Inspect Schools

The yearly inspection of the school is a must. The school building department is an effective device to keep the child healthy and the long-time health of the community. The health is not of each child regarding his diet, his cleanliness, and air and water condition. The purpose of these inspections is to prevent the spread of disease and to control the accidents. Each principal, therefore, should see that each child has enough food, clothing, and good air and water conditions.

BREAD AND WHEAT

Fulton citizens will watch with interest the outcome of the U.S. Senate's investigation to find out why bread prices have skyrocketed with the decline in wheat. While Senator George W. Norris, of Nebraska, has stated that the farmer gets but one cent for the wheat that even an 8c. loaf of bread contains, it is hard to find out where the balance of it goes to.

There was a time in this country when the bread producer could count on having to compete with the butcher, who sold meat, and the grocer, who sold groceries. But now there is a market for every kind of food the farmer can produce. And the farmer who is willing to share in such circumstances has a lot to think about, for if necessary, he will have to sell his wheat, his corn, his potatoes, his sauerkraut, his tomatoes, and his apples, to help pay the mortgage on his home.

The problem is a tough one for the farmer, and his share in the market is a small one. But with the cost of everything going up, the farmer is forced to sell his wheat, his corn, his potatoes, his sauerkraut, his tomatoes, and his apples, to help pay the mortgage on his home.

One problem that the farmer faces is the cost of the land. The land is scarce, and the price of it is going up. The farmer is forced to sell his wheat, his corn, his potatoes, his sauerkraut, his tomatoes, and his apples, to help pay the mortgage on his home.

Call for Fair Play
Wins Public Support

A Message from
L. A. Downs,
President,
Illinois Central System.

The appeal of the railroads for equality of competition in transportation has won the support of the public.

From press, platform, and personal interviews there has come approval of the aggressive declaration of the railroads.

This appeal shows that the American people realize that:

No other transportation set up can permanently supply the railroad.

Without subsidies or other unfair advantages much of the railroad's competition could not succeed.

A square deal in transportation is the only way in which the interests of the public itself can be fairly served.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.
