THE LISTENING POST

● The Listening Post has an idea that if several local organizations would unite in a request—even a demand—on the Illinois Central System for a new railroad station, or some drastic improvements on the present one, something could be done. I also have an idea that if this angle is neglected, we will get nothing or very little from the railroad company. In other words, I believe the railroad company is rather marking time on the matter, in order to see if there is any united pressure placed upon them. If they can be convinced that there is a great popular demand for some improvements we might get something done, but if they believe there is little interest in the matter they may go ahead and do nothing or make some trifling improvement like painting the present structure.

● It may not be generally known, but the station is now under the jurisdiction of the Mississippi Division. The superintendent at Water Valley has a lot to say about the matter, and it is my opinion that he should be kept pretty busy reading letters from the various organizations of this town. We should let him know, politely but firmly that the town needs a better station. If he keeps hearing from us we may expect something; if we merely let the matter drift along he will probably follow our lead.

● I think that the City Council should discuss the matter fully and frankly and then communicate with railroad officials as to their findings. I believe they should fully investigate the shortcomings of the present station in order that they may know what they are talking about. I believe that the city council can get something done, but I believe that their hands would be made stronger if the other organizations of the city, the Young Men's Business Club, the Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary Club, the Lions, the Woman's Club, would stand behind the city council and give their united support to the movement. If the Illinois Central is convinced that we have a real and united sentiment here for something better in the way of a railroad station I believe we can get considerable improvement. Perhaps we might not get a new station, but any change in the present station would be an improvement. At present it is, to speak frankly, a disgrace to the great railroad system which it represents. We must remember, however, that towns on the Illinois Central lines are constantly calling for various improvements, and our community voice must be loud enough to be heard in the Water Valley offices and carry enough weight to be transmitted to the general offices in Chicago.

● At the present time the Illinois Central is able to carry on improvements of this nature. The road is doing business again after many years of declining revenues, and now is the time to get this job done. Two or three years hence the picture may be better or it may be worse. Right now is the time to get to work, for I believe that we can convince the railroad officials that we really deserve something better in the way of a station.

● I am not in any sense quarreling with the Illinois Central. I like the men who run the big system and have been fortunate in knowing many of them. Fulton and the Illinois Central have long been good friends, but there is no use in allowing this friendship to blind us to the fact that we need something that the Illinois Central has and should give out. I believe a friendly request from many influential quarters will do the trick, but if these friendly requests fail I believe we should be just as tough as necessary. I do not believe that the Illinois Central has anything against our community. I think the officials are merely trying to meet all the calls that are made

Lewis, Steel Chiefs Are Called To Meet

Mediation Board Will Seek To Settle Coal Dispute

The Defense Mediation Board, trying to decide whether to recommend a union ship in coal mines owned by major steel companies, has asked John L. Lewis, president of the C. I. O. United Mine Workers, and 16 company executives to meet with it today.

Over the week end the board studied the record of its hearings on the dispute which arose out of the U. M. W.'s demand that all workers in the captive mines become union members after a certain period of employment.

A three-day walkout last week in the captive mines, employing 53,000, was ended when Lewis ordered the men back to work under a truce which he said would expire on Nov. 15 and during which the board's new mediation efforts will be made.

Board Chairman William A. Davis has indicated the board might make its decision on the union shop question sometime this week.

Although production of coal for the big steel mines had been resumed, there were other labor worries for defense officials.

A. F. of L. union workers on barge lines carrying coal to big Pittsburgh steel plants are on strike for wage increases of an undisclosed amount.

Welders in shipyards on the West Coast and at a few points in the South continued a walkout which they started when the A. F. of L. national organization refused to charter a welders' union separate from the A. F. of L.'s Metal Trade Council. Ship construction was destroyed at some places.

Machines Are Now Counting Cars On Highways Of Commonwealth

Lexington, Ky. —Men used to count machines when the state made traffic survey, but now machines are to do the counting too. The mechanical counters, the first of a number that hereafter will be used to determine the flow of traffic over various roads and thus to inform state officials where new roads are needed most, already are on the job here.

The two machines—the state has one more just like them—cost $350 each, and the only human help they need is one "caretaker" to move them about to their counting locations and to take down the figures they record.

The machines consist of hollow tubes stretched across the road. Vehicles passing over them depress the tubing, compressing air so as to actuate a mechanism which records the passage of each motor on a roll of paper tape.

The devices also have clocks so

SENATE AGREES TO SPEED ACTION ON NEUTRALITY BILL

Ball Declares Freedom Of Seas Necessary For Survival

Washington. —The Senate agreed today to speed up consideration of neutrality revision as Senator Ball (R-Minn.), declared that a freedom-of-the-seas policy was necessary for this country's survival and Senator Clark (D-Mo.), dared President Roosevelt to ask Congress for a declaration of war.

Winding up a week of debate on the momentous legislation to lift neutrality act provisions forbidding the arming of merchant ships and preventing them from sailing into belligerent areas, the chamber agreed unanimously to a suggestion by Democratic Leader Barkley that it meet at 1 a. m. (EST) Monday, an hour earlier than usual.

Vote By Midnight
Administration leaders, confident that at least 52 of the 96 members would support the bill, said the agreement would insure a vote by the middle of next week.

Ball, a "freshman" Senator who differs with many of his midwestern colleagues in supporting the pending legislation, told the chamber that "as long as the Nazis hold sway in Europe no man here in America x x x can feel any sort of security."

WILL ASK STORES TO CLOSE HERE FOR FINAL GRID GAME

A committee from the Young Men's Business Club will soon circulate a petition to all business houses of the city asking them to close their stores on the afternoon of Tuesday, November 11, from two o'clock to four, in order that all employees will be able to attend the football game to be played at Fairfield that afternoon.

This game is the last on the local schedule and marks the final appearance of the Bulldogs squad on the gridiron for this year. After one of the best seasons in recent years the Bulldogs will face Mayfield here on Armistice Day and it is hoped that a large crowd will attend.

United States Plans New Six Billion Dollar Tax Program

Washington. —High Administration officials disclosed today they have in preparation a huge tax program, designed to collect approximately $6,000,000,000 of "excess purchasing power" from the Nation's collective pocketbook.

The money would be raised by stiffer regular taxes, increased social security taxes and other methods, officials said, and the plan may be ready for presentation to Congress before Christmas. President Roosevelt repeated that he planned to submit to Congress recommendations for enlarging the social security program and increasing Federal assistance to "poorer States."

CHANDLER AVERS NATION MUST FACE FACTS OF SITUATION

Declares Isolationist By Senate Minority Formulated

Washington. —The United States cannot prepare itself for any eventualities resulting from the European war "by sticking its head in the sand and thinking its whole body is hidden," says Senator A. B. Chandler, Kentucky Democrat.

Chandler expressed that view in asserting a minority of the Senate has been making the nation's foreign policy for 25 years, and that policy "is one of isolation, of unconsciousness of the fact that we are living in a world, and that there is a revolution going on in the world, that there is a mad man at large, and that he is trying to murder everybody."

"How do you know he won't get you?" Chandler asked his non-interventionist colleagues. "You had better get ready and see that he doesn't get you."

Chandler has his doubts that England can withstand the Nazis if Russia and the rest of Europe fall. Should all Europe and the British Empire be conquered, he said, the United States would be isolated, "without friends and alone and subject to continual bombing raids."

"I want to keep them away as long as I can, and I want to keep them as far away as I can," he declared, "and if I have some fellow who is willing to use a gun, a tank and a plane over there, I would rather have him use it and kill as many of those fellows as he can, assuming that they are bound to fight, and it looks like they are."

JAPS FOR U. S. PEACE ACTION

Tokio. —The Japan Times and Advertiser argued today that the United States, "by a display of strength through tolerance and concession," could start a "snowball of peace" rolling, with Japan as a prime mover.

Without actually using the word mediation, the paper, controlled by the Foreign Office, said Germany could not make peace because "the Chancellor is in the midst of the greatest battle in history," that Britain could not because of her commitments under the Atlantic declaration and to exiled governments.

WELLS RITES SATURDAY P. M.

Mr. Wells, whose death came as a great shock to his many, many friends, was a man of long service with the Illinois Central Railroad System, serving as engineer, and will be sadly missed by his fellow workers. It was in Fulton that he was married in 1917 to Mrs. Mary Woods.

Funeralbearers were: J. O. Gadabry of Memphis, B. C. Venabell of Memphis, H. T. Douglas, C. S. Townsend, A. C. Allen, R. S. Burgess, J. L. Beckhold, R. C. Crocker all I. C. engineers.

ARMY ASSAILED FOR FAILURE TO PREVENT VICE

W. C. T. U. Head Says That Disease Is Spreading

Army officials said Friday night that normal operations would be restored at the Air Associates, Inc., plant at Bendix, N. J., within twenty-four hours, and settlement appeared imminent in the six-day Brooklyn drydock strike of 5,800 C. I. O. workers.

An A. F. L. welders' jurisdictional dispute holding up $1,000,000,000 in defense shipbuilding orders on the Pacific Coast was the sole remaining major strike on the defense labor front. The captive coal mine dispute remained unsettled, although 53,000 C. I. O. workers were back in steel firm pits under order of John L. Lewis and at the request of President Roosevelt.

Situation Improves
Mr. Roosevelt acknowledged a turn for the worse in labor situations recently, but he said at his Friday press conference that conditions were not as bad as at the outset of the rearmament program. The situation was improving even as he spoke.

Buying Plan For State Agencies Is Advocated In Greendale Court

Frankfort, Ky. —A "tightening up" of State purchasing practices has been advocated to the State purchases investigating committee by Norman Braden acting superintendent of the Kentucky Houses of Reform at Greendale.

Testimony earlier in the week at a hearing attended only by members of the committee and a representative of Attorney General Hubert Meredith, Braden said his criticisms were directed more at the buying system than at the State Purchasing Division itself.

A transcript of the testimony was released yesterday. Braden charged that "substitutions were made on some of the purchases" for the Greendale institution and

Unified Control Seen For All Armed Ships Of U. S.

Hyde Park, N. Y. —President Roosevelt tonight put the entire Coast Guard under jurisdiction of the United States Navy, concentrating the nation's power at sea for the undeclared war that already is raging in the North Atlantic.

Previously, individual units of the Coast Guard had been transferred from Treasury to Navy Department jurisdiction, but the President's executive order tonight transferred all Coast Guard units and personnel to the navy "until further orders."

Has Been Active
It was obvious that the new status of the Coast Guard will stand until the end of the unlimited emergency. The Coast Guard operated as part of the navy in the World War.

Coast Guard vessels already have been active on national defense assignments. It was a Coast Guard vessel that brought into Boston the Norwegian vessel that was apprehended acting as an off-shore base for a German radio station in Greenland.

Under terms of the President's order, Coast Guard units henceforth will act as units of the United States fleet.

The transfer will permit a unified control of all armed vessels of any size and strengthen the navy in exercising its guardianship over the Western Atlantic and the sea lanes to Greenland and Iceland.

Just how many ships and men are affected was not disclosed.

The President acted under the authority of an act approved January 28, 1915, and amended July 11, 1941.

MONEY FLOWS TO CAROLINAS

Camden, S. C. —The first surge of a money wave—about $6,500,000 in bills and silver—struck the Carolinas today.

Payday came for First Army, half way through two months of field exercises. Finance officers began paying out to some divisions today. They'll not get through the whole army, about 172,000 men of enlisted grades, until tomorrow night.

Private and non-commissioned officers receive cash pay ranging from $21 a month for the lowest grade to about $150 for veteran specialists. Commissioned officers get theirs by check and the $6,500,000 does not include the $2,000,000 the officers will collect for the thirty-one days.

Payday during maneuvers means a mass descent of soldiers on every city and town, all seeking entertainment, refreshments and diversion. Some never stop until their pay is gone; others are so far in debt to more prudent buddies that they have little left to spend.

that articles of an inferior grade to those ordered often were sent. He suggested establishment of standard specifications covering more phases of State buying and a more accurate system of checking supplies received with samples of those ordered.

Articles Listed
Braden listed shoes, basketballs and paint as types of articles which could be substituted under present purchasing methods.

"The purchase of most things can be better done at the institution than anywhere else," Braden said, referring to the provision under which regulations are made by the State Welfare Department for supplies needed by the various schools.

LITTLE PROGRESS ON THE DEFENSE STRIKE FRONT

John L. Lewis is a public hero in the eyes of John L. Lewis. He permits President Roosevelt and Myron C. Taylor of the United States Steel Corporation to share a little of the spotlight of approval which he thinks has fallen upon his revocation of the order that stopped digging in the captive coal mines for four costly days. But obviously Mr. Lewis believes that he is entitled to the lion's share of popular gratitude.

Actually, no gratitude exists. Only resentment remains, and what Mr. Lewis has is the lion's share of that. The spectacle of a labor leader who refuses to see that the United States is in peril and the defense effort all-important, defying the President and insisting upon his own way or none is one which the American people would not care to see repeated. Mr. Lewis should mull over this fact during the seventeen-day truce which he has so magnanimously granted for further consideration of the closed shop issue in the captive mines.

His union's position in the negotiations is weaker today than before Mr. Lewis staged his reckless performance, for he can now count upon little public support against the steel companies. In addition, the cause that seems principally to have emboldened him to challenge the whole Government has been removed. This was the persistent refusal of Air Associates, Inc., to comply fully with the terms of a Defense Mediation Board settlement between the company and a C. I. O. union. Mr. Lewis thought that he would have union support in his defiance and denunciation of the board in the mine case, as long as the board was being flouted, as the C. I. O. believed, by the airplane parts company. But the Army moved into the Bendix plant yesterday at the President's order, the union grievance there is gone and a weapon has again been brought into play in behalf of defense production which Mr. Lewis might reflect can be two-edged.

Meanwhile, the return of the workers to the captive mines and the resumption of full production at the comparatively small Air Association factory give the public meager grounds for satisfaction over the state of labor-management relationships in the defense industries. Neither incident can serve to affect the mounting indignation against defense strikes except, especially in the case provided by Mr. Lewis, to increase and aggravate it. The people will accept the

"SOLDIER'S HEART" STILL IS BUGABOO AFTER 125 YEARS

San Francisco — A strange ailment which caused some men to break down physically as the result of nervous strain has become the biggest problem of medical specialists helping to build America's draft Army, reports Dr. Paul Dudley White noted heart doctor.

This ailment, called soldier's heart, has been a military bugaboo for at least 125 years. Men suddenly become physically weak, short of breath, have heart palpitation and are likely to fall down on the job in the stress of battle.

It is not a real heart disease but rather an affliction involving the nerves, arteries and veins, Dr. White said. It develops after a person has been subjected to long periods of mental strain. Even normal persons can have it after going through an ordeal. Its cause is not known and therefore it is hard for draft board examiners to put their fingers on men likely to become affected in some future situation of heavy and prolonged strain.

Real heart disease is almost nonexistent in the Regular American Army and roughly 2 1/2 per cent of the draftees have been rejected or put into deferred classification because of it, Dr. White said.

Training For Defense

By Rufus T. Strohm

Dean, International Correspondence Schools

THE big problem of American industry is to get the utmost production from existing machines and men. We could profit by a plan originated in Canada that is reported to be doubling the capacity for production of war materiel.

It has to do with idle machines and busy men. The Canadian paper and pulp industry began training a number of workers to make defense machine parts during the 16 hours daily when the repair shops of that industry were not in operation. When the resources of men and machines in the paper industry had been catalogued, the operators offered the government their facilities for the 16 hours daily to make airplane-engine parts, tank-engine parts, and fuses for shells and bombs.

Once the workers proved they could deliver parts to specification, the paper industry received a flood of sub-contracts from the government. Today this plan is providing a stable part of the million and one-half man-hours needed for all-out aid to Britain.

Other Canadian industries which are not directly engaged in the production of munitions have volunteered their repair-shop facilities during stand-by periods. They also have offered to train unskilled men for war production. The mining industry, railroads and public utilities now are following the same plan. This assures that every Canadian wheel is turning for defense.

The added man power comes from youthful and unskilled workers guided by skilled machinists. The unskilled men are required to study I.C.S. shop-practice courses in their spare time.

These twenty-one girls were named at the recent meeting of Western's Officers Club. At the next meeting of that Club these nominees will, by vote of the club, be lowered to five girls. At a later date, to be set by the Club, the entire R. O. T. C. will select from these five one girl who will be crowned queen with the remaining four automatically becoming attendants. The attendants will also include two girls from Bowling Green Business University.

The Military Ball is usually the most outstanding attraction of the Western campus.

Training For Defense

By Rufus T. Strohm

Dean, International Correspondence Schools

SHIFTING of workers from one job to another so that they can acquire new skills and handle several different jobs in one plant if necessary, is called "up-grading." Experienced personnel managers say this system keeps men from going stale, improves morale, insures skilled labor for all operations, and frequently produces all-around skilled men for foremen and other top production jobs.

Short refresher study courses are being used increasingly to hurriedly train men and women for industrial jobs. Many such courses, supplied by various institutions, are financed by the government. Other study courses are financed in part or entirely by employers.

The cry is for skilled men, and the supply is far too short in some industries now engaged in national defense projects. Some educators are confident that plenty of skilled labor can be trained for the defense program if employers will realize that they can no longer hang out a "help wanted" sign, but must arrange their operations to utilize specialized skills and then take the time and trouble to train new workers for these skills.

We have stepped almost overnight from a surplus of workers to a shortage of workers, especially skilled and semi-skilled workers.

Recently one of the nation's foremost educational authorities said, "We will have the task of convincing parents and children that a high school education may, and probably should, lead to a machine shop rather than a desk."

was foreshadowed today by Revenue Department estimates that income from state taxes on new automobiles will be cut soon to less than one-third of the 1940-41 fiscal year level.

Indications from the federal Office of Production Management and other sources are, said State Revenue Commissioner H. Clyde Reeves, that "it will be almost impossible to get a new passenger car by the middle of next summer."

The reduction in automobile output already is being felt in tax collections of the present fiscal year, which began July 1, Reeves said.

On the basis of first quarter receipts and estimates for the remainder of the fiscal year, he continued, the state's motor vehicle usage tax will yield about $384,390.

He compared this with the collection of $1,644,275 in 1940-41 and predicted the levy would bring in only about $540,000 in each of the fiscal years 1942-43 and 1943-44.

Increasing prices for new cars and continued production of trucks along 1941-41 levels will keep the collection from dropping still more, Reeves said.

He expressed belief that truck manufacture would hold up because transportation of many products is essential to defense.

Beside automobiles and trucks, the usage tax also is levied on used motor vehicles brought from other states for resale in Kentucky.

ARMY SPEEDS BEDIC PLANT OPERATIONS

Streator, Ill. —Mrs. Ida B. Wise Smith, president of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union, declared Thursday night that the army has "failed to take effective and positive action against venereal diseases."

"Army policy-makers and top officers," she said in an address at the Illinois W. C. T. U. convention, "certainly know the facts of life, but their handling of the venereal disease problem has shown little common sense understanding of the factors involved."

She asserted that "thousands of soldiers" have contracted venereal diseases since entering the service and asked, "wouldn't that indicate that army methods to date are ineffective?"

Says May Act Ignored
Mrs. Smith charged that officers have largely disregarded the May Act, which, she said, directs the army to establish vice-free zones around camps.

Efforts to leave vice control in the hands of local officials, she asserted, have proved fruitless in many instances "because liquor and vice go hand in hand in a search for profits and are much too powerful in most areas for state or local action to control."

"Liquor plays a prominent part in the army's venereal disease problem... the army will not solve its venereal disease problem unless it first solves the liquor problem."

"A soldier plus alcohol plus sex, equals trouble—and always will."

SOCIAL NO-BELLS TOLL FOR MRS. HEMINGWAY

St. Louis — Scanning the new 1942 St. Louis Social Register tonight, the society set noted that the name of Mrs. Ernest Hemingway, the former Martha Gellhorn, was missing.

Mrs. Hemingway, war journalist and author, was listed in the 1941 edition of the Social Register with her mother, Mrs. George Gellhorn of St. Louis.

Miss Gellhorn and Ernest Hemingway, noted author, were married last November.

THANKSGIVING TURKEY TO BE 85 CENTS PER POUND

London — An American in England buying a Thanksgiving turkey will have to pay 85 cents a pound for drawn birds, a price set today by the food ministry to curb a trend toward even higher figures.

Laundry prices also jumped to a point 33 2-3 per cent above the pre-war figures with announcement that the board of trade had allowed a new increase of 8 2-3 per cent.

DANIELS STEPS DOWN AS MEXICAN ENVOY

Washington — President Roosevelt has accepted the resignation of Josephus Daniels, Ambassador to Mexico.

The Chief Executive, in announcing this to a press conference today, said that of all the people who had been at foreign posts in Latin America in the last eight and one-half years, he thought Daniels had done more to encourage and live up to the good neighbor policy than any.

The Chief Executive had nothing to say about a successor, but said he had suggested that Daniels return to associates and officials. The Ambassador said he resigned because of his wife's poor health.

TCH! TCH! CARE GOES FOR NAUGHT

Memphis, Tenn. — A taxicab driver stepped up to thirty-six miles an hour—six miles above the city speed limit—swung to the wrong side of the street and remarked before letting out his passenger:

"I'd better be careful. (Police Commissioner) Joe Boyle lives around here."

Remarked the passenger, "I'm Joe Boyle."

INDICTED WORKERS AT GREENDALE REPORT TO SHERIFF

Lexington, Ky. — Sheriff Ernest Thompson said last night that "almost all" the ten employees of the Kentucky Houses of Reform at Greendale who had been indicted for assault and battery surrendered today and were released under $250 bond.

The sheriff said he could not recall the names of employees under indictment who had not surrendered, but added that they had telephoned or otherwise indicated they would surrender tomorrow or Monday.

The indictments were returned this week by a grand jury which severely criticized operation of the reform school and urged that its superintendent, Mr. Braden, be removed.
