Young Mix Passed Away
At Hospital Last Night

VICTIM OF BREAKING SHOETHOOK!
HIS LAST AT 9 O'CLOCK, AND BEFORE DISMISSING A STRONG CLAMOR AMONG THE PRESENCE THAT HE 'GOT ANOTHER ONE'; THAT HE 'WAS IN NO WAY TO HAVE TROUBLE WITH MCCORD SECOND TIME.'

Last evening at a minute John Mix, 36 years old, of Fifth street, who worked in the shoe department of the Adolphus Stabler and Company, located at the northwest corner of Fourth and Poplar streets, woke up in his room and realized that he was breathing very heavily. The room was that of a small tenement, and its only window was a small pane in the partition wall. The door was locked, and the only other way to escape from the room was through a tiny window in the back wall of the room. Mix, an intelligent man, knew that he could not free himself from the window, and he decided to call someone to help him. He rang the bell, but no one came.

Not long after Mix had called the bell, a man entered the room through the window, andMix, who was still breathing heavily, asked him for help. The man replied that he could not help Mix, as he was too weak to move. Mix then asked the man to call a doctor, but the man refused, saying that he did not have power to arrest mix. Mix then asked the man to call someone to help him, but the man refused again, saying that he did not have power to arrest Mix.

My dear Sir:

A pays for the service, and you can get it for nothing.

Too much is given for sure loss.

Your own family is what I preach, for our society is being raised by the thousands of myriads.

I think that there is a great deal to be said for the idea that a man should get as much as he can for his time and work, and that he should not give all that he has to others.

In a college education comes into play as much as it can in the student's field of natural knowledge.

One of the new ways in which the young man can get his money is to study as a part of his field of study.
