THE LISTENING POST

● I have always believed that if people knew how silly they looked and acted while drunk there might be a great decline in the habit, but of course, people may enjoy looking silly. Particularly have I believed this of young girls. Of course, it does not greatly matter how a boy looks and acts, and by our social code such things are overlooked. I have often heard the expression "ple-eyed," but until the other day in Paducah I had never appreciated how graphic the expression is when it is applied to girls who more or less or drunk.

● At the half of the Paducah-Mayfield game I grew tired of sitting in a place which was too small for me, and I also grew cold as the sun dropped behind a cloud and the cold wind kept blowing up my trousers leg. As a matter of fact, I do not enjoy sitting still at a football game anyhow, so at the half I gave up my seat and told the family I would stand for the second half, and would meet them after the game. I walked out and found a nice sunny spot at one end of the field, where I had a pretty good view, and as luck would have it, most of the action in that half took place at that end of the field.

● I noticed two girls and two boys who were standing nearby, against the fence. At first I thought they were merely doing as I was, and were so interested in the game that they wanted to get a bit closer. But a closer look proved otherwise—as did an empty bottle nearby and a full bottle which was being passed around and liberally partaken of. Those four young people were not paying any more attention to the football game than Franklin D. Roosevelt was—and the President was not in the stands. They were engaged quite seriously in the matter of getting drunk and minute by minute they were getting in the condition which we call pie-eyed. I was near enough to hear their silly talk, and above all, their silly laughter.

● The girls were quite attractive, being, I judged, about eighteen to twenty years of age, well dressed and quite intelligent looking. The boys seemed, if anything a trifle older, and every one of them seemed anxious to turn that bottle up and take a hearty drink. Drinking out of a bottle is not a graceful operation under the most favorable circumstances, and when an attractive and dainty girl turns a bottle up that way it is not a happy and pleasing sight.

● Before the third quarter ended those four young people were quite completely sozzled. They could hardly walk, and all seemed to want to keep their backs against the fence in order to find some solid support. One time one of the girls started to take a few steps away from the fence and fell sprawling in a small mud puddle which was nearby. What a howl of laughter went up from all, including the one who had fallen, when she staggered up, with mud over an expensive looking fur coat and well splattered over her face! All seemed to take it as the best joke that ever happened, and shortly thereafter one of the boys repeated

Nazi Call For Meeting as Peace Drive Is Hinted

International Conference Opens At Berlin Tomorrow

Berlin, — Germany announced Sunday night that an international conference of all powers embraced within the "Anti-Comintern" treaty will be held in Berlin, beginning formally on Tuesday, the fifth anniversary of the pact against Bolshevism.

The momentous meeting, to be attended by statesmen of some dozen countries belonging to the Axis "new order" bloc, will demonstrate the determination to fight world Bolshevism," a brief announcement stated.

Numerous diplomats representing the antiComintern powers will assemble in preliminary session Monday. The meeting was summoned by Germany, but its exact scope and purposes, other than celebration of the antiCommunists pact's birthday, remained undefined in Berlin.

To Expire Tomorrow
It was pointed out, however, that the five-year pact is scheduled to expire Tuesday and the Berlin meeting therefore was expected to result in its renewal at a time when Germany and associated powers are hurling their military forces deep into Russia.

White House Secretary Stephen T. Early announced in Washington Saturday that President Roosevelt has received information that Hitler was considering the summoning of an all-Europe economic conference, probably in December or January. Mr. Early warned that such a conference might produce high-sounding phrases about restoration of sovereignty and economic rehabilitation for European countries, but that the real purpose would be establishment of a system of puppet states from which Germany could derive badly needed supplies.

Women Excel At 500 Tasks Involved In Making Gas Masks

Akron, Ohio.—It seems paradoxical that women, usually opposed to anything that means covering their pretty faces, excel in the making of gas masks at the Good-year Tire & Rubber Company.

Because of the finger dexterity necessary to perform speedily the 500 operations going into the making of one mask, women have proven themselves more adept than men. No one worker, however, does more than a single small operation.

The jobs are varied and exact. A worker may make only a stitch in the cloth, or reinforce it in another spot, or perhaps just sew a square stitch linking two bits of wedding. Others may put strap ends into buckles all day long, test eyepeeces for airtightness or flutter valves.

A row of women toil over the

ARCTIC CALLED FAVORABLE FOR AIR FLEET USE

More Light Called Boon To War Operations

Philadelphia, — Flying weather north of the Arctic Circle is more favorable for military air fleets than that in the northern temperature zone where most air battles of the current war have been fought, Vilhjalmur Stefansson told the American Philosophical Society tonight.

There is potential military significance in this because nearly all the world's military powers are far north on the globe.

For all of them the Arctic offers a short-cut for attack on other great powers. This shortcut is likely to become alluring as soon as most of the longdistance armored planes are developed. Tokio, for example, 11,000 miles from New York City, by present airways, is only about 7,000 via the Arctic.

Light Called Longer
One advantage of Arctic flying, Stefansson said, is less icing and less foggy weather. Most students of aviation, he added, do not know about the Arctic advantages.

They do not, for example, take into account the great difference of moonlight in the far north. Like the midnight sun, there is a midday and midnight moon, which comes twelve times a year instead of once.

That is, for a certain number of days each month, depending on how far north the moon is above the horizon all the time, winter or summer. It is above the horizon at the North Pole for fifteen days monthly.

Heavy Tanks Called Useful
Another thing not taken into account, Stefansson said, is the fact that due to reflection from snow the moon in the Arctic is twice as effective. Half moon, he declared, will show a mountain in the Arctic 100 miles away, is good enough for aerial combat and for baseball.

Floridian Claims Virginia Dare Wasn't First Born In America

St. Augustine, Fla. — Mrs. Katherine Lawson, historian for the St. Augustine Historical Society and Institute of Science, has dropped a twelve-page booklet bombshell in current belief that Virginia Dare was the first white child born on the North American Continent—a bombshell that may involve her in no little verbal fencing with historians.

She "revealed" that one Martin de Arguelles was born of Spanish parentage in St. Augustine nearly twenty years before Miss Dare.

In her booklet of manuscripts and references which derive their authority from the Woodbury Lowery collection of Florida manuscripts in the Library of Congress, Mrs. Lawson makes the history-shattering revelation that Martin de Arguelles was serving in the army in the European service currently bearing guns in the Armada in search of Sir Francis Drake, who had plundered St. Augustine, when little Virginia Dare was kicking the slats out of her homemade cradle.

"When Virginia Dare was born at Roanoke in August, 1587, the first Spanish child born at St. Augustine was already of such age . . . he could bear arms in Armada," Mrs. Lawson reports.

STATE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL TO MEET THIS AFTERNOON

Myers Outlines Five Principal Subjects For Group

Frankfort, Ky. —The budget, TVA legislation, rehabilitation of state institutions and acts to put into effect the school equalization and voting machine amendments will be the chief questions to be studied by the state Legislative Council, according to Lieut. Gov. Rodes K. Myers.

The Council will meet here at 1 p. m. Monday for its first meeting preparatory to making recommendations to the 1942 General Assembly which meets the first Tuesday in January. Myers, presiding official of the Council, said the first meeting will be held for organization and employment of a secretary and other help.

The Council members will visit the state penitentiary, reformatory, Greendale Reform school and the mental hospitals.

"I can't say, of course, what other members of the Council will bring up," Myers said here this week, "but as far as I am concerned, we will devote our time to the five principal subjects I've outlined."

He said he agreed with Gov. Keen Johnson that restricting of the state should be brought up at a special session of the General Assembly and that he doubted the Council would consider it at this time.

The program for the first two weeks as outlined by the lieutenant governor called for inspection Tuesday of the state reformatory at LaOrange and the Central State hospital at Lakeland; the reform school at Greendale and the Eastern State hospital at Lexington, Wednesday; study of the budget, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of the first week.

The police found four and a half pints of corn whisky under the floor of an upstairs room.

FLORIDA CONVICTS OFFER TO WORK ON BURMA ROAD

Tallahassee, Fla. — Twenty convicts in a Florida road gang went to enlist for duty on China's famous Burma Road.

They wrote to H. L. Ezell, state prison camp chaplain, for help and Ezell turned the letter over to Gov. Spessard L. Holland.

One of the convicts wrote: "These men who have their names signed below are well aware of the hardships and privations, bad living conditions and danger surrounding this project, but believe that under existing conditions they will be of more value to the U. S. and state governments, and will be in a more substantial position to rehabilitate themselves."

Seminole Limited Is Wrecked Near Corinth Last Night—One Killed And 75 Injured In Wreck

Nine Crowded Pullman Cars Are Derailed—Dining Car Is Burned

Railroad Officials Think Broken Rail Caused Accident

The Illinois Central's crack Chicago-Florida passenger train, the Seminole, wrecked just outside Corinth, Miss., late yesterday afternoon, taking a toll of at least one dead and 75 injured. The train was northbound.

Corinth's two hospitals were filled to overflowing with passengers hurt in the crash. Private automobiles and trucks were pressed into service to rush more victims from the scene of the tragedy to medical aid.

Nine cars of the 13 making up the train were derailed and tumbled from a high embankment into a field, where one of them—a dining car—caught fire and burned for several hours after the wreck. The big steel coaches and Pullmans were well loaded with travelers.

The engine and tender remained on the tracks, as did the baggage car and two mail cars. The observation car, last of the train's 13, was derailed but did not turn over. None of the passengers in it were injured.

The train's conductor, Walter Ransom of Jackson, Tenn., was among those reported critically hurt. The engineer, "Buck" Townes, also of Jackson, was not hurt.

Only known death—early last night was that of Mrs. Davis Basinsch of Selmer, Tenn. She had been taken to the McRae Hospital in Corinth, but died on the operating table there.

SEVERAL FULTON NAMES LISTED IN SEMINOLE WRECK

Several Fulton people were listed as injured among the 75 who suffered injuries in the wreck of the Seminole late yesterday near Corinth. The names are:

Elmer Hutson.
Freddie Lee Hamilton.
Carvell McKenzie.

One other death was reported also this morning at the hospital railroad office, but the name was not immediately available.

"Duchess" Of Murder Pays For Her Life Of Crime In San Quentin

San Quentin, Calif. —A grim, fantastic woman who headed a holdup mob and held its purse strings went to her death in an execution chamber today with a prayer on her thin, pale lips.

She was Evileta Juanita Supinelli. The gang she led called her "The Duchess." Fifty-two and a grandmother, she could hit a poker chip at fifteen paces with a stiletto. Once she said she planned another murder—by sticking a long hatpin in the ear of her intended victim.

Never before in California's history had the law exacted the life of a woman. "The Duchess" died because she and her hoodlums killed one of the gang, 19-year-old Robert Sherrard. The murder of a San Francisco man during a hold-up frightened him so badly they were afraid he would talk. They drugged his whisky, pulled a swimming suit on his, knocked him on the head and threw him in the Sacramento River.

Sixty persons watched through the eleven minutes it took the Duchess to die. Her face was haggard, her black eyes bloodshot as two guards held her into the gas chamber. A green smock shrouded her angular form. Her black hair, streaked with gray, was cut in a short bob.

There was a bizarre touch to her last moments. She had asked only one thing, that she might carry a photograph of her daughter and grandchild and her two sons. The picture was strapped over her bosom with adhesive tape.

Yesterday she spoke a curse against her executioners: "My blood will burn holes into their bodies. Before six months have passed they will be punished."

As the gas rose in the cell, her lips still moved. The great vein throbbled in her neck. Finally her head drooped, and she looked like an old woman sleeping quietly in the chair.

NAZIS AT HALF-WAY MARK IN WAR WITH RUSSIA

Five months ago today the powerful German war machine struck at Soviet Russia with the obvious intention of annihilating the Red Army in a few weeks and adding the vast domain of the Soviet Union as far as the Urals to Hitler's new European order.

At such a time the announcement by the British Ministry of Economic Warfare that the effect of the blockade on Germany's supply of textiles is at last beginning to show in the German Army and Navy and the Berlin decree that potatoes for the first time will be rationed must come as a serious shock.

The German soldier in Russia has been provided with blankets taken away from soldiers and civilians in the occupied nations. He has been given women's fur coats and old clothes have gone into the making of his shoddy uniform.

The diet of the average German has declined steadily since he was told that guns were better than butter, but it is sufficient to sustain him and Goebbels has boasted that the nation is better fed than any of the conquered countries.

And the grumbling, it may be presumed, has been widespread. That was to be inferred from Goebbels' recent warning of what would happen to Germany if it were defeated.

NOT SURE HE WAS RIGHT IN BATTLING BANDITS, BUT HE SAVED $7,000.00

Peoria, Ill. — Tavern owner Paul Murphy, 43, wasn't sure today whether to be glad or sorry that he decided to shoot it out with two masked bandits who confronted him and his wife walking home from the bank yesterday.

The facts, Murphy told police, were that he missed both the bandits; he was shot in the left arm; and they took his $650, anyway.

But, Murphy added, in the shooting excitement the masked men neglected to grab his wife's purse containing $7,000.

He said he withdrew the money from the bank to meet factory paychecks at his East Peoria tavern.

The couples went away a few minutes before the game ended, and I found myself hoping that they lived in Paducah in order they might not have to drive any considerable distance. I am quite positive that they were in an automobile, for I heard one of the girls wondering where they had parked the car. So it is likely that those two boys and two girls got into a car and drove somewhere, when not one of them was sober enough to walk. I hoped that they lived nearby, or that some police officer might spot them and prevent them from driving. No one knows how many accidents come from such things, but plenty do occur when young or old people attempt to drive a car while intoxicated.

I wish that those four, particularly the two girls, could see moving pictures of themselves as they stumbled and staggered around that mud puddle in Paducah.

Training For Defense

By Rufus T. Strohm
Dean, International Correspondence Schools

WITHOUT an intercommunication system consisting of cables and wires, the modern battleship would be all but worthless. The wiring is just as important as the gun turrets or the steam power. The ship might have all the appearance of a first class performer, but she would be of little value in action.

Some men are like an unflattened wire. They have the appearance and the potentialities, but without they are not capable of doing a job that requires responsibility. They are mere shells of efficiency until the "wiring" or training is received. Today thousands of men are working in the New York Navy Yard, busily engaged in building this nation's two-ocean navy. These men are given opportunities to advance to better jobs. The task demands skilled technicians and mechanics. Every department must have highly trained men to direct those who build and fit together the parts of gigantic battleships. The Navy is proud of the spirit of the men who build ships, but that is not enough. Such workmen must be perfectionists. There is not much time to train men, but every effort is being made in that direction. The big jobs in the shipyard, like those in any other great American industry, are handled by those men who are properly "wired" to produce with speed and efficiency. You have to have the "know how!"

Miss Kathleen Winter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Winter, 825 Fairview, who will receive her Bachelor of Music Education degree from Murray State college in June, is among those students who will be listed in the 1941-42 issue of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

This publication is published through the cooperation of OVER 600 American Universities and Colleges. It is the only means of national recognition for graduates which is devoid of politics, fees, and dues. These books are placed in the hands of hundreds of companies and others who annually recruit outstanding students for employment.

BATISTA EXPECTS WAR FOR U. S. NEXT SPRING

Havana, —President Fulencio Batista of Cuba predicted in a speech Sunday that the United States would be in the war by next spring and added that "When the United States declares war, Cuba will be the first nation to enter the war on her side."

Batista was addressing an estimated 70,000 workers gathered in the great plaza before the presidential palace to demonstrate their approval of his recent decrees increasing wages throughout the republic.

Batista said it is recognized that America was unprepared for war. "But the oppressors know that if America lacked arms they are ready to fight hand-and-foot for liberty." "America," he said, "is aiding England and Russia wherever possible. America has not sent men to Europe, but America will send men if the liberty of Europe depends on the men of America."

TTY LEAGUE DIRECTORS IN MEETING SUNDAY

Shelby Peace Re-elected President For Two Years

Presidents of the eight clubs and other officials of the Kitty League gathered at the Rainbow Room of Fulton yesterday afternoon for the annual meeting at which time various plans were made for the coming baseball season. At this meeting Shelby Peace was re-elected president of the League for a period of two years and Allen Clow was re-elected vice-president for the same period. It was decided that the president will appoint a League treasurer.

The opening date was set for May 3 and the closing date September 4 with a schedule to call for one hundred and twenty-six games. A tentative schedule will be presented to the eight club heads in about two weeks. The Wilson ball was adopted and the Shaughnessy play-off system again adopted.

The fifty dollar guarantee for visiting clubs was abolished and it was decided that the home club will take all of the game proceeds. The rookie rule will be retained which provides that each club have at least three rookies, not more than nine experienced men and not more than three class men. The directors then voted, after a motion by Hugh Wise and a lengthy discussion, that the salary limit of the league be raised from $1,100 to $1,200.

It was voted that the 1941 pennant will be awarded to the Jackson Generals and to give an award to each player selected for the all-star team. All of the directors of the League were present for this meeting. They are K. P. Dalton of Fulton, Cecil Moss of Union City, Will Watkins of Mayfield, Pierce Lackey of Paducah, Vick Smith of Bowling Green, Clyde King of Hopkinsville, H. G. Gilland of Jackson and J. O. Little of Owensboro.

Training For Defense

By Rufus T. Strohm

Dean, International Correspondence Schools

WHERE will the defense worker of today be in five years? That is a question which cannot be answered with any great degree of certainty, but there are well defined steps leading toward the ultimate goal sought by all. Any man who chooses to follow these steps for the next five years on a routine job, no matter how important it is to the production line, will find himself in no better position than he is today.

Rufus T. Strohm today

It's as true today as it was 100 years ago, that the man who works to get ahead is the man who is improving himself. He is looking far beyond the present job, and in most instances he is studying some type of instruction that will lift him out of a routine job into a position of greater responsibility.

Routine jobs in factories and manufacturing plants, of course, will pay more during the next five years, and they are vital to the nation's defense plans. However, there is danger for the individual, in that he may be content to get along with little thought of advancement. It means that he will have to drive toward the goal even when the future appears dark and uncertain, but some men—those who will finish in the key jobs—will keep plugging away in fair weather and foul.

Self-improvement in the face of adversity is typically American. We now have to show that the same progress can be made in times of economic upheaval and abnormal employment demands. Jobs may not be so plentiful five years from now.

way to the Wickliffe school was completed this week.

Building of a levee several hundred feet in length was necessary for construction of the approach, which has a gravel surface.

MARK ETHRIDGE AND HIS WIFE NEVER HEAR EACH OTHER'S TALKS

Atlanta — When it comes to public speaking, newspaperman Mark Etheridge and his novelist wife, Willie Snow Etheridge, have a little agreement not to listen to each other.

Mrs. Etheridge, author of "As I Live And Breathe," wowed the National Council of Teachers of English here last night with a rollicking speech, but her "roommate"—as she called her husband—was not present.

"I'm never at my best," she explained, "when Mark's in the audience, and he's not at his best when I'm in the audience—so we go it alone."

Ethridge is vice-president and general manager of the Louisville Courier-Journal and the Louisville Times.

DR. WILL MASON, 66, DIES YESTERDAY AT HOME IN MURRAY

Murray, Ky. — Dr. William H. Mason, 66, a man who cured many diseases, died today of one for which a cure has not been discovered.

He succumbed to Hodgkins disease here at the Mason Memorial Hospital, which he founded.

Member of a prominent family of physicians, he was called "Dr. Will" by friends and patients. They never knew him to refuse a call for aid at any time.

Family Boasts Physicians

Physicians in his family included his grand father, the late Dr. William Morris Mason, a pioneer physician in Calloway County, his father, the late Dr. William Mason, who performed the first appendectomies in Calloway County and in Henry County, Tennessee; two brothers, Dr. Rob Mason, and his wife, Dr. Ord Kress Mason, former regent of Murray State Teachers College. His wife was the daughter of Dr. D. H. Kress and Dr. Lauretta Kress, Washington physicians.

As a young doctor, William Mason made a name for himself in 1900 when Murray was paralyzed by a smallpox epidemic. He worked hard to quarantine the stricken and give vaccinations. He was given much credit for restoring normal conditions.

First Hospital Destroyed

In 1910, Dr. Mason established his hospital—one that has been approved by the American Medical Association and the American College of Surgeons. The hospital, which conducts a nurses' training school, has treated thousands of patients.

work on it.

J. F. Sharkey of Water Valley, Miss., division superintendent, said that after a "preliminary inspection, it looks like a broken rail."

In reconstructing the accident, Mr. Sharkey said that in all probability the engine and the first three cars passed over the rail before the break became sufficient to wreck the train.

The fourth car in the train, he said, broke away and the engine and three cars continued for a short distance. Then the two baggage cars broke loose, leaving the engine and mail car together. They stopped within a short distance, since the break automatically applied the emergency brakes.

WINTER PEACE OFFENSIVE BY REICH IS SEEN

Washington Receives Information From European Source

Washington, — Cautioning the world's democracies to be on guard, the White House said today that Germany was preparing a winter peace offensive embracing political ostensibly restoring economic and political independence to continental Europe, but actually leaving Hitler master of a string of "puppet states."

Stephen T. Early, a presidential secretary, disclosed at a press conference that this government had reports of such a plan. A reporter had asked whether an "economic peace" was about to be proposed by the Nazis.

Reading from a penciled memorandum as if prepared for the question, Early said both President Roosevelt and the state department had received information from certain European sources that a conference was to be called either

In December or January "on some occasion considered propitious by Germany."

Invitations Sent

He added that invitations already were going forth from Germany to "some belligerents, the Axis powers, and some neutral European nations."

"So far as our information goes," he said, "the conference would be restricted to a meeting of European powers. That excludes, of course, this hemisphere and, I understand also, that England will not be invited."

Mrs. W. O. Locke spent Thanksgiving in Paducah with her daughter, Mrs. George Pritchard.

Mrs. Don Gerling and daughter, Donna Gail, spent the week-end in Memphis and attended the Christmas Parade.
