THE LISTENING POST

● Gray skies, with cold driving rain; smoke which drifts to the south, pale sunlight and swiftly-falling dusk; horizons which suddenly seem much nearer than ever before and over all a misty haze as far as the eye can see—that is November and the beginning of winter. Except for the sudden gorgeous coloring of trees October now seems far away and long past, but October and beautiful fall still linger in the gold and scarlet of the trees. Every street in town is suddenly touched with this golden glory, woods along the highways and country roads are filled with unbelievable flame and color; but the coming of November serves notice on all that this glory is a fragile and temporary thing and will soon be gone.

● There is a new edge to the winds which blow in from the North. There is a sharp chill in early morning, and a quick chill at dusk. Before many days frost will come in killing, chilling manner, and all this glory of the past summer and fall will swiftly vanish. Frost has already come, but only tentatively, but before many days we will wake some morning and find the earth whitened with the mantle of frost and all living vegetation will die under that chilly caress.

● For a long time I have watched the changes of the seasons at the Country Club, but this year I have been watching it from a different place. This year I have been watching the football team almost every afternoon since the first of September, and it seems to me that the Bulldogs constitute a pretty good symbol of the changing seasons.

● It seems a long time since I saw those boys go to work on the first of September. It was blistering hot and dust rose in blinding clouds day after day. The grass was thick and matted and trees were luxuriantly green. The boys, after a summer's vacation, had little love for the task of getting in condition and it was torture to wear the heavy uniforms and pads in such sweltering heat. Day after day I watched them. I saw them in their first game and it seemed impossible that they could have learned as much teamwork in ten days. I thought they had reached the peak.

● They had not. Day after day, week after week, game after game, they welded themselves into a harder-fighting outfit. The heat passed finally and then came the rains. Twice they played games in wild rainstorms and ankle deep mud, and each of these games added to their ability to take it and give it out.

● This past week they have been driving themselves for the final game of the season, and the hardest. Those who see them only once a week in their games have no idea how hard these boys work. This week I have been watching them at Fairfield late in the day. Darkness comes early, but these boys do not pay any attention to darkness. It is really like looking at something ghostly to see them at work late in the day. They may be far down at one end of the field and I at the other. I can see only a line of figures and rounded helmets. I see them shift into a certain position. I hear a measured signal called, I see the

Graves Co. Is Not Sure Who Is Co. Attorney

Robbins Prevented From Taking Office By Court

Mayfield, Ky. —A ruling by Circuit Judge L. L. Hindman will be necessary before Graves county will know whether Aubrey Hester or Randall Robbins will be its county attorney from now until the first Monday in January.

A certificate of election was issued to Robbins this afternoon for both the short term between the November election and the first Monday in January and for the full term beginning then, but Hester will continue in the office under a temporary restraining order until a decision is given by Judge Hindman.

Robbins said that a date for the hearing before Judge Hindman has not been set. Hester executed a bond to protect Robbins in the event the latter wins the action.

Hester was appointed county attorney following the death of W. H. Wyman. He and Robbins filed as candidates for both the short term remaining after the November election and the full term beginning in January.

Robbins won the Democratic nomination for both terms, which was the equivalent to election, since no Republicans ran in Graves county.

At the request of Hester, Assistant Attorney General Guy Herdman gave him an opinion that the state constitution does not require an election to fill out the short period from the November election until the first of January, and advised him to file suit for an injunction to restrain Robbins from taking office.

Hester did this, and the circuit court clerk issued a temporary restraining order, which will remain in effect until Judge Hindman gives his decision in the action.

MORGENTHAU TALKS ANTI-INFLATION TAX LEVY PROGRAM

Washington. — Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau and several aides held a secret session with the House ways and means committee late today, members said, and discussed the possibility of early congressional action on a new anti-inflation tax program to raise about $6,000,000,000.

Legislators declared, however, that no decision was reached on the question of whether to go ahead immediately with consideration of the bill. The Treasury representatives were asked to return in the morning with more concrete data on the new revenue proposals.

Now is the time to subscribe for the Leader.

OPM To Direct Collection And Housewives To Sell Old Pans

Washington. — The junkman came back into his own Tuesday when the Office of Production Management announced that it and not Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia of New York would have charge of the next campaign to collect old pots and pans from Mrs. America.

William S. Knudsen, director of OPM, said that the mayor had made a "silly" mistake in connection with the recent campaign, in which housewives donated aluminum to the government for defense.

"The mayor thought that the government would give the collected pots and pans to the dealers and that dealers would sell them to the smelters," Knudsen said. "That's silly."

He explained that since the people gave the material to the government, it belonged to the government, and the most the junk dealers could have done was to make a small charge for sorting and cleaning the scrap.

As the thing worked out, piles of

SCHOOL HEADS HAVE CHARGE OF CLARK DRIVE

Movement To Erect Memorial To George Rogers Clark In Kentucky Gets Underway

Supt. J. C. Lawson, Fulton, Supt. J. O. Lewis, Fulton, Supt. J. M. Calvin, Hickman, have been selected joint chairmen of the George Rogers Clark Memorial Movement in Fulton County. The movement, as stated, "A Kentucky Movement by Kentuckians to pay Kentucky's debt to one of her greatest patriots," is receiving support from all parts of the state, including help from Governor Johnson, Superintendent John W. Brooker, President H. L. Donovan, of the University, the president of all of the colleges and prominent persons throughout the state.

It is believed that the plan for raising the funds will succeed because the individual contributions asked for are very small and because of the fact that Kentuckians are waking to the fact that, in neglecting General Clark, they have neglected not only one of their greatest patriots and benefactors, but one of the nation's as well.

The plan calls for contributions of five pennies each from school children, twenty-five cents from teachers, and one dollar each from the members of clubs, such as Kiwanis, Rotary, Woman's and D. A. R. In addition, each school is asked to present some sort of entertainment, such as a play, pageant, social, dance, movie, game, and to invite the public; the funds derived therefrom are to be contributed to the Movement.

Supts. Lawson, Lewis and Calvin will select a committee to help in the campaign. Their duties consist of organizing the work in the schools and clubs, making speaking engagements and securing speakers, helping and advising the schools in preparing and presenting the entertainments, arranging for publicity and checking with the principals, teachers and presidents of the clubs regarding contributions.

Supts. Lawson, Lewis and Calvin are three of County's outstanding civic and patriotic people. In their hands the worthy work, we are sure, will go over with marked success. This paper takes the lead not only in extending to them its best wishes, but its help as well.

DR. JOLLEY HERE

Noble T. Morse, Telephone Co. Employee, Has Interesting Hobby

Noble T. Morse, combination man for the Southern Bell Telephone Company of this city, has an interesting hobby—that of stuffing wild animals and birds—and the results of his labors are now on display in a window at the Little Clothing Company.

Mr. Morse became interested in taxidermy and took a correspondence course in it last Christmas and since that time he has stuffed about 30 different animals including snakes, birds, owls, possums, a fox, ground hog and many others.

His most prized exhibit is a Diamond Rattle snake, which was caught near Amanville in the Cumberland Mountains. This snake was 56 inches long and had 13 rattlers. When asked how he stuffed the snake, Mr. Morse replied, "I chloroformed it and took the fangs out and began skinning it. When the snake woke up, I was half through skinning it."

SUNDAY MARKS END OF CONFERENCE YEAR

Rev. Hartman Will Preach Final Sermon Sunday

The Rev. Loyal O. Hartman, pastor of the First Methodist Church, will deliver the final sermons of the Conference Year Sunday. Two large congregations and a liberal response in offerings will enable the Board of Stewards to close a most satisfactory year. Announcement concerning the meeting of every sacred obligation in full will be made just before the benediction Sunday night. The First Methodist Church maintains a world-wide program of hospital building, school maintenance, church extension and mission work which makes it unashamed to solicit funds from all who will share in the work. A less ambitious program would be unworthy of a great Church. The year's report including a statement from the pastor will be printed in the local press Tuesday. The pastor will leave for the 101st Memphis Annual Conference at Dyersburg Wednesday morning.

AMERICAN LEGION PLANS BIG DAY FOR NEXT TUESDAY

At the meeting of Marshall Alexander Post No. 72 last evening, plans were completed for the Armistice Day program; also all members of the post are invited to worship at the Cumberland Presbyterian Church at the 11:00 o'clock service on Sunday, November 9th. An Armistice Day program will be at the Fulton High school and members of the post will co-operate with the local schools, in carrying out the program. It will begin at 10:30 o'clock.

In the afternoon at 1:30 there will be a parade starting at the corner of Carr and Second streets. All ex-service men are requested to take part in the parade that will march down Lake street to Fairfield park to attend the football game between Mayfield and the Fulton Bulldogs.

All firms are invited to have representation in the parade, the decoration of vehicles, trucks or cars to be made according to the wishes of the participants. Individual cars are also invited to be in the parade.

The Armistice banquet will be at the First Methodist Church at 7:00 o'clock.

JUNIOR CARNIVAL CANDIDATES ELECTED

Candidates for king and queen to reign over the Junior Carnival, Friday night, November 14, at Science Hall, have been nominated at Fulton High school.

They are as follows: Senior—Earl Willey and Martha Ellen Duley; Junior—Johnny Sharpe and Miriam Browder; Sophomore—Robert Whitesell and Anna F. Orham; Freshman—Willis Miller and Betty Jean Joyner.

Another fantastic tale in regard to his hobby concerns the humming bird which is in the exhibit at Little's. Mr. Morse declares that this bird flew in the window of his car when he was driving down the highway and he caught it in this manner.

Most of his labors in taxidermy are done in his shop, constructed especially for this purpose, in the basement of his residence on Washington street and he spends a great many of his idle hours in stuffing these animals. He finds taxidermy quite interesting and he has become quite adept at the work, as the exhibit on display at Little's will prove.

Included in his collection is a hooded merganser, which, Mr. Morse informed the Leader reporter, is a rare duck. He failed to reveal where he found this duck.

MRS. ADA BYRD DIES LAST NIGHT

Hickman Countian Passes Away After Short Illness

Mrs. Ada Lewis Byrd, 69 years of age and widow of the late William Z. Byrd, passed away last night about mid-night at her residence north of town, Crutchfield, Route 1. Her death comes as a shock to her many friends and relatives, although her health had been poor for sometime.

Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Wesley Methodist church by the pastor, Rev. E. B. Rucker, assisted by the Rev. A. E. Holt of Milan, Tenn. Burial, in Hornbeak Funeral Home, will be in the church cemetery.

Mrs. Byrd was born and reared in Hickman county and she was the daughter of the late W. C. and Susan Kennedy Lewis. Her entire life was spent in this community. She was a fine, Christian woman and her death brings sorrow to her many friends and relatives. She was an active member of the Wesley Methodist church.

Her husband preceded her in death 23 years ago, having died in January 1918. She is survived by three children, Verlie Byrd, Mrs. Lottie Douglas, and Merchel Byrd. Eleven grandchildren and one great grandchild, as well as three brothers, Hamp Lewis of Hickman county, Luther Lewis of Water Valley, Porter Lewis, and a sister, Mrs. Susan Clark of Hickman county also survive.

REV. SPARKS GIVES INSPIRING MESSAGE

"Religion does not make a man useless or impractical," said Rev. George W. Sparks in his sermon at the Fulton Cumberland Presbyterian church last night. This comment was based on the experience of Daniel who would not be persuaded to refrain from his continuous "prayer-life" even by the threats of the ruling king. Daniel's persistence in worship and undaunted faith in his God caused the king to offer to him even greater trust and honor in the government.

He continued, "We need to open our spiritual windows toward the ideal. Dream of your life as you would have it be. See your community, your church, or your own life as you want it to be. Then, make an effort to make your dream come true. Only what men see as a possibility for them will come to pass as a reality in their lives."

Services are held each day at 9:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. You are cordially invited to attend.

LARGE CROWD EXPECTED FOR HOMECOMING GAME

Young Men's Business Club To Sponsor South Fulton-Hayti Game Tonight

The largest crowd of the season is expected tonight at Southside Park, when the Red Devils of South Fulton meet the Hayti, Mo. team for a return engagement. The game will be called at 8 p. m.

This is the second meeting this year of these two teams, South Fulton having won the first contest. Coach Haynes will send a revised team into the fray tonight, several changes having been made in the lineup. South Fulton lost its last game to Sharon in one of the biggest upsets of the season and the Red Devils hope to get back into the win column tonight. The Hayti team has improved a great deal since their first meeting, but Coach Haynes' boys are ready and in good shape. This should prove one of the best games of the present season.

The Young Men's Business club is sponsoring this game tonight and an interesting program has been planned. Before the game, a big parade will be staged through the business district, with the South Fulton and Fulton High bands marching. The bands will also perform between halves at the game.

The South Fulton football squad held a meeting yesterday afternoon for the purpose of electing a sponsor and two attendants who will head the parade tonight. Miss Mozelle Harwood was named sponsor and her attendants will be Misses Elinor Jane Bowen and Nell Bizzle.

FLOWER SALE WILL HELP DISABLED VETERANS OF U. S.

Tomorrow the people of Fulton will be given an opportunity to help disabled war veterans of the World War as various workers go about the city selling Forget-Me-Nots. All proceeds from this sale go to make the lot of disabled soldiers easier and happier and Fulton people have always generously supported this movement.

In connection with this movement, President Roosevelt recently wrote Honorable Lawrence Melton, national commander of disabled veterans, the following letter:

My dear Commander Melton: It gives me great pleasure to endorse again the annual Forget-Me-Not Day Drive of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War.

The purpose of your nationwide rehabilitation program supported by this Drive to extend needed assistance to members of our armed forces who become disabled, as well as to disabled veterans of the World War and their dependents, is indeed a worthy one and merits the full support of our citizens.

Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Rail Union Heads Discuss Wage Dispute

Defer Decision On Whether To Set Date For Strike

Chicago. —Chiefs of the rail labor organizations conferred today on what action they would take in their wage dispute with the railroads, but deferred a decision on whether to set a date for a nationwide strike of their 1,250,000 members.

General chairman of the five operating unions, embracing 350,000 workers, discussed the situation without reaching a conclusion but took time out to listen to President Roosevelt's radio speech from Washington—in which he urged workers to stay on the job while the United States was engaged in producing and delivering war goods.

Meet On Wednesday

Leaders of the 14 non-operating brotherhoods announced their general chairman would meet here next Wednesday to determine the course of their 900,000 workers and to consider the recommendations of Mr. Roosevelt's fact-finding board.

The board's report—handed to the chief executive yesterday—proposed temporary raises which fell far short of the employees demands.

The chieftains of all the labor organizations have been authorized to call strikes. Under the provisions of the Railway Labor Act they could order a walkout to take effect 30 days after the delivery of the board's report to the White House—in this case Dec. 5.

But they seemed disposed to postpone a strike decision until they examine all possibilities and the rank and file digests the board's proposals.

PROJECT AT SOUTH FULTON IS POSTPONED

The project for the construction of South Fulton high school's new $40,000 gymnasium, which was to have been constructed this fall, has been postponed until March, after the close of the basketball season.

This new gym, which is to be built with county funds, will have a room for the band, work shop and cafeteria on the ground floor and the gymnasium and auditorium. It will be ultra-modern in every detail and is a much needed improvement, as the present gym is too small to house the crowds that attend the Red Devils basketball games. Principal W. H. Cravens announced yesterday that work would be begun as soon as the basketball season was over.

Now is the time to subscribe for the Leader.

Boomtown Relapses Suddenly Into Hamlet After Hectic Period

Hermiston, Ore. —After a fleeting moment of boom-town glory, Hermiston is about to return to what it always was—a tiny green speck in Eastern Oregon's vast sage-lands.

Construction of the world's largest ordnance depot is nearing completion. The final bucket of concrete will be poured in the last of nearly 1,000 munition storage "igloos" by tomorrow and 3,500 workers will be released. By January 1 only about 150 men, the permanent staff, will remain. When the Army began chasing jack rabbits off the twenty-four-square miles site last March Hermiston's population was about 800. At the height of construction, when crews were pouring igloos at the rate of one an hour through night and day, 5,600 workmen were employed.

Hermiston sought frantically to handle the thousands who attempted to find the necessities and pleasures of life within its limits.

Men who yesterday were looking for work found themselves with $100 a week to spend.

KENTUCKY'S LAW IS BETTER THAN SOME

There are so many arguments against the proposal to federalize all the state unemployment compensation systems that some of the most telling ones have been overlooked in the comments which have been made on the matter.

Our attention is called to one of them by L. C. J. Yeager, president of the Kentucky Society of Certified Public Accountants, which went on record against the plan on Monday and adopted a resolution asking that the proposal be defeated.

He called attention to the fact that some state laws do not contain a provision that is one of the fundamental points in the Kentucky law. Our state legislature provided for a "merit" plan, under which payment to the unemployed, compensation fund by both the employer and the employee are decreased when a reserve account has been built up to a certain figure. This encourages the employer to keep his employees in their jobs, for steady employment contributes to the reserve account.

Comments by L. C. J. Yeager on these points follow:

"Few groups of people outside the administration are closer to the subject of Unemployment Insurance than the Certified Public Accountants. We have studied with interest the effects of the Social Security Tax upon the employer, the benefits which have been derived by the employee, the stabilizing effect upon employment, and the operation of the system as a whole by the Kentucky Unemployment Compensation Commission.

"The unemployment compensation laws of few, if any, states can compare with the basic soundness of the Kentucky law. The effectiveness of the merit rating system is at the threshold and the employer of stability has almost reached the time when he will be rewarded with a lessening of the tax burden. Kentucky employees, through their own 1 pct. contributions, have assisted in building up one of the outstanding unemployment compensation systems of America. Would it be fair to the employee, after years of contribution on the part of the employee, to federalize our system and hold out to Kentucky employees no greater benefits than would accrue to the employees in those states where no contribution has been required of the employee?

"When unemployment insurance was first proposed by the federal government a few years ago the administration of unemployment funds was considered a function of the various states. Shall the reward of efficient operation of the Kentucky Unemployment Compensation Commission be to federalize this function without a reasonable allowance of time for the experiment, and in the face of satisfactory performance both to employee and employer?"—Sun-Democrat.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

(Nov. 7, 1926)

The Lions Club at its meeting today had as guests Miss Doris Huddleston and S. W. Brown, who gave an interesting musical program. Morman B. Daniels was chairman for the meeting.

Announcement is made of the birth of a son, John Brooks, to Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bryan in Kirksville, Mo. The mother is the former Miss Mary Brooks of this city.

Dispatches from abroad indicate that France and Italy may be heading for warfare unless present tendencies are checked. Both nations have been engaged in making their armies and fleets stronger.

Miss Rachel Major will broadcast from a Chicago station on the evening of November 9. She will play first violin with the Chicago Woman's Symphony, of which she is a member.

The 87th annual conference of the Methodist Church will open tomorrow in Paris. Rev. E. M. Mathis is finishing his third year as pastor of the Fulton Church and has been endorsed for a fourth year. Membership of the church now stands at 851, the largest church membership in the city.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Stephenson and Miss Mary Louise Smith spent the week-end with friends in Martin.

Miss Maurine Taylor of Newbern spent the week-end with her parents here.

Mrs. W. W. Morris and son, Dudley, Mrs. Sarah Meacham and daughter, Virginia, motored to Jackson Sunday.

USERS BACK POWER CURB

Atlanta. An enforcement official today predicted a 100 per cent response by tonight of the O. P. M.-ordered blackout of non-essential electrical services in seven Southeastern States.

Maj. John C. Damon, enforcement officer for the O. P. M. power branch, declared that 95 per cent of power consumers complied Monday night with the order, designed to conserve drought-depleted power reserves for national defense industries.

Users Warned
At Damon's request, utility companies warned consumers yesterday to shut down advertising and ornamental lighting.

In Chattanooga, the Tennessee Valley Authority reported it was receiving "practically 100 per cent" co-operation.

James E. Carnes, general manager of the Nashville Electric Service, said power consumers in that city who failed to comply with blackout restrictions would be notified today that their power service would be discontinued.

With the changing season these boys have also changed. It is not the same team which started work on September first. True, the boys are the same, but they are harder, tougher, more confident, more aggressive, in far better condition than on that hot day in September when the team was first started. Their bodies bear the marks of conflict, they have known the heady taste of victory and the bitter dregs of defeat. For them summer has passed away and the end of the trail is in sight.

Uncertain World Conditions Make Systematic Saving Wise

It is not a time to rock the boat—but all of us know that in the face of conditions today systematic saving is wise. We know, too, that nothing is as safe as real estate.

The Building and Loan Association is based on the solidness of property. Our loans are made on it and our deposits are insured by the Federal Government. We offer the best method of real, systematic saving that is now available; we also are in position to help any frugal person own a home.

We will be glad to talk over these things with any person who wishes to provide for the future at any time.

Survey Shows Rapid Switch Into
Defense Work By 2,000 Plants

New York. —Increasingly rapid conversion of industrial plants to munitions making was reported today by the "Iron Age" on the basis of a survey of about 2,000 companies.

"The poll," said the magazine, "showed that the conversion of civilian product plants to defense goods is farther along than is generally believed, with companies in the poll reporting an average of 95.12 per cent of their current operations for defense."

"Of the 1,897 companies submitting complete answers in the survey, 1,178 said their rate of production had not been affected by priorities, but an even 500 companies reported priorities losses."

"Six hundred thirty-six companies told the 'Iron Age' they are short of steel, although not all of this number had actually been forced to cut operation for that reason."

"Three hundred seventy-four companies said they were short of non-ferrous metals, such as copper, aluminum and zinc, to a degree which has, in most cases, curtailed operations, while 145 companies declared their production has been handicapped by shortages of machine tools and small tools of various types."

"Industry and the public have been given a short breathing space by John Lewis, labor dictator, who has authorized the steel company-owned coal mines to operate without interruption until November 15 while the National Defense Mediation Board studies his 'closed shop or else' proposal for the mines."

"The possibility that the four employer and two public members of the Mediation Board will out-vote the five labor members on the coal mine closed shop issue has not been entirely cast aside, but most observers at mid-week believed Lewis would get what he wants from the board."

"Steel ingot production this week rose to 98 per cent, a gain of one point from last week's revised rate of 97 per cent."

"Although October bookings were not as heavy as in the record-breaking month of August, new orders did run 7 to 16 per cent ahead of the September figures. In the last few days, bookings have continued to exceed production."

"Structural steel awards dropped to 4,900 tons from 13,925 a week ago, the only large order being 3,000 tons for a factory at Toledo for the American Propeller Co."

ADMITS ARSON

Madisonville, Ky., —Ruby Hawkins, Barnsley, was jailed here in default of bond to await action of the February grand jury after County Attorney Carroll W. Morrow reported that Hawkins admitted he burned his home last September.

Morrow reported Hawkins said "my conscience has been bothering me," then told of firing the home four days after his wife and children left following a disagreement.

The attorney quoted Hawkins as saying:

"I guess it was intended as a protest or as an expression of resentment."

Hawkins waived preliminary hearing before County Judge Tom Logan on a charge of arson.

SPORT TALK

Another member of the Bulldog squad has been nominated for a place on the Western team in the annual East-West game to be played in Lexington late in November. This player is "Iron Man" Jack Tosh, rugged 188 pound tackle, who played every minute of every game last year, and who has been out very few minutes this season. Those who make the selection for the team could go far and wide and not find a better tackle than Tosh. Standing one inch over the six foot mark and weighing 188 pounds, Tosh carries no excess fat on his big frame, and is surprisingly fast for his size and the position he fills. Several times this season he has pulled out of the line to lead interference and he keeps pace pretty well with McClellan and Willingham. Hard driving on the offense, he rarely yields any yardage to the enemy on defense, and he usually plays every minute of every game. He is a difficult man to push aside and a lot of the stubbornness of the Bulldog line must be credited to him. A majority of the plays that start to run through his side of the line are piled up with very little, if any, gain. Yes, Tosh could well represent West Kentucky in this big all-star game.

By the way, it appears that none of the Hopkinsville players will be available for this East-West game. Hopkinsville has just arranged a game with Boy's High School in Atlanta to be played in the southern city on November 28, and naturally none of the Tigers will be available for duty in the charity game at Lexington. The Atlanta team, like the Tigers, is unbeaten and untied this season.

The weather rather put a crimp in Coach Giles' plans for the week of intensive practice in preparation for the tough Mayfield game. The cold rain which fell yesterday turned Fairfield into a morass, and not much practice was possible. Thus far the team is coming along pretty well and seems to have a lot of confidence in being able to hold the mighty Cardinals. Some new plays are shaping up rather well, but lacking sufficient reserves to practice against, the Bulldogs are not able to run against Mayfield formations a great deal. Coach Giles never has enough players to have a real scrimmage, and this has been a stumbling block all season. However, he professes himself well satisfied with the mental and physical attitude of his charges, and says he feels certain they will

FULGHAM NEWS

By Miss Docie Jones

The annual conference of the Methodist church convenes at Dyersburg, Tenn., November 12th. Next Sunday, November 9, will be the last appointment of the year for our local pastors. Rev. S. T. Parham of Wingo will preach at Jackson's Chapel at 11 a. m., and Rev. H. F. Clayton of Clinton will occupy the pulpit of Mt. Pleasant at 10 a. m. and at Salem at 11 a. m. Two of the churches are already paid out and the other plans to be "out in full" by conference.

Revival
The revival meeting at Bethel continues with good interest. Had seven professions last night (Tuesday). Rev. H. M. Southard, visiting minister, is assisting the pastor, Rev. Stephen Cobb. The services will close sometime this week.

Buys Place
Charlie Jackson of Detroit, while visiting here last week, purchased the Nelson Martin farm of twenty-one acres. The place is about a mile east of Fulton highway on the new WPA road (now under construction) known as the Watts-Kell-Armbruster road. Deeds were made Saturday, November 1. Charlie's father, Carry Jackson and family will move on the place.

New Arrivals
Mr. and Mrs. Curt Sullivan of Gilbertsville are announcing the arrival of a daughter, born Wednesday, October 29. She has been named Suzanne.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Ward are the parents of a ten-pound son, Mackie Lyn, born October 31.

Both mothers and babies are doing nicely.

2nd. Crop On Same Tree
Nineteen good-sized apples were gathered as the second crop this year from an apple tree on the Melvin Parrott place, from which Mrs. Parrott made two delicious pies Sunday. Marvin Cunningham of Clinton received one of the pies and he, too, vouches for its fine flavor. Mrs. Parrott also gathered her second crop of grapes from the same vine.

Attends Funeral
Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pillow and Mrs. Dewey House attended the funeral of Mrs. Ella Outshall at give a good account of themselves against the Cards. Some hard practice sessions have been held this week, the work continuing until dark, but there has been no grumbling and the boys seem to be thriving on this hard diet.

Mayfield faces two games in four days, and then faces Tilghman in the final on November 20. The Cardinals will play Bowling Green today in Bowling Green and then come to Fulton on Tuesday for the tilt with the Bulldogs. Newspaper reports indicate they are hoping to take Bowling Green largely with reserves, but they are a bit uneasy over the Bulldogs. Cardinal supporters say that the Bulldogs always play just a bit harder against Mayfield than against other teams, and local fans are hoping this will prove true this year. Talking with the boys it is not difficult to see that they really believe in themselves and this is worth a lot. If Coach Giles can bring his lads down to Tuesday afternoon at the peak, mentally and physically, the fans of both towns should see a lot of hard and good football.

Harmony Monday Mrs. Cuthall died Saturday night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Robert Taylor at Cayce. Mr. and Mrs. Pillow, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Humphreys and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lee visited in the Taylor home Sunday.

Seay-Corn
The marriage of Miss Nell Marie Seay, daughter of Talmadge D. Seay, First Avenue, Upland, Calif., and Ray Harold Corn of Phoenix, Arizona, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Corn of Upland was performed recently. The wedding occurred in Phoenix with Judge Harry E. Westfall reading the ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of Chaffey high school and the bridegroom is a graduate of both Chaffey High and Junior College. He is employed as a civilian flying instructor at Falcon field, the U. S. Army School, where cadets from England are being trained for the Royal Air Force.

They will reside at 310 North Fourteenth Avenue, Phoenix. The bride's parents were reared in our community and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Pillow, were one time residents of both Fulgham and Fulton.

Called Here
Curt Sullivan of Gilbertsville, Mrs. Bob Burkett and Mrs. Bill Spicer of Woodriver, Ill., have been called here to the bedside of their father, Harry Sullivan, who has pneumonia. A nephew, Frank Nail, and family of Princeton were also called.

Accident
Vessie Jean Evans, ten-year-old daughter of Mrs. Elcie Pierce, suffered a painful injury in a fall Saturday night, cutting a deep gash on her hip which required six stitches to close. She was carried to the Fulton hospital for first aid and returned home.

A Happy Occasion
Mrs. Gladys Puckett, widow of the Guy Puckett, and her three small children were overjoyed at the practical way in which neighbors and friends remembered her birth anniversary Monday night. More than sixty adults made a surprise visit with an abundance of groceries and dozens of others sent gifts. The shower included eight sacks of flour, a dozen ten-pound bags of sugar and all kinds of "eats" plus five dollars in change.

Monday Gladys mailed a card to her dad, Jess Morgan in St. Louis, telling him it was her birthday but to her it would just be "another day." Tuesday she mailed another card that carried a different message, one of joy, gladness and appreciation. Incidents like this made us more conscious of the wonderful community in which we live.

Personals

Alben W. Barclay of Ft. Leonard, Wood, Mo., arrived Saturday for a two-week visit with his father, Joe Barclay before going to the west coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Grissom of Chicago are visiting Mrs. Grissom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Kell.

Our first basketball game of the season will be played at Wingo, Friday night, November 7, at which time Wingo crowns her basketball queen. Our school cafeteria is not only a pleasing project but a paying one, too, since a $37.00 debt for equipments, canning jars, etc. has been canceled. The children's department of Mt. Pleasant gave a good program last Sunday with two or three special numbers and with little Billy Brinkley as superintendent. Attendance was Salem 36, Jackson Chapel 39, Mt. Moriah 25, and Bethel 83, where the revival meeting is in session. Mrs. Eliza Franklin, sister of W. M. and Ed Watts, died in Louisville seven years ago, November 4. Five years ago on the same day Richard Aroher died in Hopkinsville and Billy Babb passed away twenty-one years ago this week. Tom Vivrette had a good cow to die last week. John Wright, a retired tobacco man of Mayfield who is nearing 90 years of age, says he taught school at Hundley's about 70 years ago and Tom Hundley, who died at his home in Fulton a few years ago, was one of his teen-age students. Uncle Sam Seay and Tom's father, John Hundley, were the trustees. Wednesday, November 5—The election here yesterday broke records and made history for the present generation in Hickman County. Nancy Day Montgomery was elected County Attorney by a "write-in-name" over Dr. T. L. Lampkin, nominee. Majority 100.

For Some a Thanksgiving....

We are again in the season when men give thanks for benefits and blessings. That is WISE and JUST. Yet, this year more than ever, somber thoughts must mingle with our thanks.

As a people, we Americans give thanks for a blessing that IS a blessing because it has been denied to so many others—for having up to now been spared the ravages of war.

As a community, our Illinois Central territory has been blessed by good crops and a considerable revival of industry. We hope both may continue—with profit eventually on a sounder basis than that of the present emergency.

As railroaders, we who work on the Illinois Central are thankful that we have been able up to now to meet the test of greatly increased demands for our service. We thank the shippers and receivers of freight who quickly loaded and promptly released our cars.

YET WE KNOW that further tests are coming and that the railroads will have to be assured the materials they need to keep going. AND WE KNOW, TOO, that one reason our task up to now has been lightened has been because of dislocations of industry incident to national defense, and we deplore the resulting unemployment and losses.

Therefore, in giving thanks for what we have, let us resolve to work toward a future which will even more certainly bless and safeguard us all.

J. H. Benson
