to take laxatives regularly, and was forced to get up three or four times a night to relieve my kidneys. I was awfully nervous, and my back ached like it would break.

"Since taking Retonga I am free from all my misery from sour, gassy indigestion, I sleep fine, and don't have to get up nights. My bowels are regular, and that awful backache is gone. My husband took Retonga for similar troubles, and got splendid results. I have lots of new strength, and I feel better all over. Retonga is grand."

Farm Program Rates

A schedule of the rates of pay which farmers may earn in this year's Agricultural Conservation program is announced from the Kentucky State Office. With this information, farmers will be able to determine approximately the total payment which may be earned by complying with the 1940 provisions of the program.

Payments, which will average about the same as in 1939, will be made to farmers who plant within their acreage allotments and carry out approved soil-building practices.

Farmers who plant within their acreage allotments of commercial corn, wheat and cotton can earn combined conservation and parity payments of 15 cents a bushel on the normal yield of the corn acreage allotments, 19 cents a bushel on the normal yield of the wheat acreage allotments and 3.15 cents a pound on the normal yield of the cotton acreage allotments.

Farmers who receive special allotments for other crops and are in full compliance with the program may earn payments on the normal yields of their acreage allotments at the following rates: fire-cured and dark air-cured tobaccos, 1.2 cents a pound.

Payments may also be earned for carrying out approved soil-building practices. In order to be eligible for payment under the 1940 farm program, it will be necessary for each producer to execute a farm plan not later than April 15.

Spring Use of Lime Advocated

Because of the early closing of the agricultural conservation program this year, the Kentucky College of Agriculture is urging farmers to spread limestone this spring, instead of waiting until fall. The program will close August 31 this year, according to present plans, whereas it has been closing October 31. Farmers have been spreading most of their limestone in September and October in previous years.

Therefore, farmers who plan to use much limestone this year, should give consideration to using it ahead of corn and other spring crops. Tests which the Experiment Station made over Kentucky indicate that limestone increased corn yields 7 bushels to the acre, and limestone and phosphate together increased yields 17 bushels to the acre.

Limestone can be used ahead of alfalfa, soybeans, cowpeas and other hay and pasture crops. It also may be spread during spring and summer as a top dressing on established hay and pasture fields. It may be used on summer-seeded alfalfa and other grasses and clovers and on cover crops that are seeded before August 31, in order to take up payments allotted in the agricultural conservation program this year.

Steamer Capitol Coming!

Enroute from New Orleans to St. Paul where it operates during the summer, the popular sternwheel Steamer Capitol is coming to Hickman Saturday, May 4, for the first moonlight excursion of the season. The dance will be sponsored by Elks Lodge No. 1294.

Capt. Roy Streeckfus will again be in charge as master, assisted by Capt. Curran Streeckfus, his eldest son, who will assist on the bridge, this being his first season as a licensed Captain. Capt. Kelly King and Capt. John Graham will be pilots, and John and Henry Pemberton, engineers.

The Capitol's spring trips are always looked forward to by the graduating classes of many high schools from Baton Rouge to St. Paul, who arrange each year to hold their annual Prom on the Steamer. The moonlight trips are sponsored and are now being booked by fraternal and social organizations. Six weeks after the Capitol's first excursions, the Steamer President will come up the river, leaving New Orleans late in May.

SHARPENING THE HOE

A lazy boy, but all boys are lazy, according to their elders, likes to think of something to do to kill time when he is supposed to be working. My brother, the father of seven boys, says that a man and a boy can do nearly as much as the man by himself; it takes the extra time to keep the boy at it. The boy if left alone will work twice as hard as necessary to avoid doing the thing he is supposed to be at. One of the best ways to kill time is to sharpen the hoe, or whatever other tool is in use. Nearly all farms have excellent whetstones and files and other means of putting a keen edge on tools; hence the appropriate way of killing time while seeming to be busy at something good for the farm.

At times I can remember having spent more than half of the time at this task, renewing it as often as the "wire edge" vanished from the hoe. Since there were likely to be a few pebbles around, it was easy to ruin the fine edge and have to remake it. How blissful one feels while edging this fine touch to an already sharp tool! It would be almost treason to say that one rests while doing this for boys are not supposed to get tired, that is, unless they are expected to be doing something useful.

There were several things that needed sharpening on the old-fashioned farm and its more modern successor. Axes required the grindstone. I cannot feel that turning a grindstone is at all poetic, though, for the man who bears down on the ax is actuated by base ideas of material good. If a boy had an ax to sharpen, he would have a portable grindstone moved out to the woodpile or to the woods, one that could be run by some sort of machinery, so that there would be a lot of fun and another occasion for killing time. But when a man, usually one's father, is at the other side of the grindstone and a fellow is the horse power, it is different. Axes are not such fine tools, anyway, for they can do without a whetstone or a file, the tool sharpeners especially designed to kill time.

Just before hog-killing time, though, it was almost fun to turn the grindstone while all of the butcher knives were put into fine form, to be smoothed off later on the whetstones. The reason for this was, of course, that hog-killing was a pure pleasure, a sport in which one showed the near neighbors all kinds of skill. With wire-edge knives one can cut out the joints like an old-timer and not be afraid of getting a scolding from one's pappy.

Even before the first tobacco cutting the grindstone may be poetic while the same knives or especially prepared ones are put into shape. The tragedy about tobacco-cutting was that small boys were good only for holding sticks, certainly not so poetic as showing one's skill by splitting the tobacco stalk just right and with a nonchalance exceeded only by the fellow who cut bands at wheat-threshing time.

When we cut wheat with a cradle it was a tedious but thrilling job to get the blade sharp. Here was a place where genuine sharpness counted, for if the edge got dull, one had to put more weight on the handle, a thing that gets pretty tiresome on a hot early-summer day. Just what today can equal the pride that the wheat-cutter of other times showed when, cradle in hand, he literally "cut a wide swath" across the fields?

Robert Frost's neighbor in New England was fond of saying, "Good fences make good neighbors." I have tried in vain to find a similar saying to describe the local pride in sharp tools, particularly the small boy's pride in keeping the edges from becoming dull by use.

chant can operate at a profit? Why not try to bring industrial prices DOWN to a parity with agricultural prices? I really believe it is time for us to concentrate on increasing the efficiency of our factories so we can produce more at lower costs. Lower costs mean lower prices; and the lower the price, the larger the turnover of goods. Lower prices do not necessarily mean lower wages. The level of wages is based on how much a man produces, and if we double the production of our workers we can still pay a high wage but reduce prices.

Lowered prices would help us recapture much of the foreign market we have lost due to the high price of American goods. It would also mean greater consumption of goods in our own country. And the greater the turnover of goods, the greater the production. Larger production means more men will be put to work and more materials from mines and farms will go into production.

This means more dollars in the wage earners' and the farmers' pockets.

We have tried the "high" price idea and it has at least partially failed. It seems to me increased efficiency and lower prices point the way to a permanent prosperity.

A New York observer recently remarked that he did not believe the stock market was a true barometer of business, but rather a thermometer to measure the temperature of cold feet in high places.

Never hide an excess of zeal! The pride of a worker in his worth and work is a thing to foster. It's the man who "doesn't give a damn" who really is troublesome. The artistic big-head is not half as bad as apathy.—Elbert Hubbard.

Do your work as well as you can, live one day at a time and try to be kind.

He must be pure who would blame another.

For the past eight years we have attempted to increase all commodity prices, especially agricultural, with the hope of creating prosperity. We have worked hard to get prices back to the 1926 level and to raise farm prices to a parity with industrial prices.

It seems to me that in our changing world, we cannot look back to 1926 as a normal and hope to duplicate it. Too many changes have taken place since then, and we are actually living under entirely different conditions.

And why try to raise the prices to 1926 levels? Why not try to adjust all our prices so that the farmer, the manufacturer, and the mer-
