New Frontier, Here!

Every year about this time we all like to slow our pace a little, look at the old year and its developments, and ahead at the new and its potentials. This time we are looking forward a lot harder than we have looked backward; the future seems to hold a tremendous promise for all of us here in Fulton, in Fulton County, and in all of West Kentucky.

This year of 1951 bids fair to see the dawn of a new and tremendously important era for all of us . . . an era in which our population may double, triple, quadruple in this section . . . an era in which industrial development, now beginning, may take unheard-of strides in all communities of this power-packed region . . . an era which bids fair to see our sons and daughters find happy and gainful employment right here at home instead of in Detroit, Florida, Oklahoma or far-off areas . . . an era in which many who have left "home" may return to it finding plenty of work to do.

On this, the threshold of 1951, we see a long-vanished frontier emerging as a brand-new frontier all over. The harder we look at it and its possibilities, the bigger it grows.

Just consider these things and see if you can feel otherwise:

1. Last year the Texas Gas Transmission Corporation laid a big gas line less than three miles east of Fulton and now is applying for a duplicate, to be laid alongside the other. Either are readily tapped at Fulton or other communities in the area and will offer an immense supply of this fuel in this area.

2. Another gas line is now started, and it will pass just west of Fulton; it is being laid by another company, and will probably also have gas for sale.

3. An immense atomic-energy plant will soon begin construction not over 50 miles away.

4. Two steam-power electricity-generating plants are to be constructed in the vicinity of the atomic plant. We may presume that their total electrical output will be used at the atomic plant for the present, but should its wartime necessity come to an end, they will have immense power to supply to someone else.

5. The government is contemplating (as far as we can learn) utilizing the full efficiency of Kentucky dam by adding the rest of the generators to the powerhouse; further, a full-sized high dam of like stature is being planned across the Cumberland in the same area. Add this electrical output to that of the tremendous steam plants and you have the biggest concentrated supply of electrical energy in the world . . . being generated right in your front yard.

6. Fulton is the hub of the Illinois Central, and practically everything being developed is alongside I. C. tracks; we see a great future for the I. C. and its promotion of industrial growth in this area. We may see great system enlargement here at Fulton.

7. The whole area between the Cumberland and Tennessee rivers, in Kentucky, we are told, is full of iron ore that may sometime in the future be worked heavily as the better grades are now at Birmingham. The power will be here; the gas will be here.

True, many of these developments will not happen right away; some may not happen for ten years or more; we may not feel the impact of private industrial expansion for 15 years (depending on the possibility of total war). Yet it is with a feeling of confidence that we face 1951 and the years to come here in Fulton, confidence in a progressive future based on the potentials that our area offers. Only an isolated few areas inland in the nation can feel as full of promise as this.

In conclusion but by no means the least important of this summary, we point with pleasure and satisfaction to the progressive and profitable farming in our area, which has made great strides in the last 10 years and bids fair to continue. In our immediate area we have some of the finest herds in the nation and the grass-farming program will bring great new development to this area in years to come. Seven of the ten wealthiest counties in the United States (from the standpoint of wealth produced from their own soil) are either totally or partially in dairying.

We have a new frontier here in the Purchase . . . a new potential growth that may see rival communities join hands for their common good, in projects too large for the individual to undertake . . . a new frontier that may reverse the population trend away from the State and fill it with new faces, and new wealth.

DO IT N-O-W

Here is a word of suggestion for Mr. Businessman and Mr. Homeowner in the Fulton area.

Pretty soon construction will begin on a huge atomic plant, and a steam-generating-plant within 50 miles of Fulton. This hurry-up project is going to take a lot of men . . . a lot of such people as carpenters . . . bricklayers . . . plumbers . . . painters . . . electrical and other tradesmen that you may now depend on for your work.

Everybody isn't going to jump up and go to work up there, of course, but those who are left may be few enough (and the material they may have available may be little enough) to create some bad bottlenecks in doing your work at some future date.

If you have a job to get done, and plan to do it later anyhow, do it now.

Prayer For Peace

This story is an example of the good that prayer can do in a warring world.

On Oct. 24, United Nations Day, Postmaster Lewis E. Moore suggested to the 800 employees in the postal system that all work be suspended one minute at 11 a. m. for silent prayer.

Mr. Moore felt, he said, that collective prayer might aid delegates to UN in charting a road to eventual world peace.

On Oct. 30, Albert Raffety, superintendent of the money order department, and his assistant, Watson Ridley, asked permission to hold one minute of prayer in the department daily.

Mr. Raffety is a leader in the Roman Catholic Church. Mr. Ridley is an ardent worker in the Church of Christ, a Protestant organization. Among the other 18 men in the department, almost every other religious faith is represented: Jewish, Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian, Episcopal, etc.

Mr. Moore pondered the request and then gave his consent.

At 9:30 a. m. the next day all workers were summoned to a corner of the room. Prayer was led by Mr. Raffety. The next day it was led by Mr. Ridley. The next day by a Methodist. The next day by a Baptist.

The prayer rotated among these four for several days. Many of the other men never had conducted prayer in public and could not bring themselves to do so now.

After a few more days, one of them volunteered. Another new one led the prayer the next day. Then another and another came forward promptly at 9:30 a. m. each day.

The morale of the department has heightened remarkably, its efficiency has increased, and it has become one of the smoothest operations in the entire organizations, Mr. Moore says.

Now the prayer leadership rotates among all the men.

Twice the men have had Mr. Moore, a member of the Church of Christ, lead the prayer.

100th Anniversary

Next month the Illinois Central Railroad celebrates the official marking of its 100th anniversary; the whole year 1951 will be known as the Anniversary year.

Since Fulton owes its very founding and practically its continued existence to the I. C. and its predecessors, we are in hopes that the year will not pass without some kind of a grand and fitting salute to the railroad and its employees by the combined efforts of everyone in and around Fulton.

We may be able to tie-in with something the railroad has planned, or we may originate something ourselves, but one way or the other we feel sure that the road, its officers and its employees will warmly appreciate a nice pat on the back by even one of the smaller communities along the line. Think it over.

STRICTLY BUSINESS

Turning Back The Clock

January 8, 192:

Mayor W. O. Shankle took over the reins of the city government at the council meeting this week, and the following were appointed to office: Thos. H. Chapman, city clerk; Bailey Huddleston, Chief of Police; Ed Drysdale and Harve Hart, assistants; Geo. T. Beadles, city treasurer; Bertie Pigue, treasurer city water works; Lee Roberts, Chief fire dept.; J. E. Rankin, street and water supervisor; Mr. Baulch, cemetery sexton.

The buzz of industrial whirl is being heard in Fulton: Cooley and Sadler have opened the new Federal laundry at 118 Lake Street; Smith Atkins and his West Kentucky Finance Company have opened for business; The Farmers Bank is planning to build on the lot next to the Franklin store; the new $75,000 Methodist church will be started before the year closes, on the lot now occupied by the old Lewis tobacco barn; a $70,000 sewerage system is to be built; the Fulton-Hickman road, will be hard surfaced this year and many new dwellings here are under construction.

Squire McDade has returned from Union City filled with joy, having been assured that the new Jeff Davis highway will be run from Fulton to Union City as originally surveyed. There was a strong fight to have it run through Jordan and north to Cayce, Moscow, Clinton and thence to Mayfield.

Miss Nell Owen entertained with a beautiful Watch party Thursday evening honoring the senior class of Fulton High School. Punch was served throughout the evening by Misses Mildred Graham and Ruth Russell of Grand Junction, Tenn., a house guest of Mrs. George Roberts.

The Supt. of a Western railway had issued strict instructions ordering station masters along the line to report accidents immediately. The very next day he received the following telegram:

"Man has fallen from platform in front of speeding engine. Details later."

Five minutes ticked by, then came:

"Supt's office: Everything okay nobody hurt; engine was going backwards."

Mrs. Ruth Finch, Chestnut Glade correspondent, stated the following in her column this week:

"Chestnut Glade . . . where is that, many people ask me, which impels me to tell you something about it.

Dick Oberlin:

Oberlin's Observations

Just as Harry Truman is a human-being quick to show his emotions, he is also a veteran of the dead-pan. This was evidenced at last week's news-conference for White House correspondents, when he met all questions political with a smile. Outwardly, the President wasn't a bit ruffled by the very fact that he has a battle on his hands with the 82nd Congress.

around which the universe revolves. It is a monument to unselfish co-operation, a consolidated high school district in the northern part of Weakley County . . . established eight years ago. We have been wonderfully blessed with teachers. Prof. Morgan, resigned, to enter the spring term of school, has been replaced by Prof. E. Lowe, and is assisted by the following staff: Prof. S. A. Barrax in agricultural work; Miss Robby E. Latta, domestic science and languages; Miss Marion Nix, 7th and 8th grades; Wayne Lamb, 5th and 4th; Mrs. Vowell, 3rd and 4th; Mrs. Martha Nix, 2nd and Mrs. Myrtle Temple, 1st.

January 9, 1931:

Mrs. Sara Elizabeth Noonan formerly of Union City and Fulton, was buried near Moscow, Ky., Tuesday following her death in Memphis. When they lived in Fulton, Mr. Noonan was proprietor of a mill on Walnut Street where Irby's store now stands.

The following officers were elected to head the Lions Club for the coming year: Dudley Smith, President; Steve Wiley, Frank Beadles and Dr. J. L. Jones, vice-presidents; Smith Atkins, secretary; Glenn Lane, treasurer, and Lawson Roper, to the Board of Directors.

Misses Ruth Fields and Katherine Williamson will be hostesses to the Music department of the Woman's Club Jan. 14; Miss Doris Huddleston will be program leader, assisted by Mrs. Chas. Brann, Mrs. H. F. Riddle, Miss Mary Follis and Miss Sara Butts.

6-week honor roll at Jordan high school: (Freshmen): Louise Shuck, Martha Lyle Shuck, Iris McDaniel, Bonnie Ward and Mack Burrow: (Juniors): Mary Francis Hardy: (Seniors): Maggie Lee Hardy, Blanche Stephenson, Barnard Evans, Wilson Evans and Hessel Ward.

The Governor of Pennsylvania has come to the rescue of the motorist by declaring war on those big busses which go racing over the highway in excess of the 30-mile speed limit.

Mr. H. H. Stephens and Mrs. Nannie Gates, both of near Fulton, were married December 28th by the Rev. N. W. Lee . . . Vancil Bynum, 7, died Saturday of tetanus . . . Billie Terrell, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Looney, passed away Friday.

Crutchfield: Our school is progressing nicely under the leadership of Prof. Cherry, ably assisted by Mrs. J. C. Sugg in the high school and Miss Cherry, Mrs. Howell and Mrs. White in the grades; Miss Ruel Flippo has a class in piano music.

Inwardly, he must be at least a trifle fearful of the road ahead. It was bad enough for Mr. Truman to lose control of Congress in the November elections. But it was even worse and indicates an even rougher road ahead for conservations in his own party to take over the Congressional machinery.

He actually lost control since the sothern bloc of Democrats is closer spiritually and philosophically to the Republican party than it is the more liberal elements of its own party.

By the time the President held that news-conference, the 82nd Congress had been in power only 24 hours. But already he had suffered two defeats. One was the selection of Conservative Senator Ernest MacFarland of Arizona as Majority Leader, succeeding the vigorous Fair-Dealer Scott Lucas of Illinois. The other was the action of the Dixie-Democrats — Republican coalition in returning to the House rules committee the authority to bottle-up legislation. A number of things become obvious as a result. In the first place, the President is courting trouble if he submits any genuinely controversial matters to Congress.

In the second place, his next two years will be extremely rough and trying ones at best. Since he has recently demonstrated quite a penchant for blowing his stack, this state of affairs might result in some highly explosive displays concerning capitol hill.

That they are feared at this critical time in our nation's history is unfortunate.

We had similar situations back in 1938 and again in 1946. And what happened? The strong Republican tint of Congress was met head-on by determined men with aggressive programs which were popular with the people. Franklin Roosevelt in '38, Harry Truman himself in '46.

One question, then, keeps recurring—Won't the GOP ever learn?

Mr. Truman, if he is a candidate for re-election in 1952, and there is no reason to believe he is anything else, might follow the twice tested-and-proved method of going aggressively forward with his program and make certain that it obtains enough publicity so that the people will thoroughly understand it.

The preparations for war are an imponderable part of this, however. We must consider the upsurge of isolationist sentiment, bolstered by the statements of Robert Taft and Herbert Hoover.

Most people thought that isolationism was extinct after the late Wendell Willkie wrote his "One World" analysis and Arthur Vandenberg took up the torch of a bi-partisan, international co-operation foreign policy. Apparently, most people were wrong.

We are undoubtedly feeling a great loss by the lack of the strong and respected hand of Senator Vandenberg at the helm of Republican foreign policy. He is extremely ill, and even if he does muster enough strength to return to Washington in an effort to do what he can to salvage the country from its internal woes, he probably is simply too ill to be effective.

But the total product may not be quite so gloomy. In recent emergencies, all but the most reactionary isolationists elements of the Republican party have rallied to total and willing co-operation with an administration with which they were far from being sympathetic, because the survival of the United States was threatened.

If real crisis develops, they will undoubtedly do it again.

But actually, control of the government now is in the hands of the Republicans, and what happens for good or bad in the next two years will be, for the most part, their responsibility.

Annual Report to our friends and neighbors

When you read this report, you'll find that a railroad like the Illinois Central is a lot closer than you thought to you and its other friends and neighbors.

Consider the freight we hauled last year. It included the fruit you had for breakfast, the meat on your dinner table, the flour in your bread . . . maybe a new tractor, a pair of shoes or lumber for your new house.

We hauled more than two million cars of such freight for you and the other people of Mid-America at an average charge of 1-1/5¢ per ton mile. Which is very inexpensive transportation at any time—and particularly now.

To do this job the Illinois Central paid 37,500 railroaders some $136,000,000 in wages, and spent another $71,300,000 for materials, supplies and outside services. In addition, some $36,000,000 went for taxes.

To improve our service, we added 400 new freight cars, 17 passenger cars and 56 modern locomotives to our fleet and laid new and heavier rail on 250 miles of main track.

But most important of all, the Illinois Central met the emergency transportation demands of 1950 . . . and is today prepared to meet every demand that may arise in 1951.

And, as we have for 100 years, we paid our own way, used our own property and received no subsidies from any source. For the Illinois Central remains determined to earn its way among free men in a free world.

MRS. CARR HOSTESS TO MAGAZINE CLUB

Mrs. Herbert Carr entertained the Woman's Magazine Club with a lovely luncheon last Thursday at her home on Second Street.

Eight members and one visitor, Mrs. Leslie Weeks were present. After the luncheon a business session was conducted by Mrs. Walter Hill, president. Roll Call was answered with current events. Mrs. Sue Schoe gave a report on Margaret Truman.

Cayce Church News

There was a fellowship meeting Monday evening, January 1, at the Assembly of God Church in Cayce, Kentucky. It was the monthly fellowship meeting for the Assembly of God churches in this section. The following churches were represented: Assembly of God Church, Arlington, Kentucky; Assembly of God Church, Clinton, Kentucky; Assembly of God, Union City, Tennessee; Old Republican Church, Tennessee. Other visiting churches were: Full Gospel Tabernacle, Paducah, Kentucky; The Church of God, Fulton, Kentucky.

The attendance was outstanding. All seats were taken and many were standing. It was found that four states were represented — Kentucky, Missouri, Illinois, and Tennessee.

The song service was conducted by the young people. A number of special songs were rendered. Bro. C. A. Welch, pastor of the Full Gospel Tabernacle, Paducah, brought the message for the evening under the anointing of the Holy Spirit.

Bro. Welch's theme was on divine healing. In his message he told how divine healing is for us today. It is God's will to heal and He is no respecter of persons. The Christ we serve is living and not dead. He has the same power today as He did when He walked the shores of Galilee. Bro. Welch told a little of his testmony of how God saved him from the life of a wine and beer gubler.

He concluded his sermon by bringing forth the fact that the greatest healing is the healing of a sin-sick soul that has turned to God and is saved. As the altar call was given several responded and knelt at the old fashioned altar. Bro. Welch also prayed for all the people who needed healing in their bodies.

Through-out the entire service the presence of God was felt and at times waves of rejoicing would sweep over the congregation. There was no better way to start out this new year of 1951 than being in this wonderful fellowship meeting.

As we enter this war darkened year we can put our trust in the only one who can help us, Jesus Christ. The next fellowship meeting will be the first Monday in February at the Assembly of God Church, Clinton, Ky. Plan now to attend.

Mrs. Roy Watts
Freddie Towles has returned to Tinkerfield, Okla., where he will remain for a few days after spending the holidays with home folks and friends.

Norman Terrell has returned to his work after being home with his parents and friends through the holidays.

Mrs. Neuman Croft is home and slowly improving. She attended church Sunday and we were all so proud to see her at church again.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshal Rogers and son, Winfrey, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Potts and son, Randall, Mr. and Mrs. Lon Watts had supper with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Watts during Christmas and all enjoyed the evening very much.

Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Riggs moved to the Morris place north of Pilot Oak on the old Mayfield road.

Mrs. Walter Permenter was visiting her sister a few days ago and started down a flight of steps and fell. No bones were broken but she was bruised and shook up and is very sore but able to be up and around.

We are glad to report Beecher Finch has his new telephone line up and is taking service again.

Cortez Pickle and wife, Shirley of Detroit visited Mr. and Mrs. Roy Watts last week. They were well and we were really surprised to see them.

Theron Jones and family visited Mrs. Jones' sister in Wingo Monday and Theron drove over to Mayfield to the tobacco sales.

Mr. and Mrs. Finis Stockard and son, Larry, Mrs. Willie Hendon and daughter, Virginia of Milan, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Watts were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Potts last Sunday.

Mrs. Tilman Oliver is slowly improving.

County Court Clerk Can Marry Em, It Says So Here

Assistant Attorney General H. D. Reed, Jr., said today the law permits a person to be both county clerk and county judge pro-tem. He also said a county judge pro-tem, who takes the place of the county judge when necessary, may legally perform marriages when acting for the county judge.

The opinion went to Justice of the Peace J. C. Fay of Whitesburg.

In another query about holding two public offices, Assistant Attorney General M. B. Holifield said it would be illegal for a city tax assessor to hold office also as a member of the county board of tax supervisors. That opinion replied to a question from Owen Dearing of Lebanon.

VERNON JOHNSTON IS GENERAL AGENT

The appointment of Vernon T. Johnston as executive general agent of the Illinois Central Railroad at Jackson, Miss., effective January 1, 1951, was announced by Vernon W. Foster, vice-president and general counsel.

Mr. Johnston is a native of Illinois and attended public schools and the University of Illinois at Champaign. He served overseas as a sergeant in the field artillery for two and one-half years with the famous Rainbow Division during World War I. Upon graduation with a B. S. Degree from the School of Commerce in 1920, Mr. Johnston joined the Illinois Central as a vouchers clerk in the accounting department at Champaign. He served in various accounting jobs there until 1931 when he joined the athletic staff at the University of Illinois. In 1932 he was appointed acting county treasurer for Ford County at Paxton, Ill. He was elected county treasurer in 1934. Upon expiration of his term in 1938 he returned to the Illinois Central as a tax examiner in the Land and Tax Department at Chicago. He was promoted to wage inspector in the Personnel Department in 1942, and in 1943 served as chief clerk and personnel assistant. He was appointed office manager in that department in 1944, which position he now holds.

Mr. Johnston is married and has one daughter, Barbara.

THREE BROWN SWISS BULLS NOW IN STUD

Illingdale Grano Niagara Boy—62078

The Kentucky Artificial Breeding Association has recently added three Brown Swiss bulls to the Stud and service to these sires is available in all Local Cooperatives. The addition to the barn for housing the Brown Swiss bulls will be completed in about a month and the remainder of the battery of Swiss bulls will be brought in. The sire, Illingdale Grano Niagara Boy, pictured above is a good proven Brown Swiss sire. He is a grand son of Jane's Royal of Vernon and has nine daughters that average 11,513 pounds of milk and 464 pounds of butterfat. This average exceeds the average production of the dams by 1243 pounds of milk and 66 pounds of butterfat.

School News

JUNIOR NEWS

Well, I guess you think its time you heard how the Junior Class is getting along. Well, I think we do have a little news that you haven't heard since last year.

LH has found her a new flame from South Fulton and she seems very happy. Good luck, L.

SM who is this we have been seeing you with lately?

MSS is still carrying a torch for that guy, Buster.

GY is it still JB? Good luck.

MD was that JC you were with Sunday night? Watch out for that girl in Dukedom.

DPB and SAB seem to be doing alright with the boys from Jackson.

PM is it still BSC? You had better be careful because it seems a certain Senior girl is after him.

DLP seems to be having trouble with his girl. Can we help, DL?

JV is it VM or is that Senior boy still trying to get her to go with him?

EK what happened to you and BC?

FRESHMEN NEWS

Well, GSB here it is starting another year. Is it still JS?

BC who is that boy that you said you would never go with again so long as you lived? Why?

GW do you still carry the torch for SW?

every Saturday night? Is it just every Saturday night? It is just to skate?

BLD why did you answer in class the other day when the teacher called on EB?

FB it seems that RL is jst crazy about you. Why don't you give him a chance?

JA sure was happy at Christmas. Was it because BJK was home?

SJ what happened to you and KK?

BC why don't you give some of the Freshmen girls a chance?

WV what do you mean by DJJ?

KC and DW, PA and JT, GL and CS, DMS and SA are still going strong.

SENIOR NEWS

We wish to congratulate Margaret Ferguson on her recent marriage to G. C. Nichols, Jr., of Memphis. We wish you many happy years to come, Margaret.

BGB says her worries are over and that she will settle for a certain Senior boy. The only trouble is that a girl at U. of K. thinks the same thing.

BB and Billy Hagan are still a steady two-some. Stay in there.

Beverly. Say DC who are all those letters to that you write in fifth hour English every day? Could it be Ann Mc. still?

Looks like SB is still true to the Army.

JG why did you have to stay after school the other day? Mr. Jaco just doesn't seem to understand that trips are necessary.

The flame between BB and NW is still burning brightly.

Seems as if SAB is holding out on us. Come on, Sarah, tell us who him are.

Who will be the next one out of the Senior class? To get married, that is. Look out girls it may be RA.

By request we want to know if BSJ really cares for WR.

How is BJG getting along in her love life? Fine, we hope.

Wouldn't RB liketo know what JS does in fifth hour English?

SOPHOMORE NEWS

Well, here it is another week and everyone is brewing for some news so here we go.

JT and PA are still going strong. Keep up the good work, kids.

BRP and DG are still our most eligible bachelors.

What has happened to JP and LD? I don't think they are doing so well.

VF are you and BRP on the outs? Can we help any, kids?

PMc, are you still going with that cute boy from Cayce

CAA and PMc seems to have a lot in common. How about that, kids?

Say, MH do you still have a crush on that Dukedom boy?

M. I. Boulton

Agnes Boulton who moved to Fulton when M. I. was a young boy.

He was a member of the Shriners of the Masonic Temple, but most of all he was a man who believed in happy living and did what he could to make others live that way too.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at the First Baptist Church with the Rev. C. H. Warren officiating and burial in Greenlea cemetery under the direction of Whitnel Funeral Home.

Survivors are: his wife, three nieces, Mrs. Luther Phillips of Chestnut Glade, Mrs. Donald Stokes and Mrs. Harry Moss Latta of Fulton.

Active pallbearers were: Donald Stokes, Harry Moss Latta, P. G. Boyd, Donald Cherry, Carl Puckett, Sr., Robert Rucker of Nashville, Foad Homra and Aaron Butts.

Honorary pallbearers were: Dr. Ward Bushart, Dr. Glynn Bushart, T. M. Franklin, Bob Binford, Dr. J. L. Jones, Bob White, Arch Huddleston, C. H. McDaniel, Dr. R. V. Putnam, John Melton, Smith Atkins, Ernest Fall, Sr., D. D. Legg, Joe Bennett, Jr., and George Alley.

Members of the Masonic performed graveside ceremonies.

The meeting closed with prayer. The hostess assisted by Joan McClanahan and Janet Verhine served delicious refreshments to 12 members. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Raymond Brown.

Mrs. David Berryhill of Collinsville, Ill., is visiting in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Jamie Wade and Mr. and Mrs. Bud Guy and Robert Wade.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Thompson and family of Clinton spent Sunday with his father, Ed Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson and Rita.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Pewitt spent last Thursday and Thursday night with his sister, Mrs. Kelly Browder and Mr. Browder in Memphis. Mrs. Browder is able to be at home now after being a patient for several months in Oaklawn Sanatorium.

Mrs. Eunice Drysdale of New Orleans spent the weekend with Mrs. Mary Browder and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bard. She returned home Sunday.

Mrs. Richard Mobley is reported on the sick list. All wish for her a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Caldwell visited Mr. and Mrs. Claude Nelson at Godd Springs Sunday afternoon.

DEATHS

MRS. GEORGE BROWN

Funeral services for Mrs. George Brown, 74, who died Wednesday morning at Jones Hospital were held Thursday afternoon at the Paul Hornbeak Funeral Home with Rev. L. E. Shaeffer, pastor of the Methodist Church in Cayce officiating and burial in the Cayce cemetery.

She was a member of the Cayce Methodist Church. Her husband preceded her in death several years ago and since that time she had lived with her daughters in Martin and Cayce.

Survivors are: two daughters, Mrs. Ollie Brown Chambers of Martin, Route 3, Mrs. Pearl Brown Graham of Cayce; 11 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers were grandsons and sons-in-law of Mrs. Brown.

live while here and she is happily domiciled in the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Herrin on Third Street. The Lucases will never forget the kindnesses shown them, nor will I.

Its awfully difficult to put in writing what I mean to say to you, but believe me when I say that it was a stroke of the best luck to buy a paper in Fulton, Ky. The Gods must have been looking after a couple of newspaper folks like Paul and me, and to them . . . and to you, we are grateful.

PALESTINE

Mrs. Lon Brown was hostess to the Palestine WSCS Tuesday afternoon at her home on Pearl Street.

The meeting opened with the singing of "Give of Your Best to The Master." The president used as her theme, "What is that in Thine Hand?" followed by response of members and song, "Oh Master, Let me Walk with Thee."

Mrs. Hillman Collier, program leader for the month, presented "Our Responsibility Toward the Giver of All Gifts," assisted by Mrs. William McClanahan, Mrs. Raymond Brown, Mrs. Leslie Nugent, Mrs. M. B. Brown and Mrs. Gus Browder.

Mrs. Robert Watts, leader, gave the Bible study after which
