NUMBER FIFTEEN.

CITIZENS TELL WAYS TO IMPROVE COMMUNITY

A questionnaire recently passed out around the city by the Young Men's Business Club has brought in some mighty fine civic improvement suggestions from local citizens.

A general clean-up campaign, including a clean-up of city streets, alleys, the creek bed, renovation of business and residential sections, was the suggestion that was submitted most often.

Another outstanding suggestion was that the creek be cleaned and kept clean, with a fine placed on those throwing rubbish in it, along with a project that would permanently eliminate the overflow of this stream.

Along the line of improvement was the suggestion that the railroad right-of-way through the downtown section be beautified; that the viaduct be cleaned out and lights installed by city, in order to make this a more attractive highway entrance to the city; that the street leading from Fourth-st to the passenger station be paved or black-topped.

Law enforcement received considerable attention. Particularly driving and parking regulations; and numerous suggestions were made that center parking on Lake street be eliminated, for safety measures, and as a move to cooperate with the state highway department which has contemplated rerouting of highway around city in order to avoid congested downtown district.

Control of public drunkenness came in as suggestions from various citizens. It was suggested that those arrested and unable to pay fines, should be put to work on streets and creek to keep these premises more respectable looking. And along the police department line, it was proposed that local officers be uniformed.

Wide interest was taken in a movement to secure and maintain a public playground, such as is now available at the old fair grounds. Elimination of radio static caused by leaky transformers and brush motors was suggested. And, naturally, numerous suggestions were made that more industries be obtained for Fulton, especially enterprises that will employ men.

JOE BEADLES, JR. NOMINATED FOR OFFICE

Joe Beadles, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Beadles of Fulton has been nominated for office of vice-president of the Abilene Christian college student body.

Nominations closed Friday at noon and the election by popular vote of the students will be staged Friday, May 3. Petitions signed by 20 members of the student body were required to nominate any student.

S. Fulton Represented At State P.-T. A. Meeting

At the 28th annual convention of the Tennessee Congress of Parents and Teachers, held in Knoxville recently, the 13th District had delegates from each of the seven counties in the district. Those attending from the South Fulton P.-T. A. were Mrs. I. M. Jones, Mrs. Lon Pickle, Mrs. W. B. McClain, Mrs. R. E. Sanford and Mrs. J. A. Taylor.

The South Fulton association received the following awards: gold leaf certificate for reaching membership by Nov. 12, certificate for being a Standard group, certificate for completing the summer round-up, and five certificates for studying the state correspondence course.

The district also received several awards and was highly commended by state officers for its work during the year.

FULTON HIGH WINS PURCHASE TRACK MEET

The Fulton High Bulldogs, coached by Jack Carter, are new Purchase Conference track champions after scoring a top-heavy win in Murray last Saturday. This was Fulton's first year to compete within the conference.

The Bulldogs scored 55 points, taking six first places, 7 seconds and four thirds in 12 events. Murray Training School, last year's champ, was second with 37 points and five firsts; while Clinton was third with 12 points and one first. Those who placed first from Fulton were: McClellan, 60-yard dash; Burton, 100-yard dash; Lewis, 220-yard dash; Buckingham, high jump; McClellan, standing broad jump; and the Fulton High relay team, the 440-yard relay.

Coach Carter will take his team to Murray on Saturday, May 11 to compete in the Regional meet. The Bulldogs won second place at this meet last year.

Kentucky Go-To-Sunday School Day May 5

Sunday, May 5, has been proclaimed by Keen Johnson, Governor of Kentucky, as Go-To-Sunday-School Day in Kentucky. For several years this day has been observed annually in an effort to produce a "Greater and Better Kentucky."

All persons are urged to attend Sunday School in the church of their choice, that they may give encouragement and honor to those who teach in these schools, that they may see the work which is being done, and that they may in this service worship their God.

BAPTIST HELD UNION AT HICKMAN SUNDAY

The Baptist Training Union of the West Kentucky Association held its second quarterly meeting of this year with the West Hickman Baptist church at Hickman on Sunday, April 28.

The program began at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon with Edward Pugh of Fulton, director of the Union, presiding. Mrs. J. A. Hemphill of Fulton, chairman of the program committee, introduced representatives of the various Unions who took part on the program. Rev. McKnight Fite of Bardwell gave the main address.

Those attending from Fulton were: Rev. and Mrs. Woodrow Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pugh, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hemphill, Clarence Bailey, Leon Hutchens, E. A. Patterson of Tulsa, Okla., Clifton Hamlett and James Underwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Bartle Osgood of Louisville, Ky., visited relatives here Sunday morning enroute to Jackson, Tenn.

METHODIST REVIVAL WILL START SUNDAY

Revival services will start at the First Methodist church this coming Sunday, with Rev. W. H. Saxon, the pastor, conducting the preaching services, and Rev. W. T. Barnes pastor of the Greenfield Methodist church, in charge of the singing. Rev. Barnes, who was here in a revival three years ago, is recognized as one of the best song directors in the Memphis conference.

W. H. SAXON

Rev. Saxon, who was transferred here last fall from the Ripley Methodist church, has made many friends since coming here. He previously held charges at the Epworth Methodist Episcopal church of Memphis, the Methodist church at Sparta, Tenn., and the Old Hickory Methodist church near Nashville.

Rev. Saxon attended Ruskin-Cave College, above Dickson, Tenn., getting his B. S. and A. B. degrees there. He also took courses at L. S. U. at Baton Rouge and Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, at Ruston, La. He obtained a D. D. degree at Vanderbilt while conducting his ministry at Old Hickory. Dr. Saxon has a profound knowledge of ancient Bible history, and last year received the distinction of being listed in the Biographical Encyclopedia of America. His record has been one of achievement, and his effort here in his first revival will doubtless add another link to his chain of successes.

National WPA Week To Be Observed

National WPA Professional and Service Week will be observed in Fulton, starting Monday, May 29. Ibel Hope, director of Training Work Center in Fulton, announces the week will be ushered in with a dinner at the school cafeteria on Monday, May 29, at 6:30 p. m., at which time broadcasts will be heard by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, John M. Carmody, Col. F. D. Harrington and others. Supt. J. O. Lewis has been named chairman of the program committee. The dinner will cost but 25c, and will be prepared by Mrs. Chester Binkley and assistants. Tickets in charge of Don P. Hawkins and Mrs. J. C. Scruggs.

Projects completed by local WPA people will be on display May 21 to May 24 at the city hall from 8 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. each day.

KANE SCHOOL PLAN BELIEVED ACCEPTABLE TO STATE BOARD

Negro students from Carlisle and Hickman counties and Fulton, Kentucky, are expected to attend school in Clinton at the Kane high school during the 1940-41 term, it was learned recently after county school superintendents from this section had returned from Louisville where a conference was held with the State Department of Education officials.

Because of the small number of negro high school students in each of the three counties, the board of education had agreed to a plan whereby the students would attend Kane in Clinton. This, of course, was subject to approval of the state board. It was learned from a county official source that school officials in this section met with supervisor L. N. Taylor and had been informed that recommendations would be made to the state board along the lines of the local agreement. Mr. Taylor informed the school officials, however, that the plan would not be accepted in 1941-42 and that other arrangements would have to be made at that time.

Fulton negro students could attend high school nearer home in Tennessee, but they have expressed a preference to attend classes in Clinton.

With the present proposed program perfected, the Clinton Kane school's enrollment would be brought up to the quota as demanded by the state board for approval. Fortune tellers in Williamson, W. Va., read Mrs. Aderba Mickel's palm and prophesied that she would lose some money. After leaving them, $219 was missing from her purse.

Arrested for disorderly conduct for shouting "I've got to see her" I've got to see her" in a hospital corridor, Edward Collins of Chicago explained "It's the first one. I'm uncle for the first time."

Elmer Larson of Minneapolis became a father and a grandfather the same day. His wife presented him a son, and his daughter, Mrs. William Vanderbilt, gave birth to a girl. A calf born on the farm of Calvin Pfaff near Kennard, Pa., had two upper jaws, one lower jaw, and six nostrils.

MRS. McALISTER IS DROWNED THURS.

Mrs. Ruth McAlister, wife of Emmett H. McAlister, was accidentally drowned in the pond at her home on the Beurlerton Road about 10 o'clock last Thursday night. Mrs. McAlister, who was learning to drive had driven the car only a few times. Apparently Mrs. McAlister decided to drive the car into the garage and, losing control, plunged into the pond. The car was not overturned and the water was not deep, therefore it is believed that Mrs. McAlister leaped out and was injured or became unconscious from the force of the fall. Her body was found near the car.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at the Wesley Methodist Church, of which she was a member, conducted by the Rev. T. L. Peery and Rev. B. J. Russell. Burial was in Wesley cemetery, directed by Hornbeak Funeral Home.

She is survived by her husband, E. H. McAlister; one daughter, Regina; one son, Randle; her mother, Mrs. John Byrn; three sisters, Mrs. Richard Mobley, Mrs. Byron McAlister and Mrs. Russell Bockman; and one grandson.

Baseball Season Will Open May 8

The Kitty League baseball season will open officially in Fulton on Wednesday, May 8, with the local team playing against the Union City Greyhounds. The Board of Directors of the Baseball Association are making plans for a parade and Bailey Huddleston has been appointed as chairman of that committee. All local stores will be closed on the afternoon of that day.

Prospects for the Fulton Tigers are good. The present team seems to have plenty of power, though ability in pitching is still lacking. The Tigers have won all the exhibition games they have played, defeating the Jackson Generals twice and the Mayfield Browns once. The Fulton team will play Mayfield again Sunday in Mayfield.

SOFTBALL SEASON TO OPEN HERE MAY 16

After several weeks of preparation and planning the directors of the Sunday School League have announced that the season will open here Thursday afternoon, May 16. Eight Sunday School teams will participate, with twenty-one games scheduled for each club. Some of the games will be played in the late afternoon, while the remainder will be played at night, according to present plans.

Directors of the Softball League met at the Methodist Church Monday night, with the president, Dr. Don P. Hawkins in charge. The proposed contract between the Softball League as prepared by K. P. Dalton, president of the Fulton Baseball Association, was read by the secretary. It was rejected on the grounds that the Sunday School League was unable to carry out stipulations of such a contract due to insufficient funds.

W. H. Cravens, principal of the South Fulton schools, was present and offered the Softball League the use of grounds on school property in South Fulton for use as a softball field. Mr. Cravens said that he had the approval of Mayor D. A. Rogers in the matter.

Work is to start in a few days on building of the bleachers to seat at least 300 persons, and to install eight lights necessary for the lighting of the field. Bids for the building of bleachers and installation of lights were discussed. Enoch Milner offered to donate all timber necessary for the posts to be used in building the bleachers.

The president appointed the following committees: Grounds—W. H. Cravens, chairman; Rev. Woodrow Fuller, Rev. W. H. Saxon, Don P. Hawkins, William Henry Edwards, Paul Bushart, Equipment—Don P. Hawkins, W. H. Cravens, Enoch Milner, Joe Browder Williams, Jack Carter, Rev. W. H. Saxon, Rev. Woodrow Fuller.

On motion W. H. Cravens was given full charge of concessions and granting of concessions on the grounds. Mr. Cravens pledged $25 for the support of the softball league when the football season of South Fulton opens this fall.

It is proposed that the grounds be improved for a softball park and for use by the schools and for other civic purposes. It is hoped that community events, such as fairs, picnics, football games, track meets, etc., may be held at the park. Development of this playground is felt to be a worth while movement.

PROPOSAL TO SELL FAIR GROUNDS UP

For sometime now there has been an indication that the Fulton Fair Grounds would be put up for bids, according to statements made by R. H. Wade, president, and J. W. Gordon, secretary, of the Fulton Fair Association. Bids will be accepted and opened on Wednesday, May 10, Mr. Gordon stated this week.

It will be remembered that a similar move was started about a year ago, at which time a committee of civic leaders met with the directors of the fair association and tried to reach an understanding by which the grounds might be acquired and turned over to the city for maintenance as a civic playground and park. At that time many expressed the opinion that it should be kept as a public ground, where agricultural shows, races, farm meetings and other civic programs could be carried on. Several stockholders in the fair association came forward with the proposal that stockholders, farmers, and local civic leaders combine their efforts toward making it a permanent civic enterprise. However, nothing definite was ever accomplished.

STRAWBERRY FETE BEGINS MAY 8

HUMBOLDT, Tenn.—With only a few days left until the opening of the Seventh Annual West Tennessee Strawberry Festival to be held in Humboldt, May 3, 9 and 10, the division heads of twenty departments are going top-speed in the final stretch to make this year's festival the most outstanding in the history. Dan S. Tuttle, general chairman, and J. Frank Warmath, vice-president, have all plans matured for the 1940 fiesta.

With no other celebration in the nation devoting as much time and effort on the glorification of a single crop, the Annual West Tennessee Strawberry Festival has taken its place in a class of its own nationally. Leaders of the festival organization have kept the serious side of the purpose of the three-day event annually in the forefront, and strawberry growers are reaping the dividends of a well planned and carried out program of building the strawberry industry in West Tennessee. Many thousands of dollars and as many hours have been spent in the past six years by interested business men and women growers in reclaiming a valuable fruit crop of West Tennessee.

From a beginning of a one-day celebration in 1934 with little encouragement to forge ahead in another attempt, the 1940 Festival will have the most complete and crammed program for three days and nights. As a pre-Festival feature, the annual Festival Golf Tournament will be held Tuesday, May 7, on the fine course of Humboldt Golf and Country Club. Charles M. Hassell and Ted Jones are in charge.

On the night of May 7, the climactic pre-Festival event will occur on Main Street when the Annual Street Dance and Jitter Bug Contest will start at 8 o'clock under the direction of Sy L. Baum, chairman. Billy Shelton and his Murray State Orchestra will furnish the music.

The gates to the main grounds will swing open Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock to find a well-filled first day program under the direction of Riley Clark and A. H. Williams. Daylight fireworks program and five free acts in the Strawberry Bowl will take care of the entertainment for the day, with the Festival Horse Show, attracting entries from all parts of four states to climax the day with a 16-class card, at 8 P. M. Ben Caldwell is chairman.

The second day program will feature juniors of West Tennessee, with 40 towns participating in the most gorgeous junior parade of children and floats on the principal streets of Humboldt in the morning program. This parade is under the direction of Mrs. A. H. Williams. The afternoon will open with the pet parade in the Bowl with C. E. Brock, chairman, cattle and livestock shows, balloon ascensions by Professor C. E. Swartz, noted balloonist, and free act program furnished by Ernie Young Production Corporation. The day's climax will occur Thursday evening at 8 o'clock when the Junior King and Queen Revue of West Tennessee will pass in a spectacular arrangement by Mrs. George W. Craddock, chairman, and her committee. More than 100 junior contestants from 40 towns will vie for the title of Junior King and Queen of the Seventh Annual West Tennessee Strawberry Festival. A mammoth fireworks program will draw the curtain on the second day.

Building up for the closing day, the program will be all but "too full," when the three-mile stretch of Grand Floats Parade forms on Fort Hill to wind its way through the streets of Humboldt at 10:30 A. M. Friday. A. X. Hunt, chairman, reports the 1940 parade promises to eclipse all former attempts in this division. Evan B. Jarrell is parade marshal. Governor Cooper, members of his staff and other state and national officials will head the parade.

The afternoon program will feature the Governor's Hour, Gibson County Home-Coming Program under the direction of Humboldt Lions Club, with Cecil Howse as chairman, and representatives of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The night's closing program begins at 8 o'clock, with 150 of West Tennessee's most beautiful queens from 50 towns and communities appearing on a stage-setting unequalled this side of Hollywood. This feature will be the outstanding parade of beauty in every respect and in the past has taxed all seating capacity of the ground. The Queen of the Seventh Annual West Tennessee Strawberry Festival will be crowned in fitting ceremony by Governor Cooper in this feature, which will precede the Queen's Ball as the program closer of three days of fun and frolic. Mrs. Fred Jacobs, territorial Queens' committee chairman, will be in charge. Charles Banks is the Queens' Ball chairman.

During the three days, a crowded hall in the Main Exhibits Building will have displays in the community Exhibits division, under the direction of Fred W. Jacobs, Vocational Agriculture Exhibits, under the direction of John Aycock and Marshall Stallings, and the strawberry show, a feature showing the results of six years effort in an improved strawberry, under the direction of Meill and Maxwell Senter. Besides an illustrated program on Soil Conservation that will be run continuously for the three days and nights under the direction of the U. S. Department of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service, the Tennessee Department of Conservation and other agencies will have displays in the main hall.

The Commercial Exhibits Department of the festival, under the direction of John Stovall, chairman and Maury Wade, co-chairman, will have a unique plan this year, and with a complete arrangement of entertainment will attract many in this division.

One of the outstanding attractions annually, is the Festival Flower Show and Antique China and Glass Displays which takes place in the auditorium of Humboldt High School on Festival grounds. Mrs. M. S. McKnight and Miss Laura Foltz, co-chairmen, are planning the most extensive Spring Flower Show in the state for this year's feature that attracts thousands of flower and antique lovers.

With a feature of the festival organization maturing just prior to the opening dates, and the plan that has produced results in the reformation of the strawberry growing industry of West Tennessee—the Field Judging Contest, under the direction of Thomas R. Wingo, Gibson County farm agent, Milton I. Baum and Sylvane Freed, co-chairman—will announce the winners of the contest on the closing night program. This field contest is carried on in the five strawberry growing counties of West Tennessee: Gibson, Madison, Weakley, Carroll and Crockett, under the direction of county farm agents with the cooperation of county bankers in each county. The county winners are named and vie for the title of champion grower of West Tennessee.

The Annual West Tennessee Strawberry Festival is a non-profit organization and receives the cooperation of hundreds of persons in West Tennessee and the state annually for the glorification of the luscious west Tennessee Strawberry.

NEAL OPPOSES CHAIN STORE TAX AS PUNITIVE LEVY

Farm Bureau Head Says Firms Have Aided in Reducing Surpluses

Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, today opposed the Patman chain store tax bill as a "punitive" measure which would hurt the farmers and result in increased food prices to consumers.

He told a House ways and means subcommittee studying the bill that chain stores often serve as local outlets for farm produce and have helped in cutting down surplus supplies through large-scale purchases from farmers' cooperative marketing organizations.

He pointed out that his organization condemns "discriminatory and punitive taxes of all types designed to favor or penalize a selected group," holding that such levies "have a damaging effect by increasing costs of distribution, increasing costs to consumers, reducing total consumption and limiting production in agriculture."

O'Neal entered into the record a letter from Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, who also is opposed to the Patman measure. Wallace wrote that in certain instances chain stores have served to reduce the spread between the prices paid farmers for their products and the cost borne by the consumer.

FARMERS TO GET MAPS SHOWING FIELD ACREAGES

Kentucky farmers in more than 70 counties will get accurately scaled maps showing acreages in their farm yields through county Agricultural Conservation Associations this spring, the state office of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration has announced.

These farm maps are being traced from aerial photographs used in checking performance in connection with the Agricultural Conservation program in county offices. Acreages, to the nearest tenth will be recorded for every field that has a permanent boundary such as a fence, a road, or a stream.

Already, through April 12, more than 18,000 farm maps have been traced and forwarded to Washington for reproduction of final prints. In several counties prints have been returned to association offices and distribution to farmers of these counties will begin soon.

More than 150,000 farms in the state have been photographed by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration during the past three years, and all fields on these farms have been or will be accurately surveyed from these photographs. As soon as the complete data can be assembled for farms that have been photographed, a traced map will be supplied to each farmer cooperating with the conservation program.

With one of these accurately scaled "bird's-eye views of his farm before him, a farmer has a better chance to study his crop rotation plans. The maps will aid in reorganizing field layouts for more efficient production and will eliminate confusion in the making of farm plans for earning soil-building allowances under the Agricultural Conservation program.

The drive against the chain stores is in full swing in congress. Representative Patman of Texas, anti-chain store leader, has introduced a bill which, if passed, would eliminate the large chain stores in their present form.

For example, the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, the country's largest chain-store system, operates 13,100 stores in more than 40 states. In 1938 the A. & P. reported net income of $9,119,114. Under the Patman Bill, this chain would be asked to pay a tax totaling $523,620,000. Thus to the A. & P. the passage of this law would mean the end of its system in its present form. The same thing would happen to other national chains, grocery or otherwise.

Why smack the chains? Representative Patman sees community life weakened:

Because employes of chain stores do not assume duties of local citizenship as well as local store managers.

Because absentee-owned interstate chains do not contribute to local relief, schools, churches and charities as generously as local business men;

Because chain stores buy from the large manufacturer and small local manufacturers suffer;

Because local insurance agents, job printers and lawyers suffer as a result of the chains centralizing all these activities in one or two places;

Because chain stores weaken local banks.

From all over the middle-west independent merchants and manufacturers have gone to Washington to seek passage of this bill. These small merchants want higher taxes, not for themselves, but for their competitors, the chain stores. They want congress to enact the Patman anti-chain store bill. They believe this bill will kill the chains. But can they shove it through congress? At present, about 72 of the 435 House members are for the bill.

Is it to the public's interest to destroy the chain stores? Patman and the independents say yes; many others say no. The outcome should be of interest to everyone.

Next week I shall tell of the defense given by the chain stores and their supporters.

Try this self-rating on yourself. I dare you to do it by checking "yes" or "no" opposite each of the following questions:

1. Do you ever cross the street in the middle of a block?
2. Do you ever cross the street at intersections when the light says "go" for vehicular traffic?

3. Do you walk with the traffic on rural highways?

4. Do you step out from behind parked cars to cross the street?

5. Do you back out of your driveway across the sidewalk looking neither right nor left and at a faster than safe speed?

If you can answer all of these questions with a "NO" you rate 100 per cent and are perfect. If you honestly must say "YES," then you haven't long to live.

REBUILDING FINLAND

Ambitious plans for the rebuilding of Finland's damaged cities and public institutions, including housing for 500,000 persons evacuated from their former homes, were discussed in New York recently by Alvar Aalto, a leading Finnish architect, and a group of his countrymen and American friends.

Mr. Aalto has been in this country in connection with bringing the Finnish exhibit at the New York world's fair up to date, and he will have an important part in the proposed rehabilitation program upon his return to his native land.

An organization for raising funds with which to rebuild the churches of Finland has already been formed by Protestant ministers of Scandinavian-American churches. Members of leading American women's clubs have also pledged themselves to cooperate in the rebuilding program.

The task of reconstruction is seen as an opportunity to make Finland serve as a laboratory for civic planning which would interest designers, architects and engineers of all countries. Plans include the building of four entirely new model towns, and besides the rehabilitation of those now existing.

It is hoped that the Finnish people may be permitted to live in peace in order that they may carry out the worthy plans they have in mind.

MOTORISTS' DECALOGUE

An exchange prints the following Ten Commandments for motorists, which we think worth passing along to our readers:

1. Thou shalt have one driver, and that one a good one, at the wheel.

2. Thou shalt not make false traffic signals, false laws nor serve them, but shalt obey all traffic signals and the law. Stop, look and listen.

3. Thou shalt not study the law in vain, for thou shalt not be held guiltless if thou art ignorant of the law.

4. Remember every day to drive carefully. Be courteous to all sons, daughters, servants, animals and strangers, that every day may be free from accidents.

5. Honor thy fellow motorist, that thy days may be long upon the highway which the state giveth thee.

6. Thou shalt not injure, kill, be unjust or inconsiderate.

7. Thou shalt not muddle thy brain with intoxicants, sleep, carelessness or any other enemy that hinders thy alertness.

8. Thou shalt not steal thy fellow motorist's part of the road.

9. Thou shalt not bear down upon thy fellow motorist or pedestrian unawares, nor blind him with glaring lights.

10. Thou shalt not covet thy fellow motorist's place or anything that belongs to him. Safety first takes no chances on sorrow. Mind your own business for conscience's sake, and above all, be courteous.

It is unfortunate that there is no way in which to utilize leftover advice.

The trouble is that after the worm turns it is just about as helpless as before.

THE FORUM

By J. PAUL BUSHART, Editor

A column conducted for news, views and comments, in which readers of The News are invited to participate. Mail contributions care of THE FORUM, this newspaper.

A few weeks ago I made a trip down through Mississippi and Louisiana. When I left Fulton Old Man Winter was still clinging on. The farther South I went, the more green appeared as Mother Nature unfolded a new harvest of beauty. The grass and trees were greener. The birds sang gayer and the sun shone brighter.

I found much progress in the South. New buildings were going up everywhere, the soil was being cleared in preparation for crops. Fields along the roadside were filled with cattle and dairy cows. Reaching McComb, Miss., I stopped over night with friends. The next morning before continuing onward to Baton Rouge, I drove around McComb to see what changes had been made there since I was in business there several years ago. I found that many new business buildings and residences had gone up, more streets paved, and a beautiful artificial lake created near the city.

Seeing the lake, and the dam projects at Sardis and Coldwater, Miss., made me wonder why Fulton had not obtained such a project. Seems to me that with the Harris Fork Creek overflowing this community from time to time, that if a dam were built above the city to hold back flood waters when heavy rains fall, we would not be bothered with these overflows which are disturbing and damaging to the city. This dam would back up enough water to form a lake which could be improved, stocked with fish, and provide a recreation center for this section of West Kentucky and Tennessee.

In Mississippi and Louisiana there are many oil and gas fields. Several of our local citizens, including Raymond Peoples, are interested in the development of one field near Meridian. At Baton Rouge wells are being sunk everywhere, including one of the campus of the university. Back yards, front yards have these wells. Many of these wells, where oil was not discovered in paying quantities, have escaping gas which has been touched off and blazes from vents high above the ground. Baton Rouge formerly obtained gas for local consumption from the Monroe, La., gas field, but now the city gets natural gas from its own wells.

Baton Rouge is the capitol of Louisiana, which has one of the most beautiful state capitol buildings in the United States, with its magnificent grounds artistically landscaped with almost every known flower, shrub and tree. The capitol building is 450 feet high, consisting of 34 stories. Its construction was completed Sept. 8, 1935, during the administration of Huey Long. It is constructed of granite and overlooks the mighty Mississippi River and the beautiful University Lake.

In recent years Louisiana has made steady progress. It produces 95 per cent of the sugar cane grown in the U. S., leads this country in the production of rice. As I went down, I saw strawberry fields to the right and left of the highways, and at Hammond these berries were being shipped to northern and eastern markets. Other agricultural pursuits include the cultivation of cotton, vegetables, oranges and livestock. Fishing, oyster and shrimp industries thrive, production of gas and oil is a major activity, with the Standard Oil having a three million dollar plant at Baton Rouge. Louisiana has several salt and sulphur mines, and the fur trade is a paying occupation among thousands who frequent the many bayous of that country.

I was impressed with three laws which have been enacted by the State of Louisiana, and which have been responsible to considerable extent for the rapid growth of the state in recent years. First, livestock is exempt from taxation. Second, homes up to $2,000 valuation and occupied by the owners, exempt from taxation. And third, industries locating in the state are exempt from taxation. And, third, ten years.

I thought, in this modern age, when legislators are seeking more ways of taxation, how much a similar situation would mean to us up here in Kentucky and Tennessee. Taxation has become so burdensome, and bureaucratic government is exerting such powerful influences, that it appears that the real foundation of economic progress has been forgotten.

The tax exemption feature enacted in 1936 by Louisiana brought about $37,000,000 worth of new factory construction the first year, employing 17,000 and adding $25,000,000 to the payrolls of the state.

HOME AGENT NOTES

The Fulton County 4-H Club council met for a supper at the NYA Building Friday, April 26, for the purpose of completing plans for the 4-H club summer activities. Mr. A. J. Lowe, president of the council, presided at the meeting.

The date for 4-H Spring Rally was set for May 24 at 7:30. The boys and girls demonstration contest, and girls style show will be held. The girls judging contest will be held in the afternoon with Fulton girls in charge of the Foods judging, Cayce girls in charge of the Clothing judging and style show, and Lodgeston girls in charge of Home Improvement judging.

An educational tour for the older 4-H club girls and boys was planned for August 15 and 16 to Muscle Shoals, Shiloh Park, Pickwick Dam and other places of interest.

Plans were also made for the annual 4-H club tour for all members on July 10 with plans to visit Pet Milk plant, Clothing factory in Mayfield and Noble Park in Paducah.

The Fulton County Homemakers clubs studied for the month of April, the importance of "Eggs and milk" in the diet.

Eggs are valuable and cheap food which should be included in the diet in some form every day. The egg contains protein which is independently capable of supporting growth and rebuilding muscle tissues. The egg yolk is an excellent source of iron which is necessary to keep the blood in a good condition. The egg yolk is a good source of vitamin A, which helps to keep the mucous membrane in healthy condition. The egg yolk is also practically the only food source of Vitamin D which has the special value for preventing rickets. Eggs are, universally liked, easily digested and may be served to people of all ages, to the sick as well and to those who are convalescing.

Using eggs in the menu—eggs may be served at any meal in a variety of ways. For breakfast eggs are usually served poached hard or soft, cooked in shell, baked or scrambled. Eggs may be served in different and interesting ways for lunch or supper such as omelets, souffles, creamed, stuffed, in salads or in the salad dressing and in combination with ham, mushrooms, rice, macaroni, etc. Eggs have a very definite place in the school lunch.

Regardless of the method used, eggs should be cooked at a low temperature.

Egg whites are often used for making frosting and meringues. Eggs which are several days old and have been kept at room temperature, whip more readily and to a larger volume than fresh eggs or those kept at a higher temperature. The following recipes are ones used in demonstrating the use of eggs:

CHEESE SOUFFLE

2 1/2 cups of milk
1 1/2 cup fine dry bread crumbs
1 1/2 tablespoons butter or other fat
3/4 lb. American cheese
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon paprika
Heat the milk, bread crumbs and fat in a double boiler. Add the grated cheese to the hot mixture and stir until the cheese has melted. Add this mixture to the well beaten egg yolks. Add paprika and fold the hot mixture into the stiffly beaten egg whites containing the salt. Pour into a greased dish and bake in a very moderate oven (300 degrees F.) for 1 hour or until it sets in the center. Serve immediately.

LEMON ICE CREAM

2 tablespoon cold water
2 tablespoon flour
Mix to a paste, add slowly 2 cups scalded milk. Cook over hot water 15 minutes then add 2 beaten egg yolks and 3/4 cup sugar and cool. Cook 2 minutes longer and cool, add juice of 3 lemons. All 1 cup of cream whipped and 2 egg whites beaten. Freeze in refrigerator without stirring.

Thousands of women are getting fat and losing their appeal just because they do not know what to do. Why not be smart — do what thousands of women have done to get off pounds of unwanted fat. Take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water first thing every morning to gently activate liver, bowels and kidneys—cut down your caloric intake—eat wisely and satisfyingly—there need never be a hungry moment!

Keep this plan up for 30 days. Then weigh yourself and see if you haven't lost pounds of ugly fat. Just see if this doesn't prove to be the surprise of your life and make you feel like shouting the good news to other fat people. And best of all a jar of Kruschen that will last you for 4 weeks costs but little. If not joyfully satisfied—money back.

is to make cottage in the home. Cottage cheese is a highly nutritious dairy product that can easily be made from surplus skim milk that might not otherwise be used for human food.

Formula for Making Cottage Cheese in the Home

1 gal. skim milk
1 cup sour milk
1/4 junket tablet dissolved in hot water. This skim milk should be kept at a temperature between 70 and 75 degrees F. until it sours or clabbers. Cut the curd in small pieces about 1 1/2 inches, place over hot water for about 30 minutes keeping at a temperature of 100 degrees F. Drain the whey and wash the curd in about the same amount of cold water as there was whey. Cheese cloth bag is good to drain the curd in. Salt to taste.

Cottage cheese mixed with one of the following make delicious sandwich spread when served on buttered whole wheat bread. You can also add chopped pimentos, nuts, olives, pineapple, canned peaches, dried apricots.

CAPITOL COMMENTS

In the coming Senate Primary, of which there has been much talk, many rumors have been started that would lead you to believe that Governor Johnson is obligated to Senator Chandler, and would be an ingrate if he backed Highway Commissioner Lyter Donaldson for the Senate against him.

The facts show an entirely different situation, as can easily be seen. Keen Johnson ran for Lieutenant Governor, on the Rhea-Laffoon ticket, made speeches over the State with Rhea, and was elected by that faction, although they lost the Governor's race in the second primary to Lieutenant Governor Chandler, who had taken the reins in his hands, when Governor Laffoon was out of the State, and called a special session of the Legislature to change the election law from a convention to a primary.

When Chandler and Johnson were elected, Keen stated privately to friends that the people elected Chandler as Governor and he would cooperate with him. He could have caused "Happy" much embarrassment if he had acted as "Happy" had when he was Lieutenant Governor under Laffoon, but kept to Chandler's policy all the weeks when the Governor was out of the State.

Keen Johnson even backed Chandler in his Senate race against Barkley, and when he started campaigning for Governor he used his old friends and not the Chandler-Talbot machine to help him win his race.

Lyter Donaldson was his campaign manager and did yeoman service in the election.

When Senator Logan died and left a vacancy in the Senate, Johnson appointed Chandler to that vacancy.

Who is obligated to whom?

in Louisville, and Kentucky will once more hold the attention of the nation.

People from every state and many foreign countries will be in Louisville for the race, and with a good publicity program, they could be induced to stay and visit in Kentucky and see its scenic and historic points of interest. This large source of revenue is lost to the State through lack of funds for a proper publicity campaign. The next legislative session should remedy this.

FARM FAMILIES RALLY TO FOOD PROGRAM
Over 30,000 Enrolled in State-Wide Movement in April - May 15 Deadline

Tennessee farm families are rallying to the state-wide food supply program in great numbers according to C. E. Brehm, director of the U-T Agricultural Extension Service. Reports from county farm and home agents indicate that well over 30,000 farm families will be enrolled by May 1, he said. The deadline for enrolling in the program is May 15.

To date over 200,000 enrollment cards have been distributed. All farmers whether landlords, tenants, share croppers, white or colored, are not only eligible but are urged to participate in this program. Every family that enrolls in the program and produces on the farm 75 percent or more of the foods necessary for a healthful, well-balanced diet for the family will be given a certificate of recognition by the Governor of the State next fall. The farm family in each county making the highest score will be given a plaque for distinguished merit.

The program is being conducted under the supervision of State and County committees. Cooperating agencies include: The State Department of Agriculture, Agricultural Extension Service, Farm Security Administration, State Department of Vocational Agriculture and other agencies interested in rural life.

STAGE SCREEN RADIO

A GREAT deal of traveling is going on at the Warner Brothers studio, most of it by sea. Errol Flynn and Brenda Marshall are sailing the ocean blue with a crew of 400 aboard the "Albatross" and "Madre de Dios" for scenes in "The Sea Hawk." On another stage Ann Sheridan and James Cagney are traveling from Honduras to New York aboard the "S. S. Arturo" in "Torrid Zone." She is working her way back to the States with an educated pack of cards, and he is trying to get away from a banana plantation.

Then there's "Till We Meet Again." For this one, Merle Oberon, George Brent and Pat O'Brien boarded the "S. S. Berenda" almost every morning for six weeks for a trip from China to San Francisco. For "All This and Heaven Too" Bette Davis crosses the channel from England to France. And all on the same lot!

Merle Oberon

The All-American College Queen, chosen from 462 colleges from the Atlantic to the Pacific, will be picked by Paramount in a national contest inaugurated in connection with the world premiere of "Those Were the Days," to be held in Galesburg, Ill., on May 21. College girls who have beauty and dramatic talent will be selected by the individual colleges; photographs of all entrants will be sent to New York, and from the 48 chosen for the semi-finals, (one for each state) 12 will be picked to go to Galesburg. The winner will go to Hollywood.

When you see "Diamonds Are Dangerous," (with Isa Miranda and George Brent in the leading roles), it's probable that you'll try to remember where you've seen one of the girls who plays a minor role.

The girl plays the part of a young lady who is having an extremely good time in a night club. She is very pretty, with blonde hair, blue eyes and a lovely smile. Perhaps you'll recognize her, for she is Virginia Lee Corbin, who made a million as a motion picture actress before she was 16.

From 1913 to 1926 she was a big name at the box office. Now she's staging a comeback, beginning as an extra. The money's gone, the public of today doesn't know her. But she's on her way up again.

Now that Dinah Shore has become the songstress star of the Ben Bernie program via Columbia, the boys at NBC who handled her publicity must be thinking that radio is a queer business. For a year now these lads have been giving Dinah a terrific buildup. They must have spent thousands of dollars on special photographs, stunts, and writers' time to publicize her name and talent. And what is the fruit of their efforts? Her first commercial program lands her on a rival network!

Twelve Hollywood tourists were drafted from Los Angeles hotels as jurors to give audience reaction to Rudy Vallee's new show. They were treated like a real jury; given supper, and promised breakfast if their deliberations took all night. Findings of jury were not made public by the foreman.

Benay Venuta, the vivacious singing star of the George Jessel program, has been telling friends this story. It occurred during rehearsal of the program on which John Barrymore was guest star. A photographer hovered about, anxious to get some shots of the actor, but fearful that he might object, as he was considerably annoyed with cameramen in general at that time.

Finally the photographer got up enough courage to approach the Great Lover. "Would you mind posing for pictures, Mr. Barrymore?" he asked. "Mind?" cried Barrymore. Then, leaning over, he whispered loudly, "Would you mind kissing Madeleine Carroll?"

Joseph Freni, the 23-year-old student of the french horn who was featured soloist on the Westinghouse program, Musical Americana, recently, is hoping that he'll spend the summer in South America. He is a candidate for the NYA All American Youth Orchestra, which will tour Central and South America under the direction of Leopold Stokowski. The final auditions haven't been held yet, but musicians who heard him on the Musical Americana broadcast feel sure that he has a pretty good chance.

Automobile fatalities after dark are increasing from year to year. Death during daytime actually decreases, according to statistics.

It is a known fact that most of the automobile traffic is in the daytime, but most of the automobile fatalities occur at night. Six out of every ten deaths occur while three out of every four cars are safely garaged for the night.

Think that over.

Poor city lighting and poor lighting on cars have accounted for some of this, while excessive speed after dark is one of the chief reasons. Slow down after dark. Dim your lights. It is only by education and by dimming your lights when another car approaches you that others will learn to do likewise. To assume the attitude that if the other fellow won't dim his lights, I'll not dim mine, is not proper.

It's smart to drive carefully!

MURRAY CO-EDS WHO KISS PUBLICLY WILL BE EXPELLED

MURRAY, Ky.—Co-eds who indulge in "hugging and kissing" in public will be expelled from Murray State Teachers College, according to a warning sent the student body, following an editorial in a local newspaper criticizing "kissing exhibitionism." An editorial in the West Kentuckian, Murray newspaper, assured it did not condemn the "art of kissing" but urged co-eds to withhold "exhibitions of osculatory demonstrations" until "they have fled far from the shadows of our downtown restaurants, soda fountains and public streets." Dr. James H. Richmond, president of the college, described the editorial as "stinging—because it was true" in a special chapel session to rebuke the offenders. Mailed from Chicago in the belief that "people are honest—especially mail carriers," a post card with a $1 bill pinned to it arrived safely in Tuckahoe, N. Y. Mrs. Marie Budge of Cincinnati was granted a divorce from her husband, Howard Budge, an English chef, on her testimony that "he doesn't like my German cooking." After fifteen policemen of Watertown, Mass., had spent seven hours searching for eight-year-old Robert Granfield, he was found at two o'clock in the morning, asleep under his mother's bed.

State Seizes Rum Stores Valued at Nearly $200,000

FRANKFORT, Ky.—Nearly $200,000 worth of liquor belonging to special exporters at Middlesboro and Fulton was seized by the state over the week end following decision by the Court of Appeals that the concerns were not entitled to continue operations. The companies had been selling liquor for re-sale in dry counties of other states and had continued in business under a temporary injunction after the state had refused to renew their licenses last July 1. Assistant Attorney General Harry D. France, state revenue department counsel, said the next step would be for the courts to determine ownership of the liquor, seized as contraband after appellate court dissolved last week the temporary injunction under which the exporters had operated since last July 1. Revenue Commissioner H. Clyde Reeves said 6,932 cases were seized from the Middlesboro Exporting Company at Middlesboro and 9,001 cases from the C. & G. Distributing Company at Fulton. He said the cases, 12 quarts each, were valued at $12 to $15 each. "Whether or not it is contraband is the question," Reeves added. "We think it is." Reeves explained the seizures were made because the two companies were operating without licenses. In 1938 five special exporters' licenses were issued by the state but after Tennessee had adopted local option last year and the state would not renew the licenses three concerns discontinued business. Governor Keen Johnson vetoed a 1940 act designed to legalize the exporting of such liquor.

6,448 COWS TESTED IN KENTUCKY DAIRY DEVELOPMENT WORK

Dairy development work in Kentucky last year included production records on 6,448 cows, according to the State College of Agriculture's annual report of dairy herd improvement associations. Testing was done in 234 herds in 13 associations. Average butterfat production for the 6,448 cows was 326 pounds, and of milk, 6,425 pounds. Thirty herds averaged over 400 pounds per cow, and 152 herds averaged over 300 pounds. Highest production was in the Jackson Purchase region where 305 cows averaged 378 pounds of butterfat per cow. Next highest was in Oldham and Jefferson counties. Hugh Gingles, Murray, had a herd that averaged 552 pounds of butterfat per cow, the highest in the state. Next highest was 495 pounds, made by the herd of M. D. Harrison & Sons, Farmington. The 25 best herds in the associations had an average income per cow over feed cost of $132.77. Herd improvement through proved sires was an important feature of the work of the College of Agriculture last year. A bull is considered proved when five or more of his unselected daughters have made production records which can be compared with the records of their respective dams. One hundred and four sires have been proved in Kentucky.

"Retonga Was A Heaven Sent Blessing To Me"

"It Is Too Bad That More People Don't Know About Retonga," States Well Known Kentucky Lady, Gives Facts in Own Case.

"It is too bad that more people who need Retonga don't know about this wonderful medicine," declares Mrs. Vick McCarty, well-known resident of Route 1, Crestwood, Ky., and also well known in Mt. Sterling, Ky., where she lived for many years. "My lower back hurt me so bad I could hardly stand up for the terrible pain," declares Mrs. McCarty. "I had to be up half a dozen times a night to relieve my bladder, and my nerves seemed to stay on edge. I lost sleep and rest until I felt worn out all the time. I suffered terribly from sour, gassy indigestion that often made me feel like I would smother. I had to use strong laxatives regularly, and still I had bilious dizzy spells and raging headaches. "Since taking Retonga I feel better all over. My bowels are regular, and I don't have to get up nights. I don't have any trouble now with acid indigestion or heart flashes, and those bilious dizzy spells and terrible headaches have stopped. I'm stronger than in a long time. Retonga was a heaven sent blessing to me." Get Retonga today at DeMyer Drug Co.
